(I) A facility operated as a continuing care retirement community that provides a continuum of services by one operational entity providing independent living services or assisted living residence services, as defined in section 25-27-102 (1.3), C.R.S., or that provides assisted living services on-site, twenty-four hours per day, seven days per week, and skilled nursing care on a single, contiguous campus;

(II) A skilled nursing facility owned and operated by the state;

(III) A nursing facility that is a distinct part of a facility that is licensed as a general acute care hospital; and

(IV) A facility that has forty-five or fewer licensed beds.

(d) The state department may lower the amount of the provider fee charged to certain nursing facility providers to meet the requirements of 42 CFR 433.68 (e) and to obtain federal approval.

(e) The imposition and collection of a provider fee shall be prohibited without the federal government's approval of a state medicaid plan amendment authorizing federal financial participation for the provider fees. The state department may alter the method prescribed in this section to the extent necessary to meet the federal requirements and to obtain federal approval.

(f) If the provider fee required by this subsection (1) is not approved by the federal government, notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the state department shall not implement the assessment or collection of the provider fee from nursing facility providers.

(g) The state department shall establish a schedule to assess the provider fee on a monthly basis and shall collect the fee from nursing facility providers by no later than the end of the next succeeding calendar month. The state board shall establish rules so that provider fee payments from a nursing facility provider and the state department's supplemental medicaid payments to the nursing facility are due as nearly simultaneously as feasible; except that the state department's supplemental medicaid payments to the nursing facility shall be due no more than fifteen days after the provider fee payment is received from the nursing facility. The state department shall require each nursing facility provider to report monthly its total number of days of care provided to nonmedicare residents.

(h) The state department shall not assess or collect the provider fee until state medicaid plan amendments adopting the medicaid reimbursement system for the state's class I nursing facility providers, pursuant to section 25.5-6-202, including the waiver with respect to the provider fees pursuant to this section, have been approved by the federal government.

(i) The state board shall promulgate any rules pursuant to the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., necessary for the administration and implementation of this section.

(j) A nursing facility provider shall not include any amount of the provider fee as a separate line item in its billing statements.

(2) (a) All provider fees collected pursuant to this section by the state department shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the medicaid nursing facility cash fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund".

(b) (I) All moneys in the fund shall be subject to federal matching as authorized under federal law and subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the purpose of paying the administrative costs of implementing section 25.5-6-202 and this section and to pay the supplemental medicaid payments to offset payment of the provider fee established under section 25.5-6-202 (7).

(II) Following the payment of the amounts described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), the moneys remaining in the fund shall be subject to federal matching as authorized under federal law and subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the purpose of paying the supplemental medicaid payments for acuity or case-mix of residents established under section 25.5-6-202 (2).

(III) (A) Except as provided in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (III), after the payment of the amounts described in subparagraphs (I) and (II) of this paragraph (b), the moneys remaining in the fund shall be subject to federal matching as authorized under federal law and subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the purpose of paying the supplemental medicaid payments for higher quality performance established under section 25.5-6-202 (5).

(B) Notwithstanding any other provision of this paragraph (b), the supplemental medicaid payments established pursuant to section 25.5-6-202 (5) shall not be less than ten percent of the supplemental medicaid payments established under section 25.5-6-202 (7) in the prior state fiscal year.

(IV) Following the payment of the amounts described in subparagraphs (I) to (III) of this paragraph (b), the moneys remaining in the fund shall be subject to federal matching as authorized under federal law and subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the purpose of paying the supplemental medicaid payments for residents who have moderately to very severe mental health conditions, cognitive dementia, or acquired brain injury established under section 25.5-6-202 (6).

(V) Following the payment of the amounts described in subparagraphs (I) to (IV) of this paragraph (b), the moneys remaining in the fund shall be subject to federal matching as authorized under federal law and subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the purpose of paying the supplemental medicaid payments for the amount by which the average statewide per diem rate exceeds the general fund share established under section 25.5-6-202 (9) (b) (II).

(VI) Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purposes specified in this section may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund but may be appropriated by the general assembly to pay nursing facility providers in future fiscal years.

25.5-6-204. Providers - reimbursement - intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded - reimbursement - maximum allowable. (1) (a) For the purpose of making payments to intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded, the state department shall establish a price schedule to be readjusted every twelve months, that shall reimburse, subject to available appropriations, each provider, as nearly as possible, for its actual or reasonable cost of services rendered, whichever is less, its case-mix adjusted direct health care services costs as defined in section 25.5-6-201 (9), and a fair rental allowance for capital-related assets as defined in section 25.5-6-201 (7). The state board shall adopt rules, including uniform accounting or reporting procedures, in order to determine the actual or reasonable cost of services and case-mix adjusted direct health care services costs and the reimbursement therefor. The provisions of this paragraph (a) shall not apply to state-operated intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded.

(b) State-operated intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded shall be reimbursed based on the actual costs of administration, property, including capital-related assets, and room and board, and the actual costs of providing health care services, and such costs shall be projected by such facilities and submitted to the state department by July 1 of each year for the ensuing twelve-month period. Reimbursement to state-operated intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded shall be adjusted retrospectively at the close of each twelve-month period. The state board shall adopt rules to be effective by June 30, 1988, implementing the provisions of this paragraph (b). In the implementation of such rules, the state department shall ensure, by the establishment of classes of facilities, that the reimbursement to private, nonprofit, or proprietary state-operated intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded or developmentally disabled, as defined in section 27-10.5-102 (11), C.R.S., is not adversely impacted.

(c) (I) Beginning in fiscal year 2003-04, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the department of human services is authorized to charge both privately owned intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded and state-operated intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded a service fee for the purposes of maintaining the quality and continuity of services provided by intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded. The service fee charged by the department of human services pursuant to this paragraph (c) shall not exceed five percent of the costs incurred by each intermediate care facility for the fiscal year in which the service fee is charged. The state board of human services shall adopt rules consistent with federal law in order to implement the provisions of this paragraph (c).

(II) The moneys collected in each fiscal year pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) shall be transmitted by the department of human services to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the service fee fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this paragraph (c) as the “fund”. The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department to be used toward the state match for the federal financial participation to reimburse intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded pursuant to this section. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(2) (a) In addition to the actual or reasonable costs and the reimbursement therefor, the state department shall, subject to available appropriations, include an allowance equal to the change in the national bureau of labor statistics consumer price index from the preceding year to compensate for fluctuating costs. This amount shall be determined every twelve months when the statewide average cost is determined by adjusting for inflation. The provider’s allowable cost shall be multiplied by the change in the consumer price index measured from the midpoint of the provider’s cost report period to the midpoint of the provider’s rate period. This allowance is applied to all costs, including case-mix adjusted direct health care services costs as defined in section 25.5-6-201 (9), less interest, up to the reasonable cost established and will be allowed to proprietary, nonprofit, and tax-supported homes; except that the allowance shall not be applied to the costs of state-operated intermediate facilities for the mentally retarded.

(b) (I) The state board shall adopt rules to:

(A) Determine and pay to privately owned intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded a reasonable share of the amount by which the reasonable costs of the categories of administration, property, and room and board, excluding food costs, exceed the actual cost in these categories only. The reasonable share shall be defined as twenty-five percent of the amount in the categories for each facility, not to exceed twelve percent of the reasonable cost.

(3) to (5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1783, § 5, effective July 1, 2008.)

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 25.5-6-204 is similar to § 26-4-410 as it existed prior to the 2006 amendments relocating article 4 of title 26 to title 25.5 and § 26-4-410 is similar to § 26-4-110 (5) as it existed prior to the 1991 repeal and reenactment of article 4 of title 26, relevant cases construing those provisions have been included in the annotations to this section.

Department of social services regulation which prohibits a nursing home from charging more for medicaid patients than private-pay patients is valid because it confirms the legislative intent to pay nursing homes the reasonable cost of rendering services. Smith, Harst & Assocs., Inc. v. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 780 P.2d 20 (Colo. App. 1989).

Colorado rate structure and classification system is not arbitrarily or capriciously established or applied where the reimbursement rate was based upon and took into consideration plaintiff's actual costs in providing services needed by all of its patients, including intensive management patients, and where there was no evidence that necessary services cannot be provided to intensive management patients by other available and qualified providers if plaintiffs are unable to continue their present patient mix. Bethesda Found. v. Dept. of Health, 902 P.2d 863 (Colo. App. 1995).

25.5-6-205. Collection of penalties assessed against nursing facilities - creation of cash fund. (1) (a) The state department shall assess, enforce, and collect any civil penalties that are recommended by the department of public health and environment pursuant to the authority granted under section 25-1-107.5, C.R.S.

(b) Prior to the denial of medicaid payments or the assessment of a civil money penalty against a nursing facility, the nursing facility shall be offered by the state department an opportunity for a hearing in accordance with the provisions of section 24-4-105, C.R.S. Enforcement and collection of the denial of medicaid payments or civil money penalty shall occur following the decision reached at such hearing.

(2) In conjunction with the authority granted under subsection (1) of this section, the state board shall promulgate rules that:

(a) Provide any nursing facility assessed a civil penalty the opportunity to appeal such assessment;

(b) Govern the procedures for such appeals, including the right of a nursing facility to thirty days' notice prior to the collection of any civil money penalty; and

(c) Are otherwise necessary to implement this section.

(3) (a) Any civil penalties collected by the state department pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the nursing home penalty cash fund, which fund is hereby created.

(b) (I) The moneys in the fund are subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department for the purposes set forth in section 25-1-107.5, C.R.S.

(II) Such moneys shall be used in the manner prescribed in section 25-1-107.5, C.R.S., and the rules promulgated thereunder.

(c) All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(d) At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

25.5-6-206. Personal needs benefits - amount - patient personal needs trust fund required - funeral and burial expenses - penalty for illegal retention and use. (1) The state department, pursuant to its rules, shall have the authority to include in medical care benefits provided under this article and articles 4 and 5 of this title reasonable amounts for the personal needs of any recipient receiving nursing facility services or intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded, if the recipient is not otherwise eligible for such amounts from other categories of public assistance, but such amounts for personal needs shall not be less than the minimum amount provided for in subsection (2) of this section. Payments for funeral and burial expenses upon the death of a recipient may be provided under rules of the state department in the same manner as provided to recipients of public assistance as defined by section 26-2-103 (8), C.R.S.

(2) (a) The basic minimum amount payable pursuant to subsection (1) of this section for personal needs to any recipient admitted to a nursing facility or intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded shall be fifty dollars monthly.

(b) On and after October 1, 1992, the basic minimum amount payable pursuant to subsection (1) of this section for personal needs shall be ninety dollars for the following persons:

(I) A medical assistance recipient who receives a non-service connected disability pension from the United States veterans administration, has no spouse or dependent child, and is admitted to or is residing in a nursing facility; and

(II) A medical assistance recipient who is a surviving spouse of a person who received a non-service connected disability pension from the United States veterans administration, has no dependent child, and is admitted to or is residing in a nursing facility.

(3) (a) All personal needs funds shall be held in trust by the nursing facility or intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded, or its designated trustee, separate and apart from any other funds of the facility. The facility shall deposit any personal needs funds of a resident in an amount of fifty or more dollars in an interest-bearing checking account or accounts or savings account or any combination thereof established to protect and separate the personal needs funds of the patients. Any interest earned on a resident's personal needs funds shall be credited to such account or accounts. In the event residents' personal needs funds are maintained in a pooled account, separate accountings shall be made for each resident's share of the pooled account. Any personal needs funds of a resident in an amount less than fifty dollars shall be maintained in a non-interest-bearing account, an interest-bearing account, or a petty cash fund.

(b) At all times, the principal and all income derived from said principal in the patient personal needs trust fund shall remain the property of the participating patients, and the facility or its designated trustee is bound by all of the duties imposed by law upon fiduciaries in the handling of such fund. Those duties include but are not limited to providing notice to a resident when the resident's personal needs account accumulates two hundred dollars less than the federal supplemental security income resource limit for one person.

(c) The facility or its designated trustee shall post a surety bond in an amount to assure the security of all personal needs funds deposited in the patient personal needs trust fund or shall otherwise demonstrate to the satisfaction of the state department that the security of residents' personal needs funds is assured.

(d) Within sixty days after a resident's death, the facility shall transfer the resident's personal needs funds and a final accounting of the funds to the person responsible for settling the resident's estate or, if there is none, to the resident's heirs in accordance with the provisions of title 15, C.R.S. Within fifteen days after receiving the funds, the executor, administrator, or other appropriate representative of the resident's estate shall provide written notice to the state department regarding the receipt of the funds. Upon receipt of the notice, the state department may bring an action to recover the funds pursuant to the provisions of this article and articles 4 and 5 of this title.

(4) The state department shall establish rules concerning the establishment of a patient personal needs trust fund and procedures for the maintenance of a system of accounting for expenditures of each patient's personal needs funds. The facility shall use an accounting system that assures a complete and separate accounting of residents' personal needs funds based on generally accepted accounting principles and that precludes the commingling of a resident's personal needs funds with the facility's funds or the funds of any other person other than the personal needs funds of another resident. These rules shall provide that the nursing facility or intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded shall maintain complete records of all receipts and expenditures involving the patient personal needs trust fund, that all expenditures shall be approved by the patient, legal custodian, guardian, or conservator prior to an expenditure, and that each patient or such patient's legal custodian, guardian, or conservator shall be given at least a quarterly accounting of the receipts and expenditures of such funds. In addition, the rules shall require that the person who maintains the patient personal needs trust fund for the facility and who is responsible for the deposit of moneys into such trust fund shall deposit any personal needs funds received from a patient or from the state department no later than sixty days after the receipt of such moneys.

(5) All patient personal needs trust funds shall be subject to audit by the state department. A record of a patient's personal needs trust fund shall be kept by the facility for a period of three years from the date of the patient's discharge from the facility or until such records have been audited by the state department, whichever occurs later.

(6) Any overpayment of personal needs funds to a nursing facility or an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded by the state department due to the omission, error, fraud, or defalcation of the nursing facility or intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded or any shortage in an audited patient personal needs trust fund shall be recoverable by the state on behalf of the recipient in the same manner and following the same procedures as specified in section 25.5-4-301 (2) for an overpayment to a provider.

(7) Nothing in this section shall prevent a nursing facility or intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded patient from excluding himself or herself from participation in the patient personal needs trust fund.

(8) (a) It is unlawful for any person to knowingly fail to deposit personal needs funds received from a patient or from the state department for a patient's personal needs into the patients' personal needs trust fund within sixty days after the receipt of such moneys or to knowingly apply, spend, commit, pledge, or otherwise use a patient personal needs trust fund, or any other moneys paid by a patient or the state department for patient personal needs, for any purpose other than the personal needs of the patient to purchase necessary clothing, incidentals, or other items of personal needs that are not reimbursed by any federal or state program. Deposit or use of personal needs funds, including the use of a petty cash fund for personal needs purposes, is not a violation of this section if such deposit or use is in substantial compliance with applicable rules of the state department. Sums later ordered repaid to the patients' personal needs trust fund as a result of an audit adjustment related to simple accounting errors such as data entry errors, mathematical errors, or posting errors or a dispute related to a proration of patient payment is not a violation of this section.

(b) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this subsection (8) by failing to deposit personal needs funds within sixty days after the receipt of such moneys commits the crime of unlawful retention of patient personal needs funds. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this subsection (8) by applying, spending, committing, pledging, or otherwise using a patient personal needs trust fund for any purpose other than the purposes permitted by this subsection (8) commits the crime of unlawful use of a patient personal needs trust fund.

(c) Unlawful retention of patient personal needs funds is a class 3 misdemeanor. When a person commits unlawful retention of patient personal needs funds twice or more within a period of six months without having been placed in jeopardy for the prior offense or offenses, unlawful retention of patient personal needs funds is a class 1 misdemeanor.

(d) Unlawful use of a patient personal needs trust fund is:

(I) A class 2 misdemeanor, if the amount involved is less than five hundred dollars;

(II) A class 1 misdemeanor, if the amount involved is five hundred dollars or more but less than one thousand dollars;

(III) A class 4 felony, if the amount involved is one thousand dollars or more but less than twenty thousand dollars;

(IV) A class 3 felony, if the amount involved is twenty thousand dollars or more.

(e) Any person who is convicted of violating this subsection (8) may not own or operate a nursing facility that receives medical assistance pursuant to this article or article 4 or 5 of this title. For the purposes of this paragraph (e), "convicted" means the entry of a plea of guilty, including a plea of guilty entered pursuant to a deferred sentence under section 18-1.3-102, C.R.S., the entry of a plea of no contest accepted by the court, or the entry of a verdict of guilty by a judge or jury.

Annotator's note. Since § 25.5-6-206 is similar to § 26-4-504 as it existed prior to the 2006 amendments relocating article 4 of title 26 to title 25.5 and § 26-4-504 is similar to § 26-4-116 as it existed prior to the 1991 repeal and reenactment of article 4 of title 26, a relevant case construing that provision has been included in the annotations to this section.

Subsection (3.5) is remedial in nature and does not remove or impair any vested rights acquired under existing law, does not create a new obligation, impose a new duty, or attach a new disability with respect to transactions or considerations already past. This subsection gives the department of social services the power to recover by setoff monies improperly withdrawn by a nursing home from patient personal needs trust fund accounts. *Dept. of Soc. 25.5-6-303. Definitions. As used in this part 3 and part 5 of this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Adult day care facility" means a facility which meets all applicable state and federal requirements and is certified by the state to provide adult day care services to eligible persons.

(2) "Adult day care services" means health and social services provided on a less than twenty-four-hour basis to eligible persons in state-certified adult day care facilities.

(3) "Alternative care facility" means a residential facility which provides alternative care services and protective oversight to eligible persons, which meets applicable state and federal requirements, and which is state-certified.

(4) "Alternative care services" means a package of personal care and homemaker services provided in a state-certified alternative care facility.

(5) (a) "Case management agency" means agencies providing services on and before July 1, 1995, for home- and community-based programs for the elderly, blind, and disabled and for persons living with AIDS shall be terminated July 1, 1995, and case management functions shall thereafter be performed in accordance with this article.

(b) "Case management agency", for counties participating in the single entry point system pursuant to this article before July 1, 1995, and for all counties on and after said date, means a public or private, nonprofit or for profit agency that meets all applicable state and federal requirements and is certified by the state department to provide case management functions reimbursable under this article and articles 4 and 5 of this title, within a geographic area of the state consisting of one or more counties. Such functions shall be provided by the agency under a contract executed with the state department or other state designated agency. The state department shall establish procedures for the designation, certification, and decertification of case management agencies and requirements for performance and staffing of the agencies. Such procedures and requirements shall be set forth in rules promulgated by the state board or shall be included in the contracts executed by the state department.

(6) "Case management services" means functions performed by a case management agency, including: The assessment of a client's needs, the development and implementation of a case plan for the client, the coordination and monitoring of service delivery, the direct delivery of services as provided by parts 3 to 12 of this article or by rules adopted by the state board, the evaluation of service effectiveness, and the reassessment of the client's needs. Case management services shall be reimbursed as an administrative expense.

(7) "Case plan" means a coordinated plan for the provision of long-term-care services in a setting other than a nursing home, developed and managed by a case management agency, in coordination with the client, his family or guardian and physician, and other providers of care.

(8) "Electronic monitoring provider" means an entity that meets applicable state, federal, and local requirements and is certified to provide electronic monitoring services.

(9) "Electronic monitoring services" means electronic equipment or adaptations that are related to an eligible person's physical impairment and enable the person to remain at home.

(10) "Homemaker agency" means any agency that meets applicable state and federal requirements and is state-certified to provide homemaker services.

(11) "Homemaker services" means general household activities that are provided by state-certified agencies to maintain a healthy and safe home environment for eligible persons.

(12) "Home modification provider" means an entity that meets applicable state, federal, and local requirements and is certified to provide home modification services.

(13) "Home modification services" means home installations or adaptations that are related to the eligible person's physical impairment and enable the person to remain at home.

(14) "Medications administration" means the administration or monitoring of medications provided in a manner consistent with part 3 of article 1.5 of title 25, C.R.S., under the authority and direction of the state department, as part of the "alternative care services", as defined in subsection (4) of this section, as provided in an "alternative care facility", as defined in subsection (3) of this section.

(15) “Nonmedical transportation provider” means an entity that meets applicable state and federal requirements and is certified to provide nonmedical transportation services.

(16) “Nonmedical transportation services” means transportation of eligible persons to services such as, but not limited to, adult day care services, which enable the person to remain at home.

(17) “Personal care agency” means any agency that meets state and federal requirements and is state-certified to provide personal care services.

(18) “Personal care services” means services to meet an eligible person’s physical requirements and functional needs, when such services do not require the supervision of a nurse.

(19) “Respite care provider” means a facility or agency that meets all applicable state and federal requirements and is state-certified to provide respite care services.

(20) “Respite care services” means services of a short-term nature provided to a client, in the home or in a facility approved by the state department, in order to temporarily relieve the family or other home providers from the care and maintenance of such client, including room and board, maintenance, personal care, and other related services.

(21) “Transition coordination service agency” means an agency that is certified by the state department, as specified in rule by the state board, and provides independent living core services as defined in section 26-8.1-102 (3), C.R.S., and community transition services.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 25.5-6-305 is similar to § 26-4-605 as it existed prior to the 2006 amendments relocating article 4 of title 26 to title 25.5 and § 26-4-605 is similar to § 26-4.5-104.5 as it existed prior to the 1991 repeal of article 4.5 of title 26, a relevant case construing that provision has been included in the annotations to this section.

Once person was initially determined to be eligible for HCBS benefits, his right to continued receipt of the same was similar to "property" right for purposes of the application of the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Thus, he could be deprived of those continued benefits only by means of a procedure that complied with the tenets of due process of law. Weaver v. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 791 P.2d 1230 (Colo. App. 1990).

The principle that due process prevents a termination of benefits absent a demonstration of a change in circumstances, or other good cause, and that, if the termination of benefits is not to be deemed arbitrary, a showing of some change in circumstances is required applies to the benefits under this section. Weaver v. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 791 P.2d 1230 (Colo. App. 1990).

In the absence of a waiver of any defect in the form of the notice, a notice of adverse action that does not substantially comply with the federal and state requirements cannot provide the basis for a deprivation of benefits. Weaver v. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 791 P.2d 1230 (Colo. App. 1990).

25.5-6-306. Eligible groups. (1) Home- and community-based services under this part 3 shall be offered only to persons:

(a) Who are elderly, blind, or physically disabled; and
(b) Who are in need of the level of care available in a nursing home; and
(c) Who are categorically eligible for medical assistance, or whose gross income does not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level, and whose resources do not exceed the limit established for individuals receiving a mandatory minimum state supplementation of supplemental security income benefits or, in the case of a person who is married, do not exceed the amount authorized in section 25.5-6-101.

(2) A long-term-care eligible person receiving home- and community-based services shall remain eligible for the services specified in sections 25.5-5-102, 25.5-5-103, 25.5-5-202, and 25.5-5-203, as applicable.

Department's decision reversing the determination by the administrative law judge (ALJ) that applicant was eligible for home- and community-based services had no reasonable basis in fact or law and district court erred in upholding department's decision. Moczygemba v. Colo. Dept. of Health Care Policy & Fin., 51 P.3d 1083 (Colo. App. 2002).

In determining eligibility, the ALJ is not limited to evidence that the case manager heard on the day of assessment. The ALJ may properly consider any testimony introduced at the hearing concerning the individual's condition as of the date of the level of care assessment. *Reiff v. Colo. 25.5-6-307. Services for the elderly, blind, and disabled. (1) Subject to the provisions of this part 3, home- and community-based services for the elderly, blind, and disabled shall include only the following services:

- (a) Adult day care;
- (b) Alternative care services;
- (c) Electronic monitoring services;

- (d) Home modification services;
 - (e) Homemaker services;
 - (f) Nonmedical transportation services;
 - (g) Personal care services;
 - (h) Respite care services;
 - (i) Community transition services not to exceed two thousand dollars per eligible person, unless otherwise authorized by the state department, which shall be administered by a transition coordination service agency;
 - (j) Services provided under the consumer-directed care service model, part 11 of this article.
- (2) All providers of home- and community-based services for the elderly, blind, and disabled may be separately certified to provide other services, if otherwise qualified.
- (3) A case management agency may be certified to provide the services described in subsection (1) of this section, if otherwise qualified as a provider under the state medical assistance program.
- (4) (a) The case management agency, in coordination with the eligible person, the person's family or guardian, and the person's physician, shall include in each case plan a process by which the eligible person may receive necessary care, which may include respite care, if the eligible person's family or service provider is unavailable due to an emergency situation or to unforeseen circumstances. The eligible person and the person's family or guardian shall be duly informed by the case management agency of these alternative care provisions at the time the case plan is initiated.
- (b) The requirements of this subsection (4) shall not apply if the eligible person is residing in an alternative care facility.

PART 4

HOME- AND COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES FOR PERSONS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

25.5-6-401. Short title. This part 4 shall be known and may be cited as the “Home- and Community-based Services for Persons with Developmental Disabilities Act”.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-621 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-402. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that it is the purpose of this part 4 to provide services for persons with developmental disabilities which would foster the following goals:

(a) To maintain eligible persons in the most appropriate settings possible and to minimize admissions to institutions;

(b) To recognize the unique services requirements of persons with developmental disabilities;

(c) To provide optimum accessibility to various important social, habilitative, remedial, residential, and health services that are available to assist in maintaining eligible persons in the least restrictive settings;

(d) To provide eligible persons who have the capacity to remain outside an institutional setting access to appropriate social, habilitative, remedial, residential, and health services, without which institutionalization would be necessary;

(e) To provide the most efficient and effective use of funds in the delivery of these social, habilitative, remedial, residential, and health services to eligible persons;

(f) To coordinate, integrate, and link these social, habilitative, remedial, residential, and health services into existing community-based service delivery systems for persons with developmental disabilities, to avoid unnecessary and expensive duplication of services;

(g) To allow the state substantial flexibility in organizing and administering the delivery of social, habilitative, remedial, residential, and health services to eligible citizens.

(2) The general assembly intends that the state department and the department of human services shall cooperate to the maximum extent possible in designing, implementing, and administering the programs authorized under this part 4.

(3) Nothing in this part 4 shall be construed to disqualify persons from receiving any benefits to which they would otherwise be eligible under parts 1 and 2 of article 5 of this title, or under Title XIX of the federal “Social Security Act”, as amended, by reason of being designated as a person with developmental disabilities.

25.5-6-403. Definitions. As used in this part 4, unless the context otherwise requires: (1) “Developmentally disabled person” means a person with a developmental disability as defined in section 27-10.5-102, C.R.S.

(2) (a) “Eligible person” means a person with developmental disabilities:

(I) Who meets the definition of categorically needy as defined in section 25.5-4-103 (4);

(II) Who is in need of the level of care available in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded;

(III) Whose gross income does not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefits level or other applicable standard provided in federal regulations construing the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, and whose resources do not exceed the limit established for individuals receiving a mandatory minimum state supplementation of supplemental security income benefits or, in the case of a person who is married, do not exceed the amount authorized in section 25.5-6-101; and

(IV) For whom it is determined that provision of such services is necessary to avoid placement in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded.

(b) The amount of parental income and resources that shall be attributable to a child's gross income for purposes of eligibility under paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall be set forth in rules promulgated by the state board of human services created in section 26-1-107, C.R.S.

(3) "In-home services" means those services described in section 27-10.5-406, C.R.S., provided to support individuals living with their family.

(4) "Plan of care" means a coordinated plan of care for provision of services in other than a nursing facility or institutional setting, developed and managed, subject to review and approval pursuant to section 25.5-6-404, by a community centered board for persons with developmental disabilities. This plan of care shall fully identify the services to be provided to eligible persons. Prior to the provision of those services, a physician may be required to review an assessment document to insure that it adequately describes the medical needs of the eligible person.

(5) (a) "Services for persons with developmental disabilities" means those services:

(I) Approved for reimbursement by the federal government; and

(II) Necessary to prevent a person, eligible for services under subsection (2) of this section, from being subjected to placement in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded.

(b) "Services for the developmentally disabled" includes, but is not limited to: Social, habilitative, remedial, residential, health services, and services provided under the consumer-directed care service model, part 11 of this article, which shall include the selection, from a list of qualified entities, of an organization of the eligible person's choice to provide financial management services for the eligible person.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-623 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-404. Duties of the department of health care policy and financing and the department of human services. (1) The state department and the department of human services shall provide a system of reimbursement for services provided pursuant to this part 4 that encourages the most cost-effective provision of services.

(2) The state department and the department of human services shall, subject to appropriation, utilize any available federal, state, local, or private funds, including but not limited to, medicaid funds available under Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, such as medicaid home- and community-based waivers, to carry out the purposes of this part 4.

(3) The state department may contract with the department of human services to certify agencies providing services under this part 4 as eligible medicaid providers, to adopt fiscal and administrative procedures, to review plans of care, to set rates, and to make and implement recommendations regarding the scope, duration, and content of programs and the eligibility of persons for specific services provided pursuant to this part 4, and to fulfill any other responsibilities necessary to implement this part 4 that are consistent with the single state agency designation set out in section 25.5-4-104.

(4) The executive director and the state board shall promulgate such rules regarding this part 4 as are necessary to fulfill the obligations of the state department as the single state agency to administer medical assistance programs in accordance with Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended. Such rules may include, but shall not be limited to, determination of the level of care requirements for long-term care, patient payment requirements, clients' rights, medicaid eligibility, and appeal rights associated with these requirements.

(5) The state board of human services, created in section 26-1-107, C.R.S., shall promulgate such rules as are necessary to implement the provisions of this part 4 and to fulfill the responsibilities and duties set out in article 10.5 of title 27, C.R.S. Such rules shall be promulgated pursuant to section 24-4-103, C.R.S.

(6) In the event that a direct conflict arises between the rules of the state department promulgated pursuant to subsection (4) of this section and the rules of the department of human services promulgated pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, regarding implementation of this part 4, the rules of the state department shall control.

25.5-6-407. Gifts - grants. The state department and the department of human services, acting on behalf of the state, may receive and accept title to gifts or grants from any source, including the federal government. Both departments shall deposit all grants, grants-in-aid, and gifts with the state treasurer, who shall credit them to the general fund. These moneys shall remain available for appropriation to either department to carry out the purposes of this part 4.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-628 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-409. Services for persons with developmental disabilities. (1) A program to provide home- and community-based services to persons with developmental disabilities who are in need of the level of care available in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded is hereby established pursuant to the federal "Social Security Act", as amended. This program shall provide for the social, habilitative, remedial, residential, health, and other needs of persons with developmental disabilities to avoid placement in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded.

(2) Services for persons with developmental disabilities provided through this program shall be delivered under the provisions of a statewide services plan, in the form of home- and community-based services waivers or model waivers, developed by the state department and the department of human services and approved by the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services, or any successor agency. This plan shall include the specific services to be offered, a plan for the delivery of such services through community centered boards or other service agencies approved pursuant to article 10.5 of title 27, C.R.S., utilizing where appropriate the provision of in-home services, the expected costs of such services, the expected benefits of providing those services, and the administrative provisions which shall govern the implementation of the plan. The plan shall provide for all necessary safeguards to ensure the health and welfare of any eligible persons. The average per capita expenditure for services under this plan shall not exceed the average per capita expenditure the department of human services or the state department would have made for services otherwise available without this plan.

(3) The plan shall utilize existing community-based services programs to the maximum extent possible and shall coordinate all available forms of assistance for the eligible person.

(4) Any services for the developmentally disabled provided through this program shall be set forth in a plan of care developed and managed by a community centered board and subject to review and approval pursuant to section 25.5-6-404. The plan of care shall:

(a) Be based on the particular services needs of the eligible person;
(b) Describe the services necessary to avoid institutionalization; and
(c) (I) Include a process by which the person who is receiving services may receive necessary care for medical purposes, which may include respite care, if the person's service provider is unavailable due to an emergency situation or to unforeseen circumstances. The person who is receiving services and the person's family or guardian shall be duly informed by the community centered board of these alternative care provisions at the time the plan of care is initiated.

(II) Nothing in this paragraph (c) requires a community centered board to provide services set forth in a plan of care that the community centered board is not otherwise required to provide to the person receiving services, only that the plan of care include a contingency for such services.

25.5-6-411. Personal needs trust fund required. All personal needs funds shall be held in trust by a residential facility authorized to provide services pursuant to this part 4, or its designated trustee, separate and apart from any other funds of the facility, in a checking account or savings account or any combination thereof established to protect and separate the personal needs funds of the clients. At all times, the principal and all income derived from said principal in the personal needs trust fund shall remain the property of the participating clients, and the facility or its designated trustee is bound by all of the duties imposed by law upon fiduciaries in the handling of such fund including accounting for all expenditures from the fund.

25.5-6-504. Program established - financial eligibility. (1) In recognition of the social and economic benefits accruing from the maintenance of persons with HIV/AIDS in their own homes, the general assembly hereby finds and declares that a program shall be implemented by the state department to provide the services set forth in section 25.5-6-505 to those persons with HIV/AIDS whose gross income does not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level, whose resources do not exceed the limit established by the state department for individuals receiving a mandatory minimum state supplementation of SSI benefits pursuant to section 26-2-204, C.R.S., or, in the case of a person who is married, do not exceed the amount authorized in section 25.5-6-101, and for whom a licensed physician or advanced practice nurse certifies that such program provides an appropriate alternative to institutionalized care.

(2) Any person who accepts and receives services authorized under this part 5 shall pay to the state department, or to an agent or provider designated by the state department, an amount that shall be the lesser of the person's gross income, minus federally allowed maintenance and medical deductions, or the projected cost of services to be rendered to the person under the case plan. Such amount shall be reviewed and revised as necessary each time the case plan is reviewed.

25.5-6-505. Services for long-term-care eligible persons. (1) Subject to the provisions of this part 5, the home- and community-based services program for persons with HIV/AIDS shall include the following continuum of long-term care services:

- (a) Personal care and homemaker services;
 - (b) Adult day care services;
 - (c) Private duty nursing services;
 - (d) Electronic monitoring services as such term is defined in section 25.5-6-303 (9);
 - (e) Nonmedical transportation services as such term is defined in section 25.5-6-303 (16);
 - (f) Services provided under the consumer-directed care model, part 11 of this article.
- (2) A long-term-care eligible person receiving home- and community-based services shall remain eligible for the services specified in sections 25.5-5-102, 25.5-5-103, 25.5-5-202, and 25.5-5-203, as applicable.

(3) The provision of the services set forth in subsection (1) of this section shall be subject to the availability of federal matching medicaid funds, pursuant to Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, for payment of the costs for administration and costs for the provision of such services. Case management services shall be reimbursed as an administrative cost.

(4) If the state department or the case management agency makes a determination that the cost for the provision of home- and community-based services necessary to allow an HIV/AIDS client to avoid institutionalization exceeds or would exceed either the average individual medicaid payment for like services for hospital care for clients needing a hospital level of care or the average individual medicaid payment for like services for nursing facility care for clients needing a nursing facility level of care, such client shall not be considered eligible for home- and community-based services.

(5) The location for the provision of home- and community-based services shall be agreed upon by the HIV/AIDS client and the case management agency.

(6) The state department shall implement the provisions of subsection (1) of this section on a case-by-case basis as each service becomes available through approved providers.

(7) No service listed in subsection (1) of this section may be provided to an eligible person unless authorized pursuant to a case plan.

(8) (a) The case management agency, in coordination with the eligible person and the person's family or guardian, shall include in each case plan a process by which the eligible person may receive necessary care, which may include respite care, if the eligible person's family or service provider is unavailable due to an emergency situation or to unforeseen circumstances. The eligible person and the person's family or guardian shall be duly informed by the case management agency of these alternative care provisions at the time the case plan is initiated.

(b) The requirements of this subsection (8) shall not apply if the eligible person is residing in a nursing facility or an alternative care facility.

25.5-6-507. Duties of state department. (1) In addition to the duties set forth in section 25.5-6-311, the state department shall:

(a) Seek and utilize any available federal, state, or private funds which are available for carrying out the purposes of this part 5, including but not limited to medicaid funds, pursuant to Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended;

(b) Provide a system for reimbursement for services provided pursuant to this part 5 that encourages cost containment;

(c) Conduct feasibility studies and pilot programs as the general assembly may from time to time direct to lessen medical costs, including medicaid moneys, associated with persons with HIV/AIDS.

(2) Prior to the submittal of the home- and community-based services medicaid waiver application for this part 5, the state department shall consult with the joint budget committee of the general assembly concerning the proposed number of clients to be served, the savings anticipated, and the costs associated with the implementation of this program.

25.5-6-602. Legislative declaration - no entitlement created. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the purpose of this part 6 is to provide, under federal authorization and subject to available appropriations, home- and community-based services for persons with major mental illnesses.

(2) Nothing in this part 6 shall be construed to establish that eligible persons as defined in section 25.5-6-603 (1) are entitled to receive services from the state department or the department of human services. The provision of any services pursuant to this part 6 shall be subject to federal waiver authorization and available appropriations.

25.5-6-603. Definitions. As used in this part 6, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Eligible person" means a person:

(a) Who has a primary diagnosis of major mental illness, as such term is defined in the diagnostic and statistical manual of mental disorders used by the mental health profession, and includes schizophrenic, paranoid, major affective, and schizoaffective disorders, and atypical psychosis, but does not include dementia, including alzheimer's disease or related disorders;

(b) Who is in need of the level of care available in a nursing facility;

(c) Who is categorically eligible for medical assistance, or whose gross income does not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level, and whose resources do not exceed the limit established for individuals receiving a mandatory minimum state supplementation of supplemental security income benefits or, in the case of a person who is married, do not exceed the amount authorized in section 25.5-6-101.

25.5-6-606. Implementation of program for mentally ill authorized - federal waiver - duties of the department of health care policy and financing and the department of human services. (1) The state department is hereby authorized to seek any necessary waiver from the federal government to develop and implement a home- and community-based services program for persons with major mental illnesses. The program shall be designed to provide home- and community-based services to eligible persons. Eligibility may be limited to persons who meet the level of services provided in a nursing facility, and services for eligible persons may be established in state board rules to the extent such eligibility criteria and services are authorized or required by federal waiver. The program shall include services provided under the consumer-directed care service model, part 11 of this article.

(2) The state department and the department of human services shall provide a system of reimbursement for services provided pursuant to this part 6 that encourages the most cost-effective provision of services.

(3) The state department and the department of human services shall, subject to appropriation, use available federal, state, local, or private funds, including but not limited to medicaid funds available under Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, to carry out the purposes of this part 6.

(4) The state department may include in the memorandum of understanding with the department of human services provisions that allow the department of human services to certify agencies as medicaid providers for the purposes of this part 6, to adopt fiscal and administrative procedures, to review plans of care, to recommend reimbursement rates, to make recommendations regarding the scope, duration, and content of programs and the eligibility of persons for specific services provided pursuant to this part 6, and to fulfill any other responsibilities necessary to implement this part 6. However, the provisions shall be consistent with the designation of the state department as the single state agency in section 25.5-4-104.

(5) The executive director and the state board shall promulgate such rules regarding this part 6 as are necessary to fulfill the obligations of the state department as the single state agency to administer medical assistance programs in accordance with Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended.

(6) The department of human services shall promulgate such rules as are necessary to perform its function pursuant to this part 6. Such rules shall be promulgated in accordance with section 24-4-103, C.R.S., and shall be consistent with the rules of the executive director and the state board.

(7) In the event a direct conflict arises between the rules of the state department promulgated pursuant to subsection (5) of this section and the rules of the department of human services promulgated pursuant to subsection (6) of this section, regarding implementation of this part 6, the rules of the state department shall control.

25.5-6-607. Implementation of part contingent upon receipt of federal waiver - repeal of part. (1) The implementation of this part 6 is conditioned upon the issuance of necessary waivers by the federal government and available appropriations. The provisions of this part 6 shall be implemented to the extent authorized by federal waiver. The state department shall propose legislation that conforms with the waiver provisions no later than the next regular legislative session following the issuance of the waiver.

(2) Provisions of this part 6 that are approved by the federal government and are authorized by federal waiver shall remain in effect only for so long as specified in the federal waiver, unless otherwise extended by the federal government. The state department shall provide written notice to the revisor of statutes of the final termination date of the waiver, and this part 6 shall be repealed, effective July 1 of the year in which the waiver is terminated.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-682 as it existed prior to 2006.

(1) “Adult day care” means health and social services furnished two or more hours per day on a regularly scheduled basis for one or more days per week in an outpatient setting and for the purpose of ensuring the optimal functioning of the recipient.

(2) “Behavioral programming” means an individualized plan that sets forth strategies to decrease a recipient’s maladaptive behaviors that interfere with the recipient’s ability to remain in the community. Behavioral programming includes a complete assessment of maladaptive behaviors of the recipient, the development and implementation of a structured behavioral intervention plan, continuous training and supervision of caregivers and behavioral aides, and periodic reassessment of the individualized plan.

(3) “Brain injury” means an injury to the brain arising from external forces including, but not limited to, toxic chemical reactions, anoxia, near drownings, closed or open head injuries, and focal brain injuries.

(4) “Eligible person” means a person:

(a) Who has a diagnosis of brain injury, as such term is defined in subsection (3) of this section;

(b) Who is in need of the level of care available in a hospital, rehabilitation hospital, hospital in lieu of a nursing facility, or is in need of specialized care provided in a nursing facility in lieu of a hospital;

(c) Who is categorically eligible for medical assistance, or has a gross income that does not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level and resources that do not exceed the limit established for individuals receiving a mandatory minimum state supplementation of supplemental security income benefits or, in the case of a person who is married, do not exceed the amount authorized in section 25.5-6-101; and

(d) For whom the cost of services would not exceed the average cost of hospital care.

(5) “Independent living skills training” means skills and therapies that are directed at the development and maintenance of community living skills and community integration. Independent living skills include supervision or training with respect to or assistance with self-care, communication skills, socialization, sensory and motor development, reducing maladaptive behavior, community living and mobility, and therapeutic recreation.

(6) “Personal care services” means assistance with eating, bathing, dressing, personal hygiene, and activities of daily living. Personal care services include assistance with the preparation of meals, but not the cost of the meals, and homemaker services that are necessary for the health and safety of the recipient.

(7) “Structured day treatment” means structured, nonresidential therapeutic treatment services that are directed at the development and maintenance of community living skills and are provided two or more hours per day on a regularly scheduled basis for one or more days per week. Day treatment services include supervision and specific training that allows a recipient to function at the recipient’s maximum potential. The services include, but are not limited to, social skills training that allows for reintegration into the community, sensory and motor development services, and services aimed at reducing maladaptive behavior.

(8) “Supported living” means assistance or support designed to maximize or maintain independence and self-direction on a supportive care campus. Supported living services consist of structured interventions designed to provide:

- (a) Protective oversight and supervision;
- (b) Behavioral management and cognitive supports;
- (c) Interpersonal and social skills development;
- (d) Improved household management skills to support independence and community integration; and
- (e) Medical management.

(9) “Supportive care campus” means a residential campus that provides supported living services.

(10) “Transitional living” means a nonmedical residential program that provides training and twenty-four-hour supervision to a recipient over a six-to-twelve-month period that will enhance the recipient’s ability to live more independently.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-683 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-704. Implementation of home- and community-based services program for persons with brain injury authorized - federal waiver - duties of the department.

(1) (a) The state department is hereby authorized to seek any necessary waiver from the federal government to develop and implement a home- and community-based services program for persons with brain injury. The state department shall design the program to provide home- and community-based services to eligible persons. Eligibility shall be limited to persons who meet the level of services provided in a hospital, rehabilitation hospital, hospital in lieu of nursing facility care, or who are in need of specialized care provided in a nursing facility in lieu of a hospital.

(b) The state department shall seek any necessary amendments to the current federal waiver for the home- and community-based services program for persons with brain injury to allow supported living, as defined in section 25.5-6-703 (8), to be provided to eligible persons on a supportive care campus.

(2) Services for eligible persons may be established in department rules to the extent authorized or required by federal waiver, but shall include at least the following:

(a) Independent living skills training, as indicated in the eligible person’s plan of care, and provided by local agencies determined by the department to be qualified to provide the services;

- (b) Residential care including, but not limited to:
 - (I) Transitional living;
 - (II) Respite care;
 - (III) Supported living;
- (c) Personal care services;
- (d) Assisted transportation;
- (e) Counseling and training including substance abuse treatment and family counseling;
- (f) Environmental modification services;

(g) Day care, which may include physical, occupational, and speech therapies as indicated in the eligible person's plan of care;

(h) Structured day treatment, which may include physical, occupational, speech, and cognitive therapies if deemed necessary by the eligible person's case manager and as indicated in the person's plan of care. Structured day treatment services are for individuals who may benefit from continued rehabilitation and reintegration into the community.

(i) Behavioral programming that may be provided in or outside an eligible person's residence;

(j) Assistive technology;

(k) Services provided under the consumer-directed care service model, part 11 of this article.

(3) The case manager, in coordination with the eligible person and the person's family or guardian, shall include in each plan of care a process by which the eligible person may receive necessary care, which may include respite care, if the eligible person's family or service provider is unavailable due to an emergency situation or to unforeseen circumstances. The eligible person and the person's family or guardian shall be duly informed by the case manager of these alternative care provisions at the time the plan of care is initiated.

(4) (a) The department shall provide a system of reimbursement for services provided pursuant to this part 7 that encourages the most cost-effective provision of services.

(b) A member of an eligible person's family, other than the person's spouse or a parent of a minor, may be employed to provide personal care services to such person. The maximum reimbursement for the services provided by a member of the person's family per year for an eligible person shall not exceed the equivalent of four hundred forty-four service units per year for a member of the eligible person's family. Standards that apply to other providers who provide personal care services apply to a family member who provides these services. In addition, a registered nurse shall supervise a family member in providing services to the extent indicated in the eligible person's plan of care.

(5) The state department shall, subject to appropriation, use available federal, state, local, or private funds including, but not limited to, medicaid funds available under Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, to carry out the purposes of this part 7.

(6) The state board shall adopt rules concerning the certification of agencies as medicaid providers for the purposes of this part 7, fiscal and administrative procedures, procedures for reviewing plans of care, reimbursement rates, and the scope, duration, and content of programs and the eligibility for specific services provided pursuant to this part 7. The state board shall adopt such rules as are necessary to fulfill the obligations of the state department as the single state agency to administer medical assistance programs in accordance with Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended.

25.5-6-705. Implementation of part contingent upon receipt of federal waiver - repeal of part. (1) (a) The implementation of this part 7 is conditioned upon the issuance of necessary waivers by the federal government and available appropriations. The provisions of this part 7 shall be implemented to the extent authorized by federal waiver. The state department shall propose legislation that conforms with the waiver provisions no later than the next regular legislative session following the issuance of the waiver.

(b) The implementation of the provisions of this part 7 relating to services provided on a supportive care campus are conditioned upon the approval of necessary waiver amendments by the federal government. The provisions of this part 7 relating to supported living shall be implemented to the extent authorized by federal waiver and in accordance with applicable federal requirements.

(2) Provisions of this part 7 that are approved by the federal government and are authorized by federal waiver shall remain in effect only for so long as specified in the federal waiver, unless otherwise extended by the federal government. The state department shall provide written notice to the revisor of statutes of the final termination date of the waiver, and this part 7 shall be repealed, effective July 1 of the year in which the waiver is terminated.

25.5-6-706. Rate structure - rules - quality assurance. (1) (a) The state board, by rule, shall set tiered per diem rates for services provided on a supportive care campus under this part 7. When structuring the tiered per diem rates, the state board shall consider the medical and cognitive needs of eligible persons being served on the supportive care campus.

(b) The maximum per diem rate for the services provided on a supportive care campus shall not exceed the total per diem cost of comparable populations either in institutions or in other community-based settings.

(2) The state board shall adopt rules necessary for quality assurance, which shall include certification of supportive care campuses.

25.5-6-802. Definitions. As used in this part 8, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Eligible child" means a child who:

(a) Is eligible for the state's medicaid program pursuant to section 25.5-5-101, 25.5-5-201, or 25.5-5-203;

(b) Is age birth to six years;

(c) Has a diagnosis of autism;

(d) Is at risk of institutionalization in either an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded, a hospital, or a nursing facility; and

(e) Is not receiving services from any of the alternatives to long-term care waiver programs established in this title.

(2) "Lead provider" means the credentialed, certified, or licensed professional who is the eligible child's primary provider and who is responsible for supervision of the eligible child's care plan.

(3) "Services" means the home- and community-based services provided pursuant to this part 8.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-692 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-803. Federal authorization - budget neutrality - available appropriations.

(1) The state department shall seek the federal authorization necessary to implement the provisions of this part 8.

(2) Home- and community-based services for children with autism shall meet aggregate federal waiver budget neutrality requirements.

(3) (a) The provision of services pursuant to this part 8 is subject to available appropriations from the Colorado autism treatment fund established in section 25.5-6-805.

(b) The provision of home- and community-based services pursuant to this part 8 shall be subject to the availability of federal matching medicaid funds, pursuant to Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, for payment of the costs for administration and the costs for the provision of such services.

(4) The state department shall:

(a) Seek and utilize any available federal, state, or private funds which are available for carrying out the purposes of this part 8, including but not limited to medicaid funds pursuant to Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended;

(b) Provide a system of reimbursement for services that encourages the most cost-effective provision of services.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-693 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-804. Services - duties of the state department - rules. (1) Subject to the provisions of this part 8, home- and community-based services for children with autism shall include only the following services, as specified in the eligible child's care plan:

- (a) Occupational therapy;
- (b) Speech therapy;
- (c) Psychological and psychiatric services;
- (d) Physical therapy;
- (e) Behavioral therapy; and
- (f) Services provided under the consumer-directed care service model, part 11 of this article.

(2) No eligible child may receive services in an amount in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars annually.

(3) The state department shall utilize the services of existing service provider agencies to provide services pursuant to this part 8. A service provider agency shall retain no more than fifteen percent of the established service reimbursement rate for administrative costs.

(4) A care planning agency may be certified to provide the services described in subsection (1) of this section if otherwise qualified as a provider under the state medical assistance program.

(5) The state department shall contract with a community centered board for persons with developmental disabilities to serve as the single entry point agency for services and as the care planning agency for eligible children. If a community centered board is unwilling or unable to enter into the contract with the state department, the state department may contract with a single entry point agency identified pursuant to section 25.5-6-106 or a state-department-approved case management agency to serve as the entry point agency and as the care planning agency. The care planning process shall include the eligible child's family or guardian, the eligible child's lead provider, and the eligible child's case manager. For the purpose of implementing this part 8 the care planning process shall be coordinated with any other care plan or case manager the eligible child may have.

(6) A member of an eligible child's family may be employed to provide services to the child. The reimbursement limitation in section 25.5-6-310 shall not apply to services provided pursuant to this part 8 by a family member.

(7) The state department shall develop the service provisions, which shall include provisions for the supervision of direct care providers, and the care planning process under this part 8 in consultation with parents of children with autism and medical professionals who have expertise in treating children with autism.

(8) (a) The state board shall adopt rules necessary to implement and administer the provisions of this part 8, including but not limited to requiring an ongoing evaluation process for each eligible child and the use of an external evaluation contractor for this purpose.

(b) An eligible child participating in services pursuant to this part 8 shall be evaluated at entry into the program, at least every six months during the course of services, and at the termination of services pursuant to this part 8. The evaluations shall include, but need not be limited to:

(I) An assessment of the eligible child's expressive and receptive communication through the use of a standardized and norm-referenced assessment as determined by the state department through rule;

(II) An assessment of the eligible child's adaptive skills including self-help skills through the use of a norm-referenced and standardized assessment as determined by the state department through rule; and

(III) An assessment of the severity of the eligible child's maladaptive behavior, including self-injurious or aggressive behaviors or tantrums, through the use of a norm-referenced and standardized assessment as determined by the state department through rule.

(c) The evaluations shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subsection (8) by the child's lead therapist or other trained professionals as designated by the department.

(d) The evaluator shall provide a copy of the evaluation, including any supporting data, to the eligible child's parent or legal guardian and to the agency responsible for the eligible child's care planning. The agency responsible for the eligible child's care planning shall retain a copy of the eligible child's evaluation and supporting data.

(e) Any costs associated with the evaluations required pursuant to this subsection (8) shall be included within the annual cost limitation on services set forth in subsection (2) of this section. Evaluations of an eligible child may be conducted through the eligible child's school or with other resources that are not part of the services provided pursuant to this part 8, so long as the evaluations are consistent with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this subsection (8).

(f) The ongoing evaluation of children receiving services under the program pursuant to this subsection (8) shall not be used to alter a child's eligibility to participate in the program.

(9) The state department shall annually review the available balance in the Colorado autism treatment fund, created pursuant to section 25.5-6-805, to determine whether additional eligible children may be provided services pursuant to this part 8 consistent with existing federal authorization.

(10) So long as children who are determined eligible for the autism waiver program are on a wait list to receive services, the state department's priority shall be to move off of the wait list and into the autism waiver program those children who are determined to have an imminent need for services as determined through an objective assessment process. The state department's objective assessment process for determining imminent need for services under the autism waiver program shall incorporate norm-referenced autism assessment findings and prioritize children based on the severity of the child's assessed condition. This subsection (10) shall apply only upon the approval by the centers for medicare and medicaid services that it is consistent with federal law.

25.5-6-805. Colorado autism treatment fund. (1) The Colorado autism treatment fund is hereby created and established in the state treasury for the purpose of paying for services provided to eligible children and for participant and program evaluations pursuant to this part 8. Such fund shall be comprised of tobacco settlement moneys allocated to such fund. Moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the purposes of this part 8. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this part 8 may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(2) Pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1) (I), C.R.S., beginning in the 2008-09 fiscal year and in each fiscal year thereafter so long as the state receives moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement, the state treasurer shall annually transfer to the fund the amount of moneys to be received by the fund pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1) (I), C.R.S. The state treasurer shall transfer the amount specified in this subsection (2) from moneys credited to the tobacco litigation settlement cash fund created in section 24-22-115, C.R.S.

25.5-6-806. Autism waiver - program evaluation. (1) As provided in subsection (2) of this section, the state department shall submit written program evaluations to the health and environment committee of the house of representatives, or any successor committee, and to the health and human services committee of the senate, or any successor committee, concerning home- and community-based services provided to children with autism pursuant to this part 8. The state department shall determine the appropriate process and procedures for conducting the evaluation, including procedures to protect a program participant's individually identifying information.

(2) (a) On or before June 1, 2013, the state department's evaluation shall include, at a minimum, information concerning:

(I) The number of eligible children receiving services or who have received services under the waiver program;

(II) The average and median age of eligible children when they begin receiving services and the average length of time that children receive services; and

(III) The average cost of services provided to an eligible child.

(b) On or before June 1, 2014, the state department's evaluation shall include, at a minimum, information concerning the design and implementation of the ongoing evaluation process pursuant to section 25.5-6-804 (8).

(c) (I) On or before June 1, 2015, the state department's evaluation shall include an evaluation of eligible children's care plans and evaluations conducted at the beginning and ending of services, as well as ongoing evaluations during the course of services, to determine whether home- and community-based services provided pursuant to this part 8 are effective in meeting the goals of the waiver program, which goals include, but are not limited to:

(A) Serving the children most vulnerable to institutionalization without the services provided pursuant to this part 8;

(B) Keeping children out of institutions; and

(C) Demonstrating improvement in the child's expressive and receptive communication, adaptive skills, such as dressing and toileting, and a reduction in the severity of the child's maladaptive behavior, including self-injurious or aggressive behavior and tantrums, through the use of standardized and norm-referenced assessments.

(II) The state department may contract with an independent program evaluator with expertise in reviewing treatment progress reports, individual evaluations, and medical records for purposes of conducting the evaluation pursuant to this paragraph (c) concerning the effectiveness of the home- and community-based services provided pursuant to this part 8.

HOME- AND COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICE PROGRAMS FOR CHILDREN

25.5-6-901. Disabled children care program - eligibility criteria - documentation requirements - report to the general assembly. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that a program shall be established by the state department to provide services not otherwise available to eligible disabled children outside the confines of an acute care hospital or nursing facility. Such program shall be known as the “disabled children care program” and shall be designed to safely provide services to eligible disabled children in a home- or community-based setting at a cost to the medicaid program equal to or less than the medicaid cost of inpatient hospital or nursing facility care.

(2) (a) The state department is authorized to seek a waiver from the federal department of health and human services to qualify for federal financial participation in the disabled children care program. Application for such waiver is contingent upon a finding that continuation of the disabled children care program results in less expenditures from the general fund than if such program were terminated.

(b) If federal financial participation is secured, eligibility for participation in the program and the number of children to be served under the program shall be in accordance with federal regulations.

(3) (a) “Eligible disabled children” means any children eighteen years of age and under who:

(I) Have medical needs which would qualify them, pursuant to state department criteria, for institutionalization or place them at risk for institutionalization in any one of the following: An acute care hospital or a nursing facility; and

(II) Have gross incomes which do not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level. The amount of parental or spousal income and resources which shall be attributable to a child’s gross income for purposes of eligibility shall be set forth in rules promulgated by the state board and shall be in relation to the parent’s or spouse’s financial responsibility for such child; and

(III) Are not receiving services from any of the alternatives to long-term care waiver programs established under this title.

(b) “Home care services” means all services available under sections 25.5-5-102, 25.5-5-103, 25.5-5-202, and 25.5-5-203 that may be received in a noninstitutional setting.

(4) (a) The state department shall require the following documentation on each applicant for the program:

(I) An assessment by the disabled child’s attending physician of the child’s medical, functional, and social status and a determination by such physician that the quality of care which can be provided in the noninstitutional setting is equal to or exceeds the quality of care the child could receive in an acute care hospital or nursing facility;

(II) An analysis of the cost of services for the disabled child in an institutional setting as compared to the cost of such services in a noninstitutional setting;

(III) An assessment of the caregiver's ability to provide the needed services to the disabled child in a noninstitutional setting and an assessment of such caregiver's social history.

(b) The information required under paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) shall be collected and reviewed by the state department at least every six months for disabled children who enter the disabled children care program in order to ensure that the quality of noninstitutional care continues to equal or exceed such care in an institutional setting and that the costs for care under the program are less than the costs for such care in an institution. When the disabled child is found to no longer qualify for institutionalization or be at risk for institutionalization pursuant to state department criteria, the child shall no longer be eligible for the disabled children care program.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-509 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-902. Children's personal assistance services and family support program.

(1) The general assembly finds that many families who attempt to care for severely disabled or terminally ill children at home often are burdened with the excessive financial and personal costs of providing continuous care. Private insurance companies rarely support essential, long-term custodial services and often establish monetary limits that are well below the levels required by these disabled children. When coverage is available, care is frequently provided in a medical model that is marginally appropriate to the needs of the children and the family and usually more expensive to the payor. The resulting pressures often contribute to family disintegration and increased dependency on public programs. The general assembly finds that it is in the best interests of the citizens of the state to encourage the preservation of families with children with disabilities.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "eligible disabled children" means children eighteen years of age or younger:

(a) Who have medical needs that, pursuant to state department rules, would qualify them for institutionalization or place them at risk of institutionalization in an acute care hospital or nursing facility;

(b) Who have gross incomes, including the amount of parental income and resources to be attributed to the child's gross income according to rules to be promulgated by the state board, that do not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level;

(c) Who are not receiving long-term services from any alternative waiver program established under this title;

(d) For whom a licensed physician or an advanced practice nurse has certified that in-home care is an appropriate way to meet the child's needs; and

(e) For whom the cost of care outside of the institution is no higher than the estimated medicaid cost of appropriate institutional care.

(3) There is hereby established in the state department the children's personal assistance services and family support waiver program, referred to in this section as the "program", to provide services to eligible disabled children in their homes rather than in the confines of an acute care hospital or nursing facility. The number of children enrolled in this program or any other model 200 program shall not exceed the state department's ability to cover the costs of the programs within the annual appropriations for this program and any other model 200 program.

(4) Priority for participation in the program shall be given first to children who are on the waiting list for other model 200 programs and secondly to children whose parents will return to work if appropriate care for their disabled child is provided under the program. Spaces in the program shall also be available to children who were already covered by medicaid but who were rendered temporarily ineligible for a period of not more than three months due to a periodic or cyclical peak in their parents' income.

(5) The state board shall adopt rules to govern the program consistent with any federal waivers including, but not limited to, rules concerning:

- (a) Services that are reimbursable under this section including, but not limited to:
- (I) Respite care, to the degree its additional cost is offset by collection of a parental copayment;
 - (II) Case management; and
 - (III) Medically necessary professional or community services beyond those specified in section 25.5-5-102 or 25.5-5-202, to the degree that they provide a cost-effective and medically appropriate alternative to covered services;
- (b) Provider selection and certification;
 - (c) Documentation for assessment and recertification;
 - (d) Case management agency selection and responsibility; and
 - (e) Reimbursement.
- (6) The case management agency, in coordination with the eligible disabled child's family and the child's physician, shall include in each case plan a process by which the eligible disabled child may receive necessary care, which may include respite care, if the eligible disabled child's family or care provider is unavailable due to an emergency situation or to unforeseen circumstances. The eligible disabled child's family shall be duly informed by the case management agency of these alternative care provisions at the time the case plan is initiated.
- (7) If the state department finds it cost-effective and all necessary federal waivers are obtained, parents of eligible disabled children may be authorized to hire and manage care providers from certified medicaid agencies. Case management agencies shall work with parents to develop the skills necessary for ongoing care management.
- (8) The state department is authorized to seek waivers from the federal government to qualify for federal financial participation in the program.
- (9) The state department is authorized to charge and collect copayments from parents for services rendered.
- (10) The state department is directed to study the advisability of setting an upper limit on parental income for participation in this program and other children's medicaid waiver programs.

PART 10

CONSUMER-DIRECTED ATTENDANT SUPPORT FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

25.5-6-1001 to 25.5-6-1004. (Repealed)

Editor's note: (1) This article was added with relocations in 2006, and this part 10 was subsequently repealed in 2009. For amendments to this part 10 prior to its repeal in 2009, consult the Colorado statutory research explanatory note beginning on page vii in the front of this volume and the editor's note following the article heading.

(2) Section 25.5-6-1004 provided for the repeal of this part 10, effective July 1, 2009. (See L. 2006, p. 1967.)

(3) Section 25.5-6-1002 (4) was amended in Senate Bill 09-292, effective August 5, 2009. However, those amendments did not take effect due to the repeal of this part 10, effective July 1, 2009.

PART 11

CONSUMER-DIRECTED CARE

25.5-6-1101. Definitions. As used in this part 11, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Attendant support" means any action to assist an eligible person in accomplishing activities of daily living, instrumental activities of daily living, and habilitative and health-related tasks. Such activities include, but are not limited to, personal care services, household services, cognitive services, mobility services, and health-related tasks.

(2) "Authorized representative" means an individual designated by the eligible person, by the parent of a minor, or by the legal guardian of the eligible person if the eligible person cannot demonstrate sound judgment to his or her primary care physician, who has the judgment and ability to assist the eligible person in acquiring and utilizing services under this part 11. The extent of the authorized representative's involvement shall be determined upon designation.

(3) "Consumer-directed" means that an eligible person receives a direct payment through a voucher and employs, trains, and in other ways manages the person who provides his or her attendant support. The direct payment through a voucher that is received by an eligible person to pay for attendant support shall not be counted as income for purposes of determining eligibility for medicaid and other state programs that use income to determine eligibility.

(4) "Eligible person" means a person who is eligible to receive services under parts 3 to 12 of this article or any other home- and community-based service waiver for which the state department has federal waiver authority.

(5) "Primary care physician" means a physician who is the primary provider of physician services to the eligible person or who is familiar with the eligible person's needs and capabilities.

(6) "Qualified services" means services provided under the eligible person's applicable waiver program and attendant support.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-1301 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-1102. Service model - consumer-directed care. (1) The state department shall implement a consumer-directed care service model that allows eligible persons to receive a direct payment through a voucher to purchase qualified services. The state department is authorized to seek any federal waivers or waiver amendments that may be necessary to implement this part 11. The state department shall design and implement the consumer-directed care service model with input from consumers of home- and community-based services or their authorized representatives. An eligible person shall not be required to disenroll from the person's waiver program in order to receive qualified services through the consumer-directed care service model.

(2) In order to qualify and to remain eligible for the consumer-directed care service model authorized by this section, a person shall:

(a) Be eligible for home- and community-based services under parts 3 to 12 of this article or any other home- and community-based service waiver for which the state department has federal waiver authority;

(b) Be willing to participate;

(c) Obtain a statement from his or her primary care physician or advanced practice nurse indicating that the person has sound judgment and the ability to direct his or her care or has an authorized representative;

(d) Demonstrate the ability to handle the financial aspects of self-directed care or has an authorized representative who is able to handle the financial aspects of the eligible person's care; and

(e) Meet any other qualifications established by the state board by rule.

(3) The voucher issued to the eligible person under this part 11 shall be based on the eligible person's historical utilization of home- and community-based services under parts 3 to 12 of this article, the single entry point agency's care plan, or any approved resource allocation process as determined by the state department and the department of human services for the eligible person.

(4) While an eligible person is participating in the consumer-directed care service model established in this part 11, that person shall be ineligible to receive a home care allowance as provided in section 26-2-122.3 (1) (b), C.R.S.

(5) The state department shall develop the accountability requirements necessary to safeguard the use of public dollars, to promote effective and efficient delivery of services, and to monitor the safety and welfare of eligible persons under this part 11.

(6) The state board shall adopt rules as necessary for the implementation and administration of the consumer-directed care service model authorized by this part 11. Such rules shall include a provision allowing an eligible person to designate a family member or authorized representative to be responsible for managing the financial matters associated with the consumer-directed care or to direct the eligible person's care. The designee shall not receive reimbursement for managing the financial matters associated with the eligible person's care or for directing the eligible person's care.

(7) Sections 12-38-103 (8), 12-38-103 (11), 12-38-123 (1) (a), 12-38.1-102 (5), and 12-38.1-117 (1) (b), C.R.S., shall not apply to a person who is directly employed by an individual participating in the consumer-directed care service model pursuant to this section and who is acting within the scope and course of such employment. However, such person may not represent himself or herself to the public as a licensed nurse, a certified nurse aide, a licensed practical or professional nurse, a registered nurse, or a registered professional nurse. This exclusion shall not apply to any person who has had his or her license as a nurse or certification as a nurse aide suspended or revoked or his or her application for such license or certification denied.

(8) Section 25.5-6-310 does not apply to a family member of an eligible person who provides consumer-directed care services to the eligible person pursuant to this part 11.

(9) A person who has been designated as an authorized representative under this part 11 shall submit an affidavit, which shall become part of the eligible person's file, stating that:

- (a) He or she is at least eighteen years of age;
- (b) He or she has known the eligible person for at least two years;
- (c) He or she has not been convicted of any crime involving exploitation, abuse, or assault on another person; and
- (d) He or she does not have a mental, emotional, or physical condition that could result in harm to the eligible person.

25.5-6-1103. Reporting. (1) The state department shall provide a report to the joint budget committee of the general assembly and the health and human services committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, by October 1, 2006, that includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- (a) The number of elderly persons participating in the consumer-directed care program;
- (b) The cost-effectiveness of the consumer-directed care program;
- (c) Feedback from consumers and the state department concerning the progress and success of the consumer-directed care program; and
- (d) Any changes to the health status or health outcomes of the program participants.

PART 12

IN-HOME SUPPORT SERVICES

25.5-6-1201. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds that there may be a more effective way to deliver home- and community-based services to the elderly, blind, and disabled and to disabled children that allows for more self direction in their care and a cost savings to the state. The general assembly also finds that every person that is currently receiving home- and community-based services does not need the same level of supervision and care from a licensed health care professional in order to meet his or her care needs and remain living in the community. The general assembly, therefore, declares that it is beneficial to the elderly, blind, and disabled clients of home- and community-based services and to clients of the disabled children care program for the state department to develop a service that would allow these people to receive in-home support.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-1401 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-1202. Definitions. As used in this part 12, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Attendant" means a person who is directly employed by an in-home support service agency to provide or a family member providing in-home support services to eligible persons.

(2) "Authorized representative" means an individual designated by the eligible person receiving services, or by the parent or guardian of the eligible person receiving services, if appropriate, who has the judgment and ability to assist the eligible person receiving services in acquiring and utilizing services under this part 12. The extent of the authorized representative's involvement shall be determined upon designation. The authorized representative shall not be the eligible person's service provider.

(3) "Eligible person" means any person who:

(a) Is eligible for home- and community-based services under part 3 of this article or is eligible for the disabled children care program under section 25.5-6-901;

(b) Is willing to participate;

(c) Obtains a statement from his or her primary care physician indicating that the person has sound judgment and the ability to direct his or her care, the eligible child's parent or guardian has sound judgment and the ability to direct the eligible child's care, or the person has an authorized representative; and

(d) Meets any other qualifications established by the state board by rule.

(4) "Health maintenance activities" means health-related tasks as defined in rule by the state board and include, but are not limited to, catheter irrigation, administration of medication, enemas, and suppositories, and wound care.

(5) "In-home support service agency" means an agency that is certified by the state department and provides independent living core services as defined in section 26-8.1-102 (3), C.R.S., and in-home support services.

(6) "In-home support services" means services that are provided by an attendant and include health maintenance activities, support for activities of daily living or instrumental activities of daily living, personal care services as defined in section 25.5-6-303 (18), and homemaker services as defined in section 25.5-6-303 (11).

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-4-1402 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-6-1203. In-home support services - eligibility - licensure exclusion - in-home support service agency responsibilities. (1) The state department shall offer in-home support services as an option for eligible persons who receive home- and community-based services. In-home support services shall be provided to eligible persons. The state department shall seek any federal authorization that may be necessary to implement this part 12. The state department shall design and implement in-home support services with input from consumers of home- and community-based services and independent living centers and home- and community-based service providers.

(2) An eligible person receiving in-home support services or the eligible person's authorized representative or parent or guardian shall be allowed to choose the eligible person's in-home support service agency or the eligible person's attendant.

(3) Sections 12-38-103 (8), 12-38-103 (11), 12-38-123 (1) (a), 12-38.1-102 (5), and 12-38.1-117 (1) (b), C.R.S., shall not apply to a person who is directly employed by an in-home support service agency to provide in-home support services and who is acting within the scope and course of such employment or is a family member providing in-home support services pursuant to this part 12. However, such person may not represent himself or herself to the public as a licensed nurse, a certified nurse aide, a licensed practical or professional nurse, a registered nurse, or a registered professional nurse. This exclusion shall not apply to any person who has had his or her license as a nurse or certification as a nurse aide suspended or revoked or his or her application for such license or certification denied.

(4) (a) In-home support service agencies providing in-home support services shall provide twenty-four-hour back-up services to their clients. In-home support service agencies shall either contract with or have on staff a state licensed health care professional, as defined by the state board by rule, acting within the scope of the person's profession. The state board shall promulgate rules setting forth the training requirements for attendants providing in-home support services and the oversight and monitoring responsibilities of the state licensed health care professional that is either contracting with or is on staff with the in-home support service agency.

(b) The state board shall promulgate rules that establish how an in-home support service agency can discontinue a client under this part 12. The rules shall establish that a client can only be involuntarily discontinued when equivalent care in the community has been secured or that a client can be discontinued after exhibiting documented prohibited behavior involving attendants, including abuse of attendants, and that dispute resolution has failed. The determination of whether an in-home support service agency has made adequate attempts at resolution shall be made by the state department.

(5) The single entry point agencies established in section 25.5-6-106 shall be responsible for determining a person's eligibility for in-home support services; except that for eligible disabled children the state department shall designate the entity that will determine the child's eligibility. The state board shall promulgate rules specifying the single entry point agencies' responsibilities under this part 12. At a minimum, these rules shall require that case managers discuss the option and potential benefits of in-home support services with all eligible long-term care clients.

(6) Section 25.5-6-310 does not apply to any parent who provides in-home support services to an eligible disabled child pursuant to this part 12.

(7) In administering the provision of in-home support services pursuant to this part 12, the state department shall:

(a) Implement a system for the routine and accurate monitoring of the number of persons receiving in-home support services; and

(b) Provide comprehensive, periodic training for all single entry point agencies in the state, which training shall include, at a minimum:

- (I) The current eligibility requirements for the receipt of in-home support services; and
- (II) The location of, and contact information for, the in-home support service agencies providing in-home support services in the state.

PART 13COMPLEMENTARY AND ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES FOR A PERSON WITH A SPINAL CORD INJURY

25.5-6-1301. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) A person with a spinal cord injury could benefit from complementary and alternative therapies such as chiropractic care, massage therapy, or acupuncture; and

(b) Complementary and alternative therapies could improve the quality of life and help reduce the need for continuous or more expensive procedures, medications, and hospitalizations for a person with a spinal cord injury and could allow a person with a spinal cord injury to be employed.

Source: L. 2009: Entire part added, (HB 09-1047), ch. 395, p. 2128 § 1, effective August 5.

25.5-6-1302. Definitions. As used in this part 13, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Complementary or alternative therapy" means a form of diverse health care therapy not provided for under this article or article 4 or 5 of this title prior to August 5, 2009, but authorized by the rules of the state board adopted pursuant to section 25.5-6-1303 (4). The therapy shall be limited to chiropractic care, massage therapy, and acupuncture performed by licensed or certified providers.

(2) "Eligible person with a disability" means a person with a disability who meets the eligibility criteria specified in section 25.5-6-1303 (2) (b).

(3) "Pilot program" means the pilot program authorized pursuant to section 25.5-6-1303 to allow an eligible person with a disability to receive complementary and alternative therapies.

Source: L. 2009: Entire part added, (HB 09-1047), ch. 395, p. 2128, § 1, effective August 5.

25.5-6-1303. Pilot program - complementary or alternative therapies - rules.

(1) The general assembly authorizes the state department to implement a pilot program that would allow an eligible person with a disability to receive complementary or alternative therapies to the extent authorized by federal waiver. The pilot program shall begin no later than January 1, 2012. The state department shall design and implement the pilot program with input from an advisory committee that shall include, but need not be limited to, persons with spinal cord injuries who are receiving complementary or alternative therapies. The state department is authorized to seek any federal waivers that may be necessary to implement this part 13.

(2) (a) The purpose of the pilot program shall be to expand the choice of therapies available to eligible persons with disabilities, to study the success of complementary and alternative therapies, and to produce an overall cost savings for the state compared to the estimated expenditures that would have otherwise been spent for the same persons with spinal cord injuries absent the pilot program.

(b) In order to qualify and to remain eligible for the pilot program authorized by this section, a person shall:

(I) Be diagnosed with a spinal cord injury;

- (II) Be willing to participate in the pilot program;
 - (III) Demonstrate a current need, as further defined in rule by the state board, for complementary or alternative therapies; and
 - (IV) Be eligible for medicaid, including but not limited to persons whose gross income does not exceed three hundred percent of the current federal supplemental security income benefit level and who are eligible for a home- and community-based program authorized pursuant to this title or the consumer-directed attendant support pilot program authorized pursuant to part 10 of article 6 of this title.
- (3) The state department shall develop the accountability requirements for the pilot program necessary to safeguard the use of public moneys and to promote effective and efficient service delivery.
- (4) The state board shall adopt rules as necessary for the implementation and administration of the pilot program.
- (5) The state department shall cause to be conducted an independent evaluation of the pilot program to be completed by the end of the third year of the pilot program. The state department shall provide a report of the evaluation to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, by August 1, 2015. The report on the evaluation shall include the following:
- (a) The number of eligible persons with disabilities participating in the pilot program;
 - (b) The cost-effectiveness of the pilot program;
 - (c) Feedback from consumers and the state department concerning the progress and success of the pilot program;
 - (d) Any changes to the health status or health outcomes of the persons participating in the pilot program;
 - (e) Other information relevant to the success and problems of the pilot program; and
 - (f) Recommendations concerning the feasibility of continuing the pilot program beyond the pilot stage and changes, if any, that are needed.
- (6) The state department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, or donations from private or public sources for the purposes of this part 13; except that the state department shall not accept a gift, grant, or donation if it is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with this part 13 or any other law of the state. The state department shall transmit all private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the department of health care policy and financing cash fund created pursuant to section 25.5-1-109.
- (7) Unless the state department receives sufficient moneys from either the general fund or from gifts, grants, and donations made pursuant to subsection (6) of this section, the state department shall not be required to seek federal approval or implement the pilot program.

MEDICAID BUY-IN

Cross references: For the “Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act of 1999”, see Pub.L. 106-170, codified at 42 U.S.C. sec. 1320b-19.

25.5-6-1401. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby declares its support for the full employment of people with disabilities. It is the general assembly’s intent to enact this part 14 for the purpose of allowing an individual with disabilities to purchase medicaid coverage that will enable the individual to maintain employment without losing his or her medicaid benefits.

25.5-6-1402. Definitions. As used in this part 14, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Basic coverage group” means the category of eligibility under the federal “Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act of 1999”, Pub.L. 106-170, that provides an opportunity to buy into medicaid consistent with the federal “Social Security Act”, 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a) (10) (A) (ii) (XV), as amended, for each worker with disabilities who is at least sixteen years of age but less than sixty-five years of age and who, except for earnings, would be eligible for the supplemental security income program. A person who is eligible under the basic coverage group may also be a home- and community-based services waiver recipient.

(2) “Family” means an individual, the individual’s spouse, and any dependent child of the individual.

(3) “Health insurance” means surgical, medical, hospital, major medical, or other health service coverage, including a self-insured health plan, but does not include hospital indemnity policies or ancillary coverages such as income continuation, loss of time, or accident benefits.

(4) “Medicaid buy-in program” means a program that gives each person with disabilities the opportunity to buy into medicaid if the person meets the eligibility criteria specified in section 25.5-6-1404.

(5) “Medical improvement group” means the category of eligibility under the federal “Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act of 1999”, Pub.L. 106-170, that provides an opportunity to buy into medicaid consistent with the federal “Social Security Act”, 42 U.S.C. 1496a (a) (10) (A) (ii) (XV), as amended, for each worker with a medically improved disability who is at least sixteen years of age but less than sixty-five years of age and who was previously in the basic coverage group and is no longer eligible for the basic coverage group due to medical improvement. A person who is eligible under the medical improvement group may also be a home- and community-based services waiver recipient.

25.5-6-1403. Waivers and amendments. (1) On or before January 1, 2010, the state department shall submit to the joint budget committee of the general assembly a report on the actuarial study and the fiscal analysis of the premiums based on the study and the rules adopted pursuant to this section.

(2) If approved by the joint budget committee following its review of the report and subject to available appropriations, the state department shall submit to the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services an amendment to the state medical assistance plan, and shall request any necessary waivers from the secretary of the federal department of health and human services, to permit the state department to expand medical assistance eligibility as provided in this part 14 for the purpose of implementing a medicaid buy-in program for people with disabilities who are in the basic coverage group or the medical improvement group. In addition, the state department shall apply to the secretary of the federal department of health and human services for a medicaid infrastructure grant, if available, to develop and implement the federal “Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act of 1999”, Pub.L. 106-170.

(3) If the state medical assistance plan amendment and all necessary waivers are approved, the state department shall implement the medicaid buy-in program provided in this part 14 not later than three months after receiving full federal approval, whichever is later.

Source: L. 2008: Entire part added, p. 2198, § 1, effective July 1. L. 2009: (2) amended, (HB 09-1293), ch. 152, p. 649, § 7, effective July 1.

25.5-6-1404. Medicaid buy-in program - eligibility - premiums - medicaid buy-in cash fund - report. (1) Eligibility. An individual is eligible for and shall receive medicaid provided in this part 14 through a medicaid buy-in program without losing eligibility for medicaid if all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The individual meets the requirements for the basic coverage group or the individual was previously in the basic coverage group and now meets the requirements for the medical improvement group;

(b) The individual maintains premium payments calculated by the state department in accordance with subsection (3) of this section, unless the individual is exempted from premium payments under rules promulgated by the state board; and

(c) The individual meets all other requirements established by rule of the state board.

(2) There is no income or asset limitation for a participant in the medicaid buy-in program. In addition, there is no income or asset limitation for an individual who participates in the medicaid buy-in program and also receives home- and community-based services.

(3) Premiums. (a) An individual who is eligible for and receives medicaid under subsection (1) of this section shall pay a premium pursuant to a payment schedule established by the state department. The amount of the premium shall be determined from a sliding-fee scale adopted by rule of the state board that is based on a percentage of the individual's income adjusted for family size and on any impairment-related work expenses; except that, consistent with federal law, if the amount of the individual's adjusted gross income exceeds seventy-five thousand dollars, the individual shall be responsible for paying one hundred percent of the premium. The actuarial study shall also consider contributions from employers pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of this section. The rules shall specify the amount of unearned income the state department shall disregard in calculating the individual's income.

(b) The rules setting the premiums and the sliding-fee scale shall be based on an actuarial study of the disabled population in this state. The state department may solicit and accept federal grants to cover the costs of the actuarial study. Moneys received through any grants and any premiums shall be credited to the medicaid buy-in cash fund, which fund is hereby created in the state treasury. Moneys in the fund shall be appropriated by the general assembly and expended by the state department for the purpose of conducting implementation activities as determined by the state department, including conducting the actuarial study. Premiums shall be credited to the fund for the purpose of offsetting program costs.

(c) Within three years after implementation of the medicaid buy-in program pursuant to this part 14, the state department shall submit a report on the effectiveness of the program to the health and human services committees of the general assembly, or any successor committees, and the joint budget committee of the general assembly.

(4) Private health insurance. (a) The state department shall, on behalf of an individual who is eligible for medicaid under subsection (1) of this section, pay premiums for or purchase individual coverage offered by the individual's employer if the state department determines that paying the premiums or purchasing the coverage will be less than providing medicaid coverage. Any employer-sponsored health insurance plan shall be the primary payer, and any payments made under medicaid shall be secondary. In the event that the employer-sponsored health insurance plan provides benefits that are not equivalent to the benefits provided under medicaid, medicaid shall provide all additional benefits that are not provided by the employer-sponsored health insurance plan.

(b) If an individual is eligible for medicaid under subsection (1) of this section and the individual's employer would pay for all or a portion of the individual's private insurance, the state department may accept contributions from the individual's employer to offset part of the cost of providing services pursuant to this section.

(5) Medicare. If federal financial participation is available, subject to available appropriations, the state department may pay medicare part A and part B premiums for individuals who are eligible for medicare and for medicaid under subsection (1) of this section.

25.5-6-1405. Rule-making authority. (1) The state board shall promulgate rules necessary to implement and administer the medicaid buy-in program created in this part 14, including the establishment of appropriate premium and cost-sharing charges on a sliding-fee scale based on income. The premiums and cost-sharing charges shall be based upon an actuarial study of the disabled population in this state.

(2) Any rules adopted by the state board shall be consistent with the federal “Ticket to Work and Work Incentives Improvement Act of 1999”, Pub.L. 106-170.

25.5-6-1406. Availability of federal financial assistance under medical assistance. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, this part 14 shall be implemented only if, and to the extent that, the state department determines that federal financial participation is available under the medicaid program.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 26-19-101 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-8-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that a significant percentage of children are uninsured. This lack of health insurance coverage decreases children’s access to preventive health care services, compromises the productivity of the state’s future workforce, and results in avoidable expenditures for emergency and remedial health care. Health care providers, health care facilities, and all purchasers of health care, including the state, bear the costs of this uncompensated care.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that the coordination and consolidation of funding sources currently available to provide services to uninsured children such as the Colorado indigent care program pursuant to part 1 of article 3 of this title, the children’s basic health plan, and other children’s health programs would efficiently and effectively meet the health care needs of uninsured children and would help to reduce the volume of uncompensated care in the state.

(3) (a) It is the intent of the general assembly to make health insurance coverage available and affordable and to support employers in their efforts to provide their employees and their dependents with health insurance coverage and to support increased availability of affordable health insurance in the individual market.

(b) It is the intent of the general assembly that the savings and efficiencies realized through actual reductions in administrative and programmatic costs associated with the implementation of this article and achieved in consolidating other health care programs should be identified.

(4) It is not the intent of the general assembly to create an entitlement for health insurance coverage.

(5) The general assembly hereby declares that the following principles shall be used in implementing the children's basic health plan set forth in this article:

(a) The department shall establish and maintain a goal of inter-program communication in order to maximize existing state appropriations for the population served in the program;

(b) There shall be efficient program utilization through inter-program coordination and program consolidation and, where appropriate, through contracting with the private sector and with essential community providers;

(c) The policies enacted in House Bill 97-1304 regarding a strong managed care direction shall be emphasized;

(d) The private sector shall be involved to the greatest possible degree with respect to contracting for managed care;

(e) There shall be maximum emphasis on coordination with local and state public health programs and initiatives for children.

(6) The general assembly hereby finds and declares:

(a) That the goal of the "Children's Basic Health Plan Act" is to support low-income, working parents and families in overcoming barriers in obtaining good quality, affordable health care services for their children;

(b) That the health services that low-income children receive through the children's basic health plan should be cost-effective, of high quality, and promote positive health outcomes for enrolled children;

(c) That the children's basic health plan was designed as, and should continue to be, a private-public partnership that encourages enrollment and seeks every opportunity to operate with the efficiency and creativity that is found in utilizing private sector systems and business practices while maintaining the highest level of accountability to the general assembly, the executive branch, and the public through administration of the plan by the department;

(d) That the children's basic health plan was designed as, and should continue to be, a community-based program that encourages local participation in enrolling children in and supporting its goals.

25.5-8-103. Definitions - repeal. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Child" means a person who is less than nineteen years of age.

(2) "Children's basic health plan" or "plan" means the subsidized health insurance product designed by the department of health care policy and financing and provided to enrollees, as defined in this section.

(3) "Department" means the department of health care policy and financing created in section 25.5-1-104.

(4) "Eligible person" means:

(a) (I) A person who is less than nineteen years of age, whose family income does not exceed two hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty line, adjusted for family size.

(II) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), if the moneys in the hospital provider fee cash fund established pursuant to section 25.5-4-402.3 (4), together with the corresponding federal matching funds, are insufficient to fully fund all of the purposes described in section 25.5-4-402.3 (4) (b), after receiving recommendations from the hospital provider fee oversight and advisory board established pursuant to section 25.5-4-402.3 (6), for persons less than nineteen years of age, the state board may by rule adopted pursuant to the provisions of section 25.5-4-402.3 (5) (b) (III) reduce the percentage of the federal poverty line to below two hundred fifty percent, but the percentage shall not be reduced to below two hundred five percent.

(III) (A) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), until the state department receives federal authorization to increase the percentage of the federal poverty line for a person who is less than nineteen years of age, the percentage of the federal poverty line shall not exceed two hundred five percent.

(B) Within sixty days after the state department receives authorization to increase the percentage of the federal poverty line, the executive director shall send written notice to the revisor of statutes informing him or her of the authorization.

(C) This subparagraph (III) is repealed, effective the July 1 following the receipt of the notice to the revisor of statutes.

(b) (I) A pregnant woman whose family income does not exceed two hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty line, adjusted for family size, and who is not eligible for Medicaid.

(II) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), if the moneys in the hospital provider fee cash fund established pursuant to section 25.5-4-402.3 (4), together with the corresponding federal matching funds, are insufficient to fully fund all of the purposes described in section 25.5-4-402.3 (4) (b), after receiving recommendations from the hospital provider fee oversight and advisory board established pursuant to section 25.5-4-402.3 (6), for pregnant women, the state board by rule adopted pursuant to the provisions of section 25.5-4-402.3 (5) (b) (III) may reduce the percentage of the federal poverty line to below two hundred fifty percent, but the percentage shall not be reduced to below two hundred five percent.

(III) (A) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), until the state department receives authorization to increase the percentage of the federal poverty line for a person who is less than nineteen years of age, the percentage of the federal poverty line shall not exceed two hundred five percent.

(B) Within sixty days after the state department receives authorization to increase the percentage of the federal poverty line, the executive director shall send written notice to the revisor of statutes informing him or her of the authorization.

(C) This subparagraph (III) is repealed, effective the July 1 following the receipt of the notice to the revisor of statutes.

(5) "Enrollee" means any eligible person that has enrolled in the plan.

(6) "Essential community provider" means a health care provider that:

(a) Has historically served medically needy or medically indigent patients and demonstrates a commitment to serve low-income and medically indigent populations who make up a significant portion of its patient population, or in the case of a sole community provider, serves the medically indigent patients within its medical capability; and

(b) Waives charges or charges for services on a sliding scale based on income and does not restrict access or services because of a client's financial limitations.

(7) "Health care program" means any health care program in the state that is supported with state general fund or federal dollars.

(8) "Master settlement agreement" means the master settlement agreement, the smokeless tobacco master settlement agreement, and the consent decree approved and entered by the court in the case denominated State of Colorado, ex rel. Gale A. Norton, Attorney General v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.; American Tobacco Co., Inc.; Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.; Liggett & Myers, Inc.; Lorillard Tobacco Co., Inc.; Philip Morris, Inc.; United States Tobacco Co.; B.A.T. Industries, P.L.C.; The Council For Tobacco Research—U.S.A., Inc.; and Tobacco Institute, Inc., Case No. 97 CV 3432, in the district court for the city and county of Denver.

(9) "Medical services board" means the medical services board created in section 25.5-1-301.

(10) "Subsidized enrollee" means an eligible person who receives a subsidy from the department to purchase coverage under the plan or a comparable health insurance.

(11) "Subsidy" means the amount paid by the department to assist an eligible person in purchasing coverage under the plan or a comparable health insurance product available to the eligible person through another coverage entity.

(12) "Trust" means the children's basic health plan trust created in section 25.5-8-105.

25.5-8-104. Children's basic health plan - rules. The medical services board is authorized to adopt rules to implement the children's basic health plan to provide health insurance coverage to eligible persons on a statewide basis pursuant to the provisions of this article. Any rules adopted by the children's basic health plan policy board in accordance with the requirements of the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., shall be enforceable and shall be valid until amended or repealed by the medical services board.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-19-104 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-8-105. Trust - created. (1) A fund to be known as the children's basic health plan trust is hereby created and established in the state treasury. Except as provided for in subsections (4) and (8) of this section, all moneys deposited in the trust and all interest earned on moneys in the trust shall remain in the trust for the purposes set forth in this article, and no part thereof shall be expended or appropriated for any other purpose. The principal of the trust shall be expended, subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly, solely for the purposes set forth in this article.

(2) (a) Except as provided for in subsections (4) and (8) of this section, all or a portion of the moneys in the trust shall be annually appropriated by the general assembly for the purposes of this article and shall not be transferred to or revert to the general fund of the state at the end of any fiscal year.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), moneys in the trust may be used to pay the state's portion of any computer system changes necessary to expand eligibility in the plan.

(3) (a) Pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1) (c), C.R.S., and except as otherwise provided in section 24-75-1104.5 (5), C.R.S., beginning in the 2006-07 fiscal year and in each fiscal year thereafter so long as the state receives moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement, the state treasurer shall transfer to the trust twenty-four percent of the total amount of the moneys annually received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement, not including attorney fees and costs, during the preceding fiscal year; except that the amount so transferred to the trust shall not exceed thirty million dollars in any fiscal year. Except as otherwise provided in sections 24-22-115.5 (2) (a.7) and 24-75-1104.5 (1) (c), C.R.S., the state treasurer shall transfer the amount specified in this subsection (3) from moneys credited to the tobacco litigation settlement cash fund created in section 24-22-115, C.R.S. The amount transferred pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be in addition to and not in replacement of any general fund moneys appropriated to the trust.

(b) Pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1.5) (a) (V), C.R.S., and except as otherwise provided in section 24-75-1104.5 (5), C.R.S., beginning in the 2007-08 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter so long as the state receives moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement, the state treasurer shall transfer to the trust five percent of the portion of the moneys annually received by the state pursuant to the master settlement agreement, not including attorney fees and costs, during the preceding fiscal year that remains after the programs, services, and funds that receive such moneys pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1), C.R.S., have been fully funded.

(4) On June 30, 2006, the state treasurer and the controller shall transfer eight million one hundred thousand dollars from the trust to the state general fund.

(5) (a) Beginning in fiscal year 1998, appropriations to the trust may be made by the general assembly based on the savings achieved through reforms, consolidations, and streamlining of health care programs realized through actual reductions in administrative and programmatic costs associated with the implementation of this article and not decreases in the number of caseloads of such programs. Beginning with and subsequent to fiscal year 2000-01, the general assembly may make annual appropriations to the trust.

(b) (I) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) to the contrary, on March 27, 2002, the state treasurer shall deduct nine hundred thousand dollars from the trust and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(II) In order to restore the amount transferred from the trust pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), moneys from the general fund shall be transferred to the trust in accordance with section 24-75-217, C.R.S.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, on March 5, 2003, the state treasurer shall deduct from the trust, out of moneys appropriated pursuant to section 24-75-1104 (1) (b) (II), C.R.S., two million one thousand one hundred twenty-five dollars, and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(6) As part of its annual savings report to the general assembly on November 1 of each year, the department may identify efficiencies and consolidations that produce savings in the department's annual budget request that result in actual reductions in administrative and programmatic costs associated with the implementation of this article and not decreases in the number of caseloads of such programs. These identified savings shall not duplicate the savings reported in the annual savings report described in section 25.5-8-106.

(7) The department may receive payment for coverage offered and may receive or contract for donations, gifts, and grants from any source. Such funds shall be transmitted to the state treasurer who shall credit the same to the trust. The department may expend such funds from the trust for the purposes of this article.

(8) Beginning in the 2011-2012 fiscal year and for each fiscal year thereafter, moneys in the trust may be used for costs associated with children enrolled in the medical assistance program, articles 4, 5, and 6 of this title, whose family income is more than one hundred percent but does not exceed one hundred thirty-three percent of the federal poverty line and who would have been eligible for enrollment in the children's basic health plan prior to September 1, 2011.

25.5-8-106. Annual savings report. (1) By October 1 of each year, the department shall submit to the joint budget committee of the general assembly, to the health and human services committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, and to the office of state planning and budgeting an annual savings report stating the cost-savings anticipated in the previous, current, and subsequent fiscal years from health care program reforms, consolidations, and streamlining.

(2) The annual savings report shall include a description of net savings factoring in increased administrative expenses from the following:

(a) Enrollment of medicaid clients in medicaid managed care programs. In calculating savings from enrollment of medicaid clients into medicaid managed care programs, the department shall calculate the total annual savings from growth in managed care enrollment subsequent to June 30, 1997.

(b) Consolidation of the children's portions of the Colorado indigent care program into the plan. In calculating the savings accrued and anticipated from consolidation of the children's portions of the Colorado indigent care program, created in part 1 of article 3 of this title, into the plan, the department shall use the following methodology: Estimate the reduction in expenditures due to the reduction in the number of children under age nineteen served by the Colorado indigent care program for each fiscal year in which children have been enrolled in the children's basic health plan.

(3) As reported in the annual savings report, the total savings from consolidation of the children's portions of the Colorado indigent care program, created in part 1 of article 3 of this title, into the plan shall not reduce the reimbursement rate of expenditures made on behalf of children to the Colorado indigent care program enrolled providers below the reimbursement rates used in the fiscal year prior to the first child enrolling in the plan.

(4) The department shall modify total savings calculated in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section according to the geographic residence of subsidized enrollees and to the probable location of their health care providers under the Colorado indigent care program, created in part 1 of article 3 of this title.

25.5-8-107. Duties of the department - schedule of services - premiums - copayments - subsidies. (1) In addition to any other duties pursuant to this article, the department shall have the following duties:

(a) (I) To design, and from time to time revise, a schedule of health care services included in the plan and to propose said schedule to the medical services board for approval or modification. The schedule of health care services as proposed by the department and approved by the medical services board shall include, but shall not be limited to, preventive care, physician services, prenatal care and postpartum care, inpatient and outpatient hospital services, prescription drugs and medications, and other services that may be medically necessary for the health of enrollees. The department shall design and revise this schedule of health care services included in the plan to be based upon the basic and standard health benefit plans defined in section 10-16-102 (4) and (43), C.R.S.; except that the department may modify the basic and the standard health benefit plans to meet specific federal requirements or to accommodate those changes necessary for a program designed specifically for children.

(II) In addition to the items specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) and any additional items approved by the medical services board, on and after January 1, 2001, the medical services board shall include dental services in the schedule of health care services upon a finding by the board that:

(A) An adequate number of dentists are willing to provide services to eligible children; and

(B) The financial resources available to the program are sufficient to fund such services.

(III) In addition to the items specified in subparagraphs (I) and (II) of this paragraph (a) and any additional items approved by the medical services board, the medical services board shall include mental health services that are at least as comprehensive as the mental health services provided to medicaid recipients in the schedule of health care services.

(IV) The schedule of health care services included in the plan shall not include coverage pursuant to the mandatory coverage provisions of section 10-16-104 (1.4), C.R.S.

(b) To design and implement a system of cost-sharing with enrollees using an annual enrollment fee that is based on a sliding fee scale. The sliding fee scale shall be developed based on the enrollee's family income; except that no enrollment fee shall be assessed against an enrollee whose family income is at or below one hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty line and no enrollment fee shall be assessed against an enrollee who is a pregnant woman. As permitted by federal and state law, enrollees in the plan may use funds from a medical savings account to pay the annual enrollment fee. On or before November 1 of each year, the department shall submit for approval to the joint budget committee its annual proposal for cost sharing for the plan based upon a family's income.

(c) To design and implement a structure of copayments due to providers of managed health care plans from enrollees. Enrollees in the plan may use funds from a medical savings account to pay copayments.

(d) To design and propose to the medical services board for adoption detailed rules of eligibility and enrollment processes for the plan;

(e) To design a procedure whereby a financial sponsor may pay the annual enrollment fee or some portion thereof on behalf of a subsidized or nonsubsidized enrollee; except that the payment made on behalf of said enrollee shall not exceed the total enrollment fee due from the enrollee;

(f) To design a procedure whereby the plan may pay subsidies for eligible persons to purchase coverage under the plan or a comparable health insurance product;

(g) To establish criteria to allow a managed care plan, the department, or some other entity to verify eligibility pursuant to section 25.5-8-109;

(h) To conduct pilot projects including, but not limited to, testing models of marketing, enrollment, eligibility determination, and premium structures, to be implemented where appropriate and as approved by the joint budget committee.

(2) The department is authorized to institute a program for competitive bidding pursuant to section 24-103-202 or 24-103-203, C.R.S., for providing medical services on a managed care basis for children under this article. The department shall select more than one managed care contractor to serve counties in which there are providers contracting with more than one managed care plan. In counties where there is only one operational managed care plan, the department may contract with that managed care plan to serve children enrolled in the plan. The department shall assure the utilization of essential community providers for the provision of services including eligibility determination, enrollment, and outreach when reasonable. The department shall contract with managed care organizations for the delivery of health services pursuant to this article. The department may contract with essential community providers for health care services in areas of the state that are not adequately served by managed care organizations.

(3) The department may contract for billing and premium collection functions for the children's basic health plan with vendors who provide billing and premium collection functions for other state insurance programs in order to consolidate billing and premium collection functions among multiple state programs. Such contracts may be entered into if the department determines that the scope of work provided by the vendor is similar to the work requirements for the children's basic health plan and that it would be more efficient and cost-effective to contract with the same vendor on multiple programs.

(4) Commencing with fiscal year 2001-02, the annual administrative costs for the children's basic health plan shall not exceed ten percent of the total annual program costs.

25.5-8-108. Financial management - cash system of accounting. (1) The department shall propose rules for approval by the medical services board to implement financial management of the plan. Pursuant to such rules, the department shall adjust benefit levels, eligibility guidelines, and any other measure to ensure that sufficient funds are present to implement the provisions of this article. The department shall develop and use quality assurance measures, such as the health employer data information set (HEDIS) reports regarding provider compensation, adapted to children's needs, to ensure that appropriate health care outcomes are met and to justify the continued use of taxpayer dollars for the plan. The department shall implement performance-based contracting based on such quality assurance measures.

(2) The department shall make a quarterly assessment of the expected expenditures for the plan for the remainder of the current biennium and for the following biennium. The estimated expenditures, including minimum reserve requirements shall be compared to an estimate of the revenues that will be deposited in the trust fund. Based on this comparison, the department shall make adjustments as necessary to ensure that expenditures remain within the limits of available revenues for the remainder of the current biennium and the following biennium.

(3) The department may, in addition to any other measure it determines to be necessary, decrease subsidies for annual enrollment fees or limit enrollment in the plan to ensure that the trust retains sufficient funds pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(4) (a) Nothing in this article or any rules promulgated pursuant to the plan shall be interpreted to create a legal entitlement in any person to coverage under the plan. If enrollment in the plan is limited, the department shall give priority to children with family incomes under one hundred thirty-three percent of the federal poverty line.

(b) The department shall report quarterly to the joint budget committee on any enrollment caps that have been instituted for the plan and the number of children who are on waiting lists.

(5) The department shall utilize the cash system of accounting, as enunciated by the governmental accounting standards board, regardless of the source of revenues involved, for all activities of the department relating to the financial administration of any nonadministrative expenditure for the plan.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-19-108 as it existed prior to 2006.

25.5-8-109. Eligibility - children - pregnant women. (1) To be eligible for a subsidy, a child must not have currently nor in the three months prior to application for the plan have been insured by a comparable health plan through an employer, with the employer contributing at least fifty percent of the premium cost. Children who have lost insurance coverage due to a change in or loss of employment shall not be subject to the waiting period.

(2) If one child from a family is enrolled in the plan, all children must be enrolled, unless the other children have alternative health insurance coverage.

(3) The department may establish procedures such that children with family incomes that exceed the percent of the federal poverty guidelines specified in section 25.5-8-103 (4) (a) may enroll in the plan, but are not eligible for subsidies from the department.

(4) A child whose family income does not exceed the applicable level specified in section 25.5-8-103 (4) (a) shall be presumptively eligible for the plan. Children who are determined to be eligible for the plan shall remain eligible for twelve months subsequent to the last day of the month in which they were enrolled; except that a child shall no longer be eligible for the plan and shall be disenrolled from the plan if the department becomes aware of or is notified that any of the following has occurred:

(a) The child has moved out of the state;

(b) The child has been enrolled in the medicaid program; except that, in disenrolling a child pursuant to this paragraph (b), the department shall ensure that the child is continuously covered under this section until the coverage is attained under the medicaid program and that there is no gap in coverage; or

(c) The child has been enrolled in a commercial health insurance plan during the twelve-month period following enrollment in the plan under this article.

(4.5) (a) (I) To the extent authorized by federal law, the department shall require an applicant to state only the applicant's family income and shall notify the applicant that the applicant's family income will be verified by the department through the most recently available records of the division of unemployment insurance in the department of labor and employment or through the income, eligibility, and verification system. The department shall allow an applicant to provide income information more recent than the records of the division of unemployment insurance or the income, eligibility, and verification system.

(II) The department shall annually verify the recipient's income eligibility at reenrollment through the records of the division of unemployment insurance in the department of labor and employment or through the income, eligibility, and verification system. If a recipient meets all eligibility requirements, a recipient remains enrolled in the plan. The department shall also allow a recipient to provide income information more recent than the records of the division of unemployment insurance or the income, eligibility, and verification system.

(III) If the state department determines that a recipient was not eligible for medical benefits solely based upon the recipient's income after the recipient had been determined to be eligible based upon the records of the division of unemployment insurance or the income, eligibility, and verification system, the state department shall not pursue recovery from a county department for the cost of medical services provided to the recipient, and the county department is not responsible for any federal error rate sanctions resulting from such determination.

(IV) Notwithstanding any other provision in this paragraph (a), for applications that contain self-employment income, the state department shall not implement this paragraph (a) until it can verify self-employment income through the income, eligibility, and verification system or other verification as authorized by rules of the state department and federal law.

(b) Repealed.

(c) Subject to the provisions and requirements of section 25.5-4-205 (3) (e), the department shall establish a process so that an enrollee or the parent or guardian of an enrollee may apply for reenrollment either over the telephone or through the internet.

(5) (a) (I) A pregnant woman whose family income does not exceed the applicable level specified in section 25.5-8-103 (4) (b) shall be presumptively eligible for the plan. Once determined eligible for the plan, a pregnant woman shall be considered to be continuously eligible throughout the pregnancy and for the sixty days following the pregnancy, even if the woman's eligibility would otherwise terminate during such period due to an increase in income. Upon birth, a child born to a woman eligible for the plan shall be eligible for the plan and shall be automatically enrolled in the plan in accordance with the eligibility requirements for children specified in subsection (4) of this section.

(II) Repealed.

(b) (I) Under the plan, prenatal and postpartum primary health care providers shall implement policies regarding the integration of evidence-based tobacco use treatments into the regular health care delivery system, including, but not limited to:

- (A) Assessment of tobacco use and exposure to second-hand smoke;
- (B) Education on the dangers of tobacco use during pregnancy and postpartum;
- (C) Referrals to appropriate cessation services.

(II) Health care providers may coordinate the implementation of such policies with the tobacco education, prevention, and cessation programs established in section 25-3.5-804, C.R.S.

(c) The addition of coverage under the plan for pregnant women shall only be implemented if the department obtains a waiver from the federal department of health and human services.

(d) Enrollment of a pregnant woman in the plan shall be limited based upon annual appropriations made out of the trust by the general assembly as described in section 25.5-8-105 and any grants and donations. The general assembly shall annually establish maximum enrollment figures for pregnant women in the plan. The department shall not exceed the enrollment caps regardless of whether the funding comes from annual appropriations or grants and donations.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, but subject to the availability of sufficient appropriations and the receipt of federal financial participation, the department may provide benefits under this article to a pregnant woman who is a qualified alien and a child under nineteen years of age who is a qualified alien so long as such woman or child meets eligibility criteria other than citizenship.

25.5-8-110. Participation by managed care plans. (1) Managed care plans, as defined in section 10-16-102 (26.5), C.R.S., that participate in the plan shall do so by contract with the department and shall provide the health care services covered by the plan to each enrollee.

(2) Managed care plans participating in the plan shall not discriminate against any potential or current enrollee based upon health status, disability, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, race, creed, color, national origin, ancestry, ethnicity, or religion.

(3) Managed care plans that contract with the department to provide the plan to enrollees shall also be willing to contract with the medicaid managed care program, as administered by the department.

(4) (a) Managed care plans shall be selected by the department to participate in the children's basic health plan based upon the managed care plans' assurances and the department's verification that the managed care plan is utilizing within its network essential community providers to the extent that this action does not result in a net increase in the cost for providing services to the managed care plan.

(b) The managed care organization shall seek proposals from each essential community provider in a county in which the managed care organization is enrolling recipients for those services that the managed care organization provides or intends to provide and that an essential community provider provides or is capable of providing. To assist managed care organizations in seeking proposals, the department shall provide managed care organizations with a list of essential community providers in each county. The managed care organization shall consider such proposals in good faith and shall, when deemed reasonable by the managed care organization based on the needs of its enrollees, contract with essential community providers. Each essential community provider shall be willing to negotiate on reasonably equitable terms with each managed care organization. Essential community providers making proposals under this subsection (4) shall be able to meet the contractual requirements of the managed care organization. The requirement of this subsection (4) shall not apply to a managed care organization in areas in which the managed care organization operates entirely as a group model health maintenance organization.

(c) Any disputes between a managed care organization and an essential community provider that cannot be resolved through good faith negotiations may be resolved through an informal review by the department at the request of one of the parties, or through the department's aggrieved provider appeal process in accordance with section 25.5-1-107 (2), if requested by one of the parties.

(d) In selecting managed care organizations through competitive bidding, the department shall give preference to those managed care organizations that have executed contracts for services with one or more essential community providers. In selecting managed care organizations, the department shall not penalize a managed care organization for paying cost-based reimbursement to federally qualified health centers as defined in the federal "Social Security Act".

(5) The department may receive and act upon complaints from enrollees regarding failure to provide covered services or efforts to obtain payment, other than authorized copayments, for covered services directly from eligible recipients.

(6) Parents or guardians of children shall choose a participating health maintenance organization before enrolling in the plan in areas of the state where a participating health maintenance organization is available. The department will assign children who are currently enrolled in the plan and whose parents or guardians have not selected a health maintenance organization within a time period determined by the department to a participating health maintenance organization with the child's primary care physician in the network. The department shall seek to maintain continuity of the health plan between medicaid and the children's basic health plan.

(7) In areas of the state in which a participating managed care plan does not have providers, the department may contract with essential community providers and other health care providers to provide health care services under the children's basic health plan using a managed care model.

(8) The department may contract with essential community providers or other providers or develop other administrative arrangements to provide health care services under the children's basic health plan to enrollees prior to the effective date of enrollment in the selected managed care plan.

(9) The department shall allow, at least annually, an opportunity for enrollees to transfer among participating managed care plans serving their respective geographic regions. The department shall establish a period of at least twenty days annually when this opportunity is afforded eligible recipients. In geographic regions served by more than one participating managed care plan, the department shall endeavor to establish a uniform period for such opportunity.

(10) (a) The department shall make a capitation payment to managed care plans based upon a defined scope of services at an agreed upon rate. The department shall only use market rate bids that do not discriminate and are adequate to assure quality, network sufficiency, and long-term competitiveness in the children's basic health plan managed care market. The department shall retain a qualified actuary to establish a lower limit for such bids. A certification by such actuary to the appropriate lower limit shall be conclusive evidence of the department's compliance with the requirements of this subsection (10). For the purposes of this subsection (10), a "qualified actuary" shall be a person deemed as such under rules promulgated by the commissioner of insurance.

(b) Repealed.

(11) All managed care plans participating in the plan shall meet standards regarding the quality of services to be provided, financial integrity, and responsiveness to the unmet health care needs of eligible persons that may be served.

25.5-8-111. Department - administration - outsourcing. (1) (a) The department may:

(I) Pursuant to section 24-50-504 (2) (a), C.R.S., enter into personal services contracts for the administration of the children's basic health plan. Any contracts established pursuant to this section shall contain performance measures that shall be monitored by the department.

(II) Use county departments of social services to perform functions relating to the administration of the children's basic health plan;

(III) Perform administrative functions at the department, including consolidation of functions with other administrative functions handled by the department.

(b) In deciding how to allocate functions relating to the administration of the children's basic health plan as allowed under paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), the department shall determine and base its decisions upon what is the most cost-effective method to handle the particular function and to deliver the services.

(2) The implementation of subparagraph (I) of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section is contingent upon a finding by the state personnel director that any of the conditions of section 24-50-504 (2), C.R.S., have been met or that the conditions of section 24-50-503 (1), C.R.S., have been met.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

26-1-101. Short title. This title shall be known and may be cited as the “Colorado Human Services Code”.

ANNOTATION

This title is a comprehensive legislative scheme addressing both the administrative and substantive aspects of Colorado's social services system. Dempsey v. City & County of Denver, 649 P.2d 726 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-1-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly declares that state and local policymakers and health and human services administrators recognize that the management of and the delivery system for health and human services have become complex, fragmented, and costly and that the health and human services delivery system in this state should be restructured to adequately address the needs of Colorado citizens.

(3) Therefore, the general assembly finds that it is appropriate to restructure the principal departments responsible for overseeing the delivery of health and human services and to reform the state's health and human services delivery system, using guiding principles and within the time frames set forth in article 1.7 of title 24, C.R.S. It is the general assembly's intent that the departments of public health and environment, health care policy and financing, and human services be operational, effective July 1, 1994.

ANNOTATION

Code funding scheme constitutional. The counties retain sufficient control over the funds raised by levy under the code to be deemed the taxing authorities so that, since the levies fall uniformly upon the same class of property within each county, the funding scheme does not violate the constitutional provision requiring uniformity of taxation. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

Financing provisions of social services code not violative of equal protection because a rational relationship exists between the requirement that local entities must support a portion of the costs of programs serving the disadvantaged within their localities and the purposes of the code. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

The social services system is a matter of statewide concern, rather than local or municipal concern. Dempsey v. City & County of Denver, 649 P.2d 726 (Colo. App. 1982).

County is agent of state board. The legislative scheme embodied in the Colorado social services code contemplates the county being an agent of the state board of social services rather than a separate entity of sufficient independent identity to qualify as a "party". Bd. of County Comm'rs v. State Bd. of Soc. Servs., 186 Colo. 435, 528 P.2d 244 (1974).

For discussion of history of Colorado welfare programs and current public assistance financing scheme, see State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

26-1-105. Department of human services created - executive director - powers, duties, and functions. (1) Effective July 1, 1994, there is hereby created a department of human services, the head of which shall be the executive director of the department of human services, which office is hereby created. The executive director shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, and shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The reappointment of an executive director after an initial election of a governor shall be subject to the provisions of section 24-20-109, C.R.S. The executive director has those powers, duties, and functions prescribed for the heads of principal departments in the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968", article 1 of title 24, C.R.S.

(1.5) The department of human services shall consist of a state board of human services, an executive director of the department of human services, and such divisions, sections, and other units as may be established by the executive director pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section.

(2) (a) The executive director may establish such divisions, sections, and other units within the state department as are necessary for the proper and efficient discharge of the powers, duties, and functions of the state department. The executive director may allocate the powers, duties, and functions previously assigned to statutorily created divisions or sections of the state department of social services and the department of institutions to the divisions, sections, and other units established pursuant to this subsection (2). The executive director is authorized to create, eliminate, or alter such sections and units within the state department as the executive director determines are necessary to effectively and efficiently operate consistent with the plan for restructuring health and human services, as set forth in article 1.7 of title 24, C.R.S.

(3) The department of human services shall be responsible for the administration of human services programs as set forth in part 2 of this article.

26-1-105.5. Transfer of functions - employees - property - records. (1) (a) The department shall, on and after July 1, 1994, execute, administer, perform, and enforce the rights, powers, duties, functions, and obligations vested prior to July 1, 1994, in the department of social services, the department of institutions, and the department of health concerning the administration of alcohol and drug abuse programs.

(b) On and after July 1, 2006, the provisions of this section shall not apply to the functions, employees, and property transferred under the provisions of sections 24-1-119.5, C.R.S., and 25.5-1-105, C.R.S., concerning the "Colorado Medical Assistance Act", the Colorado indigent care program, and the treatment program for high-risk pregnant women.

(2) (a) On and after July 1, 1994, all positions of employment in the department of health, the department of social services, and the department of institutions concerning the powers, duties, and functions transferred to the department of human services pursuant to this article and determined to be necessary to carry out the purposes of this article by the executive director of the department of human services shall be transferred to the department of human services and shall become employment positions therein. The executive director shall appoint such employees as are necessary to carry out the duties and exercise the powers conferred by law upon the state department and the executive director. On and after July 1, 1994, any appointment of employees and any creation or elimination of positions of employment shall be consistent with the plan for restructuring health and human services as set forth in article 1.7 of title 24, C.R.S. Appointing authority may be delegated by the executive director as appropriate.

(b) On and after July 1, 1994, all employees of the department of health, the department of social services, and the department of institutions whose duties and functions concerned the powers, duties, and functions transferred to the department of human services pursuant to this article, regardless of whether the position of employment in which the employee served was transferred, shall be considered employees of the department of human services for purposes of section 24-50-124, C.R.S. Such employees shall retain all rights under the state personnel system and to retirement benefits pursuant to the laws of this state, and their services shall be deemed continuous.

(3) On July 1, 1994, all items of property, real and personal, including office furniture and fixtures, books, documents, and records of the departments of health, social services, and institutions pertaining to the duties and functions transferred to the department of human services are transferred to the department of human services and shall become the property thereof.

(4) On and after July 1, 1994, whenever the department of health, social services, or institutions is referred to or designated by any contract or other document in connection with the duties and functions transferred to the department of human services, such reference or designation shall be deemed to apply to the department of human services. All contracts entered into by the said departments prior to July 1, 1994, in connection with the duties and functions transferred to the department of human services are hereby validated, with the department of human services succeeding to all rights and obligations under such contracts. Any cash funds, custodial funds, trusts, grants, and any appropriations of funds from prior fiscal years open to satisfy obligations incurred under such contracts shall be transferred and appropriated to the department of human services for the payment of such obligations.

(5) On and after July 1, 1994, unless otherwise specified, whenever any provision of law refers to the department of health, social services, or institutions, in connection with the duties and functions transferred to the department of human services, said law shall be construed as referring to the department of human services.

(6) All rules, regulations, and orders of the departments of health, social services, and institutions adopted prior to July 1, 1994, in connection with the powers, duties, and functions transferred to the department of human services, shall continue to be effective until revised, amended, repealed, or nullified pursuant to law. The executive director shall adopt rules necessary for the administration of the state department and as otherwise authorized by this title. Any rules adopted on and after July 1, 1994, shall be consistent with the plan for restructuring health and human services, as set forth in article 1.7 of title 24, C.R.S.

(7) No suit, action, or other proceeding, judicial or administrative, lawfully commenced prior to July 1, 1994, or which could have been commenced prior to such date, by or against the department of health, social services, or institutions, or any officer thereof in such officer's official capacity or in relation to the discharge of the official's duties, shall abate by reason of the transfer of duties and functions from the said department to the department of human services.

(8) The revisor of statutes is hereby authorized to change all references in the Colorado Revised Statutes to the department of social services and the department of institutions from said references to the department of human services, as appropriate and unless otherwise transferred to the department of health care policy and financing pursuant to section 25.5-1-105, C.R.S. In connection with such authority, the revisor of statutes is hereby authorized to amend or delete provisions of the Colorado Revised Statutes so as to make the statutes consistent with the powers, duties, and functions transferred pursuant to this section.

26-1-106. Final agency action - administrative law judge - authority of executive director. (1) (a) The executive director may appoint one or more persons to serve as administrative law judges for the state department pursuant to section 24-4-105, C.R.S., and pursuant to part 10 of article 30 of title 24, C.R.S., subject to appropriations made to the department of personnel. Hearings conducted by the administrative law judge shall be considered initial decisions of the state department which shall be reviewed by the executive director or a designee. In the event exceptions to the initial decision are filed pursuant to section 24-4-105 (14) (a) (I), C.R.S., such review shall be in accordance with section 24-4-105 (15), C.R.S.; except that the state department may, at its discretion, permit a party to file an audio recording in lieu of a written transcript if the party cannot afford a written transcript. The state board may adopt rules delineating the criteria and process for filing an audio recording in lieu of a written transcript. In the absence of any exception filed pursuant to section 24-4-105 (14) (a) (I), C.R.S., the executive director shall review the initial decision in accordance with a procedure adopted by the state board. Such procedure shall be consistent with federal mandates concerning the single state agency requirement. Review by the executive director in accordance with section 24-4-105 (15), C.R.S., or the procedure adopted by the state board pursuant to this section shall constitute final agency action. The administrative law judge may conduct hearings on appeals from decisions of county departments brought by recipients of and applicants for public assistance and welfare which are required by law in order for the state to qualify for federal funds, and may conduct other hearings for the state department. Notice of any such hearing shall be served at least ten days prior to such hearing.

26-1-107. State board of human services - rules. (1) (a) There is hereby created the state board of human services. The state board shall consist of nine members, each of whom shall be appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate, for terms of four years each. In making appointments to the board, the governor shall include representation by at least one member who is a person with a disability, as defined in section 24-45.5-102 (2), C.R.S., a family member of a person with a disability, or a member of an advocacy group for persons with disabilities.

(b) As vacancies occur, on and after July 1, 1973, appointments shall be made so that three of the members of the state board shall be appointed from among persons who are serving as county commissioners in this state. Whenever a county commissioner serving as a member of the state board ceases to hold the office of county commissioner, a vacancy on the state board shall occur, and the governor shall fill the vacancy by the appointment of a person who at the time is serving as a county commissioner. A county commissioner shall not vote on any matter coming before the state board which affects the county in which he is serving as commissioner in a manner different from other counties.

(2) No recipient of a pension under the Colorado old age pension statutes shall be eligible for appointment to the state board.

(3) The members of the state board shall serve without compensation, with the exception of necessary actual traveling expenses.

(4) The state board shall act only by resolution adopted at a duly called meeting of the state board, and no individual member of the state board shall exercise administrative authority with respect to the state department.

(5) (a) "Board rules" are rules promulgated by the state board governing:

(I) Program scope and content;

(II) Requirements, obligations, and rights of clients and recipients;

(III) Non-executive director rules concerning vendors, providers, and other persons affected by acts of the state department.

(b) The state board shall have authority to adopt "board rules" for programs administered and services provided by the state department as set forth in this title and in title 27, C.R.S.

(c) Any rules adopted by the executive director to implement the provisions of this title or title 27, C.R.S., prior to March 25, 2009, whose content meets the definition of "board rules" shall continue to be effective until revised, amended, or repealed by the state board.

(d) Whenever a statutory grant of rule-making authority in this title or in title 27, C.R.S., refers to the state department or the department of human services, it shall mean the state department acting through either the state board or the executive director or both. When exercising rule-making authority under this title or title 27, C.R.S., the state department, either acting through the state board or the executive director, shall establish rules consistent with the powers and the distinction between "board rules" as set forth in this section and "executive director rules" as set forth in section 26-1-108.

- (6) The state board shall:
 - (a) Adopt board rules;
 - (b) Hold hearings relating to the formulation and revision of the policies of the state department;
 - (c) Advise the executive director as to any matters that the executive director may bring before the state board;
 - (d) Meet as is necessary to adjust the minimum award for old age pensions for changes in the cost of living pursuant to section 26-2-114 (1); except that the state board shall meet for such a purpose whenever the monthly index of consumer prices, prepared by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor, increases or decreases by an amount warranting an increase or decrease over the previous adjustment and the United States social security administration increases benefits similarly adjusted for changes in the cost of living. Such a meeting shall be held within twenty days of the publication of the monthly index which first exceeds the previous level by said amount.
 - (e) Adopt rules and regulations for the purpose of establishing guidelines for the placement of children from locations outside of Colorado into this state for foster care or adoption pursuant to section 19-5-203, C.R.S., or section 26-6-104 or the terms of the "Interstate Compact on Placement of Children" as set forth in part 18 of article 60 of title 24, C.R.S.;
 - (f) Adopt rules governing the operations of the statewide adoption resource registry as described in section 26-1-111 (4);
 - (g) Adopt rules concerning mental health programs, alcohol and drug abuse programs, and developmental disabilities programs. To the extent that rules are promulgated by the state board of human services for programs or providers that receive either medicaid only or both medicaid and non-medicaid funding, the rules shall be developed in cooperation with the department of health care policy and financing and shall not conflict with state statutes or federal statutes or regulations.
 - (h) Adopt rules concerning standards for the level of training, education, and experience that a psychiatrist or psychologist shall have to be qualified to perform competency evaluations in criminal cases pursuant to section 16-8-106 and article 8.5 of title 16, C.R.S., and standards for conducting and reporting competency evaluations in criminal cases. Prior to adopting the rules, the state board shall consider recommendations from the competency evaluation advisory board created in section 16-8.5-119, C.R.S.
 - (7) When federal statute or regulation requires, as a condition for the receipt of federal participation in any state department administered or supervised public assistance or welfare program, that specific forms of income to recipients and applicants or other persons whose income would otherwise be considered to be disregarded, such income shall be disregarded and the rules of the state board shall include provisions to effect such requirements.
 - (8) Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect any specific statutory provision granting rule-making authority in relation to a specific program to the state board.
 - (9) and (9.5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2006, p. 1986, § 10, effective July 1, 2006.)
 - (10) The state board shall fix minimum standards and qualifications for county department personnel based upon training and experience deemed necessary to fulfill the requirements and responsibilities for each position and establish salary schedules based upon prevailing wages for comparable work within each county or district or region where such data is available and is collected and compiled in a manner approved by the state personnel director. The rules issued by the state board shall be binding upon the several county departments. At any public hearing relating to a proposed rule making, interested persons shall have the right to present their data, views, or arguments orally. Proposed rules of the state board shall be subject to the provisions of section 24-4-103, C.R.S.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. The following annotations include cases decided prior to the 1994 amendment of this section.

Section does not compel state board to adopt wage schedule submitted by a county for its social service employees. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

Or to provide salaries identical to prevailing rate. This section does not require that the state board provide salaries in every respect identical with those prevalent in a particular area. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

Section merely establishes a standard for the state board to follow in setting the salaries of social services employees, directing the state board to consider prevailing wages within each respective region as an initial or starting point for calculation. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

It leaves to the state board the task of preparing wage schedules, and does not empower a county to do anything more than submit suitable data for the state board's consideration. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

The state board is entrusted with the ultimate responsibility for the conduct of the fiscal affairs of the social services system. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

Discretion of board. This section grants to the state board a considerable degree of discretion in determining wage schedules for employees of the social services system. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

Factor in establishing wage schedules. If appropriations for the funds for the wages of county social services employees are insufficient in a given year, it is fully within the discretion accorded the state board in subsection (2) to consider this as a factor in establishing wage schedules. Evert v. Ouren, 37 Colo. App. 402, 549 P.2d 791 (1976).

County board is arm of state. The county board of social services is set up as a subordinate agency or arm of the state. It is bound by, inter alia, the fiscal and personnel rules set up by the state board of social services. Martin v. District Court, 191 Colo. 107, 550 P.2d 864 (1976).

County board is without standing to challenge action of state board. In the absence of an express statutory right, the county board lacks standing or any other legal authority to obtain judicial review of an action of the merit system council. Martin v. District Court, 191 Colo. 107, 550 P.2d 864 (1976).

Right to judicial review limited. The right to judicial review of the final administrative actions of the state board of social services is limited to those parties to the proceeding before the administrative agency whose rights, privileges, or duties, as distinct from those of the state, are adversely affected by the decision. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. State Bd. of Soc. Servs., 186 Colo. 435, 528 P.2d 244 (1974).

Applied in Dempsey v. City & County of Denver, 649 P.2d 726 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-1-108. Powers and duties of the executive director - rules. (1) Executive director rules shall be solely within the province of the executive director and shall include the following:

(a) Rules governing matters of internal administration in the state department, including organization, staffing, records, reports, systems, and procedures, and also governing fiscal and personnel administration for the state department and establishing accounting and fiscal reporting rules for disbursement of federal funds, contingency funds, and proration of available appropriations except those determinations precluded by authority granted to the state board.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 97, p. 1183, 3, effective July 1, 1997.)

(1.7) (a) The executive director shall have authority to adopt "executive director rules" for programs administered and services provided by the state department as set forth in this title and in title 27, C.R.S. Such rules shall be promulgated in accordance with the provisions of section 24-4-103, C.R.S.

(b) Any rules adopted by the state board to implement the provisions of this title or title 27, C.R.S., prior to March 25, 2009, whose content meets the definition of "executive director rules" shall continue to be effective until revised, amended, or repealed by the executive director.

(1.8) Whenever a statutory grant of rule-making authority in this title or title 27, C.R.S., refers to the state department or the department of human services, it shall mean the state department acting through either the state board or the executive director or both. When exercising rule-making authority under this title or title 27, C.R.S., the state department, either acting through the state board or the executive director, shall establish rules consistent with the powers and the distinction between "board rules" as set forth in section 26-1-107 and "executive director rules" as set forth in this section.

(2) The rules issued by the executive director pertaining to this title shall be binding upon the several county departments, providers, vendors, and agents of the state department. At any public hearing relating to a proposed rule making, interested persons shall have the right to present their data, views, or arguments orally. Proposed rules of the executive director shall be subject to the provisions of section 24-4-103, C.R.S.

ANNOTATION

County is arm of state. A county, as used in this section, is assigned its traditional role as an arm of the state, existing only for the convenient administration of the state government and to carry out the will of the state. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. State Bd. of Soc. Servs., 186 Colo. 435, 528 P.2d 244 (1974).

County is without standing to challenge action of state board. A county and its board of county commissioners are without standing to challenge an action of the state board of social services, even though they may have been extended the courtesy of presenting evidence at the rule-making hearing. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. State Bd. of Soc. Servs., 186 Colo. 435, 528 P.2d 244 (1974).

County board bound by state board's rules. Pursuant to statute, county boards of social services act as agents of the state board, and are bound by the rules promulgated by the state board. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Merit Sys. Council, 662 P.2d 1093 (Colo. App. 1982).

Applied in Dodge v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 657 P.2d 969 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-1-109. Cooperation with federal government - grants-in-aid. (1) The state department of human services shall be the sole state agency for administering the state plans for public assistance and welfare, including but not limited to assistance payments; food stamps; social services; child welfare services; rehabilitation; and programs for the aging in cooperation with the federal government; the Colorado works program; and any other state plan relating to such public assistance and welfare that requires state action that is not specifically the responsibility of some other state department, division, section, board, commission, or committee under the provisions of federal or state law.

(2) (a) The state department of human services may accept on behalf of the state of Colorado the provisions and benefits of acts of congress designed to provide funds or other property for particular public assistance and welfare activities within the state, including but not limited to assistance payments; food stamps; social services; child welfare services; rehabilitation; and programs for the aging; which funds or other property are designated for such purposes within the function of the state department, and may accept on behalf of the state any offers which have been or may from time to time be made of funds or other property by any persons, agencies, or entities for particular public assistance and welfare activities within the state, which funds or other property are designated for such purposes within the function of the state department; but, unless otherwise expressly provided by law, such acceptance shall not be manifested unless and until the state department has recommended such acceptance to and received the written approval of the governor and the attorney general. Such approval shall authorize the acceptance of the funds or property in accordance with the restrictions and conditions and for the purpose for which funds or property are intended.

(b) The state treasurer is designated as ex officio custodian of all public assistance and welfare funds received by the state from the federal government and from any other source, if the approval provided for in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) has been obtained.

(c) The state treasurer shall hold each such fund separate and distinct from state funds and is authorized to make disbursements from such funds for the designated purpose or for administrative costs, which may be provided in such grants, upon warrants issued by the state controller upon the voucher of the state department.

(3) The state department shall cooperate with the federal department of health, education, and welfare and other federal agencies in any reasonable manner, in conformity with the laws of this state, which may be necessary to qualify for federal aid, including the preparation of state plans, the making of reports in such form and containing such information as any federal agency may from time to time require, and the compliance with such provisions as the federal government may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of the reports.

(4) In administering any funds appropriated or made available to the state department for public assistance and welfare activities, the state department has the power to:

(a) Require as a condition for receiving grants-in-aid that each county in this state shall bear the proportion of the total expense of furnishing public assistance and food stamps as is fixed by law relating to such assistance;

(b) Terminate any grants-in-aid to any county of this state if the laws and regulations providing such grants-in-aid and the minimum standards prescribed by rules of the state department thereunder are not complied with;

(c) Undertake forthwith the administration of any or all public assistance and food stamp activities within any county of this state which has had any or all of its grants-in-aid terminated pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4); but the county shall continue to meet the requirements of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4);

(d) Recover any moneys owed by a county to the state by reducing the amount of any payments due from the state in connection with any program or activity;

(e) Take any other action which may be necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this title.

(4.5) In addition to the powers granted the state department in subsection (4) of this section, the state department shall take necessary measures to obtain increased federal reimbursement moneys available under the Title IV-E program created under the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, based on the out-of-home placements and alternative care treatment by county departments of children eligible for Title IV-E federal assistance, which moneys shall be allocated to county departments in proportion to each county's eligible placements, to help defray program costs. Nothing in this subsection (4.5) shall be construed to allow counties to continue to receive an amount equal to the increased funding in the event the said funding is no longer available from the federal government.

(5) The rules of the state department may include provisions to accommodate requirements of contracts entered into between the state department and the federal department of health, education, and welfare for studies of guaranteed annual income or other forms of income maintenance research projects; and for such purpose the requirements of this title as to eligibility for public assistance shall not apply for the term of and in accordance with the contract for such purpose. No program shall be initiated or carried out under the authorization contained in this subsection (5) in a manner that will increase the welfare burden upon any county or city and county, and, if such a program is conducted in the Denver area, it shall be conducted within an area no smaller than the Denver S.M.S.A. (standard metropolitan statistical area) as defined by the United States bureau of the census.

ANNOTATION

Code funding scheme constitutional. The counties retain sufficient control over the funds raised by levy under the code to be deemed the taxing authorities so that, since the levies fall uniformly upon the same class of property within each county, the funding scheme does not violate the constitutional provision requiring uniformity of taxation. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

Financing provisions of social services code not violative of equal protection because a rational relationship exists between the requirement that local entities must support a portion of the costs of programs serving the disadvantaged within their localities and the purposes of the code. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

County is arm of state. A county, as used in this section, is assigned its traditional role as an arm of the state, existing only for the convenient administration of the state government and to carry out the will of the state. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. State Bd. of Soc. Servs., 186 Colo. 435, 528 P.2d 244 (1974).

A county board does not have standing to compel a state department to reduce its state-wide expenditures. A county board is an agent of the state. Romer v. Bd. of County Comm'rs of the County of Pueblo, 956 P.2d 566 (Colo. 1998).

26-1-109.5. Treatment of restitution payments under this title - declaration - exclusion from financial determinations. (1) The general assembly finds that restitution payments made to Japanese Americans pursuant to the "Civil Liberties Act" (Pub.L. 100-383) were intended to redress the injustice done to United States citizens and resident aliens of Japanese ancestry who were incarcerated during World War II. The general assembly also finds that pursuant to such federal law, such payments are already excluded from state social service programs described in 31 U.S.C. sec. 3803 (c)(2)(c) which are funded by federal moneys.

(2) The state department shall exclude from consideration, when determining income or resources for purposes of determining eligibility or benefit amounts in any state-funded program under this title, moneys paid to eligible individuals pursuant to the "Civil Liberties Act" (Pub.L. 100-383).

26-1-111. Activities of the state department under the supervision of the executive director - cash fund - report - rules - statewide adoption resource registry. (1) The state department, under the supervision of the executive director, is charged with the administration or supervision of all the public assistance and welfare activities of the state, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, social services, child welfare services, rehabilitation, and programs for the aging and for veterans, which activities as enumerated are declared to be state as well as county purposes.

(2) The state department, under the supervision of the executive director, shall:

(a) Administer or supervise all forms of public assistance and welfare, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, and social services under programs for old age pensions except for the old age pension health and medical care program, and shall also administer and supervise the Colorado works program, aid to the blind, aid to the needy disabled, food stamps supplementation to households not receiving public assistance found eligible for food stamps under rules adopted by the state board, and such other public assistance and welfare activities as may be vested in the state department pursuant to law;

(b) Administer or supervise the establishment, extension, and strengthening of child welfare services and other social services in cooperation with the federal department of health, education, and welfare and other state or federal agencies;

(c) Administer the establishment, extension, and strengthening of rehabilitation programs and services, programs and services for the aging, and veterans' affairs activities in cooperation with the federal department of health, education, and welfare and other state or federal agencies;

(d) (I) Provide services to county governments including the organization and supervision of county departments for the effective administration of public assistance and welfare functions as set out in the rules of the executive director and the rules of the state board pursuant to section 26-1-107 as to program scope and content, including assistance payments, food stamps, and social services, and compilation of statistics and necessary information relative to assistance payments, food stamps, social services, child welfare services, including out-of-home placement services, rehabilitation, programs for the aging, and veterans' programs throughout the state, and obtaining federal reimbursement moneys available under the Title IV-E program created under the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, based on out-of-home placements and alternative care treatment by county departments of children eligible for Title IV-E federal assistance, which moneys shall be allocated to counties to help defray the costs of performing its functions; except that nothing in this paragraph (d) shall be construed to allow counties to continue to receive an amount equal to the increased funding in the event the said funding is no longer available from the federal government.

(II) (A) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, the state department shall pay to each county an amount equal to all federal revenues earned by the state pursuant to Title IV-E of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, which exceed the amount necessary to fully fund program, training, and administrative costs that are reimbursed under Title IV-E for eligible services for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, plus an amount necessary to fully fund the state foster care review program for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991.

(B) For each fiscal year after the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, the amount set aside from federal revenues earned by the state in accordance with sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (II) to fully fund Title IV-E eligible services and the costs of the administrative review unit shall be adjusted annually by the general assembly to reflect rate changes, workload, federal financial participation, and any other factor determined as necessary to maintain a comparable level of said services and costs as for the respective fiscal years described in sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (II).

(C) For fiscal year 2003-04 and each fiscal year thereafter, after the amounts described in sub-subparagraph (A) or (B) of this subparagraph (II) are set aside, the total amount of moneys remaining shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the excess federal Title IV-E reimbursements cash fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this sub-subparagraph (C) as the "fund". The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department for allocation to counties to help defray the costs of performing administrative functions related to obtaining federal reimbursement moneys available under the Title IV-E program. In addition, the general assembly may annually appropriate moneys in the fund to the state department for allocation to the counties for the provision of assistance, as defined in section 26-2-703 (2), child care assistance, as described in section 26-2-805, social services, as defined in section 26-2-103 (11), and child welfare services, as defined in section 26-5-101 (3). For fiscal year 2004-05, and in subsequent years if so specified by the general assembly in the annual appropriations act, the counties shall expend the moneys allocated by the state department for the provision of assistance, child care assistance, social services, and child welfare services pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (C) in a manner that will be applied toward the state's maintenance of historic effort as specified in section 409 (a) (7) of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purposes specified in this sub-subparagraph (C) may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred or revert to the general fund or another fund.

(C.5) and (D) Repealed.

(E) One hundred percent of the federal Title IV-E incentive funding received by the state for completion of timely interstate home studies shall be distributed to the county departments conducting the home studies. The Title IV-E incentives paid to the county departments pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (E) shall be divided and distributed according to the distribution formula set forth in rules to be promulgated by the state board no later than January 1, 2008. A county department receiving an incentive payment pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (E) shall expend those moneys for the provision of services allowed under Title IV-B and Title IV-E of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended.

(III) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2004, p. 955, § 1, effective May 21, 2004.)

(e) Prescribe the form of blanks necessary for applications, reports, affidavits, and such other forms as it may deem necessary and advisable;

(f) Designate child placement agencies licensed pursuant to article 6 of this title or county departments to act as agents of the state department for the purpose of authorizing child care placement as set forth in section 26-1-107 (6) (e) and county departments to serve as agents of the state department in the performance of certain public assistance and welfare and related activities in the county;

(g) Cooperate with other departments, agencies, and institutions of the state and federal governments in the performance of activities in conformity with the purposes of this title;

(h) Act as the agent of the federal government in public assistance and welfare activities, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, social services, child welfare services, rehabilitation, and programs for the aging, in matters of mutual concern in conformity with this title and in the administration of any federal funds granted to the state to aid in the furtherance of any functions of the state department;

(i) Administer such additional public assistance and welfare activities and functions as may be vested in it pursuant to law;

(j) and (k) (Deleted by amendment, L. 93, p. 1111, § 24, effective July 1, 1994.)

(m) (Deleted by amendment, L. 97, p. 1220, § 4, effective July 1, 1997.)

(n) and (o) (Deleted by amendment, L. 93, p. 1111, § 24, effective July 1, 1994.)

(p) Carry out the duties prescribed in article 11.7 of title 16, C.R.S.;

(q) Promulgate rules in accordance with section 19-3-308 (1), C.R.S., for determining the risk of harm to a child who is the subject of a child abuse and neglect report setting forth the appropriate response by the county departments to such risks;

(r) Adopt standards for conducting videotaped child abuse interviews in accordance with section 19-3-308.5 (1) (e), C.R.S.;

(s) Promulgate rules in accordance with section 19-3-211, C.R.S., for establishing a conflict resolution process for resolving grievances against the county departments concerning responses to reports of child abuse and neglect and the performance of duties pursuant to article 3 of title 19, C.R.S. Such rules shall take into account and allow for any subsequent locally developed grievance procedures that apply to a locally restructured human services system to ensure consistency within the system.

(4) (a) The state department shall establish a statewide adoption resource registry which shall serve authorized or licensed child placement agencies, including, but not limited to, any agency, official, or court of the state or any of its political subdivisions authorized to place children and any other organizations or individuals whose purpose is to seek or assist in the adoptive placement of children who are listed or who may be listed in the adoption resource registry. As a means of recruiting adoptive families for children who have been legally freed for adoption by the termination of all parent-child legal relationships, including residual parental rights and responsibilities, and who are waiting for adoption in this state, such agencies and other organizations and individuals whose purpose is to seek or assist in the adoption of waiting children shall utilize any appropriate means to publicize the availability of such children. The statewide adoption resource registry shall include the age, sex, race or ethnic background of each child, a photograph of the child, and the child's social and medical history, psychological and emotional status, and known physical and mental impairments. It may also include any special services a child may need and physical descriptions, educational backgrounds, and known medical and emotional conditions of the child's parents and other relatives which may have developmental significance to the child. The statewide adoption resource registry shall be updated monthly.

(c) Unless otherwise exempted pursuant to rules adopted by the state board, each authorized or licensed child placement agency shall refer to the statewide adoption resource registry within ninety days of the termination of the parent-child legal relationship the name and a photograph and description of each child in its care, as required by regulations of the state board, who has been legally freed for adoption by the termination of the parent-child legal relationship and for whom no adoptive home has been found. The state board, in accordance with section 26-1-107 (6) (f), shall establish criteria by which an authorized or licensed child placement agency may determine that a child need not be listed with the registry. Such a child's name shall be forwarded to the state department by the authorized or licensed child placement agency, with reference to the specific reason for which the child was not placed with the registry. The state board shall establish procedures for periodic review of the status of such children in accordance with section 26-1-107 (6) (f). If the state department, in accordance with the criteria established by the state board, determines that adoption would be appropriate for a child not placed with the registry, the agency shall forthwith list the child. Each authorized or licensed child placement agency may voluntarily refer any child who has been legally freed for adoption.

(d) Expenditures by a county department for the care and maintenance of a child who has not been referred to the statewide adoption resource registry in accordance with the requirements of this section shall not be subject to state reimbursement.

(5) The state department, through the unit in the state department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse, shall administer alcohol and drug abuse programs set forth in articles 80, 81, and 82 of title 27, C.R.S.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Adoption Procedures of Minor Children in Colorado", see 12 Colo. Law. 1057 (1983).

County is arm of state. A county, as used in this section, is assigned its traditional role as an arm of the state, existing only for the convenient administration of the state government and to carry out the will of the state. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. State Bd. of Soc. Servs., 186 Colo. 435, 528 P.2d 244 (1974).

Standards to be established by state department. Standards governing the granting of aid and the amount to be paid are established by the state department, except as provided by statute. State Bd. of Soc. Servs. v. Billings, 175 Colo. 380, 487 P.2d 1110 (1971).

And followed by county board and department. The county board of social services and the county department of social services must follow the standards established by the state department. State Bd. of Soc. Servs. v. Billings, 175 Colo. 380, 487 P.2d 1110 (1971).

Subsection (2)(o)(I) is a constitutional delegation of legislative authority to the state department of social services because the language provides the necessary statutory safeguards and standards to guide the department in rational and consistent rulemaking and meaningful judicial review of department actions. Barela v. Beye, 916 P.2d 668 (Colo. App. 1996).

26-1-112. Locating violators - recoveries. (1) The executive director of the department of human services or district attorneys may request and shall receive from departments, boards, bureaus, or other agencies of the state or any of its political subdivisions, and the same are authorized to provide, such assistance and data as will enable the state department of human services and county departments properly to carry out their powers and duties to locate and prosecute any person who has fraudulently obtained public assistance under this title. Any records established pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be available only to the state department of human services, the county departments, the attorney general, and the district attorneys, county attorneys, and courts having jurisdiction in fraud or recovery proceedings or actions.

(2) (a) All departments and agencies of the state and local governments shall cooperate in the location and prosecution of any person who has fraudulently obtained public assistance under this title, and, on request of the county board, the county director, the state department of human services, or the district attorney of any judicial district in this state, shall supply all information on hand relative to the location, employment, income, and property of such persons, notwithstanding any other provision of law making such information confidential, except the laws pertaining to confidentiality of any tax returns filed pursuant to law with the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall furnish at no cost to inquiring departments and agencies such information as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this article. The procedures whereby this information will be requested and provided shall be established by rule of the state department. The state department or county departments shall use such information only for the purposes of administering public assistance under this title, and the district attorney shall use it only for the prosecution of persons who have fraudulently obtained public assistance under this title, and he shall not use the information, or disclose it, for any other purpose.

(b) (I) Whenever the state department of human services or a district attorney, for the state department, or the state department on behalf of a county department recovers any amount of fraudulently obtained public assistance funds, the federal government shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of federal funds paid unless a different amount is otherwise provided by federal law, the state shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of state funds paid and such additional amounts of federal funds recovered as provided by federal law, and the county department shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of county funds paid unless a different amount is provided pursuant to federal law or this section.

(II) Whenever a county department, a county board, a district attorney, or a state department on behalf of a county department recovers any amount of fraudulently obtained public assistance funds in the form of assistance payments, it shall be deposited in the county general fund and the federal government shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of federal funds paid unless a different amount is provided for by federal law, the state shall be entitled to a share proportionate to one-half the amount of state funds paid, and the county shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of county funds paid and, in addition, a share proportionate to one-half the amount of state funds paid. In the case of funds recovered from fraudulently obtained food stamp coupons by the county department, the county board, the district attorney, or the state department on behalf of a county department, the county shall be entitled to the share of the recovered funds provided by the federal "Food Stamp Act".

(3) (a) Whenever the county department, the county board, the district attorney, or the state department on behalf of a county department pursuant to Public Law 96-58 recovers funds from food stamp coupons which were obtained through unintentional client error, the county shall be entitled to the share of the recovered funds provided by the federal "Food Stamp Act".

(b) Whenever a county department, a county board, a district attorney, or the state department on behalf of the county recovers any amount of public assistance payments funds that were obtained through unintentional client error, the federal government shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of federal funds paid, unless a different amount is provided for by federal law, the state shall be entitled to a share proportionate to seventy-five percent of the amount of state funds paid, the county shall be entitled, except for the Colorado works program, to a share proportionate to the amount of county funds paid, if any, and, in addition, a share proportionate to twenty-five percent of the amount of state funds paid. In the Colorado works program, the county shall be entitled to a share proportionate to the amount of county funds paid and, in addition, a share proportionate to one-half the amount of state funds paid.

(4) Actual costs and expenses incurred by the district attorney's office in carrying out the provisions of subsections (2) and (3) of this section shall be billed to counties or a county within the judicial district in the proportions specified in section 20-1-302, C.R.S. Each county shall make an annual accounting to the state department on all amounts recovered.

26-1-114. Records confidential - authorization to obtain records of assets - release of location information to law enforcement agencies - outstanding felony arrest warrants. (1) The state department of human services may establish reasonable rules to provide safeguards restricting the use or disclosure of information concerning applicants, recipients, and former and potential recipients of federally aided public assistance and welfare, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, social services, and child welfare services, to purposes directly connected with the administration of such public assistance and welfare and related state department activities and covering the custody, use, and preservation of the records, papers, files, and communications of the state and county departments. Whenever, under provisions of law, names and addresses of applicants for, recipients of, or former and potential recipients of public assistance and welfare are furnished to or held by another agency or department of government, such agency or department shall be required to prevent the publication of lists thereof and their uses for purposes not directly connected with the administration of such public assistance and welfare.

(2) Repealed.

(3) (a) (I) Except as provided in subparagraphs (II) and (III) of this paragraph (a), or except as disclosure is otherwise required by statute or by rule of civil procedure for child support establishment or enforcement purposes, it is unlawful for any person to solicit, disclose, or make use of or to authorize, knowingly permit, participate in, or acquiesce in the use of any lists or names of or any information concerning persons applying for or receiving public assistance and welfare directly or indirectly derived from the records, papers, files, or communications of the state or county departments or subdivisions or agencies thereof or acquired in the course of the performance of official duties. No financial institution or insurance company that provides the data, whether confidential or not, required by the state department, in accordance with the provisions of this subsection (3), shall be liable for the provision of the data to the state department nor for any use made thereof by the state department.

(II) The information described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) may be disclosed for purposes directly connected with the administration of public assistance and welfare and in accordance with this paragraph (a) and paragraphs (b) and (c) of this subsection (3) and with the rules and regulations of the state department.

(III) (A) Notwithstanding any provision of state law to the contrary and to the extent allowable under federal law, at the request of the Colorado bureau of investigation, the state department shall provide the bureau with information concerning the location of any person whose name appears in the department's records who is the subject of an outstanding felony arrest warrant. Upon receipt of such information, it shall be the responsibility of the bureau to provide appropriate law enforcement agencies with location information obtained from the state department. Location information provided pursuant to this section shall be used solely for law enforcement purposes. The state department and the bureau shall determine and employ the most cost-effective method for obtaining and providing location information pursuant to this section. Neither the state department nor its employees or agents shall be liable in civil action for providing information in accordance with the provisions of this sub-subparagraph (A).

(B) As used in sub-subparagraph (A) of this subparagraph (III), "law enforcement agency" means any agency of the state or its political subdivisions that is responsible for enforcing the laws of this state. "Law enforcement agency" includes but is not limited to any police department, sheriff's department, district attorney's office, the office of the state attorney general, and the Colorado bureau of investigation.

(b) By signing an application or redetermination of eligibility form for assistance or welfare, an applicant authorizes the state department to obtain records pertaining to information provided in that application or redetermination of eligibility form from a financial institution, as defined in section 15-15-201 (4), C.R.S., or from any insurance company. The application or redetermination of eligibility form shall contain language clearly indicating that signing constitutes such an authorization.

(c) (I) In order to determine if applicants for or recipients of public assistance have assets within eligibility limits, the state department of human services may provide a list of information identifying these applicants or recipients to any financial institution, as defined in section 15-15-201 (4), C.R.S., or to any insurance company. This information may include identification numbers or social security numbers. The state department of human services may require any such financial institution or insurance company to provide a written statement disclosing any assets held on behalf of individuals adequately identified on the list provided. Before a termination notice is sent to the recipient, the county department in verifying the accuracy of the information obtained as a result of the match shall contact the recipient and inform him or her of the apparent results of the computer match and give the recipient the opportunity to explain or correct any erroneous information secured by the match. The requirement to run a computerized match shall apply only to information that is entered in the financial institution's or insurance company's data processing system on the date the match is run and shall not be deemed to require any such institution or company to change its data or make new entries for the purpose of comparing identifying information. The cost of providing such computerized match shall be borne by the appropriate state department. The state department of human services shall not use the provisions of this subparagraph (I) for the information-gathering purposes of the financial institution data match system required by section 26-13-128.

(II) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984, and thereafter, all funds expended by the state department to pay the cost of providing such computerized matches shall be subject to an annual appropriation by the general assembly.

(III) The state department of human services may expend funds appropriated pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c) in an amount not to exceed the amount of annualized general fund savings that result from the termination of recipients from public assistance specifically due to disclosure of assets pursuant to this subsection (3).

(IV) The state department of human services shall make quarterly reports concerning the value of computerized matches pursuant to this paragraph (c) to the general assembly and the joint budget committee. Such reports shall include, but need not be limited to, the number of individuals against whom computer matches were run, the number of resulting matches, and the resulting public assistance case load reduction and corresponding savings to the state department.

(d) No applicant shall be denied nor any recipient discontinued due to the disclosure of their assets unless and until the county department has assured that such assets taken together with other assets exceed the limit for eligibility of countable assets. Any information concerning assets found may be used to determine if such applicant's or recipient's eligibility for other public assistance is affected.

(4) The applicant for or recipient of public assistance and welfare, or his representative, shall have an opportunity to examine all applications and pertinent records concerning said applicant or recipient which constitute a basis for denial, modification, or termination of such public assistance and welfare or to examine such records in case of a fair hearing.

(5) Any person who violates subsection (1) or (3) of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

26-1-115. County departments - district departments. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, there shall be established in each county of the state a county department of social services which shall consist of a county board of social services, a county director of social services, and such additional employees as may be necessary for the efficient performance of public assistance and welfare activities, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, and social services.

(2) With the approval of the state department, two or more counties may jointly establish a district department of social services. All duties and responsibilities set forth in this title for county departments shall also apply to district departments.

26-1-116. County boards - district boards. (1) (a) The county board shall consist of the board of county commissioners in each county; except that "board of county commissioners" as used in this title, in the city and county of Denver, means the department or agency with the responsibility for public assistance and welfare activities and, in the city and county of Broomfield, means the city council or a board or commission appointed by the city and county of Broomfield.

(b) In the case of a district department established pursuant to section 26-1-115 (2), the district board shall consist of not less than three members, and each county in the district shall select one or more of its county commissioners to serve as a member of the district board. The district board shall, in relation to the district department, have all the powers, duties, and responsibilities which the county board has in relation to the county department.

(2) The county board shall elect a chairman who shall preside at meetings and, when authorized by the board, shall sign all necessary documents for the board.

(3) The county board may hold a meeting to address the public assistance and welfare duties, responsibilities, and activities of the county department in conjunction with a meeting of the board of county commissioners, upon full and timely notice given pursuant to the provisions of section 24-6-402, C.R.S. The county board shall act in accordance with rules adopted by the state board when addressing public assistance and welfare duties, responsibilities, and activities of the county department.

ANNOTATION

County board is subordinate to state. The county board of social services is set up as a subordinate agency or arm of the state. It is bound by, inter alia, the fiscal and personnel rules set up by the state board of social services. Martin v. District Court, 191 Colo. 107, 550 P.2d 864 (1976).

Pursuant to statute, county boards of social services act as agents of the state board, and are bound by the rules promulgated by the state board. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Merit Sys. Council, 662 P.2d 1093 (Colo. App. 1982).

County board lacks standing to obtain judicial review of merit system council action. In the absence of an express statutory right, the county board lacks standing or any other legal authority to obtain judicial review of an action of the merit system council. Martin v. District Court, 191 Colo. 107, 550 P.2d 864 (1976).

A county board of social services is not an adversely affected or aggrieved "party" empowered to bring an action for judicial review of an agency action. Martin v. District Court, 191 Colo. 107, 550 P.2d 864 (1976).

Where the state board of social services is a party to judicial review proceedings, as a result of which a settlement agreement was reached, reinstating an employee suspended by a county department of social services, the county board and the county department, as subordinates of the state agency, are bound by the state department's actions settling the judicial review proceedings. Accordingly, the county board and the county department are without standing to seek judicial review of the merit system council's order implementing the settlement agreement, and the board of county commissioners is likewise without standing to seek judicial review. Bd. of County Comm'rs v. Merit Sys. Council, 662 P.2d 1093 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-1-117. County director - district director. (1) It is the duty of the county board to appoint a county director, who shall be charged with the executive and administrative duties and responsibilities of the county department, subject to the policies, rules, and regulations of the state department, and who shall serve as secretary to the county board, unless a secretary is otherwise appointed by the board. The salary of the county director shall be established by the board of county commissioners of the county. The state department shall reimburse the salary of the county director as provided in section 26-1-120.

(2) In the case of a district department established pursuant to section 26-1-115 (2), the district board shall appoint one district director to serve the entire district. Such district director shall be appointed in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as the county director provided for in subsection (1) of this section. The district director shall, in relation to the district department, have all the powers, duties, and responsibilities which the county director has in relation to the county department.

ANNOTATION

County departments functional division of state department. It is clear that the county departments of social services, and the merit system council, are both functional divisions of the state department of social services for the convenient administration of the state program and are not independent entities separate and distinct from the state. Nadeau v. Merit Sys. Council, 36 Colo. App. 362, 545 P.2d 1061 (1975).

Director subject to policies, rules, and regulations of state department. The director of a county department of social services, while appointed by the county board, is subject to the policies, rules, and regulations of the state department. *Martin v. Applied in Dempsey v. City & County of Denver, 649 P.2d 726 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-1-118. Duties of county departments, county directors, and district attorneys.

(1) The county departments or other state designated agencies, where applicable, shall serve as agents of the state department and shall be charged with the administration of public assistance and welfare and related activities in the respective counties in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department.

(2) The county departments or other state designated agencies, where applicable, shall report to the state department at such times and in such manner and form as the state department may from time to time direct. The state department may require a county department to report information concerning county employees, including but not limited to qualifications, work schedules, pay, duties, evaluations, training, and corrective and disciplinary actions. A county department may provide such information by use of a unique identifier for each employee that provides the information without identifying the name of the employee. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent access by the state department to individual employee files, to the extent permitted by state and federal law, for purposes of carrying out the responsibility of the state department for the supervision and administration of programs funded in whole or in part by the state department. The state department shall maintain the confidentiality of such records in a manner consistent with state and federal law.

(3) The county department or other state designated agencies, where applicable, in each county shall submit quarterly and annually to the board of county commissioners a budget containing an estimate and supporting data setting forth the amount of money needed to carry out the provisions of this title.

(4) When appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction and consistent with state department rules and regulations, the county director shall perform under the supervision of such court the function of officer or agent of the court in any social services matters which may be before it.

(5) The county department may receive for placement in foster care any child upon agreement of his parent, his guardian, or any other person having legal custody of such child. Such agreements, provided for in this subsection (5), shall be in writing and on forms prescribed by the state department and may contain any proper and legal provisions for proper care of the child and such other provisions as may be considered necessary by the state department.

(6) The county department shall report, to the district attorney monthly, data relating to fraudulent activities covering, as a minimum, the activities specified in paragraphs (a), (b), and (d) of this subsection (6), and the district attorney shall likewise report, monthly to the county department, the data specified in paragraph (c) of this subsection (6), as follows when applicable:

(a) Investigations (including welfare and district attorney cases accepted for fraud investigation during the month);

(b) Welfare action - assistance denials and assistance reductions;

(c) District attorney action:

(I) Criminal complaints requested during the month;

(II) Criminal complaints declined during the month;

(III) Cases dismissed during the month;

(IV) Cases acquitted during the month;

(V) Convictions during the month;

(VI) Confessions of judgments (notes);

(d) Recoveries:

(I) Fines and penalties _____ (in dollars);

(II) Restitutions ordered _____ (in dollars);

(III) Restitutions collected _____ (in dollars).

(7) The counties may prepare and issue to all payees, excluding heads of households in nonpublic assistance food stamp cases, at the time of delivery of any public assistance, a hermetically sealed photo identification card which is manufactured in such a secure manner as to resist duplication or intrusion and containing the full name, a card identification number, and any other data which would insure proper identification. A county department shall refer to the appropriate law enforcement agency for investigation, within ten working days after discovery, any information it may have concerning the improper use of a photo identification card by a person not eligible to possess such card.

(8) Starting in the calendar year 1979, no less than eight hours of fraud prevention training shall be given to all eligibility technicians, caseworkers, resource investigators, homemakers, supervisors, and such other persons within the county department as the county director deems necessary, who have not previously received such training. Such training shall be conducted by a law enforcement agency or its appropriate professional association.

26-1-119. County staff. The county director, with the approval of the county board, shall appoint such staff as may be necessary as determined by the state department rules to administer public assistance and welfare and child welfare activities within his or her county. Such staff shall be appointed and shall serve in accordance with a merit system for the selection, retention, and promotion of county department employees as described in section 26-1-120. The salaries of the members of such staff shall be fixed in accordance with the rules and salary schedules prescribed by the state department; except that, once a county transfers its county employees to a successor merit system as provided in section 26-1-120, the salaries shall be fixed by the county commissioners.

26-1-121. Appropriations - food distribution programs. (1) (a) For carrying out the duties and obligations of the state department of human services and county departments under the provisions of this title and for matching such federal funds or meeting maintenance of effort requirements as may be available for public assistance and welfare activities in the state, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), social services, child welfare services, rehabilitation, programs for the aging and for veterans, and related activities, the general assembly, in accordance with the constitution and laws of the state of Colorado, shall make adequate appropriations for the payment of such costs, pursuant to the budget prepared by the executive director.

(b) Subject to the provisions of section 26-1-109 (2), if the federal law shall provide federal funds, in cash or in another form such as food stamps, for public assistance and welfare activities, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, social services, and child welfare services, not otherwise provided for in this title, the state department is authorized to make such payments or offer such services in accordance with the requirements accompanying said federal funds within the limits of available state appropriations.

(c) When the executive director determines that adequate appropriations for the payment of the costs described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) have not been made and that an overexpenditure of an appropriation will occur based upon the state department's estimates, the state board may take actions consistent with state and federal law to bring the rate of expenditure into line with available funds. The general assembly declares that case load and utilization based on medical necessity are legitimate reasons for supplemental funding.

(2) There shall be appropriated by the general assembly from the general fund for the costs of administering the assistance payments, food stamps, social services, and other public assistance and welfare functions of the state department and the state's share of the costs of administering such functions by the county departments amounts sufficient for the proper and efficient performance of the duties imposed upon them by law, including a legal advisor appointed by the attorney general. The general assembly shall make two separate appropriations, one for the administrative costs of the state department and another for the administrative costs of the county departments. Any applicable matching federal funds shall be apportioned in accordance with the federal regulations accompanying such funds. Any unobligated and unexpended balances of such state funds so appropriated remaining at the end of each fiscal year shall be credited to the state general fund.

(3) The expenses of training personnel for special skills relating to public assistance and welfare activities, including but not limited to assistance payments, food stamps, social services, child welfare services, rehabilitation, and programs for the aging, as such expenses shall be determined and approved by the state department, may be paid from whatever state and federal funds are available for such training purposes.

(4) (a) The state department is authorized to charge an administrative fee for commodities delivered to agencies that receive these commodities through food distribution programs authorized by the United States department of agriculture pursuant to 7 CFR 250.1 et seq., as amended, including the "National School Lunch Program", the "Child and Adult Care Food Program", and the "Summer Food Service Program". The department shall collect the administrative fee authorized pursuant to this subsection (4) on a monthly basis from agencies that receive commodities from such programs.

(b) All administrative fees collected from agencies pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the food distribution program service fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this paragraph (b) as the "fund". The moneys in the fund shall be continuously appropriated to the state department to defray the cost of administering the food distribution programs specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (4). Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of administering the food distribution programs specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) may be invested by the state as provided in section 24-36-113, C.R.S. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. The fund balances shall comply with any applicable federal laws or regulations. At the end of each fiscal year, any unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

ANNOTATION

Former provision held unconstitutional. A requirement that any balances remaining in the administrative account at the end of the biennium commencing July 1, 1937, should be disbursed as the general assembly should direct, to the extent that such balances contained unused money arising from the five percent of the pension fund to be used in payment of administrative expenses, was unconstitutional and void. Davis v. Pensioners Protective Ass'n, 110 Colo. 380, 135 P.2d 142 (1943).

Budget need not describe every medical procedure eligible for reimbursement. Colorado's constitution requires neither the general assembly nor the department of social services to prepare or adopt a budget describing each or any particular medical procedure eligible for reimbursement under the Colorado medical assistance act (article 4 of this title). *Dodge v. 26-1-122. County appropriations and expenditures - advancements - procedures. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section and section 26-1-122.5, the board of county commissioners in each county of this state shall annually appropriate as provided by law such funds as shall be necessary to defray the county department's twenty percent share of the overall cost of providing the assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), and social services activities delivered in the county, including the costs allocated to the administration of each, and shall include in the tax levy for such county the sums appropriated for that purpose. Such appropriation shall be based upon the county social services budget prepared by the county department pursuant to section 26-1-124, after taking into account state advancements provided for in this section.

(b) In the case of a district department, each county forming a part of said district shall appropriate the funds necessary to defray its proportionate share of the costs of assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), and social services activities of such individual county based on the ratio set out in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1).

(c) Additional funds shall be made available by the board of county commissioners if the county funds so appropriated prove insufficient to defray the county department's twenty percent share of actual costs for assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), and social services activities, including the administrative costs of each.

(d) Under no circumstances shall any county expend county funds in an amount to exceed its twenty percent share of actual costs for assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), and social services activities, including the administrative costs of each, except as provided in paragraph (i) of subsection (4) of this section.

(2) (a) The county boards, in accordance with the rules of the state department, shall file requests with the state department for advancement of funds for the program costs of assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), and social services and for the administrative costs of each. The state department shall determine the requirements of each county for such program costs and administrative costs, taking into consideration available funds and all pertinent facts and circumstances, and shall certify by voucher to the controller the amounts to be paid to each county. The amounts so certified shall be paid from the state treasury upon voucher of the state department and warrant of the controller and shall be credited by the county treasurer to the county social services fund in accordance with the law and rules of the state department.

(b) For purposes of operating the electronic benefits transfer service as authorized in section 26-2-104 once the service has been fully developed and implemented in any county, the state department shall determine the program costs and administrative costs related to assistance payments and food stamps for each county. Upon implementation of the electronic benefits transfer service in any county, the county share of the program and administrative costs shall either be billed to the county or deducted from appropriate advances to the county or from the county block grant allocation for implementation of the Colorado works program pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title. The cost of administering the electronic benefits transfer service shall not exceed the proportional cost per client that would have been paid by counties to issue benefits through the nonelectronic benefits system for the same fiscal year. Any savings that result from the use of the electronic benefits transfer service shall be shared among the state and local governments in proportion to such entities' contribution to the electronic benefits transfer service.

(3) (a) County departments shall keep such records and accounts in relation to the costs of administering assistance payments, the costs of administering food stamps, and the costs of administering social services as the state department shall prescribe by rules. Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, all administrative costs shall be allocated, under rules of the state department, to either the performance of assistance payments functions, the performance of food stamp functions, or the performance of social services functions.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section and section 26-1-122.5, if the county departments are administered in accordance with the policies and rules of the state department for the administration of county departments, eighty percent of the costs of administering assistance payments, food stamps, and social services in the county departments shall be advanced to the county by the state treasurer from funds appropriated or made available for such purpose, upon authorization of the state department, but in no event shall the state department authorize expenditures greater than the annual appropriation by the general assembly for the state's share of such administrative costs of the county departments. As funds are advanced, adjustment shall be made from subsequent monthly payments for those purposes.

(c) For purposes of this article, and except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of this section, under rules of the state department, administrative costs shall include: Salaries of the county director and employees of the county department staff engaged in the performance of assistance payments, food stamps, and social services activities; the county's payments on behalf of such employees for old age and survivors' insurance or pursuant to a county officers' and employees' retirement plan and for any health insurance plan, if approved by the state department; the necessary travel expenses of the county board and the administrative staff of the county department in the performance of their duties; necessary telephone and telegraph; necessary equipment and supplies; necessary payments for postage and printing, including the printing and preparation of county warrants required for the administration of the county department; and such other administrative costs as may be approved by the state department; but advancements for office space, utilities, and fixtures may be made from state funds only if federal matching funds are available.

(4) (a) County departments shall keep such records and accounts in relation to assistance payments program costs and social services program costs as the state department shall prescribe by rules and as may be required in part 7 of article 2 of this title. All program costs shall be allocated, under rules of the state department, to either assistance payments or social services.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (4) and subsection (6) of this section, eighty percent of the amount expended for assistance payments program costs and social services program costs or the amount equal to the state's share of the amount expended as determined pursuant to section 26-1-122.5 shall be advanced to the county by the state treasurer from funds appropriated or made available for such purpose upon authorization of the state department pursuant to the provisions of this title. As funds are advanced, adjustment shall be made from subsequent monthly payments for those purposes.

(c) For purposes of this article and except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of this section, under rules of the state department, program costs shall include: Amounts expended for assistance payments and social services (except for items enumerated in subsection (3) (c) of this section) under programs for aid to the needy disabled, aid to the blind, child welfare services, expenses of treatment to prevent blindness or restore eyesight as defined in section 26-2-121, funeral and burial expenses as defined in section 26-2-129, and state supplementation under part 2 of article 2 of this title.

(d) Whenever any county, by reason of an emergency or other temporary condition, shall be unable to meet its necessary financial obligations for other public assistance purposes, and at the same time meet its requirements for assistance payments and social services under the program for aid to the needy disabled, the state department may in its discretion, upon consideration of the conditions and requirements of this title, reimburse such county in excess of eighty percent of the amount expended for assistance payments and social services under such program. The state department shall determine the amount of such excess reimbursement and the period of time during which such excess reimbursement shall be made. For such purpose, the state department may use not to exceed five percent of the total amount allocated to it by the state for administrative and program costs for assistance payments and social services under the program for which the excess reimbursement is provided.

(e) When a county department provides or purchases certain specialized social services for public assistance applicants, recipients, or others to accomplish self-support, self-care, or better family life, including but not limited to day care, homemaker services, foster care, and services to mentally retarded persons, in accordance with applicable rules, the state may advance funds to such county department at a rate in excess of eighty percent within available appropriations, but not to exceed the amount expended by the county department for such services. The county department contribution shall be for the period from January 1, 1981, through June 30, 1981, ten percent, and beginning July 1, 1981, five percent for the aid to the needy disabled home care program, the special needs of the disabled program, aid to the blind home care program, the special needs of the blind program, the adult foster care program, and other programs providing public assistance in the form of social services required by the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, for the purpose of establishing services which promote self-sufficiency for adult clients. As funds are advanced, adjustment shall be made from subsequent monthly payments for those purposes. The expenses of training personnel to provide these services as determined and approved by the state department shall be paid from whatever state and federal funds are available for such training purposes.

(f) County departments shall provide or contract to provide a central information and referral service for all available services in the county which may prevent or reduce inappropriate institutional care through the use of community-based or home-based care.

(g) The state department is authorized to provide not more than ten additional home-maker positions to be located in Adams, Larimer, Garfield, Otero, and Morgan counties. Reimbursement to each county for one hundred percent homemaker costs shall be based on a minimum case load of ten clients per reimbursed position which clients are currently in or would be admitted to skilled or intermediate care facilities or hospitals and who would not otherwise be served by current county staffing. Reports shall be provided monthly to the joint budget committee.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the county department may spend in excess of twenty percent of actual costs for the purpose of matching federal funds for the administration of the child support enforcement program or for the administrative costs of activities involving food stamp, public assistance, or medical assistance fraud investigations or prosecutions.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the county department may receive and spend federal funds to which it is entitled by reason of the county's expenditures in excess of the twenty percent required by subsection (1) of this section for any social services activity that has been approved by the department as an activity that is eligible for reimbursement under any federal program. Acceptance and expenditure of such federal funds shall in no way affect the state's share of and contribution to such payments, and the county shall be solely responsible for the provision of the nonfederal share that is in excess of the twenty percent.

(j) Repealed.

(k) (I) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the county department may receive and spend federal funds to which it is entitled based on the county's certification of public expenditures made by other entities within the county, which expenditures:

(A) Are from sources other than the county social services fund;

(B) Are in excess of the twenty percent required by subsection (1) of this section; and

(C) Are for a social services activity that has been approved by the state department as an activity that is eligible for reimbursement under a federal program.

(II) Acceptance and expenditure of federal funds pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (k) shall not affect the state's share of and contribution to the assistance payments program costs and social services program costs. The county shall be solely responsible for certifying the nonfederal share that is in excess of the county's twenty-percent share. The state department may retain up to five percent of any federal funds received by a county department pursuant to this paragraph (k). In addition, the state, in accordance with the provisions of section 26-1-109 (4) (d), shall recover any federal funds received by the county through the certification of public expenditures that are subsequently determined to be ineligible for federal reimbursement.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6) of this section, if in any fiscal year the annual appropriation by the general assembly for the state's share, together with any available federal funds for any income maintenance or social services program, or the administration of either, is not sufficient to advance to the counties the full applicable state share of costs, said program or the administration thereof shall be temporarily reduced by the state board so that all available state and federal funds shall continue to constitute eighty percent of the costs.

(6) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the board of county commissioners in each county of this state shall annually appropriate as provided by law such funds as shall be necessary to defray the county's maintenance of effort requirement for the Colorado works program, created in part 7 of article 2 of this title, and the Colorado child care assistance program, created in part 8 of article 2 of this title, including the costs allocated to the administration of each, and shall include in the tax levy for such county the sums appropriated for that purpose. The county's maintenance of effort requirement for the Colorado works program for state fiscal year 1997-98 and for state fiscal years thereafter shall be the targeted spending level identified in section 26-2-714 (6). Such appropriation shall be based upon the county social services budget prepared by the county department pursuant to section 26-1-124, after taking into account state advancements provided for in this section.

(b) Additional funds shall be made available by the board of county commissioners if the county funds so appropriated prove insufficient to defray the county department's maintenance of effort requirements for the Colorado works program and the Colorado child care assistance program, including the costs allocated to the administration of each.

(c) The state department shall establish rules concerning what shall constitute administrative costs and program costs for the Colorado works program. The state treasurer shall make advancements to county departments for the costs of administering the Colorado works program and the Colorado child care assistance program from funds appropriated or made available for such purpose, upon authorization of the state department; except that in no event shall the state department authorize expenditures greater than the annual appropriation by the general assembly for such administrative costs of the county departments. As funds are advanced, adjustment shall be made from subsequent monthly payments for those purposes.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For note, "Aid to Families with Dependent Children — A Study of Welfare Assistance", see 44 Den. L.J. 102 (1967).

Code funding scheme constitutional. The counties retain sufficient control over the funds raised by levy under the code to be deemed the taxing authorities so that, since the levies fall uniformly upon the same class of property within each county, the funding scheme does not violate the constitutional provision requiring uniformity of taxation. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

Financing provisions of social services code not violative of equal protection because a rational relationship exists between the requirement that local entities must support a portion of the costs of programs serving the disadvantaged within their localities and the purposes of the code. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

Counties must produce their 20 percent of aid to dependent children whether it be from contingency funds, an excess levy, registered warrants, sales tax, or otherwise. State Bd. of Soc. Servs. v. Billings, 175 Colo. 380, 487 P.2d 1110 (1971).

The state department of social services must require as a condition for a county to receive grants-in-aid that the county shall bear the proportion of the total expense of furnishing aid as fixed by law. State Bd. of Soc. Servs. v. Billings, 175 Colo. 380, 487 P.2d 1110 (1971).

County commissioners lack discretion to determine aid recipients. The county commissioners do not have discretion to decide who is going to receive aid to dependent children benefits, nor how much each person will receive, nor to rescind the benefits awarded to a person. State Bd. of Soc. Servs. v. Billings, 175 Colo. 380, 487 P.2d 1110 (1971).

County's share of payments under this section are not a "subsidy." Attempted turnback by county of its responsibilities under human services code pursuant to art. X, § 20(9), of the state constitution was invalid because when a county (itself a political subdivision of the state) attempts to subsidize the state, the state, through the county, contributes to itself. Romer v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, Weld County, 897 P.2d 779 (Colo. 1995).

Passage of art. X, § 20, of the state constitution did not change the mixed state and local character of social services. Romer v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, Weld County, 897 P.2d 779 (Colo. 1995).

26-1-122.5. County appropriation increases - limitations. (1) Beginning in calendar fiscal year 1994 and for each calendar fiscal year thereafter to and including calendar fiscal year 1997, the board of county commissioners in each county of this state shall annually appropriate funds for the county share of the administrative costs and program costs of public assistance and food stamps in the county in an amount equal to the actual county share for the previous fiscal year adjusted by an amount equal to the actual county share for the previous fiscal year multiplied by the percentage of change in property tax revenue.

(2) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "County share" means the actual amount of the county share for the previous fiscal year. "County share" shall not include:

(I) The amount expended by the county from the county contingency fund or the county tax base relief fund pursuant to section 26-1-126;

(II) The amount expended by the county for general assistance pursuant to part 1 of article 17 of title 30, C.R.S.; and

(III) The amount expended by the county for programs or services provided by the county on its own, without requirements or funding from any other governmental agency.

(b) "Percentage of change in property tax revenue" means the difference between the total property tax levied for the previous fiscal year less the amount levied for debt service for the previous fiscal year and the total property tax levied for the year for which the percentage of change in tax revenue is being calculated less the amount levied for debt service for the year in which the percentage of change in tax revenue is being calculated divided by the total property tax levied for the previous fiscal year less the amount levied for debt service for the previous fiscal year.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 26-1-122, no county in the state shall be required to contribute more than the amount set forth in subsection (1) of this section in any fiscal year. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the ability of a county to establish programs or services provided by the county on its own, without requirements or funding from any other governmental agency.

(5) Any amounts remaining in the county social services fund created in section 26-1-123 at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the county fund for expenditure as determined by the board of county commissioners for administrative costs and program costs of public assistance, medical assistance, and food stamps.

(6) The limitation set forth in this section on the increase in the county share of the administrative costs and program costs of public assistance and food stamps will result in increased costs to the state. By making state funds available, the state is encouraging counties not to exercise any right a county may have pursuant to section 20 (9) of article X of the Colorado constitution to reduce or end its share of the costs of public assistance and food stamps for the county for three fiscal years following the fiscal year in which the state funds are received. If a county accepts funds from the state based on the limitation provided in this section for any fiscal year, the county agrees not to exercise any rights the county may have to reduce or end its share of the costs of public assistance and food stamps for the fiscal year in which the funds are accepted. Nothing in this subsection (6) or any agreement pursuant to this subsection (6) shall be construed to affect the existence or status of any rights accruing to the state or any county pursuant to section 20 (9) of article X of the Colorado constitution.

(7) In the event that there are any funds remaining in the department of human services budget which were appropriated for fiscal year 1994-95 to cover the additional state share of expenses required as a result of the limitation established in this section, the executive director of the department of human services shall distribute such remaining funds to counties whose assessed valuation declined between calendar year 1992 and 1993 if such county provides evidence to the department in 1994 that the county has a shortfall. Distributions to counties pursuant to this subsection (7) shall be made on a pro rata basis and shall not exceed the amount of the county's shortfall. For purposes of this section, "shortfall" means the amount by which a county's 1992 county share exceeds the property tax revenue collected by the county through its 1992 social services mill levy levied on the county's 1992 assessed valuation.

26-1-123. County social services fund. (1) A fund to be known as the "county social services fund" is hereby created and established in each of the counties of the state of Colorado, which fund shall consist of such accounts as may from time to time be established pursuant to rules of the state board.

(2) The county social services fund shall consist of all moneys appropriated by the board of county commissioners for public assistance and welfare and related purposes; all moneys allotted, allocated, or apportioned to the county by the state department; such funds as are granted to the state of Colorado by the federal government for public assistance and welfare and related purposes and allocated to the county by the state department; and such other moneys as may be provided from time to time from other sources. The fund shall be available for the program and administrative costs of the county department.

(3) (a) The county board shall administer the fund pursuant to rules adopted by the state department. The county treasurer shall be the treasurer and custodian of the fund and shall disburse money from the fund only upon special county social services warrants drawn by the person duly appointed by the county board. The county treasurer shall not collect any fee as provided in section 30-1-102, C.R.S., for the collection or deposit of any moneys in the county social services fund. Warrants shall be signed by one member of the county board, who shall be designated by resolution for that purpose, and also signed by the person duly appointed by the county board. Such signatures shall indicate the approval of the board of county commissioners and the county board of social services. At such time as Title XVI of the social security act, as amended by Public Law 92-603, becomes effective, the state board by rule may make other provision for the issuance and signing of warrants under the old age pension, aid to the blind, and aid to the needy disabled.

(b) All increased bonding fees necessitated by reason of the custody by the county treasurer of the county social services fund shall be a part of the administrative costs of the county department and shall be paid by the county board.

26-1-124. County social services budget. (1) As a part of the county budget and in conformity with the county budget law and the rules of the state board, a county social services budget shall be prepared by the county director and reviewed by the county board.

(2) Before such budget is adopted by the board of county commissioners, it shall be submitted by the county board to the state department for review. The state department review shall include an assessment as to whether the county budget includes adequate funding for the county's maintenance of effort for the Colorado works program created in part 7 of article 2 of this title and the Colorado child care assistance program created in part 8 of article 2 of this title.

(3) The state department shall prescribe budget forms and shall furnish a sufficient number of such forms to the county board without charge.

26-1-126. County contingency fund - county tax base relief fund - creation.

(1) Repealed.

(1.5) There is hereby created the county tax base relief fund, which shall be expended to supplement county expenditures for public assistance, as provided in this section.

(2) Subject to available appropriations, the state department of human services or the state department of health care policy and financing shall make an advancement, in addition to that provided in section 26-1-122, out of the county tax base relief fund to any county that is eligible for a non-zero amount calculated by using the formula described in subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(b) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2008, and for each fiscal year thereafter, a county's qualification for an advancement from the county tax base relief fund during the fiscal year shall be based upon a three-tiered system whereby a county may qualify for a distribution of moneys from one or more tiers. For any fiscal year in which appropriations to the county tax base relief fund are insufficient to provide advancements from each tier as described in subsections (3) and (4) of this section:

(I) Any moneys appropriated to the county tax base relief fund shall first be used to provide advancements from tier 1;

(II) If sufficient moneys are appropriated to provide all advancements from tier 1, the remaining moneys shall be used to provide advancements from tier 2; and

(III) If sufficient moneys are appropriated to provide all advancements from tier 1 and tier 2, the remaining moneys shall be used to provide advancements from tier 3.

(3) Subject to available appropriations, the amount of the additional advancement for each county for each month commencing on or after July 1, 2008, shall be the total of amounts calculated for each of the three tiers from which the county qualifies to receive a distribution of moneys pursuant to section 26-1-126 (2.1) (b), as follows:

(a) A distribution of moneys from tier 1 shall be calculated as seventy-five percent of the remainder of the equation X minus Y, where:

(I) X equals the sum of the monthly amount of the county's obligations pursuant to section 26-1-122 and the county share of the monthly amount expended for administrative costs of medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-1-122, C.R.S., and section 26-1-122; and

(II) Y equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 3.0 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve.

(b) For a county not receiving a distribution of moneys from tier 1, the distribution from tier 2 shall be calculated as fifty percent of the remainder of the equation X minus Y, where:

(I) X equals the sum of the monthly amount of the county's obligations pursuant to section 26-1-122 and the county share of the monthly amount expended for administrative costs of medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-1-122, C.R.S., and section 26-1-122; and

(II) Y equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.5 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve.

(c) For a county that receives a distribution of moneys from tier 1, the distribution from tier 2 shall be calculated as fifty percent of the remainder of the equation X minus Y, where:

(I) X equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 3.0 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve; and

(II) Y equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.5 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve.

(d) For a county not receiving a distribution of moneys from tier 2, the distribution from tier 3 shall be calculated as twenty-five percent of the remainder of the equation X minus Y, where:

(I) X equals the sum of the monthly amount of the county's obligations pursuant to section 26-1-122 and the county share of the monthly amount expended for administrative costs of medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-1-122, C.R.S., and section 26-1-122; and

(II) Y equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.0 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve.

(e) For a county that receives a distribution of moneys from tier 2, the distribution from tier 3 shall be calculated as twenty-five percent of the remainder of the equation X minus Y, where:

(I) X equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.5 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve; and

(II) Y equals the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.0 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county, divided by twelve.

(4) (a) (I) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of subsection (2.1) of this section, in the event appropriations are insufficient to cover advancements from one or more tiers as provided for in this section, the advancements from a tier from which appropriations are insufficient to cover all advancements from that tier shall be advanced to each county that is eligible to receive an advancement from that tier in an equitable manner, such that each such county shall have the same proportion of the county's obligations paid through the combination of its property tax revenue available and its advancement from the county tax base relief fund.

(II) As used in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a):

(A) "County's obligations" means a county department's share of the overall cost of providing the assistance payments, food stamps (except the value of food stamp coupons), and social services activities delivered in the county, including the costs allocated to the administration of each, as described in section 26-1-122; and the county share of the administrative costs of medical assistance in the county, as described in section 25.5-1-122, C.R.S.

(B) "Property tax revenue available" means the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 3.0 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county if moneys are insufficient to cover advancements from tier 1, the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.5 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county if moneys are insufficient to cover advancements from tier 2, or the amount of moneys that would be raised by a levy of 2.0 mills on the property valued for assessment in the county if moneys are insufficient to cover advancements from tier 3.

(b) (I) The executive director of the department may, on or after May 1 of any fiscal year and before the forty-fifth day after the close of the fiscal year:

(A) Transfer unexpended general fund moneys in the county tax base relief fund line item of the general appropriation act to offset general fund over-expenditures in the county administration line in the general appropriation act; and

(B) Transfer unexpended general fund moneys in the county administration line in the general appropriation act to offset general fund over-expenditures in the county tax base relief fund line item of the general appropriation act.

(II) The transfers authorized by subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) shall be in addition to any other transfers within the department that are authorized by law or that are authorized in the general appropriation act and are required to implement appropriations conditioned on the distribution or transfer of the appropriated amounts.

(III) The total amount of moneys transferred pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) shall not exceed one million dollars for any fiscal year.

(5) Each county eligible for county tax base relief fund moneys pursuant to this section shall only be responsible for an amount equal to the county's pro rata share of the general assembly's appropriation to the county tax base relief fund. If state and county appropriations are insufficient to meet the administrative and program costs of public assistance and the administrative costs of medical assistance and food stamps, then the executive director of the department of human services, the executive director of the department of health care policy and financing, and the state board of human services shall act pursuant to sections 26-1-121 (1) (c) and 26-1-122 (5) to reduce the rate of expenditure so that it matches the available funds.

ANNOTATION

Code funding scheme constitutional. The counties retain sufficient control over the funds raised by levy under the code to be deemed the taxing authorities so that, since the levies fall uniformly upon the same class of property within each county, the funding scheme does not violate the constitutional provision requiring uniformity of taxation. State Dept. of Soc.

Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

Financing provisions of social services code not violative of equal protection because a rational relationship exists between the requirement that local entities must support a portion of the costs of programs serving the disadvantaged within their localities and the purposes of the code. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

This statute requires that state provide sufficient funding to fulfill the justifiable claims of counties eligible for assistance. State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985) (decided prior to 1985 amendment to this section and enactment of § 26-1-126.5).

Subsection (5) does not provide the county with a right to seek judicial review of the actions of a superior agency. Romer v. Bd. of

The statute does not confer a substantive legal right on a county to sue for monetary damages. Romer v. Bd. of County Comm'rs of the County of Pueblo, 956 P.2d 566 (Colo. 1998).

For discussion of history of Colorado welfare programs and current public assistance financing scheme, see State Dept. of Soc. Servs. v. Bd. of County Comm'rs, 697 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1985).

26-1-126.5. Effect of supreme court's interpretation of section 26-1-126, creating the county contingency fund for public assistance and welfare programs. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the Colorado supreme court decision entitled Colorado Department of Social Services v. Board of County Commissioners of the County of Pueblo and Samuel J. Corsentino, No. 83SA316, March 11, 1985, which interpreted section 26-1-126 to require the general assembly to fully fund the county contingency fund, leaving no discretion with the general assembly to determine annually the level of funding of said fund, has not been adopted by the general assembly. The general assembly specifically rejects this interpretation and any implication in such decision which would result in any state liability for amounts not appropriated for such fund in previous fiscal years.

26-1-127. Fraudulent acts. (1) Any person who obtains or any person who willfully aids or abets another to obtain public assistance or vendor payments or medical assistance as defined in this title to which the person is not entitled or in an amount greater than that to which the person is justly entitled or payment of any forfeited installment grants or benefits to which the person is not entitled or in a greater amount than that to which the person is entitled, by means of a willfully false statement or representation, or by impersonation, or by any other fraudulent device, commits the crime of theft, which crime shall be classified in accordance with section 18-4-401 (2), C.R.S., and which crime shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-401, C.R.S., if the crime is classified as a felony, or section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S., if the crime is classified as a misdemeanor. To the extent not otherwise prohibited by state or federal law, any person violating the provisions of this subsection (1) is disqualified from participation in any public assistance program under article 2 of this title for one year for a first offense, two years for a second offense, and permanently for a third or subsequent offense. Such disqualification is mandatory and is in addition to any other penalty imposed by law.

(1.5) To the extent not otherwise prohibited by state or federal law, any person against whom a county department of social services or the state department obtains a civil judgment in a state or federal court of record in this state based on allegations that the person obtained or willfully aided and abetted another to obtain public assistance or vendor payments or medical assistance as defined in this title to which the person is not entitled or in an amount greater than that to which the person is justly entitled or payment of any forfeited installment grants or benefits to which the person is not entitled or in a greater amount than that to which the person is entitled, by means of a willfully false statement or representation, or by impersonation, or by any other fraudulent device, is disqualified from participation in any public assistance program under article 2 of this title for one year for a first incident, two years for a second incident, and permanently for a third or subsequent incident. Such disqualification is mandatory and is in addition to any other remedy available to a judgment creditor.

(2) (a) If, at any time during the continuance of public assistance under this title, the recipient thereof acquires any property or receives any increase in income or property, or both, in excess of that declared at the time of determination or redetermination of eligibility or if there is any other change in circumstances affecting the recipient's eligibility, it shall be the duty of the recipient to notify the county department within thirty days in writing or take steps to secure county assistance to prepare such notification in writing of the acquisition of such property, receipt of such income, or change in such circumstances; and any recipient of such public assistance who knowingly fails to do so commits a class 3 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S. If such property or income is received infrequently or irregularly and does not exceed a total value of ninety dollars in any calendar quarter, such property or income shall be excluded from the thirty-day written reporting requirement but shall be reported at the time of the next redetermination of eligibility of a recipient.

(b) The county departments shall use an application form which contains appropriate and conspicuous notice of the penalties for fraud and shall deliver to each recipient, with the first check and each redetermination thereafter, a notice explaining what changes in circumstances require written notification to the county department under paragraph (a) of this subsection (2). The county department shall make available suitable forms which may be used for the purposes of this notification.

(3) Any recipient or vendor who falsifies any report required under this title commits a class 3 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S.

(4) Subject to available appropriations, additional costs incurred by the district attorneys in enforcing this section shall be billed to the county departments in the judicial district in such proportion for each county as specified in section 20-1-302, C.R.S., and the county departments shall pay such costs as an expense of public assistance administration.

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the state department, county departments, or district attorney may elect, in the alternative, to prosecute under the general criminal statutes.

26-1-127.5. Prevention of erroneous payments to prisoners - incentives. (1) In the event the identifying information transmitted to the state department and the county departments pursuant to section 17-26-118.5 (2), C.R.S., results in the termination of benefits from any program administered by the state department or county departments, the state department or county department shall pay as a reward to the sheriff ten percent of each of the following:

(a) Any portion of one month's benefit that would have been payable to the incarcerated recipient that consists of state or county moneys;

(b) Any portion of one month's benefit that would have been payable to the incarcerated recipient that consists of federal moneys granted to the state or counties, unless federal law prohibits the use of such grant moneys for the purpose specified in this subsection (1);

(c) Any portion of one month's benefit that would have been payable to the incarcerated recipient that consists of federal moneys made available by waiver for the purpose specified in this subsection (1).

(2) The executive director may apply for any federal waivers necessary to maximize the amount of the incentive payments to sheriffs.

(3) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3), the state department or county departments shall not pay a reward to a sheriff for providing identifying information pursuant to subsection (1) of this section in connection with a participant in the Colorado works program, created pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title, unless the federal government permits any amount paid as a reward to qualify as an expenditure for the purposes of meeting the state maintenance of historic effort required pursuant to section 26-2-713.

(b) The state department or county departments shall not pay a reward as authorized under this section if the state or county costs of implementing the provisions of this section exceed the overall saving of state or county moneys that the state department or county departments estimate shall be realized by implementing this section.

26-1-129. Comprehensive information - packet of aged services and programs - implementation. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, while numerous programs and services are available for the aged, their access to such programs and services is often fragmented due to a lack of knowledge and information, and, as a result, needs which could be met are not. The general assembly further finds that compiling a single information packet on all programs and services would assist the aged in utilizing these programs and services more effectively.

(2) (a) To assist the aged in utilizing existing programs and services for which they may become eligible at sixty-two years of age or older, the state department shall compile a list of all such programs at the federal, state, and local level.

(b) The state department shall supervise the compilation of an information packet containing information on the said programs and services, their eligibility requirements, mode of delivery, and application forms, and shall make a single copy of the compiled information available to specified local agencies serving the aged, including the county departments of social services and the area agencies on aging.

(c) The packet shall contain only the listing of federal, state, and local services and programs, referral agencies, information pamphlets, and application forms. It shall not contain any materials which represent or promote the aims of private agencies or organizations.

(3) The designated local agencies shall:

(a) Provide appropriate assistance to individuals utilizing the information packet; and

(b) Coordinate client referrals to community agencies serving the aged and to institutional and noninstitutional programs, services, and activities within the community, as appropriate.

26-1-130. Applications for licenses - authority to suspend licenses - rules. (1) Every application by an individual for a license issued by the state department or any authorized agent of said department shall require the applicant's name, address, and social security number.

(2) The state department or any authorized agent of the state department shall deny, suspend, or revoke any license pursuant to the provisions of section 26-13-126, and any rules promulgated in furtherance thereof, if the state department or agent thereof receives a notice to deny, suspend, or revoke from the state child support enforcement agency because the licensee or applicant is out of compliance with a court or administrative order for current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, child support arrearages, or child support when combined with maintenance or because the licensee or applicant has failed to comply with a properly issued subpoena or warrant relating to a paternity or child support proceeding. Any such denial, suspension, or revocation shall be in accordance with the procedures specified by rule of the state department and rules promulgated by the state board for the implementation of this section and section 26-13-126.

(3) (a) The state department shall enter into a memorandum of understanding with the state child support enforcement agency, which memorandum shall identify the relative responsibilities of the state department and the state child support enforcement agency with respect to the implementation of this section and section 26-13-126.

(b) The appropriate rule-making body of the state department is authorized to promulgate rules to implement the provisions of this section.

(4) For purposes of this section, "license" means any recognition, authority, or permission that the state department or any authorized agent of said department is authorized by law to issue for an individual to practice a profession or occupation or for an individual to participate in any recreational activity. "License" may include, but is not necessarily limited to, any license, certificate, certification, letter of authorization, or registration issued for an individual to practice a profession or occupation or for an individual to participate in any recreational activity.

26-1-131. (Reserved)

Editor's note: This section was originally enacted in 2004; however section 2 of chapter 328, Session Laws of Colorado 2004, provided that this section would only take effect if the department of human services provided written notice to the revisor of statutes that potential partners for a merger with the Colorado mental health institute were identified. No such notification was received by the revisor of statutes, therefore this section as it appeared in the 2004 Colorado Revised Statutes did not take effect.

26-1-132. Department of human services - rate setting - residential treatment service providers - monitoring and auditing - report. (1) The state department shall develop a rate-setting process consistent with medicaid requirements for providers of residential treatment services in the state of Colorado. Representatives of counties and the provider community shall be involved in the actual development of the rate-setting process. The rate-setting process for rates funded by medicaid shall be approved by the department of health care policy and financing. The rate-setting process developed pursuant to this section may include, but shall not be limited to:

(a) A range for reimbursement that represents a base-treatment rate for serving a child who is subject to out-of-home placement due to dependency and neglect, a child placed in a residential child care facility pursuant to the "Child Mental Health Treatment Act", article 67 of title 27, C.R.S., or a child who has been adjudicated a delinquent, which includes a defined service package to meet the needs of the child;

(b) A request for proposal to contract for specialized service needs of a child, including but not limited to: Substance-abuse treatment services; sex offender services; and services for the developmentally disabled; and

(c) Negotiated incentives for achieving outcomes for the child as defined by the state department, counties, and providers.

(2) In auditing residential treatment providers, the state department shall apply compliance requirements and monitoring functions consistently across all division and monitoring teams.

(3) The rate-setting process developed by the state department, counties, and providers and approved by the department of health care policy and financing pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall include a two- or three-year implementation timeline with implementation beginning in state fiscal year 2008-09.

(4) (a) The state department, in conjunction with the counties and providers, shall submit an initial report to the joint budget committee of the general assembly on or before January 1, 2008. The report shall include the rate-setting process and the implementation timeline developed pursuant to this section.

(b) The department of health care policy and financing and the state department, in consultation with the representatives of the counties and the provider community, shall review the rate-setting process every two years and shall submit any changes to the joint budget committee of the general assembly.

26-1-133.5. Rental properties - fund created. (1) The executive director is authorized to rent surplus facilities on the campuses of the various institutions operated by the state department so long as the rentals are not prohibited by contractual agreement, state law, or other legal restrictions on the state department's possession or use of the property. The state department shall not enter into any lease agreement that would endanger the state's ownership of the property or that is expected to result in a financial loss to the state.

(2) All moneys collected from the rental of surplus facilities pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the department of human services buildings and grounds cash fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund".

(3) The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department to be used in operating, repairing, remodeling, or demolishing the facilities of any properties rented by the state department pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purposes of subsection (3) of this section may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund.

26-1-135. Child welfare action committee - reporting - cash fund - created. (1) As part of the work done by the governor's child welfare action committee, created by executive order B 006 08, the state department shall make periodic reports of findings and recommendations, including a report of the child welfare action committee's initial recommendations, to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, and the joint budget committee on or before January 31, 2009.

(2) (a) (I) There is hereby created in the state treasury the child welfare action committee cash fund, referred to in this section as the "fund". The fund shall be comprised of moneys transferred to the fund in accordance with paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), moneys credited to the fund pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, and any other moneys appropriated to the fund. All interest earned on the investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(II) Moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the department of human services to pay any necessary expenses related to the governor's child welfare action committee, created by executive order B 006 08, and the implementation of any recommendations of the committee.

(III) Any moneys credited to the fund and unexpended at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund.

(b) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, any moneys appropriated from the general fund to the department of human services for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2007, that are unexpended or unencumbered as of the close of the 2007-08 fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund but shall be transferred by the state treasurer and the controller to the child welfare action committee cash fund created in subsection (2) of this section; except that the amount so transferred shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the state treasurer shall transfer to the general fund any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund as of July 1, 2011.

(3) The state department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, or donations from private or public sources for the purposes of this section; except that no gift, grant, or donation may be accepted if it is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with this section or any other law of the state. All private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the child welfare action committee cash fund, created in subsection (2) of this section.

(1) (a) Beginning as soon as practicable, but no later than January 1, 2009, no later than one hundred twenty days prior to release, state department facility personnel shall assist the following persons in applying for medical assistance pursuant to part 1 or 2 of article 5 of title 25.5, C.R.S.:

(I) A person who was receiving medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-5-101 (1) (f) or 25.5-5-201 (1) (j), C.R.S., immediately prior to entering the state department facility and is likely to be terminated from receiving medical assistance while committed or otherwise placed or is reasonably expected to meet the eligibility criteria specified in section 25.5-5-101 (1) (f) or 25.5-5-201 (1) (j), C.R.S., upon release; and

(II) (A) A person who is committed to a state department facility pursuant to part 1 of article 8 of title 16, C.R.S.; or

(B) A person who is a patient or a juvenile who is placed in a state department facility pursuant to court order.

(b) If the person is committed or placed for less than one hundred twenty days, state department personnel shall make a reasonable effort to assist the person in applying for medical assistance as soon as practicable.

(2) As soon as practicable, but no later than January 1, 2009, no later than one hundred twenty days prior to release, state department facility personnel shall assist the following persons in applying for supplemental security income benefits under Title II of the federal "Social Security Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 301, et seq., as amended, and in any associated appeals process:

(a) A person who was eligible for supplemental security income benefits under Title II of the federal "Social Security Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 301, et seq., as amended, immediately prior to entering the state department facility and is likely to be terminated from receiving supplemental security income benefits while committed or otherwise placed, or is reasonably expected to meet the eligibility criteria for supplemental security income benefits upon release; and

(b) (I) A person who is committed to a state department facility pursuant to part 1 of article 8 of title 16, C.R.S.; or

(II) A person who is a patient who is placed in a state department facility pursuant to court order.

(3) The department of health care policy and financing shall provide information and training on medical assistance eligibility requirements and assistance to the facility personnel at each facility to assist in and expedite the application process for medical assistance for a person held in custody who meets the requirements of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section.

(4) The state department shall provide information and education regarding the supplemental security income systems and application processes to personnel at each facility.

(5) (a) For purposes of determining eligibility pursuant to section 25.5-4-205, C.R.S., the county of residence of the person shall be the county specified by the person as his or her county of residence upon release.

(b) The executive director of the department of health care policy and financing shall promulgate rules to simplify the processing of applications for medical assistance pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section and to allow a person determined to be eligible for such medical assistance to access the medical assistance upon release and thereafter. If a county department determines that a person is eligible for medical assistance, the county shall enroll the person in medicaid effective upon his or her release. At the time of the person's release, the facility personnel shall give the person information and paperwork necessary for the person to access medical assistance. The information shall be provided to the facility by the applicable county department.

(c) Each state department facility shall attempt to enter into prerelease agreements with local social security administration offices, and, if appropriate, the county department or the department of health care policy and financing in order to:

(I) Simplify the processing of applications for medical assistance or for supplemental security income to enroll, effective upon release, a person who is eligible for medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-5-101 (1) (f) or 25.5-5-201 (1) (j), C.R.S.; and

(II) Provide the person with the information and paperwork necessary to access medical assistance immediately upon release.

26-1-134. Home- and community-based services for persons with developmental disabilities - cooperation. It is the intent of the general assembly that the department of health care policy and financing and the state department cooperate to the maximum extent possible in designing, implementing, and administering the program authorized under part 4 of article 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.

26-1-135. Child welfare action committee - reporting - cash fund - created. (1) As part of the work done by the governor's child welfare action committee, created by executive order B 006 08, the state department shall make periodic reports of findings and recommendations, including a report of the child welfare action committee's initial recommendations, to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, and the joint budget committee on or before January 31, 2009.

(2) (a) (I) There is hereby created in the state treasury the child welfare action committee cash fund, referred to in this section as the "fund". The fund shall be comprised of moneys transferred to the fund in accordance with paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), moneys credited to the fund pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, and any other moneys appropriated to the fund. All interest earned on the investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(II) Moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the department of human services to pay any necessary expenses related to the governor's child welfare action committee, created by executive order B 006 08, and the implementation of any recommendations of the committee.

(III) Any moneys credited to the fund and unexpended at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund.

(b) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, any moneys appropriated from the general fund to the department of human services for the fiscal year commencing on July 1, 2007, that are unexpended or unencumbered as of the close of the 2007-08 fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund but shall be transferred by the state treasurer and the controller to the child welfare action committee cash fund created in subsection (2) of this section; except that the amount so transferred shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the state treasurer shall transfer to the general fund any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund as of July 1, 2011.

(3) The state department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, or donations from private or public sources for the purposes of this section; except that no gift, grant, or donation may be accepted if it is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with this section or any other law of the state. All private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the child welfare action committee cash fund, created in subsection (2) of this section.

26-1-136. Persons in a department of human services facility - medical benefits application assistance - county of residence - rules. (1) (a) Beginning as soon as practicable, but no later than January 1, 2009, no later than one hundred twenty days prior to release, state department facility personnel shall assist the following persons in applying for medical assistance pursuant to part 1 or 2 of article 5 of title 25.5, C.R.S.:

(I) A person who was receiving medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-5-101 (1) (f) or 25.5-5-201 (1) (j), C.R.S., immediately prior to entering the state department facility and is likely to be terminated from receiving medical assistance while committed or otherwise placed or is reasonably expected to meet the eligibility criteria specified in section 25.5-5-101 (1) (f) or 25.5-5-201 (1) (j), C.R.S., upon release; and

(II) (A) A person who is committed to a state department facility pursuant to part 1 of article 8 of title 16, C.R.S.; or

(B) A person who is a patient or a juvenile who is placed in a state department facility pursuant to court order.

(b) If the person is committed or placed for less than one hundred twenty days, state department personnel shall make a reasonable effort to assist the person in applying for medical assistance as soon as practicable.

(2) As soon as practicable, but no later than January 1, 2009, no later than one hundred twenty days prior to release, state department facility personnel shall assist the following persons in applying for supplemental security income benefits under Title II of the federal "Social Security Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 301, et seq., as amended, and in any associated appeals process:

(a) A person who was eligible for supplemental security income benefits under Title II of the federal "Social Security Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 301, et seq., as amended, immediately prior to entering the state department facility and is likely to be terminated from receiving supplemental security income benefits while committed or otherwise placed, or is reasonably expected to meet the eligibility criteria for supplemental security income benefits upon release; and

(b) (I) A person who is committed to a state department facility pursuant to part 1 of article 8 of title 16, C.R.S.; or

(II) A person who is a patient who is placed in a state department facility pursuant to court order.

(3) The department of health care policy and financing shall provide information and training on medical assistance eligibility requirements and assistance to the facility personnel at each facility to assist in and expedite the application process for medical assistance for a person held in custody who meets the requirements of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section.

(4) The state department shall provide information and education regarding the supplemental security income systems and application processes to personnel at each facility.

(5) (a) For purposes of determining eligibility pursuant to section 25.5-4-205, C.R.S., the county of residence of the person shall be the county specified by the person as his or her county of residence upon release.

(b) The executive director of the department of health care policy and financing shall promulgate rules to simplify the processing of applications for medical assistance pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section and to allow a person determined to be eligible for such medical assistance to access the medical assistance upon release and thereafter. If a county department determines that a person is eligible for medical assistance, the county shall enroll the person in medicaid effective upon his or her release. At the time of the person's release, the facility personnel shall give the person information and paperwork necessary for the person to access medical assistance. The information shall be provided to the facility by the applicable county department.

(c) Each state department facility shall attempt to enter into prerelease agreements with local social security administration offices, and, if appropriate, the county department or the department of health care policy and financing in order to:

(I) Simplify the processing of applications for medical assistance or for supplemental security income to enroll, effective upon release, a person who is eligible for medical assistance pursuant to section 25.5-5-101 (1) (f) or 25.5-5-201 (1) (j), C.R.S.; and

(II) Provide the person with the information and paperwork necessary to access medical assistance immediately upon release.

26-1-137. Persons committed to or placed in a department of human services facility - prohibition against the use of restraints on pregnant women. (1) As used in this section, “facility staff” means the staff of a state department facility or facility supervised by the executive director.

(2) Facility staff, in restraining a woman who is committed to or placed pursuant to this title or title 27, C.R.S., in a state department facility or a facility supervised by the executive director, shall use the least restrictive restraint necessary to ensure safety if the facility staff have actual knowledge or a reasonable belief that the woman is pregnant. The requirement that staff use the least restrictive restraints necessary to ensure safety shall continue during postpartum recovery and transport to or from a facility.

(3) (a) (I) Facility staff or medical staff shall not use restraints of any kind on a pregnant woman during labor and delivery of the child; except that staff may use restraints if:

(A) The medical staff determine that restraints are medically necessary for safe childbirth;

(B) The facility staff or medical staff determine that the woman presents an immediate and serious risk of harm to herself, to other patients, or to medical staff; or

(C) The facility staff determine that the woman poses a substantial risk of escape that cannot reasonably be reduced by the use of other existing means.

(II) Notwithstanding any provision of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) to the contrary, under no circumstances shall staff use leg shackles or waist restraints on a pregnant woman during labor and delivery of the child, postpartum recovery while in a medical facility, or transport to or from a medical facility for childbirth.

(b) The facility or medical staff authorizing the use of restraints on a pregnant woman during labor or delivery of the child shall make a written record of the use of restraints, which record shall include, at a minimum, the type of restraint used, the circumstances that necessitated the use of the restraint, and the length of time the restraint was used. The state department shall retain the record for a minimum of five years and shall make the record available for public inspection with individually identifying information redacted from the record unless the woman who is the subject of the record gives prior written consent for the public release of the record. The written record of the use of restraint shall not constitute a medical record under state or federal law.

(4) After childbirth and upon return to a state department facility or a facility supervised by the executive director, the woman shall be entitled to have a member of the state department’s medical staff present during any strip search.

(5) When a woman’s pregnancy is determined, the facility staff shall inform a pregnant woman committed to or placed in a state department facility or a facility supervised by the executive director in writing in a language and in a manner understandable to the woman of the provisions of this section concerning the use of restraints and the presence of medical staff during a strip search.

(6) The executive director shall ensure that facility staff receive adequate training concerning the provisions of this section.

26-1-139. Child fatality and near fatality prevention - legislative declaration - process - department of human services child fatality review team - reporting - rules.

(1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) It is of the utmost importance and a community responsibility to mitigate the incidents of egregious abuse or neglect, near deaths, or deaths of children in the state due to abuse or neglect. Professionals from disparate disciplines share responsibilities for the safety and well-being of children as well as expertise that can promote that safety and well-being. Multidisciplinary reviews of the incidents of egregious abuse or neglect, near deaths, or deaths of children due to abuse or neglect can lead to a better understanding of the causes of such tragedies and, more importantly, methods of mitigating future incidents of egregious abuse or neglect, near deaths, or deaths.

(b) There is a need for agency transparency and accountability to the public regarding an incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, a near fatality, or a child fatality that involves a suspicion of abuse or neglect when the child or family has had previous involvement with the state or county that was directly related to the incident.

(c) There is a need for a multidisciplinary team to conduct in-depth case reviews after an incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, a near fatality, or a child fatality that involves a suspicion of abuse or neglect and when the child or family has had previous involvement, that was directly related to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality, with a county department within two years prior to the incident. The multidisciplinary review would complement that of the review conducted by the Colorado state child fatality prevention review team in the department of public health and environment pursuant to article 20.5 of title 25, C.R.S. The goal of the multidisciplinary review shall not be to affix blame, but rather to improve understanding of why the incidents of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatalities, or fatalities occur and develop recommendations for mitigation of future incidents of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatalities, or fatalities.

(d) It is the intent of the general assembly to codify the department of human services child fatality review team as well as modify certain aspects of its processes to promote an understanding of the causes of each child's death or near death incident due to abuse or neglect, identify systemic deficiencies in the delivery of services and supports to children and families, and recommend changes to help mitigate future incidents of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatalities, or child deaths.

(e) It is further the intent of the general assembly to comply with the federal "Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 5101 et seq., which requires states to allow for public disclosure of the findings or information about a case of child abuse or neglect that resulted in a child fatality or near fatality.

(2) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Incident of egregious abuse or neglect" means an incident of suspected abuse or neglect involving significant violence, torture, use of cruel restraints, or other similar, aggravated circumstances that may be further defined in rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to this section.

(b) "Near fatality" means a case in which a physician determines that a child is in serious, critical, or life-threatening condition as the result of sickness or injury caused by suspected abuse, neglect, or maltreatment.

(c) "Previous involvement" means a situation in which the county department has received a referral, responded to a report, opened an assessment, provided services, or opened a case in the Colorado TRAILS system; except that the following situations shall not be considered to be "previous involvement":

(I) The situation did not involve abuse or neglect;

(II) The situation occurred when the parent was seventeen years of age or younger and before he or she was the parent of the deceased child; or

(III) The situation occurred with a different family composition and a different alleged perpetrator.

(d) “Suspicious fatality or near fatality” means a fatality or near fatality that is more likely than not to have been caused by abuse or neglect.

(e) “Team” means the department of human services child fatality review team established in rules promulgated pursuant to section 26-1-111 and codified pursuant to subsection (3) of this section.

(3) There is hereby established in the state department the department of human services child fatality review team. The team shall have the following objectives:

(a) To assess the records of each case in which a suspicious incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or child fatality occurred and the child or family had previous involvement with a county department that was directly related to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality within two years prior to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality;

(b) To understand the causes of the reviewed incidents of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatalities, or child fatalities;

(c) To identify any gaps or deficiencies that may exist in the delivery of services to children and their families by public agencies that are designed to mitigate future child abuse, neglect, or death; and

(d) To make recommendations for changes to laws, rules, and policies that will support the safe and healthy development of Colorado’s children.

(4) The team shall have the following duties:

(a) To review the circumstances around the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or child fatality;

(b) To review the services provided to the child, the child’s family, and the perpetrator by the county department for any county with which the family has had previous involvement that was directly related to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality in the two years prior to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality;

(c) To review records and interview individuals, as deemed necessary and not otherwise prohibited by law, involved with or having knowledge of the facts of the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality, including but not limited to all other state and local agencies having previous involvement with the child or family that was directly related to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality within two years prior to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality;

(d) To review the county department’s compliance with statutes, regulations, and relevant policies and procedures that are directly related to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality;

(e) To identify strengths and best practices of service delivery to the child and the child’s family;

(f) To identify factors that may have contributed to conditions leading to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality, including, but not limited to, lack of or unsafe housing, family and social supports, educational life, physical health, emotional and psychological health, and other safety, crisis, and cultural or ethnic issues;

(g) To review supports and services provided to siblings, family members, and agency staff after the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality;

(h) To identify the quality and sufficiency of coordination between state and local agencies;

(i) To develop and distribute the following reports, the content of which shall be determined by rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to subsection (7) of this section:

(I) On or before April 30, 2013, and each April 30 thereafter, an annual child fatality and near fatality review report, absent confidential information, summarizing the reviews required by subsection (5) of this section conducted by the team during the previous year. The team shall post the annual child fatality and near fatality review report on the state department's web site and distribute it to the Colorado state child fatality prevention review team established in the department of public health and environment pursuant to section 25-20.5-406, C.R.S., the governor, the health and human services committee of the senate, and the health and environment committee of the house of representatives, or any successor committees. The annual child fatality and near fatality review report shall be prepared within existing resources.

(II) The final confidential, case-specific review report required pursuant to subsection (5) of this section for each child fatality, near fatality, or incident of egregious abuse or neglect. The final confidential, case-specific review report shall be submitted to the Colorado state child fatality prevention review team established in the department of public health and environment pursuant to section 25-20.5-406, C.R.S.

(III) A case-specific executive summary, absent confidential information, of each incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or child fatality reviewed. The team shall post the case-specific executive summary on the state department's web site.

(5) (a) Each county department shall report to the state department any suspicious incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality of a child within twenty-four hours of the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality. If the county department has had previous involvement that was directly related to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or child fatality within two years prior to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality, the county department shall provide the state department with all relevant reports and documentation regarding its previous involvement with the child within sixty calendar days after the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality. The state department may grant, at its discretion, an extension to a county department for delays outside of the county department's control regarding the receipt of all relevant reports and information critical to an effective review, including but not limited to the final autopsy and law enforcement reports, until such documents can be made available for review by the team.

(b) Within three business days after receiving the information provided under paragraph (a) of this subsection (5), the department shall disclose to the public that information has been received, whether the department is conducting a review of the incident, whether the child was in his or her own home or in foster care, as defined in section 19-1-103 (51.3), C.R.S., and the child's gender and age. The department may disclose the scope of the review.

(c) The team shall complete its review of each incident of egregious abuse or neglect, near fatality, or fatality, draft a confidential, case-specific review report and submit the draft report to any county department with previous involvement within thirty calendar days after the review team meeting. Any county department with previous involvement shall have thirty calendar days after the completion of the draft confidential, case-specific review report to review the draft confidential, case-specific review report and provide a written response to be included in the final confidential, case-specific review report. A confidential, case-specific review report shall be finalized and submitted pursuant to paragraph (e) of this subsection (5) no more than thirty calendar days after the county department's response is received by the team or upon confirmation in writing from the county department that a written response will not be provided.

(d) The proceedings, records, opinions, and deliberations of the department of human services child fatality review team shall be privileged and shall not be subject to discovery, subpoena, or introduction into evidence in any civil action in any manner that would directly or indirectly identify specific persons or cases reviewed by the state department or county department. Nothing in this paragraph (d) shall be construed to restrict or limit the right to discover or use in any civil action any evidence that is discoverable independent of the proceedings of the department of human services child fatality review team.

(e) The final confidential, case-specific review report shall be provided to the executive director, the director for any county or community agency referenced in the report, the county commissioners of any county department with previous involvement, the legislative members of the team appointed pursuant to paragraph (f) of subsection (6) of this section, and the department of public health and environment.

(f) The state department shall post on its web site, within seven business days after the report's finalization, a case-specific executive summary of the final confidential, case-specific review report, absent confidential information as described in paragraph (i) of this subsection (5), of each incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or child fatality reviewed pursuant to this section.

(g) The case-specific executive summary for a child who was in his or her own home at the time of the incident shall include:

(I) The age and gender of the child and a description of the child's family;

(II) A statement of whether any child welfare services, as defined in section 26-5-101 (3), were being provided to the child, any member of the child's family, or the person suspected of the abuse or neglect;

(III) The date of the last contact between the agency providing any child welfare service and the child, the child's family, or the person suspected of the abuse or neglect; and

(IV) Any other information required by rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to subsection (7) of this section.

(h) The case-specific executive summary for a child who was in foster care, as defined in section 19-1-103 (51.3), C.R.S., at the time of the incident shall include:

(I) The age, gender, and race or ethnicity of the child;

(II) A description of the foster care placement;

(III) The licensing history of the foster care placement; and

(IV) Any other information required by rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to subsection (7) of this section.

(i) The case-specific executive summary or other release or disclosure of information pursuant to this section shall not include:

(I) Any information that would reveal the identity of the child who is the subject of the executive summary, any member of the child's family, any member of the child's household who is a child, or any caregiver of the child;

(II) Any information that would reveal the identity of the person suspected of the abuse or neglect or any employee of any agency that provided child welfare services, as defined in section 26-5-101 (3), to the child or that participated in the investigation of the incident of fatality, near fatality, or egregious abuse or neglect;

(III) Any information that would reveal the identity of a reporter or of any other person who provides information relating to the incident of fatality, near fatality, or egregious abuse or neglect;

(IV) Any information which, if disclosed, would not be in the best interests of the child who is the subject of the report, any member of the child's family, any member of the child's household who is a child, or any caregiver of the child, as determined by the state department in consultation with the county that reported the incident of fatality, near fatality, or egregious abuse or neglect and the district attorney of the county in which the incident occurred, and after balancing the interests of the child, family, household member, or caregiver in avoiding the stigma that might result from disclosure against the interest of the public in obtaining the information.

(V) Any information for which disclosure is not authorized by state law or rule or federal law or regulation.

(j) The state department may not release the case-specific executive summary if the state department, in consultation with the county, determines that making the executive summary available would jeopardize any of the following:

(I) Any ongoing criminal investigation or prosecution or a defendant's right to a fair trial; or

(II) Any ongoing or future civil investigation or proceeding or the fairness of such proceeding.

(k) If at any point in the review process it is determined that the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatality, or fatality is not the result of abuse or neglect, the review shall cease.

(l) The state department or any county department may release to the public any information at any time to correct any inaccurate information reported in the news media, so long as the information released by the state department or county department is not explicitly in conflict with federal law.

(6) The team consists of up to twenty members, appointed on or before September 30, 2011, as follows:

- (a) Three members from the state department, appointed by the executive director;
- (b) Two members from the department of public health and environment, appointed by the executive director of said department;
- (c) Three members representing county departments, appointed by a statewide organization representing county commissioners;
- (d) At least eight additional multidisciplinary members, to be appointed by the members described in paragraphs (a) to (c) of this subsection (6), including but not limited to representatives from the office of the child protection ombudsman and from the fields of child protection, physical medicine, mental health, education, law enforcement, district attorneys, child advocacy, and any others as deemed appropriate;

(e) For the purposes of participating in a specific case review, additional members may be appointed at the discretion of the members described in paragraphs (a) to (c) of this subsection (6) to represent agencies involved with the child or the child's family in the twelve months prior to the incident of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, a near fatality, or fatality; and

(f) One member from the health and environment committee of the house of representatives or any successor committee, to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, and one member from the health and human services committee of the senate or any successor committee, to be appointed by the president of the senate. The members appointed pursuant to this paragraph (f) are nonvoting members and are not required to be present at any meeting of the team.

(7) The state department shall promulgate additional rules, as necessary, for the implementation of this section, including but not limited to the confidentiality of information in incidents of egregious abuse or neglect against a child, near fatalities, or child fatalities.

COLORADO TRAUMATIC BRAIN INJURY PROGRAM

26-1-301. Definitions. As used in this part 3, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) “Board” means the Colorado traumatic brain injury trust fund board created pursuant to section 26-1-302.
- (2) “Program” means the services provided pursuant to sections 26-1-303 and 26-1-304.
- (3) “Traumatic brain injury” means injury to the brain caused by physical trauma resulting from but not limited to incidents involving motor vehicles, sporting events, falls, blast injuries, and physical assaults. Documentation of traumatic brain injury shall be based on adequate medical history, neurological examination, including mental status testing or neuropsychological evaluation. Where appropriate, neuroimaging may be used to support the diagnosis. A traumatic brain injury shall be of sufficient severity to produce partial or total disability as a result of impaired cognitive ability and physical function.

(4) "Trust fund" means the Colorado traumatic brain injury trust fund created in section 26-1-309.

Editor's note: This section was enacted as 26-1-202 in House Bill 02-1281 but was renumbered on revision for ease of location.

26-1-302. Colorado traumatic brain injury trust fund board - creation - powers and duties. (1) There is hereby created the Colorado traumatic brain injury trust fund board within the state department of human services. The board shall exercise its powers and duties as if transferred by a type 2 transfer.

(2) The board shall be composed of:

(a) The executive director of the state department of human services or the executive director's designee;

(b) The president of a state brain injury association or the president's designee, who shall be appointed by the executive director of the state department of human services;

(c) The executive director of the department of public health and environment or the executive director's designee; and

(d) No more than ten additional persons with an interest and expertise in the area of traumatic brain injury whom the governor shall appoint with the consent of the senate. The additional board members may include, but need not be limited to, any combination of the following professions or associations with traumatic brain injury:

(I) Physicians with experience and strong interest in the provision of care to persons with traumatic brain injuries, including but not limited to neurologists, neuropsychiatrists, physiatrists, or other medical doctors who have direct experience working with persons with traumatic brain injuries;

(II) Social workers, nurses, neuropsychologists, or clinical psychologists who have experience working with persons with traumatic brain injuries;

(III) Rehabilitation specialists, such as speech pathologists, vocational rehabilitation counselors, occupational therapists, or physical therapists, who have experience working with persons with traumatic brain injuries;

(IV) Clinical research scientists who have experience evaluating persons with traumatic brain injuries;

(V) Civilian or military persons with traumatic brain injuries or family members of such persons with traumatic brain injuries;

(VI) Persons whose expertise involves work with children with traumatic brain injuries; or

(VII) Persons who have experience and specific interest in the needs of and services for persons with traumatic brain injuries.

(3) Board members shall not be compensated for serving on the board, but may be reimbursed for all reasonable expenses related to such members' work for the board.

(4) Initial appointments to the board shall be made no later than March 1, 2003. The terms of appointed board members shall be three years; except that the terms of the appointed members who are initially appointed shall be staggered by the governor to end as follows:

(a) Four members on June 30, 2004;

(b) Three members on June 30, 2005; and

(c) Three members on June 30, 2006.

(5) No member may serve more than two consecutive terms.

(6) The appointed members of the board shall, to the extent possible, represent rural and urban areas of the state.

(7) The board shall annually elect, by majority vote, a chairperson from among the board members who shall act as the presiding officer of the board.

(8) (a) The board shall promulgate reasonable policies and procedures pertaining to the operation of the trust fund.

(b) The board may contract with entities to provide all or part of the services described in this part 3 for persons with traumatic brain injuries.

(c) The board may accept and expend gifts, grants, and donations for operation of the program.

(d) The board shall use trust fund moneys collected pursuant to sections 30-15-402 (3), 42-4-1307 (10) (c), and 42-4-1701 (4) (e), C.R.S., to provide direct services to persons with traumatic brain injuries, support research, and support education grants to increase awareness and understanding of issues and needs related to traumatic brain injury.

(9) Articles 4, 5, and 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S., shall not apply to the promulgation of any policies or procedures authorized by subsection (8) of this section.

Editor's note: This section was enacted as 26-1-203 in House Bill 02-1281 but was renumbered on revision for ease of location.

26-1-303. Administering entity for services for persons with traumatic brain injuries. (1) An administering entity under contract pursuant to section 26-1-302 may perform all or part of the administrative, eligibility, case management, and claims payment functions relating to the program, including:

(a) Assuring timely payment of grants or requests, including:

(I) Making available information relating to the proper manner of submitting a grant or request for benefits to the program and providing forms upon which submissions shall be made;

(II) Evaluating the eligibility of each grant or request for payment pursuant to guidelines established by the board;

(III) Notifying each applicant, within thirty days after receiving a properly completed and executed proof of grant or request, whether the grant or request is accepted or rejected;

(IV) Ensuring that each accepted grant or request is paid within forty-five days after its acceptance;

(b) Paying grant or request expenses from the moneys in the trust fund; and

(c) Determining the expense of administration and the paid and incurred losses for each year and reporting such information to the board.

(2) The administering entity shall be paid in compliance with policies and procedures established by the board.

(3) If the board does not contract with an administering entity to provide all or part of the services described in this part 3 for persons with traumatic brain injuries, the department shall undertake to provide such services to the best of its ability.

Editor's note: This section was enacted as 26-1-204 in House Bill 02-1281 but was renumbered on revision for ease of location.

26-1-304. Services for persons with traumatic brain injuries - limitations - covered services. (1) The board shall determine the percentage of moneys credited to the trust fund to be spent annually on direct services for persons with traumatic brain injuries; however, no less than fifty-five percent of the moneys annually credited to the trust fund pursuant to sections 30-15-402 (3), 42-4-1307 (10) (c), and 42-4-1701 (4) (e), C.R.S., shall be used to provide direct services to persons with traumatic brain injuries.

(2) To be eligible for assistance from the trust fund, an individual shall have exhausted all other health or rehabilitation benefit funding sources that cover the services provided by the trust fund. An individual shall not be required to exhaust all private funds in order to be eligible for the program. Individuals who have continuing health insurance benefits, including, but not limited to, medical assistance pursuant to articles 4, 5, and 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S., may access the trust fund for services that are necessary but that are not covered by a health benefit plan, as defined in section 10-16-102 (21), C.R.S., or any other funding source.

(3) (a) All individuals receiving assistance from the trust fund shall receive case management services from the designated entity pursuant to section 26-1-303 or the department.

(b) The case management agency, in coordination with the eligible individual, the individual's family or guardian, and the individual's physician, shall include in each case plan a process by which the eligible individual may receive necessary care, which may include respite care, if the eligible individual's service provider is unavailable due to an emergency situation or unforeseen circumstances. The eligible individual and the individual's family or guardian shall be duly informed by the case management agency of these alternative care provisions at the time the case plan is initiated.

(4) The board may monitor, and, if necessary, implement criteria to ensure that there are no abuses in expenditures, including, but not limited to, reasonable and equitable provider's fees and services.

(5) (a) Services covered by the trust fund may include, but shall not be limited to:

- (I) Case management;
- (II) Community residential services;
- (III) Structured day program services;
- (IV) Psychological and mental health services for the individual with the traumatic brain injury and the individual's family;
- (V) Prevocational services;
- (VI) Supported employment;
- (VII) Companion services;
- (VIII) Respite care;
- (IX) Occupational therapy;
- (X) Speech and language therapy;
- (XI) Cognitive rehabilitation;
- (XII) Physical rehabilitation; and
- (XIII) One-time home modifications.

(b) Covered services shall not include institutionalization, hospitalization, or medications.

26-1-306. Research related to treatment of traumatic brain injuries - grants.

(1) The board shall determine the percentage of moneys credited to the trust fund to be spent annually on research related to traumatic brain injuries; however, no less than twenty-five percent of the moneys annually credited to the trust fund pursuant to sections 30-15-402 (3), 42-4-1307 (10) (c), and 42-4-1701 (4) (e), C.R.S., shall be used to support research related to the treatment and understanding of traumatic brain injuries.

(2) The board shall award grants. Persons interested in a grant shall apply to the board in a manner prescribed by the board. The board may consult with educational institutions or other private institutions within Colorado and nationally regarding the merit of an application for a grant. The board shall determine the time frames and administration of the grant program.

26-1-309. Trust fund. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the Colorado traumatic brain injury trust fund. The trust fund shall consist of any moneys collected from surcharges assessed pursuant to sections 30-15-402 (3), 42-4-1307 (10) (c), and 42-4-1701 (4) (e), C.R.S. The moneys in the trust fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation of this part 3.

(2) Gifts, grants, donations, or any other moneys that may be made available may be accepted by the trust fund or the board for purposes of the trust fund.

(3) The trust fund shall be a continuing trust fund. All interest earned upon moneys in the trust fund and deposited or invested may be invested in the types of investments authorized in sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S.

(4) The trust fund revenue and its reserves shall be used solely for the purposes and in the manner described in sections 26-1-304 to 26-1-307.

(5) All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the trust fund shall remain in the trust fund.

26-2-102. Legislative declaration. It is the purpose of this article to promote the public health and welfare of the people of Colorado by providing, in cooperation with the federal government or independently, public assistance for needy individuals and families who are residents of the state and whose income and property are insufficient to meet the costs of necessary maintenance and services as determined by the state department and to assist such individuals and families to attain or retain their capabilities for independence, self-care, and self-support, as contemplated by article XXIV of the state constitution and the provisions of the social security act and the food stamp act. The state of Colorado and its various departments, agencies, and political subdivisions are authorized to promote and achieve these ends by any appropriate lawful means through cooperation with and utilization of available resources of the federal government and private individuals and organizations.

ANNOTATION

Applied in Jeffrey v. State Dept. of Soc. Services, 198 Colo. 265, 599 P.2d 874 (1979).

26-2-102.5. Foster care - Title IV-E of the social security act. (1) Eligibility of a child for Title IV-E foster care shall be based on the aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) rules in effect on July 16, 1996.

(2) Such child shall meet all of the following conditions:

(a) The placement and care of such child are the responsibility of the state department of human services or a county department of social services;

(b) Such child has been placed in a foster home or child care institution as a result of a judicial determination or voluntary placement agreement;

(c) Such child:

(I) Would have received aid in or for the month in which such agreement or court proceedings resulting in such judicial determination were initiated; or

(II) Would have received the aid described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) if application had been made therefor; or

(III) Had been living with a relative within the six months prior to the month in which such agreement or court proceedings resulting in such judicial determination were initiated, and such child would have received the aid described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) if in such month he or she had been living with such relative and application therefor had been made.

26-2-103. Definitions. As used in this article and article 1 of this title, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Applicant” means any individual or family who individually or through a designated representative or someone acting responsibly for him has applied for benefits under the programs of public assistance administered or supervised by the state department pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(1.5) Repealed.

(2) “Assistance payments” means financial assistance (other than medical assistance covered by the “Colorado Medical Assistance Act”) provided pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the state department and includes pensions, grants, and other money payments to or on behalf of recipients.

(3) “Blind” means any individual who has not more than ten percent visual acuity in the better eye with correction, or not more than 20/200 central visual acuity in the better eye with correction, or a limitation in the fields of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than twenty degrees.

(4) “Dependent child” means:

(b) A needy child who would meet the requirements of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) except for his removal from a home of a relative specified in said paragraph (a) by a judicial determination that continued residence in such home would be contrary to the best interests of such child, when all of the following conditions are present:

(I) The placement and care of such child are the responsibility of the state department or a county department;

(II) Such child has been placed in a foster care home or child care institution as a result of such judicial determination;

(III) Assistance payments for such child were received under this article in or for the month in which court proceedings leading to such determination were initiated, or such payments would have been received for such month if application had been made therefor, or, in the case of a child who had been living with a relative specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) within six months prior to the month in which such proceedings were initiated, such payments would have been received in or for such month if in such month he had been living with and removed from the home of such relative and application had been made therefor; or

(c) A person otherwise meeting the requirements of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) who is under the age of nineteen years and a full-time student in regular attendance at a secondary school or enrolled in an equivalent level of vocational or technical training designed to train him for gainful employment and who is reasonably expected to complete the program of such secondary school or such technical or vocational training before reaching the age of nineteen.

(5) "Essential person" means a person who resides with a recipient of assistance payments under a program for aid to the blind or aid to the needy disabled and, pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the state department, is determined to be rendering a service to the recipient which, if the recipient were living alone, would have to be provided for him.

(5.7) "Legal immigrant" means an individual who is not a citizen or national of the United States and who was lawfully admitted to the United States by the immigration and naturalization service, or any successor agency, as an actual or prospective permanent resident or whose extended physical presence in the United States is known to and allowed by the immigration and naturalization service, or any successor agency.

(7) "Public assistance" means assistance payments, food stamps, and social services provided to or on behalf of eligible recipients through programs administered or supervised by the state department, either in cooperation with the federal government or independently without federal aid, pursuant to the provisions of this article. Public assistance includes programs for old age pensions except for the old age pension health and medical care program, and also includes the Colorado works program, aid to the needy disabled, aid to the blind, child welfare services, food stamps supplementation to households not receiving public assistance found eligible for food stamps under rules adopted by the state board, expenses of treatment to prevent blindness or restore eyesight as defined in section 26-2-121, and funeral and burial expenses as defined in section 26-2-129.

(7.5) "Qualified alien" shall have the meaning ascribed to that term in section 431 (b) of the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Public Law 104-193, as amended.

(8) "Recipient" means any individual or family who is receiving or has received benefits from the programs of public assistance administered or supervised by the state department pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(9) "Resident" means any individual who is living, other than temporarily, within the state of Colorado, or a particular county therein, voluntarily and with the intention of making his home there. "Resident" includes any unemancipated child whose parents, or other person entitled to custody, live within such state or county. Temporary absences from such state or county shall not cause an individual to lose his status as a resident if he has an intent to return and has not abandoned his residence.

(10) "Social security act" means the federal "Social Security Act" and amendments thereto.

(11) (a) "Social services" means services and payments for services available, directly or indirectly, through the staff of the state department of human services and county departments of social services or through state designated agencies, where applicable, for the benefit of eligible persons, which services are provided pursuant to rules adopted by the state board. "Social services" may include but need not be limited to day care, homemaker services, foster care, and other services to individuals or families for the purpose of attaining or retaining capabilities for maximum self-care, self-support, and personal independence and services to families or members of families for the purpose of preserving, rehabilitating, reuniting, or strengthening the family. At such time as Title XX of the social security act becomes effective with respect to federal reimbursements, "social services" may include but need not be limited to child care services, protective services for children and adults, services for children and adults in foster care, services related to the management and maintenance of the home, day care services for adults, transportation services, training and related services, employment services, information, referral, and counseling services, the preparation and delivery of meals, health support services, and appropriate combinations of services designed to meet the special needs of children, the aged, the mentally retarded, the blind, the emotionally disturbed, persons with physical disabilities, and alcoholics and drug addicts.

(b) "Social services" does not include medicaid services unless those services are delegated to the state department. "Social services" does not include medical services covered by the old age pension health and medical care program, the children's basic health plan, or the Colorado indigent care program.

(12) and (13) Repealed.

(14) (a) "Total disability", for the purpose of providing public assistance to persons not receiving federal financial benefits pursuant to Title XVI of the social security act, means a physical or mental impairment which is disabling and which, because of other factors such as age, training, experience, and social setting, substantially precludes the person having such disability from engaging in a useful occupation as a homemaker or as a wage earner in any employment which exists in the community for which he has competence.

(b) For the purpose of the state-funded supplement to persons receiving federal financial benefits pursuant to Title XVI of the social security act, federal definitions promulgated pursuant to the said Title XVI shall apply.

26-2-104. Public assistance programs - electronic benefits transfer service - rules.

(1) (a) The state department is hereby designated as the single state agency to administer or supervise the administration of public assistance programs in this state in cooperation with the federal government pursuant to the social security act and this article. The state department shall establish public assistance programs consisting of assistance payments and social services to be made available to eligible individuals, including but not limited to old age pensions, the Colorado works program, aid to the needy disabled, and aid to the blind.

(b) The state department may review any decision of a county department and may consider any application upon which a decision has not been made by the county department within a reasonable time to determine the propriety of the action or failure to take timely action on an application for public assistance. The state department shall make such additional investigation as it deems necessary and shall, after giving the county department an opportunity to rebut any findings or conclusions of the state department that the action or delay in taking action was a violation of or contrary to state department rules, make such decision as to the granting of assistance payments and the amount thereof as in its opinion is justifiable pursuant to the provisions of this article and the rules of the state department. Applicants or recipients affected by such decisions of the state department, upon request, shall be given reasonable notice and opportunity for a fair hearing by the state department.

(2) (a) The state department is authorized to implement an electronic benefits transfer service for administering the delivery of public assistance payments and food stamps to recipients. The electronic benefits transfer service shall be designed to allow clients access to cash benefits through automated teller machines or similar electronic technology. The electronic benefits transfer service shall allow clients eligible for food stamps access to food items through the use of point of sale terminals at retail outlets. Only those businesses that offer products or services related to the purpose of the public assistance benefits shall be allowed to participate in the electronic benefits transfer service through the use of point of sale terminals. Clients shall not be allowed to access cash benefits through the electronic benefits transfer service from automated teller machines in this state located in licensed gaming establishments as defined in section 12-47.1-103 (15), C.R.S., in-state simulcast facilities as defined in section 12-60-102 (14), C.R.S., tracks for racing as defined in section 12-60-102 (26), C.R.S., commercial bingo facilities as defined in section 12-9-102 (2.3), C.R.S., stores or establishments in which the principal business is the sale of firearms, or retail establishments licensed to sell malt, vinous, or spirituous liquors pursuant to part 3 of article 47 of title 12, C.R.S. In the development and implementation of the service, the state department shall consult with representatives of those persons, agencies, and organizations that will use or be affected by the electronic benefits transfer service, including program clients, to assure that the service is as workable, effective, and efficient as possible. The electronic benefits transfer service shall be applicable to the public assistance programs described in subsection (1) of this section and to food stamps as described in part 3 of this article. The state department shall contract in accordance with state purchasing requirements with any entity for the development and administration of the electronic benefits transfer service. In order to ensure the integrity of the electronic benefits transfer service, the system developed pursuant to this section shall use, but is not limited to, security measures such as individual personal identification numbers, photo identification, or fingerprint identification. The security method or methods selected shall be those that are most efficient and effective. The state board shall establish by rule a policy and procedure to limit losses to a client after the client reports that the electronic benefits transfer card or benefits have been lost or stolen. The state department may authorize county departments of social services to charge a fee to a client to cover the costs related to issuing a replacement electronic benefits transfer card.

(b) The state board is authorized to promulgate rules necessary to implement and administer the electronic benefits transfer service created in this subsection (2). Such rules shall be promulgated in accordance with article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(c) The state department is authorized to request federal waivers as necessary to administer the electronic benefits transfer service.

(d) and (e) Repealed.

ANNOTATION

Duty of state department. The state department of social services is required to take such action as may be necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of the welfare laws. State Bd. of Soc. Servs. v. Billings, 175 Colo. 380, 487 P.2d 1110 (1971).

26-2-105. Federal requirements. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the state department from complying with federal requirements for public assistance programs expressly provided by law in order for the state of Colorado to qualify for federal funds under the social security act and to maintain said programs within the limits of available appropriations.

26-2-106. Applications for public assistance. (1) Any individual wishing to make application for any of the public assistance programs administered or supervised by the state department under this article shall have the opportunity to do so, and, except as otherwise provided in part 7 of this article, such public assistance shall be furnished with reasonable promptness to each eligible individual in accordance with rules of the state department. The county department shall consider an application for public assistance to be for any category of public assistance for which the applicant may be eligible.

(1.5) All applications for public assistance shall contain the citizenship of the applicant, the number of years the applicant has resided in the United States, and, if the applicant is an alien, the name and the social security number or federal tax number of the person, or persons or organization, if any, who sponsored the applicant's entry into the United States.

(2) The rules of the state department may provide for a simplified application in order that public assistance may be furnished to eligible persons as soon as possible and shall provide adequate safeguards and controls to insure that only eligible persons receive public assistance under this article.

(3) Applications and requests for public assistance under this article shall be made to the county department of the county or the state designated agency, where applicable, for the county in which the applicant is a resident. The state department by its rules shall prescribe the form and procedure for applications or requests for social services. The application for assistance payments shall be in writing or reduced to writing in the manner and upon the form prescribed by the state department, shall contain the name, age, and residence of the applicant, the category or type of assistance payments sought, a statement of the amount of property, both real and personal, in which the applicant has an interest and of all income which he or she may have at the time of the filing of the application, and such other information as may be required by rules of the state department, and shall be verified by the signature of the applicant or his or her legally appointed guardian. In addition, an applicant who is eighteen years of age or older shall be required to supply a form of personal photographic identification either by providing a valid Colorado driver's license or a valid identification card issued by the department of revenue pursuant to section 42-2-302, C.R.S. The state department may adopt rules that exempt applicants from the requirement of supplying a form of personal photographic identification if such requirement causes an unreasonable hardship or if such requirement is in conflict with federal law. The state department shall also adopt rules that allow for assistance to be provided on an emergency basis until the applicant is able to obtain or to qualify for a driver's license or identification card; however, a county department is not required to recover emergency assistance from an applicant who fails, upon recertification, to meet the photographic identification requirement.

(b) If the public assistance sought is aid to the needy disabled or aid to the blind, the application shall be signed by the applicant and his natural guardian or legally appointed guardian, if any.

(5) For the purpose of providing public assistance to persons not receiving federal financial benefits pursuant to Title XVI of the social security act:

(a) No application for aid to the blind shall be approved until the applicant has been examined by an ophthalmologist duly licensed to practice in this state and actively engaged in the treatment of diseases of the human eye or by an optometrist duly licensed to practice in this state. The examining ophthalmologist or optometrist shall certify in writing upon forms prescribed by the state department as to diagnosis, prognosis, and visual acuity of the applicant.

(b) Determination of blindness shall be made by the county department in accordance with the provisions of section 26-2-103 (3) and state department rules and regulations.

(c) The county department shall fix the fees to be paid for examination of applicants for and reexamination of recipients of aid to the blind. Such fees shall be allowed and paid to the vendor in the same manner as assistance payments under the program for aid to the blind, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the state department. Payments to such vendors shall be subject to reimbursement by the state in the same manner as said assistance payments for aid to the blind.

(6) (a) No application for aid to the needy disabled shall be approved until the applicant's medical condition has been certified by a physician licensed to practice medicine in this state or an advanced practice nurse licensed in this state. In addition to a physician, an applicant may be examined by a physician assistant licensed in this state, by an advanced practice nurse, or by a registered nurse licensed in this state who is functioning within the scope of such nurse's license and training. The supervising physician or the physician or nurse who conducted the examination shall certify in writing upon forms prescribed by the state department as to the diagnosis, prognosis, and other relevant medical or mental factors relating to the disability of the applicant. No applicant disabled as a result of a primary diagnosis of alcoholism or a controlled substance addiction shall be approved for aid to the needy disabled except as provided in section 26-2-111 (4) (e).

(b) Determination of the existence of total disability shall be made by the county department after consideration of the factors under the provisions of section 26-2-103 (14) and on the basis of the medical examination or from medical and social data collected and verified by the county departments under the rules and regulations of the state department.

(c) The county department shall fix the fees to be paid to competent medical personnel for examination of applicants for and reexamination of recipients of aid to the needy disabled and for special medical examinations when deemed necessary by the state department pursuant to rules and regulations of the state department. Such fees shall be allowed and paid to the medical vendor in the same manner as assistance payments under the program for aid to the needy disabled, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the state department. Payments to such vendors shall be subject to reimbursement by the state in the same manner as said assistance payments for aid to the needy disabled.

ANNOTATION

Amounts held by fiduciary not excludable. Where an applicant for a pension is required by statute to make disclosure of "the amount of property, both real and personal, in which the applicant has an interest", the supreme court cannot read into those words a limitation that such statute does not include $10,500 in bonds and money claimed by the applicant to be her own and held by a fiduciary who refuses to account therefor. Ankorn v. Boulder County Welfare Dept., 135 Colo. 51, 307 P.2d 1110 (1957).

26-2-107. Verification - record. (1) (a) (I) Whenever a county department receives an application for public assistance, it shall promptly make a record concerning the circumstances of the applicant to verify the facts supporting the application and shall examine all pertinent records and shall make a diligent effort to examine all records prior to granting assistance. The records include the following:

(A) Records of the division of unemployment insurance, including unemployment compensation records;

(B) School attendance records;

(C) Vital statistics records;

(D) Records of the department of revenue.

(II) The county department shall also verify such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations of the state department.

(b) If such information is reasonably available, the verification shall be completed prior to approval of any assistance or for continuation of assistance. The provisions of this paragraph (b) shall not apply to those persons receiving old age pensions, aid to the needy disabled, or aid to the blind during the period for which such assistance is continued.

(c) Within ten working days after a discrepancy relating to a fraudulent or suspected fraudulent act affecting eligibility is discovered, it shall be referred to the appropriate investigatory agency for investigation. The investigatory agency shall take action within thirty days following receipt of the information from the county department.

(2) The county department, the state department, and the officers and authorized employees of each may conduct visits to the home of the applicant at reasonable times, make investigations and require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, records, and papers by subpoena, and make application to the district court to compel and enforce such attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of such books, records, and papers. Officers and employees designated by the county department or the state department may administer oaths and affirmations.

Editor's note: The effective date for amendments to the introductory portion of subsection (1)(a)(I) and subsection (1)(a)(I)(A) by House Bill 12-1120 (chapter 27, Session Laws of Colorado 2012) was changed from August 8, 2012, to June 1, 2012, by House Bill 12S-1002 (First Extraordinary Session, chapter 2, p. 2432, Session Laws of Colorado 2012.)

26-2-108. Granting of assistance payments and social services. (1) (a) Upon completion of the verification and record of each application for assistance payments, the county department, pursuant to the rules of the state department, shall determine whether the applicant is eligible for assistance payments, the amount of such assistance payments to be granted, and the date upon which such assistance payments shall begin.

(b) In determining the amount of assistance payments to be granted, due account shall be taken of any income or property available to the applicant and any support, either in cash or in kind, that the applicant may receive from other sources, pursuant to rules of the state department. Effective July 1, 2000, a county may pay families that are eligible for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), as defined in section 26-2-703 (19), an amount that is equal to the state and county share of child support collections as described in section 26-13-108 (1). Such payments shall not be considered income for the purpose of grant calculation. However, such income shall be considered income for purposes of determining eligibility. If a county chooses to pay child support collections directly to a family that is eligible for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), as defined in section 26-2-703 (19), the county shall report such payments to the state department for the month in which they occur and indicate the choice of this option in its performance contract for Colorado works. For the purposes of determining eligibility for public assistance or the amount of assistance payments, compensation received by the applicant pursuant to the "Colorado Crime Victim Compensation Act", part 1 of article 4.1 of title 24, C.R.S., shall not be considered as income, property, or support available to such applicant.

(c) When the eligibility, amount, and date for beginning assistance payments have been established, the county department shall make an award to or on behalf of the applicant in accordance with rules of the state department, which award shall be binding upon the county and shall be complied with by the county until it is modified or vacated.

(d) (I) Except as provided in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (d) and part 7 of this article, assistance payments under public assistance programs shall be paid at least monthly to or on behalf of the applicant upon order of the county department from funds appropriated to the county department for this purpose and pursuant to the rules of the state department.

(II) Assistance in the form of aid to the needy disabled for persons who are disabled as a result of a primary diagnosis of alcoholism or a controlled substance addiction shall be paid on the person's behalf to the treatment program in which the person is participating as required pursuant to section 26-2-111 (4) (e) (I) or to the person directly upon the person providing the documentation required pursuant to section 26-2-111 (4) (e) (II).

(e) The county department shall at once notify the applicant and the state department, in writing, of its decisions on assistance payments and the reasons therefor.

(2) The state department, by its rules, shall prescribe procedures for handling applications or requests for social services. Such rules may include, but need not be limited to, the determination of eligibility for social services, the services to be provided, the verification and record, and notice to applicants and the state department.

26-2-110. Repayment not required. No person shall be required, in order to receive public assistance, to repay or promise to repay the state of Colorado any money properly paid to him or her as public assistance pursuant to the provisions of this article and the rules of the state department; except that the state may recoup interim assistance authorized under section 26-2-206, concerning blind and disabled individuals.

26-2-111. Eligibility for public assistance. (1) No person shall be granted public assistance in the form of assistance payments under this article unless such person meets all of the following requirements:

(a) The person is a resident of the state of Colorado or, if a dependent child, the parent or other relatives with whom said child is living is a resident of the state of Colorado or the person is a legal immigrant who would be otherwise eligible in all respects except for citizenship;

(b) The person has insufficient income, property, or other resources to meet his or her needs as determined pursuant to rules and regulations of the state department; except that resource eligibility for the program of aid to the needy disabled shall be as specified in paragraph (d) of subsection (4) of this section, resource eligibility for the program of aid to the blind shall be as specified in subparagraph (III) of paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section, and resource eligibility requirements for the old age pension program shall be as specified in paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of this section;

(c) (I) The person has not made a voluntary assignment or transfer of property without fair and valuable consideration for the purpose of rendering himself or herself eligible for public assistance under this article at any time within thirty-six months immediately prior to the filing of application for such assistance pursuant to the provisions of this article; or, in the case of a person already receiving public assistance under this article, the person has not made any such transfer during the time the person has been receiving such public assistance; but, if any such assignment or transfer is made during such thirty-six month period or during such time that public assistance is being received, there is a rebuttable presumption that the assignment or transfer was made for such purpose; but, within such period of time, a person may assign or transfer the ownership of real property owned and used as a residence by such person if:

(A) The transfer or assignment is made for reasons other than to become or remain eligible for public assistance under this article;

(B) The primary purpose of the transfer or assignment is not to acquire moneys or profit but is for some other legitimate reason such as estate planning.

(II) Nothing in this paragraph (c) shall be construed to prohibit a person from selling, transferring, or assigning his or her real estate in a bona fide transaction for good and valuable consideration.

(d) The person is not an inmate of a public institution, except as a patient in a public medical institution, or is not a patient in any institution for tuberculosis or mental diseases, or is not a patient in any medical institution as a result of having been diagnosed as having tuberculosis or psychosis; but the provisions of this paragraph (d) shall not be applicable to or in any way affect the class of old age pension recipients provided for in subsection (2) (a) (III) of this section.

(2) Old age pension. (a) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this subsection (2), public assistance in the form of the old age pension shall be granted to any person who meets the requirements of subsection (1) of this section and any one of the following requirements:

(I) The person is a United States citizen or a qualified alien, has attained the age of sixty years or more, and meets the resource eligibility requirements of the federal supplemental security income program; or

(II) Repealed.

(III) The person is an inmate of an institution, not penal in character, maintained by the state or by a municipality therein or county thereof, and the person has attained the age of sixty years or more. The period of confinement as a patient in such institution shall be considered as residence in the state of Colorado.

(b) No person otherwise qualified shall be denied the old age pension by reason of the fact that relatives may be financially able to contribute to his support and maintenance, but income and property of the spouse of an applicant or recipient of the old age pension shall be considered in determining eligibility pursuant to rules and regulations of the state department, which rules and regulations shall be based upon and relate to the need of the applicant or recipient.

Editor's note: This version of paragraph (b) is effective until January 1, 2014, or the date that notification to the revisor of statutes is received, whichever is earlier. See the editor's note following the section.

(b) An applicant or recipient of the old age pension who is otherwise qualified shall not be denied the old age pension by reason of the fact that relatives may be financially able to contribute to his or her support and maintenance; except that income and resources of the spouse of an applicant or recipient of the old age pension or of a sponsor of an applicant or recipient of the old age pension who is a qualified alien shall be considered in determining eligibility pursuant to rules of the state department.

Editor's note: This version of paragraph (b) is effective upon the earlier of January 1, 2014, or when notification to the revisor of statutes is received. See the editor's note following the section.

(c) (I) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraphs (II) and (III) of this paragraph (c), a qualified alien shall not be granted the old age pension under the provisions of this subsection (2) unless it is shown that:

(A) The person, other than a relative, who sponsored the alien's entry into the United States and who satisfied sponsorship financial requirements at the time of initial sponsorship now has insufficient income, property, or other resources to meet the needs of the alien as determined pursuant to rules and regulations of the state department; and

(B) The qualified alien meets the requirements specified in section 26-2-111.8 (2) (a) relating to entry into the United States prior to August 22, 1996, or the requirements specified in section 26-2-111.8 (2) (b) regarding the five-year bar on receipt of benefits.

(II) The requirements in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) do not apply to a qualified alien who meets the eligibility criteria for the old age pension in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) if it is determined pursuant to rules of the state department that:

(A) The qualified alien has been abandoned by or is a victim of mistreatment by his or her sponsor or is an abused spouse and would incur a significant financial hardship; or

(B) The qualified alien who does not have a sponsor would have insufficient income to support himself or herself or would otherwise incur a significant financial hardship.

(III) The requirements in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) do not apply to a qualified alien who meets the eligibility criteria for the old age pension in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) and who is also eligible for federal financial benefits pursuant to Title XVI of the federal "Social Security Act".

Editor's note: This version of paragraph (c) is effective until January 1, 2014, or the date that notification to the revisor of statutes is received, whichever is earlier. See the editor's note following the section.

(c) (I) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraphs (II) and (III) of this paragraph (c), a qualified alien shall not be granted the old age pension under the provisions of this subsection (2) unless it is shown that:

(A) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1384), ch. 218, p. 954, § 4. (See editor's note following this section.))

(B) The qualified alien meets the requirements specified in section 26-2-111.8 (2) (a) relating to entry into the United States prior to August 22, 1996, or the requirements specified in section 26-2-111.8 (2) (b) regarding the five-year bar on receipt of benefits; and

(C) The qualified alien meets the requirements specified in section 26-2-111.8 (2) (c) regarding the deeming of sponsor income and resources.

(II) The requirements in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) do not apply to a qualified alien who meets the eligibility criteria for the old age pension in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) if it is determined pursuant to rules of the state department that:

(A) The qualified alien has been abandoned by or is a victim of mistreatment by his or her sponsor or is an abused spouse and would incur a significant financial hardship; or

(B) The qualified alien who does not have a sponsor would have insufficient income to support himself or herself or would otherwise incur a significant financial hardship; or

(C) The person who sponsored the qualified alien's entry into the United States and who satisfied sponsorship financial requirements at the time of initial sponsorship now has insufficient income and resources to meet the needs of the qualified alien.

(III) The requirements in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) do not apply to a qualified alien who meets the eligibility criteria for the old age pension in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) and who is also eligible for federal financial benefits pursuant to Title XVI of the federal "Social Security Act".

Editor's note: This version of paragraph (c) is effective upon the earlier of January 1, 2014, or when notification to the revisor of statutes is received. See the editor's note following the section.

(d) (I) A person who is a member of a household that is receiving public assistance under the Colorado works program pursuant to part 7 of this article shall not be eligible to receive public assistance pursuant to this subsection (2).

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1043), ch. 92, p. 315, § 8, effective April 15, 2010.)

(3) Colorado works program. (a) By signing an application for the works program created in part 7 of this article, a person assigns, by operation of law, to the state department all rights the applicant may have to support from any other person on his or her own behalf or on behalf of any other family member for whom application is made. For the purposes of this subsection (3), the assignment:

(I) Is effective for current support due and owing during the period of time the person is receiving public assistance under the works program;

(II) Takes effect upon a determination that the applicant is eligible for the works program; and

(III) Shall remain in effect with respect to any unpaid support that accrues under the assignment, up to the amount of the cost of assistance provided.

(IV) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2009, (SB 09-053), ch. 137, p. 594, § 1, effective October 1, 2009.)

(b) The application shall contain a statement explaining this assignment.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3), assignments made prior to October 1, 2009, may include support arrearages that accrued prior to the date the applicant is determined to be eligible for the works program.

(3.5) (a) Repealed.

(4) Aid to the needy disabled. Public assistance in the form of aid to the needy disabled shall be granted to any person who meets the requirements of subsection (1) of this section and all of the following requirements:

(a) He or she has a total disability, as defined by section 26-2-103 (14) and the rules and regulations of the state department, that has lasted or can be expected to last for a period of six months or more or he or she is determined to be disabled and eligible for social security disability insurance benefits under Title II of the social security act.

(b) He or she is eighteen years of age or older.

(b.5) He or she has applied for supplemental security income benefits and complied with any recommendations for referrals made by the county department except for good cause shown.

(c) (I) The person is not a member of a household receiving public assistance under the aid to families with dependent children program set forth in this article. For the purposes of this paragraph (c), “household” has the same meaning as “assistance unit” as used in 45 CFR, 205.40 (a) (1), as amended.

(II) (A) The provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (c) notwithstanding, on and after January 1, 1992, a supplemental payment funded by state and county funds shall be paid to households that have received public assistance payments for the month of December 1991, under both the aid to families with dependent children program set forth in this article and the aid to the needy disabled program set forth in this subsection (4). The supplemental payment shall be in an amount as will maintain the household’s total income at the same level as in December 1991.

(B) The supplemental payment shall be paid only if the household remains continuously eligible to receive public assistance under both the aid to families with dependent children program set forth in this article and the aid to the needy disabled program set forth in this subsection (4).

(d) He or she meets the resource eligibility requirements of the federal supplemental security income program.

(e) If the applicant is disabled as a result of a primary diagnosis of alcoholism or a controlled substance addiction, he or she, as conditions of eligibility, shall be required to:

(I) Participate in treatment services approved by the unit in the state department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse; and

(II) Demonstrate on a periodic and random basis that he or she remains free of the use of alcohol or any nonprescribed controlled substance on a form verified by the treatment program. Any person whose random test results are positive two times in any three-month period shall be denied eligibility.

(f) A person who is disabled as a result of a primary diagnosis of alcoholism or a controlled substance addiction shall not be eligible for aid to the needy disabled based upon that primary diagnosis if the person has received aid to the needy disabled based upon such diagnosis for any cumulative twelve-month period in the person’s lifetime.

(5) Aid to the blind. (a) For the purpose of providing public assistance to those not receiving federal financial benefits pursuant to Title XVI of the social security act, public assistance in the form of aid to the blind shall be granted to any person who meets the requirements of subsection (1) of this section and who:

(I) Is blind as defined by section 26-2-103 (3) or is determined to be blind and eligible for social security disability insurance benefits under Title II of the social security act; except that any person who is a member of a household that is receiving public assistance under the aid to families with dependent children program set forth in this article shall not be eligible to receive public assistance pursuant to this subsection (5);

(II) Has applied for supplemental security income benefits and complied with any recommendations for referrals made by the county department except for good cause shown; and

(III) Meets the resource eligibility requirements of the federal supplemental security program.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (5), “household” has the same meaning as “assistance unit” as used in 45 CFR 205.40 (b) (1), as amended.

(6) The provisions of section 26-2-111.8 shall apply in addition to the provisions of this section in determining the eligibility for public assistance of persons who are not citizens of the United States.

The establishment of two classes of needy citizens between the ages of 60 and 65, indistinguishable from each other except that one was composed of residents who had resided continuously in Colorado for 35 years and the second of residents who had resided in Colorado less than 35 continuous years, which worked to deny critically needed old-age pension benefits to those who had resided in Colorado less than 35 continuous years, was unconstitutional as violative of equal protection. Jeffrey v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 198 Colo. 265, 599 P.2d 874 (1979).

One-year residency requirement held unconstitutional. Colorado statutes which required residence of one year as a condition of receiving aid to families with dependent children and aid to the needy disabled were unconstitutional and deprived plaintiffs of the right to equal protection of the laws and the right to travel interstate under the federal constitution. *Passmore v. Regulation did not improperly impose a new condition for eligibility for aid to the needy disabled benefits or fundamentally change legislative policy by requiring applicant to sign an authorization verifying that applicant had applied for federal supplemental security income benefits and allowing the social security administration to send his federal benefits check directly to the department of human services. 26-2-111.8. Eligibility of noncitizens for public assistance. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that passage of the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Public Law 104-193, requires the states to make certain decisions concerning qualified aliens and their eligibility for certain types of public assistance.

(b) The goal of this section is to recognize that foreign-born legal residents of the state of Colorado contribute to our society by working in our communities, supporting local businesses, and paying taxes and should receive certain types of public assistance for certain types of situations. Moreover, the state goal is to provide the types of assistance that will enhance the state's ability to receive federal financial participation, thereby reducing the ultimate burden on the state and local government for emergency health and welfare needs.

(c) This section is also intended to encourage and support efforts to help foreign-born legal residents of the state of Colorado to become citizens of the United States.

(2) (a) Entry requirements. A qualified alien who entered the United States before August 22, 1996, and who meets the eligibility criteria specified for a particular public assistance program shall be eligible to receive public assistance under the following programs as described in this article:

- (I) The Colorado works program;
- (II) The old age pension;
- (III) Aid to the needy disabled; or
- (IV) Aid to the blind.

(b) Five-year bar on receipt of benefits. A qualified alien who entered the United States on or after August 22, 1996, shall be barred from receiving the benefits described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) for a period of five years after the date of entry into the United States, unless he or she meets the exceptions set forth in the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Public Law 104-193, as amended.

(c) Deeming of sponsor income and resources. After five years, a qualified alien described in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) shall be eligible for benefits under this article, but shall have sponsor income and resources deemed to the individual or family under rules established by the state department pursuant to section 26-2-137 (2).

(3) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1384), ch. 218, p. 952, § 2, effective July 1, 2010.)

(3.5) For benefits provided on and after the effective date of this subsection (3.5), the state department may pursue repayment from the qualified alien's sponsor for old age pension benefits provided to the qualified alien during the time that the sponsorship affidavit of support is in effect as determined by United States citizenship and immigration services, or its successor agency.

Editor's note: Subsection (3.5) is effective upon the earlier of January 1, 2014, or when notification to the revisor of statutes is received. See the editor's note following the section.

(4) A qualified alien may receive benefits under section 26-2-122.3 pursuant to rules promulgated by the state department.

(5) As a condition of eligibility for public assistance under this article, a qualified alien shall agree to refrain from executing an affidavit of support for the purpose of sponsoring an alien on or after July 1, 1997, under rules promulgated by the immigration and naturalization service or its successor agency during the pendency of the qualified alien's receipt of public assistance. Nothing in this subsection (5) shall be construed to affect a qualified alien's eligibility for public assistance under this article based upon the qualified alien's responsibilities under an affidavit of support entered into before July 1, 1997.

(6) The state department shall encourage a qualified alien who is eligible to submit an application for citizenship to submit such an application.

Editor's note: (1) Subsection (4) was amended in House Bill 10-1422, effective August 11, 2010. However, those amendments were superseded by the amendment of subsection (4) in House Bill 10-1384, effective July 1, 2010.

(2) Section 7 of chapter 218, Session Laws of Colorado 2010, provides that subsection (3.5) is effective upon the earlier of: (1) January 1, 2014, or (2) the date upon which the revisor of statutes receives notification from the executive director of the department of health care policy and financing that the federal centers for medicare and medicaid services, having taken into consideration the requirement for maintenance of effort for medicaid eligibility contained in the federal "American Reinvestment and Recovery Act", Pub.L. 111-5, or any amendment thereto, and in the federal "Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act", Pub.L. 111-148, or any amendment thereto, has authorized Colorado to reduce eligibility for its medicaid program consistent with the provisions of House Bill 10-1384 without federal penalty.

26-2-112. Old age pensions for inmates of public institutions. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the application procedure, the investigation of applications, the procedure for granting of pensions, and all other provisions of this article relating to the administration of old age pensions shall apply to the class of old age pensions provided in section 26-2-111 (2) (a) (III).

(2) Where an inmate of an institution, not penal in character, maintained by the state or by a municipality therein or county thereof, meets the requirements for the class of old age pensions provided in section 26-2-111 (2) (a) (III) and has been committed to said public institution by order of the district or probate court, the superintendent or chief administrative officer of such institution shall make application for such pension for and in behalf of said inmate in the same manner as provided in section 26-2-106.

(3) (a) (I) Assistance payments under the old age pension granted to an inmate of the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo, Colorado, or the Wheat Ridge regional center, the Pueblo regional center, or the Grand Junction regional center shall be paid to the chief financial officer of the institution within which the inmate is confined. Such chief financial officer shall receive and disburse such pension funds as trustee for such inmate and shall account for the same to the state controller in the manner now prescribed by law for the handling and accounting of trust or quasi-trust funds.

(II) Such chief financial officer shall be required to furnish, at the state's expense, a surety bond in such amount as the department of human services shall from time to time deem sufficient in the premises to protect such funds.

(III) It is the duty of such chief financial officer to pay monthly from the assistance payments under the old age pension, as prior claim therefrom, all lawful claims of said public institution for the care, support, maintenance, education, and treatment of said inmate in accordance with article 92 of title 27, C.R.S.

(b) Where assistance payments under the old age pension are granted to an inmate of an institution maintained by any county or municipality, such payments shall be paid to such conservator or guardian as the district or probate court of such county may appoint, and under and amendable to the statutes applicable to conservators and guardians when so appointed.

26-2-113. Funds for old age pensions. (1) The state old age pension fund and the moneys allocated thereto pursuant to the provisions of article XXIV of the state constitution shall include amounts received from the incorporation fees and inheritance taxes imposed pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(2) (a) In addition to all other fees, charges, and impositions now fixed by law, there shall be assessed and collected, by the governmental department, person, or party in charge under whose jurisdiction the present collection is now required by law, the following fees, charges, sums, and impositions, which fees, charges, sums, and impositions shall be set aside, allocated, and allotted to the old age pension fund:

(I) Ten percent additional amount of the fees which are due and paid to the secretary of state upon incorporation of any corporation or association for profit; and

(II) Ten percent additional upon the amount of any tax payable under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws of this state.

(b) In computing the amount of the additional tax or fee as provided in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), the nearest multiple to five cents shall be taken in all cases.

(3) Any and all of such funds collected by any state official or state department pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall be paid over by such official or department to the state treasurer, who on the first day of each month shall divide and pay the same into each of the county old age pension accounts of the county social services funds in this state on the pro rata basis which the population of the respective county has to the population of the entire state according to the last official United States census.

26-2-114. Amount of assistance payments - old age pension. (1) The basic minimum award payable to those persons qualified to receive an old age pension shall be one hundred dollars monthly; but the state board may adjust the said basic minimum award above one hundred dollars if, in its discretion, living costs have changed sufficiently to justify such adjustment.

(2) (a) and (a.5) Repealed.

(b) (I) The amount of net income from whatever source, either in cash or in kind, which any person qualified for an old age pension may receive shall be deducted from the amount of monthly pension which such person would otherwise receive. The rules and regulations of the state department may require an applicant or recipient who may be eligible for benefits under another federal or state program or who may have a right to receive or recover other income or resources to take reasonable steps to apply for, otherwise pursue, and accept such benefits, income, or resources.

(II) In computing said net income, the county department shall not consider the ownership of real estate occupied as a residence by the recipient as income. In addition, in computing said net income, the county department shall not consider as income funds received by or on behalf of the recipient from the federal government for rent supplementation or relocation payments or income earned by the recipient up to the maximum extent allowed by Title I, section 2, of the social security act.

(III) Whenever the United States congress shall provide by law for a retroactive increase in monthly benefits under the old age, survivors, and disability provisions of the social security act, or for a retroactive increase in monthly benefits under the railroad retirement act, and the amount of such retroactive increase in monthly benefits shall be subsequently paid to an old age pension recipient in a lump sum, then the amount of such lump sum payment shall not be considered as income and shall not be deducted from the amount of monthly pension otherwise payable to such recipient for the month in which such lump sum payment is received.

(IV) Any special payment by the federal government in the form of a one-time-only credit against or refund of federal income taxes shall not be considered as income for purposes of this title unless required by federal law.

ANNOTATION

One of primary purposes of home care allowance program is to keep recipients independent and, if possible, to prevent their placement in nursing homes. Applicant living with an employed spouse or with a spouse of ample means who is sharing family necessities for which the income of such spouse would be chargeable can be said to be receiving income in kind. The value thereof can be determined and the amount deducted from any pension to which the recipient may be entitled. State Bd. of Pub. Welfare v. Champion, 141 Colo. 375, 348 P.2d 256 (1960).

One who has incidentals provided for him receives benefits. One who is sharing in or having paid for him shelter, taxes, interest, repairs, property insurance, water, fuel, gas, electricity, ice, telephone, food, medicines, household equipment, and other incidentals normally necessary to every-day existence, through the income of a spouse, is in receipt of benefits within the realm of inquiry of the department. State Bd. of Pub. Welfare v. Champion, 141 Colo. 375, 348 P.2d 256 (1960).

Department cannot determine by regulation net income of spouse. The department cannot substitute by regulation a fixed calculation of the income of the spouse, less limited deductions, for evidence without regard to the variable circumstances that might be present in each case. State Bd. of Pub. Welfare v. Champion, 141 Colo. 375, 348 P.2d 256 (1960).

A regulation of the department of public welfare staff manual offends this section by usurping a legislative function where it attempts to define, without statutory authority, the net cash income of a spouse over whom the department has no jurisdiction. State Bd. of Pub. Welfare v. Champion, 141 Colo. 375, 348 P.2d 256 (1960).

Evidence insufficient to establish deduction from pension. The production of records of the gross earnings of one other than the old age pension applicant and nothing more falls far short of evidence to establish the amount, if any, to be deducted from the pension of the applicant. State Bd. of Pub. Welfare v. Champion, 141 Colo. 375, 348 P.2d 256 (1960).

Trial court was correct in concluding that the Colorado statutory and regulatory scheme authorizes the inclusion of garnished social security benefits in calculating income for old age pension eligibility. Ramseyer v. Colo. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 895 P.2d 1188 (Colo. App. 1995).

A rational basis exists for using the federal criteria and for including garnished income in determining eligibility for old age pension benefits. Ramseyer v. Colo. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 895 P.2d 1188 (Colo. App. 1995).

Reimbursement of interim assistance payments made to applicants under the state's aid to the needy and disabled program, pending awards of federal supplemental security income benefits, is proper. Gillens v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 644 P.2d 97 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-2-115. State old age pension fund - priority. All moneys deposited in the state old age pension fund shall be first available for payment of basic minimum awards to qualified old age pension recipients, and no part of said fund shall be transferred to any other fund until such basic minimum awards shall have been paid. Moneys in the state old age pension fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly.

26-2-116. Old age pension stabilization fund. Any moneys remaining in the old age pension fund after full payment of basic minimum awards to qualified old age pension recipients shall be transferred to a fund to be known as the old age pension stabilization fund, which fund shall be maintained at the amount of five million dollars and restored to that amount after any disbursements therefrom. The state board shall use the moneys in such fund only to stabilize payments of old age pension basic minimum awards. Moneys in the old age pension stabilization fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly.

26-2-119. Amount of assistance payments - aid to the needy disabled. (1) The amount of assistance payments that shall be granted to a recipient under the program for aid to the needy disabled shall be on the basis of budgetary need, as determined by the county department with due regard to any income, property, or other resources available to the recipient, within available appropriations, and in accordance with rules of the state department. The rules of the state department may require an applicant or recipient who may be eligible for benefits under another federal or state program or who may have a right to receive or recover other income or resources to take reasonable steps to apply for, otherwise pursue, and accept such benefits, income, or resources.

26-2-121. Expenses of treatment to prevent blindness or restore eyesight. Temporary assistance may be granted by the county department to any applicant for aid to the blind or additional assistance granted to any recipient of aid to the blind who is in need of treatment either to prevent blindness or to restore his eyesight, whether or not he is blind as defined by section 26-2-103 (3) and the rules and regulations of the state department, if he is otherwise qualified for aid to the blind under this article. The temporary assistance may include necessary traveling expenses and other expenses to receive treatment from a hospital or clinic designated by the state department. Such payment shall be allowed and paid in the same manner as aid to the blind provided by this article and shall be subject to reimbursement by the state in the same manner as such aid to the blind.

26-2-122. Public assistance in the form of social services. (1) Subject to available appropriations, the state department may provide those services required by the social security act and applicable federal regulations. Subject to available appropriations, the state department may, by regulation, elect to provide those services which are optional under the social security act.

(2) Eligible persons shall include those required to be eligible for services by the social security act and federal regulations. Subject to available appropriations, eligible persons may include those persons who are optionally eligible under federal law and regulations whom the state department, by regulation, includes as eligible persons.

(3) The state department shall adopt budgetary standards from which a graduated schedule of fees shall be determined. Said fees shall be paid by persons who receive social services and who have the financial ability to pay in accordance with the schedule of fees established by the state department.

(4) The state department shall prepare and submit to the secretary of the federal department of health and human services a state plan for services that meets the requirements of the social security act, federal regulations, and this section. The state department shall administer the program for services in accordance with the social security act, federal regulations, and this section.

26-2-122.3. Adult foster care and home care allowance. (1) (a) (I) The state department, subject to available appropriations, may provide adult foster care for persons eligible to receive old age pension, aid to the needy disabled, or aid to the blind. For purposes of this paragraph (a), "adult foster care" means care and services that, in addition to room and board, may include, but are not limited to, personal services, recreational opportunities, transportation, utilization of volunteer services, and special diets. Such care and services are provided to recipients of federal supplemental security income benefits who are also eligible for the Colorado supplement program for aid to the needy disabled or aid to the blind and who do not require skilled nursing care or intermediate health care and cannot remain in or return to their residences but who need to reside in a supervised nonmedical setting on a twenty-four-hour basis. Those persons with developmental disabilities as defined in section 27-10.5-102, C.R.S., or who are receiving or are eligible to receive services pursuant to any provision of title 27, C.R.S., do not qualify for adult foster care under this paragraph (a).

(II) Adult foster care facilities shall be licensed by the department of public health and environment pursuant to section 25-27-105, C.R.S.

(b) (I) Except as provided in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b), the state department, subject to available appropriations, may provide home care allowance for persons who meet the functional impairment and financial eligibility criteria as established by the state department by rule and are receiving old age pension, aid to the needy disabled, aid to the blind, or supplemental social security income benefits.

Editor's note: This version of subparagraph (I) is effective until January 1, 2014, or the date that notification to the revisor of statutes is received, whichever is earlier. See the editor's note following the section.

(b) (I) Except as provided in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b), the state department, subject to available appropriations, may provide home care allowance for persons who meet the functional impairment and financial eligibility criteria as established by the state department by rule and:

(A) Were receiving old age pension benefits and home care allowance on the day prior to the effective date of this sub-subparagraph (A) and remain continuously eligible for such benefits; or

(B) Are receiving aid to the needy disabled, aid to the blind, or supplemental social security income benefits.

Editor's note: This version of subparagraph (I) is effective upon the earlier of January 1, 2014, or when notification to the revisor of statutes is received. See the editor's note following the section.

(II) Persons eligible to receive home- and community-based services pursuant to article 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S., shall not be eligible for home care allowance under this paragraph (b).

(III) For the purposes of this paragraph (b), "home care allowance" is a program that provides payments, subject to available appropriations, to functionally impaired persons who meet the criteria specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) as determined in accordance with rules. The payments allow recipients who are in need of long-term care to purchase community-based services as defined in rules adopted by the state department. These services may include, but need not be limited to, the supervision of self-administered medications, assistance with activities of daily living as defined in section 25.5-6-104 (2) (a), C.R.S., and assistance with instrumental activities of daily living as defined in section 25.5-6-104 (2) (g), C.R.S. The rules adopted by the state department shall specify, in accordance with the provisions of this section, the services available under the program and shall specify eligibility criteria for the home care allowance program. In addition, the rules shall specifically provide for a determination as to the person's functional impairment and the person's unmet need for paid care and shall address amounts awarded to persons eligible for home care allowance. The state department shall specify in the rules the methods for determining the unmet need for paid care and the amount of a home care allowance that may be awarded to eligible persons. Such methods may be based on how often a person experiences unmet need for paid care or any other method that the state board determines is valid in correlating unmet need for paid care with an amount of a home care allowance award. The state department shall require that eligibility and unmet need for paid care be determined through the use of a comprehensive and uniform client assessment instrument prescribed by the state department. The state department may adjust income eligibility criteria, including any functional impairment standard, or the amounts awarded to eligible persons or may limit or suspend enrollments as necessary to manage the home care allowance program within the funds appropriated by the general assembly. In addition, the state department may adjust which services are available under the program; except that the adjustment shall be consistent with the provisions of this subsection (1).

(c) The state department is authorized to implement pilot programs that it deems feasible to assess the overall impact, if any, of using alternatives to the method described in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) for determining an eligible person's unmet need for paid care and the amount of a home care allowance awarded to an eligible person.

(2) The state department shall administer the adult foster care program and the home care allowance program. The executive director or the state board, as appropriate, shall promulgate rules necessary for the implementation of this section.

(3) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2010, (HB 10-1146), ch. 281, p. 1304, § 4, effective January 1, 2011.)

(4) Repealed.

(5) The state department shall contract with the single entry point agencies for functions of the home care allowance and adult foster care programs pursuant to the terms of the contract or rule of the state department.

26-2-122.4. Home care allowance grant program - rules - report - repeal.

(1) There is hereby established in the state department the home care allowance grant program, referred to in this section as the "program", to provide assistance to certain individuals who were receiving home care allowance but are no longer eligible to receive such assistance. To be eligible for a grant under the program, an individual shall:

(a) Have been receiving home care allowance under section 26-2-122.3 at any time during the period beginning September 1, 2011, and ending December 31, 2011;

(b) No longer be eligible to receive home care allowance because the individual is on either the home- and community-based supported living services waiver or the children's extensive services waiver, or any successor waiver;

(c) Have been within one thousand dollars of his or her maximum benefit under the applicable waiver at any time during the period beginning September 1, 2011, and ending December 31, 2011;

(d) Meet any other eligibility requirements established by the state board by rule; and

(e) Submit an application to the state department.

(2) (a) As soon as practicable after March 22, 2012, the state board shall adopt rules governing the program, including but not limited to information required in an application, standards for eligibility, requirements for eligibility redeterminations, and the amount of any grant.

(b) Subject to available appropriations, the state department may provide to an individual eligible pursuant to subsection (1) of this section a grant in an amount consistent with the benefits available for an eligible person under the home care allowance program. For eligible individuals, the grants may be made retroactive to January 1, 2012. The state department shall administer the program in a manner that will facilitate rapid implementation and minimize administrative costs.

(3) It is the intent of the general assembly that moneys for the program come from the moneys appropriated for home care allowance benefits and that any moneys appropriated for the program that are unused may be used to provide additional benefits under the home care allowance program.

(4) (a) On or before October 15, 2016, the state department shall submit a written report on the program to the health and human services committee of the senate, or any successor committee, the health and environment committee of the house of representatives, or any successor committee, and to the joint budget committee of the general assembly. As part of the report, the state department shall solicit feedback from grant recipients and their families. The report shall include information on the number of grant recipients, the cost of the program, and the effect of repeal of the program on grant recipients and their families.

(2) The executive director of the state department, or said director's designee, is hereby authorized to accept any private contributions, including contributions from the fund created in section 40-8.5-104, C.R.S., and any federal grants, and to expend the same, subject to appropriation, for the purpose of increasing available funds under the low-income energy assistance program.

(3) Notwithstanding the availability of additional moneys pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the low-income energy assistance program shall be administered within the staffing structure, in existence on July 1, 1991, of the state department of human services and county departments of social services, without additional FTE.

26-2-123. Removal to another county. (1) Any recipient who becomes a resident of another county in this state shall be entitled to receive all forms of public assistance that are provided in the county to which the recipient transfers and for which he or she is eligible, and the county department of the county from which the recipient has moved shall transfer all necessary records relating to the recipient to the county department of the county to which he or she has moved, pursuant to the rules of the state department.

(2) The county to which a recipient moves is required to provide only those services and benefits under the Colorado works program created in part 7 of this article as are stipulated in the receiving county's performance contract.

26-2-124. Reconsideration and changes. (1) All assistance payments and social services provided under this article shall be reconsidered as frequently as and in the manner required by rules and regulations of the state department. After such further verification and record as the county department may deem necessary or the rules and regulations of the state department may require, the amount of assistance payments or the social services provided may be changed, or public assistance may be terminated, if the state department or the county department finds that the recipient's circumstances have altered sufficiently to warrant such action or if changes in state or federal law have been made which would warrant such action.

(2) In accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department, the county department may terminate public assistance at any time for cause, or it may, for cause, suspend public assistance for such period as it may deem proper. Timely notice to persons receiving public assistance, when in fact they are not eligible due to fraudulent acts, may be given five days before the date of a proposed action, in accordance with federal regulations.

(3) Whenever assistance payments are terminated, suspended, or in any way changed, the county department shall at once report such decision to the recipient and to the state department setting forth the reason for such action. All such decisions shall be subject to review by the state department in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department.

Where the state department fails to make a specific finding of a change of circumstances sufficient to warrant the termination of a recipient's benefits, those benefits may not be terminated. Herrera v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 643 P.2d 782 (Colo. App. 1981).

Subsection (1) had the effect of "grandfathering" previously eligible recipients whose disabling conditions have not changed despite subsequent changes in regulations. Herrera v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 643 P.2d 782 (Colo. App. 1981) (decided prior to 1983 amendment).

26-2-125. Colorado works cases - vendor payments. The county department, upon reconsideration in cases involving the Colorado works program as provided in section 26-2-124, may authorize direct payment to vendors of the portion of the assistance grant budgeted for essential services and subsistence items for the children, if evidence has been accumulated that the relative payee is using that portion of the grant provided for the care, maintenance, and welfare of the children for other purposes.

26-2-127. Appeals. (1) (a) (I) Except as provided in part 7 of this article, if an application for assistance payments is not acted upon by the county department within a reasonable time after filing of the same, or if an application is denied in whole or in part, or if a grant of assistance payments is suspended, terminated, or modified, the applicant or recipient, as the case may be, may appeal to the state department in the manner and form prescribed by the rules of the state department. Every county department or service delivery agency shall adopt procedures for the resolution of disputes arising between the county department or the service delivery agency and any applicant for or recipient of public assistance prior to appeal to the state department. Such procedures are referred to in this section as the “dispute resolution process”. Two or more counties may jointly establish the dispute resolution process. The dispute resolution process shall be consistent with rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S. The dispute resolution process shall include an opportunity for all clients to have a county conference, upon the client’s request, and such requirement may be met through a telephonic conference upon the agreement of the client and the county department. The dispute resolution process need not conform to the requirements of section 24-4-105, C.R.S., as long as the rules adopted by the state board include provisions specifically setting forth expeditious time frames, notice, and an opportunity to be heard and to present information. If the dispute is not resolved, the applicant or recipient may appeal to the state department in the manner and form prescribed by the rules of the state department. Whether at the county level, state level, or both, disputes related to the delivery of assistance under the Colorado works program established pursuant to part 7 of this article shall be decided in accordance with the rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to this subparagraph (I) and with the county’s official written policies adopted pursuant to section 26-2-716 (2.5), which policies govern delivery of assistance under such program. The state board shall adopt rules setting forth what other issues, if any, may be appealed by an applicant or recipient to the state department. County notices to applicants or recipients shall inform them of the basis for the county’s decision or action and shall inform them of their rights to a county conference under the dispute resolution process and of their rights to state level appeal and the process of making such appeal. A hearing need not be granted when either state or federal law requires or results in an automatic grant adjustment for classes of recipients, unless the reason for an individual appeal is incorrect grant computation.

(II) Upon receipt of an appeal, the state department shall give the appellant reasonable notice and an opportunity for a fair hearing in accordance with rules of the state department. Any such fair hearing shall comply with section 24-4-105, C.R.S., and the state department’s administrative law judge shall preside.

(III) The appellant shall have an opportunity to examine all applications and pertinent records concerning said appellant that constitute a basis for the denial, suspension, termination, or modification of assistance payments.

(IV) The appellant may represent himself or herself or he or she may be represented by legal counsel, or by a relative, friend, or other spokesman, and such representation by nonlawyers shall not be considered to be the practice of law.

(b) The state department, by its rules, may provide for fair hearings and appeals for applicants for and recipients of social services.

(2) All decisions of the state department shall be binding upon the county department involved and shall be complied with by such county department.

(3) The state department, the department of health care policy and financing, and the office of administrative courts in the department of personnel shall work together to streamline the process for the appeal of disputes that are not resolved at the county level and shall consider proposed legislative changes or federal waivers for the Colorado works program pursuant to part 7 of this article in order to address changes in the appeals process to avoid or mitigate expenses to counties of maintaining benefits during the pendency of state-level appeals.

(4) The state department is authorized to apply to the United States department of agriculture and the health care financing administration for waivers to develop a process for appeals that ensures that issues may be consolidated at the local and state levels. In applying for the waiver, the state department shall demonstrate that due process considerations are addressed through other appeal mechanisms.

26-2-128. Recovery from recipient - estate. (1) If, at any time during the continuance of public assistance, the recipient thereof becomes possessed of any property having a value in excess of that amount set pursuant to the provisions of section 26-2-109 and the rules of the state department or receives any increase in income, it shall be the duty of the recipient to notify the county department of the possession of such property or receipt of such income, and the county department may either terminate the public assistance or alter the amount of assistance payments in accordance with the circumstances and the rules of the state department. To the extent not otherwise prohibited by state or federal law, if the recipient is found to have committed an intentional program violation, the recipient is disqualified from participation in any public assistance program under this article for twelve months for the first incident, twenty-four months for a second incident, and permanently for a third or subsequent incident. Such disqualification is mandatory and is in addition to any other penalty imposed by law. Except as provided in subsections (3) and (4) of this section, any previously paid excess public assistance to which the recipient was not entitled shall be recoverable by the county as a debt due to the state and the county in proportion to the amount of public assistance paid by each respectively; except that any fraudulently obtained public assistance or fraudulently obtained overpayments of public assistance shall be recoverable and payable in proportionate shares as provided in section 26-1-112 (2) (b), and interest shall be charged and paid to the county department on any sum fraudulently obtained, calculated at the legal rate and calculated from the date the recipient obtained such sum to the date such sum is recovered. The following remedies apply for the enforcement and collection of a debt for fraudulently obtained public assistance or fraudulently obtained overpayments of public assistance:

(a) If the debt for fraudulently obtained public assistance, fraudulently obtained overpayments of public assistance, or excess public assistance paid for which the recipient was ineligible has been reduced to a judgment in a court of record in this state, the county department may seek a continuing garnishment to collect the debt under article 54.5 of title 13, C.R.S.

(b) If the person has received an overissuance of food stamp benefits resulting from fraud or willful misrepresentation that has not been recovered by repayment under section 13 (b) (1) of the federal "Food Stamp Act", as amended, the state shall recover the overissuance by withholding unemployment compensation to which the person is entitled pursuant to section 8-73-102 (6), C.R.S.

(2) If, upon the death or mental incompetency of any recipient, the inventory of the recipient's estate shows assets in excess of the amount that the recipient was allowed to have in order to receive public assistance, or if it be shown that the recipient was otherwise ineligible for public assistance, then the claim of the county and state for the excess public assistance paid for which the recipient was ineligible, if filed as required by section 15-12-804, C.R.S., shall have priority as a debt given preference under section 15-12-805 (1) (f.7), C.R.S.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, when a recipient was ineligible for assistance payments solely because of property in excess of that permitted by state department rules and regulations adopted pursuant to section 26-2-109, the amount for which he shall be liable shall be the amount by which his property exceeded the amount allowable under such rules and regulations or the total amount of assistance payments thus received by him, whichever is the lesser amount. Actions for the recovery of such sums shall be prosecuted by the county or state department in any court of record having jurisdiction thereof.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section, in any assistance case in which more than the correct amount of payment has been made, there shall be no

adjustment of payments to the county or state department or recovery by the county or state department from any person who is without fault and who has reported to the state department any increase in income or changes in resources or property, if such adjustment or recovery would deprive a person of income required for ordinary and necessary living expenses or would be against equity and good conscience. Overpayments in all cases involving a grant of aid to families with dependent children shall be recovered from the caretaker relative in the assistance unit who fraudulently obtained the public assistance or who was the direct payee of the overpayments or from such individual's estate. The state department and the county departments shall pursue all available overpayment recovery options against the caretaker relative in the assistance unit first and during this time all overpayment collection activities against the other overpaid members of the assistance unit shall be suspended. On March 26, 2002, the state department and the county departments shall cease any collection efforts being made against the children of an assistance unit in which public assistance was overpaid or fraudulently obtained by a caretaker relative if the caretaker relative has been located. The state and the county departments may elect not to attempt recovery of an overpayment from an individual no longer receiving public assistance where the overpayment amount is less than thirty-five dollars. Where the overpayment amount owed by an individual no longer receiving public assistance is thirty-five dollars or more, the state department and the county departments may determine, consistent with the six-year time limitation for the execution on judgments involving state debt, that it is no longer cost-effective to continue to pursue recovery of the overpayment. The state department and the county departments shall not pursue overpayment collection activities against children who have been part of a Colorado works program assistance unit.

(5) (a) When a recipient, during or because of continuance of public assistance, receives excess assistance through fraudulent acts, the county department shall make regular deductions consistent with federal regulations from said recipient's monthly grant until the excess payment is fully recovered.

(b) Repealed.

(6) (a) The state department shall have a right to recover any amount of public assistance paid to a recipient because:

(I) The trustee of a trust for the benefit of the recipient has used the trust property in a manner contrary to the terms of the trust;

(II) A person holding the recipient's power of attorney has used the power for purposes other than the benefit of the recipient.

(b) To enforce the right under this subsection (6), the county or state department may institute or intervene in legal proceedings against the trustee or person holding the power of attorney. Any amount of public assistance recovered pursuant to this subsection (6) shall be distributed between the state and county in proportion to the amount of public assistance paid by each respectively.

(c) No action taken by the county or state department pursuant to this subsection (6) or any judgment rendered in such action or proceeding shall be a bar to any action upon the claim or cause of action of the recipient or his guardian, personal representative, estate, dependent, or survivors against the trustee or person holding the power of attorney.

Public policy. To sanction the channeling of fraudulently obtained moneys to undeserving heirs and permitting them to profit from illegal and fraudulent actions would be against public policy. *State v. Recovery permitted if payment made by mistake. If it is disclosed that the pensioner was in possession of property or securities that exceeded the maximum allowed, then there need be no showing of fraud in order to recover, if there has been a mistake either on the part of the pensioner or the department. The mistake may be unilateral, but if there was an excess of assets in the hands of the pensioner, it is recoverable. Denver Dept. of Pub. Welfare v. Wysowatcky, 133 Colo. 153, 292 P.2d 735 (1956).

As part of restitution for fraudulently obtained food stamps in violation of this section, the court, pursuant to § 16-11-204.5, properly included interest calculated in accordance with § 5-12-102. It was error, however, for the court to consider only the victim's pecuniary loss and not the defendant's ability to pay. People v. Valenzuela, 874 P.2d 420 (Colo. App. 1994), aff'd in part and rev'd in part on other grounds, 893 P.2d 97 (Colo. 1995).

Interest payable for fraudulently obtained food stamps accrues from the time the state reimburses the federal government for the fraudulently obtained food stamps. Interest should accrue only from the time of the actual injury, and the state suffers actual loss only when it reimburses the federal government. Valenzuela v. People, 893 P.2d 97 (Colo. 1995).

The prosecution is not required to show that the state actually lost interest or had to pay interest as a result of defendant's conduct. Where the defendant wrongfully deprived the state of the funds, statutory law requires that she repay the amount with interest to compensate the state for the loss of use of the funds. Valenzuela v. People, 893 P.2d 97 (Colo. 1995).

26-2-129. Funeral - burial - cremation expenses - death reimbursement - definitions. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, subject to available appropriations, the purposes of this section are the following:

(a) To provide appropriate and equitable reimbursement of funeral, cremation, or burial expenses or any combination thereof associated with the final disposition of any deceased public assistance or medical assistance recipient;

(b) To consider the religious and cultural preferences of the decedent and the decedent's family;

(c) To assure that final disposition of a decedent is provided with dignity;

(d) To ensure that reimbursement of a provider of funeral, cremation, or burial services is appropriately disbursed by the county department;

(e) To provide that public funds are made available for reimbursement pursuant to this section only after it has been determined that there are insufficient resources from the estate of the decedent or the decedent's legally responsible family members to cover the funeral, cremation, or burial expenses;

(f) To allow family members and friends of a decedent to contribute towards the charges of funeral, cremation, or burial expenses to the extent such contributions do not exceed the specified maximum combined charges for such expenses.

(2) For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Contributions" means any monetary payment or donation made directly to the service provider or providers by a nonresponsible person to defray the expenses of a deceased public assistance or medical assistance recipient's funeral, cremation, or burial or any combination thereof.

(b) "Death reimbursement" means the payment made by the county department to the provider of funeral, cremation, or burial services when adequate resources are not available from legally responsible persons or from the personal resources or income of the decedent or from contributions to cover the charges for funeral, cremation, or burial expenses of a deceased public assistance or medical assistance recipient.

(c) "Decedent" means a deceased recipient of or applicant for public assistance or medical assistance who was receiving or was eligible to receive benefits at the time of death.

(d) "Final resting place" means a space, either below or above the surface of the ground, for the interment or entombment of the remains of human bodies.

(e) "Legally responsible person" means a person who:

(I) Is the decedent's spouse or the decedent's parent if the decedent is an unemancipated minor who is under the age of eighteen; and

(II) Bears legal responsibility for the charges associated with the decedent's funeral, cremation, or burial expenses.

(f) "Maximum combined charges" means the total of all charges from all providers but in an amount not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars.

(g) "Mortuary science practitioner" means one engaged in, or holding himself or herself out as being engaged in or conducting, embalming or final disposition of dead human bodies.

(h) "Nonresponsible person" means one of the following who makes a contribution to the charges for a funeral, cremation, or burial or any combination thereof:

(I) A relative of the decedent who is not a legally responsible person; or

(II) Any other person or party.

(3) Subject to available appropriations, a death reimbursement covering reasonable funeral expenses or reasonable cremation or burial expenses or any combination thereof shall be paid by the county department for a decedent if the estate of the deceased is insufficient to pay such reasonable expenses and if the persons legally responsible for the support of the deceased are unable to pay such reasonable expenses. The county department shall be reimbursed eighty percent of the amount of the death reimbursement paid for recipients of aid to the needy disabled and assistance under the Colorado works program pursuant to part 7 of this article and shall be reimbursed one hundred percent of the amount of the death reimbursement for recipients of old age pensions. If the state department determines that the level of appropriation is insufficient to meet the demand for death reimbursements, the state department shall reduce the amount of the death reimbursement level to meet the amount appropriated by the general assembly for death reimbursements. In the event that such a reduction is made, the county department shall have no additional responsibility beyond the reimbursement level as defined in the state department's rules.

(4) The total amount of a death reimbursement paid by the county department or state department pursuant to this section shall not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars and the combined charge of a funeral or cremation or burial or any combination thereof shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars. Contributions from nonresponsible persons may be made without jeopardizing payment under this section and shall be counted as an offset to the maximum combined charges of the providers. If the combined charges from the providers exceed two thousand five hundred dollars, no death reimbursement shall be paid by the state or county department. Providers may seek contributions from nonresponsible persons only to the extent that moneys are available from such parties.

(5) A legally responsible person shall be required to participate financially towards the charges for final disposition through a contribution to the maximum death reimbursement if his or her resources are above the federal supplemental security income resource limits. A legally responsible person shall not be required to participate if he or she has fewer resources than the supplemental security income resource limits or if participation would result in fewer resources than the supplemental security income resource limits. Any financial participation from a legally responsible person shall be deducted from the maximum death reimbursement in the same manner as the personal resources of the decedent and shall not include the survivor's home or other excluded resources as provided for in the state department's rules. Any financial participation by a legally responsible person in excess of the legally required amount shall be used to reduce the amount of the maximum death reimbursement. Social security lump-sum death benefits payable to a legally responsible person shall not be an automatic deduction from the maximum death reimbursement. For purposes of this section, "resources" means:

(a) Those assets or income that are accessible and available to the legally responsible person;

(b) Disbursement of funds from any insurance policy of the decedent to a legally responsible person or nonresponsible person who is named as a beneficiary or a joint beneficiary of the decedent's policy. Nothing in this paragraph (b) shall grant authority to the county department to attach a lien against such funds or otherwise obtain or access these funds for payment of the final disposition of the decedent.

(6) In calculating the amount of the death reimbursement, any personal resources or income of the decedent shall be counted as a deduction from the maximum allowable death reimbursement. For purposes of this section, personal resources or income of the decedent includes the following:

(a) Any preneed contract for merchandise or services to be provided or performed in connection with the decedent's final disposition;

(b) Any other resources or income accessible and available in the name of the decedent, including jointly owned resources or income but only to the extent of the decedent's share of such jointly owned resources or income;

(c) Any death benefit in which reimbursement is directly paid to a provider of funeral, cremation, or burial services in connection with the decedent's final disposition.

(7) (a) Ownership by a public assistance or medical assistance recipient of a final resting place, or the purchase thereof during the time the recipient is receiving that assistance, shall not disqualify the recipient from receiving that assistance, nor shall such ownership be deemed cause for any reduction in the amount of the recipient's assistance.

(b) Any portion of the purchase price of a final resting place owned by the decedent in excess of two thousand dollars shall be counted as a personal resource of the decedent in calculating the amount of a death reimbursement pursuant to this section.

(c) A final resting place previously acquired by someone other than the decedent and donated for final disposition of that decedent shall not be counted as a personal resource of the decedent or a legally responsible person in calculating the amount of a death reimbursement pursuant to this section.

(8) A statement of agreement between the providers that shall be on a form prescribed by the state department that sets forth the charges and the amounts of any payments or contributions shall be completed prior to any disbursement of funds by the county. The agreement shall assure that the charges of all providers have been equitably addressed and shall ascertain that the maximum combined charges do not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars and that the combined contributions from all sources do not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars. All payments from a decedent's estate, payments from legally responsible persons, and contributions from nonresponsible persons shall be paid directly to the provider of services. After the provision of all services, the providers shall bill the county department directly for reimbursement for appropriate costs that have not been covered by the resources from or contributions made by the decedent's estate, legally responsible persons, or nonresponsible persons. The county department shall reimburse the appropriate providers directly, based upon the statement of agreement.

(9) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the disposition of a deceased public assistance or medical assistance recipient shall be in accordance with subparagraph (I) or (II) of this paragraph (a), as follows:

(I) A public assistance or medical assistance recipient may express, in writing and in accordance with a procedure established by the state department, a preference to be buried or cremated or both. Such expression shall be honored by the county department within the limits of costs and reimbursements specified in this section.

(II) The disposition of a public assistance or medical assistance recipient who has not expressed a preference shall be determined respectively by such recipient's spouse, adult children, parents, or siblings. Upon the death of a recipient, the county department shall use reasonable effort to contact such an authorized person to determine the disposition of the deceased recipient. If such effort does not result in contact with an authorized relative within twenty-four hours, the county shall immediately have the deceased recipient's body refrigerated or embalmed. If such effort does not result in contact with and decision by an authorized relative within seven days of the recipient's death, the county department shall determine whether to bury or cremate the deceased recipient on the basis of which option is less costly.

(b) The disposition of any public assistance or medical assistance recipient in accordance with this subsection (9) shall be in a timely and dignified manner.

(c) A mortuary science practitioner or any operator of any cemetery who has contracted for cremation services pursuant to this subsection (9) may dispose of the remains of any public assistance or medical assistance recipient cremated pursuant to this section that are not claimed within one hundred twenty days from the date of cremation. For the purposes of this paragraph (c), disposal of remains shall include, but need not be limited to, placing such remains in a cemetery, scattering grounds, or columbarium.

(10) The state department shall:

(a) Adopt rules and regulations necessary for the implementation of this section; and

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 96, p. 1114, § 1, effective August 7, 1996.)

(c) Annually review reimbursement levels to determine whether such levels are adequate to purchase funeral, cremation, or burial services for deceased public assistance or medical assistance recipients.

(11) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, any person who, in good faith, disposes of a deceased recipient or the remains of a deceased recipient in accordance with this section shall be immune from any civil or criminal liability.

26-2-133. State income tax refund offset. (1) (a) At any time prescribed by the department of revenue, but not less frequently than annually, the state department shall certify to the department of revenue information regarding persons who are obligated to the state for overpayment of benefits pursuant to the "Colorado Social Services Code". Such information shall include certification of the amount of overpayment which has been determined by final agency action or has been ordered by a court as restitution or has been reduced to judgment.

(b) Such information shall also include the name and the social security number of the person obligated to the state for the overpayment, the amount of same, and any other identifying information required by the department of revenue.

(2) As a condition of certifying an overpayment to the department of revenue as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the state department shall ensure that the obligated person has been afforded the opportunity for a conference at the county department level pursuant to section 26-2-127 or 25.5-4-207, C.R.S., and the opportunity for an appeal to the state department pursuant to section 26-2-127 or 26-2-304. In addition, the state department, prior to final certification of the information specified in subsection (1) of this section to the department of revenue, shall notify the obligated person, in writing, at his last known address, that the state intends to refer the person's name to the department of revenue in an attempt to offset the obligation against the person's state income tax refund. Such notification shall inform the obligated person of the opportunity for a conference with the county department pursuant to section 26-2-127 or 25.5-4-207, C.R.S., and of the opportunity for an appeal to the state department pursuant to section 26-2-127 or 26-2-304. In addition, the notice shall specify issues that may be raised at an evidentiary conference or on appeal, as provided by this subsection (2), by the obligated person in objecting to the offset and shall specify that the obligated person may not object to the fact that an overpayment occurred. A person who has received a notice pursuant to this subsection (2) shall request, within thirty days from the date such notice was mailed, an administrative review or evidentiary conference, as provided in this subsection (2).

(3) Upon notification by the department of revenue of amounts deposited with the state treasurer pursuant to section 39-21-108, C.R.S., the state department shall disburse such amounts to the appropriate county for processing for distribution to the federal, state, or local agency to whom the person is obligated.

(4) The state department shall promulgate rules and regulations, pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., establishing procedures to implement this section.

(5) The home addresses and social security numbers of persons subject to the income tax refund offset, provided to the state department by the department of revenue, shall be sent to the respective county department of social services.

26-2-134. Checks, drafts, or orders for payment of moneys for public assistance - identification of bearer. (1) To prevent the fraudulent obtainment of public assistance, a person receiving any check, draft, or order for the payment of money issued for any payment for a public assistance program under this article may not cash or accept the check, draft, or order unless the bearer of the check, draft, or order presents proof of identification demonstrating that the bearer is the proper recipient of the public assistance payment. The recipient of the check, draft, or order shall provide notation on the check, draft, or order regarding the identification provided by the bearer.

(2) Proof of identification for a public assistance payment under subsection (1) of this section may be demonstrated only by the presentation of one of the following documents:

- (a) A valid driver's license issued by any state;
- (b) A valid identification card issued by any state or federal agency;
- (c) A social security card;
- (d) A military identification card issued by the armed forces of the United States;
- (e) A valid passport issued by the United States;
- (f) A valid county social services identification card; or
- (g) A valid identification card issued by an employer.

(3) If any person cashes or accepts a check, draft, or order for the payment of money without proper identification in violation of the provisions of this section, the appropriate state agency may determine not to make payment on the check, draft, or order if there is an allegation of fraud regarding the check, draft, or order for the payment of money, and, if there is a determination that payment should not be made, the state and any state agency are not liable for payment of the check, draft, or order.

26-2-135. Medically correctable program - fund established - rules. (1) On or before January 1, 1997, the state department shall make preparations for the implementation of a statewide medically correctable program, referred to in this section as the "program". Such preparations shall include but are not limited to staff training, policy development, and rule-making pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(2) On and after January 1, 1997, the program shall be applicable to a person who:

- (a) Has been approved for state aid to the needy disabled;
- (b) Is determined to be unlikely to meet the disability criteria for supplemental security income;
- (c) Has a disability that can be corrected with medical treatment at a cost that does not exceed twenty thousand dollars so that the person can return to employment; and
- (d) Is not otherwise receiving workers' compensation benefits.

(3) The program shall consist of the following features:

- (a) A process by which the state department shall determine whether a person qualifies to receive medical treatment so that the person can return to work;
- (b) A set of procedures for monitoring a person's recovery from the medical treatment and return to work after participating in the program; and
- (c) Annual reports to the joint budget committee and the house and senate committees on health and human services, or any successor committees, that identify the number of persons who received medical treatment pursuant to the program in the preceding fiscal year, their recovery rates and return to the workforce, and the amount of moneys spent on the program.

(4) The cost of the medical treatment identified in paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of this section shall not be a benefit for purposes of articles 40 to 47 of title 8, C.R.S.

26-2-136. Personal identification systems for public assistance - committee to select methods.

(1) Repealed.

(2) The personal identification committee shall study and recommend what security measures, such as individual personal identification numbers, photo identification, fingerprint identification, or retinal scanning, should be used to identify applicants for purposes of determining whether a person applying for public assistance is eligible to receive such benefits. In making such recommendations, the committee shall consider the extent of the security problem, the cost of possible security measures, which measures, if any, will be most cost-effective, and which will be the most successful at preventing and detecting fraud and duplicate participation.

(3) In addition to the security measures selected pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the state department shall use social security numbers to the extent allowable under federal law as a method of personal identification for every person applying for public assistance.

26-2-137. Noncitizens programs. (1) Emergency assistance. (a) (I) A general assistance fund is hereby established that shall consist of state general funds appropriated thereto by the general assembly. Moneys in the fund shall be used only for the purpose of providing emergency assistance pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (1) and shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly.

(II) The state department shall allocate moneys in the fund described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) to the counties for the implementation of the emergency assistance program pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (1) and rules of the state department.

(b) The state department shall promulgate rules for the delivery of emergency assistance to a person who:

(I) Is a legal immigrant and a resident of the state of Colorado;

(II) Is not a citizen of the United States; and

(III) Meets the eligibility requirements for public assistance under this article other than citizen status and is not receiving any other public assistance under this article.

(c) Such emergency assistance may include but need not be limited to the following forms of assistance:

(I) Housing;

(II) Food;

(III) Short-term cash assistance; and

(IV) Clothing and social services for children.

(2) Sponsor responsibility policies. (a) The general assembly finds and declares that sponsors shall be expected to meet their moral and financial commitments to the immigrants whom they sponsor and for whom they sign affidavits of support.

(b) The state department shall promulgate rules consistent with this section and federal law to enforce sponsor commitments for noncitizen applicants for or recipients of public assistance or medical assistance.

(c) Enforcement mechanisms shall include but not be limited to the following:

(I) Income assignment;

(II) State income tax refund offset;

(III) State lottery winnings offset; and

(IV) Administrative lien and attachment.

(d) A recipient shall assign rights to any support under affidavits of support to the state of Colorado as a condition of receipt of public assistance or medical assistance under this title.

(e) To the extent not preempted by federal law, the state department shall commence a proceeding or an action to enforce duties under an affidavit of support within a period of time to be determined by the state board after a recipient for whom an affidavit of support has been signed has been approved for public assistance or medical assistance under this title.

PART 2

COLORADO SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME ACT

26-2-201. Short title. This part 2 shall be known and may be cited as the “Colorado Supplemental Security Income Act”.

Source: L. 75: Entire part added, p. 891, § 12, effective July 28.

26-2-202. Legislative declaration. (1) It is the intent of this part 2 to implement a state supplementation program pursuant to Title XVI of the social security act. It is the object and purpose of this part 2 to promote the public health and welfare of individuals who are residents of Colorado and whose need results from age, blindness, or disability with assistance and services to assist such individuals to attain or retain their capabilities for independence, self-care, and self-support.

(2) The state supplementation shall be accomplished by providing mandatory assistance, as defined in this part 2, where required and by providing optional supplementation in accordance with Title XVI of the social security act and regulations adopted by the state board, within available appropriations. Title XVI of the social security act currently permits, in the determination of eligibility for benefits under that title, the disregard of certain payments which a Title XVI recipient receives from a state or a political subdivision of a state. Those persons receiving benefits under Title XVI of the social security act who also meet the eligibility requirements fixed under part 1 of this article may receive a state supplement to their Title XVI benefits in the form of benefits provided under such part 1.

(1) “December 1973 income” means the amount of assistance payment which an individual received for December, 1973, plus income used in computing such payment, according to the state plan approved by the United States department of health, education, and welfare for the state of Colorado as in effect for June, 1973.

(2) “Mandatory minimum state supplementation” means minimum payments required by the social security act to be made by the state to maintain certain former adult assistance recipients at their December 1973 income level.

(3) “Optional state supplement” means cash payments or special needs or both which are paid or provided to or on behalf of a supplemental security income recipient pursuant to the rules and regulations of the state board pursuant to part 1 of this article.

(4) “Special needs” means an amount to be paid to or on behalf of aged, blind, or disabled individuals in specified circumstances, as determined by the state board, for specified individualized needs.

(5) “SSI benefits” means cash payments made by the federal government to eligible aged, blind, or disabled individuals pursuant to Title XVI of the social security act.

Source: L. 75: Entire part added, p. 891, § 12, effective July 28.

26-2-204. Mandatory minimum state supplementation of SSI benefits. The state department, with the approval of the state board, is authorized to enter into an agreement with the secretary of the United States department of health, education, and welfare whereby the state department will provide to qualified individuals residing in the state, within available appropriations, mandatory minimum state supplementation of SSI benefits in accordance with the requirements of Title XVI of the social security act and rules and regulations of the state department.

26-2-205. Optional state supplementation. The state department is authorized to adopt rules and regulations for the provision of optional state supplementation to recipients of SSI benefits residing in the state, within available appropriations, in accordance with Title XVI of the social security act and this part 2. Such benefits may be provided pursuant to part 1 of this article if the individual meets the eligibility requirements established under such part 1. SSI benefits received must be considered as income in determining eligibility under part 1 of this article. Eligibility for and the amount of such payments shall be fixed by the state board. If the federal government makes a final determination that any such payments must be considered as income in determining eligibility for SSI benefits, the state board shall terminate such payments.

26-2-206. Interim assistance. (1) The state department, with the approval of the state board and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department, is authorized to enter into an agreement with the secretary of the United States department of health, education, and welfare for implementation of arrangements for interim assistance as authorized by Title XVI of the social security act.

(2) Payment of legal, professional, or other fees by a recipient of public assistance who is seeking supplemental security income benefits shall be made in accordance with the policies and procedures of the social security act.

(3) Neither the state department nor any county shall pay any portion of costs associated with obtaining supplemental security income, including any legal, professional, or other fees paid by a recipient of public assistance in seeking supplemental security income benefits or any other federal benefit. The interim assistance reimbursement payment authorized under this section shall be used to reimburse the state aid to the needy disabled program, described in section 26-2-111 (4), for benefits paid to the recipient as interim assistance in accordance with the agreement between the state department and the social security administration. Any moneys received by a county in excess of the interim assistance paid by the state department and any county on behalf of the recipient shall be paid to the recipient.

ANNOTATION

Reimbursement of interim assistance payments made to applicants under the state's aid to the needy and disabled program, pending awards of federal supplemental security income benefits, is proper. Gillens v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 644 P.2d 97 (Colo. App. 1982).

Court rejected plaintiff's contention that the authorization verifying application for federal supplemental security income benefits and allowing the social security administration to send applicant's federal benefits check directly to the department of human services as reimbursement of interim assistance payments is void and unenforceable because it was a product of duress or coercion. Requiring compliance with a valid regulation does not amount to duress or coercion. Martinez v. Dept. of Human Servs., 97 P.3d 152 (Colo. App. 2003).

26-2-207. Administration. (1) The provisions of article 1 of this title and, where not inconsistent with this part 2, the provisions of part 1 of this article shall apply to state supplementation under this part 2.

(2) The state department, with the approval of the state board and in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department, may enter into agreements with the secretary of the United States department of health, education, and welfare to assist in the administration of Title XVI of the social security act and this part 2.

26-2-209. Limitations. All benefits granted under this part 2 shall be granted and held subject to the provisions of any amending or repealing law that may be passed after July 1, 1975, and no recipient shall have any claim for compensation or otherwise by reason of his supplementation benefits being affected in any way by any amending or repealing law.

26-2-210. State supplemental security income stabilization fund - creation. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the state supplemental security income stabilization fund, referred to in this section as the "stabilization fund", for the purpose of stabilizing the source of funding required to meet the federal requirements for maintenance of effort for the state-funded supplement to persons receiving SSI benefits. The stabilization fund shall consist of any excess moneys recovered due to overpayment of recipients, including regular, fraud, and interim assistance reimbursement recoveries, and any appropriations made to the stabilization fund by the general assembly. The moneys in the stabilization fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the state department to be expended on programs that count toward the maintenance of effort for the state supplemental security income as specified in the state plan when the state department determines that the state is at risk of not meeting the federal maintenance of effort for that calendar year. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the stabilization fund shall be credited to the stabilization fund. At the end of any fiscal year, an amount not exceeding one million five hundred thousand dollars shall remain in the stabilization fund as a continuous appropriation to be used to meet the state's maintenance of effort requirements under this part 2, and any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the stabilization fund at the end of any fiscal year in excess of one million five hundred thousand dollars shall revert to the general fund.

(2) The state department shall submit a report to the joint budget committee by February 15 of each year. The report shall indicate whether expenditures were made from the stabilization fund, the aggregate monthly amount of any expenditures, and the particular programs for which the expenditures were made.

FOOD STAMPS

Cross references: For the federal “Food Stamp Act”, now known as the “Food and Nutrition Act of 2008”, see 7 U.S.C. sec. 2011 et seq. (Section 4001 of the “Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008”, Pub.L. 110-234, changed the name of the federal “Food Stamp Act of 1977” to the “Food and Nutrition Act of 2008” and changed the name of the federal food stamp program to the “supplemental nutrition assistance program”).

26-2-301. Food stamps - administration. (1) The state department is hereby designated as the single state agency to administer or supervise the administration of the food stamp program in this state in cooperation with the federal government pursuant to the federal “Food Stamp Act”, as amended, and this part 3.

(2) The state department, with the approval of the state board, may enter into an agreement with the secretary of the United States department of agriculture to accept federal food assistance benefits for disbursement to qualified households in accordance with federal law. Under state department supervision, the responsibility for disbursement may be delegated, under agreement, to county departments, United States postal service facilities, or other commercial facilities such as but not limited to banks.

(3) The food stamp program shall be implemented and administered in every county in the state by the respective county departments or by the state department pursuant to an agreement with one or more counties. If a county can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the state department that it is impossible or impractical for the county department to administer the program, the state department shall ensure that the program is implemented and administered within such county, and the county shall continue to meet the requirements of section 26-1-122.

(4) (a) The state department shall develop a state outreach plan, referred to in this section as the “outreach plan”, to promote access by eligible persons to benefits through the supplemental nutrition assistance program. The outreach plan shall meet the criteria established by the food and nutrition services agency of the United States department of agriculture for approval of state outreach plans. The state department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, and donations to develop and implement the outreach plan.

(b) For purposes of developing and implementing an outreach plan, the state department shall partner with one or more counties and nonprofit organizations for the development and implementation of the outreach plan. If the state department enters into a contract with a nonprofit organization relating to the outreach plan, the contract may specify that the nonprofit organization is responsible for seeking sufficient gifts, grants, or donations necessary for the development and implementation of the outreach plan, and may additionally specify that any costs to the state associated with the award and management of the contract or the implementation or administration of the outreach plan shall be paid out of any private or federal moneys raised for the development and implementation of the outreach plan. The state department shall submit the outreach plan to the food and nutrition services agency for approval by September 1, 2010, and shall request any federal matching moneys that may be available upon approval of the outreach plan. The general assembly strongly encourages the state department to use any additional public or private moneys, including moneys from the federal 2010 department of defense appropriations bill to offset costs associated with increased caseload resulting from the implementation of an outreach plan.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection (4), the state department shall be exempt from implementing or administering an outreach plan, but not from developing an outreach plan, if the state department will not be receiving private or federal moneys sufficient to cover the state’s costs associated with the implementation and administration of the outreach plan, including any state or county costs associated with increased caseload resulting from the implementation of the outreach plan.

(5) The provisions of article 1 of this title and, where not inconsistent with this part 3, the provisions of part 1 of this article shall apply to federal food assistance benefits under this part 3.

26-2-302. Federal requirements. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the state department from complying with federal requirements for the food stamp program expressly provided by federal statute and regulation in order for the state of Colorado to qualify for federal funds under the federal "Food Stamp Act", as amended, and to maintain the food stamp program within the limits of available appropriations.

26-2-304. Appeals - recoveries. The provisions of section 26-2-127, relating to appeals, and section 26-2-128, relating to recoveries, shall apply to the food stamp program, except when such sections conflict with federal statute or regulation or when a specific conflict with federal statute or regulation is not clearly present and the state department elects by regulation to follow federal statute or regulation.

26-2-305. Fraudulent acts - penalties. (1) (a) Any person who obtains, or any person who aids or abets another to obtain, food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards or an electronic benefits transfer card or similar credit card-type device through which food stamp benefits may be delivered to which the person is not entitled, or food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards or an electronic benefits transfer card or similar credit card-type device through which food stamp benefits may be delivered the value of which is greater than that to which the person is justly entitled by means of a willfully false statement or representation, or by impersonation, or by any other fraudulent device with intent to defeat the purposes of the food stamp program commits the crime of theft, which crime shall be classified in accordance with section 18-4-401 (2), C.R.S., and which crime shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-401, C.R.S., if the crime is classified as a felony, or section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S., if the crime is classified as a misdemeanor. Any person violating the provisions of this subsection (1) is disqualified from participation in the food stamp program for one year for a first offense, two years for a second offense, and permanently for a third or subsequent offense. Any person convicted of trafficking in food stamp coupons as described in this subsection (1) having a value of five hundred dollars or more shall be permanently disqualified from the food stamp program.

(b) Any person found by the agency or convicted in a court of law of having made a fraudulent statement or representation with respect to the identity or place of residence of the person in order to receive multiple benefits simultaneously under the food stamp program shall be disqualified from participating for a ten-year period.

(c) Any person found guilty by a court of law of purchasing controlled substances, as defined in section 18-18-102 (5), C.R.S., with food stamp benefits shall be disqualified from participation in the food stamp program for two years for a first offense and permanently disqualified for the second offense. The disqualification periods shall apply also to individuals with a felony conviction entered on or after July 1, 1997, for possession, use, or distribution of controlled substances if the conviction is directly related to the misuse of food stamp benefits. An individual shall not be ineligible due to a drug conviction unless misuse of food stamp benefits is part of the court findings.

(d) Any person who is found guilty by a court of law of trading ammunition or explosives for food stamp benefits is disqualified permanently from participating in the food stamp program.

(e) A state or federal court may extend a disqualification for up to an additional eighteen months. Such disqualifications are mandatory and are in addition to any other penalty imposed by law.

(1.5) Any person against whom a county department of social services or the state department obtains a civil judgment in a state or federal court of record in this state based on allegations that the person obtained or willfully aided and abetted another to obtain food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards or an electronic benefits transfer card or similar credit card-type device through which food stamp benefits may be delivered the value of which is greater than that to which the person is justly entitled by means of a willfully false statement or representation, or by impersonation, or by any other fraudulent device with intent to defeat the purposes of the food stamp program, is disqualified from participation in the food stamp program for one year for a first incident, two years for a second incident, and permanently for a third or subsequent incident. Such disqualifications are mandatory and are in addition to any other remedy available to a judgment creditor.

(2) If, at any time during the continuance of participation in the food stamp program, the recipient of food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards knowingly acquires any property or receives any increase in income or property, or both, in excess of that declared at the time of determination or redetermination of eligibility or if there is any other change in circumstances affecting the recipient's eligibility or the amount of food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards to which he or she is entitled, it is the duty of the recipient to notify the county department, or the state department in food stamp districts administered by the state department, of any such acquisition, receipt, or change in accordance with state department regulations; and any recipient of food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards who knowingly fails to do so, and who by such failure receives benefits in excess of those to which he or she was in fact entitled, commits a class 3 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S.

(3) The county department, or the state department in food stamp districts administered by the state department, shall use an application form which contains appropriate and conspicuous notice of the penalties for fraud and shall deliver to each recipient with the first issuance of food stamp coupons or authorization to purchase cards and each redetermination thereafter a written notice explaining what changes in circumstances require notification to the county department or state department under subsection (2) of this section.

(4) Additional costs incurred by district attorneys in enforcing this section, in accordance with the rules of the state department, shall be billed to county departments in the judicial district in the proportion to each county as specified in section 20-1-302, C.R.S., and the county departments shall pay such costs as an expense of food stamp administration.

26-2-305.5. Categorical eligibility - repeal. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "federal law" means the federal "Food and Nutrition Act of 2008", and any amendments to the act and any federal regulations adopted for the implementation of the act.

(2) (a) No later than October 1, 2010, the state department shall create a program or policy that, in compliance with federal law, establishes broad-based categorical eligibility for federal food assistance benefits pursuant to the supplemental nutrition assistance program.

(b) At a minimum, the program or policy shall, to the extent authorized pursuant to federal law, eliminate the asset test for eligibility for federal food assistance benefits.

(3) Notwithstanding any provisions of subsection (2) of this section to the contrary, the provisions of this section shall take effect only if the state department receives moneys pursuant to the federal 2010 department of defense appropriations bill that may be used to implement this section.

26-2-306. Trafficking in food stamps. (1) Any person who obtains, uses, transfers, or disposes of food stamps in the manner specified in paragraphs (a) to (c) of this subsection (1) commits the offense of trafficking in food stamps. A person who traffics in food stamps includes:

(a) Any bona fide recipient of food stamps, or his authorized representative who knowingly transfers food stamps to another who does not, or does not intend to, use the said food stamps for the benefit of the food stamp household for whom the food stamps were intended as the same is defined in the rules and regulations of the state department;

(b) Any person who knowingly acquires, accepts, uses, or transfers to another for consideration food stamps not issued to him or an authorized representative or to a member of a food stamp household of which he is a member by the state department or another authorized issuing agency in another state;

(c) Any person who knowingly receives, possesses, alters, transfers, or redeems food stamps received, used, or transferred in violation of any federal statute.

(2) Trafficking in food stamps is:

(b) A class 2 misdemeanor under section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S., if the value of the food stamps is less than five hundred dollars;

(b.5) A class 1 misdemeanor under section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S., if the value of the food stamps is five hundred dollars or more but less than one thousand dollars;

(c) A class 4 felony under section 18-1.3-401, C.R.S., if the value of the food stamps is one thousand dollars or more but less than twenty thousand dollars;

(d) A class 3 felony under section 18-1.3-401, C.R.S., if the value of the food stamps is twenty thousand dollars or more.

(3) When a person commits the offense of trafficking in food stamps twice or more within a period of six months, two or more of the offenses may be aggregated and charged in a single count, in which event the offenses so aggregated and charged shall constitute a single offense, and, if the aggregate value of the food stamps involved is one thousand dollars or more but less than twenty thousand dollars, it is a class 4 felony; however, if the aggregate value of the food stamps involved is twenty thousand dollars or more, it is a class 3 felony.

(4) As used in this section, “food stamps” means coupons issued pursuant to the federal “Food Stamp Act”, 7 U.S.C. 2011 to 2029, as amended.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "The State's Approach to Welfare Reform: 'Colorado Works'", see 27 Colo. Law. 37 (January 1998).

26-2-702. Legislative intent. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Passage of the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Pub.L. 104-193, and the federal "Deficit Reduction Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 2005", Pub.L. 109-171, gives the state a unique opportunity to develop and maintain a public assistance program that emphasizes placing recipients in work and supporting them in sustained employment with food stamps, child care assistance, and medicaid;

(b) The federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Pub.L. 104-193, and the federal "Deficit Reduction Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 2005", Pub.L. 109-171, require increased local input in developing the state plan for public assistance under these laws and allow increased local control over the implementation of such state plan;

(c) The federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Pub.L. 104-193, and the federal "Deficit Reduction Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 2005", Pub.L. 109-171, require additional training for local employees in the area of case management to assist in making recipients self-sufficient.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly finds and declares that it is in the state's best interests to adopt the Colorado works program set forth in this part 7.

Source: L. 97: Entire part added, p. 1194, § 1, effective June 3. L. 2008: (1) amended, p. 1949, § 1, effective January 1, 2009.

26-2-703. Definitions. As used in this part 7, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Repealed.

(2) "Assistance" means any ongoing assistance payment or short-term assistance payment as those terms are described in section 26-2-706.6.

(2.5) "Assistance unit" means those family members who are participants in the Colorado works program and who are receiving cash assistance.

(3) "Basic cash assistance grant" means cash assistance provided to a participant in the Colorado works program pursuant to section 26-2-709.

(3.5) (a) "Cash assistance" means cash, payments, vouchers, and other forms of benefits designed to meet a family's ongoing basic needs such as food, clothing, shelter, utilities, household goods, personal care items, and general incidental expenses. "Cash assistance" includes such benefits even when they are:

(I) Provided in the form of payments by a TANF agency, or other agency on its behalf, to individual participants; and

(II) Conditioned on participation in a work activity or community service.

(b) Except as otherwise excluded in paragraph (c) of this subsection (3.5), "cash assistance" also includes supportive services provided to families who are not employed such as transportation and child care.

(c) "Cash assistance" does not include:

(I) Nonrecurrent, short-term benefits that:

(A) Are designed to address a specific crisis situation or episode of need;

(B) Are not intended to meet recurrent or ongoing needs; and

(C) Will not extend beyond four months;

(II) Work subsidies such as payments to employers or third parties to help cover the costs of employee wages, benefits, supervision, and training;

(III) Supportive services such as child care and transportation provided to families who are employed;

(IV) Refundable earned income tax credits;

(V) Contributions to, and distributions from, individual development accounts;

(VI) Services such as counseling, case management, peer support, child care information and referral, transitional services, job retention, job advancement, and other employment-related services that do not provide basic income support; and

(VII) Transportation benefits provided under a job access or reverse commute project to an individual who is not otherwise receiving assistance.

(4) "Colorado child care assistance program" means the state program of child care assistance implemented pursuant to the provisions of part 8 of this article and rules of the state department.

(5) "Colorado works program" or "works program" means the program of public assistance created in this part 7.

(5.5) "Controlled substance" means a substance, a drug, or an immediate precursor included in schedules I to V of part 2 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S., and any "alcohol beverage" as defined in section 12-47-103 (2), C.R.S.

(5.7) "Countable income" means the receipt by an individual of a gain or benefit in cash or in kind during a calendar month that is used to determine eligibility and the benefit amount for the Colorado works program as specified by the state board.

(6) "County" means a county or a city and county.

(7) "County block grant" means a block grant provided to a county pursuant to the provisions of section 26-2-712.

(8) "County department" means:

(a) The department of social services, human services, or health and human services of a county or a city and county; or

(b) Any combination of departments of social services of a county or a city and county that are approved by the state department to implement a county block grant jointly pursuant to the provisions of section 26-2-718.

(8.5) "Deficit reduction omnibus reconciliation act" means the federal "Deficit Reduction Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 2005", Pub.L. 109-171, as amended.

(9) "Dependent child" means a person who resides with a parent or a specified caretaker and who is under the age of eighteen years or, if the person is a full-time student at a secondary school or vocational or technical equivalent and is reasonably expected to complete the school or vocational or technical equivalent before attaining the age of nineteen years, is under nineteen years.

(9.5) "Disqualified or excluded person" means a person who would otherwise be a member of an assistance unit but who is rendered ineligible to participate due to program prohibitions.

(10) "Federal law" means the personal responsibility and work opportunity reconciliation act, the deficit reduction omnibus reconciliation act, and any federal regulations adopted for the implementation of either act.

(10.2) "Guardian" means a person appointed by court order to be the guardian of another person.

(10.5) "Income" means any cash, payments, wages, in-kind receipts, inheritance, gifts, prizes, rents, dividends, interest, and other gain or benefit in cash or in kind received by members of an assistance unit.

(11) "Indian tribe" means a federally recognized Indian tribe with part or all of its reservation located in the state of Colorado.

(12) "Individual responsibility contract" or "IRC" means the contract entered into by the participant and the county department pursuant to section 26-2-708.

(13) Repealed.

(13.5) "Noncustodial parent", as defined in 45 CFR 260.30, means a person who:

(a) Is the parent of a minor child; and

(b) Lives in Colorado; and

(c) Does not live in the same household as the minor child.

(13.7) "Ongoing assistance" means any cash grant, benefit, service, or other form of temporary assistance designed to meet an eligible family's ongoing needs.

(14) "Parent" means either a biological parent or a parent by adoption.

(15) "Participant" means an individual who receives any assistance or who participates in a specific component of the Colorado works program.

(16) "Performance contract" means the performance-based contract executed by the state department and the board of county commissioners of each county or the boards of county commissioners of a group of counties pursuant to section 26-2-715.

(17) "Personal responsibility and work opportunity reconciliation act" means the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", Pub.L. 104-193, as amended.

(17.5) "Program prohibitions" means a circumstance that, pursuant to this part 7 or federal law, renders an individual unable to participate in the Colorado works program.

(17.7) "Qualified alien" means a qualified alien as defined by rule of the state board in conformance with the personal responsibility and work opportunity reconciliation act.

(17.8) "Receipt" or "receipt of income" means the date on which income is actually received by or becomes legally available to a member of an assistance unit.

(18) "Reservation" means the Ute Mountain Ute Indian Reservation and the Southern Ute Indian Reservation in Colorado.

(18.2) "Short-term assistance" means a nonrecurrent, short-term benefit that is designed to deal with a specific crisis situation or episode of need, is not intended to meet recurrent or ongoing needs, and does not extend beyond four months.

(18.3) "Specified caretaker" means:

(a) A person who exercises responsibility for a dependent child and who is:

(I) A relative by blood, marriage, or adoption who is within the fifth degree of kinship to the dependent child; or

(II) Appointed by the court to be the guardian or the legal custodian of the dependent child; or

(b) A person who exercises responsibility for a dependent child within the person's home if there is no person described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (18.3).

(18.5) "Targeted spending level" means the amount of county funds that a county shall appropriate pursuant to the provisions of section 26-1-122 for the purpose of defraying the county's maintenance of effort requirement for the works program.

(19) "Temporary assistance for needy families" or "TANF" means the program of block grants from the federal government to the states to implement assistance programs pursuant to federal law.

(20) "Tribal member" means an enrolled member of either the Ute Mountain Ute or Southern Ute Indian tribes.

(21) "Work activities" shall have the same definition as is provided in federal law. The state board shall promulgate rules as necessary to further define "work activities" in accordance with the definition provided in federal law. Participants shall be considered to be engaged in work if they are participating in work activities as described in the federal law or if they are participating in other work activities designed to lead to self-sufficiency as determined by the county and as outlined in their IRC.

(22) "Work participation rate" means the percentage of participants who are involved in work activities as required statewide under federal law.

(23) "Works allocation committee" means the committee created pursuant to section 26-2-714 (6).

ANNOTATION

Although the “no entitlement” language under this section modifies the unconditional entitlement to welfare benefits previously available under the AFDC program, the language under § 26-2-709 (1)(a)(I) does not violate all forms of property rights in welfare benefits. Weston v. Cassata, 37 P.3d 469 (Colo. App. 2001).

26-2-705. Works program - purposes. (1) (a) Effective July 1, 1997, the Colorado works program is implemented pursuant to the personal responsibility and work opportunity reconciliation act and is intended to comply with the express requirements for participation in the TANF block grant program.

(b) Effective January 1, 2009, the Colorado works program is amended to ensure implementation in compliance with the deficit reduction omnibus reconciliation act.

(2) The purposes of the works program are to:

(a) Assist participants to terminate their dependence on government benefits by promoting job preparation, work, and marriage;

(b) Provide assistance to needy families so that children may be cared for in their homes or in the homes of family members;

(c) Prevent and reduce the incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancies and to establish annual numerical goals for preventing and reducing the incidences of these pregnancies;

(d) Encourage the formation and maintenance of two-parent families;

(e) Develop strategies and policies that focus on ensuring that participants are in work activities as soon as possible so that the state is able to meet or exceed work participation rates specified in the federal law; and

(f) Allow the counties increased responsibility for the administration of the works program.

(3) Nothing in this part 7 is intended to prevent a county or municipality from implementing a public assistance or general assistance program with local funds.

Source: L. 97: Entire part added, p. 1198, § 1, effective June 3. L. 2008: (1) and (2) amended, p. 1953, § 3, effective January 1, 2009.

26-2-706. Target populations. (1) (a) Subject to the provisions of this section and restrictions in the federal law, those persons or families who may receive assistance under the Colorado works program include:

(I) Dependent children under the age of eighteen;

(II) (A) Dependent children between the ages of eighteen and nineteen who are full-time students in a secondary school, home school, or in the equivalent level of vocational or technical training and expected to complete the program before age nineteen. Such children are eligible for assistance through the end of the month in which they complete the program. A dependent child is still considered to be a student in regular attendance during official school or training program vacation periods, absences due to illness, convalescence, or family emergency, or the month in which the child completes a school or training program.

(B) For purposes of this subparagraph (II), “regular attendance” means that the student is enrolled in a program of study or training leading to a certificate or diploma and is physically attending such program or training; “full-time attendance” means that the student is attending school for a minimum of twenty-five hours per week, or an amount of time as specified by the school; and "half-time attendance" means that the student is attending school for a minimum of twelve hours per week, or an amount of time as specified by the school; and

(III) The parents of a dependent child, including expectant parents, or a specified caretaker with whom the dependent child is living.

(a.5) In addition to the eligibility requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), in order to receive Colorado works benefits and assistance, the assistance unit shall include a dependent child who lives in the home of a parent or other specified caretaker. A dependent child is considered to be living in the home of a specified caretaker as long as the parent or other specified caretaker exercises responsibility for the care of the child even though one or more of the following occurs:

(I) The child is under the jurisdiction of the court; or

(II) Legal custody is held by an agency that does not have physical possession of the child; or

(III) The child is in regular attendance at school away from home; or

(IV) Either the child or the specified caretaker is temporarily absent from the home to receive medical treatment; or

(V) The child is in a voluntary foster care placement for a period not expected to exceed three months.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), the state board shall promulgate rules to provide that two-parent families shall be treated the same as single-parent families under the provisions of this section.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), the state board shall promulgate rules to provide that half siblings residing in the same household not be required to be in the same assistance unit if at least one of the half siblings is receiving child support. In such circumstance, the half sibling receiving child support shall be given the option to not participate in Colorado works.

(d) The state board shall promulgate rules to provide that a noncustodial parent may be allowed to receive services under the Colorado works program, but not assistance, at a county's option and in accordance with the county's plan. Such services provided to a noncustodial parent pursuant to this paragraph (d) shall be intended to promote the sustainable employment of the noncustodial parent and enable such parent to pay child support. Provision of such services shall not negatively impact the eligibility for benefits or services of the custodial parent.

(1.5) To participate in the Colorado works program an applicant or person shall:

(a) Be a resident of Colorado;

(b) Be a citizen of the United States, a qualified alien who entered the United States prior to August 22, 1996, or a qualified alien who entered the United States on or after August 22, 1996, who has been in a qualified alien status for a period of five years or, if less than five years, is in a federal exempt category pursuant to 8 U.S.C. sec. 1613 (b), as amended;

(c) Not be receiving financial assistance from other financial assistance programs administered by the state of Colorado;

(d) Not be an inmate of a public institution, except as a patient in a public medical institution;

(e) Not be an inmate of any institution as a patient admitted for tuberculosis or mental disease, unless the person is a child under the age of twenty-one years receiving psychiatric care under medicaid;

(f) Not be participating in a labor strike;

(g) Provide a social security number or proof of application for a social security number if the social security number is unknown or if the applicant does not have a social security number;

(h) Provide verification of earned income received in the thirty days immediately prior to the date of application; and

(i) Provide verification of pregnancy, if applicable.

(2) (a) The state department shall promulgate rules to identify with specificity who may be a participant in the works program and the income requirements for participation in the works program. An asset test shall not be applied as a condition of eligibility for participation in the works program.

(b) The rules shall provide that an unmarried parent under eighteen years of age shall not receive assistance unless such unmarried parent resides with his or her parent or other specified caretaker in an adult-supervised home or in any other arrangement approved by the county department.

(3) A person convicted of a drug-related felony offense under the laws of this state, any other state, or the federal government on or after June 3, 1997, shall not be eligible for assistance under the works program, unless such person is determined by the county department to have taken action toward rehabilitation such as, but not limited to, participation in a drug treatment program.

(4) The state board shall promulgate rules to simplify the requirements relating to determination and verification of eligibility criteria. Nothing in this subsection (4) shall authorize the state board to amend or delete eligibility criteria for participation in the works program that the board is not otherwise authorized to amend or delete.

Editor's note: Amendments to subsection (1) by House Bill 01-1048 and House Bill 01-1264 were harmonized.

26-2-706.5. Restrictions on length of participation. (1) Unless cash assistance is provided through segregated funds pursuant to federal law and section 26-2-714, as of June 3, 1997, each month of cash assistance received by an assistance unit that includes a specified caretaker who has received assistance under Title IV-A of the social security act, as amended, shall count toward that specified caretaker's sixty-month lifetime maximum of TANF benefits as established in federal law.

(2) Any month in which a specified caretaker is determined to be a disqualified or excluded person from a basic cash assistance grant shall count as a month of participation in the calculation of the specified caretaker's overall sixty-month lifetime maximum.

(3) (a) The county department shall, where available and applicable, provide for or refer a disqualified or excluded person to other appropriate services, including services that may assist the person toward self-sufficiency.

(b) Nothing in this subsection (3) shall be construed to create any entitlement for services or to require any county to expend resources in addition to existing appropriations.

26-2-706.6. Payments and services under Colorado works - rules. (1) Subject to the provisions of federal law, rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to this section, and available appropriations, the payment types and services specified in this section are available to participants in the Colorado works program.

(2) Ongoing assistance payment. An assistance unit that applies and is eligible for ongoing assistance shall, unless voluntarily and knowingly refused, receive cash assistance, which is a recurrent cash payment. In addition to a cash payment, an eligible assistance unit may also receive cash assistance in the form of a cash-equivalent payment, voucher, or other form of cash benefit that is designed to meet the basic ongoing needs of the persons in the assistance unit. Basic ongoing needs shall consist of food, clothing, shelter, utilities, household goods, personal care items, and general incidental expenses. In addition to cash assistance, persons in an assistance unit that is eligible for ongoing assistance may receive supportive services as described in this section.

(3) Short-term assistance payment. A participant may choose to receive a short-term assistance payment, formerly referred to as a diversion payment, which is a nonrecurrent, needs-based, cash or cash-equivalent payment designed to meet the short-term needs of the participant. A short-term assistance payment is designed to address a specific crisis situation or episode of need and is not designed to meet the basic ongoing needs of the participant. A short-term assistance payment may not extend beyond four months. In addition to a short-term assistance payment, a participant who is eligible for short-term assistance may receive supportive services as described in subsection (4) of this section. Short-term assistance payments include the following types:

(a) A standard short-term assistance payment, formerly referred to as a state diversion payment, is a nonrecurrent, needs-based, cash or cash-equivalent payment made to a participant who is eligible for short-term assistance.

(b) An expanded short-term assistance payment, formerly referred to as a county diversion payment, is a nonrecurrent, needs-based, cash or cash-equivalent payment made to a participant who is eligible for assistance pursuant to the maximum eligibility criteria for nonrecurrent, short-term benefits established in the state plan pursuant to section 26-2-712 (1), in the county-defined expanded eligibility based on federal poverty and other standardized guidelines, and in county policies.

(4) Supportive services. (a) An eligible participant may receive supportive services, including but not limited to:

(I) Work subsidies such as payments to employers or third parties to help cover the costs of employee wages, benefits, supervision, and training;

(II) Supportive services such as child care and transportation provided to families who are employed;

(III) Refundable earned income tax credits;

(IV) Contributions to, and distributions from, individual development accounts;

(V) Services such as counseling, case management, peer support, child care information and referral, transitional services, job retention, job advancement, and other employment-related services that do not provide basic income support; and

(VI) Transportation benefits provided under a job access or reverse commute project to an individual who is not otherwise receiving assistance.

(b) A county may provide supportive services directly to an eligible participant or through a contract or memorandum of understanding between the county department and another agency, including but not limited to another county department or a community provider.

(c) The state board shall promulgate rules pursuant to which a county shall provide referrals for available supportive services to persons who apply for assistance and to participants who are homeless or in need of mental health services or substance abuse counseling or services. The rules shall not obligate the county to pay for any supportive services to which a person who applies for ongoing assistance or short-term assistance or a participant is referred.

(5) Individual development accounts. A county department may make available opportunities for participants to have individual development accounts for home purchase, business capitalization, or higher education in accordance with federal law.

(6) Child care assistance. Subject to available appropriations and pursuant to rules promulgated by the state board, a county may provide child care assistance to a participant pursuant to the provisions of part 8 of this article and rules promulgated by the state board for implementation of said part 8.

(7) Substance abuse control program. A county may elect to implement a Colorado works controlled substance abuse control program. Under such a program, if the use of a controlled substance prevents the participant from successfully participating in his or her work activity, the county department may require the participant to participate in a controlled substance abuse control program based in whole or in part upon a representation by the participant that he or she is using controlled substances or upon a finding by the county department pursuant to an assessment by a certified drug treatment provider that the participant is or is likely to be using controlled substances. If a county chooses to require the participant to participate in a controlled substance abuse control program, the county department shall:

(a) Require the participant to be assessed by a certified drug treatment provider and to follow a rehabilitation plan as a condition of continued receipt of assistance under the works program. The rehabilitation plan shall be based upon the assessment and developed by a certified drug treatment provider, and may include, but need not be limited to, participation in a controlled substance abuse treatment program. This paragraph (a) shall not create an entitlement to rehabilitation services or to payment for rehabilitation services.

(b) If required by the rehabilitation plan, conduct random testing of the participant to determine whether he or she is remaining free of controlled substances; and

(c) Impose on the participant any applicable adverse action for nonparticipation in a work activity if the participant fails to follow the rehabilitation plan, which nonparticipation may be evidenced by having a positive result on a random test or refusing to participate in a random test pursuant to this subsection (7). A county may not take adverse action against a participant for failing to meet the requirements of the rehabilitation plan if the services required under the plan are not available, if transportation or child care is not available, or if the costs of the services are prohibitive.

(8) Job skills education voucher. A county department may provide a voucher created pursuant to the provisions of section 26-2-712 (11) to a participant for use at one of the community or technical colleges administered pursuant to the provisions of article 60 of title 23, C.R.S., for the purpose of securing short-term educational and academic skills training and job placement services.

26-2-707.5. Community resources investment assistance. (1) A county department may use county block grant moneys to invest in the development of community resources that support the purposes of the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act", Public Law 104-193, and that are designed to assist eligible applicants or participants under section 26-2-706 or 26-2-706.6. An eligible applicant or participant may receive benefits or services from such a community resource without completing an application pursuant to section 26-2-106 or an individual responsibility contract pursuant to section 26-2-708 (2). However, nothing in this subsection (1) precludes a county department from requiring such applications and individual responsibility contracts in a county's individual contracting procedures established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(2) The state board shall establish standards and procedures through rules for the use of county block grant moneys pursuant to this section including but not limited to the contracting procedures counties must follow to ensure that funds are being spent to support TANF-eligible applicants or participants. Such contracting procedures shall include a requirement that a county's contract with a provider shall specify the approximate number of applicants or participants to be served by the provider. Counties shall also be required to adopt official written policies as referenced in section 26-2-716 (2.5) regarding the types of community resources in which counties are investing, the purposes of such community resource investments, the income eligibility standards, and the county's dispute resolution processes.

(3) A county that uses county block grant moneys pursuant to this section shall use all moneys in accordance with all applicable federal and state statutes and regulations.

(4) A county shall not be authorized to use funds pursuant to this section for the purpose of supplanting funds.

(5) Nothing in this section shall preclude a household from applying for and receiving basic cash assistance.

26-2-707.7. Information concerning immunization of children. At the time of application for the works program, the county department shall provide information concerning immunizations to all applicants, including the exemptions listed in section 25-4-903, C.R.S. The information shall include parent education on vaccines and information concerning where to access vaccines in the local community. The department of public health and environment or the county or district public health agency shall provide the immunization information to the county department.

26-2-708. Assistance - assessment - individual responsibility contract - waivers for domestic violence. (1) Subject to the provisions of the federal law, the provisions of this section, and available appropriations, a county department shall perform an assessment for a new participant who is eighteen years of age or older, or who is sixteen years of age or older but has not yet attained the age of eighteen years of age and has not completed high school or obtained a certificate of high school equivalency and is not attending high school or participating in a high school equivalency program. The initial assessment shall be completed no more than thirty days after the submission of the application for assistance under the works program. Updated assessments may be conducted at the discretion of the county department.

(2) A county department shall develop an individual responsibility contract for a new participant who has been assessed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, within thirty days after completing the initial assessment of the participant as required in subsection (1) of this section, subject to the provisions of the federal law and this section. The IRC shall be limited in scope to matters relating to securing and maintaining training, education, or work. The county department shall seek the input and involvement of the participant when developing the IRC.

(3) The IRC shall contain provisions in bold print at the beginning of the document that notify the participant of the following:

(a) That no individual is legally entitled to any form of assistance under the Colorado works program;

(b) That the IRC is a contract that contains terms and conditions governing the participant's receipt of assistance under the Colorado works program and that nothing in such contract may be deemed to create a legal entitlement to assistance under the Colorado works program;

(c) That the participant's failure to comply with the terms and conditions of the IRC may result in sanctions, including but not limited to the termination of any cash assistance;

(d) For a county that has elected to implement a Colorado works controlled substance abuse control program described in section 26-2-706.6 (7), that the IRC may require the participant to participate in the Colorado works controlled substance abuse control program, based upon the participant's use of a controlled substance, by requiring the participant to take action toward rehabilitation consistent with the recommendations of the assessment pursuant to section 26-2-706.6 (7). The program may be included as a county-defined work activity. The rehabilitation plan may include random drug testing, drug treatment, or other rehabilitation activities. The participant may be subject to any sanctions for nonparticipation in a work activity if the participant fails to meet the requirements of the rehabilitation plan; except that a participant may not be sanctioned for failing to meet the requirements of the rehabilitation plan if services required under the plan are not available, if transportation or child care is not available, or if the costs of the services are prohibitive.

(e) That the applicant or participant shall indicate by signature on the IRC either agreement with the terms and conditions of the IRC or that the applicant or participant requests a county level review of the proposed IRC in accordance with section 26-2-710 (4) on the grounds that the proposed IRC is unreasonable within the context of the county's written policies.

(5) The state board shall establish through rules, after consultation with domestic violence service providers, statewide standards and procedures that:

(a) Require counties to provide notice to all past or present victims of domestic violence as described in the federal law or those at risk of further domestic violence of the referrals required pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (5), the possible waivers pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (5), and the applicable procedures described in paragraph (e) of this subsection (5);

(b) Require counties to provide for referrals to any available counseling and supportive services to past or present victims of domestic violence as described in the federal law or those at risk of further violence, but the rules shall not obligate a county to pay for any counseling or supportive services to which a participant is referred;

(c) Allow counties upon a showing of good cause, as determined by rules of the state board, to provide waivers from any program requirements, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (5), that will make it more difficult for an applicant or a participant to escape domestic violence or that would unfairly penalize such individuals who are or have been victimized by such violence or who are at risk of further violence;

(d) Require counties to submit requests for waivers of work requirements to the state department to determine whether good cause exists to grant such waivers;

(e) Require counties to assure the voluntariness and confidentiality of the procedures for identifying eligibility for referrals to supportive services and waivers, the procedures for applying for waivers, and the procedures by which an applicant or a participant who is denied a waiver may appeal such decision.

26-2-709. Benefits - cash assistance - programs - rules. (1) Standard of need - basic cash assistance grant. (a) The state department shall promulgate rules determining the standard of need for eligibility for a basic cash assistance grant, whether an applicant or participant meets the standard of need, and the amount of the basic cash assistance grant. In addition to any other rules necessary for the implementation of this part 7, the state department's rules shall:

(I) Adopt a statewide standard of need for eligibility for a basic cash assistance grant that is not less than the basis for standard of need pursuant to this subsection (1) as it existed on July 1, 2009;

(II) Establish criteria for determining whether an applicant or participant meets the standard of need, including but not limited to what constitutes countable and excludable income for the purposes of eligibility for a basic cash assistance grant; and

(III) Establish the calculation for determining the amount of an eligible applicant's or participant's basic cash assistance grant, which calculation shall include an earned income disregard which shall be applied to the gross countable earned income of an applicant or participant who is employed. The earned income disregard shall promote work and self-sufficiency and shall benefit the applicant or participant by reducing the unintended economic consequences of becoming employed. The rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to this subparagraph (III) shall not establish an earned income disregard that results in an applicant or participant having fewer financial resources available to him or her than a similarly situated applicant or participant would have had under the earned income disregard pursuant to section 26-2-709 as it existed on July 1, 2009.

(b) In establishing the calculation for determining the amount of an eligible applicant's or participant's basic cash assistance grant, the state department shall ensure that the amount of the basic cash assistance grant that a participant or applicant receives is equal to or exceeds one hundred two percent of the need standard for a participant in a similarly sized household on January 1, 2008. The state department is encouraged to establish a calculation for determining the amount of a basic cash assistance grant that results in a basic cash assistance grant that is equal to or exceeds one hundred twelve percent of the need standard for a participant in a similarly sized household on January 1, 2008.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this part 7 and subject to available appropriations, an applicant or participant who meets the eligibility criteria established by the state department pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) shall receive a basic cash assistance grant in an amount determined by the state department pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection (1). An increase in the amount of the basic cash assistance grant approved by the state department shall not take effect unless the funding for the increase is included in the annual general appropriation act or a supplemental appropriation act.

(1.3) Redetermination of eligibility for persons receiving cash assistance. The county department shall perform an annual face-to-face redetermination of eligibility for all assistance units receiving cash assistance.

(1.5) Rules concerning cash assistance. The state department shall promulgate rules as may be necessary to comply with changes in federal regulations relating to the definition of the term "cash assistance".

(2) Other assistance. (a) Subject to available appropriations, a county department may provide assistance, including but not limited to cash assistance, in addition to the basic cash assistance grant described in subsection (1) of this section that is authorized pursuant to the provisions of the federal law or this section. Such other assistance shall be based upon a participant's assessed needs.

ANNOTATION

Although the “no entitlement” language under § 26-2-704 modifies the unconditional entitlement to welfare benefits previously available under the AFDC program, the language in subsection (1)(a)(I) does not vitiate all forms of property rights in welfare benefits. Weston v. Cassata, 37 P.3d 469 (Colo. App. 2001).

26-2-709.5. Exit interviews and follow-up interviews of participants. (1) In order to follow the legislative intent declared in section 26-2-702 (1) (a), a county department is strongly encouraged to conduct exit and follow-up interviews upon case closure, either in person or by telephone, with all participants of the Colorado works program, including participants who are or have been receiving short-term assistance payments pursuant to section 26-2-706.6. The interviews shall be for the purpose of providing information to the participant and offering assistance with applications for or continuance of assistance under medicaid, food stamps, the Colorado child care assistance program, the earned income tax credit, or other programs such as welfare-to-work or other county benefits or services.

26-2-710. Administrative review. (1) The state department shall promulgate rules for an administrative review process.

(2) All decisions of the state department shall be binding upon the county department involved and shall be complied with by such county department.

(3) If a participant does not agree with or fails to participate in a program or service identified in the IRC, the participant shall continue to receive the basic cash assistance grant that the participant received at the time the appeal is requested during the pendency of any appeal process.

(4) An applicant or participant who believes the IRC proposed by the county is unreasonable has a right to request a review of the proposed IRC by the county department pursuant to a process designated by the county in its written county policy. If the applicant or participant requests such review, the county shall provide the applicant or participant the opportunity for a county level review by a person not directly involved in the initial determination. The review shall be limited to determining whether the terms of the disputed IRC are reasonable within the context of the county's written policy. The reviewer shall issue a written decision for the county regarding the resolution of the outstanding issues involving the proposed IRC. The time frame for such review shall be specified by the county in its written county policy.

26-2-711. Works program - sanctions against participants - rules. (1) (a) The state board shall promulgate rules for the imposition of sanctions affecting the basic cash assistance grant as described in section 26-2-709 (1). The rules shall require:

(I) Imposition of sanctions upon a participant who fails, without good cause as determined by the county, to comply with the terms and conditions of his or her IRC;

(II) A percentage reduction in the basic assistance grant upon the first imposition of a sanction affecting such basic assistance grant, with the percentage to be specified in the rules but not less than twenty-five percent;

(III) Specific reductions in the basic assistance grant for second and subsequent sanctions affecting the basic assistance grant;

(IV) Imposition of sanctions either in the month following the decision to sanction and in subsequent months thereafter until the full amount of any sanctions have been withheld or, in the event that a participant has appealed the imposition of a sanction, in the month following the final decision of the appeal process and in subsequent months thereafter until the full amount of any sanctions have been withheld.

(b) Nothing in the state board rules promulgated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) shall prevent a county from denying the basic cash assistance grant in its entirety to a participant who refuses, as evidenced by an affirmative statement by the participant or demonstrable evidence, to participate in training, education, or work.

(c) The state board rules promulgated pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) shall establish the period of time that sanctions affecting the basic cash assistance grant shall be in effect and the period of time within which a participant who has been denied the basic cash assistance grant by a county pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) may take action for reinstatement into the works program.

(2) A county shall have the authority to determine and impose sanctions affecting other assistance as described in section 26-2-706.6. The sanctions shall be based upon fair and objective criteria that have been developed and adopted by the county and are consistent with state and federal law.

(3) If a county department elects to suspend payment of child care assistance, it may suspend such assistance in its entirety.

(4) In no event shall a county department impose any sanction on a participant that adversely affects the participant's receipt of food stamps beyond those allowable sanctions provided for in federal regulations and state rules or medical assistance pursuant to the provisions of articles 4, 5, and 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.

(5) (a) A person shall not be required to participate in work activities if good cause exists as determined by the county.

(b) Good cause does not constitute an exemption from work or time limits. Good cause is, however, a proper basis for not imposing a sanction for nonparticipation in a work activity, and may include, but need not be limited to, participation in a Colorado works controlled substance abuse control program pursuant to section 26-2-706.6 (7).

(6) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1963, § 13, effective January 1, 2009.)

(7) If a participant or an applicant has misrepresented residence to obtain benefits in two or more states at the same time, such person shall be ineligible for benefits under the works program for a period of ten years.

26-2-712. State department duties - authority. (1) Plan submission. The state department shall submit and amend as necessary a plan to the secretary of the federal department of health and human services that is consistent with the provisions of this part 7 and federal law.

(2) County block grant allocation. (a) The state department shall allocate the amount of moneys that shall be provided to a county as a county block grant for the purposes of a county's administration and implementation of the works program pursuant to section 26-2-714.

(b) Except as provided in section 26-2-720.5, the county block grant shall represent the total amount that a county shall receive from the state for the administration and implementation of the Colorado works program.

(3) Maintenance of effort. The state department shall monitor the state's progress toward meeting the levels of spending required under the federal law and section 26-2-713.

(4) Performance measurements. (a) The state department shall develop performance goals and a formula for measuring a county's progress toward meeting such performance goals in administering and implementing the works program with county block grants. The state department shall provide data gathered on behalf of each county to the general assembly on a quarterly basis regarding employment- and training-related performance measures for the works program. Such data shall include wages earned by works program participants upon leaving the program, job retention rates, and other related information. Such data shall be provided through the state department's computerized systems, if available. Counties shall not be required to provide additional manual or computerized systems to gather such data. The state department shall work with the state work force development council to gather data on works program participants who participate in training and job placement programs offered by work force development boards and the result of such participation. Such data shall be provided to the state auditor's office on at least an annual basis as a part of the works program audit pursuant to section 26-2-723.

(b) The formula may be based upon the formula developed by the secretary of the federal department of health and human services after consultation with the national governors' association and the American public welfare association for measuring states' performance under the TANF block grants.

(5) Oversight. In connection with overseeing the works program, the state department shall have the specific duties to:

(a) Oversee the implementation of the works program statewide and, in connection with such oversight, develop standardized forms for the counties' use in streamlining the application process, delivery of services, and tracking of participants;

(b) Monitor the state's progress in meeting the work participation requirements set forth in federal law;

(c) Establish a process to implement the provisions for regionalization set forth in section 26-2-718 pursuant to which any combination of county departments may be approved by the state department to administer and implement the works program pursuant to the provisions of this part 7;

(d) Establish statewide goals and monitor the state's progress toward meeting such goals for the reduction in the incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancies;

(e) Monitor the counties' provision of basic cash assistance grants pursuant to section 26-2-706.6 and, if necessary due to increased caseloads or economic downturns, do the following to ensure that the basic cash assistance grant is provided in a consistent manner statewide:

(I) Grant moneys to one or more counties from the county block grant support fund administered pursuant to section 26-2-720.5; or

(II) If no funds administered pursuant to section 26-2-720.5 are available:

(A) Request supplemental appropriations from the general assembly, including but not limited to an appropriation from the Colorado long-term works reserve created pursuant to section 26-2-721; or

(B) Reduce the county block grant of any county that maintains moneys in a county reserve account pursuant to section 26-2-714 (5) in order that moneys may be made available to one or more counties to avoid the need to reduce or eliminate the basic cash assistance grant statewide. If the state department makes a reduction in a county's reserve account pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (B), the state department shall increase the county's block grant for the following fiscal year by the amount of the reduction authorized pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (B); or

(III) After taking the actions described in subparagraphs (I) and (II) of this paragraph (e), take any actions necessary to reduce the costs of, or reduce or eliminate, the basic cash assistance grant statewide.

(7) Colorado works program capacity building. The state department shall develop training for case workers and other service providers so that they are knowledgeable and may assist persons who receive assistance through the Colorado works program in:

(a) Identifying goals, including work activities, time frames for achieving self-sufficiency, and the means required to meet these benchmarks;

(b) Obtaining supportive services such as mental health counseling, substance abuse counseling, domestic violence services, life skills training, and money management and parenting classes;

(c) Utilizing the family's existing strengths;

(d) Providing ongoing support and assistance to the family in overcoming barriers to training and employment;

(e) Monitoring the progress of the family toward attaining self-sufficiency;

(f) Understanding and properly utilizing data reporting systems to report participation data and outcomes required by the state department; and

(g) Providing opportunities for persons working with Colorado works participants to access professional-level curriculum to become proficient in assessing participant needs and developing individual plans to address those needs.

(8) Domestic violence services training - rules. (a) To facilitate the proper identification, screening, and assessment of past and present victims of domestic violence who apply for or participate in the Colorado works program and to assist counties in complying with the provisions of this subsection (8) and section 26-2-708 (5), the state board shall promulgate rules that require the state department to provide ongoing domestic violence training and appropriate domestic violence training materials to county staff and to:

(I) Assist counties in developing local resources and using available community resources to provide counseling and supportive services to past and present victims of domestic violence; and

(II) Require counties to make applicants to and participants in the Colorado works program aware of the services and assistance provided by the state department pursuant to this subsection (8) and by the county.

(b) The state department may contract with an individual or entity that has demonstrated expertise in the area of domestic violence assistance for the provision of the services specified in this subsection (8).

(9) Waiver process. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subsection (9), the governor and the state department, acting jointly, may grant a county's application for a waiver of any requirement of this part 7 or the rules promulgated pursuant to this part 7. Any waiver granted pursuant to this subsection (9) shall be designed to improve methods of achieving participants' self-sufficiency, meeting work participation rates and performance goals, or reducing dependency.

(b) Any application for a waiver shall include a statement of the purpose of the waiver. The application shall be submitted to the governor and the state department no later than October 1 of the year immediately preceding the year in which the county intends to implement the waiver. The county shall provide notice of its application to all adjacent counties. The governor and the state department shall grant or deny the county's application no later than December 1 of the year in which the county applied. A waiver granted pursuant to this subsection (9) shall take effect on January 1 of the year immediately following approval of such waiver. The governor and the state department shall specify the duration of such waivers.

(c) The state department and the governor shall not approve an application under this subsection (9) that proposes to waive any statute or rule governing statewide eligibility, the amount of the basic cash assistance grant, the county maintenance of effort, or any requirement of the federal law. The governor and the state department shall not approve an application under this subsection (9) that proposes to waive a participant's right to appeal a county determination under the works program, but they may approve the waiver of statutes or rules governing the method or procedure for such appeal.

(d) The governor and the state department may approve any number of applications for waivers of one or more provisions of this part 7 or of the rules promulgated pursuant to this part 7, so long as such waivers meet the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this subsection (9).

(e) In the event that the governor has reason to believe that a county's implementation of the works program pursuant to a waiver granted under this subsection (9) fails to satisfy the requirements of the federal law or is inconsistent with the purposes of the works program as set forth in section 26-2-705, the governor may revoke the waiver granted to the county and require the county to resume implementation of the works program pursuant to the provisions of this part 7 and the rules promulgated pursuant to this part 7.

(f) In the event that the governor and the state department grant waivers to a county pursuant to this subsection (9), the performance contract entered into between the county and the state department pursuant to section 26-2-715 shall be amended to reflect the county's authority to implement the works program in accordance with the waivers granted and the governor's authority to revoke the waivers in accordance with paragraph (e) of this subsection (9).

(10) Job market analysis. The state department, the department of labor and employment, and the state board for community colleges and occupational education created in section 23-60-104 (1) (b), C.R.S., shall annually analyze job market information in order to establish a compilation of the types of jobs most appropriate and likely to lead to long-term self-sufficiency for participants. As used in this subsection (10), "job market information" means any state or regional job market or labor data or statistics or any information related to state or regional labor trends that the department of labor and employment may have or to which it may have access.

(11) Tuition voucher system. (a) The state department shall collaborate with the state board for community colleges and occupational education, created in section 23-60-104 (1) (b), C.R.S., to develop a tuition voucher system pursuant to which a participant may attend courses at an institution in the state's system of community and technical colleges by using a tuition voucher.

(b) The state department and the state board for community colleges and occupational education, created in section 23-60-104 (1) (b), C.R.S., shall enter into a cooperative arrangement to make available appropriate educational and academic training programs for participants who receive tuition vouchers.

26-2-713. State maintenance of effort. The general assembly shall make annual appropriations from state funds for the works program which, together with the expenditures made by counties under the works program, shall be applied toward the state's maintenance of historic effort as specified in section 409 (a) (7) of the social security act.

26-2-714. County block grants formula - use of moneys - rules.

(1.5) Moneys appropriated by the general assembly to the county block grant line shall remain appropriated and available to counties pursuant to the procedures specified in this section.

(2) Subject to available appropriations, in state fiscal year 2009-10 and in each fiscal year thereafter, the state department, with input from the works allocation committee, shall set the amount of the county block grants based on demographic and economic factors within the counties.

(2.5) In the event that the state department and the works allocation committee do not reach an agreement in setting the amounts of the county block grants pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section on or before June 15 of each state fiscal year, the works allocation committee shall submit alternatives to the joint budget committee of the general assembly from which the joint budget committee shall identify each individual county's block grant for the state fiscal year commencing on the immediately succeeding July 1.

(3) Nothing in subsections (2) and (2.5) of this section shall prevent a county from transferring at any time during the fiscal year, pursuant to procedures established by the state department and the works allocation committee, a portion of the county's current federal TANF allocation to another county in exchange for an amount of county moneys equal to the maintenance of effort associated with the allocation.

(4) The state department shall identify the portion of moneys in the county block grant that may be spent on administrative costs.

(5) (a) (I) (A) A county shall be authorized to maintain a reserve account of county block grant moneys pursuant to rules promulgated by the state department.

(B) Pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (V) of paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of this section, upon the conclusion of state fiscal year 2010-11, and upon the conclusion of each state fiscal year thereafter, the works allocation committee may transfer to another county on or before November 1 of the succeeding fiscal year, any unspent county TANF reserves in excess of forty percent of the county's county block grant for the concluding state fiscal year. TANF reserves transferred to a county pursuant to this sub-subparagraph (B) shall be available to the county in the succeeding state fiscal year.

(D) If the works allocation committee transfers excess unspent TANF reserves pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (I), the county from which the reserves are transferred shall receive appropriate maintenance of effort credit for those reserves. The county receiving the TANF reserves shall be responsible for providing an amount of county moneys equal to the maintenance of effort associated with the TANF reserves.

(E) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2011, (SB 11-124), ch. 183, p. 695, § 1, effective May 19, 2011.)

(II) Notwithstanding any provision of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) to the contrary, in state fiscal year 2008-09, and in each state fiscal year thereafter, a county with an annual county block grant amount of two hundred thousand dollars or less shall make available to the works allocation committee for transfer to another county pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (V) of paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of this section any unspent TANF reserves in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.

(III) As used in this subsection (5), "unspent TANF reserves" means the amount deposited in a county reserve account plus any unspent TANF transfers authorized pursuant to this subsection (5) and subsections (7) and (9) of this section.

(b) A county shall be required to maintain in such county's social services fund created pursuant to section 26-1-123 any county funds that were appropriated pursuant to section 26-2-716 (1) (a) and section 26-1-122 (6) in order to meet the targeted spending level required pursuant to subsection (6) of this section but not actually expended on the works program during the state fiscal year for which the county appropriated such funds.

(5.5) (a) The state department is authorized to segregate county block grant funds allocated under this section.

(b) If the state department segregates county block grant funds as authorized under this subsection (5.5):

(I) County departments shall report to the state expenditures they have made in a segregated manner, according to rules promulgated by the state board in accordance with applicable federal law;

(II) The counties shall develop policies regarding the use of segregated funds under this subsection (5.5);

(III) Funds shall be segregated in order to ensure maximum flexibility and to allow counties to provide additional assistance or services, in accordance with federal law.

(c) Repealed.

(d) The state board shall promulgate rules as necessary to implement this subsection (5.5).

(6) (a) Targeted spending levels. For state fiscal year 1997-98 and each state fiscal year thereafter, a county's targeted spending level shall be an amount that meets or exceeds one hundred percent of the county's spending on AFDC, JOBS, and the administrative costs related to those programs in state fiscal year 1995-96.

(b) Repealed.

(c) Actual spending levels - 1998-99 and thereafter. (I) For state fiscal year 1998-99 and for each state fiscal year thereafter, all counties collectively shall be required to meet levels of spending on the works program that are set forth in the annual long appropriation act, subject to the provisions of subsection (8) of this section.

(II) For state fiscal year 1998-99 and for each state fiscal year thereafter, each county's actual level of spending shall be identified by the works allocation committee created in subparagraph (IV) of this paragraph (c) no later than June 15 of each state fiscal year for the immediately succeeding state fiscal year. Prior to determining each county's actual spending level, the works allocation committee shall ensure that all counties have been notified of the recommended actual spending level and given an opportunity to provide comment on the recommendation. In the event that the works allocation committee does not reach an agreement on each individual county's actual level of spending for a state fiscal year on or before June 15 of such prior state fiscal year, the committee shall submit alternatives to the joint budget committee of the general assembly from which such joint budget committee shall identify each individual county's level of spending for a state fiscal year. The amount identified for a county's level of spending shall be identified in the county's performance contract with the state department entered into pursuant to section 26-2-715.

(III) The works allocation committee shall also identify the amount of mitigation that shall be allocated for a small county in accordance with the provisions of subsection (8) of this section. The works allocation committee may create a subcommittee that represents the interests of small counties as defined in subsection (8) of this section, which subcommittee may make recommendations concerning the mitigation amounts to be allocated for a small county pursuant to the provisions of subsection (8) of this section.

(IV) There is hereby created the works allocation committee that shall consist of seven members, five of whom shall be appointed by a statewide association of counties and two of whom shall be appointed by the state department. The appointing authorities shall consult with each other to ensure that the works allocation committee is representative of the counties in the state. If a statewide association of counties does not appoint a representative from the county that has the greatest percentage of the state's works caseload, the state department shall appoint such a representative from such county. The works allocation committee shall develop its own operational procedures.

(V) The works allocation committee shall determine the priority criteria for transfers of excess unspent TANF reserves to a county pursuant to sub-subparagraph (B) of subparagraph (I) of paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of this section and the amount of the transfers. With the goal of increasing the counties' minimum percentage reserve balances, the works allocation committee's priority criteria shall give first priority to transfers to counties that have no more than a ten percent balance in the county's TANF reserve account. If moneys remain after satisfying the first priority criterion, second priority shall be given to transfers to those counties whose TANF reserves are more than ten percent, but no more than twenty percent.

(7) The county may transfer any amount of the county block grant that is designated as federal funds and that is specified by the state department as being available for transfer within the limitation imposed by the federal law on transfers of federal funds from the temporary assistance for needy families block grant to the child care development fund if child care funds are not available.

(8) (a) As used in this subsection (8), unless the context otherwise requires:

(I) “Annual maximum mitigation amount” means that portion of the total amount of county funds identified in the annual long appropriation act that may be used for mitigation for small counties in that state fiscal year.

(II) “Mitigation” means a specific reduction in a county’s targeted spending level established pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (6) of this section or a specific reduction in a county’s actual spending level established pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of this section that is authorized pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (8). Mitigation can occur for targeted spending levels or actual spending levels or for both types of spending levels.

(III) “Small county” means a county with less than thirty-eight one hundredths of one percent of the total caseload of the works program statewide. The state department, with input from the works allocation committee, shall determine what shall constitute the total caseload of the works program and the time at which such caseload shall be established.

(b) Subject to the identification of an annual maximum mitigation amount in the annual long appropriation act and the criteria identified in paragraph (c) of this subsection (8), the works allocation committee created pursuant to subparagraph (IV) of paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of this section is authorized to identify the amount or amounts of any mitigation that shall be allocated to a small county in a specific state fiscal year. The works allocation committee shall notify the state department of any agreement concerning the allocation of any annual maximum mitigation amount in accordance with the provisions of this subsection (8).

(c) The criteria that the works allocation committee shall use include but are not limited to the following:

(I) The assessment of the equity of a small county’s total program expenditures as they relate to the targeted or actual spending level for the small county;

(II) The extent to which the small county will have insufficient revenues to meet its targeted or actual spending level; and

(III) The extent to which the provision of any mitigation may enhance the efforts of a small county or group of small counties to regionalize pursuant to the provisions of section 26-2-718.

(9) (a) For state fiscal year 1997-98, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, a county may transfer any amount of the county block grant that is designated as federal funds and that is specified by the state department as being available for transfer within the limitation imposed by the federal law on transfers of federal funds from the temporary assistance for needy families block grant to programs funded by Title XX of the federal social security act.

(b) A county may make the transfer authorized by paragraph (a) of this subsection (9) only for expenditures that are allowable under programs funded by Title XX of the federal social security act, subject to the following provisions:

(I) If the funds transferred are used for the provision of child welfare services as defined in section 26-5-101 (3), the county may only make the transfer:

(A) After the county has made allowable expenditures of all funds in the county’s capped or targeted allocation or allocations for child welfare services, other than for core services as referred to in section 26-5-101 (3) (f); and

(B) For the expenditures for child welfare services other than out-of-home placement services as described in section 26-5-101 (3) (i).

(II) A county shall not be required to appropriate funds to provide a county match pursuant to the provisions of section 26-1-122 for any funds transferred pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (9).

(III) A county shall not be authorized to use funds transferred pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (9) for the purpose of supplanting funds that:

(A) The county would otherwise be required to appropriate pursuant to section 26-1-122 in order to provide a county match for public assistance programs; or

(B) The county would otherwise appropriate in order to continue the provision of services under a program of public assistance administered with county only funds in the prior fiscal year.

(c) The state board shall promulgate rules governing procedures for transfers authorized pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (9).

(d) A county may make a transfer authorized by paragraph (a) of this subsection (9), within the limitations imposed by state and federal law on such transfers, in order to fund various programs for the improvement of child care. Such transfers may be used for minor remodeling of licensed child care facilities or facilities legally exempt from licensing requirements pursuant to section 26-6-103 (1), including but not limited to physical modifications for the purpose of licensure or accreditation, construction or improvement of fencing or other safety and security fixtures or other uses not prohibited under 42 U.S.C. sec. 1397d.

(10) (a) If the state meets federal work participation rates and qualifies for a percent reduction in the state's maintenance of effort as specified in federal law for any year, the actual spending level for the works program of all counties collectively shall be reduced by the same amount as the amount of the reduction in the federal maintenance of effort requirement.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (10), "percent reduction" means the percent of reduction of historical expenditures as that term is defined in section 409 (7) (b) of the federal social security act, as amended.

(c) For any year in which a percent reduction in the state's maintenance of effort requirement occurs, the works allocation committee created pursuant to subparagraph (IV) of paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of this section shall determine each county's share of the reduction in actual spending levels. Prior to making such determination, the works allocation committee shall ensure that all counties have been notified of the recommended reduction for each county and given an opportunity to provide comment on the recommendation. In the event that the works allocation committee does not reach an agreement on each individual county's reduction in actual spending levels, the committee shall submit alternatives to the joint budget committee of the general assembly from which such joint budget committee shall identify each individual county's reduction in actual spending levels. The state department is authorized to adjust each county's share of the reduction in actual spending levels. The state department is authorized to adjust each county's actual spending level for any percentage reduction earned in accordance with the determination of the works allocation committee concerning each county's share of the reduction.

26-2-714.5. Adjusted work participation rate - notification - county authorization - vocational education. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "federal credit" means the caseload reduction credit as calculated pursuant to 45 CFR 261.40 or any employment credit, caseload reduction credit, or other credit against such rate for a fiscal year that may be subsequently adopted by the federal government.

(2) The state department shall notify each county, within thirty days after the beginning of the state fiscal year, of the state department's projection regarding the adjusted rate that the state must attain for the fiscal year in order to be in compliance with federal requirements, based on the state's estimate of the federal credit the state anticipates qualifying to receive. This adjusted rate shall be the county's adjusted work participation rate for that state fiscal year.

(3) Each county is authorized to place participants in vocational education, as that term is defined by rule of the state board, for longer than twelve months in order to meet critical skills shortages in the labor market; except that the percentage of participants allowed to satisfy program requirements through vocational education of longer than twelve months in a county shall not exceed seventy-five percent of the state's estimate of the federal credit.

(4) The provisions of this section shall be implemented by the state department consistent with the requirement of section 26-2-715 (1) (a) (III).

(5) The state department may suspend a county's ability to place participants in vocational education for longer than twelve months if the state department certifies that allowing vocational education to count toward a works participant's required work activities would affect the state's ability to meet federal work participation rates.

26-2-715. Performance contracts. (1) (a) Each county, either acting singly or with a group of counties, shall enter into an annual performance contract with the state department that shall identify the county's or group of counties' duties and responsibilities in implementing the works program and the Colorado child care assistance program, described in part 8 of this article. The performance contract shall include but not be limited to:

(I) Requirements and provisions that address the county's or group of counties' duty to administer and implement the works program and the Colorado child care assistance program using fair and objective criteria;

(II) Provisions that prohibit the county or group of counties from reducing the basic cash assistance grant administered pursuant to section 26-2-709 and monitored by the state department pursuant to section 26-2-711 and provisions that prohibit the county or group of counties from restricting eligibility or the provision of services or imposing sanctions in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this part 7 or the provisions in the state plan submitted to the secretary of the federal department of health and human services pursuant to section 26-2-712;

(III) Work participation rates for the county or group of counties that shall ensure that the state will be able to meet or exceed its work participation rates under the federal law.

(b) A county or group of counties may be sanctioned for not meeting any obligation under such performance contract. Such sanctions must be identified in the performance contract and may include a reduction in a future county block grant allocation.

(2) The performance contract shall set forth the circumstances under which the state department may elect that it or its agent assume the county's or group of counties' administration and implementation of the works program and the Colorado child care assistance program.

(3) If the state department and the county or group of counties are unable to reach agreement on the contract, either party may request the state board to consider the matter, and the state board shall schedule the matter for hearing within thirty days after receipt of the request. The state board shall issue a decision on the matter which shall be considered binding on all parties. If necessary to assure services are available within the county or group of counties, the state department may enter into a temporary agreement with the county or group of counties or with another public or private agent until the matter is resolved by the state board.

26-2-716. County duties - appropriations - penalties - hardship extensions - domestic violence extensions - incentives - rules. (1) (a) (I) The board of county commissioners in each county of this state shall annually appropriate as provided by law such moneys as required pursuant to section 26-1-122 (6).

(II) In the case of two or more counties jointly administering a county block grant under the provisions of this part 7, each county involved shall appropriate the funds necessary to defray its proportionate costs of implementing the works program.

(b) A county department shall keep such records and accounts in relation to the costs of administering and implementing the works program.

(c) Whenever a county anticipates that it may be financially unable to meet requests for assistance from participants, the county may seek additional moneys from the county block grant support fund administered by the state department pursuant to section 26-2-720.5.

(2) In connection with administering a county block grant, a county department shall:

(a) Meet the work participation rate as set forth in the performance contract with the state department pursuant to section 26-2-715;

(b) Report to the state department the information required to enable the state department to track participants' length of time for receipt of assistance and to enable the state department to provide written notice to applicants and participants of their rights;

(c) Provide written notification to applicants and recipients of their responsibilities and options available under the works program, including but not limited to time limits, domestic violence waivers, extensions or exemptions, and services available. Verbal notice shall be provided when requested.

(d) Submit the reports required pursuant to section 26-2-717;

(e) Use an income eligibility verification system (IEVS) to verify eligibility information against federal social security administration and internal revenue service files;

(f) Provide Title IV-D services to participants and require assignment of rights to child support by participants and participant cooperation with establishment and collection of child support, except as to participants receiving short-term assistance pursuant to section 26-2-706.6;

(g) Make available opportunities for participants to have individual development accounts for home purchase, business capitalization, or higher education in accordance with federal law;

(h) Meet the required maintenance of effort as identified in section 26-2-714.

(2.5) The board of county commissioners in each county shall adopt official written policies for implementing aspects of the Colorado works program that counties have the statutory authority and flexibility to determine under this part 7. Such policies shall include, without limitation, a description of the kinds of assistance available under the Colorado works program within the county, any eligibility criteria for assistance that may be unique to the county, and the process by which such eligibility and assistance is determined on an individual basis. Such policies shall not be construed to create an entitlement to any service or benefit under the Colorado works program in any county for any applicant or participant, and shall not limit the flexibility of a county to respond to the individual circumstances of a participant. The board of county commissioners in each county shall make such policies available to applicants and participants.

(3) (a) No person in a work activity described in section 26-2-703 (21) shall be employed by, or assigned to, an employer if:

(I) Any other person is on layoff from the same or any substantially equivalent job with such employer; or

(II) Such employer has terminated the employment of any regular employee or otherwise caused an involuntary reduction of the workforce in order to fill the vacancy with a participant; or

(III) Placement of the person with the employer will result in a reduction of hours, regular or overtime, wages, or benefits of persons currently employed by the employer; or

(IV) The position is available due to a labor dispute, strike, lockout, or violation of a collective bargaining agreement.

(b) A uniform statewide grievance procedure for resolving complaints of alleged violations of displacements shall be established by the department of labor and employment.

(c) All state and federal laws affecting workers and employers shall apply to all participants, including but not limited to state and federal minimum and prevailing wage laws, workers' compensation, unemployment insurance, occupational safety and health administration coverage where applicable, the federal "Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938", as amended, all federal, state, and local antidiscrimination laws, and all labor laws affecting the rights of employees to organize.

(d) All participants shall be entitled to the same wages and benefits, including but not limited to sick leave and holiday and vacation pay, as are offered to employees who are not participants and who have similar training or experience performing the same or similar work at a specific work place.

(4) (a) A county may not use county block grant moneys except as specifically authorized pursuant to the provisions of this part 7 and rules promulgated by the state board or state department to implement the provisions of this part 7. If the state department has reason to believe that a county has misused county block grant moneys and has given the county an opportunity to cure the misuse and the county has failed to cure, the state department may reduce the county's block grant for the succeeding state fiscal year by an amount equal to the amount of moneys misused by the county.

(b) A county found out of compliance with its performance contract or any provision of the works program may be assessed a financial sanction. The financial sanction must be replaced by county moneys. The state board shall promulgate rules for county sanctions that include financial sanctions and may include other sanctions. Any moneys resulting from the imposition of a financial sanction shall be transmitted to the Colorado long-term works reserve created in section 26-2-721, but only if the state has not incurred a federal sanction for the same act that gave rise to the county sanction.

(5) (a) County departments are authorized to administer hardship and domestic violence extensions for needy families that have exceeded the sixty-month lifetime limit for receipt of assistance set forth in the federal law. The county departments shall approve or deny hardship extensions or domestic violence extensions pursuant to fair and objective criteria established by the state board. The state board, by rule, shall establish hardship criteria, and each county shall apply the hardship criteria to all participants seeking extensions. A county, in its written county policies, may define additional reasons for granting hardship extensions. A county may not grant hardship or domestic violence extensions for a duration longer than six months.

(b) All participants shall have the opportunity to request extensions in their counties of residence. A participant who has been granted an initial extension may request additional extensions prior to the end of the current extension period. If a participant fails to request an extension on a timely basis, an extension may be granted if the participant demonstrates good cause. Whether good cause has been established shall be determined at the sole discretion of the county department and shall not be appealable.

(c) The state department shall send notice to participants approaching the sixty-month limit on lifetime receipt of assistance pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The county departments shall make all reasonable efforts to contact a participant by phone or in person to explain the extension process and to accept a request for an extension. Participants may also make such requests in writing.

(d) A person who is granted a hardship extension or a domestic violence extension shall be required to complete an individual responsibility contract and shall be required to follow all the terms and conditions of the IRC, including the participation activities required of the participant as a condition of the extension, as outlined in the IRC.

(e) Sanctions and terminations pursuant to section 26-2-711 shall apply during the period of an extension granted pursuant to this section. Participants may appeal adverse actions consistent with sections 26-2-127 and 26-2-710.

(f) The county department shall have thirty days after the receipt of a request for an extension to make a decision whether to grant or deny the extension. When granting the extension the county department shall send notice of such extension to participants. The county department shall send a denial notice to a participant who applies for but is denied a hardship extension due to lack of available extensions or for any other reason, which reason shall be included. The county department shall send a denial notice to a participant who applies for but is denied a domestic violence extension, which shall include the reason for the denial. If the state exceeds the twenty-percent numerical limit on the number of extensions that may be granted under the federal law due to the inclusion of domestic violence extensions, then the state department shall determine how many of those domestic violence extensions qualify as domestic violence waivers granted pursuant to section 26-2-708 (5) and if this determination indicates that the state exceeds the twenty-percent numerical limit due to domestic violence extensions that qualify as domestic violence waivers, the state department shall demonstrate to the federal government that its failure to comply with the sixty-month limit was attributable to federally recognized good cause domestic violence waivers in accordance with the provisions of 45 CFR 260, subpart B.

(g) The state board shall promulgate rules establishing the criteria for hardship extensions and for establishing a system for allocating the number of extensions available for each county.

(h) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a former participant from requesting a hardship or domestic violence extension, after the lapse of the sixty-month lifetime limit, when new hardship or domestic violence factors occur, to the extent permissible under state and federal law.

(i) This subsection (5) shall only apply to participation in the Colorado works program, as contained in this part 7.

(6) In the event that a county is unable to meet the need for assistance pursuant to section 26-2-709 (2), it may impose cost-reducing measures, including but not limited to proportionate reductions in such assistance, establishment of waiting lists for such assistance, or elimination of such assistance.

(7) A county that encompasses an Indian reservation shall consult with the respective Indian tribe concerning the administration and implementation of the works program by that county. Such consultation shall include but not be limited to:

(a) Possible exemption of the Indian tribe from the sixty-month time limit of the federal law if that tribe has more than one thousand members and an unemployment rate that exceeds fifty percent;

(b) Collection of statistical data on participants, funding for tribal data collection and tribal administration of federally and tribally funded programs;

(c) Cooperation and agreement concerning when a tribal member shall be referred to his or her respective tribe for assistance in finding work and how the costs for such assistance may be reimbursed by or otherwise shared with the county.

(8) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1969, § 18, effective January 1, 2009.)

(9) County departments shall assist families in completing the reporting requirements for transitional medicaid. This shall include informing 1931 medicaid recipients, as defined in section 25.5-4-103 (1), C.R.S., of the transitional medicaid eligibility requirements and the required reporting calendar.

(10) A county department shall assist participants in applying for and receiving the earned income tax credit under applicable rules of the federal internal revenue service.

26-2-718. Regionalization. (1) In the event that two or more counties agree to administer and implement the Colorado works program jointly, such counties shall submit resolutions from their boards of county commissioners to the state department that reflect their intention to administer and implement the Colorado works program jointly.

(2) The state department shall make a determination to approve or deny the resolutions and notify the counties within thirty days after the receipt of the resolutions.

(3) The state department, in conjunction with the boards of county commissioners of the affected counties, shall determine administrative, programmatic, and reporting requirements in connection with the joint operation of the works program by the counties.

26-2-720.5. County block grant support fund - created. (1) The state department shall create a county block grant support fund that shall consist of moneys annually appropriated thereto by the general assembly. Any unexpended moneys remaining in the county block grant support fund at the end of a fiscal year shall be remitted to the Colorado long-term works reserve.

(2) The state department, with input from the works allocation committee, shall allocate moneys in the county block grant support fund to counties according to criteria and procedures established by the state department and the works allocation committee.

(3) A county that meets the criteria established by the state department and the works allocation committee pursuant to subsection (2) of this section may request moneys from the county block grant support fund. Priority shall be given to any county that exhausts all moneys available in the county's block grant for the Colorado works program for that fiscal year.

(4) The state department, with input from the works allocation committee, may allocate moneys to counties out of the county block grant support fund during the state fiscal year or at the end of a state fiscal year.

(5) The state department shall annually report to the joint budget committee on any allocations made from the county block grant support fund, including the amount requested by each county and the county's reason for requesting the moneys, and the amount allocated to each county and the reasons for the state department's decision regarding each request.

26-2-721. Colorado long-term works reserve - creation - use - repeal. (1) There is hereby created the Colorado long-term works reserve, referred to in this section as the “reserve”, that shall consist of unappropriated TANF block grant moneys, state general fund moneys appropriated thereto by the general assembly, and moneys transferred thereto pursuant to sections 26-2-714 (5) (a), 26-2-716 (4) (b), 26-2-720.5 (1), 26-2-721.3 (1), and 26-2-721.7 (1). A county’s excess unspent TANF reserves that are transferred to another county pursuant to section 26-2-714 (5) (a) (I) (B) or (5) (a) (I) (C) shall not be considered unappropriated TANF block grant moneys for purposes of this section. Any excess unspent TANF reserves for state fiscal year 2009-10 shall be excluded from the Colorado long-term works reserve and shall be available for transfer to a county pursuant to section 26-2-714 (5) (a) (I) (B).

Editor’s note: This version of subsection (1) is effective until April 1, 2013.

(1) There is hereby created the Colorado long-term works reserve, referred to in this section as the “reserve”, that shall consist of unappropriated TANF block grant moneys, state general fund moneys appropriated thereto by the general assembly, and moneys transferred thereto pursuant to sections 26-2-714 (5) (a), 26-2-716 (4) (b), 26-2-720.5 (1), and 26-2-721.3 (1). A county’s excess unspent TANF reserves that are transferred to another county pursuant to section 26-2-714 (5) (a) (I) (B) or (5) (a) (I) (C) shall not be considered unappropriated TANF block grant moneys for purposes of this section. Any excess unspent TANF reserves for state fiscal year 2009-10 shall be excluded from the Colorado long-term works reserve and shall be available for transfer to a county pursuant to section 26-2-714 (5) (a) (I) (B).

Editor’s note: This version of subsection (1) is effective April 1, 2013.

(2) The general assembly, upon request of the state department, may appropriate the moneys in the reserve for the purposes of:

(a) Implementing the works program, including but not limited to:

(I) Funding the Colorado works program maintenance fund created in section 26-2-721.3; and

(II) (A) Funding the Colorado works statewide strategic use fund created in section 26-2-721.7.

(B) This subparagraph (II) is repealed, effective April 1, 2013.

(b) Transfers that are allowed under the federal law for transfers to programs funded by Title XX of the social security act or for transfers to the child care development fund.

(3) Prior to requesting any appropriations from the reserve for the purpose of making transfers, the state department shall consult with counties and provide information to the joint budget committee for the purposes of ensuring that all transfers of TANF funds do not exceed the federal limits for transfers and ensuring that the needs of counties to make transfers authorized pursuant to section 26-2-714 (7) and (9) are considered.

Editor’s note: Amendments to this section by Senate Bill 00-065 and Senate Bill 00-067 were harmonized.

26-2-721.3. Colorado works program maintenance fund - creation - use - report.

(1) There is hereby created the Colorado works program maintenance fund, referred to in this section as the "maintenance fund". The maintenance fund shall consist of moneys appropriated thereto by the general assembly from the Colorado long-term works reserve. The moneys in the maintenance fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the executive director for use in responding to emergency or otherwise unforeseen purposes that are authorized by this part 7 or by federal law and that are necessary for the efficient and effective implementation of the Colorado works program at the state and county levels. Any unexpended moneys remaining in the maintenance fund at the end of a fiscal year shall revert to the Colorado long-term works reserve.

(2) On or before February 15, 2009, and on or before February 15 each year thereafter, the executive director shall report to the joint budget committee and the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, concerning the use of moneys appropriated to the maintenance fund in the preceding fiscal year.

26-2-721.5. Strategic allocation committee - created - duties - repeal. (1) There is hereby created in the state department the strategic allocation committee, referred to in this section as the "committee", that shall consist of thirteen members, as follows:

(a) The executive director of the department of labor and employment, or his or her designee;

(b) The executive director of the department of public health and environment, or his or her designee; and

(c) Eleven members appointed, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, by the state board as follows:

(I) Four members who represent counties, at least two of whom are members of the works allocation committee;

(II) Four members who represent Colorado works program participant advocates, participants or former participants, and nonprofit service providers; and

(III) Three members who represent interests in early childhood development, child welfare, community colleges and occupational education, workforce development, or mental health.

(2) In making appointments to the committee, the state board shall solicit applications from county departments, advocacy agencies, and other interested persons throughout the state. The state department shall assist the state board in reviewing the applications received and in selecting appointees. The state board may also seek appointment recommendations from a statewide association that represents counties in Colorado and from Colorado works program participant advocates. The state board shall, to the extent practicable, ensure that the persons appointed to the committee are selected from areas throughout the state and are representative of the racial, ethnic, and gender diversity within the state. The state board may promulgate rules as necessary for the implementation of this section.

(3) (a) The appointed members of the committee shall serve four-year terms; except that, of the members initially appointed, five shall serve two-year terms. The state board may appoint the same person to serve multiple consecutive terms.

(b) The executive director of the state department, or his or her designee, shall serve as an ex officio and nonvoting member of the committee and as the chair of the committee. The committee shall meet as often as necessary to complete its duties and shall adopt such operational procedures as may be necessary.

(c) The members of the committee shall serve without compensation and without reimbursement for expenses; except that the committee members who are not public employees may receive reimbursement for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in serving as members of the committee.

(d) The appointed members of the committee may be removed for cause. If a vacancy arises among the appointed members of the committee, the state board shall fill the vacancy by appointment for the remainder of the term.

(4) The committee shall advise the executive director regarding criteria and procedures for making allocations from the Colorado works statewide strategic use fund created in section 26-2-721.7 (1). In addition, the committee shall make recommendations as provided in section 26-2-721.7 (2) and (3) regarding allocations from the Colorado works statewide strategic use fund.

(5) (a) This section is repealed, effective April 1, 2013.

(b) Repealed.

26-2-721.7. Colorado works statewide strategic use fund - created - allocations - rules - evaluation - report - repeal. (1) (a) There is hereby created the Colorado works statewide strategic use fund, referred to in this section as the “statewide strategic use fund”, which shall consist of the moneys annually appropriated thereto by the general assembly from the Colorado long-term works reserve. The moneys in the statewide strategic use fund shall be continuously appropriated to the state department for the purposes specified in this section. Any unexpended moneys remaining in the statewide strategic use fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the statewide strategic use fund and shall not revert to the Colorado long-term works reserve or any other fund.

(a.5) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) to the contrary, any unencumbered and unexpended moneys remaining in the statewide strategic use fund on December 30, 2012, shall revert to the Colorado long-term works reserve created in section 26-2-721.

(b) The state department may annually use up to ten thousand dollars of the moneys annually appropriated from the statewide strategic use fund to offset the costs incurred by the strategic allocation committee.

(c) The executive director may annually use up to two percent of the moneys annually appropriated from the statewide strategic use fund to contract, pursuant to subsection (6.5) of this section, with a qualified, independent entity for an evaluation of the statewide strategic use fund.

(2) (a) Based on the approved recommendations of the strategic allocation committee, the state department shall allocate the moneys appropriated to the statewide strategic use fund to support initiatives and programs that:

(I) Meet at least one of the purposes of the Colorado works program, as specified in section 26-2-705; and

(II) Either have demonstrated effectiveness in achieving, or represent an evidence-based, innovative approach that is likely to achieve, one or more of the following goals:

(A) Enhancing the long-term self-sufficiency of eligible, low-income Colorado families;

(B) Reducing the number of children and families living in poverty;

(C) Strengthening families who are living in poverty; or

(D) Increasing the participation of Colorado works participants in meaningful work activities.

(b) Initiatives and programs that receive allocations from the statewide strategic use fund may include, but need not be limited to, those that support regional public-private partnerships to accomplish the purposes specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

(3) (a) The strategic allocation committee may consider applications from, and recommend allocations from the statewide strategic use fund to, any one or more of the following entities, referred to in this section as “an eligible entity”:

(I) A county department;

(II) A nonprofit or not-for-profit entity;

(III) A state agency;

(IV) Any other appropriate entity specified by rule of the state board.

(b) An eligible entity, singly or jointly with one or more other eligible entities, that seeks an allocation from the statewide strategic use fund shall submit an application to the strategic allocation committee, as provided by rule of the state board. In reviewing applications, the strategic allocation committee shall take into account the degree of collaboration and cooperation between the applying eligible entity and the county department for the county in which the initiative or program would be implemented, as demonstrated in materials submitted with the application.

(c) The strategic allocation committee shall review all applications received and shall make recommendations to the executive director for allocations from the statewide strategic use fund. Each recommendation by the strategic allocation committee shall require the approval of at least nine of the committee members.

(d) The executive director shall approve the recommendations of the strategic allocation committee for allocation by the state department of the moneys in the statewide strategic use fund. If the executive director does not approve a recommendation of the strategic allocation committee, the committee may submit the recommendation to the state board for approval. If the state board approves the recommendation, the state department shall allocate the moneys as recommended by the strategic allocation committee.

(4) If an allocation to a nonprofit or not-for-profit entity is approved pursuant to this section, the state department in allocating the moneys shall comply with any applicable requirements of the "Procurement Code", articles 101 to 112 of title 24, C.R.S.

(5) Each eligible entity or group of eligible entities that receives an allocation from the statewide strategic use fund pursuant to this section shall comply with all reporting and monitoring requirements established by rule of the state board for purposes of overseeing the effectiveness of the programs and initiatives implemented with allocations from the fund. The state department, in accordance with state board rules, shall review the implementation of the programs and initiatives that receive allocations from the statewide strategic use fund.

(6) The state board shall promulgate rules pursuant to the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as specified in this section and as may otherwise be necessary for the implementation of this section.

(6.5) The executive director may contract with a qualified, independent entity for an evaluation of the effectiveness of the statewide strategic use fund in meeting the objectives of the Colorado works program and the effectiveness of individual initiatives and programs supported by the statewide strategic use fund in attaining the goals set forth in subsection (2) of this section as well as any outcomes defined by the strategic allocation committee. The executive director shall consult with the strategic allocation committee before awarding the evaluation contract. The executive director shall select an entity that is qualified to perform an evidence-based evaluation of a social program, and the entity awarded the evaluation contract shall not have a conflict of interest with respect to the entities or organizations that have benefitted from, or may benefit from, allocations from the statewide strategic use fund.

(7) On or before February 15, 2009, and on or before February 15 each year thereafter, the executive director shall submit to the joint budget committee and to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, a report concerning the programs and initiatives that received allocations from the statewide strategic use fund in the preceding fiscal year and a copy of the most recent evaluation completed pursuant to subsection (6.5) of this section.

PART 8COLORADO CHILD CARE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

26-2-801. Short title. This part 8 shall be known and may be cited as the "Colorado Child Care Assistance Program Act".

Source: L. 97: Entire part added, p. 1217, § 1, effective June 3.

26-2-802. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the state's policies in connection with the provision of child care assistance and the effective delivery of such assistance are critical to the ultimate success of any welfare reform program. The general assembly further finds that children in low-income families who receive services through a child care assistance program need and deserve the same access to a broad range of child care providers as do children in families who do not need assistance.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly hereby finds and declares that it is in the best interests of the state to adopt the Colorado child care assistance program set forth in this part 8. The general assembly further finds and declares that it is in the best interests of the state to adopt consistent, statewide child care provider reimbursement rates set at a floor of the seventy-fifth percentile of each county's market rate or the provider's rate, whichever is lower, to facilitate and increase access to high-quality child care for low-income families.

26-2-803. State department authority - provider rates.

(1) Repealed.

(2) The state department shall establish provider rates for the counties. After notice to the state department, a county may opt out of adhering to the state department provider rates and negotiate its own rates with such providers.

26-2-804. Funding - allocation - maintenance of effort. (1) Subject to available appropriations, a county's block grant for the Colorado child care assistance program for state fiscal year 1997-98 shall be determined by the state department and shall be based upon not less than one hundred percent of the state and federal moneys that the county received in state fiscal year 1996-97 to administer and implement JOBS-related child care and the Colorado child care assistance program, including the administrative costs related to such programs. The state department shall consider factors that include but are not limited to the following:

- (a) Historical expenditures on the Colorado child care assistance program;
- (b) The number of children in the county under thirteen years of age;
- (c) The number of low-income families in the county; and
- (d) Provider rates in the county, as established pursuant to section 26-2-803 (2).

(2) In state fiscal years 1998-99 and thereafter, the state department may adjust the county block grant identified in subsection (1) of this section by increasing or reducing the amount of such grants based upon factors that shall include but not be limited to:

- (a) The county's population and the Colorado works program caseload;
- (b) The unemployment rate in the county based upon the state department of labor and employment assessment of county unemployment rates for the prior year;
- (c) The county's performance in meeting the obligations under the performance contract with the state department pursuant to the provisions of section 26-2-715;
- (d) The fact that the county received funds from the county block grant support fund, created in section 26-2-720.5, in the previous fiscal year for allowable child care expenditures, which may indicate that the previous fiscal year's allocation was insufficient to meet the county's needs.

(3) The moneys in a county block grant allocated to a county pursuant to subsection (1) of this section may only be used for the provision of child care services under rules promulgated by the state department.

(4) and (5) Repealed.

(6) For state fiscal year 2005-06 and for each state fiscal year thereafter, each county shall be required to meet a level of county spending for the Colorado child care assistance program that is equal to the county's proportionate share of the total county funds set forth in the annual general appropriation act for the Colorado child care assistance program for that state fiscal year. The level of county spending shall be known as the county's maintenance of effort for the program for that state fiscal year. For any state fiscal year, the state department is authorized to adjust a county's maintenance of effort, reflected as a percentage of the total county funds set forth in the annual general appropriation act for the Colorado child care assistance program for that state fiscal year, so that the percentage equals the county's proportionate share of the total state and federal funds appropriated for the Colorado child care assistance program for that state fiscal year, reflected as a percentage. For any state fiscal year, the sum of all counties' maintenance of effort shall be equal to or greater than the total county funds set forth in the general appropriation act for the state fiscal year 1996-97 for employment-related child care.

26-2-805. Services - eligibility - assistance provided - rules. (1) (a) Subject to available appropriations, and pursuant to rules promulgated by the state department, a county shall provide child care assistance to a participant or any person or family whose income is not more than one hundred thirty percent of the federal poverty line.

(b) (I) Subject to available appropriations and pursuant to rules promulgated by the state department, and except as provided for in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (b), a county shall provide child care assistance for a family transitioning off the works program due to employment or training without requiring the family to apply for low-income child care, but shall redetermine the family's eligibility within six months after the transition, and may provide child care assistance for any other family whose income does not exceed eighty-five percent of the state median income for a family of the same size. A recipient of child care assistance shall be responsible for paying a portion of such child care based upon the recipient's income and the formula developed by rules of the state board. For any participant or any person or family whose income rises to the level set by the county at which the county may deny said participant, person, or family child care assistance, the county is strongly encouraged to continue to provide such assistance for a period of six months; except that in no event shall assistance be provided if said income exceeds the maximum level for eligibility for services set by federal law for a family of the same size. During such period the county shall work with said participant, person, or family to provide a gradual transition off of the child care assistance provided pursuant to this paragraph (b) over a six-month period.

(II) A family transitioning off of the works program shall not be automatically transitioned to the Colorado child care assistance program pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) if any of the following apply:

(A) The family is leaving the works program due to a violation of program requirements as defined in part 7 of this article, rule of the state board, or policy of a county department;

(B) The family is leaving the works program for training and the county in which the family resides does not include training as an eligible activity for low-income child care;

(C) The family is leaving the works program due to employment and will be at an income level that exceeds the county-adopted income eligibility limit for the county's child care assistance program; or

(D) The county in which the family resides has a waiting list for the county's child care assistance program.

(c) A participant who is employed shall pay a portion of his or her income for child care assistance under the Colorado child care assistance program. The amount that such a participant shall be required to pay under the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall be determined by a formula that shall be established by rules of the state board.

(d) On and after January 1, 2005, a county may require a person who receives child care assistance pursuant to this section and who is not otherwise a participant to apply, pursuant to section 26-13-106 (2), for child support establishment, modification, and enforcement services related to any support owed by obligors to their children and to cooperate with the delegate child support enforcement unit to receive these services; except that no person shall be required to submit a written application for child support establishment, modification, and enforcement services if the person shows good cause to the county implementing the Colorado child care assistance program for not receiving these services. On or before October 1, 2004, the state board shall promulgate rules for the implementation of this paragraph (d), including but not limited to rules establishing good cause for not receiving these services, and rules for the imposition of sanctions upon a person who fails, without good cause as determined by the county implementing the Colorado child care assistance program, to apply for child support enforcement services or to cooperate with the delegate child support enforcement unit as required by this paragraph (d).

(e) (I) For a family with a child who is enrolled in both the Colorado child care assistance program created in this part 8 and in a head start program, the family's eligibility redetermination for child care assistance shall occur no sooner than the end of the last month of the child's first full twelve-month program year of enrollment in the head start program. Child care assistance program eligibility redetermination for a child enrolled in both programs shall occur once every twelve months thereafter.

(II) For a family with a child who is solely enrolled in the Colorado child care assistance program created in this part 8 or dually enrolled with an early education program other than head start or early head start, the family's eligibility redetermination for child care assistance shall occur once every twelve months.

(III) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 26-1-127 (2) (a), a family that receives child care assistance pursuant to this part 8 shall not be required to report income or activity changes during the twelve-month eligibility period; except that, within the twelve-month eligibility period, a family shall be required to report a change in income if the family's income exceeds eighty-five percent of the state median income. If a family is no longer participating in the eligible activity under which it was made eligible in the child care case, the family shall report that change within four weeks from the time it ceased participating in the eligible activity.

(IV) A parent shall not be determined ineligible to receive child care assistance pursuant to this part 8 as a result of:

(A) Taking maternity leave; or

(B) Being a separated spouse or parent under a validly issued temporary order for parental responsibilities or child custody where the other spouse or parent has disqualifying financial resources.

(1.5) If a county reduces its income eligibility requirements, a child receiving child care assistance services when the change is implemented shall continue to receive said services until the family's next eligibility redetermination or for six months, whichever is longer.

(2) A county shall have the authority to develop a voucher system for participants pursuant to which participants could secure relative or unlicensed child care.

(2.5) An early care and education provider may conduct a pre-eligibility determination for child care assistance for a family to facilitate the determination process. The early care and education provider shall submit its pre-eligibility documentation to the county for final determination of eligibility for child care assistance. The early care and education provider may provide services to the family prior to final determination of eligibility and shall be reimbursed for such services only if the county determines the family is eligible for services and there is no need to place the family on a waiting list. If the family is found ineligible for services, the early care and education provider shall not be reimbursed for any services provided during the period between its pre-eligibility determination and the county's final determination of eligibility.

(3) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Early care and education provider" means a school district or provider that is licensed pursuant to part 1 of article 6 of this title or that participates in the Colorado preschool program pursuant to article 28 of title 22, C.R.S.

(b) "Head start program" means a program operated by a local public or private nonprofit agency designated by the federal department of health and human services to operate a head start program under the provisions of Title V of the federal "Economic Opportunity Act of 1964", as amended.

(c) "Participant" means a participant in the Colorado works program as defined in section 26-2-703 (15).

26-2-805.5. Exemptions - requirements. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of section 26-2-805 to the contrary, an exempt family child care home provider, as defined in section 26-6-102 (3.7), shall not be eligible to receive child care assistance moneys through the Colorado child care assistance program if he or she fails to meet the criteria established in section 26-6-120.

(2) As a prerequisite to entering into a valid Colorado child care assistance program contract with a county office or to being a party to any other payment agreement for the provision of care for a child whose care is funded in whole or in part with moneys received on the child's behalf from publicly funded state child care assistance programs, an exempt family child care home provider shall sign an attestation that affirms he or she, and any qualified adult residing in the exempt family child care home, has not been determined to be insane or mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction and a court has not entered, pursuant to part 3 or 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., or section 27-65-109 (4) or 27-65-127, C.R.S., an order specifically finding that the mental incompetency or insanity is of such a degree that the provider cannot safely operate an exempt family child care home.

26-2-808. Pilot program to continue child care assistance with modifications - legislative declaration - county participation - report - repeal. (1) The general assembly declares that the purpose of this section is to create a pilot program to study whether a new approach to the Colorado child care assistance program can mitigate the circumstance, referred to in this section as the "cliff effect", that sometimes occurs when working parents who are participants in the Colorado child care assistance program receive a minor increase in their income that makes them ineligible for child care assistance and the increase in wages is not enough to cover the costs for child care without the child care assistance. The general assembly finds that this phenomenon often creates disincentives for families to achieve self-sufficiency. The general assembly also encourages counties participating in the pilot program to create effective public and private partnerships with nonprofit organizations and businesses to find additional innovative ways to continue child care assistance for working parents as an economic benefit to families and for continuity of quality early education for the child. The general assembly finds that allowing working parents to continue to receive child care assistance through the pilot program established in this section will be beneficial to:

- (a) Children who are able to continue in a stable day care environment;
- (b) Working parents who are able to continue to work and advance in their jobs and become more self-sufficient; and
- (c) Employers who have a work force that is more stable because their employees have consistent child care arrangements and have an incentive to stay with and advance in the same employment.

(2) Beginning on April 13, 2012, the state department is authorized to develop and oversee a pilot program in which the Colorado child care assistance program as outlined in section 26-2-805 is modified to mitigate the cliff effect for low-income families that are working and receiving child care assistance, referred to in this section as the "pilot program". County departments of social services may apply to the executive director or his or her designee to participate in the pilot program. The executive director or his or her designee may select up to ten counties that will participate in the pilot program as described in this section. In selecting the counties, the executive director or his or her designee shall seek diversity in the size of population, regional location, and demographic composition.

(3) Subject to available appropriations, a county that is participating in the pilot program shall continue to provide child care assistance for a period of up to two years for any person who has been receiving child care assistance from the county and whose income exceeds the county-adopted income eligibility limit for the county's child care assistance program. The county shall require a parent who is receiving extended child care assistance to pay a series of incremental increases in the portion of the parental share of the child care costs on a scheduled basis based upon a formula established by the county; except that assistance shall not be provided if said income exceeds the maximum level for eligibility for services set by federal law for a family of the same size. The county shall work with the person to provide a gradual transition off of the child care assistance over a two-year period. Each county department shall set its own parental fee schedule and may consult with the state department on setting the parental fee schedule.

(4) A family that is receiving child care assistance for an extended period of time under the pilot program shall report income changes to the county during the two-year period and is subject to a redetermination by the county after the first twelve months.

(5) As part of the pilot program, a county is encouraged to create effective public and private partnerships with nonprofit organizations and businesses to find innovative ways to supplement its child care assistance program funds to help parents continue to pay for child care, including the possibility of using the Colorado child care contribution credit pursuant to section 39-22-121, C.R.S., to leverage additional moneys to provide a stipend to assist the family through the time period after the family's income makes them ineligible or at risk of being ineligible for child care assistance.

(6) A county may participate in the pilot program on and after July 1, 2012, and through July 1, 2016. A county shall operate the pilot program for at least two years. A county may apply to participate in the pilot program on or before January 1, 2014. Each participating county shall collect data on the pilot program and shall work with the state department to evaluate and report on the pilot program using measurable outcomes.

(7) The state department shall compile the data submitted by the counties pursuant to subsection (6) of this section and submit a report on the pilot program with the state department's findings and recommendations to the house health and environment committee and to the senate health and human services committee, or any successor committees. The state department shall submit its report on or before October 1, 2015.

(8) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

COLORADO SELF-SUFFICIENCY AND EMPLOYMENT ACT

26-2-901 to 26-2-905. (Repealed)

Editor's note: (1) Section 26-2-905 provided for the repeal of this part 9, effective July 1, 2003. (See L. 1998, p. 1013.)

(2) This part 9 was added in 1998 and was not amended prior to its repeal in 2003. For the text of this part 9 prior to 2003, consult the 2002 Colorado Revised Statutes.

PART 10

INCENTIVES FOR SELF-SUFFICIENCY

26-2-1001. Short title. This part 10 shall be known and may be cited as the "Individual Development Account Act".

Source: L. 2000: Entire part added, p. 1469, § 1, effective May 31.

26-2-1002. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that:

(a) The unrealized and lost human resource potential of low-income and working-poor individuals of this state results in an overall loss to the potential of the entire state;

(b) It is in the best interests of all Coloradans to structure incentives in a way that will result in a greater likelihood that low-income and working-poor individuals will attain self-sufficiency;

(c) It is in the best interests of all Coloradans to concentrate appropriate assets and investments on low-income and working-poor individuals and in low-income and working-poor neighborhoods and communities in order to allow low-income individuals, neighborhoods, and communities to benefit from the developments achieved through the growth in assets and investments;

(d) Achieving self-sufficiency and assessing economic opportunity for low-income and working-poor individuals can be addressed through public policy that invests in asset accumulation and is supported by private sector philanthropy;

(e) Providing a structured savings situation for low-income and working-poor individuals enhances such individuals' chances of fulfilling major life goals and opportunities and incorporates such individuals into the economic mainstream; and

(f) Such self-sufficiency may, in turn, result in fewer people needing to seek public assistance.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly hereby authorizes the implementation of an individual development account program to provide incentives and motivation for low-income and working-poor individuals and families to develop and concentrate assets and investments for use by such individuals who are striving for self-sufficiency and need a jump-start for economic opportunity.

26-2-1003. Definitions. As used in this part 10, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Charitable donor" means a person who contributes to a sponsoring organization for the purposes of the IDA program.

(2) "Financial institution" means an organization that is federally insured and is authorized to do business under state or federal laws relating to financial institutions and includes a bank, trust company, savings bank, building and loan association, savings and loan company or association, and credit union.

(3) "Individual development account" means a contract of deposit between a depositor and a financial institution selected by a sponsoring organization.

(4) “Program” or “IDA program” means the individual development account program established pursuant to this part 10.

(5) “Service provider” means an institution of higher education; a provider of occupational or vocational education; a trade school; a bank, savings and loan, or other mortgage lender; a title company; or the lessor or vendor of any office supplies, office equipment, retail space or office space or other business space, or such other provider of goods or services to be used for the commencement of a business.

(6) “Sponsoring organization” means a nonprofit organization that is exempt from taxation under section 501 (c) (3) of the federal “Internal Revenue Code of 1986”, as amended, that participates in IDA programs, and that verifies authorized use of individual development accounts.

26-2-1004. Individual development account program - rules. (1) The IDA program shall provide that eligible individuals who establish individual development accounts, as set forth in section 26-2-1005, shall receive the benefit of matching moneys payable directly to the service provider at the time of the eligible individual’s expenditure of the moneys in his or her individual development account for any of the following purposes:

(a) Securing postsecondary education, including but not limited to community college courses, courses at a four-year college or university, or post-college, graduate courses for either the individual or the individual’s dependent;

(b) Securing postsecondary occupational training, including but not limited to vocational or trade school training for either the individual or the individual’s dependent;

(c) Purchasing a home for the first time, either individually or with another family member; or

(d) Business capitalization.

(2) In addition to the purposes set forth in subsection (1) of this section, an eligible individual may expend up to ten percent of the total moneys from his or her individual development account for supportive counseling, mentoring, tutoring, or other related services as provided by sponsoring organizations and as approved by such individual development account holders.

Source: L. 2000: Entire part added, p. 1471, § 1, effective May 31.

26-2-1005. Eligibility for participation in the individual development account program. (1) Sponsoring organizations that elect to participate in the program shall recruit individuals or households to participate in the IDA program and shall determine the eligibility of prospective participants based upon the criteria set forth in this subsection (1). All individuals within one family or a single individual shall be eligible to be selected for participation in the IDA program if the individual or household meets the following requirements:

(a) The individual’s or household’s income may not exceed two hundred percent of the federal poverty line when applied to the savings goals of postsecondary education or business capitalization. The individual’s or household’s income may not exceed eighty percent of the area median income when applied to the savings goal of home ownership.

(b) An individual within a household has entered into an individual development account agreement with a sponsoring organization.

(c) An individual within a household has established an individual development account with a financial institution selected by the sponsoring organization and has made a commitment, as set forth in this section, to save and match philanthropic sources of moneys that are available to match the individual or household contributions to the individual development account. The individual development account shall accrue interest.

(d) The individual or the household may only open one individual development account.

(e) The individual submitting the application is a citizen of the United States and is a legal resident of the state.

(2) All of the following duties shall be undertaken by one or more sponsoring organizations:

(a) To determine the eligibility of individuals or households to participate in the IDA program;

(b) To counsel such individuals and households about the IDA program;

(c) To conduct orientations with individuals or households on the philosophy underlying the IDA program and the general requirements of the program;

(d) To facilitate the opening of individual development accounts with participating financial institutions;

(e) To provide credit counseling, budgeting, and financial management training to the program participants;

(f) To jointly develop specific goals and performance criteria with each program participant;

(g) To set appropriate matching ratios of philanthropic moneys to contributions made by program participants;

(h) Repealed.

(i) To raise contributions for the IDA program.

(3) The program participant may withdraw contributions made by the participant for uses other than those uses authorized under this program one time but, upon the second such action, shall be terminated from the IDA program. A participant who has been terminated from the IDA program may withdraw all moneys that the participant contributed to the account along with any interest accrued on the participant's contribution.

(4) The maximum amount of moneys in an individual development account that may be matched by a charitable donor is ten thousand dollars. The individual may deposit an amount greater than ten thousand dollars, but funds in excess of ten thousand dollars are subject to any applicable state and federal income taxes, and shall not be matched by a charitable donor. Only one account per family may be established in the IDA program; except that every member of the family may utilize the account.

(5) Nothing in this part 10 shall be construed to create an entitlement to matching moneys. The number of individuals who may receive disbursement of matching philanthropic moneys by sponsoring organizations pursuant to the IDA program shall necessarily be limited by the amount of philanthropic moneys available in any given year for such purpose.

(6) and (7) Repealed.

PART 1

PROTECTIVE SERVICES FOR AT-RISK ADULTS

- 26-3.1-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:
- (1) “At-risk adult” means an individual eighteen years of age or older who is susceptible to mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation because the individual is unable to perform or obtain services necessary for his or her health, safety, or welfare or lacks sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate responsible decisions concerning his or her person or affairs.
 - (2) “Caretaker” means a person who:
 - (a) Is responsible for the care of an at-risk adult as a result of a family or legal relationship;
 - (b) Has assumed responsibility for the care of an at-risk adult; or
 - (c) Is paid to provide care or services to an at-risk adult.
 - (3) “County department” means a county or district department of social services.
 - (4) “Exploitation” means an act or omission committed by a person that:
 - (a) Uses deception, harassment, intimidation, or undue influence to permanently or temporarily deprive an at-risk adult of the use, benefit, or possession of his or her money, assets, or property;
 - (b) In the absence of legal authority:
 - (I) Employs the services of a third party for the profit or advantage of the person or another person to the detriment of the at-risk adult; or
 - (II) Forces, compels, coerces, or entices an at-risk adult to perform services for the profit or advantage of the person or another person against the will of the at-risk adult; or
 - (c) Misuses the property of an at-risk adult in a manner that adversely affects the at-risk adult’s ability to receive health care or health care benefits or to pay bills for basic needs or obligations.
 - (5) “Financial institution” has the same meaning as set forth in section 6-21-102 (6), C.R.S.

(6) “Least restrictive intervention” means acquiring or providing services, including protective services, for the shortest duration and to the minimum extent necessary to remedy or prevent situations of actual mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation.

(7) “Mistreatment” means an act or omission that threatens the health, safety, or welfare of an at-risk adult or that exposes an at-risk adult to a situation or condition that poses an imminent risk of death, serious bodily injury, or bodily injury to the at-risk adult. “Mistreatment” includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Abuse that occurs:

(I) Where there is infliction of physical pain or injury, as demonstrated by, but not limited to, substantial or multiple skin bruising, bleeding, malnutrition, dehydration, burns, bone fractures, poisoning, subdural hematoma, soft tissue swelling, or suffocation;

(II) Where unreasonable confinement or restraint is imposed; or

(III) Where there is subjection to nonconsensual sexual conduct or contact classified as a crime under the “Colorado Criminal Code”, title 18, C.R.S.;

(b) Caretaker neglect that occurs when adequate food, clothing, shelter, psychological care, physical care, medical care, or supervision is not secured for the at-risk adult or is not provided by a caretaker in a timely manner and with the degree of care that a reasonable person in the same situation would exercise; except that the withholding, withdrawing, or refusing of any treatment, including but not limited to resuscitation, cardiac pacing, mechanical ventilation, dialysis, artificial nutrition and hydration, any medication or medical procedure or device, in accordance with any valid medical directive or order, or as described in a palliative plan of care, shall not be deemed caretaker neglect. As used in this paragraph (b), “medical directive or order” includes, but is not limited to, a medical durable power of attorney, a declaration as to medical treatment executed pursuant to section 15-18-104, C.R.S., a medical orders for scope of treatment form executed pursuant to article 18.7 of title 15, C.R.S., and a CPR directive executed pursuant to article 18.6 of title 15, C.R.S.

(c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2012.)

(8) “Person” means one or more individuals, limited liability companies, partnerships, associations, corporations, legal representatives, trustees, receivers, or the state of Colorado, and all political subdivisions and agencies thereof.

(9) “Protective services” means services provided by the state or political subdivisions or agencies thereof in order to prevent the mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult. Such services include, but are not limited to: Receiving and investigating reports of mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation, providing casework and counseling services, and arranging for, coordinating, delivering where appropriate, and monitoring services, including medical care for physical or mental health needs, protection from mistreatment, assistance with application for public benefits, referral to community service providers, and initiation of probate proceedings.

(10) “Self-neglect” means an act or failure to act whereby an at-risk adult substantially endangers his or her health, safety, welfare, or life by not seeking or obtaining services necessary to meet his or her essential human needs. Choice of lifestyle or living arrangements shall not, by itself, be evidence of self-neglect. Refusal of medical treatment, medications, devices, or procedures by an adult or on behalf of an adult by a duly authorized surrogate medical decision maker or in accordance with a valid medical directive or order, or as described in a palliative plan of care, shall not be deemed self-neglect. Refusal of food and water in the context of a life-limiting illness shall not, by itself, be evidence of self-neglect. As used in this subsection (10), “medical directive or order” includes, but is not limited to, a medical durable power of attorney, a declaration as to medical treatment executed pursuant to section 15-18-104, C.R.S., a medical orders for scope of treatment form executed pursuant to article 18.7 of title 15, C.R.S., and a CPR directive executed pursuant to article 18.6 of title 15, C.R.S.

26-3.1-102. Reporting requirements. (1) (a) An immediate oral report should be made or caused to be made within twenty-four hours to a county department or during non-business hours to a local law enforcement agency responsible for investigating violations of state criminal laws protecting at-risk adults by any person specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) who has observed the mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult or who has reasonable cause to believe that an at-risk adult has been mistreated, is self-neglected, or has been exploited and is at imminent risk of mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation.

(b) The following persons are urged to make an oral report within twenty-four hours:

(I) Physicians, surgeons, physicians’ assistants, osteopaths, physicians in training, podiatrists, and occupational therapists;

(II) Medical examiners and coroners;

(III) Registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, and nurse practitioners;

(IV) Hospital and long-term care facility personnel engaged in the admission, care, or treatment of patients;

(V) Psychologists and other mental health professionals;

(VI) Social work practitioners;

(VII) Dentists;

(VIII) Law enforcement officials and personnel;

(IX) Court-appointed guardians and conservators;

(X) Fire protection personnel;

(XI) Pharmacists;

(XII) Community-centered board staff;

(XIII) Personnel of banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, and other lending or financial institutions; and

(XIV) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2012.)

(XV) A caretaker, staff member, or employee of or volunteer or consultant for a licensed or certified care facility, agency, home, or governing board, including but not limited to home health providers.

(c) In addition to those persons urged by this subsection (1) to report known or suspected mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult and circumstances or conditions that might reasonably result in mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation, any other person may report such known or suspected mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation and circumstances or conditions that might reasonably result in mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult to the local law enforcement agency or the county department. Upon receipt of such report, the receiving agency shall prepare a written report within forty-eight hours.

(2) Pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the report shall include:

(a) The name and address of the at-risk adult;

(b) The name and address of the at-risk adult’s caretaker, if any;

(c) The age, if known, of the at-risk adult;

(d) The nature and extent of the at-risk adult’s injury, if any;

(e) The nature and extent of the condition that will reasonably result in mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation; and

(f) Any other pertinent information.

(3) A copy of the report prepared by the county department in accordance with subsections (1) and (2) of this section shall be forwarded within twenty-four hours to the district attorney’s office and a local law enforcement agency. A report prepared by a local law enforcement agency shall be forwarded within twenty-four hours to the county department and to the district attorney’s office.

(4) No person, including a person specified in subsection (1) of this section, shall knowingly make a false report of mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation to a county department or local law enforcement agency. Any person who willfully violates the provisions of this subsection (4) commits a class 3 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S., and shall be liable for damages proximately caused thereby.

(5) Any person, except a perpetrator, complicitor, or coconspirator, who makes a report pursuant to this section shall be immune from any civil or criminal liability on account of such report, testimony, or participation in making such report, so long as such action was taken in good faith and not in reckless disregard of the truth or in violation of subsection (4) of this section.

(6) No person shall take any discriminatory, disciplinary, or retaliatory action against any person who, in good faith, makes a report or fails to make a report of suspected mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult.

(7) (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (7), reports of the mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult, including the name and address of any at-risk adult, member of said adult's family, or informant, or any other identifying information contained in such reports, shall be confidential, and shall not be public information.

(b) Disclosure of a report of the mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult and information relating to an investigation of such a report shall be permitted only when authorized by a court for good cause. Such disclosure shall not be prohibited when:

(I) A criminal complaint, information, or indictment based on the report is filed;

(II) There is a death of a suspected at-risk adult from mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation and a law enforcement agency files a formal charge or a grand jury issues an indictment in connection with the death; or

(III) Such disclosure is necessary for the coordination of multiple agencies' investigation of a report or for the provision of protective services to an at-risk adult.

(c) Any person who violates any provision of this subsection (7) is guilty of a class 2 petty offense and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars.

26-3.1-103. Evaluations - investigations - rules. (1) The agency receiving a report of mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of an at-risk adult shall immediately make a thorough evaluation of the reported level of risk. The immediate concern of the evaluation shall be the protection of the at-risk adult. The evaluation, at a minimum, shall include a determination of a response time frame and whether an investigation of the allegations is required. If a county department determines that an investigation is required, the county department shall arrange for an investigation and subsequent provision of protective services to be conducted by persons trained to conduct such investigations and provide protective services.

(2) Each county department, law enforcement agency, district attorney's office, and other agency responsible under federal law or the laws of this state to investigate mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of at-risk adults shall develop and implement cooperative agreements to coordinate the investigative duties of such agencies. The focus of such agreements shall be to ensure the best protection for at-risk adults. The agreements shall provide for special requests by one agency for assistance from another agency and for joint investigations. The agreements shall further provide that each agency shall maintain the confidentiality of the information exchanged pursuant to such joint investigations.

(3) Each county or contiguous group of counties in the state in which a minimum number of reports of mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of at-risk adults are annually filed shall establish an at-risk adult protection team. The state board shall promulgate rules to specify the minimum number of reports that will require the establishment of an adult at-risk protection team. The at-risk adult protection team shall review the processes used to report and investigate mistreatment, self-neglect, or exploitation of at-risk adults, review the provision of protective services for such adults, facilitate interagency cooperation, and provide community education on the mistreatment, self-neglect, and exploitation of at-risk adults. The director of each county department shall create or coordinate a protection team for the respective county in accordance with rules adopted by the state board of human services, which rules shall govern the establishment, composition, and duties of the team and shall be consistent with this subsection (3).

(4) Notwithstanding any provision of section 24-72-204, C.R.S., or section 11-105-110, C.R.S., or any other applicable law concerning the confidentiality of financial records to the contrary, agencies investigating the exploitation of an at-risk adult shall be permitted to inspect all records of the at-risk adult on whose behalf the investigation is being conducted, including the at-risk adult's financial records, upon execution of a prior written consent form by the at-risk adult, in accordance with section 6-21-103, C.R.S.

ANNOTATION

Once a mistreatment report is made, a thorough investigation must commence immediately, as opposed to being completed immediately. In addition, once begun, the investigation must proceed as quickly as is reasonable under the circumstances. In re Matter of Stepanek, 924 P.2d 1142 (Colo. App. 1996), aff'd in part and rev'd in part on other grounds, 940 P.2d 364 (Colo. 1997).

26-3.1-104. Provision of protective services for at-risk adults - consent - nonconsent - least restrictive intervention. (1) If a county director or such director's designee determines that an at-risk adult is being mistreated, self-neglected, or exploited, or is at risk thereof, and the at-risk adult consents to protective services, the county director or designee shall immediately provide or arrange for the provision of protective services, which services shall be provided in accordance with the provisions of 28 CFR part 35, subpart B.

(2) If a county director or designee determines that an at-risk adult is being or has been mistreated, self-neglected, or exploited, or is at risk thereof, and if the at-risk adult appears to lack capacity to make decisions and does not consent to the receipt of protective services, the county director is urged, if no other appropriate person is able or willing, to petition the court, pursuant to part 3 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., for an order authorizing the provision of specific protective services and for the appointment of a guardian, for an order authorizing the appointment of a conservator pursuant to part 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., or for a court order providing for any combination of these actions.

(3) Any protective services provided pursuant to this section shall include only those services constituting the least restrictive intervention.

26-3.1-107. Background check. Each county department shall require each protective services employee hired on or after May 29, 2012, to complete a fingerprint-based criminal history records check utilizing the records of the Colorado bureau of investigation and the federal bureau of investigation. The employee shall pay the cost of the fingerprint-based criminal history records check unless the county department chooses to pay the cost. Upon completion of the criminal history records check, the Colorado bureau of investigation shall forward the results to the county department. The county department may require a name-based criminal history records check for an applicant or an employee who has twice submitted to a fingerprint-based criminal history records check and whose fingerprints are unclassifiable.

ELDER ABUSE TASK FORCE

26-3.1-301. Elder abuse task force - legislative declaration - creation - duties - report - repeal. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that:

(a) It is within the power of the general assembly to address issues related to protections for elderly at-risk adults;

(b) At-risk elderly adults may be subjected to mistreatment and exploitation, and the state has a responsibility to protect these persons;

(c) Issues related to protections for at-risk elderly adults are a matter of statewide concern and should be addressed by the general assembly; and

(d) It is the intent of the general assembly that the recommendations of the task force created in this section will lead to the implementation of a complete system of reporting of mistreatment and exploitation of at-risk elderly adults by September 1, 2013, subject to the availability of sufficient funding for such implementation at the state and county levels, and the enactment of such statutory changes as may be necessary for such implementation.

(2) There is hereby created the elder abuse task force, referred to in this section as the "task force", which shall meet during the interim after the second regular session of the sixty-eighth general assembly.

(3) The task force shall study the problem of mistreatment and exploitation of at-risk elderly adults in Colorado and prepare recommendations for the consideration of the general assembly, which recommendations, at a minimum, shall include:

(a) Recommendations concerning how to require certain persons, on and after September 1, 2013, to report known or suspected mistreatment or exploitation of at-risk elderly adults;

(b) Recommendations concerning the provision of protective services by county departments to at-risk elderly adults who are mistreated or exploited;

(c) Recommendations concerning the minimum age for a person to be considered an "at-risk elderly adult" for the purposes of this part 3;

(d) An estimate of the costs, including workload impacts, to be incurred by the state department, county departments, and law enforcement agencies of the state as a result of requiring certain persons, on and after September 1, 2013, to report known or suspected mistreatment and exploitation of at-risk elderly adults;

(e) Identification of sustainable sources of funding, including but not limited to new revenues, that may be used to offset the costs to be incurred by the state department, county departments, and law enforcement agencies of the state as a result of requiring certain persons, on and after September 1, 2013, to report known or suspected mistreatment and exploitation of at-risk elderly adults;

(f) Recommendations for training employees of the state department and county departments to use outcome-based best practices in the provision of protective services to at-risk elderly adults;

(g) Recommendations regarding the adequacy or inadequacy of existing criminal penalties for offenses against at-risk adults, as described in article 6.5 of title 18, C.R.S.; and

(h) Recommendations concerning the reconciliation of the definition of "at-risk adult" in section 26-3.1-101 with the definition of "at-risk adult" in section 18-6.5-102 (1), C.R.S.

(4) The task force shall consist of the following members:

(a) The executive director of the state department or his or her designee; and

(b) The following members, to be appointed by the executive director of the state department:

(I) A representative of a statewide organization of social workers;

(II) A representative of a statewide organization of district attorneys;

(III) A representative of a statewide organization of long-term care providers for at-risk adults;

(IV) A representative of a statewide organization of persons who provide legal advice to at-risk adults;

(V) A representative of a statewide organization of banks and other financial entities;

(VI) A representative of a statewide organization of law enforcement officers;

(VII) A representative of a statewide society of health care professionals;

(VIII) The attorney general or his or her designee;

(IX) A representative of a statewide organization that advocates on behalf of elderly persons;

(X) A representative of a statewide organization that advocates on behalf of crime victims;

(XI) A representative of a statewide organization that advocates on behalf of persons with disabilities;

(XII) A representative of county departments who has experience in the provision of protective services to at-risk adults;

(XIII) A representative of state and local long-term care ombudsmen;

(XIV) A representative of a hospice care organization;

(XV) A representative of one or more agencies that provide non-medical home care to at-risk adults; and

(XVI) A representative of a statewide organization that represents counties.

(c) All appointments to the task force shall be made on or before June 15, 2012.

(5) The task force shall submit a written report of its findings and recommendations to the health and human services committee of the senate and to the health and environment committee of the house of representatives, or any successor committees, on or before December 1, 2012. Upon request of a member of the task force, summaries of dissenting opinions shall be prepared and attached to the final report of findings and recommendations.

(6) (a) The first meeting of the task force shall occur no later than July 18, 2012. The task force shall meet at least four times.

(b) Meetings of the task force shall be public meetings.

(7) The task force shall solicit and accept reports and public testimony and may request other sources to provide testimony, written comments, and other relevant data to the task force.

(8) Members of the task force shall serve without compensation and shall not be entitled to reimbursement for expenses.

(9) The legislative council staff and the office of legislative legal services shall not provide staff support to the task force.

(10) This part 3 is repealed, effective November 2, 2013.

26-5-102. Provision of child welfare services - system reform goals. (1) (a) The state department shall adopt rules to establish a program of child welfare services, administered by the state department or supervised by the state department and administered by the county departments, and, where applicable, in accordance with the conditions accompanying available federal funds for such purpose. The rules shall establish a fee based upon the child support guidelines set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S., requiring those persons legally responsible for the child to pay for all, or a portion, of the services provided under this article. Notwithstanding the rules establishing a fee for services provided under this article, when it serves the best interest of a child, a county department may exempt a family from responsibility for payment of fees for core services, as defined in rules promulgated by the state department. The state department is authorized to promulgate rules to implement the provisions of this article relating to the allocation of funds to counties for the delivery of child welfare services.

(b) Upon appropriate request and within available appropriations, child welfare services shall be provided for any child residing or present in the state of Colorado who is in need of such services. Foster care fees shall be considered child support obligations, and all remedies for the enforcement and collection of child support shall apply. Foster care fees established pursuant to section 14-10-115, C.R.S., may be collected pursuant to the administrative procedures to establish child support enforcement set forth in article 13.5 of this title. Due process is guaranteed in all actions regarding any such administrative process concerning foster care fees, and a court hearing of the matter before the district court may be obtained in the manner prescribed in section 26-13.5-105. Nothing contained in article 13.5 of this title shall be construed to deprive a court of competent jurisdiction from determining the duty of support of any obligor against whom an administrative order is issued pursuant to this article.

(2) Reforms in child welfare and related delivery systems shall be directed at the following objectives:

- (a) More efficient and responsive service systems for children, youth, and families;
- (b) Increased flexibility and collaboration across multiple agencies and funding streams to more appropriately meet consumer needs and avoid cost shifting between systems;
- (c) Encouragement and authorization for a truly integrated service system that incorporates blended funding and administration;
- (d) Focus on quality and outcome-driven services with accountability for an entire array of services that families need, rather than forcing families to be transferred from agency to agency;
- (e) Development of data systems to support these goals and to allow administrators and policy makers to better manage and evaluate;
- (f) Authority and incentives for creative solutions at the local level that are not bound by the constraints of current agency barriers and categorical funding streams, including authority for local policy makers to create new entities incorporating blended funding and administration;
- (g) Successful training efforts directed at county staff, judges, court staff, providers, parents, and families and other appropriate entities that are involved in managed care service systems, which training efforts shall include, but not be limited to, the operation of the child welfare training academy created in section 26-5-109. Notwithstanding any limitation of the "M" notation of the appropriation in the annual appropriation act for child welfare services, the state department is authorized to expend any additional federal or private funding that may be available to support the training efforts identified in this subsection (2).

(h) Promotion of the development of a family-centered, community-based strategy for placement decisions that includes team decision making, family-group decision making, or other agency decision making processes that involve the family and community supports;

(i) Promotion of the local placement of children with families by recruiting and supporting family foster homes within the neighborhoods and communities in which identified children reside.

ANNOTATION

Trial court correctly determined, by relying on this section, §§ 14-7-102 and 19-1-115 (4)(d), that the obligation rests upon the parents of the child to make monthly payments, based on the parents' ability to pay, until placement costs are paid in full or until further order of the court. People in Interest of L.R.S., 791 P.2d 1215 (Colo. App. 1990).

This section imposes a parental support obligation that complements § 19-1-115 (4)(d), which is computed according to their ability to pay. The purpose of the fee is to help pay the costs of child welfare services provided to qualifying children. M.S. v. People, 812 P.2d 632 (Colo. 1991).

The "all or a portion" language contained in this section indicates that partial reimbursement is contemplated for parents who are financially unable to pay the entire cost of placement. M.S. v. People, 812 P.2d 632 (Colo. 1991).

The language of this section and § 19-1-115 (4)(d) conflicts with § 14-7-102 since those sections speak in terms of the parents ability to pay while § 14-7-102 imposes absolute liability without regard for the parents financial condition. M.S. v. People, 812 P.2d 632 (Colo. 1991).

This section and § 19-1-115 (4)(d) are specific provisions concerning dependency and neglect adjudications and, with regard to the parental support obligation, control over § 14-7-102. M.S. v. People, 812 P.2d 632 (Colo. 1991).

26-5-103. Coordination with other programs. The program of child welfare services established pursuant to this article shall be coordinated with other social services and assistance payments programs for children of this state and shall be rendered in complement of, and not in duplication of or contrary to, legal processes provided by the "Colorado Children's Code" and services rendered under any public assistance law or other law for the benefit of children, including assistance under the Colorado works program, as described in part 7 of article 2 of this title.

ANNOTATION

Power to make determinations as to custody and care of children. Given the broad power of the juvenile court to make determinations as to the custody and care of a child under its jurisdiction, it would be inconsistent and contrary to the intent of the general assembly to also find such a power in the Denver department of welfare. City & County of Denver v. Juvenile Court, 182 Colo. 157, 511 P.2d 898 (1973).

26-5-103.5. Child welfare allocations committee - organization - advisory duties.

(1) A child welfare allocations committee shall be convened by the state department as necessary in order to make advisory recommendations as described in this article.

(2) The child welfare allocations committee shall consist of eight members, four of whom shall be appointed by a statewide association of counties and four of whom shall be appointed by the state department. The appointing authorities shall consult with each other to ensure that the child welfare allocations committee is representative of the counties in the state. If a statewide association of counties does not appoint a representative from the county that has the greatest percentage of the state's child welfare caseload, the state department shall appoint such a representative from such county.

(3) The child welfare allocations committee shall develop its own operating procedures.

(4) No later than January 15, 1999, the state department, with input from the child welfare allocations committee, shall make recommendations to the joint budget committee of the general assembly for a definition of what shall constitute administration and support functions as referred to in section 26-5-101 (3) (m) and a method for identifying costs for such functions.

Source: L. 98: Entire section added, p. 781, § 4, effective May 22.

26-5-104. Funding of child welfare services - rules. (1) Reimbursement. The state department shall, within the limits of available appropriations, reimburse the county departments eighty percent of amounts expended by county departments for child welfare services, up to the amount of the county's allocation as determined pursuant to the provisions of this section, except as otherwise authorized in accordance with the close-out process described in subsection (7) of this section.

(2) Parental fees. The fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990, shall constitute the base fiscal year for the purpose of computing a base amount of parental fee collections by each county on behalf of children in foster care. Commencing with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1991, any increased amount of parental fees over and above the base amount shall be retained by the county that collected such parental fees. Any moneys retained by each county pursuant to this subsection (2) may be used for child welfare services directed toward early intervention, placement prevention, and family preservation, or any other program funded pursuant to sections 19-2-211, 19-2-212, and 19-2-310, C.R.S.

(3) Allocation formula. (a) For state fiscal year 1997-98, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, the state department, after input from the child welfare allocations committee, shall develop formulas for capped and targeted allocations that shall include, effective for state fiscal year 1998-99, the estimated caseload for the delivery of those specific child welfare services to be funded by the moneys in such capped or targeted allocations. If a county receives more than one capped or targeted allocation for the delivery of child welfare services, the formula shall identify the specific caseload estimate attributable to each capped or targeted allocation. The determination of the formulas pursuant to the provisions of this subsection (3) shall also take into consideration such factors as:

(II) The county's allocations and expenditures for child welfare services in the three previous state fiscal years and a comparison of the spending in those prior years with the caseloads in the respective prior state fiscal years;

(III) (Deleted by amendment, L. 98, p. 782, § 5, effective May 22, 1998.)

(III.5) Beginning with the 2012-13 state fiscal year, the county's prior fiscal year expenditures on preventive family preservation services and the number of families served; and

(IV) Other factors determined by the state department and the child welfare allocations committee that directly affect the population of children in need of child welfare services in a county.

(b) In the event that the state department and the child welfare allocations committee do not reach an agreement on the allocation formula on or before June 15 of any state fiscal year for the succeeding state fiscal year, the state department and the child welfare allocations committee shall submit alternatives to the joint budget committee of the general assembly from which such joint budget committee shall select an allocation formula before the beginning of such succeeding state fiscal year.

(c) The formulas developed by the state department, after input from the child welfare allocations committee, shall identify the portion of the amounts appropriated for child welfare services that shall be allocated to the counties for the provision of child welfare services.

(d) A county's election to make a transfer of federal funds pursuant to section 26-2-714 (9) for the provision of child welfare services shall not be the basis of an adjustment to the formula for developing such county's capped or targeted allocation under the provisions of this article.

(e) A county's cost savings shall not be the basis of an adjustment to the formula for developing such county's capped or targeted allocation under the provisions of this article.

(4) Allocations. (a) For state fiscal year 1997-98, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, all counties shall receive capped allocations for child welfare services. A county may receive one or more capped allocations for the provision of child welfare services. The counties may use capped allocation moneys for child welfare services without category restriction within a specific capped allocation if not prohibited by federal law.

(b) (I) The state department shall make capped allocations for counties serving at least eighty percent of the total child welfare services population.

(II) For the balance of the state, the state department shall create one capped allocation or a series of capped allocations for the provision of child welfare services in the balance of the state. The state department shall establish a targeted allocation for each county in such group of counties designated for the purpose of such capped allocation or capped allocations.

(c) The state department, in consultation with the child welfare allocations committee, shall adopt rules for when a county may exceed its capped or targeted allocation or allocations.

(d) The state department may only seek additional funding from the general assembly in a supplemental appropriations bill based upon caseload growth, subject to the provisions of subsection (7) of this section, or changes in federal law or federal funding. For fiscal years 2006-07 and 2007-08, the state department may seek supplemental funding related to the implementation of the placement of children in a residential child health care program as specified in section 25.5-5-306, C.R.S.

(e) A county's allocation or allocations may be amended due to caseload growth, subject to the provisions of subsection (7) of this section, or changes in federal law or federal funding.

(5) Management training. The state department shall develop a management training package to be delivered to the counties no later than October 1, 1997, that shall assist the counties in the development of more effective management strategies for the utilization of resources in the delivery of child welfare services. The state department may utilize portions of the child welfare administration appropriations toward this end and is hereby authorized to pursue any private or public grants to fund such efforts.

(6) County negotiations with providers. (a) Subject to rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (6), a county shall be authorized to negotiate rates, services, and outcomes with providers if the county has a request for proposal process in effect for soliciting bids from providers or another mechanism for evaluating the rates, services, and outcomes that it is negotiating with such providers that is acceptable to the state department.

(b) No later than January 1, 2008, the state department shall promulgate rules governing the methodology by which counties may negotiate rates, services, and outcomes with licensed providers.

(c) A county that negotiates or renegotiates rates, services, and outcomes pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (6) shall include as part of such negotiations or renegotiations cost of living adjustments and provider rate increases approved by the general assembly.

(d) By July 1, 2008, and by July 1 of each even-numbered year thereafter, the state department shall complete a review of the methodology by which counties negotiate rates, services, and outcomes with licensed providers, which methodology is governed by rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (6). In preparing for and conducting the review, the state department shall invite and accept the participation of representatives of the counties and the provider community.

(6.5) The state department shall analyze and evaluate expenditures as reported by child placement agencies each year and compare such expenditures to county expenditures for the provision of foster care services. The state department shall provide, at least on an annual basis, such analyses and comparisons to county departments.

(7) Close-out process for county allocations. (a) For state fiscal year 1998-99, and for each state fiscal year thereafter, and subject to the limitations set forth in this subsection (7), the state department may, at the end of a state fiscal year based upon the recommendations of the child welfare allocations committee, allocate any unexpended capped funds for the delivery of specific child welfare services to any one or more counties whose spending has exceeded a capped allocation for such specific child welfare services.

(b) A county may only receive funds pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (7) if the requirements of section 26-5-103.5 (4) have been satisfied, for expenditures other than those attributable to administrative and support functions as referred to in section 26-5-101 (3) (m), as defined in accordance with the provisions of section 26-5-103.5 (4), and for authorized expenditures attributable to caseload increases beyond the caseload estimate established pursuant to subsection (3) of this section for a specific capped allocation.

(c) A county may not receive funds pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (7) for authorized expenditures attributable to caseload increases for services in one capped allocation from unexpended capped funds in another capped allocation.

(d) As used in this section, "unexpended capped funds" means funds that have been appropriated for child welfare services, allocated to a county or group of counties as a capped allocation or allocations pursuant to the provisions of subsection (4) of this section, but not spent by such county or group of counties or subject to the provisions of section 26-5-105.5 (3).

26-5-105.5. State department integrated care management program - county performance agreements - authorized - performance incentive cash fund created - repeal.

(1) (a) There is hereby created the state department integrated care management program. In administering the state department integrated care management program, the state department shall develop, by rule, principles of integrated care management and a process to allow counties or groups of counties specified in section 26-5-104 (4) (b) (I) to participate in the program. Individual counties or groups of counties specified in section 26-5-104 (4) (b) (I) may participate in the integrated care management program for the delivery of child welfare services.

(2) The state department is hereby authorized to enter into performance agreements with individual counties or groups of counties specified in section 26-5-104 (4) (b) (I). A county that enters into a performance agreement with the state department shall be exempt from the rules of the state department and state board governing the delivery of child welfare services, as such exemptions are identified in the performance agreement.

(3) Any county that has entered into a performance agreement with the state department and underspends the general fund portion of its capped or targeted allocation may use those funds, not to exceed five percent of the general fund portion of its total capped or targeted allocation for child welfare services, to either reduce its county share by the amount of the underexpenditure or spend such moneys on additional services for children in the county. Any balance of the general fund portion of its capped or targeted allocation shall be used for additional services for children in the county.

(3.5) Evaluation. (a) The state department is authorized to contract for an external evaluation of the performance agreements authorized pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. Any such external evaluation shall include any evaluation that may be required in connection with any waiver authorized pursuant to section 26-5-105.3. Criteria for and components of the evaluation shall be developed by the state department with input from the counties authorized pursuant to this section.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2001, p. 1172, § 9, effective August 8, 2001.)

(c) This subsection (3.5) is repealed on the date the executive director of the state department notifies the revisor of statutes that the state is no longer participating in the waiver authorized pursuant to Title IV-E of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended.

(3.7) The state board shall promulgate rules necessary to implement the integrated care management program established pursuant to this section.

The state department shall administer the academy in accordance with rules promulgated by the state department pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

(2) On or before September 15, 2009, the state department shall promulgate rules for the administration of the academy. The rules shall include:

(a) Identification of specific job titles within child welfare services that shall be required to attain certification from the academy as a mandatory condition of employment;

- (b) Identification of specific job titles within child welfare services that shall be required to complete ongoing or occasional training from the academy as a mandatory condition of employment;
- (c) Establishment of minimum standards of competence that a person shall be required to demonstrate prior to receiving certification from the academy, which standards of competence shall include, but need not be limited to, a demonstrated ability to perform the duties described in section 19-3-313.5 (2), C.R.S.;
- (d) Identification of means by which a person may demonstrate the minimum standards established pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (2); and
- (e) Establishment of alternative methods for attaining certification from the academy for persons who have already successfully completed comparable child welfare training, including a description of child welfare training that shall be deemed to be comparable to the training offered by the academy.

26-5.3-101. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the “Emergency Assistance for Families with Children at Imminent Risk of Out-of-Home Placement Act”.

Source: L. 93: Entire article added, p. 1998, § 1, effective June 9.

- 26-5.3-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:
- (a) The state of Colorado recognizes its obligation to protect and provide for the children in Colorado’s child welfare system;

(b) The children at imminent risk of being placed out of the home are likely to be placed out of the home immediately if intervention services are not made available to such children and their families;

(c) Community and home-based services are effective in helping to avoid the need to place children out of their homes and to reunite children with their families. However, alternatives to out-of-home placement are available only to a small percentage of children in the state due to insufficient statewide resources.

(d) Families with children at imminent risk of being placed out of the home are families in crisis and in need of emergency assistance to avoid such placement or to reunite families when an emergency has resulted in an out-of-home placement, which assistance includes, but is not limited to, intensive family preservation services and other services designed to maintain a child at home;

(e) Federal financial participation is available to provide emergency assistance to needy families with children in the form of intake, assessment, counseling, treatment, and other family preservation services that meet needs of the family which are attributable to the emergency or crisis situation;

(f) The provision of emergency assistance is likely to reduce the escalating state general fund costs of out-of-home placements, thereby making moneys available for other necessary children and family services or programs; and

(g) Because the child welfare system is a contributing factor to the state's expenditures, it is important to maximize moneys available to the state for child welfare needs by making service delivery systems family-focused, cost-efficient, and accessible statewide.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that it is therefore appropriate to authorize the implementation of an emergency assistance program for families with children at imminent risk of being placed out of the home. In addition, it is appropriate to develop a plan for the use of moneys saved as a result of providing emergency assistance to families.

26-5.3-104. Emergency assistance for families with children at imminent risk of being placed out of the home. (1) The executive director of the state department is hereby authorized to include in the state temporary assistance for needy families plan the establishment and implementation of an emergency assistance program for families with children at imminent risk of being placed out of the home. The purpose of the program shall be to meet the needs of the family in crisis due to the imminent risk of out-of-home placement by providing emergency assistance in the form of intake, assessment, counseling, treatment, and other family preservation services that meet the needs of the family which are attributable to the emergency or crisis situation.

(2) Nothing in this article shall prevent the state department from complying with federal requirements for a program of emergency assistance in order for the state of Colorado to qualify for federal funds under the federal "Social Security Act" and to use such federal funds for families with children at imminent risk of immediate out-of-home placement and to reunite children with their families, within the limits of available appropriations.

26-5.3-105. Eligibility requirements - period of eligibility - services available.

(1) Families with children at imminent risk of out-of-home placement shall be eligible for emergency assistance. Assistance shall be available to or on behalf of a needy child under twenty-one years of age and any other member of the household in which the child lives if:

(a) Such child is living with any of the relatives described in section 26-2-103 (4) (a) in a place of residence maintained by the relative as the relative's own home;

(b) Such child is without resources immediately accessible to meet the child's needs; and

(c) The emergency assistance is necessary to avoid destitution or to provide living arrangements for the child in a home.

(2) Assistance shall be authorized for a family no more than once during a twelve-month period.

(3) Emergency assistance provided pursuant to this article shall be used for, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(a) Twenty-four-hour emergency shelter facilities or caretakers for children who must be removed from their homes in emergency situations;

(b) Counseling, including crisis counseling available by telephone twenty-four hours a day;

(c) Information referral;

(d) Intensive family preservation services;

(e) In-home supportive homemaker services;

(f) Services used to develop and implement a discrete case plan, as provided by the federal "Social Security Act";

(g) Day treatment services for children.

26-5.3-106. State's savings - cash fund created - use of moneys in fund - plan required. (1) There is hereby created a family issues cash fund. Moneys shall be deposited in the fund as follows:

(a) Any savings to the general fund realized as a result of federal financial participation available to the state based on the implementation of the emergency assistance program authorized by section 26-5.3-104;

(b) Any federal funds earned by the expenditure of moneys deposited in the cash fund.

(c) Repealed.

(1.5) All moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and shall be used for the purposes set forth in the plan for improving the child welfare system in the state, developed in accordance with subsection (2) of this section, for the implementation of the emergency assistance program established pursuant to section 26-5.3-104, and for the family resource center program established pursuant to section 26-18-104. Federal funds received by the state for the emergency assistance program shall be used only for such program and not for any other purpose. In accordance with section 24-36-114, C.R.S., all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the general fund. It is the general assembly's intent that no additional state or county general fund moneys shall be used to finance the implementation of the plan established in accordance with subsection (2) of this section.

(2) The state department shall develop a strategic plan for improving the child welfare system in the state and for using the moneys in the family issues cash fund created in subsection (1) of this section. The plan shall specify the source of general fund savings deposited in the cash fund. The plan shall provide that the moneys in the fund shall, at a minimum, be used for the following purposes:

(a) Repealed.

- (b) The provision of services aimed at reuniting families and avoiding out-of-home placements;
 - (c) The provision of support services and programs for children and families aimed at preventing out-of-home placements;
 - (d) The examination and assessment of the feasibility and effectiveness of alternative methods for the provision of services and placement procedures for homeless adolescents or adolescents who are at-risk of being placed out of the home;
 - (e) The development and implementation of county pilot programs for at-risk children and their families; and
 - (f) The provision of an expedited procedure for permanent placement of children five years of age or younger who have been placed out of the home.
- (3) Repealed.

26-5.5-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

- (a) Maintaining a family structure to the greatest degree possible is one of the fundamental goals that all state agencies must observe, and the state’s intervention in family dynamics should not exceed that which is necessary to rectify the cause for intervention;
- (b) Out-of-home placement is often the most expensive and disruptive method of providing services to troubled families;
- (c) It is becoming increasingly difficult to attract foster parents for the number of children placed out of the home;
- (d) The principle of appropriate state intervention is a cornerstone of family preservation services. Such services, when properly targeted and administered, provide states with an opportunity to initiate the systemic reform of children, youth, and families public services by providing services that are family-focused, outcome-driven, and cost-efficient.

(e) Family preservation programs implemented in other states, such as the “homebuilder’s” model in the state of Washington, have resulted in improved family-functioning rates. Placement prevention rates of up to eighty-eight percent have been reported in some of the thirty-one states that have initiated some form of a family preservation program.

(f) A statewide family preservation program may be financed to provide intensive services for families where a child is at risk of an out-of-home placement based on criteria established by the state board of human services and to provide phased-in services aimed at reunifying families where a child has been placed out of the home, where appropriate, by tapping into other available federal funds or through moneys realized from cost avoidance in prevention of placement;

(g) On the basis of the foregoing, it is appropriate to enact the provisions of this article providing for the implementation of a statewide family preservation program that provides for immediate intensive services for at-risk families and phased-in services aimed at reunifying families, where appropriate, when the targeted families for intensive or reunification services have been served.

(2) It is the general assembly’s intent that the implementation and financing of the statewide family preservation program be consistent with applicable federal mandates, including any federal financial participation requirements, and that the implementation of the program not place this state at risk of losing federal funds received by the state for children, youth, and families services prior to the enactment of this article.

26-5.5-103. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “At-risk family” means a family unit with a child who meets out-of-home placement criteria as established by the state board or who, without intervention, risks continued involvement with the child welfare system as established by the state board.

(1.5) Repealed.

(2) “Family preservation services” means services or assistance that focuses on family strengths and includes services that empower a family by providing alternative problem-solving techniques, child-rearing practices, responses to living situations that create stress upon the family, and resources that are available as support systems for the family. Family preservation services include, but are not limited to services and resources described in section 26-5.5-104.

(3) “Intensive services” means immediate, concentrated, and in-home crisis intervention by one or more family development specialists who assist a family in developing strengths to cope with family stress.

26-5.5-104. Statewide family preservation program - creation - single state agency designated - program criteria established - available services - powers and duties of agencies - local oversight - feasibility report. (1) The executive directors of the departments of health care policy and financing and human services, through the promulgation of rules, may jointly develop, finance, and implement a statewide family preservation program, which program shall be fully implemented no later than July 1, 1996. The state department is hereby designated as the single state agency to administer the program in accordance with this article and applicable federal law.

(2) The program shall be implemented as follows:

(a) No later than January 1, 1996, services aimed at reunification of families shall, within available appropriations, be made available to appropriate families where a child has been placed out of the home;

(b) No later than July 1, 1996, family preservation services shall, within available appropriations, be available to serve appropriate families who are involved in, or who are at risk of being involved in, the child welfare, mental health, and juvenile justice systems.

(3) Family preservation services shall, at a minimum, include the following:

(a) Screening to determine the appropriateness of providing family preservation services, including intensive services and reunification services, to a family;

(b) An assessment of the risk to a child and the needs of a child and the child's family, considering any special needs of a child and the cultural background of the family;

(c) Appropriate intervention to meet the assessed needs of the child and the child's family, taking into account the geographical location of the family and available resources in such locale;

(d) Referral to community services and support systems; and

(e) Follow-up care, where appropriate.

(4) (a) Intensive services shall be available for an at-risk family in the family home, as deemed necessary by the county department. Intensive services shall include, at a minimum:

(I) Family preservation services described in subsection (3) of this section; except that the screening of a family for intensive services shall occur within twenty-four hours after referral by the investigating or placement agency to decide the appropriateness of providing intensive services to the family where the child has been determined by the investigating or placement agency to be at imminent risk of out-of-home placement or at risk of continued involvement in the child welfare system;

(II) Crisis intervention, including in-home counseling, by a case manager or case worker, which intervention shall be available on a twenty-four-hour basis;

(III) Concentrated assistance in the development and enhancement of parenting skills, stress reduction, and problem-solving from a case manager or case worker; and

(IV) Individualized and group counseling.

(c) Intensive services shall be available to a family for a child who requires a more restrictive level of care but who may be maintained at a less restrictive out-of-home placement or in his or her own home with services for a period of time as determined by rule of the state department.

(5) The state department of human services and county departments of social services may seek the assistance of any public or private entity in carrying out the duties set forth in this article. In addition, the state department may contract with any public or private entity in providing the services described in this article. Priority shall be given to vendors who provide the most geographically and culturally relevant services.

(6) On and after July 1, 1994, the executive director of the state department shall annually evaluate the statewide family preservation program and shall determine the overall effectiveness and cost-efficiency of the program. On or before the first day of October of each year, the executive director of the state department shall report such findings and shall make recommended changes, including budgetary changes, to the program to the general assembly, the chief justice of the supreme court, and the governor. In evaluating the program, the executive director of the state department shall consider any recommendations made by the inter-agency family preservation commission in accordance with section 26-5.5-106. To the extent changes to the program may be made without requiring statutory amendment, the executive director may implement such changes, including changes recommended by the commission acting in accordance with subsection (7) of this section.

(7) The inter-agency family preservation commission, established pursuant to section 26-5.5-106, shall be responsible for providing oversight of the local implementation of the statewide family preservation program. In providing oversight, the commission shall, on and after July 1, 1994, annually evaluate the overall effectiveness and cost-efficiency of the program and shall make recommended changes to the executive director of the state department. The commission shall submit to the executive director of the state department a report of its findings on or before the first day of September of each year.

26-5.5-105. Financing of family preservation program. The implementation of the statewide family preservation program shall be subject to the availability of federal financial participation for emergency assistance under Title IV-A of the federal "Social Security Act", other available federal funds, appropriations from the general assembly, and moneys realized from avoiding costs related to out-of-home placements. In addition, the executive director of the state department is hereby authorized to accept any grants, donations, gifts, or contributions from any other private or public entity.

26-5.5-106. Family preservation commission - establishment or designation - duties. (1) The governing body of each county or city and county shall establish a family preservation commission for the county or city and county to carry out the duties described in subsection (2) of this section. The commission shall be interdisciplinary and multiagency in composition; except that such commission shall include at least two members from the public at large. The governing body may designate an existing board or group to act as the commission. A group of counties may agree to designate a regional commission to act collectively as the commission for all of such counties. A family preservation commission may be consolidated with other local advisory boards pursuant to section 24-1.7-103, C.R.S.

(2) It shall be the duty of each commission established or designated pursuant to subsection (1) of this section to hold periodic meetings and evaluate the family preservation program within the county or city and county, and to identify any recommended changes to such program. On and after July 1, 1994, the commission shall submit an annual report to the executive director of the state department. The report shall consist of an evaluation of the overall effectiveness and cost-efficiency of the program and any recommended changes to such program. The report shall be submitted on or before the first day of September of each year.

(1) “County department” means the county, city and county, or district department of social services.

(2) (a) “Homeless youth” means a child or youth who is at least eleven years of age but is less than twenty-one years of age and who:

(I) Lacks a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence; or

(II) Has a primary nighttime residence that is:

(A) A supervised, publicly or privately operated shelter designed to provide temporary living accommodations; or

(B) A public or private place not designed for, nor ordinarily used as, a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings.

(b) “Homeless youth” shall not include any individual imprisoned or otherwise detained pursuant to an act of congress or a state law.

(3) “Homeless youth shelter” means a facility that is licensed pursuant to section 26-6-104.

(3.5) “Licensed host family home” means a home that meets the requirements established by the state board by rule pursuant to section 26-6-106 (5).

(4) “Parent” means the legal custodian or guardian of the youth.

(5) “Youth” or “child” means any person who is at least eleven years of age but is less than twenty-one years of age.

26-5.7-103. Family reconciliation services. (1) Out of moneys appropriated to the state department for family reconciliation services, the state department may elect to contract directly with private nonprofit organizations or entities for the provision of family intervention reconciliation services or pass the moneys to a county department electing to provide such services. In such circumstances, the county department may provide the family intervention reconciliation services directly or the county department may contract with private nonprofit organizations or entities for the provision of such services. The county may also contract with private nonprofit organizations or entities for the provision of voluntary alternative residences pursuant to sections 26-5.7-107 and 26-5.7-108.

(2) Any county department may elect to establish a program to provide services consistent with this article. If a county department so elects, it shall notify the state department of such action, and any homeless youth or any member of a family that is in conflict or is experiencing problems with a homeless youth may request family reconciliation services from the county department. Such services may be provided to alleviate personal or family situations that present a serious and imminent threat to the health, safety, or welfare of the youth or family and to maintain intact families wherever possible. Services shall be provided at the discretion of the county department, within the county department's available resources.

(3) Family reconciliation services that may be established shall be designed to develop skills and support within families to resolve problems related to homeless youth or family conflicts and may include, but are not limited to, referral services for suicide prevention, family preservation services, psychiatric or other medical care, or psychological, welfare, legal, educational, mediation, or other social services such as temporary shelter or independent living, as appropriate to the needs of the youth and the family. County departments that elect to provide family educational reconciliation services shall work in cooperation with school district boards of education providing educational services to homeless children in order to jointly develop educational programs for homeless youth consistent with section 22-33-103.5, C.R.S.

26-5.7-104. Taking youth into custody - transporting to residence or child care facility or homeless youth shelter. (1) A law enforcement officer may take a youth into temporary custody without an order of the court under the following circumstances:

(a) If a law enforcement agency has been contacted by the youth's parent and informed that the youth is absent from parental custody without consent; or

(b) If an officer has reasonable cause to believe, considering the youth's age, the youth's location, and the time of day, that the youth is in circumstances that constitute a danger to the youth's safety.

(2) Law enforcement custody pursuant to this section shall not extend beyond the amount of time reasonably necessary to transport the youth to a destination authorized pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the authority of a law enforcement officer to take a youth into custody and follow the procedures established pursuant to article 2 or 3 of title 19, C.R.S.

(4) A law enforcement officer taking a youth into custody pursuant to this section shall inform the youth of the reason for such custody and shall comply with either of the following:

(a) The officer shall transport the youth to the home of the youth's parent. The officer releasing the youth into the custody of the youth's parent shall inform the parent of the reason for taking the youth into custody and shall inform the youth and the parent of the nature and location of any family reconciliation services available in their community.

(b) The officer shall take the youth to a licensed child care facility or to a licensed homeless youth shelter if:

(I) The youth evinces fear or distress at the prospect of being returned to the home of the youth's parent;

(II) It is not practical to transport the youth to the home of the youth's parent; or

(III) There is no parent available to accept custody of the youth.

Source: L. 97: Entire article added, p. 978, § 2, effective May 22.

26-5.7-105. Child care facilities - homeless youth shelters - authority - duties.

(1) Licensed child care facilities, licensed homeless youth shelters, and licensed host family homes may provide both crisis intervention services and alternative residential services to homeless youth.

(2) Any youth admitted to a licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, or licensed host family home pursuant to this article and who is not returned to the home of the youth's parent or is not placed in a voluntary alternative residential placement pursuant to section 26-5.7-107 shall reside at a facility, shelter, or licensed host family home described in subsection (1) of this section for a period not to exceed twenty-one days from the time of intake except as otherwise provided in this article. A licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, or a licensed host family home shall make a concerted effort to achieve a reconciliation of the family. If a reconciliation and voluntary return of the youth have not been achieved within forty-eight hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, from the time of intake and the director of the facility or shelter, or other person in charge, does not consider it likely that reconciliation will be achieved within the twenty-one-day period, then the director of the facility or shelter, or other person in charge, shall provide the youth and the youth's parent with a statement identifying:

- (a) The availability of counseling services;
- (b) The availability of longer term residential arrangements; and
- (c) The possibility of referral to the county department.

(3) The state department shall develop a written statement of the rights and counseling services set forth in subsection (2) of this section and shall distribute the statement to each law enforcement agency, licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, and licensed host family home. Each law enforcement officer taking a youth into custody pursuant to this article shall provide the youth and the youth's parent with a copy of the statement. Each licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, and licensed host family home shall provide each resident youth and the youth's parent with a copy of the statement.

(4) When a youth under fifteen years of age is admitted to a licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, or licensed host family home, the director of the facility, shelter, or other person in charge shall notify the county department of the county of residence of the parents of the youth within seventy-two hours of the youth's admission.

(5) If the director of the facility, shelter, or other person in charge determines that a referral for additional services needs to be made, the director or other person in charge shall make the referral to the county of residence of the parents of the youth.

(6) A licensed family foster home approved as a licensed host family home shall not accept a homeless youth for placement under this section if there are any foster children currently placed in the home.

(7) If a youth who is at least eleven years of age but less than fifteen years of age has been served up to twenty-one days and returns again to the licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, or licensed host family home after leaving the facility, shelter, or host home, the director of the licensed child care facility or licensed homeless youth shelter or other person in charge shall make a referral for services to the county of residence of the parents of the youth.

26-5.7-106. Notification. (1) Any person who provides shelter to a youth without the consent of the youth's parent and after said person knows that the youth is away from the home of the youth's parent without permission shall notify the youth's parent or a law enforcement officer that the youth is being sheltered within twenty-four hours after shelter has been provided and after acquiring knowledge that the youth is away from the home of the youth's parent without permission.

(2) Upon admission of a youth to a licensed child care facility or licensed homeless youth shelter pursuant to this article, the facility or shelter shall:

- (a) Immediately notify the youth's parent of the youth's whereabouts, physical and emotional condition, and the circumstances surrounding the youth's placement;
- (b) Notify the youth's parent that it is the paramount concern of the facility or shelter to achieve a reconciliation between the parent and the youth, to reunify the family, and to inform the parent about the alternatives that are available;
- (c) Arrange transportation for the youth to the residence of the youth's parent when the youth and the parent agree that the youth shall return to the home of the youth's parent. The parent shall reimburse the party who paid for the transportation costs to the extent of the parent's ability.

(d) Arrange transportation for the youth to an alternative residential placement facility when the youth and the youth's parent agree to such placement. The parent shall reimburse the appropriate person for transportation costs to the extent of the parent's ability.

26-5.7-107. Voluntary alternative residence - parental agreement. (1) Any available family reconciliation services shall be provided to a youth and the youth's family when the youth voluntarily resides elsewhere than with the youth's parent. A youth and the youth's parent may enter into an agreement for a voluntary alternative residence out of the home. Any agreement for voluntary alternative residence shall be in writing signed by both the youth and the youth's parent and may include, but is not limited to, residence with a relative or other responsible adult, in a licensed child care facility, or in a licensed homeless youth shelter. Voluntary alternative residence may continue as long as there is agreement between the youth and the youth's parent.

(2) Agreements for voluntary alternative residence pursuant to subsection (1) of this section may include arrangements for payment to the party providing the residence for the youth or other responsibilities.

(3) A person assuming responsibility under the agreement for the provision of a residence for the youth shall have the authority to:

(a) Enroll the youth in the school district in which the voluntary alternative residence is located; and

(b) Authorize and obtain preventive medical and dental care and treatment for the youth.

26-5.7-108. Voluntary alternative residence - lack of parental agreement. (1) If the youth and the youth's parent cannot agree on an initial voluntary alternative residence within twenty-one days after admission to the alternative out-of-home residence, a referral to the county department may be made.

(2) The licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, or licensed host family home to which the youth has been admitted may arrange for the establishment of a supervised independent living arrangement or may arrange a voluntary residential agreement between the youth and a relative or other responsible adult, a licensed child care facility, a licensed homeless youth shelter, or a licensed host family home if the youth has been admitted to a licensed child care facility, licensed homeless youth shelter, or licensed host family home and:

(a) Twenty-one days have passed since admission;

(b) The youth's parent cannot be found after diligent effort by the facility or shelter to locate such parent, the youth's parent has failed to respond to a notice sent by the facility or shelter, or the youth's parent has renounced responsibility for the youth; and

(c) The youth has no suitable place to live other than the home of the youth's parent.

(3) A supervised independent living arrangement can only be established pursuant to subsection (2) of this section if:

(a) The youth has not been deemed to be dependent on controlled substances or alcohol and is in need of treatment;

(b) The youth is not currently demonstrating behavior that poses a danger to the youth or others;

(c) The youth is not engaging in persistent high-risk behavior that renders the youth inappropriate for an independent living arrangement through a placement alternative commission plan pursuant to section 19-1-116, C.R.S., or foster care placement through the county department; and

(d) The youth has an ability and capacity to manage his or her own affairs, demonstrates emotional independence, and has the opportunity and ability to achieve financial independence through legitimate activities and life skills, including the following:

- (I) Educational accomplishments or a plan for achieving educational goals;
 - (II) A vocational plan or goal; and
 - (III) An opportunity or ability to achieve adequate housing and living arrangements apart from the youth’s parent, guardian, or custodian.
- (4) (a) For the purposes of this article, a voluntary residential agreement shall not require the county department to assume custody of the youth or to exercise any parental power or control over the youth or require medical assistance under articles 4, 5, and 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.
- (b) A person assuming responsibility for the youth shall have the authority to:
- (I) Enroll the youth in the school district in which the youth resides, pursuant to the voluntary residential agreement; and
 - (II) Authorize and obtain preventive medical and dental care and treatment for the youth.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For note, “Licensing of Occupations and Professions in Colorado”, see 35 Dicta 235 (1958). For article, “Child Care and Tort Liability”, see 18 Colo. Law. 1949 (1989).

26-6-101.4. Legislative declaration concerning the protections afforded by regulation. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that increasing numbers of children in Colorado are spending a significant portion of their day in care settings outside their own homes. In addition, some children are placed in facilities for residential care for their protection and well-being. The general assembly finds that regulation and licensing of child care facilities contribute to a safe and healthy environment for children. The provision of such environment affords benefits to children, their families, their communities, and the larger society. The general assembly acknowledges that there is a need to balance accessibility and quality of care when regulating child care facilities. It is the intent of the general assembly that those who regulate and those who are regulated work together to meet the needs of the children, their families, and the child care industry.

(2) In balancing the needs of children and their families with the needs of the child care industry, the general assembly also recognizes the financial demands with which the department of human services is faced in its attempt to ensure a safe and sanitary environment for those children of the state of Colorado who are in child care facilities. In an effort to reduce the risk to children outside their homes while recognizing the financial constraints placed upon the department, it is the intent of the general assembly that the limited resources available be focused primarily on those child care facilities that have demonstrated that children in their care may be at higher risk pursuant to section 26-6-107.

26-6-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Affiliate of a licensee” means:

(a) Any person or entity that owns more than five percent of the ownership interest in the business operated by the licensee or the applicant for a license; or

(b) Any person who is directly responsible for the care and welfare of children served; or

(c) Any executive, officer, member of the governing board, or employee of a licensee; or

(d) A relative of a licensee, which relative provides care to children at the licensee's facility or is otherwise involved in the management or operations of the licensee's facility.

(1.1) "Application" means a declaration of intent to obtain or continue a license or certificate for a child care facility or a child placement agency.

(1.2) "Certificate" means a legal document granting permission to operate a family foster home.

(1.3) "Certification" means the process by which the county department of social services or a child placement agency approves the operation of a foster care home.

(1.5) "Child care center" means a facility, by whatever name known, that is maintained for the whole or part of a day for the care of five or more children who are eighteen years of age or younger and who are not related to the owner, operator, or manager thereof, whether the facility is operated with or without compensation for such care and with or without stated educational purposes. The term includes, but is not limited to, facilities commonly known as day care centers, school-age child care centers, before and after school programs, nursery schools, kindergartens, preschools, day camps, summer camps, and centers for developmentally disabled children and those facilities that give twenty-four-hour care for children and includes those facilities for children under the age of six years with stated educational purposes operated in conjunction with a public, private, or parochial college or a private or parochial school; except that the term shall not apply to any kindergarten maintained in connection with a public, private, or parochial elementary school system of at least six grades or operated as a component of a school district's preschool program operated pursuant to article 28 of title 22, C.R.S. The term shall not include any facility licensed as a family child care home, a foster care home, or a specialized group facility that is licensed to provide care for three or more children pursuant to subsection (10) of this section, but that is providing care for three or fewer children who are determined to have a developmental disability by a community centered board or who are diagnosed with a serious emotional disturbance.

(1.7) "Child care provider", as used in section 26-6-119, means a licensee, or an affiliate of a licensee, when the licensee holds a license to operate a family child care home pursuant to this part 1.

(2) "Child placement agency" means any corporation, partnership, association, firm, agency, institution, or person unrelated to the child being placed, who places, who facilitates placement for a fee, or who arranges for placement, for care of any child under the age of eighteen years with any family, person, or institution. A child placement agency may place, facilitate placement, or arrange for the placement of a child for the purpose of adoption, treatment, or foster care. The natural parents or guardian of any child who places said child for care with any facility licensed as a "family child care home" or "child care center" as defined by this section shall not be deemed a child placement agency.

(2.2) (a) "Children's resident camp" means a facility operating for three or more consecutive twenty-four-hour days during one or more seasons of the year for the care of five or more children. The facility shall have as its purpose a group living experience offering education and recreational activities in an outdoor environment. The recreational experiences may occur at the permanent camp premises or on trips off the premises.

(b) A children's resident camp shall serve children who have completed kindergarten or are six years of age or older through children younger than nineteen years of age; except that a person nineteen years of age or twenty years of age may attend a children's resident camp if, within six months prior to attending the children's resident camp, he or she has attended or has graduated from high school.

(2.4) "Cradle care home" means a facility that is certified by a child placement agency for the care of a child, or children in the case of multiple-birth siblings, who is twelve months of age or younger, in a place of residence for the purpose of providing twenty-four-hour family care for six months or less in anticipation of a voluntary relinquishment of the child or children pursuant to article 5 of title 19, C.R.S., or while a county prepares an expedited permanency plan for an infant in its custody.

(2.5) (a) "Day treatment center" means a facility that:

(I) Provides less than twenty-four-hour care for groups of five or more children who are:

(A) Five years of age or older, but less than eighteen years of age; or

(B) Less than twenty-one years of age and who are placed in the program by court order prior to their eighteenth birthday; and

(II) Provides a structured program of various types of psycho-social and behavioral treatment to prevent or reduce the need for placement of the child out of the home or community.

(b) "Day treatment center" shall not include special education programs operated by a public or private school system or programs that are licensed by other rules of the department for less than twenty-four-hour care of children, such as a child care center.

(2.7) Repealed.

(3) "Department" or "state department" means the state department of human services.

(3.5) Repealed.

(3.7) "Exempt family child care home provider" means a family child care home provider who is exempt from certain provisions of this part 1 pursuant to section 26-6-103

(1) (g).

(4) "Family child care home" means a facility for child care in a place of residence of a family or person for the purpose of providing less than twenty-four-hour care for children under the age of eighteen years who are not related to the head of such home. "Family child care home" may include infant-toddler child care homes, large child care homes, experienced provider child care homes, and such other types of family child care homes designated by rules of the state board pursuant to section 26-6-106 (2) (p), as the state board deems necessary and appropriate.

(4.5) "Foster care home" means a facility that is certified by the county department or a child placement agency for child care in a place of residence of a family or person for the purpose of providing twenty-four-hour family care for a child under the age of eighteen years who is not related to the head of such home, except in the case of relative care. The term includes any foster care home receiving a child for regular twenty-four-hour care and any home receiving a child from any state-operated institution for child care or from any child placement agency, as defined in subsection (2) of this section. "Foster care home" also includes those homes licensed by the department of human services that receive neither moneys from the counties nor children placed by the counties.

(4.7) "Guardian" means a person who is entrusted by law with the care of a child under eighteen years of age.

(5) "Guest child care facility" means a facility operated by a ski area, as that term is defined in section 33-44-103 (6), C.R.S., where children are cared for:

(a) While parents or persons in charge of such child are patronizing the ski area;

(b) Fewer than ten total hours per day;

(c) Fewer than ten consecutive days per year; and

(d) Fewer than forty-five days in a calendar year, with thirty or fewer of such forty-five days occurring in either the winter or summer months.

(5.1) "Homeless youth shelter" means a facility that, in addition to other services it may provide, provides services and mass temporary shelter for a period of three days or more to youths who are at least eleven years of age, or older, and who otherwise are homeless youth as that term is defined in section 26-5.7-102 (2).

(5.2) "ICON" means the computerized database of court records known as the integrated Colorado on-line network used by the state judicial department.

(5.3) "Kindergarten" means any facility providing an educational program for children only for the year preceding their entrance to the first grade, whether such facility is called a kindergarten, nursery school, preschool, or any other name.

(5.4) "License" means a legal document issued pursuant to this part 1 granting permission to operate a child care facility or child placement agency. A license may be in the form of a provisional, probationary, permanent, or time-limited license.

(5.5) "Licensing" means, except as otherwise provided in subsection (4.5) of this section, the process by which the department approves a facility or agency for the purpose of conducting business as a child care facility or child placement agency.

(5.6) “Medical foster care” means a program of foster care that provides home-based care for medically fragile children and youth who would otherwise be confined to a hospital or institutional setting and includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- (a) Infants impacted by prenatal drug and alcohol abuse;
- (b) Children with developmental disabilities which require ongoing medical intervention;
- (c) Children and youth diagnosed with acquired immune deficiency syndrome or human immunodeficiency virus;
- (d) Children with a failure to thrive or other nutritional disorders; and
- (e) Children dependent on technology such as respirators, tracheotomy tubes, or ventilators in order to survive.

(5.7) (a) “Negative licensing action” means a final agency action resulting in the denial of an application, the imposition of fines, or the suspension or revocation of a license issued pursuant to this part 1 or the demotion of such a license to a probationary license.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (5.7), “final agency action” means the determination made by the department, after opportunity for hearing, to deny, suspend, revoke, or demote to probationary status a license issued pursuant to this part 1 or an agreement between the department and the licensee concerning the demotion of such a license to a probationary license.

(5.8) (a) “Neighborhood youth organization” means a nonprofit organization that is designed to serve youth as young as six years of age and as old as eighteen years of age and that operates primarily during times of the day when school is not in session and provides research-based, age-appropriate, and character-building activities designed exclusively for the development of youth from six to eighteen years of age. These activities shall occur primarily in a facility leased or owned by the neighborhood youth organization. The activities shall occur in an environment in which youth have written parental or legal guardian consent to become a youth member of the neighborhood youth organization and to arrive at and depart from the primary location of the activity on their own accord, without supervision by a parent, legal guardian, or organization.

(b) A neighborhood youth organization shall not include faith-based centers, organizations or programs operated by state or city parks or special districts, or departments or facilities that are currently licensed as child care centers as defined in subsection (1.5) of this section.

(5.9) “Out-of-home placement provider consortium” means a group of service providers that are formally organized and managed to achieve the goals of the county, group of counties, or mental health agency contracting for additional services other than treatment-related or child maintenance services.

(6) “Person” means any corporation, partnership, association, firm, agency, institution, or individual.

(6.5) “Place of residence” means the place or abode where a person actually lives and provides child care.

(6.7) “Public services short-term child care facility” means a facility that is operated by or for a county department of social services or a court and that provides care for a child:

- (a) While the child’s parent or the person in charge of the child is conducting business with the county department of social services or participating in court proceedings;
- (b) Fewer than ten total hours per day;
- (c) Fewer than fifteen consecutive days per year; and
- (d) Fewer than forty-five days in a calendar year.

(7) “Related” means any of the following relationships by blood, marriage, or adoption: Parent, grandparent, brother, sister, stepparent, stepbrother, stepsister, uncle, aunt, niece, nephew, or cousin.

(7.5) “Relative”, except as otherwise used in subsection (4.5) of this section, means any of the following relationships by blood, marriage, or adoption: Parent, grandparent, son, daughter, grandson, granddaughter, brother, sister, stepparent, stepbrother, stepsister, stepson, stepdaughter, uncle, aunt, niece, nephew, or cousin.

(8) “Residential child care facility” means a facility licensed by the state department pursuant to this part 1 to provide twenty-four-hour group care and treatment for five or more children operated under private, public, or nonprofit sponsorship. "Residential child care facility" includes community-based residential child care facilities, shelter facilities, and therapeutic residential child care facilities as defined in rule by the state board, and psychiatric residential treatment facilities as defined in section 25.5-4-103 (19.5), C.R.S. A residential child care facility may be eligible for designation by the executive director of the state department pursuant to article 65 of title 27, C.R.S.

(8.5) "Routine medications", as used in section 26-6-119, means any prescribed oral, topical, or inhaled medication, or unit dose epinephrine, that is administered pursuant to section 26-6-119.

(8.7) "Salaried foster parent" means a person who is employed by a child placement agency for the purposes of the demonstration pilot program authorized pursuant to section 26-6-104 (1) (d) (IV), and who is employed for the sole purpose of providing foster care and who serves in no other capacity for the child placement agency.

(9) "Secure residential treatment center" means a facility operated under private ownership that is licensed by the department pursuant to this part 1 to provide twenty-four-hour group care and treatment in a secure setting for five or more children or persons up to the age of twenty-one years over whom the juvenile court retains jurisdiction pursuant to section 19-2-104 (6), C.R.S., who are committed by a court pursuant to an adjudication of delinquency or pursuant to a determination of guilt of a delinquent act or having been convicted as an adult and sentenced for an act that would be a crime if committed in Colorado, or in the committing jurisdiction, to be placed in a secure facility.

(10) (a) "Specialized group facility" means a facility sponsored and supervised by a county department or a licensed child placement agency for the purpose of providing twenty-four-hour care for three or more children, but fewer than twelve children, whose special needs can best be met through the medium of a small group and who are:

(I) At least three years of age or older but less than eighteen years of age; or

(II) Less than twenty-one years of age and who are placed by court order prior to their eighteenth birthday.

(b) "Specialized group facility" includes specialized group homes and specialized group centers.

(10.3) "Substitute child care provider" means a person who provides temporary care for a child or children in a family child care home or homes in the absence of the licensed provider for more than fourteen days or one hundred twelve hours in any calendar year.

(10.5) "Supervisory employee" means for purposes of section 26-6-103.5:

(a) A person directly responsible for managing a guest child care facility and the employees of the facility; or

(b) A person directly responsible for managing a public services short-term child care facility and the employees of the facility.

(11) "Therapeutic foster care" means a program of foster care that incorporates treatment for the special physical, psychological, or emotional needs of a child placed with specially trained foster parents, but does not include medical foster care.

(12) "Treatment foster care" means a clinically effective alternative to residential treatment facilities that combines the treatment technologies typically associated with more restrictive settings with a nurturing and individualized family environment.

(13) "Youth member" means a youth who is six years of age through eighteen years of age whose parent or legal guardian has provided written consent for the youth to participate in the activities of a neighborhood youth organization and who pays the required dues of the neighborhood youth organization.

26-6-103. Application of part - study. (1) This part 1 shall not apply to:

(a) Special schools or classes operated primarily for religious instruction or for a single skill-building purpose;

(b) A child care facility which is approved, certified, or licensed by any other state agency, or by a federal government department or agency, which has standards for operation of the facility and inspects or monitors the facility;

(c) Facilities operated in connection with a church, shopping center, or business where children are cared for during short periods of time while parents, persons in charge of such children, or employees of the church, shopping center, or business whose children are being cared for at such location are attending church services at such location or shopping, patronizing, or working on the premises of any such business;

(d) Occasional care of children that has no apparent pattern and occurs with or without compensation;

(e) The care of a child by a person in his or her private residence when the parent, guardian, or other person having legal custody of such child gives his consent to such care and when the person giving such care is not regularly engaged in the business of giving such care;

(f) Juvenile courts;

(g) A family child care home receiving one child for less than twenty-four-hour care or receiving two or more children who are related to each other as brother or sister from the same family household for less than twenty-four-hour care or such additional number of children as may be specified by rules promulgated by the state board of human services. The department shall conduct a study on whether rules should be modified to allow an additional number of children to be cared for in a family home that is exempt from licensing and shall present options and recommendations to the state board on or before October 1, 1996. The department shall consult with individuals and organizations who express to the department an interest in participating in the development of such recommendations, and the department shall notify such individuals and organizations of the date and location of the board hearing. The department shall examine the relationship between the licensing regulations governing larger family care homes and child care centers and shall present options and recommendations to the state board on or before October 1, 1996. In making such recommendations, the department shall consult with individuals and organizations who express to the department an interest in participating in the development of such recommendations, and the department shall notify such individuals and organizations of the date and location of the board hearing. Notwithstanding any provision of this paragraph (g) to the contrary, an exempt family child care home provider shall comply with the provisions of section 26-6-120 if he or she provides care for a child whose care is funded in whole or in part with moneys received on the child's behalf pursuant to the Colorado child care assistance program created in part 8 of article 2 of this title.

(h) Nursing homes which have children as residents.

(2) For purposes of this section, "short periods of time" means fewer than three hours in any twenty-four-hour period.

(3) A facility that has received a negative licensing action as defined in section 26-6-102 (5.7) is prohibited from operating pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Repealed.

26-6-103.3. Application of part - substitute child care providers in family child care homes - rules. Substitute child care providers shall be subject only to the requirements of this section and shall be otherwise excluded from the requirements of this part 1. The state board shall promulgate rules for certification of substitute child care providers. At a minimum, the certification process shall require the substitute child care provider to demonstrate that he or she has appropriate training or certifications, including child safety and cardiopulmonary resuscitation training or certifications, to care for a child in the absence of the licensed child care provider in a family child care home. The rules of the state board shall require that each substitute child care provider, pursuant to section 26-6-107 (1) (a) (I) (C), pay for and submit to a fingerprint-based criminal history records check and a review of the records and reports of child abuse or neglect maintained by the state department to determine whether the substitute child care provider has been found to be responsible in a confirmed report of child abuse or neglect. The department shall not certify a substitute child care provider who is convicted of any of the crimes specified in section 26-6-104 (7) or who is found to be responsible in a confirmed report of child abuse or neglect. The state board shall establish by rule the circumstances under which a licensed family child care home shall be required to use a certified substitute child care provider in the family child care home during the licensed provider's absence and a procedure by which a licensed family child care home may verify that a person is certified to be a substitute child care provider pursuant to this section.

26-6-103.5. Application of part - guest child care facilities - public services short-term child care facilities. (1) Guest child care facilities and public services short-term child care facilities shall be subject only to the requirements of this section and shall otherwise be excluded from the requirements of this part 1. Each guest child care facility and each public services short-term child care facility shall post a notice in bold print and in plain view on the premises of the child care facility. The notice shall specify the telephone number and address of the appropriate division within the state department for investigating child care facility complaints and shall state that any complaint about the guest child care facility's or the public services short-term child care facility's compliance with these requirements should be directed to such division.

(2) No person or entity shall operate a guest child care facility or a public services short-term child care facility unless the following requirements are met:

(a) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility is inspected not less frequently than one time per year by the department of public health and environment, and it conforms to the sanitary standards prescribed by such department under the provisions of section 25-1.5-101 (1) (h), C.R.S.;

(b) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility is inspected not less frequently than one time per year by the local fire department, and it conforms to the fire prevention and protection requirements of the local fire department in the locality of the facility, or in lieu thereof, the division of labor;

(c) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility retains, on the premises at all times, the records of the inspections required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection (2) for the current calendar year and the immediately preceding calendar year;

(d) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility retains, on the premises at all times, a record of children cared for over the course of the current calendar year and the immediately preceding calendar year;

(e) At least one supervisory employee, as that term is defined in section 26-6-102 (10.5), is on duty at the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility at all times when the facility is operating;

(f) (I) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requires all supervisory employees of the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility and applicants for supervisory employee positions at the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility to obtain a fingerprint-based criminal history check utilizing the Colorado bureau of investigation and, for supervisory employees hired on or after August 10, 2011, the federal bureau of investigation and requests the state department to ascertain whether the person being investigated has been convicted of any of the criminal offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7) (a) (I) or whether the person has been determined to have a pattern of misdemeanor convictions as described in section 26-6-104 (7) (a) (I) (E) and the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility prohibits the hiring of any such person as a supervisory employee or terminates the employment of any such person as a supervisory employee upon confirmation of such a criminal history;

(III) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requests the state department to access records and reports of child abuse or neglect to determine whether the supervisory employee or applicant for a supervisory employee position has been found to be responsible in a confirmed report of child abuse or neglect and the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility prohibits the hiring of any such person as a supervisory employee or terminates the employment of any such person as a supervisory employee. Information shall be made available pursuant to section 19-1-307 (2) (r), C.R.S., and rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 19-3-313.5 (4), C.R.S.

(IV) (A) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requests the state department to obtain a comparison search on the ICON system at the state judicial department with the name and date of birth information and any other available source of criminal history information that the state department determines is appropriate, whether or not the criminal history background check confirms a criminal history, in order to determine the crime or crimes, if any, for which the supervisory employee or applicant for a supervisory employee position was arrested or convicted and the disposition thereof; and

(B) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requests the state department to obtain such information concerning the supervisory employee or applicant for a supervisory employee position from any other recognized database, if any, that is accessible on a statewide basis as set forth by rules promulgated by the state board;

(g) (I) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requires all other employees of the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility to obtain a fingerprint-based criminal history check utilizing the Colorado bureau of investigation and, for employees hired on or after August 10, 2011, the federal bureau of investigation and requests the state department to ascertain whether the person being investigated has been convicted of any of the criminal offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7) (a) (I) or whether the person has been determined to have a pattern of misdemeanor convictions as described in section 26-6-104 (7) (a) (I) (E) and the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility terminates the employment of any such person as an employee upon confirmation of such a criminal history;

(III) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requests the state department to access records and reports of child abuse or neglect to determine whether the employee has been found to be responsible in a confirmed report of child abuse or neglect and the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility terminates the employment of any such person. Information shall be made available pursuant to section 19-1-307 (2) (r), C.R.S., and rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 19-3-313.5 (4), C.R.S.

(IV) (A) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requests the state department to obtain a comparison search on the ICON system at the state judicial department with the name and date of birth information and any other available source of criminal history information that the state department determines is appropriate, whether or not the criminal history background check confirms a criminal history, in order to determine the crime or crimes, if any, for which the employee was arrested or convicted and the disposition thereof; and

(B) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility requests the state department to obtain such information concerning the employee from any other recognized database, if any, that is accessible on a statewide basis as set forth by rules promulgated by the state board; and

(h) The guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility maintains the following employee-to-child ratios at all times when the facility is operating:

(I) One child care facility employee for every five children ages six weeks to eighteen months;

(II) One child care facility employee for every five children ages twelve months to thirty-six months;

(III) One child care facility employee for every seven children ages twenty-four months to thirty-six months;

(IV) One child care facility employee for every eight children ages two and one-half years to three years;

(V) One child care facility employee for every ten children ages three years to four years;

(VI) One child care facility employee for every twelve children ages four years to five years;

(VII) One child care facility employee for every fifteen children ages five years of age and older; and (VIII) One child care facility employee for every ten children in a mixed age group, ages two and one-half years to six years.

(2.5) In addition to the requirements specified in subsection (2) of this section, a public services short-term child care facility shall ensure that at least one employee is on duty at the facility at all times when the facility is operating who holds a current department-approved first aid and safety certificate that includes certification in cardiopulmonary resuscitation training for all ages of children.

(3) (a) If the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility refuses to hire a supervisory employee or terminates the employment of a supervisory employee as a result of information disclosed in an investigation of the supervisory employee or applicant therefor pursuant to paragraph (f) of subsection (2) of this section, the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility shall not be subject to civil liability for such refusal to hire.

(b) If the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility terminates the employment of an employee as a result of the information disclosed in an investigation of the employee pursuant to paragraph (g) of subsection (2) of this section, the guest child care facility or public services short-term child care facility shall not be subject to civil liability for such termination of employment.

(4) A guest child care facility employee or supervisory employee applicant who has obtained a fingerprint-based criminal history check pursuant to paragraph (f) or (g) of subsection (2) of this section, or pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, shall not be required to obtain a new fingerprint-based criminal history check if he or she returns to a guest child care facility to work in subsequent seasons. The state department shall maintain the results of the initial background check and receive subsequent notification of activity on the record for the purpose of redetermining, if necessary, whether the employee or supervisory employee applicant has been convicted of any of the criminal offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7) (a) (I), or whether the employee or supervisory employee applicant has a pattern of misdemeanor convictions as described in section 26-6-108 (8) (b), and the guest child care facility shall contact the state department for information concerning subsequent convictions, if any, prior to rehiring such employee.

(5) The requirements of paragraphs (f) and (g) of subsection (2) of this section shall not apply to those employees of guest child care facilities concerning whom criminal history background checks were conducted on or after July 1, 2001, and before July 1, 2002, for purposes of state child care licensure requirements.

(6) For purposes of this section, a “guest child care facility” does not include a ski school. For purposes of this section, “ski school” means a school located at the ski area in which the guest child care facility is located for purposes of teaching children how to ski or snowboard.

(7) The state department shall have the authority to receive, respond to, and investigate any complaint concerning compliance with the requirements set forth in this part 1 for a guest child care facility or a public services short-term child care facility.

26-6-103.7. Application of part - neighborhood youth organizations - licensing - duties and responsibilities - definitions. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of this part 1 to the contrary, a neighborhood youth organization that is not otherwise licensed to operate under this part 1 may obtain a neighborhood youth organization license pursuant to this section. A neighborhood youth organization that obtains a license pursuant to this section shall be subject only to the requirements of this section and shall otherwise be exempt from the requirements of this part 1.

(2) The state board shall promulgate rules to establish a neighborhood youth organization license, including but not limited to the fee required to apply for and obtain the license. The rules shall not concern staff-to-youth ratios.

(3) A neighborhood youth organization licensed pursuant to this section and operating in the state of Colorado shall have the following duties and responsibilities:

(a) To inform a parent or legal guardian of the requirements of this subsection (3) and to post a notice in bold print and in plain view on the premises of the facility in which the neighborhood youth organization operates that lists the following information:

(I) The requirements of this subsection (3); and

(II) The telephone number and address of the appropriate division within the state department for investigating complaints concerning a neighborhood youth organization, with the instruction that any complaint regarding the neighborhood youth organization's compliance with these requirements be directed to that division;

(b) Prior to admitting an interested youth member into the neighborhood youth organization, to require the youth member's parent or legal guardian to sign a statement authorizing the youth member to arrive and depart from the organization without supervision by a parent, legal guardian, or the organization;

(c) To establish a process to receive and resolve complaints from parents or legal guardians;

(d) To establish a process to report known or suspected child abuse or neglect to appropriate authorities pursuant to section 19-3-304, C.R.S.;

(e) To maintain, either at the neighborhood youth organization or at a central administrative facility, records for each youth member admitted into the neighborhood youth organization containing, at a minimum, the following information:

(I) The youth member's full name;

(II) The youth member's date of birth;

(III) The name, address, and telephone number of a parent or legal guardian of the youth member;

(IV) The name and telephone number of at least one emergency contact person for the youth member; and

(V) A parent's or legal guardian's written authorization for the youth member to attend the neighborhood youth organization;

(f) To require a youth member's parent or legal guardian to sign a statement authorizing the neighborhood youth organization to provide transportation prior to field trips or to and from the neighborhood youth organization; and

(g) To follow the requirements specified in subsection (4) of this section for a fingerprint-based or other criminal history record check of each employee and volunteer who works with or will work with youth members five or more days in a calendar month.

(4) A licensed neighborhood youth organization shall require all employees and volunteers who work directly with or will work directly with youth members five or more days in a calendar month to obtain, prior to employment, and every two years thereafter, one of the following:

(a) A fingerprint-based criminal history records check utilizing the Colorado bureau of investigation and request the state department to ascertain whether the person being investigated has been convicted of felony child abuse as specified in section 18-6-401, C.R.S., or a felony offense involving unlawful sexual behavior as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S. The neighborhood youth organization shall not hire a person as an employee or approve a person as a volunteer after confirmation of such a criminal history.

(b) A federal bureau of investigation fingerprint-based criminal history records check utilizing the Colorado bureau of investigation if the employee, volunteer, or applicant has resided in the state of Colorado less than two years. The neighborhood youth organization shall request the state department to ascertain whether the person being investigated has been convicted of felony child abuse as specified in section 18-6-401, C.R.S., or a felony offense involving unlawful sexual behavior as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S. The neighborhood youth organization shall not hire a person as an employee or approve a person as a volunteer after confirmation of such a criminal history.

(c) A comparison search by the state department on the ICON system of the state judicial department or a comparison search on any other database that is recognized on a statewide basis by using the name, date of birth, and social security number information that the state department determines is appropriate to determine whether the person being investigated has been convicted of felony child abuse as specified in section 18-6-401, C.R.S., or a felony offense involving unlawful sexual behavior as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S. The neighborhood youth organization shall not hire a person as an employee or approve a person as a volunteer after confirmation of such a criminal history.

(5) A person who visits or takes part in the activities of a licensed neighborhood youth organization but who is not required to obtain a criminal history record check pursuant to subsection (4) of this section shall at all times be under the supervision of an employee or volunteer who has been hired or approved after obtaining a criminal history record check pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(6) The governing board of each licensed neighborhood youth organization shall adopt minimum standards for operating the licensed neighborhood youth organization, including but not limited to standards concerning staff, staff training, health and safety, and mechanisms for assessing and enforcing the licensed neighborhood youth organization's compliance with the standards adopted.

(7) The state department shall have the authority to receive, respond to, and investigate any complaint concerning compliance with the requirements set forth in this section for a licensed neighborhood youth organization.

(8) A licensed neighborhood youth organization shall not be required to obtain or keep on file immunization records for youth members participating in the organization's activities.

(9) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Employee" means a paid employee of a neighborhood youth organization who is eighteen years of age or older.

(b) "Volunteer" means a person who volunteers his or her assistance to a neighborhood youth organization and who is eighteen years of age or older.

26-6-104. Licenses - out-of-state notices and consent - demonstration pilot program. (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in this part 1, no person shall operate any agency or facility defined in this part 1 without first being licensed to operate or maintain such agency or facility by the state department and paying the fee prescribed therefor. Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) and paragraph (c) of this subsection (1), any such license issued by the state department shall be permanent unless otherwise revoked or suspended pursuant to section 26-6-108.

(b) (I) A person operating a foster care home shall not be required to obtain a license from the state department to operate the foster care home if such person holds a certificate to operate such home from any county department or a child placement agency licensed under the provisions of this part 1. All such certificates shall be considered licenses for the purpose of this part 1, including but not limited to the investigation and criminal history background checks required under section 26-6-107. Each certificate shall be in such form as prescribed and provided by the state department, shall certify that such person and any other adults residing in the home who are acting as care givers are suitable persons to operate a foster care home or provide care for a child, and shall contain such information as the state department requires. A child placement agency issuing or renewing any such certificate shall transmit a copy or report thereof to the state department.

(II) On and after July 1, 2002, and contingent upon the time lines for implementation of the computer "trails" enhancements, the state board shall promulgate rules requiring the annual recertification of foster care homes and setting forth the procedural requirements associated with recertification. Such rules shall include requirements that the certifying entity shall perform on-site visits to each foster care home applying for certification or recertification and shall require inspections of the entire premises of the foster care home, including sleeping areas, as well as other assessments of the foster care home. No foster care home shall be certified at any one time by more than one child placement agency or county department.

(III) A foster care home, when certified by a child placement agency or county department, may receive for care a child from sources other than the certifying child placement agency or county department upon the written consent and approval of the child placement agency or county department as to each such child.

(IV) A facility may be certified as a foster care home and licensed as a family child care home so long as the licensure and certification are provided by two separate licensing entities. The state board shall promulgate rules governing the communication requirements between two entities that license and certify the same facility.

(c) (I) On and after July 1, 2002, and contingent upon the time lines for implementation of the computer "trails" enhancements, child placement agencies that certify foster care homes shall be licensed annually until the implementation of any risk-based schedule for the renewal of child placement agency licenses pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c). The state board shall promulgate rules specifying the procedural requirements associated with the renewal of such child placement agency licenses. Such rules shall include requirements that the state department conduct assessments of the child placement agency.

(II) (A) On and after January 1, 2004, and upon the functionality of the computer "trails" enhancements, the state department may implement a schedule for relicensing of child placement agencies that certify foster care homes that is based on risk factors such that child placement agencies with low risk factors shall renew their licenses less frequently than child placement agencies with higher risk factors.

(B) Prior to January 1, 2004, and contingent upon the time lines for implementation of the computer "trails" enhancements, the state department shall create classifications of child placement agency licenses that certify foster care homes that are based on risk factors as those factors are established by rule of the state board.

(d) (I) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1, no person shall operate a foster care home that is certified by a county department if such person is a relative of any employee of the child welfare division or unit of the county department certifying the foster care home. If such person files an application with a county department that would violate the provisions of this subparagraph (I) by certifying the foster care home, the county department shall refer the application to another county department or to a child placement agency. Unless otherwise prohibited, the county department or child placement agency to which the application was referred may certify and supervise a foster care home operated by such person. The county department that referred the application may place children in the county-certified foster care home upon written agreement of the two county departments.

(II) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1, no person shall operate a foster care home that is certified by a child placement agency if such person is a relative of any owner, officer, executive, member of the governing board, or employee of the child placement agency certifying the foster care home. If such person files an application with a child placement agency that would violate the provisions of this subparagraph (II) by certifying the foster care home, the child placement agency shall refer the application to a county department or to another child placement agency that would not violate the provisions of this subparagraph (II) by certifying the foster care home.

(III) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1, no owner, officer, executive, member of the governing board, or employee of a child placement agency licensed pursuant to this part 1, or any relative of said owner, officer, executive, member, or employee, shall hold a beneficial interest in any property operated, or intended to be operated, as a foster care home, when the property is certified by the child placement agency as a foster care home. The provisions of this subparagraph (III) shall not apply to salaried foster parents.

(IV) Repealed.

(2) No person shall receive or accept a child under eighteen years of age for placement, or place any child either temporarily or permanently in a home, other than with persons related to the child, without first obtaining a license as a child placement agency from the department, and paying the fee prescribed therefor.

(3) A provisional license or certificate for a period of six months may be issued once to an applicant for an original license or certificate, permitting the applicant to operate a family child care home, foster care home, or child care center if the applicant is temporarily unable to conform to all standards required under this part 1, upon proof by the applicant that attempts are being made to conform to such standards or to comply with any other requirements. The applicant has the right to appeal any standard that the applicant believes works an undue hardship or has been applied too stringently by the representatives of the department. Upon filing an appeal, the department shall proceed in the manner prescribed for licensee appeals in section 26-6-106 (3).

(4) No license for a child care center, residential child care facility, or secure residential treatment center shall be issued by the department until the facilities to be operated or maintained by the applicant or licensee are approved by the department of public health and environment as conforming to the sanitary standards prescribed by said department under the provisions of section 25-1.5-101 (1) (h), C.R.S., and unless such facilities conform to fire prevention and protection requirements of local fire departments in the locality of the facility or, in lieu thereof, of the division of labor.

(8) A licensed neighborhood youth organization shall not be required to obtain or keep on file immunization records for youth members participating in the organization's activities.

(9) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Employee" means a paid employee of a neighborhood youth organization who is eighteen years of age or older.

(b) "Volunteer" means a person who volunteers his or her assistance to a neighborhood youth organization and who is eighteen years of age or older.

26-6-104. Licenses - out-of-state notices and consent - demonstration pilot program. (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in this part 1, no person shall operate any agency or facility defined in this part 1 without first being licensed to operate or maintain such agency or facility by the state department and paying the fee prescribed therefor. Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) and paragraph (c) of this subsection (1), any such license issued by the state department shall be permanent unless otherwise revoked or suspended pursuant to section 26-6-108.

(b) (I) A person operating a foster care home shall not be required to obtain a license from the state department to operate the foster care home if such person holds a certificate to operate such home from any county department or a child placement agency licensed under the provisions of this part 1. All such certificates shall be considered licenses for the purpose of this part 1, including but not limited to the investigation and criminal history background checks required under section 26-6-107. Each certificate shall be in such form as prescribed and provided by the state department, shall certify that such person and any other adults residing in the home who are acting as care givers are suitable persons to operate a foster care home or provide care for a child, and shall contain such information as the state department requires. A child placement agency issuing or renewing any such certificate shall transmit a copy or report thereof to the state department.

(II) On and after July 1, 2002, and contingent upon the time lines for implementation of the computer "trails" enhancements, the state board shall promulgate rules requiring the annual recertification of foster care homes and setting forth the procedural requirements associated with recertification. (III) A foster care home, when certified by a child placement agency or county department, may receive for care a child from sources other than the certifying child placement agency or county department upon the written consent and approval of the child placement agency or county department as to each such child.

(IV) A facility may be certified as a foster care home and licensed as a family child care home so long as the licensure and certification are provided by two separate licensing entities. The state board shall promulgate rules governing the communication requirements between two entities that license and certify the same facility.

(c) (I) On and after July 1, 2002, and contingent upon the time lines for implementation of the computer "trails" enhancements, child placement agencies that certify foster care homes shall be licensed annually until the implementation of any risk-based schedule for the renewal of child placement agency licenses pursuant to subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (c). The state board shall promulgate rules specifying the procedural requirements associated with the renewal of such child placement agency licenses. Such rules shall include requirements that the state department conduct assessments of the child placement agency.

(II) (A) On and after January 1, 2004, and upon the functionality of the computer "trails" enhancements, the state department may implement a schedule for relicensing of child placement agencies that certify foster care homes that is based on risk factors such that child placement agencies with low risk factors shall renew their licenses less frequently than child placement agencies with higher risk factors.

(B) Prior to January 1, 2004, and contingent upon the time lines for implementation of the computer "trails" enhancements, the state department shall create classifications of child placement agency licenses that certify foster care homes that are based on risk factors as those factors are established by rule of the state board.

(d) (I) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1, no person shall operate a foster care home that is certified by a county department if such person is a relative of any employee of the child welfare division or unit of the county department certifying the foster care home. If such person files an application with a county department that would violate the provisions of this subparagraph (I) by certifying the foster care home, the county department shall refer the application to another county department or to a child placement agency. Unless otherwise prohibited, the county department or child placement agency to which the application was referred may certify and supervise a foster care home operated by such person. The county department that referred the application may place children in the county-certified foster care home upon written agreement of the two county departments.

(II) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1, no person shall operate a foster care home that is certified by a child placement agency if such person is a relative of any owner, officer, executive, member of the governing board, or employee of the child placement agency certifying the foster care home. If such person files an application with a child placement agency that would violate the provisions of this subparagraph (II) by certifying the foster care home, the child placement agency shall refer the application to a county department or to another child placement agency that would not violate the provisions of this subparagraph (II) by certifying the foster care home.

(III) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part 1, no owner, officer, executive, member of the governing board, or employee of a child placement agency licensed pursuant to this part 1, or any relative of said owner, officer, executive, member, or employee, shall hold a beneficial interest in any property operated, or intended to be operated, as a foster care home, when the property is certified by the child placement agency as a foster care home. The provisions of this subparagraph (III) shall not apply to salaried foster parents.

(IV) Repealed.

(2) No person shall receive or accept a child under eighteen years of age for placement, or place any child either temporarily or permanently in a home, other than with persons related to the child, without first obtaining a license as a child placement agency from the department, and paying the fee prescribed therefor.

(3) A provisional license or certificate for a period of six months may be issued once to an applicant for an original license or certificate, permitting the applicant to operate a family child care home, foster care home, or child care center if the applicant is temporarily unable to conform to all standards required under this part 1, upon proof by the applicant that attempts are being made to conform to such standards or to comply with any other requirements. The applicant has the right to appeal any standard that the applicant believes works an undue hardship or has been applied too stringently by the representatives of the department. Upon filing an appeal, the department shall proceed in the manner prescribed for licensee appeals in section 26-6-106 (3).

(4) No license for a child care center, residential child care facility, or secure residential treatment center shall be issued by the department until the facilities to be operated or maintained by the applicant or licensee are approved by the department of public health and environment as conforming to the sanitary standards prescribed by said department under the provisions of section 25-1.5-101 (1) (h), C.R.S., and unless such facilities conform to fire prevention and protection requirements of local fire departments in the locality of the facility or, in lieu thereof, of the division of labor.

(5) No person shall send or bring into this state any child for the purposes of foster care or adoption without sending notice of the pending placement and receiving the consent of the department or its designated agent to the placement. The notice shall contain:

- (a) The name and the date and place of birth of the child;
- (b) The identity and address or addresses of the parents or legal guardian;
- (c) The identity and address of the person sending or bringing the child;
- (d) The name and address of the person to or with which the sending person proposes to send, bring, or place the child;
- (e) A full statement of the reasons for the proposed action and evidence of the authority pursuant to which the placement is proposed to be made.

(6) The state board of human services shall establish rules and regulations for the approval of foster care homes and child care centers that provide twenty-four-hour care of children between eighteen and twenty-one years of age for whom the county department is financially responsible and when placed in foster care by the county department.

(6.5) On and after July 1, 2005, and subject to designation as a qualified accrediting entity as required by the "Intercountry Adoption Act of 2000", 42 U.S.C. sec. 14901 et seq., the state department may license and accredit a child placement agency for purposes of providing adoption services for convention adoptions pursuant to the "Intercountry Adoption Act of 2000", 42 U.S.C. sec. 14901 et seq. The state board of human services may adopt rules consistent with federal law governing the procedures for adverse actions regarding accreditation, which procedures may vary from the procedures set forth in the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(7) (a) (I) The state department, a county department, or a child placement agency licensed under the provisions of this part 1 shall not issue a license or certificate to operate a family child care home, a foster care home, a child care center, a residential child care facility, a secure residential treatment center, or a child placement agency, and any license or certificate issued prior to August 7, 2006, shall be revoked or suspended, if the applicant for the license or certificate, an affiliate of the applicant, a person employed by the applicant, or a person who resides with the applicant at the facility has been convicted of:

- (A) Child abuse, as specified in section 18-6-401, C.R.S.;
- (B) A crime of violence, as defined in section 18-1.3-406, C.R.S.;
- (C) Any felony offenses involving unlawful sexual behavior, as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S.;

(D) Any felony, the underlying factual basis of which has been found by the court on the record to include an act of domestic violence, as defined in section 18-6-800.3, C.R.S.;

(D.5) Any felony involving physical assault, battery, or a drug-related offense within the five years preceding the date of application for a license or certificate;

(E) A pattern of misdemeanor convictions, as defined by rule of the state board, within the ten years immediately preceding the date of submission of the application;

(F) Any offense in any other state, the elements of which are substantially similar to the elements of any one of the offenses described in sub-subparagraphs (A) to (E) of this subparagraph (I).

(II) For purposes of this paragraph (a), "convicted" means a conviction by a jury or by a court and shall also include a deferred judgment and sentence agreement, a deferred prosecution agreement, a deferred adjudication agreement, an adjudication, and a plea of guilty or nolo contendere.

(b) The convictions identified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (7) shall be determined according to the records of the Colorado bureau of investigation, the ICON system at the state judicial department, or any other source, as set forth in section 26-6-107 (1) (a) (I.5). A certified copy of the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction of such conviction, deferred judgment and sentence agreement, deferred prosecution agreement, or deferred adjudication agreement shall be prima facie evidence of such conviction or agreement. No license or certificate to operate a family child care home, a foster care home, a child care center, a residential child care facility, a secure residential child care facility, or a child placement agency shall be issued if the state department has a certified court order from another state indicating that the person applying for such a license or certificate has been convicted of child abuse or any unlawful sexual offense against a child under a law of any other state or the United States or the state department has a certified court order from another state that the person applying for the license or certificate has entered into a deferred judgment or deferred prosecution agreement in another state as to child abuse or any sexual offense against a child.

(7.5) No later than January 1, 2004, the state board shall promulgate rules that require all current and prospective employees of a county department who in their position have direct contact with any child in the process of being placed, or who has been placed, in foster care to submit a set of fingerprints for purposes of obtaining a fingerprint-based criminal history record check, unless the person has already submitted a set of fingerprints. The check shall be conducted in the same manner as provided in subsection (7) of this section and in section 26-6-107 (1) (a). The person's employment shall be conditional upon a satisfactory criminal background check and subject to the same grounds for denial or dismissal as set forth in subsection (7) of this section and in section 26-6-107 (1) (a). The costs for the fingerprint-based criminal history record check shall be borne by the applicant.

(8) The state department, a county department, or a child placement agency licensed under the provisions of this part 1 shall not issue a license or certificate to operate any agency or facility defined in this part 1 if the person applying for such license or certificate or an affiliate of the applicant, a person employed by the applicant, or a person who resides with the applicant at the facility:

(a) Has been determined to be insane or mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction and, should a court enter, pursuant to part 3 or part 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., or section 27-65-109 (4) or 27-65-127, C.R.S., an order specifically finding that the mental incompetency or insanity is of such a degree that the applicant is incapable of operating a family child care home, foster care home, child care center, or child placement agency, the record of such determination and entry of such order being conclusive evidence thereof.

(9) The state department is strongly encouraged to examine and report to the general assembly on the benefits of licensing any private, nonprofit child placement agency that is dedicated to serving the special needs of foster care children through services delivered by specialized foster care parents in conjunction with and supported by staff of the child placement agency. Such child placement agencies examined shall be able to:

(a) Offer the following services:

- (I) Provision of educated, skilled, and experienced foster care parents;
- (II) Social work support for the foster care child and foster care family;
- (III) Twenty-four-hour, on-call availability;
- (IV) Monthly foster care parent support group meetings;
- (V) On-going educational and networking opportunities for any foster care family;
- (VI) Individualized treatment plans developed through team collaboration;
- (VII) Professional and family networking opportunities; and
- (VIII) Respite support and reimbursement;

(b) Provide a form of specialized foster care including, but not limited to, the following types of care:

- (I) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2003, p. 1874, § 3, effective May 22, 2003.)
- (II) Medical foster care;
- (III) Respite foster care;
- (IV) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2003, p. 1874, § 3, effective May 22, 2003.)
- (V) Therapeutic foster care;
- (VI) Developmentally disabled foster care; and
- (VII) Treatment foster care.

26-6-104.5. Compliance with local government zoning regulations - notice to local governments - provisional licensure. (1) The department shall require any child care facility seeking licensure pursuant to section 26-6-104 to comply with any applicable zoning regulations of the municipality, city and county, or county where the facility is situated. Failure to comply with applicable zoning regulations shall constitute grounds for the denial of a license to a facility.

(2) The department shall assure that timely written notice is provided to the municipality, city and county, or county where a child care facility is situated, including the address of the facility and the population and number of persons to be served by the facility, when any of the following occurs:

(a) A person applies for a license to operate a child care facility pursuant to section 26-6-104;

(b) A license is granted to operate a child care facility pursuant to section 26-6-104; or

(c) A change is made in the license of a residential child care facility, specialized group facility, homeless youth shelter, or secure residential treatment center.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in the event of a zoning or other delay or dispute between a child care facility and the municipality, city and county, or county where the facility is situated, the department may grant a provisional license to the facility for up to six months pending resolution of the delay or dispute.

(4) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any foster care home certified pursuant to this part 1 or to any specialized group facility that is licensed to provide care for three or more children pursuant to this part 1 but that is providing care for three or fewer children who are determined to have a developmental disability by a community centered board or who have a serious emotional disturbance.

26-6-105. Fees - when original applications, reapplications, and renewals for licensure are required - creation of child care licensing cash fund. (1) (a) The state department is hereby authorized to establish, pursuant to rules promulgated by the state board, permanent, time-limited, and provisional license fees and fees for continuation or renewal, whichever is applicable, of a license for the following types of child care arrangements:

(I) Family child care homes, including any special type of family child care home designated by rules of the state board pursuant to section 26-6-106 (2) (p), but excluding homes certified by county departments or child placement agencies;

(II) Child care centers;

(III) Secure residential treatment centers;

(IV) Residential child care facilities;

(V) Child placement agencies;

(VI) Repealed.

(VII) Homeless youth shelters;

(VIII) Day treatment centers;

(IX) Specialized group facilities; and

(X) Children's resident camps.

(b) The state department may also establish fees pursuant to rules promulgated by the state board of human services for the following situations:

(I) Issuance of a duplicate license;

(II) Change of license due to an increase in licensing capacity or a change in the age of children served;

(III) Obtaining the criminal record of an applicant and any person living with or employed by the applicant, which may include costs associated with the taking of fingerprints;

(IV) Checking the records and reports of child abuse or neglect maintained by the state department for an owner, employee, or resident of a facility or agency or an applicant for a license to operate a facility or agency;

(V) Filing of appeals;

(VI) Duplication of licensing records for the public;

(VII) Duplication of licensing records in electronic format for the public;

(VIII) Accrediting a child placement agency for purposes of providing adoption services for convention adoptions pursuant to the "Intercountry Adoption Act of 2000", 42 U.S.C. sec. 14901 et seq.;

(X) Collection of fees for scanning of adoption records pursuant to section 19-5-307, C.R.S.

(c) The fees established pursuant to this subsection (1) shall not exceed the direct and indirect costs incurred by the department. The division involved in licensing child care facilities shall develop and implement an objective and systematic approach for setting, monitoring, and revising child care licensing fees by developing and using an ongoing method to track all direct and indirect costs associated with child care inspection licensing, developing a methodology to assess the relationship between licensing costs and fees, and annually reassessing costs and fees and reporting the results to the state board. In developing a fee schedule, the department should consider the licensed capacity of facilities and the time needed to license facilities.

(2) (a) The fees specified in subsection (1) of this section shall be paid when application is made for any license or when renewal of a child placement agency license is sought and shall not be subject to refund. Applications for licenses shall be required in the situations that are set forth in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) and shall be made on forms prescribed by the state department. Each completed application shall set forth such information as required by the state department. All licenses shall continue in force until revoked, surrendered, or expired.

(b) (I) An original application and fee shall be required:

(A) When an individual, partnership, corporation, or association plans to open a child care center, children's resident camp, secure residential treatment center, residential child care facility, homeless youth shelter, day treatment center, specialized group facility, or child placement agency;

(B) When the child care center, children's resident camp, secure residential treatment center, residential child care facility, homeless youth shelter, day treatment center, or specialized group facility plans to move the center or facility to a different building at a different location;

(C) When the management or governing body of a child care center, children's resident camp, secure residential treatment center, residential child care facility, homeless youth shelter, day treatment center, specialized group facility, or child placement agency is acquired by a different individual, association, partnership, or corporation or a change occurs in the operating entity resulting in a new federal employee identification number;

(D) When a family or person plans to open a family child care home, including any special type of family child care home designated by rules of the state board pursuant to section 26-6-106 (2) (p), or foster care home;

(E) When a family or person who operates a family child care home, including any special type of family child care home designated by rules of the state board pursuant to section 26-6-106 (2) (p), or foster care home moves to a new residence.

(II) A reapplication and fee shall be required and received by the state department in the manner specified in rules promulgated by the state board. An individual, partnership, corporation, or association seeking to renew a child placement agency license shall submit a reapplication and fee to the state department as specified in rules promulgated by the state board.

(3) Nothing in this section shall prevent any city or city and county from imposing additional fees to those specified under this section.

(4) All fees collected pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the child care licensing cash fund, which is hereby created. The general assembly shall make annual appropriations from the child care licensing cash fund for expenditures incurred by the department in the performance of its duties under this part 1. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

26-6-105.5. Application forms - criminal sanctions for perjury. (1) (a) (I) All applications for the licensure of a child care facility or the certification of a foster care home pursuant to this part 1 shall include the notice to the applicant that is set forth in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1).

(II) Every application used in the state of Colorado for employment with a child care provider or facility shall include the notice to the applicant that is set forth in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1).

(b) Each application described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) shall contain the following notice to the applicant:

Any applicant who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement of any material fact or thing in this application is guilty of perjury in the second degree as defined in section 18-8-503, Colorado Revised Statutes, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished accordingly.

(2) Any person applying for the licensure of a child care facility or the certification of a foster care home pursuant to this part 1 or any person applying to work at such a facility as an employee who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement of any material fact or thing in the application is guilty of perjury in the second degree as defined in section 18-8-503, C.R.S., and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished accordingly.

(3) Every application for certification or licensure as a foster care home shall provide notice to the applicant that the applicant may be subject to immediate revocation of certification or licensure or other negative licensing action as set forth in this section, section 26-6-107.7, and as described by rule of the state board.

26-6-105.7. Applications - materials waivers - appeals - rules. (1) A child care center that is subject to the licensing requirements of this part 1 is also subject to the provisions of this section.

(2) (a) The department shall make available to licensed child care centers and include with every application form for licensure information concerning the manner in which a child care center may apply for a waiver to use certain materials in its program and curriculum. The waiver request shall be included in a center's application for licensure or, in the case of a licensed child care center, may be submitted at any time.

(b) A child care center seeking a waiver for the use of certain materials shall adopt a policy that:

(I) Ensures that instructors in the child care center are trained in the use of the materials in a way that provides reasonable safety provisions for use by children; and

(II) Requires parental notification of the use of the materials in the child care center and the potential safety risks associated with the materials. The policy shall require the child care center to obtain signed parental consent forms acknowledging awareness of the risks in using the materials in the child care center.

(3) If a licensed child care center receives notice of a violation pursuant to this part 1, information concerning the waiver and appeal process described in this section shall be included in the notification to the child care center.

(4) The state board shall promulgate rules for the implementation of this section, including:

(a) The requirements for the granting of a waiver request, which requirements shall include that the department make a decision on the waiver request and notify the child care center of its decision no later than sixty calendar days after receipt of the request;

(b) The requirements for the denial of a waiver request, which requirements shall include that the department make a decision on the waiver request and notify the child care center of its decision no later than sixty calendar days after receipt of the request;

(c) The process by which a child care center may appeal a denial of a waiver request, which process shall include, but need not be limited to:

(I) That upon the receipt of a denial of a waiver request, a child care center has up to forty-five calendar days to appeal the denial decision to the department;

(II) That the department shall act upon the appeal within forty-five calendar days;

(III) That the department shall provide notice of its decision on the appeal within ten calendar days after its decision to the appealing child care center; and

(IV) That the appealing child care center has the right to meet in person with department personnel concerning the appeal, but that the entire appeals process shall last no more than one hundred calendar days after the date of the notice of denial of the waiver request.

(5) Whenever practicable, the department shall use the same inspector for:

(a) Multiple visits to a single child care center seeking a waiver pursuant to this section; or

(b) Multiple visits to two or more individually licensed child care centers that are wholly owned, operated, and controlled by a common ownership group.

(6) The department shall not post a denial of a waiver made pursuant to this section on its web site until the appeal is final.

26-6-106. Standards for facilities and agencies - rules. (1) (a) The department shall prescribe and publish standards for licensing. Such standards shall be applicable to the various types of facilities and agencies for child care regulated and licensed by this part 1; except that the department shall prescribe and publish separate standards for the licensing of child placement agencies operating for the purpose of adoptive placement and adoption-related services. The department shall seek the advice and assistance of persons representative of the various types of child care facilities and agencies in establishing such standards. Such standards shall be established by rules promulgated by the state board of human services and shall be issued and published only in conformity with the provisions and procedures specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., and shall become effective only as provided in said article.

(2) Standards prescribed by such rules shall be restricted to:

(a) The operation and conduct of the facility or agency and the responsibility it assumes for child care;

(b) The character, suitability, and qualifications of the applicant for a license and of other persons directly responsible for the care and welfare of children served, including whether an affiliate of the licensee has ever been the subject of a negative licensing action;

(c) The general financial ability and competence of the applicant for a license to provide necessary care for children and to maintain prescribed standards;

(d) The number of individuals or staff required to insure adequate supervision and care of children served;

(e) The appropriateness, safety, cleanliness, and general adequacy of the premises, including maintenance of adequate fire protection and prevention and health standards in conformance with state laws and municipal ordinances, to provide for the physical comfort, care, well-being, and safety of children served;

- (f) Keeping of records for food, clothing, equipment, and individual supplies;
- (g) Provisions to safeguard the legal rights of children served;
- (h) Maintenance of records pertaining to the admission, progress, health, and discharge of children;
- (i) Filing of reports with the department;
- (j) Discipline of children;
- (k) Standards for the short-term confinement of a child in defined emergency situations.

An emergency situation means any situation where the child is determined to be a danger to himself or others and to be beyond control, all other reasonable means to calm the child have failed, and the child's welfare or the welfare of those around the child demand that the child be confined for a period not to exceed two hours. Standards for such short-term confinement shall include:

- (I) Definition of emergency purposes for the short-term confinement in accordance with this paragraph (k);
- (II) Duration and frequency of the confinement;
- (III) Facility staff requirements;
- (IV) Criteria for the short-term placement of a child in the short-term confinement room;
- (V) Documentation and review of the confinement;
- (VI) Review and biannual inspection by the department of the short-term confinement facility;
- (VII) Physical requirements for the short-term confinement room;
- (VIII) Certification or approval from the department prior to the establishment of the short-term confinement room;
- (IX) A neutral fact finder to determine if the child's situation merits short-term confinement;
- (X) At a minimum, a fifteen minute checking and review by staff of a child placed in short-term confinement;
- (XI) Review by staff of any confinement subsequent to each period of such confinement;
- (XII) Daily review of the use of the short-term confinement rooms; and
- (XIII) Revocation or suspension of licensure for failure to comply with the standards set forth in this paragraph (k).

(l) Standards for security in secure residential treatment centers and residential child care facilities provided through the physical environment and staffing. Such standards shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

- (I) Locked doors;
- (II) Fencing;
- (III) The staff requirements to ensure security;
- (IV) Inspections;
- (V) Physical requirements for program space and for secure sleeping of the residents in the secure residential treatment center or residential child care facility;
- (VI) Other security considerations that are necessary to protect the residents of the secure residential treatment center or residential child care facility or the public.

(m) Standards for the appropriateness, safety, and adequacy of transportation services of children to and from child care centers;

(n) Provisions that ensure that verification in accordance with part 9 of article 4 of title 25, C.R.S., is undertaken by family child care homes, foster care homes, and child care centers ensuring that each child has received appropriate immunizations against contagious diseases as follows:

- (I) Children up to twenty-four months of age shall be required to be immunized in accordance with the "Infant Immunization Act", part 17 of article 4 of title 25, C.R.S.;
- (II) Children over twenty-four months of age shall be required to be immunized in accordance with part 9 of article 4 of title 25, C.R.S.;
- (o) Standards for adoption agencies that may include but need not be limited to:

(I) Specific criteria and minimum credentials, qualifications, training, and education of staff necessary for each of the types of adoption for which an applicant may seek to be licensed, including but not limited to:

- (A) Traditional adoptions with adopting parents who are unknown;
- (B) Family adoptions, including stepparent and grandparent adoptions;
- (C) Interstate adoptions;
- (D) International adoptions;
- (E) Identified or designated adoptions; and
- (F) Special needs adoptions;

(II) The continuing education requirements necessary to maintain the adoption agency's license, taking into account the type and specialty of such agency's license;

(III) The operation and conduct of the agency and the responsibility it assumes in adoption cases;

(IV) The character, suitability, and qualifications of the applicant for a license and for all direct service staff employed or contracted with by the agency;

(V) The general financial ability and competence of the applicant for license, either original or renewal, to provide necessary services for the adoption of children and to maintain prescribed standards;

(VI) Proper maintenance of records; and

(VII) Provisions to safeguard the legal rights of children served;

(p) Rules governing different types of family child care homes, as that term is defined in section 26-6-102 (4), as well as any other types of family child care homes that may by necessity be established by rule of the state board;

(q) (I) Standards for the training of foster care parents, which shall include, at a minimum:

(A) Twenty-seven hours of initial training, consisting of at least twelve hours of training prior to the placement of a child and completion of the remaining training within three months after such placement;

(B) Twenty hours per year of continuing training for foster care parents;

(C) In addition to the hours described in sub-subparagraph (B) of this subparagraph (I), twelve hours per year for foster care parents providing therapeutic foster care; and

(D) Training concerning individualized education programs as defined in section 22-20-103 (15), C.R.S. The departments of human services and education shall ensure coordination between local county departments of human or social services and local school districts or administrative units to make such training available upon the request of a foster parent.

(II) The training described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (q) may include, but shall not be limited to, in-home training.

(III) The department shall consult with county departments and child placement agencies in prescribing such standards in order to insure a more uniform application throughout the state.

(IV) The hours of training prior to the placement of a child that is described in sub-subparagraph (A) of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (q) may be completed within four months after such placement if such placement was an emergency placement, as such term shall be defined by rule of the state board.

(r) Initial and ongoing training of providers of foster care services in facilities licensed and certified pursuant to this part 1, including orientation and prelicensing training for child placement agency staff;

(s) Standards for the training of providers of cradle care home services that shall be substantially similar to the training required of adoptive parents prior to adopting an infant, including ongoing training hours appropriate to the services provided.

(3) Any applicant or person licensed to operate a child care facility or agency under the provisions of this part 1 has the right to appeal any standard that, in his or her opinion, works an undue hardship or when, in his or her opinion, a standard has been too stringently applied by representatives of the department. The department shall designate a panel of persons representing various state and local governmental agencies with an interest in and concern for children to hear such appeal and to make recommendations to the department.

The membership of the appeals review panel shall include, but need not be limited to, a representative from child care providers, a representative from a local early childhood council or local child care resource and referral agency, a state-level early childhood representative with early care and education expertise, and a parent representative. All members to the appeals review panel shall be appointed by the executive director or his or her designee and shall serve terms of no more than three years. Representatives to the appeals review panel may serve successive terms.

(4) The state board may promulgate rules to regulate the operation of out-of-home placement provider consortia. The regulation shall not include licensure of out-of-home placement provider consortia.

(5) The state board shall promulgate rules to define the requirements for licensure for a licensed host family home serving homeless youth pursuant to the "Homeless Youth Act", article 5.7 of this title.

(6) (a) A county director of social services, or his or her designee, may approve, at his or her discretion, a waiver of non-safety licensing standards for kinship foster care. A waiver may only be approved if:

(I) It concerns non-safety licensing standards, as set forth by rule of the state board pursuant to paragraph (d) of this subsection (6);

(II) The safety and well-being of the child or children receiving care is not compromised; and

(III) The waiver request is in writing.

(b) In addition to an approved waiver of non-safety licensing standards, a county director of social services, or his or her designee, may limit or restrict a license issued to a kinship foster care entity or require that entity to enter into a compliance agreement to ensure the safety and well-being of the child or children in that entity's care.

(c) A kinship foster care entity may not appeal a denial of a waiver requested pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (6).

(d) The state board shall promulgate rules concerning the waiver of non-safety licensing standards for kinship foster care. The rules shall include, but need not be limited to, a listing of non-safety licensing standards that may not be waived and circumstances in which waivers do not apply. The state board shall also define by rule the meaning of "kinship foster care" for the purposes of this subsection (6).

county departments to which the applicant had previously applied, to obtain information about the application and any certification given by such child placement agencies and county departments. A child placement agency or county department from whom the certification is sought shall conduct a reference check of the applicant and any adult resident of the foster care home who is acting as a care giver by contacting all of the child placement agencies and county departments identified by the applicant before issuing the certification for that foster care home. Child placement agencies and county departments shall be held harmless for information released, in good faith, to other child placement agencies or county departments.

(a.7) For all family foster care or kinship care applicants, regardless of reimbursement, the county department or child placement agency shall require each adult who is eighteen years of age or older and who resides in the home to obtain a fingerprint-based criminal history records check through the Colorado bureau of investigation and the federal bureau of investigation. In addition to the fingerprint-based criminal history records check, the county department or child placement agency shall contact the appropriate entity in each state in which the applicant or any adult residing in the home has resided within the preceding five years to determine whether the adult has been found to be responsible in a confirmed report of child abuse or neglect. The screening request in Colorado shall be made pursuant to section 19-1-307 (2) (k.5), C.R.S., rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 19-3-313.5, C.R.S., and 42 U.S.C. 671 (a) (20). An investigation pursuant to this paragraph (a.7) shall be conducted for any new resident adult whenever the adult is added to the family foster care home or kinship care home. Information obtained from any state records of abuse or neglect shall not be used for any purpose other than conducting the investigation for placement or certification.

(b) (I) When the state department, county department, or child placement agency is able to certify that the applicant or licensee is competent and will operate adequate facilities to care for children under the requirements of this part 1 and that standards are being met and will be complied with, it shall issue the license for which applied. The state department shall inspect or cause to be inspected the facilities to be operated by an applicant for an original license before the license is granted and shall thereafter inspect or cause to be inspected the facilities of all licensees that, during the period of licensure, have been found to be the subject of complaints or to be out of compliance with the standards set forth in section 26-6-106 and the rules of the state department or that otherwise appear to be placing children at risk. The state department may make such other inspections as it deems necessary to ensure that the requirements of this article are being met and that the health, safety, and welfare of the children being placed are protected. If, as a result of an inspection of a certified foster care home, the state department determines that any child residing in such foster care home is subject to an immediate and direct threat to his or her safety and welfare as defined by rules promulgated by the state board or that a substantial violation of a fundamental standard of care warrants immediate action, the state department may require a county department to immediately remove such child from the foster care home.

(II) The state board shall adopt rules concerning the on-site public availability of the most recent inspection report results of child care center facilities and family child care home facilities, when requested. The state board shall also adopt rules concerning a requirement that all facilities licensed under this part 1 post their licenses and information regarding the procedures for filing a complaint under this part 1 directly with the state department, which rules shall require that each such facility display its license and complaint procedures in a prominent and conspicuous location at all times during operational hours of the facility; except that such rules shall not require foster care homes to post their licenses and such rules shall not require foster care homes and child placement agencies to post information regarding the procedures for filing a complaint under this part 1 directly with the state department. The state board shall adopt rules requiring foster care homes to make their licenses available to their patrons for inspection, upon request, and requiring foster care homes and child placement agencies to make the information concerning the filing of complaints available to their patrons for inspection, upon request.

(III) If, as a result of an inspection of a licensed child care center facility or family child care home facility, the state department determines that there were no serious violations of any of the standards prescribed and published by the state department or any of the provisions of this part 1, within twenty days after completing the inspection the state department shall send a written notice to such facility indicating such fact. Within ten days after receipt of such written notice, the licensee shall provide a copy of the written notice to the parents and legal guardians of the children cared for at the child care center facility or family child care home facility.

(2) (a) (I) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (a), the state department may authorize or contract with any county department, the county department of health, or any other publicly or privately operated organization that has a declared interest in children and experience working with children or on behalf of children to investigate and inspect the facilities applying for an original or renewal license or applying for a permanent license following the issuance of a probationary or provisional license under this part 1 and may accept reports on such investigations and inspections from such agencies or organizations as a basis for such licensing. When contracting for investigations and inspections, the state department shall assure that the contractor is qualified by training and experience and has no conflict of interest with respect to the facilities to be inspected.

(II) The state department shall not authorize or contract with any county department, the county department of health, or any other publicly or privately operated organization that has a declared interest in children and experience working with children or on behalf of children for investigations and inspections described in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) of any facilities that provide twenty-four-hour care and are licensed pursuant to this part 1.

(b) A city, county, or city and county may impose and enforce higher standards and requirements for facilities licensed under this part 1 than the standards and requirements specified under this part 1.

(3) Every facility licensed under this part 1 shall keep and maintain such records as the department may prescribe pertaining to the admission, progress, health, and discharge of children under the care of the facility, and shall report relative thereto to the department whenever called for, upon forms prescribed by the department. All records regarding children and all facts learned about children and their relatives shall be kept confidential both by the facility and the department.

(4) Within available appropriations, the state department shall monitor, on at least a quarterly basis, the county department certification of foster care homes.

26-6-107.5. Response to complaints - addition of child care facility inspectors.

(1) When the state department receives a serious complaint about a child care facility licensed pursuant to this part 1 alleging the immediate risk of health or safety of the children cared for in such facility, the state department shall respond to and conduct an on-site investigation concerning such complaint within forty-eight hours of its receipt.

(2) (a) (I) The general assembly hereby finds that an audit completed by the state auditor's office in 1995 reported that the state department had not properly and timely carried out all of its child care facility licensing functions due to insufficient staff. The general assembly further finds that, in an effort to use the state department's limited child care resources more effectively and efficiently, it passed legislation in 1996 implementing a risk-based approach to inspecting and monitoring child care facilities in place of the mandatory biennial reviews of every facility. The general assembly finds that it was determined in a follow-up audit conducted by the state auditor's office in 1998, that the state department was still at least one month late in conducting inspections of approximately twenty-two percent of the child care facilities in Colorado. In addition, of those facilities assigned a high risk factor and thereby requiring inspections more frequently than every twelve months, twenty-six percent were at least three months past due. In evaluating the implementation of the risk-based approach to inspection and monitoring of child care facilities, the general assembly finds that the implementation of this approach has actually increased the state department's workload by approximately sixteen percent.

(II) The general assembly further finds that a national study conducted by the center for career development in early care and education at Wheelock College concluded that Colorado's child care facility licensing staff had caseloads of approximately two hundred fifty child care centers per full-time equivalent employee and five hundred family child care homes per full-time equivalent employee. The general assembly finds that the caseloads of Colorado child care employees within the division greatly exceed the number of cases recommended by the national association for the education of young children, which organization has recommended that child care regulators' caseloads should not exceed seventy-five centers and large family homes per full-time equivalent employee.

(III) The general assembly further finds that the insufficient number of child care facility inspectors puts children at risk particularly when serious complaints of an immediate nature concerning a child care facility are lodged with the state department and the department is unable to respond promptly and conduct an on-site investigation of the complaint.

(IV) The general assembly hereby determines that the health and safety of the children of the state of Colorado in child care facilities is of utmost concern and importance to the state. The general assembly further finds that the timely and proper inspection of child care facilities and prompt responses to serious complaints about a child care facility are priorities and that, in order to facilitate such timely inspections and responses to complaints, the state department should be provided with the ability to contract with the necessary personnel needed to conduct the required inspections and investigations on a thorough and timely basis. Accordingly, the general assembly determines that it is in the best interests of the citizens of the state of Colorado that the number of persons contracted for and charged with the duty of inspecting, monitoring, and responding to complaints in child care facilities in the state of Colorado be increased.

(b) For the purposes of conducting thorough and timely inspections of child care facilities licensed pursuant to this part 1 and for the purposes of providing sufficient inspectors to conduct prompt responses and investigations as directed in subsection (1) of this section when the state department receives a serious complaint against a child care facility licensed pursuant to this part 1, in fiscal year 2000-01, the number of inspectors shall be increased by eighteen contract inspectors from the number of inspectors in fiscal year 1999-2000.

26-6-107.7. Revocation of certification of foster care home - emergency procedures - due process. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a county department may act immediately to revoke the certification of a county-certified foster care home when the county department has reason to believe that a child residing in such foster care home is subject to an immediate and direct threat to his or her safety and welfare or when a substantial violation of a fundamental standard of care warrants immediate action. If the county department acts pursuant to this section, a due process hearing shall be held within five days after such action and conducted as such hearing would normally be conducted pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

26-6-108. Denial of license - suspension - revocation - probation - refusal to renew license - fines. (1) When an application for a license has been denied by the department, the department shall notify the applicant in writing of the denial by mailing a notice to him or her at the address shown on the application. Any applicant believing himself or herself aggrieved by the denial may pursue the remedy for review as provided in subsection (3) of this section if he or she, within thirty days after receiving the notice, petitions the department to set a date and place for hearing, affording him or her an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel. All hearings on the denial of licenses shall be conducted in conformity with the provisions and procedures specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as in the case of the suspension and revocation of licenses.

(2) The department may deny an application, or suspend, revoke, or make probationary the license of any facility regulated and licensed under this part 1 or assess a fine against the licensee pursuant to section 26-6-114 should the licensee, an affiliate of the licensee, a person employed by the licensee, or a person who resides with the licensee at the facility:

(a) Be convicted of any felony, other than those offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7), or child abuse, as specified in section 18-6-401, C.R.S., the record of conviction being conclusive evidence thereof, notwithstanding section 24-5-101, C.R.S., or have entered into a deferred judgment agreement or a deferred prosecution agreement to any felony, other than those offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7), child abuse, as specified in section 18-6-401, C.R.S., or should the department have a certified court order from another state indicating that the applicant, licensee, person employed by the licensee, or any person residing with the licensee has been convicted of a felony, other than those offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7), under a law of any other state or the United States or has entered into a deferred judgment agreement or a deferred prosecution agreement in another state as to a felony, other than those offenses specified in section 26-6-104 (7); or

(a.5) Be convicted of third degree assault, as described in section 18-3-204, C.R.S., any misdemeanor, the underlying factual basis of which has been found by the court on the record to include an act of domestic violence, as defined in section 18-6-800.3, C.R.S., the violation of a protection order, as described in section 18-6-803.5, C.R.S., any misdemeanor offense of child abuse as defined in section 18-6-401, C.R.S., or any misdemeanor offense in any other state, the elements of which are substantially similar to the elements of any one of the offenses described in this paragraph (a.5). For purposes of this paragraph (a.5), "convicted" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 26-6-104 (7) (a) (II); or

(b) Be determined to be insane or mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction and, should a court enter, pursuant to part 3 or part 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., or section 27-65-109 (4) or 27-65-127, C.R.S., an order specifically finding that the mental incompetency or insanity is of such a degree that the licensee is incapable of operating a family child care home, foster care home, or child care center, the record of such determination and entry of such order being conclusive evidence thereof; or

(c) Use any controlled substance, as defined in section 18-18-102 (5), C.R.S., or consume any alcoholic beverage during the operating hours of the facility or be under the influence of a controlled substance or alcoholic beverage during the operating hours of the facility; or

(c.5) Be convicted of unlawful use of a controlled substance as specified in section 18-18-404, C.R.S., unlawful distribution, manufacturing, dispensing, sale, or possession of a controlled substance as specified in section 18-18-403.5, 18-18-405, or 18-18-405.5, C.R.S., or unlawful offenses relating to marijuana or marijuana concentrate as specified in section 18-18-406, C.R.S.; or

(d) Consistently fail to maintain standards prescribed and published by the department; or

(e) Furnish or make any misleading or any false statement or report to the department; or

(f) Refuse to submit to the department any reports or refuse to make available to the department any records required by it in making investigation of the facility for licensing purposes; or

(g) Fail or refuse to submit to an investigation or inspection by the department or to admit authorized representatives of the department at any reasonable time for the purpose of investigation or inspection; or

(h) Fail to provide, maintain, equip, and keep in safe and sanitary condition premises established or used for child care pursuant to standards prescribed by the department of public health and environment and the department of human services or by ordinances or regulations applicable to the location of such facility; or

(i) Willfully or deliberately violate any of the provisions of this part 1; or

(j) Fail to maintain financial resources adequate for the satisfactory care of children served in regard to upkeep of premises and provision for personal care, medical services, clothing, and other essentials in the proper care of children; or

(k) Be charged with the commission of an act of child abuse or an unlawful sexual offense, as specified in section 18-3-411 (1), C.R.S., if:

(I) Such individual has admitted committing the act or offense and the admission is documented or uncontroverted; or

(II) The administrative law judge finds that such charge is supported by substantial evidence; or

(l) Admit to an act of child abuse or if substantial evidence is found that the licensee, person employed by the licensee, or person who resides with the licensee in the licensed facility has committed an act of child abuse. For the purposes of this paragraph (l), "child abuse" has the same meaning as that ascribed to the term "abuse" or "child abuse or neglect" in section 19-1-103 (1), C.R.S.; or

(m) Be the subject of a negative licensing action; or

(n) Misuse any public funds that are provided to any foster care home or any child placement agency that places or arranges for placement of a child in foster care for the purposes of providing foster care services, child placement services related to the provision of foster care, or any administrative costs related to the provision of such foster care services or such foster-care-related child placement services. The state board shall promulgate rules defining the term "misuse", which rules shall take into account similar definitions in federal law and may include references to relevant circulars of the federal office of management and budget.

(2.2) The state department may deny an application to renew a license based on the grounds set forth in subsection (2) of this section. The denial is effective upon the expiration of the existing license. The existing license shall not continue in effect even though the applicant for renewal files a request for hearing or appeal.

(2.3) The state department may deny an application for a child care facility license pursuant to this part 1 if such applicant is a relative affiliate of a licensee, as described in section 26-6-102 (1) (d), of a child care facility licensed pursuant to this part 1, which licensee is the subject of a previous negative licensing action or is the subject of a pending investigation by the state department that may result in a negative licensing action.

(2.4) The state department may deny an application for a child placement agency license pursuant to this part 1 if such applicant is a relative affiliate of a licensee, as described in section 26-6-102 (1) (d), of a child placement agency licensed pursuant to this part 1, which licensee is the subject of a previous negative licensing action or is the subject of a pending investigation by the state department that may result in a negative licensing action.

(2.5) (a) (I) The state department shall deny an application for a license under the circumstances described in section 26-6-104 (7). The state department shall revoke or suspend a license previously issued if:

(A) The licensee, person employed by the licensee, or person residing with the licensee is thereafter convicted or if it is later discovered that the licensee, person employed by the licensee, or person residing with the licensee had previously been convicted of any of the criminal offenses set forth in section 26-6-104 (7); or

(B) The department has a certified court order from another state indicating that the licensee, person employed by the licensee, or person residing with the licensee is thereafter convicted of, or if it is later discovered that the licensee, person employed by the licensee, or person residing with the licensee had previously been convicted of a criminal offense under a law of any other state or of the United States that is similar to any of the criminal offenses set forth in section 26-6-104 (7); or

(C) The licensee, an affiliate of the licensee, a person employed by the licensee, or a person who resides with the licensee at the facility has been determined to be insane or mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction and, should a court enter, pursuant to part 3 or part 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., or section 27-65-109 (4) or 27-65-127, C.R.S., an order specifically finding that the mental incompetency or insanity is of such a degree that the licensee is incapable of operating a family child care home, foster care home, or child care center, the record of such determination and entry of such order being conclusive evidence thereof.

(II) For purposes of this paragraph (a), “convicted” means a conviction by a jury or by a court and shall also include a deferred judgment and sentence agreement, a deferred prosecution agreement, a deferred adjudication agreement, an adjudication, and a plea of guilty or nolo contendere.

(b) A certified copy of the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction of such conviction or deferred judgment and sentence agreement, deferred prosecution agreement, deferred adjudication agreement, or a certified court order from another state indicating such an agreement from another state shall be prima facie evidence of such conviction or agreement.

(2.7) The department may assess fines, pursuant to the provisions of section 26-6-114, against a licensee or a person employed by the licensee who willfully and deliberately or consistently violates the standards prescribed and published by the department or the provisions of this part 1.

(2.9) The convictions identified in this section shall be determined according to the records of the Colorado bureau of investigation, the ICON system at the state judicial department, or any other source, as set forth in section 26-6-107 (1) (a) (1.5).

(3) The department shall suspend or revoke a license only in conformity with the provisions and procedures specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., and after a hearing thereon as provided in said article 4; except that all hearings under this part 1 shall be conducted by an administrative law judge of the department who shall render his or her recommendation to the executive director of the department of human services who shall render the final decision of the department, and no licensee shall be entitled to a right to cure any of the charges described in paragraph (a), (b), (c), or (k) (I) of subsection (2) of this section. No such hearing shall prevent or delay any injunctive proceedings instituted under the provisions of section 26-6-111.

(4) The provisions of paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of this section shall not apply to foster care homes, unless such use or consumption impairs the licensee's ability to properly care for children.

(5) Only upon the request of a county department, a child placement agency licensed pursuant to this part 1 that places or arranges for placement of a child in foster care may certify the home of a relative of the child placed therein as a foster care home.

ANNOTATION

Day care license revocation proceedings are civil in nature, but they occur in an administrative agency context. McPeck v. Colo. Dept. of Soc. Servs., 919 P.2d 942 (Colo. App. 1996).

Applied in Cavanaugh v. State Dept. of Soc. Servs., 644 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1982), appeal dismissed for want of substantial federal question, 459 U.S. 1011, 103 S. Ct. 367, 74 L. Ed.2d 504 (1982), reh'g denied, 460 U.S. 1104, 103 S. Ct. 1806, 76 L. Ed.2d 369 (1983).

26-6-108.5. Notice of negative licensing action - filing of complaints. (1) (a) When a child care center facility or family child care home facility licensed pursuant to this part 1 has been notified by the department of a negative licensing action or the imposition of a fine pursuant to section 26-6-108 (2) and (2.7), it shall, within ten days after receipt of the notice, provide the department with the names and mailing addresses of the parents or legal guardians of each child cared for at the child care center facility or family child care home facility. The department shall maintain the confidentiality of the names and mailing addresses provided to it pursuant to this subsection (1).

(b) Within twenty days after receipt of the names and addresses of parents and legal guardians pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), the department shall send a written notice to each such parent or legal guardian identifying the negative licensing action or the fine imposed and providing a description of the basis for the action as it relates to the impact on the health, safety, and welfare of the children in the care of the facility. Such notice shall be sent to the parents and legal guardians by first-class mail.

(c) The state board shall promulgate rules concerning the assessment of a fine against a licensee that is equal to the direct and indirect costs associated with the mailing of the notice described in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) against the facility.

(d) Nothing in this subsection (1) shall be construed to preclude the department or a county department of social services from notifying parents of serious violations of any of the standards prescribed and published by the department or any of the provisions of this part 1 that could impact the health, safety, or welfare of a child cared for at the facility or home.

(2) The state board shall promulgate rules requiring child care center facilities and family child care home facilities to provide written notice to the parents and legal guardians of the children cared for in such facilities of the procedures by which to file a complaint against the facility or an employee of the facility with the division of child care in the department. Such rules shall specify what information the notice shall contain, but shall require that the notice include the current mailing address and telephone number of the division of child care in the department.

(3) The department shall track and record complaints made to the department that are brought against family child care homes and shall identify which complaints were brought against licensed family child care homes, as defined in section 26-6-102 (4), unlicensed family child care homes, or legally exempt family child care homes, as defined in 26-6-103 (1) (g).

26-6-109. Advisory committee - sunset review - institutes. (1) (a) There is hereby created an advisory committee on licensing of child care facilities to advise and consult with the department in the administration and enforcement of this part 1. The committee shall consist of fifteen members to be appointed by the governor for terms of three years; except that, of the members first appointed, four shall be appointed for three years, four for two years, and three for one year. Thereafter, members shall be appointed for terms of three years except in the case of a vacancy that shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term. A member may be appointed to succeed himself or herself and may continue to serve on the committee beyond the end of his or her term until the governor appoints a successor. Members who have been appointed to fill the remainder of an unexpired term may be appointed to fill the succeeding full term.

(b) The members of the advisory committee shall serve without compensation but shall be entitled to their reasonable traveling expenses incurred in the performance of their duties, which shall be paid as a part of the expenses of administering this part 1.

(c) The committee shall consist of nine members who shall represent the various types of facilities licensed under the provisions of this part 1, four members representing various state and local governmental agencies with an interest in and concern for children, and two members at large who are parents, each having at least one child attending a facility licensed or certified under this part 1 at the time of such members' appointment.

(d) A majority of the members of the committee shall constitute a quorum, the presence of which at any meeting thereof duly called by the department shall have full and complete power to act upon and resolve in the name of the committee any matter or question referred to it by the department. The committee, as soon after appointment as practicable, shall elect from among its members a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary who shall hold office until their successors are elected. The chairman shall preside at all meetings of the committee, and the secretary shall make a record of the proceedings thereof that shall be preserved in the office of the department. All members of the committee shall be entitled to vote on any matter or question that properly comes before it.

(2) The department is authorized to hold institutes and programs for licensees under this part 1 in order to assist in the improvement of standards and practices of facilities operated and maintained by licensees and in the more efficient and practical administration and enforcement of this part 1. In conducting such institutes and programs, the department may request the assistance of health, education, and fire safety officials.

26-6-110. Acceptance of federal grants. The department is authorized to accept, on behalf of the state, any grants of federal funds made available for any purposes consistent with the provisions of this part 1. The executive director of the department, with the approval of the governor, has the power to direct the disposition of any such grants so accepted in conformity with the terms and conditions under which given.

26-6-111. Injunctive proceedings. The department, in the name of the people of the state of Colorado, through the attorney general of the state, may apply for an injunction in any court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin any person from operating any facility without a license that is required to be licensed under this part 1. An injunction may also be requested by the appropriate county department through the county attorney or retained counsel. If it is established that the defendant has been or is so operating such facility, the court shall enter a decree enjoining said defendant from further operating such facility unless and until he obtains a license therefor. In case of violation of any injunction issued under the provisions of this section, the court may summarily try and punish the offender for contempt of court. Such injunctive proceedings shall be in addition to and not in lieu of the penalty provided in section 26-6-112.

26-6-113. Periodic review of licensing regulations and procedures. (1) The general assembly finds that changes in demographics and economic trends in Colorado have increased the need for high quality and affordable child care. The general assembly also recognizes that the provision of child care in this state and in the nation is a rapidly growing industry subject to many changes. The general assembly further finds that there is a need for continuing comprehensive review of the rules and regulations and the licensing procedures governing child care centers, family child care homes, and foster care homes that includes the adequate and full participation of parents, consumers, child care providers, and interested persons. The general assembly finds that such a review with the goal of identifying problems in the fragmentation and lack of uniformity of standards in the licensing process would benefit the state and result in improvements in the regulation of this industry that is so vital to the health and well-being of the state's children and citizens.

(2) Beginning with fiscal year 1995-1996, an initial comprehensive rule and regulation review shall be conducted in conjunction with the performance audit required by section 26-6-107 (1.5), and, at least every fifth fiscal year thereafter, a comprehensive review of the licensing rules and regulations for child care centers, family child care homes, and foster care homes and the procedures relating to and governing child care centers, family child care homes, and foster care homes shall be conducted by the department, including procedures for the review of backgrounds of employees and owners. In conducting such periodic review, the department shall consult with parents and consumers of child care, child care providers, the department of public health and environment, experts in the child care field, and other interested parties throughout the state. The periodic review shall include an examination of the rules and regulations applicable to child care centers, family child care homes, and foster care homes, the process of licensing such facilities, uniformity of standards or lack thereof in the licensing process, statewide standardization of investigations and enforcement of licensing by the department, duplication and conflicts in regulations, requirements, or procedures between the department and the department of public health and environment, and recommendations for streamlining and unifying the licensing process. Said review shall also include an examination of regulations and procedures regarding the general physical and mental health of employees and owners. At the conclusion of each review, the department shall report its findings and conclusions and its recommendations for administrative changes and for legislation to the state board, the advisory committee on licensing of child care facilities, and the executive director of the department of public health and environment.

26-6-114. Civil penalties - fines - child care cash fund - created. (1) In addition to any other penalty otherwise provided by law, any person violating any provision of this part 1 or intentionally making any false statement or report to the department or to any agency delegated by the department to make an investigation or inspection under the provisions of this part 1 may be assessed a civil penalty of not more than one hundred dollars a day to a maximum of ten thousand dollars.

(2) The amount of the civil penalties to be assessed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be set in rules and regulations promulgated by the department.

(3) Each day in which a person is in violation of any provision of this part 1 may constitute a separate offense.

(4) The department may assess a civil penalty in conformity with the provisions and procedures specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.; except that all hearings conducted pursuant to this section shall be before an administrative law judge of the department, who shall render his or her recommendation to the executive director of the department who shall render the final decision of the department.

(5) The fines collected pursuant to this section, section 26-6-108 (2) and (2.7), and section 26-6-108.5 (1) (c) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the child care cash fund, which fund is hereby created in the state treasury. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund. Moneys in the child care cash fund are hereby continuously appropriated to the department to fund activities related to the improvement of the quality of child care in the state of Colorado.

26-6-116. Child care resource and referral system - created. (1) The state department shall design and develop a child care resource and referral system, referred to in this section as the "system", to assist in promoting availability, accessibility, and quality of child care services in Colorado. The executive director, or his or her designee, shall have the authority, within available appropriations, to designate a public or private entity that shall be responsible for the administration of the system, and may enter into a contract with the administering entity for such purpose. The executive director shall designate or redesignate such administering entity on a biennial basis.

(2) The state department shall report to the members of the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives of the general assembly, or any successor committees, concerning the child care resource and referral system by December 1, 2001, and by each December 1 thereafter. The report shall specify, at a minimum, the entity that the state department has currently designated to administer the system and the qualifications of that entity to serve in such capacity, the types of services that are being provided pursuant to the system, the numbers and types of persons receiving such services, and the cost associated with the system.

26-6-117. Accreditation standards for county departments and child placement agencies - study. (1) No later than July 1, 2002, the state department shall study:

(a) Standards for assessing the quality and performance of foster care in foster care homes certified by county departments or by child placement agencies based upon national standards for foster care services;

(b) Standards for the accreditation of county departments and child placement agencies for purposes of foster care services based upon accreditation standards of a nationally recognized accrediting body of child welfare and social services organizations.

(2) In conducting such study on accreditation standards, the state department shall compare the merits of writing its own standards with the merits of contracting with a national accrediting body. The study shall include, but is not limited to, analyzing the following:

(a) The fiscal impact on the state, counties, and providers, including the cost of:

(I) Writing standards;

(II) Contracting with a national accrediting body, including all fees and travel expenses;

(III) Training;

(IV) Implementation;

(V) Potential corrective action;

(VI) Staff time of county departments and child placement agencies to meet the accreditation standards;

(VII) Collecting and evaluating data relating to accreditation standards;

(b) The time frame for implementation of accreditation standards;

(c) Sanctions for failing to meet the accreditation standards.

(3) Repealed.

26-6-118. Child placement agencies - information sharing - investigations by state department - recovery of moneys - rule-making. (1) If a county department has substantiated evidence that a child placement agency with which the county has contracted to provide foster care services has violated the provisions of this part 1 or any rule of the state board, it shall communicate such information to the state department. A county department shall also identify whether it is requesting the state department to investigate a complaint against a child placement agency for possible negative licensing action against the child placement agency.

(2) Upon receipt of a request for investigation of a child placement agency from a county department, the state department shall commence an investigation and, upon conclusion, report its findings to the requesting county department. The state department shall include in its report to the county department the child placement agency's response, if any, to the findings.

(3) The state department shall provide to county departments and affected child placement agencies direct access to information concerning the results of any investigation or negative licensing action taken against the affected child placement agency licensed to provide foster care services in Colorado.

(4) (a) The state department, in collaboration with the federal department of health and human services and other federal agencies and with county departments, shall seek recovery from a child placement agency of any public funds that have been misused by the child placement agency, as the term "misuse" is defined by rules promulgated pursuant to section 26-6-108 (2) (n).

(b) Any county and child placement agency entering into a contract for the provision of foster care services shall include a provision in the contract that recognizes a right of the state department or county department to recover any funds misused by the child placement agency and to withhold subsequent payments. The provision in the contract shall provide for an appeal of the decision to recover or withhold the funds. The state board shall promulgate rules that set forth the procedures for the appeal, which rules shall require, at a minimum, reasonable notice to the child placement agency.

26-6-119. Family child care homes - administration of routine medications - parental direction - rules. (1) The delegation of nursing tasks by a registered nurse pursuant to section 12-38-132, C.R.S., shall not be required for the administration of routine medications by a child care provider to children cared for in family child care homes licensed pursuant to this part 1, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The parent of the child cared for in the licensed family child care home has daily physical contact with the child care provider that actually administers the routine medication;

(b) The child care provider has successfully completed a medication administration instructional program that is approved by the state department;

(c) Routine medications are administered in compliance with rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to subsection (2) of this section;

(d) If the routine medication involves the administration of unit dose epinephrine, the administration is accompanied by a written protocol by the prescribing health care professional that identifies the factors for determining the need for the administration of the medication, and is limited to emergency situations; and

(e) If the routine medication involves the administration of a nebulized inhaled medication, the administration is accompanied by a written protocol by the prescribing health care professional that identifies the factors for determining the need for the administration of the medication.

(2) The state board shall promulgate rules concerning the medically acceptable procedures and standards to be followed by child care providers administering routine medications to children cared for in family child care homes.

26-6-120. Exempt family child care home providers - fingerprint-based criminal history record check - child care assistance program moneys - temporary care - definitions. (1) (a) (I) An exempt family child care home provider who provides care for a child and an individual who provides care for a child who is related to the individual, referred to collectively in this section as a “qualified provider”, shall be subject to a fingerprint-based criminal history record check, referred to in this section as an “FCC”, as provided in this section and the rules authorized in section 26-6-107 (1) (a) (I) and (1) (a) (I.5), if the child’s care is funded in whole or in part with moneys received on the child’s behalf from the publicly funded Colorado child care assistance program. The provisions of this section shall apply to exempt family child care home providers or individuals who provide care to a related child who receive moneys from the publicly funded Colorado child care assistance program pursuant to contracts or other payment agreements entered into or renewed on or after May 25, 2006.

(II) Each adult eighteen years of age or older who resides with a qualified provider where the care is provided, referred to in this section as a “qualified adult”, shall be subject to the FCC required pursuant to this section.

(III) The FCC required for a qualified provider or qualified adult pursuant to this section shall include a fingerprint-based criminal history records check utilizing the records of the Colorado bureau of investigation and, for qualified providers or qualified adults applying for child care assistance program moneys on or after August 10, 2011, the federal bureau of investigation. As part of the FCC, the state department shall access the records and reports of child abuse or neglect maintained by the state department to determine whether the subject of the FCC has been found to be responsible in a confirmed report of child abuse or neglect. Information shall be made available pursuant to section 19-1-307 (2) (j), C.R.S., and rules promulgated by the state board pursuant to section 19-3-313.5 (4), C.R.S.

(IV) The FCC required pursuant to this section shall be a prerequisite to the issuance or renewal of a contract for receipt of moneys under the Colorado child care assistance program as provided in part 8 of article 2 of this title. The state department shall not issue or renew a contract for payment of moneys under the Colorado child care assistance program to a qualified provider who fails to submit to the FCC or fails to submit fingerprints for a qualified adult.

(b) A qualified provider shall notify the county with whom he or she has contracted pursuant to the Colorado child care assistance program upon any change of circumstances that results in the presence of a new qualified adult. A new qualified adult is required to undergo an FCC as provided in this section, even if the Colorado child care assistance program contract is not subject to renewal when the qualified adult moves into the residence where the care is provided.

(c) A qualified provider or qualified adult who undergoes an FCC shall, with submittal of his or her fingerprints, pay to the state department a fee established by rule of the state board pursuant to subsection (5) of this section to offset the costs associated with processing the FCC through the Colorado bureau of investigation and the federal bureau of investigation.

(2) A contract to provide moneys under the Colorado child care assistance program pursuant to part 8 of article 2 of this title shall not be issued or renewed by the state department or a county department to a qualified provider if the qualified provider or a qualified adult has been convicted of:

(a) Child abuse, as described in section 18-6-401, C.R.S.;

(b) A crime of violence, as defined in section 18-1.3-406, C.R.S.;

(c) Any felony offense involving unlawful sexual behavior, as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S.;

(d) Any felony, the underlying factual basis of which has been found by the court on the record to include an act of domestic violence, as defined in section 18-6-800.3, C.R.S.;

(e) Any felony involving physical assault, battery, or a drug-related offense within the five years preceding the date of the FCC; or

(f) Any offense in any other state, the elements of which are substantially similar to the elements of any one of the offenses described in paragraphs (a) to (e) of this subsection (2).

(3) A contract to provide moneys under the Colorado child care assistance program pursuant to part 8 of article 2 of this title shall not be issued or renewed by the state department or a county department to a qualified provider if the qualified provider or a qualified adult:

(a) Has a pattern of misdemeanor convictions occurring within the ten years preceding submission of the application. A pattern of misdemeanor convictions shall be defined by rule of the state board; or

(b) Has been determined to be insane or mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction and a court has entered, pursuant to part 3 or 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., or section 27-65-109 (4) or 27-65-127, C.R.S., an order specifically finding that the mental incompetency or insanity is of such a degree that the qualified provider cannot safely operate a child care home. The record of such determination and entry of such order shall be conclusive evidence thereof. A qualified provider shall sign an attestation affirming the lack of such a finding prior to entering into or renewing a contract for moneys under the Colorado child care assistance program, pursuant to section 26-2-805.5 (2).

(4) A qualified provider who has submitted to an FCC by the Colorado bureau of investigation and the federal bureau of investigation may, pending the receipt of the results of the FCC, continue to receive moneys from the Colorado child care assistance program.

(5) The state board shall promulgate rules to establish the amount of the fee to collect from a qualified provider or qualified adult who is subject to an FCC pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. The state department is authorized to collect the fee at the time of the FCC.

26-6-121. Preschools - unique student identifying numbers - rules. (1) On or before September 1, 2008, the executive director, in cooperation with the commissioner of education, shall convene a working group, as described in section 22-2-134, C.R.S., to review the issues pertaining to the assignment of a uniquely identifying student number to children who receive state-subsidized or federally subsidized early childhood education services, including but not limited to services provided through the child care development block grant and head start.

(2) The working group shall adopt protocols by which the department of education, the department of human services, school districts, charter schools, the early childhood councils, as described in section 26-6.5-103.3, and the early childhood care and education councils, as defined in section 26-6.5-101.5 (6), shall cooperate in assigning the uniquely identifying student numbers. The working group shall also consider methods by which to encourage and facilitate the assignment of uniquely identifying student numbers to students who are receiving early childhood education services that are not subsidized by state or federal funding.

(3) Following adoption of the protocols, the state board shall promulgate rules pursuant to the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as necessary for the assignment of uniquely identifying student numbers to students receiving early childhood education services. The state board shall collaborate with the state board of education in promulgating any necessary rules to ensure that they do not conflict with any rules promulgated by the state board of education pursuant to section 22-2-134, C.R.S.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE QUALITY CHILD CARE STANDARDS PILOT PROGRAM

26-6-601. Short title. This part 6 shall be known and may be cited as the "Department of Defense Quality Child Care Standards Pilot Program".

Source: L. 2011: Entire part added, (HB 11-1027), ch. 28, p. 68, § 1, effective March 17.

26-6-602. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and determines that:

(a) Providing quality child care is vital to the health and well-being of the children of Colorado;

(b) The human capacity to develop and change is greatest from birth to five years of age when the brain is most malleable and able to change in response to education and stimulation;

(c) The investment made in early childhood care benefits children, parents, and the community in the long term. Statistics consistently show that investment in early childhood education and programs prevents some children from entering the criminal justice system, which, in turn, diminishes jail or prison costs. Children who were enrolled in prekindergarten programs are also more likely to have better employment and higher wages over their lifetimes.

(d) As a result, there is a great demand for expensive remedial programs to address learning and behavior problems in later years when change is far more difficult to achieve; and

(e) Implementing strategies so that children become successful early learners helps reduce the need for expensive later remediation programs.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that:

(a) The provision of child care enables parents to work, thus generating extra dollars for local and state economies;

(b) Military facilities currently do not have enough spaces to care for all the children who need child care and early learning environments, yet providing early learning programs to children of the military is especially important during times of stress related to deployment of their parents; and

(c) Federal dollars shall be available to military families to subsidize off-base child care, provided the child care facility meets high quality standards.

(3) The general assembly therefore concludes that it is in the best interest of our state's military families and children to create a pilot program that allows military families to use their federal child care stipends to obtain off-base child care in facilities that meet the high quality standards established by the federal department of defense.

26-6-604. Department of defense quality child care standards pilot program - creation - program scope - reporting requirements - rules. (1) There is hereby created in the state department the department of defense quality child care standards pilot program. The objective of the program is to allow military personnel to use their federal child care benefits and any other stipends to access off-base child care facilities that meet the quality standards established by the federal department of defense. The state department shall administer the program in accordance with the provisions of this part 6.

(2) Pilot sites may apply to the state department to be considered for inclusion in the program. The state department, with input from the local public health agency, local county resource and referral agencies, and early childhood councils of impacted counties, shall designate pilot site facilities to serve military families. Designation of pilot sites shall be dependent upon funding from the federal department of defense as child care stipends to military families and funding of the pilot site licensing unit through fees collected pursuant to subsection (7) of this section. The designated child care facilities shall provide child care to military families, provided the facility meets the quality child care standards adopted by rule of the state department.

(3) The pilot site facilities shall have, at a minimum, the following program components:

(a) Full compliance with rules promulgated pursuant to this part 6, including department of defense child care standards;

(b) Special needs services;

(c) Staff development and training;

(d) Family support services; and

(e) A state department-approved quality rating and improvement system.

(4) The state department shall identify, develop, and implement an early childhood training plan based upon the needs of each pilot site facility. The training shall include the principal elements of the rules promulgated pursuant to this part 6, the department of defense quality child care standards, and the elements of the quality rating and improvement system.

(5) On or before December 30, 2013, the state department shall develop a quality rating and improvement system that is inclusive, accessible, available to all child care providers, embedded in licensing, and reflective of evidence-based practices for successful outcomes for all children and families, to be used in the program to evaluate the implementation of the department of defense standards.

(6) On or before June 30, 2012, the state department and the local public health agency shall promulgate rules for the implementation of this part 6. The rules shall include, at a minimum:

(a) Pilot site compliance with department of defense quality child care standards;

(b) A requirement for compliance with existing state and federal regulations; and

(c) A procedure to establish a fee for and charge pilot site facilities for any additional inspections and services required to implement the enhanced department of defense quality child care standards.

(7) The state department and the local public health agency are hereby granted the authority to charge pilot site facilities for any additional inspections and services required by the department of defense quality child care standards.

(8) No later than March 1, 2015, the state department shall report on the outcomes of the program, including an evaluation of the higher standards and the quality rating and improvement system for licensure, monitoring, and provider support to the state, veterans, and military affairs committees of the senate and house of representatives and the health and human services committees of the senate and house of representatives, or any successor committees. The state department shall determine if the model for the program represents the best practices to be implemented statewide.

26-6-605. Department of defense quality child care standards pilot program - funding. It is the intent of the general assembly that the pilot program shall be funded by gifts, grants, and donations; federal moneys; and any fees collected pursuant to section 26-6-604 (7). Payment for child care services for a child of a member of the military shall be made by the family and shall include any child care benefit or stipend received by the child care facility from the federal department of defense. The state department and the local public health agency may access other already appropriated state funds to enhance the quality of care and education of children in the implementation of the quality rating and improvement system. Moneys from fees collected pursuant to section 26-6-604 (7) may be used to administer a pilot site licensing unit. The state department and the local public health agency shall not be obligated to implement the provisions of section 26-6-604 until such time as sufficient funds are available.

EARLY CHILDHOOD COUNCILS

26-6.5-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that there is a critical need to increase services for young children and their families, including those families with members who are entering the workforce due to Colorado’s reform of the welfare system, making the transition off of welfare, or needing child care assistance to avoid the welfare system. The statewide need includes increasing and sustaining the quality, accessibility, capacity, and affordability of services for children and their parents to help parents raise their children to be successful at school, at work, and in the community.

(2) Research demonstrates that there are positive outcomes for young children and their families who receive quality, integrated child care and related services in their early, preschool years, delivered through a comprehensive early childhood system that includes quality care and education, family support, health, and mental health programs.

(3) Providers of half-day preschool and full-day child care services have to overcome barriers and inflexible requirements of the various sources of funding in order to design and implement programs that are more responsive to the needs of working families.

(4) Consideration of various state and federal funding sources would allow for an integrated delivery system of quality programs for young children and their families in Colorado's communities.

(5) An integrated delivery system would further enhance the ability of the state department to identify the best practices relative to increasing and sustaining quality and to meeting the diverse needs of families seeking child care and other early childhood services.

(6) Distinctly local needs and conditions require that the state design and integrate a system that has the flexibility to adapt to those local needs.

(7) It is therefore in the state's best interest to establish a comprehensive system of early childhood councils to increase and sustain the availability, accessibility, capacity, and quality of early childhood services throughout the state, as provided in this part 1.

26-6.5-101.5. Definitions. As used in this part 1, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Repealed.

(2) "Council" means an early childhood council identified or established locally in communities throughout the state pursuant to section 26-6.5-103 for the purpose of developing and ultimately implementing a comprehensive system of early childhood services to ensure the school readiness of children five years of age or younger in the community. A council may be an early childhood care and education council so long as no more than one council exists in a given service area.

(3) "County department" means the county or district department of social services.

(4) "CSAP" means the Colorado student assessment program implemented pursuant to section 22-7-409, C.R.S.

(5) "Early care and education provider" or "early care and education facility" means a school district, provider, or facility that:

(a) Is licensed pursuant to part 1 of article 6 of this title or that participates in the Colorado preschool program pursuant to article 28 of title 22, C.R.S.; and

(b) Participates in local community councils.

(6) "Early childhood care and education council" means a council that represents public and private stakeholders identified or established locally in communities throughout the state pursuant to section 26-6.5-106. An early childhood care and education council shall provide school-readiness quality improvement funding to early care and education providers pursuant to section 26-6.5-106 (3) to enhance the school readiness of children five years of age or younger.

(7) "Eligible elementary school" means a public elementary school that:

(a) (I) For the school year immediately preceding submission of the council's application for funding pursuant to section 26-6.5-106, is required to implement a priority improvement or turnaround plan as described in section 22-11-405 or 22-11-406, C.R.S., respectively, or is subject to restructuring pursuant to section 22-11-210, C.R.S.; and

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2009, (SB 09-163), ch. 293, p. 1546, § 57, effective May 21, 2009.)

(b) As of the date on which the council applies for funding through the program, is receiving moneys pursuant to Title I of the federal "Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965", 20 U.S.C. sec. 6301 et seq.

(8) "Pilot site agency" means a community consolidated child care services pilot site agency as it existed prior to May 31, 2007.

(9) “State board” means the state board of human services authorized to act in accordance with the provisions of section 26-1-107.

(10) “State department” means the state department of human services.

26-6.5-103. Early childhood councils - established - rules. (1) There is hereby established a statewide integrated system of early childhood councils to improve and sustain the availability, accessibility, capacity, and quality of early childhood services for children and families throughout the state. The councils shall have consistent function and structure statewide and shall be governed by the state department of human services with input, cooperation, and support services from the departments of education and public health and environment.

(2) The statewide system of early childhood councils shall consist of the seventeen pilot site agencies and other existing early childhood councils, renamed through this part 1 as “early childhood councils”, and new councils designated and convened pursuant to this part 1, subject to available appropriations from the general fund.

(3) For new councils or for existing councils or partnerships that decide to reconfigure under this part 1, the board or boards of county commissioners shall designate a convening entity, which may include but is not limited to a local resource and referral agency, a county department of human services or social services, a local school district, a department of public health, or a Colorado preschool program council. The convening entity may convene a council either as part of a single county or as part of a multi-county regional network.

(4) The state department shall determine by rule the criteria necessary for establishing a single council for an area.

(5) Nothing in this part 1 shall be construed as requiring an existing council to reconfigure or reconvene.

(6) Nothing in this part 1 shall be construed as requiring a county to establish an early childhood council or to be a part of a multi-county council.

Editor’s note: Amendments to subsection (3) by House Bill 09-1343 and Senate Bill 09-292 were harmonized.

26-6.5-103.3. Early childhood councils - applications - rules. (1) A newly established or newly identified council shall submit to the state department an application to become part of the statewide system of early childhood councils. The state department shall develop and distribute the application form and criteria and an explanation of the process for joining the statewide system of early childhood councils. The state department shall provide support for the preparation of applications.

- (2) A new council shall designate on its application the following information:
- (a) The intended service area;
 - (b) The counties to be involved in the council;
 - (c) Participating mandatory stakeholders;
 - (d) The entity that shall serve as the original fiscal agent for the council; and
 - (e) The signatures of the chair or chairs of the board or boards of county commissioners for the counties involved in the council, the legal signatory for the counties, and the president of a school district board of education involved in the council.
- (3) A pilot site agency or other existing early childhood council seeking to be newly identified as a council shall designate on its application a restatement of the following information:
- (a) The designated service area;
 - (b) Current members;
 - (c) Any additional stakeholders required to meet the membership requirements of section 26-6.5-103.5;
 - (d) The designated fiscal agent; and
 - (e) Signatures of the current organization leadership, the fiscal agent, the chair or chairs of the board or boards of county commissioners of the counties involved in the council, and the president of a school district board of education involved in the council.
- (4) Each council shall develop a strategic plan based upon an assessment of the early childhood needs in the designated service area that includes:
- (a) A council infrastructure, including a plan for hiring a council director;
 - (b) A technical assistance plan and an annual budget for developing a local early childhood system and infrastructure to improve and coordinate early childhood services; and
 - (c) A plan for evaluating program performance and council process and effectiveness as it relates to the council's strategic plan.
- (5) The state department shall promulgate rules to define the standards for acceptance of applications made pursuant to this section. Acceptance of an application shall be automatic if the application is complete, the signatures are in order, and it meets the standards set forth by the state department pursuant to this subsection (5).

26-6.5-103.5. Early childhood councils - membership. (1) To the extent practicable, each council shall be representative of the various public and private stakeholders in the local community who are committed to supporting the well-being of children five years of age or younger.

(2) For the purposes of this part 1, each council, whether newly established in a community or newly identified to serve as a council, shall work toward consolidating and coordinating funding, including the school-readiness quality improvement funding described in section 26-6.5-106. Together, the councils throughout the state shall serve to create a seamless system of early childhood services representing collaboration among the various public and private stakeholders for the effective delivery of early childhood services to children five years of age or younger in a manner that is responsive to local needs and conditions.

(3) (a) Each new council shall consist of members to be approved initially by the convening entity as designated pursuant to section 26-6.5-103. Each individual council shall determine subsequent appointments and rules for rotation of terms.

(b) Early childhood council membership shall include representatives from the public and private stakeholders from early care and education, family support, health, and mental health programs who reflect local needs and cultural diversity. The membership of each early childhood council shall also represent the geographic diversity within the county or counties involved in the council. Each council shall include a minimum of ten members with representation from each of the following stakeholder groups within the council's service area:

(I) Local government, including but not limited to county commissioners, city council members, local school district board members, and local county departments of human services;

(II) Early care and education, including but not limited to licensed and legally exempt child care providers, head start grantees, and district preschool programs operating pursuant to article 28 of title 22, C.R.S.;

(III) Health care, including but not limited to local public health agencies; health care providers; supplemental food programs for women, infants, and children as provided for in 42 U.S.C. sec. 1786; early periodic screening and diagnosis and treatment programs as required by federal law; and part B and part C of the federal "Individuals With Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1400 et seq., as amended;

(IV) Parents of children five years of age or younger;

(V) Mental health care, including but not limited to community mental health centers and local mental health care providers;

(VI) Resource and referral agencies, including but not limited to child care resource and referral agencies;

(VII) Family support and parent education, including but not limited to home visitation programs, family resource centers, and income assistance programs.

(c) In addition, each council may include but is not limited to representation from any combination of the following stakeholder groups within the council's service area:

(I) Child care associations;

(II) Medical and dental professionals;

(III) School district parent organizations;

(IV) Head start policy councils;

(V) A chamber or chambers of commerce;

(VI) Local businesses;

(VII) Faith-based and nonprofit organizations;

(VIII) Higher education institutions; and

(IX) Libraries.

(4) Each member of a council shall sign a memorandum of understanding on behalf of the organization he or she represents to participate in and collaborate on the work of the council.

26-6.5-103.7. Early childhood councils - duties. (1) Each early childhood council shall have, at a minimum, the following duties and functions:

(a) To apply for early childhood funding pursuant to section 26-6.5-104;

(b) To increase and sustain the quality, accessibility, capacity, and affordability of early childhood services for children five years of age or younger and their parents. To this end, each council shall develop and execute strategic plans to respond to local needs and conditions.

(c) To establish a local system of accountability to measure local progress based on the needs and goals set for program performance;

(d) To report annually the results of the accountability measurements defined in paragraph (c) of this subsection (1);

(e) To select a fiscal agent to disburse funds and serve as the employer of the council director, once hired. The fiscal agent may or may not be a county.

(f) To develop and implement a strategic plan as described in section 26-6.5-103.3 (4), including a comprehensive evaluation and report; and

(g) To actively attempt to inform and include small or under-represented early childhood service providers in early childhood council activities and functions.

Source: L. 2007: Entire section added, p. 1636, § 5, effective May 31.

26-6.5-104. Early childhood councils - waivers - rules - funding - application.

(1) A local council may request a waiver of any rule that would prevent a council from implementing council projects. The local council shall submit the request to the early childhood leadership commission created in article 44.7 of title 24, C.R.S. The early childhood leadership commission shall consult with the affected state agency in reviewing the request. The state department or other affected state agency shall grant waivers upon recommendation by the commission.

(2) (a) The state department shall promulgate rules to develop and distribute to councils the application form and application process to be used by each council seeking to receive council infrastructure, quality improvement, technical assistance, and evaluation funding from the early childhood cash fund created in section 26-6.5-109 and other funding sources appropriated for early childhood services.

(b) Applications for early childhood funding from the early childhood cash fund established in section 26-6.5-109 and other funding sources appropriated for early childhood services shall be reviewed upon receipt by the state department.

(c) The state department is authorized to enter into a sole-source contract with any council to increase and sustain the quality, accessibility, capacity, and affordability of early childhood services for young children and their parents.

26-6.5-104.5. Quality evaluation and improvement of early childhood care and education programs - use of Colorado works moneys. Counties are urged to partner with for-profit or not-for-profit organizations that evaluate the quality of early childhood care and education programs in the early childhood councils and assign ratings thereto in an effort to assess the success of such programs and to improve the ultimate delivery of early childhood care and education. Counties so partnering are further encouraged to match private investments in such early childhood care and education programs with county block grant moneys for Colorado works pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title and federal child care development funds in an effort to improve the overall quality of those programs. Counties so partnering are further encouraged to expend local funds to promote the objectives of this part 1 and improve the delivery of early childhood services, including the continuation of those funding sources developed to support pilot site agency activities.

(3) School-readiness quality improvement program created. On and after January 1, 2003, and continuing thereafter subject to sufficient and available federal funding, there is hereby created the school-readiness quality improvement program, referred to in this section as the “program”, pursuant to which the state department of human services shall award three years of school-readiness quality improvement funding to eligible early childhood care and education councils identified or established throughout the state pursuant to subsection (3.5) of this section. School-readiness quality improvement funding shall be awarded to improve the school-readiness of children five years of age and younger who are enrolled in early care and education facilities. School-readiness quality improvement funding shall be awarded to eligible early childhood care and education councils based upon allocations made at the discretion of the state department and subject to available federal funding. Nothing in this section or in any rules promulgated pursuant to this section shall be interpreted to create a legal entitlement in any early childhood care and education council to school-readiness quality improvement funding pursuant to the program. Moneys awarded through the program shall be used to improve the school readiness of children, five years of age and younger, cared for at such facilities, who ultimately attend eligible elementary schools.

(3.5) Early childhood care and education councils. (a) (I) Communities throughout the state that do not have a pilot site agency may identify an existing entity or establish a new entity to serve as the early childhood care and education council to work toward the development and implementation of a comprehensive early childhood system to ensure the school readiness of young children in the community. A community may identify an existing entity, such as a consolidated child care pilot site agency or an interagency coordinating council or a district preschool program advisory council, to serve as its early childhood care and education council, or it may establish a new council. To the extent it is practical, early childhood care and education councils shall be representative of the various public and private stakeholders in the community, as specified in this subsection (3.5), who are committed to supporting the preparedness of young children for school. Such stakeholders shall include:

- (A) School districts;
- (B) The county department;
- (C) Private for-profit and nonprofit licensed child care providers representing child care centers, family child care homes, and preschools;
- (D) Local resource and referral agency or agencies;
- (E) County, district, or municipal public health agencies; and
- (F) Local mental health community or communities.

(II) In addition, each early childhood care and education council may include, but is not limited to, representation from any combination of the following:

- (A) The board of county commissioners;
- (B) The local head start grantee;
- (C) The Colorado preschool program established in article 28 of title 22, C.R.S.;
- (D) Child care associations;
- (E) Other local governmental entities;
- (F) Parents or other consumers of early childhood care and education services; and
- (G) Faith-based organizations.

(b) For purposes of this section, the early childhood care and education council, whether newly established in a community or newly identified to serve as such, shall work toward consolidating and coordinating funding, including school-readiness quality improvement funding, to create a seamless early childhood system of collaboration among the various public and private stakeholders for the effective delivery of early childhood care and education to young children in the community.

(4) Application for funding. (a) (I) An early childhood care and education council seeking school-readiness quality improvement funding from the state department pursuant to this section shall apply directly to the state department in the manner specified by rule of the state board of human services. An early childhood care and education council applying for school-readiness quality improvement funding pursuant to this section shall meet the following minimum criteria:

(A) The community represented by the early childhood care and education council shall include one or more eligible elementary schools;

(B) The early childhood care and education council shall develop and submit a school-readiness plan to improve the school readiness of children in the community as described in subsection (6) of this section; and

(C) The early childhood care and education council shall demonstrate the commitment of the early care and education facilities identified in the school-readiness plan to cooperate with and participate in the school-readiness quality rating system described in subsection (5) of this section.

(II) An early childhood care and education council seeking school-readiness quality improvement funding pursuant to this section shall, in addition to the requirements set forth in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a), meet any additional eligibility requirements specified by rule of the state board.

(b) Early childhood care and education councils that receive school-readiness quality improvement funding pursuant to this section shall distribute such moneys to early care and education facilities identified in the school-readiness plan described in subsection (6) of this section.

(5) School-readiness quality rating system. The state early childhood and school-readiness commission created pursuant to section 26-6-304 shall adopt a voluntary school-readiness quality rating system. Such rating system shall measure the level of preparedness of and quality of services provided by an early care and education provider to prepare children to enter elementary school. The school-readiness quality rating system shall:

(a) Measure such elements of quality of an early care and education facility as:

(I) The quality of the learning environment;

(II) The quality of adult-child interactions;

(III) Adult-to-child ratios;

(IV) Provider training and education, including recognized credentials through the state department's voluntary credentialing system developed pursuant to section 26-6.5-107; and

(V) Parent-involvement activities at the early care and education facility;

(b) Be variable to inform parents, counties, and other purchasers of early childhood care and education about the level of quality at an early care and education facility in a simple and easy-to-understand manner;

(c) Be supported by statistically valid research as a reliable measure of quality of an early care and education facility;

(d) Include a quality improvement plan that informs quality-rated early care and education providers of their strengths and weaknesses and that provides such providers with strategies to improve the quality of their services; and

(e) Have demonstrated effectiveness at improving the level of quality of early care and education providers in geographically diverse Colorado communities.

(6) School-readiness plans. Each early childhood care and education council seeking to apply for school-readiness quality improvement funding pursuant to this section shall prepare and submit to the state department a three-year school-readiness plan that outlines strategies to improve the school readiness of children who reside in neighborhoods with eligible elementary schools. The school-readiness plan, at a minimum, shall include:

(a) The number and location of eligible elementary schools in the community;

(b) The number and location of early care and education providers that will voluntarily participate in the school-readiness quality improvement program;

(c) A commitment that the early care and education providers identified in the school-readiness plan will cooperate with and participate in the school-readiness quality rating system described in subsection (5) of this section; and

(d) Community strategies to target school-readiness quality improvement funding to improve the level of quality at participating early care and education providers.

(7) Rules. (a) The state board of human services shall promulgate rules for the implementation of this section, including but not limited to rules that:

(I) Specify the procedure by which an early childhood care and education council may apply for school-readiness quality improvement funding pursuant to the program;

(II) Specify the manner in which school-readiness quality improvement funding is distributed to early childhood care and education councils, ensuring an equitable distribution between rural and urban communities; and

(III) Identify any additional eligibility requirements for early childhood care and education councils seeking school-readiness quality improvement funding, as described in subparagraph (II) of paragraph (a) of subsection (4) of this section.

(b) At a minimum, the rules promulgated pursuant to this subsection (7) shall identify a specific and measurable level of improvement in the school-readiness quality rating that an early care and education provider must achieve over the course of the funding distribution period after receiving an initial funding distribution through the program in order for the provider to continue receiving school-readiness quality improvement funding, as well as the eligibility criteria for continued participation in the program.

(8) Funding. (a) The school-readiness quality improvement program shall be funded using federal child care development fund moneys annually appropriated for the program. Such moneys shall be allocated by the state department to the eligible early childhood care and education councils for implementation of the rating system and for distribution to early care and education providers, as provided in this section.

(b) (I) If moneys are required to match the federal child care development funds, such matching moneys may be from, but need not be limited to, general fund moneys appropriated by the general assembly, local moneys, or private matching moneys. Any state department staff that may be necessary to support the school-readiness quality improvement program shall be funded by federal child care development funds appropriated for the program and not from general funds. The FTE authorization for any staff necessary to support the school-readiness quality improvement program shall be eliminated should federal funds no longer be available for the program.

(II) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b), the general assembly shall not be obligated to appropriate general fund moneys if private matching moneys are not available or later become unavailable.

(c) The state department shall be authorized to enter into a sole-source contract with an organization to provide the following:

- (I) Ratings of child care;
- (II) Technical assistance for child care providers;
- (III) Community infrastructure and resource development for improving the quality of child care;
- (IV) Parent and consumer education on the quality of child care providers in the community.

(9) Evaluation - report. (a) Each early childhood care and education council shall submit to the state department a summative thirty-month report on or before January 1, 2009, and on or before January 1 every three years thereafter. The report shall address the quality improvement of the participating early care and education facilities and the overall effectiveness of the school-readiness quality improvement program at preparing low-income children, residing in communities with eligible elementary schools, for school. Such reports, at a minimum, shall address:

- (I) The number of early care and education facilities and children who participated in the school-readiness quality improvement program;
- (II) The baseline quality ratings of each participating early care and education provider during each year of participation;
- (III) An analysis and explanation of the quality improvement strategies undertaken at each early care and education facility; and
- (IV) The barriers to quality improvement that were encountered.

(b) On or before April 1, 2009, and on or before April 1 every three years thereafter, the state department, or any private entity with which the state department is hereby authorized to contract for this purpose, shall submit a consolidated statewide report, based upon the reports prepared and submitted by the early childhood care and education councils, addressing the items set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (9) to the state early childhood and school-readiness commission and to the members of the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate of the general assembly.

(c) Reporting early childhood care and education councils, as well as the state department or any private entity with which it may contract for reporting purposes, may draw upon the evaluations and studies prepared by a nationally recognized research firm to report on the school-readiness of children in quality-rated early care and education facilities.

(d) Each early childhood care and education council shall work with state and local agencies, such as school districts, to support efforts to track, through high school graduation, the future academic performance of children who receive school-readiness services from early care and education providers who receive funding pursuant to this section.

26-6.5-107. Voluntary child care credentialing system - rules. The state department shall develop and maintain a statewide voluntary child care credentialing system that recognizes the training and educational achievements of persons providing early childhood care and education. The use of the voluntary child care credentialing system shall include but need not be limited to the early childhood councils. The voluntary child care credentialing system shall be a multi-tiered system of graduated credentials that reflects the increased training, education, knowledge, skills, and competencies of persons working in early childhood care and education services in the various councils. The state board shall promulgate such rules as are necessary for the statewide implementation of the voluntary child care credentialing system.

26-6.5-108. Evaluation. (1) No later than March 1, 2010, the state department shall, through a request for proposals process, contract with a qualified individual or entity to prepare an independent evaluation of the system of early childhood councils to determine the effectiveness of the system in serving children and families throughout the state. The evaluation shall be completed no later than October 1, 2010, and shall be repeated every three years thereafter.

(2) The evaluation shall include the following:

(a) An aggregate evaluation of local evaluation plan data as integrated and analyzed by the state department, including an evaluation of the overall program performance and council process and effectiveness;

(b) An evaluation of state program performance, including the efficiency and effectiveness of the state department in meeting the needs of the councils;

(c) An evaluation of the feasibility of combining the funding sources available under this part 1;

(d) An evaluation of the barriers to delivery of quality early childhood services; and

(e) An evaluation of the impact of waivers issued pursuant to section 26-6.5-104.

26-6.5-109. Early childhood cash fund - creation. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the early childhood cash fund, referred to in this part 1 as the “fund”, that shall consist of such moneys as may be appropriated to the fund by the general assembly and credited to the fund pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation of this part 1.

(2) The state department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, or donations from private and public sources for the purposes of this part 1. All private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the fund. The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation of this part 1.

(3) Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purposes of this part 1 may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(4) The state department may expend up to, but not exceeding, five percent of the moneys annually appropriated from the fund to offset the costs incurred in implementing this part 1.

(5) Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund.

26-6.5-110. Analysis of child care assistance program policies and procedures - reporting. (1) Beginning in fiscal year 2007-08, the office of the state auditor shall conduct a performance audit of the use of moneys from the child care assistance program created in part 8 of article 2 of this title.

(2) The performance audit by the office of the state auditor conducted pursuant to this section shall include but need not be limited to an assessment of state and county policies and procedures related to child care assistance program moneys, the use of temporary assistance for needy family child care transfers and reserves, provider payments and reimbursement rates, parental co-payments, and eligibility.

(3) Based on the findings and conclusions identified during the performance audit conducted pursuant to this section, the office of the state auditor shall make recommendations to the state department for improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the child care assistance program. On or before December 30, 2008, the office of the state auditor shall submit the findings, conclusions, and recommendations from the performance audit in the form of a written report to the legislative audit committee, which shall hold a public hearing for the purposes of a review of the report. The report shall also be submitted to the health and human services and education committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees.

26-6.5-303. Colorado quality in child care incentive grant program - creation.

Subject to the receipt of sufficient moneys pursuant to section 26-6.5-306, there is hereby created in the state department the Colorado quality in child care incentive grant program. The objective of the grant program is to provide incentives to county departments to increase the quality of early care and education providers and facilities. The grant program will provide a tiered reimbursement and quality improvement system that will allow county departments and early care and education providers and facilities to retain the flexibility to determine how to invest resources while at the same time rewarding certain functions, including but not limited to pursuing quality ratings or accreditation, known to improve quality of care for all children, especially at-risk children.

26-6.5-304. Eligibility for grants - award criteria - rules. (1) A county department may apply to the state department for a grant pursuant to this part 3. To be eligible for a grant, an applicant shall be working in collaboration with a council. The applying county department need not be a member of a council, but for the purposes of applying for and receiving a grant from the grant program, the county department shall present a collaborative model to the state department, including a description of how the county department is working or will work with a local or neighboring council.

(2) On or before December 1, 2010, the state board shall promulgate rules pursuant to the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., establishing policies and procedures for the administration of the grant program, including but not limited to:

(a) Criteria for the selection of grant recipients, including but not limited to blending Colorado child care assistance program slots with established high-quality programs, employing teachers in early education who hold either a bachelor's or associate degree, having an existing quality rating or accreditation, pursuing a quality rating or accreditation, or investing in the professional development of teachers;

(b) A system of tiered reimbursement for applicants based on the grant criteria established;

(c) Application deadlines, award dates, amounts of grant awards, and acceptable uses of grant awards, including but not limited to assistance for pursuing a quality rating or accreditation; and

(d) Any other rules necessary for the effective implementation of this part 3.

26-6.5-306. Colorado quality in child care incentive grant program fund. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that any costs associated with implementing this part 3 shall be paid for by the receipt of any available federal moneys or other gifts, grants, or donations and that no additional general fund moneys be appropriated for the implementation of the grant program.

(2) Any state agency is authorized to seek and accept any federal moneys or other gifts, grants, or donations for the purposes of this part 3. If received, any gifts, grants, or donations shall be transmitted to the state treasurer who shall credit them to the Colorado quality in child care incentive grant program fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund".

(3) The moneys in the fund shall be continuously appropriated to the state department for the direct and indirect costs associated with implementing this part 3. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this part 3 may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund. All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund as of July 1, 2020, shall be transferred to the early childhood cash fund, created in section 26-6.5-109.

26-6.5-307. Repeal of part. (1) (a) On or before July 1, 2011, the executive director of the state department shall notify the revisor of statutes in writing if federal moneys are not received and allocated to the state department or if gifts, grants, and donations are not received by the state department to provide for the award of grants pursuant to this part 3.

(b) If the revisor of statutes does not receive notice pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (1), on July 1, 2012, or on July 1 of any year thereafter, the executive director of the state department shall notify the revisor of statutes in writing if federal moneys or gifts, grants, or donations are not available to continue to provide for the award of grants pursuant to this part 3.

(2) This part 3 is repealed, effective the July 1 following the receipt of the notice by the revisor of statutes pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (1) of this section, but no later than July 1, 2020.

26-7-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Board” means the state board of human services, or its designated representative.

(2) “Child with special needs” means a child with a special, unusual, or significant physical or mental disability, or emotional disturbance, or such other condition which acts as a serious barrier to the child’s adoption.

(3) “Department” means the department of human services.

ANNOTATION

“Other condition” language in definition of “special needs” in subsection (2) allows consideration of the disabilities or conditions enumerated in the federal statute but not explicitly included in the state statute or regulation and, therefore, the statutory and regulatory definitions are not preempted by federal law. Sapp v. El Paso County Dept. of Human Servs., 181 P.3d 1179 (Colo. App. 2008).

A totality of the circumstances test should be applied to determine whether “serious barriers to adoption” exist. Under this test, both subjective and objective factors must be considered on an individualized basis. Sapp v. El Paso County Dept. of Human Servs., 181 P.3d 1179 (Colo. App. 2008).

26-7-102. Payments authorized. The department of human services may make payments to adoptive parents on behalf of a child placed for adoption by a department or licensed nonprofit child placement agency.

26-7-103. Conditions. (1) Payments in subsidization of adoption may be made only after it has been determined that all of the following conditions are present at the time the child was placed for adoption:

(a) The child is in the custody of a department or a licensed nonprofit child placement agency and is legally available for adoption.

(b) All reasonable efforts to place the child for adoption have been made without success prior to consideration of a subsidy.

(c) The child is one with special needs as determined by prognosis and diagnosis.

(d) The department or licensed nonprofit child placement agency has determined that the adoptive family has the capability of providing for the nonfinancial needs of the child in all areas.

(e) The department or licensed nonprofit child placement agency is financially responsible for the care of the child.

(f) Children in the custody of a licensed nonprofit child placement agency must meet federal requirements for eligibility under Title IV-E of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended.

26-7-104. Administration. (1) Payments in subsidization of adoption may include but are not limited to the maintenance costs, medical and surgical expenses, and other costs incidental to the adoption, care, training, and education of the child. The amount of such payments shall be subject to available appropriations and may not exceed the cost of providing comparable assistance in foster care. Payments in subsidization of adoption may be continued although the adoptive parents leave the state of Colorado with the adopted child.

(2) Qualification for payments in subsidization of adoption shall be determined and approved by the department in accordance with rules and regulations of the board prior to the completion of the legal adoption.

(3) Payments in subsidization of adoption shall terminate when the need for such payments no longer exists. Such payments shall not extend beyond the child's twenty-first birthday.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 19-5-207.5 (4) (a) (III), C.R.S., any fees ordinarily assessed by the department for adoption investigations and home study reports may be waived if such fee poses a barrier to the adoption.

(5) For an adoptive family who receives an approved Title IV-E adoption assistance subsidy pursuant to the federal "Social Security Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 673 et seq., or an approved payment in subsidization of adoption pursuant to section 26-7-103, the cost of care, as defined in section 19-1-103 (30), C.R.S., shall not exceed the amount of the adoption assistance payment.

26-7.5-101. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds that a significant number of homicides, aggravated assaults, assaults and batteries, and other types of abuse and coercive control occur within the home; that the reported incidence of domestic abuse represents only a portion of the total number of incidents of domestic abuse; that a large percentage of police officer deaths in the line of duty result from police intervention in domestic abuse situations; and that domestic abuse is a complex problem affecting families from all social and economic backgrounds. It is the purpose of this article to encourage the development of domestic abuse programs by units of local government and nongovernmental agencies.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1136, § 1, effective July 1. L. 2009: Entire section amended, (SB 09-068), ch. 264, p. 1209, § 1, effective July 1.

(1) "Domestic abuse" means any act or threatened act of violence, including any forceful detention of an individual, which results or threatens to result in physical injury and which is committed by a person eighteen years of age or older against another person who is a relative or who is living in the same domicile.

(2) "Domestic abuse program" means a culturally and linguistically appropriate community-based or community-oriented program, which may include residential facilities, and which is operated by a unit of local government or a nongovernmental agency and established pursuant to the criteria set forth in section 26-7.5-103, to assist victims of domestic abuse and their dependents.

(3) "Nongovernmental agency" means any person, private nonprofit agency, corporation, or other nongovernmental agency.

(4) "Unit of local government" means a county, city and county, city, town, or municipality.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1136, § 1, effective July 1. L. 99: (2) amended, p. 1177, § 2, effective June 2.

26-7.5-103. Domestic abuse programs - criteria. (1) A domestic abuse program established pursuant to this article shall provide, but not be limited to:

(a) Counseling for persons who are victims of domestic abuse and their dependents and for persons who cause domestic abuse;

(b) Advocacy programs that assist victims in obtaining services and information;

(c) Educational programs designed for both community at large and specialized groups such as medical personnel and law enforcement officials.

(2) Domestic abuse programs shall utilize the resources of the community in meeting the personal and family needs of participants.

(3) As a part of a domestic abuse program, a domestic abuse facility may be established to provide residential accommodations to victims of domestic abuse and their dependents.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1137, § 1, effective July 1.

26-7.5-104. Community domestic abuse programs - contracts with state department - rules and regulations. (1) The executive director may enter into contracts or agreements for services with any unit of local government or nongovernmental agency which has established and which operates a community domestic abuse program or with a unit of local government or nongovernmental agency which has subcontracted with a nongovernmental agency for domestic abuse program services.

(2) (a) The state department shall establish, by rule, and enforce standards and regulations for all domestic abuse programs established pursuant to this article and shall require that each such domestic abuse program meets approved minimum standards as established by rule.

(b) The standards and regulations established by the state department shall require, at a minimum, each domestic abuse program to request information from each client served by the program concerning the relationship of the client to the alleged perpetrator of the domestic abuse. The standards and regulations shall require each domestic abuse program to report such information to the state department.

26-7.5-105. Funding of domestic abuse programs. (1) (a) Any nongovernmental agency or unit of local government operating a domestic abuse program pursuant to this article shall, subject to available appropriations, be reimbursed by the state department at a rate to be set by the general assembly in the annual appropriation bill. Not less than seventy-five percent of all contract funding under this article shall be allocated to nongovernmental agencies.

(b) Moneys generated from fees collected pursuant to section 14-2-106 (1) (a), C.R.S., or transferred pursuant to section 13-21-101 (5) (a) (X) or (5) (b) (II), C.R.S., shall be used to reimburse domestic abuse programs that provide services as provided in section 26-7.5-103 to married, separated, or divorced persons or their families.

(2) Staffing and administrative expenses of the state department of human services and other agencies for carrying out the provisions of this article shall be appropriated annually from available funds generated by the contribution cash funds.

(3) The Colorado domestic abuse program fund established pursuant to section 39-22-802, C.R.S., may be funded by any general fund moneys that may be appropriated thereto by the general assembly pursuant to the annual general appropriations act. The executive director shall have the authority to expend such funds appropriated to the Colorado domestic abuse program fund for the purposes described in this article.

26-7.8-101. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds that there are a growing number of persons in this state who lack the resources and the community ties necessary to provide for their own adequate shelter and who are likely to become homeless without community assistance. The general assembly recognizes that women and children are the fastest growing group of the homeless and that a large percentage of the total homeless population consists of families. The general assembly therefore finds that it is beneficial to the state to fund prevention activities programs to assist families and other persons who are likely to become homeless without some community assistance; that this article is enacted to provide a means by which such programs may be financed through a voluntary contribution designation on state income tax return forms; and that it is desirable to encourage residents of this state to designate the amount of such contribution to help fund such prevention activities programs on their state income tax return forms.

26-7.8-103. Homeless prevention activities program - criteria. (1) A homeless prevention activities program established pursuant to this article shall provide, but need not be limited to:

- (a) Assistance in avoiding eviction and foreclosure from an apartment or home;
- (b) Counseling for families and persons to prevent them from becoming homeless;
- (c) Mediation services to assist persons in avoiding eviction and foreclosure;

(d) Programs that assist persons who are in danger of becoming homeless in obtaining services and information;

(e) Referrals to and assistance in obtaining job-training, job-counseling, or information about job openings.

(1.5) The program established by this article shall be administered by the division with recommendations from an advisory committee which is hereby created. The advisory committee shall be composed of at least three members selected by the executive director. One member shall be a representative of the department of human services, and two members shall be representatives from the public at large. The committee shall serve without compensation and shall not be entitled to reimbursement for their expenses while attending meetings of the committee. The division shall administer the program under the direction of the advisory committee.

(2) At least seventy-five percent of all voluntary contributions made to the homeless prevention activities program fund pursuant to section 39-22-1301, C.R.S., shall be used for direct or financial benefit to individuals in Colorado who are homeless or in danger of becoming homeless; except that no funds shall be expended for direct cash payment to homeless persons or persons who are in danger of becoming homeless.

(2.5) The division is authorized to spend up to five percent of all voluntary contributions made to the homeless prevention activities program fund, created pursuant to the provisions of section 39-22-1301, C.R.S., or fifteen thousand dollars, whichever is greater, for costs incurred in administering the program established by this article.

26-8-105. Rehabilitation of persons with disabilities. (1) Except as otherwise provided by law, the state department shall provide rehabilitation services to persons with disabilities determined to be eligible therefor.

(2) For the purposes of this article, "person with a disability" means any one or more of the following:

(a) Any individual who has a physical or mental condition which materially limits, contributes to limiting, or, if not corrected, will probably result in limiting the individual's activities or functioning and which constitutes a substantial disability to employment but which is of such nature that vocational rehabilitation services may reasonably be expected to render the individual fit to engage in a remunerative occupation;

(b) An individual of not less than employable age who is under such physical or mental disability as to require institutional care or attendance in his household continuously or for a substantial portion of the time, but who can be reasonably expected, as a result of rehabilitation services, to achieve such ability of independent living that he will no longer require such institutional care or such attendance in his household;

(c) An individual who does not have substantial physical or mental disability who is receiving aid from public funds and who otherwise may be expected to remain a public charge of the county or state; who has a vocational disability because of lack of training, experience, skills, or other factors which, if corrected, would lead to self-support instead of dependency; who is either responsible for the individual's own maintenance or is the responsible head of a household; and who has a potential capacity which would warrant development with a reasonable chance for employment after rehabilitation services.

(3) The state department shall:

(a) Cooperate with other departments, agencies, and institutions, both public and private, in providing the services authorized by this article to persons with disabilities, in studying the problems involved therein, and in establishing, developing, and providing, in conformity with the purposes of this article, such programs, facilities, and services as may be necessary or desirable;

(b) Enter into reciprocal agreements with other states to provide for the services authorized by this article to residents of the states concerned;

(c) Establish and operate rehabilitation facilities and workshops and make grants to public and other nonprofit organizations for such purposes;

(d) Operate through contract and supervise the operation of vending stands and other small businesses, established pursuant to this article and in accordance with the requirements of the federal government for the receipt of federal funds, to be conducted by individuals with severe disabilities, particularly the blind;

(e) Provide training and instruction (including the establishment and maintenance of such research fellowships and traineeships with such stipends and allowances as may be deemed necessary) in matters relating to vocational rehabilitation;

(f) Provide home teaching of and teachers for the adult blind;

(g) Provide such medical, diagnostic, physical restoration, training, and other rehabilitation services as may be needed to enable disabled individuals to attain the maximum degree of self-care;

(h) Provide for the return to full or partial self-support of nondisabled recipients of public assistance whose capacity to earn a living is impaired.

(4) (a) Vocational rehabilitation services, as defined by the federal "Vocational Rehabilitation Act", shall be provided directly or through public or private instrumentalities to or for the benefit of any individual with disabilities who is residing in the state at the time of filing an application therefor, and whose rehabilitation the state department determines after full investigation can be satisfactorily achieved, or who is eligible therefor under the terms of an agreement with another state or with the federal government.

(b) Any goods or services other than diagnostic and related services (including transportation) required for the determination of eligibility for service and of the nature and scope of the services to be provided, guidance, training, and placement shall be provided at the public cost only to the extent that the individual with disabilities is found to require financial assistance in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department.

(1) There is hereby created in the state department a work therapy program to provide sheltered workshop programs for training and employment of persons receiving services at the mental health institutes and at the regional centers located at Grand Junction, Pueblo, and Wheat Ridge.

(2) (a) The state department shall transmit all moneys collected pursuant to this section to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the work therapy cash fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund". The fund shall consist of any moneys held for the state department as of May 3, 2012, from work therapy activities and any moneys received by the state department after May 3, 2012, pursuant to this paragraph (a). The moneys in the fund are subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department for the direct and indirect costs associated with implementing this section.

(b) The state treasurer may invest any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this section as provided by law. The state treasurer shall credit all interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund.

26-8.1-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Cross-disability" means, with respect to an independent living center, that a center provides independent living services to individuals representing a range of significant disabilities and does not require specific significant disabilities before determining that an individual is eligible for independent living services.

(2) "Independent living center" means a consumer-controlled, community-based, cross-disability, nonresidential private nonprofit agency that is designated as an eligible agency under Title VII, section 725 of the federal "Rehabilitation Act of 1973", as amended, and that:

(a) Is designed and operated within a local community by individuals with disabilities; and

(b) Provides a required core of independent living services and programs and an array of expanded services.

(3) "Independent living core services" means:

(a) Information and referral services;

(b) Independent living skills training;

(c) Peer counseling, including cross-disability peer counseling; and

(d) Individual and systems advocacy.

(4) "Independent living services" means:

(a) Independent living core services; and

(b) Other services and assistance as defined in 34 CFR 364.4.

(5) "Individual with a significant disability" means an individual with a severe physical, mental, cognitive, or sensory impairment whose ability to function independently in the family or community or whose ability to obtain, maintain, or advance in employment is substantially limited and for whom the delivery of independent living services will improve the ability to function, continue functioning, or move toward functioning independently in the family or community or to continue in employment.

26-8.1-107. Approval of independent living centers - evaluation standards. (1) The following requirements shall be met by each independent living center as a condition of the approval of its program:

(a) The program shall be under the control and direction of a board of directors or trustees of a nonprofit corporation, the members of which shall be persons with a demonstrated interest in programs for persons with disabilities and fifty-one percent or more of the members of the board shall be persons with disabilities;

(b) The independent living center shall be staffed with fifty-one percent or more of persons with disabilities;

(c) The independent living center shall comply with all of the provisions of this article and the rules promulgated thereunder.

(2) In addition to the requirements of subsection (1) of this section, each independent living center, as a condition of approval of its program by the state department, shall agree to comply with the following evaluation standards:

(a) Philosophy. The independent living center shall promote and practice the independent living philosophy of:

(I) Consumer control of the center regarding decision-making, service delivery, management, and establishment of the policy and direction of the center;

(II) Self-help and self-advocacy;

(III) Development of peer relationships and peer role models;

(IV) Equal access of individuals with significant disabilities to all of the center's services, programs, activities, resources, and facilities, whether publicly or privately funded, without regard to the type of significant disability of the individual; and

(V) Promoting equal access of individuals with all types of significant disabilities to all services, programs, activities, resources, and facilities in the community, whether public or private, and regardless of funding source, on the same basis that access is provided to other individuals with disabilities and to individuals without disabilities.

(b) Provision of services. The independent living center shall provide independent living services to individuals with a range of significant disabilities. The independent living center shall provide independent living services on a cross-disability basis. The independent living center shall determine eligibility for independent living services and shall not exclude eligibility on the presence of any one specific significant disability.

(c) Independent living goals. The independent living center shall facilitate the development and achievement of independent living goals selected by individuals with significant disabilities who seek assistance in the development and achievement of independent living goals from the center.

(d) Community options. The independent living center shall conduct outreach and activities to increase the availability and improve the quality of community options for independent living to facilitate the development and achievement of independent living goals by individuals with significant disabilities.

(e) Independent living core services. The independent living center shall provide independent living core services and, as appropriate, a combination of any of the other independent living services referred to in section 26-8.1-102 (4) (b).

(f) Activities to increase community capacity. The independent living center shall conduct activities to increase the capacity of communities within the service area of the center to meet the needs of individuals with significant disabilities.

(g) Resource development activities. The independent living center shall conduct resource development activities to obtain funding from sources other than federal and state sources.

(3) The independent living center shall submit annually to the state department a performance report that provides evidence that the center has met the evaluation standards set forth in subsection (2) of this section.

26-8.3-101. Legislative declaration. It is the purpose of this article to protect blind persons and organizations established to aid blind persons in the sale of blind-made products and to prevent misrepresentation in connection with the sale of blind-made products.

Source: L. 79: Entire article added, p. 1100, § 1, effective October 1.

26-8.3-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Blind-made products” means those goods, wares, and merchandise for which blind persons perform at least seventy-five percent of the total hours of direct labor of manufacture.

(2) “Blind person” means a person having not more than 20/200 central visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses or an equally disabling loss of the visual field as evidenced by a limitation to the field of vision in the better eye to such a degree that its widest diameter subtends an angle of no greater than twenty degrees.

(3) “Direct labor” means all work required for manufacture, but does not include the supervision, administration, shipping, inspection, or packaging of products.

(4) “Manufacture” means the preparation, processing, and assembling of goods, wares, or merchandise, including manufacture by subcontracting of component materials.

Source: L. 79: Entire article added, p. 1100, § 1, effective October 1.

26-8.3-103. Registration - investigation. Any persons engaged in the manufacture or distribution of blind-made products may apply to the state department on forms provided by the department for a registration and an authorization to use an official imprint, stamp, symbol, or label, designed or approved by the state department, to identify goods and articles as blind-made products. The state department shall investigate each application to assure that such person is actually engaged in the manufacture or distribution of blind-made products. The state department may approve applications by nonresident persons, without investigation, upon proof that they are recognized and approved by their state of residence, state of doing business, or organization pursuant to a law of such state imposing requirements substantially similar to those prescribed in this article.

26-8.3-104. Identification of blind-made products. No goods or articles made in this or any other state shall be displayed, advertised, offered for sale, or sold in this state upon a representation that the same are blind-made products unless identified as such by the official imprint, stamp, symbol, or label designed or approved by the state department.

26-8.3-105. Violations - penalty. (1) It is unlawful for any person to use or employ, willfully or knowingly, the official imprint, stamp, symbol, or label designed or approved by the state department, unless such use is authorized by the state department, as provided for in section 26-8.3-103. Each such use is a separate offense.

(2) It is unlawful for any person to willfully or knowingly represent, directly or indirectly, by any means, for the purpose of financial gain to himself, that particular goods, wares, or merchandise are blind-made products if such products are not blind-made products. Every product so misrepresented is a separate offense.

(3) On and after October 1, 1979, any person who violates any of the provisions of this section commits a class 2 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S.

26-8.5-102. Priority for blind persons - licensing. The state department shall issue licenses to blind persons who are qualified to operate vending facilities, in accordance with the criteria used for the licensing of operators of vending facilities on federal property pursuant to section 26-8-106 and the federal “Randolph-Sheppard Vending Stand Act”, as from time to time amended. In authorizing vending facilities on state property, priority shall be given to blind persons who are licensed by the state department. The purpose of this priority is to enlarge the economic opportunities of blind persons by providing remunerative employment and to stimulate blind persons to greater efforts in striving to make themselves self-supporting.

26-8.5-103. Satisfactory sites for vending facilities required. (1) Effective July 1, 1977, no department or agency of the state of Colorado shall construct, shall acquire by ownership, rent, lease, or otherwise, or shall undertake to substantially alter or renovate, in whole or in part, any building unless after consultation with the state department it is determined that such building will include a satisfactory site or sites for the location and operation of a vending facility by a blind person.

(2) Each such department or agency shall provide notice to the state department of its plans for the occupation, acquisition, construction, alteration, or renovation of a building adequate to permit the state department to determine whether such building includes a satisfactory site or sites for a vending facility.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply when the state department determines that the number of people using the building will be insufficient to support a vending facility.

(4) For the purpose of this section, “satisfactory site” means an area determined by the state department to have sufficient space, electrical and plumbing outlets, and such other facilities as are prescribed by rule of the state department for the location and operation of a vending facility.

(5) No charge shall be made to the state department for the use of state-furnished space, for maintenance or janitorial services, for repair of the building structure in and adjacent to the vending facility area, including any necessary initial and periodical painting and decorating, for utilities required to operate vending facilities and vending machines, or for repairing and replacing floor coverings, cleaning windows, or providing other related building services in accordance with the normal level of building service applicable to the state building on which the vending facility is located.

26-8.5-104. Vending machines - income. Effective July 1, 1977, one hundred percent of all commission income from vending machines on state property shall accrue to the state department, which shall disburse such income in accordance with the rules and regulations of the state department. The office of state planning and budgeting shall notify the state department of the location of all vending machines on state property, and the state department shall be responsible for the collection and accounting for income from these vending machines.

26-8.5-105. Cooperation - locations - rules and regulations. (1) It is the duty of the heads of all state departments and agencies to negotiate and to cooperate in good faith to accomplish the purposes of this article relating to vending facilities, including vending machines and other coin-operated devices in operation on or before July 1, 1977.

(2) If the state department determines that the operation of a vending facility by a blind person in a state building is not feasible, the location may be operated by another person, in the discretion of the office of state planning and budgeting.

(3) When no person is immediately available on the premises for the management of vending machines, the commission income from such machines shall be given to the state department in accordance with section 26-8.5-104.

(4) The state department shall be responsible for the operation of a vending facility program in accordance with its rules and regulations and in accordance with federal guidelines under the federal “Randolph-Sheppard Vending Stand Act”, as from time to time amended.

PART 1

COLORADO COMMISSION ON THE AGING

26-11-100.1. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the "Older Coloradans' Act".

Source: L. 85: Entire section added, p. 974, § 1, effective May 29.

26-11-100.2. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that older Coloradans constitute a fundamental resource of this state. Often, their competence, experience, and wisdom are underutilized, and a means must be found to use their abilities more effectively for the benefit of all Coloradans. The number of persons in this state sixty years of age or older is increasing rapidly, and, of these persons, the number of women, minorities, and persons seventy-five years of age or older is expanding at an even greater rate. Among those persons seventy-five years of age or older, there is a higher incidence of functional disability. The social and health problems of older people are compounded by the lack of access to existing services and by the unavailability of a complete range of services in all areas of the state. The ability of older people to maintain self-sufficiency and personal well-being with the dignity to which their years of labor entitle them and to realize their maximum potential as creative and productive individuals are matters of profound importance and concern for all Coloradans.

(2) The general assembly further declares that it is the policy of this state: To protect older Coloradans from abuse, neglect, or exploitation; to involve older Coloradans in the planning and operation of all programs and services that may affect them; to encourage agencies at all levels of government, as well as in the private sector, to develop alternative services and forms of care that would provide a range of services to be delivered in the community and in the home and that would facilitate access to other services which support independent living and prevent unnecessary institutionalization; to give priority in planning services and programs to those older Coloradans with the greatest economic need or the greatest social need; and to facilitate and encourage joint program planning and policy development among state and local agencies which recognize and strengthen the community and personal support networks to which people belong and on which they depend and which administer programs and deliver services to the older population.

26-11-101. Commission on the aging created. (1) There is hereby created in the state department the Colorado commission on the aging, referred to in this article as the "commission", which shall consist of seventeen members appointed by the governor, with the consent of the senate. Two members shall be appointed from each congressional district of the state, one of whom shall be from each major political party, and, after July 1, 1976, and thereafter when a vacancy occurs, one of such members shall be from west of the continental divide. A vacancy on the commission occurs whenever any member moves out of the congressional district from which he or she was appointed. Any member who moves out of such congressional district shall promptly notify the governor of the date of such move, but such notice is not a condition precedent to the occurrence of the vacancy. The governor shall fill the vacancy as provided in subsection (2) of this section. Appointments made to take effect on January 1, 1983, shall be made in accordance with section 24-1-135, C.R.S. No more than nine members of the commission shall be members of the same major political party. One member shall be appointed from the state at large, one member shall be appointed from among the membership of the senate, and one member shall be appointed from among the membership of the house of representatives. Appointments to the commission shall comply with the requirements of the rules and regulations of the United States department of health and human services promulgated pursuant to Public Law 93-29, known as the "Older Americans Comprehensive Services Amendments of 1973", as such rules and regulations appear in section 903.50 (c) of title 45 of the code of federal regulations. In making appointments to the commission, the governor is encouraged to include representation by at least one member who is a person with a disability, a family member of a person with a disability, or a member of an advocacy group for persons with disabilities, provided that the other requirements of this subsection (1) are met.

(2) All members of the commission shall be appointed for terms of four years each, commencing July 1 in the year of appointment. Appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired term of the vacated office and shall be made in the same manner as original appointments. Whenever a member of the senate or house of representatives serving as a member of the commission ceases to hold his office in the senate or house of representatives, a vacancy on the commission shall occur, and the governor shall fill the vacancy by the appointment of a similarly qualified person who at the time is holding office, as the case may be, in the senate or house of representatives.

26-11-105. Duties of commission. (1) The commission, through its director, shall carry out the following purposes:

(a) Conduct, and encourage other organizations to conduct, studies of the problems of the state's older people;

(b) Assist governmental and private agencies to coordinate their efforts on behalf of the aging and aged in order that such efforts be effective and that duplication and waste of effort be eliminated;

(c) Promote and aid in the establishment of local programs and services for the aging and aged. The commission shall assist governmental and private agencies by designing surveys that may be used locally to determine needs of older people; by recommending the creation of services; by collection and distribution of information on aging; and by assisting public and private organizations in all ways the commission may deem appropriate.

(d) Conduct promotional activities and programs of public education on problems of the aging;

(e) Review existing programs for the aging and make recommendations to the governor and the general assembly for improvements in such programs;

(f) Advise and make recommendations to the state department and the state office on aging, created pursuant to part 2 of this article, on the problems of and programs and services for the aging and aged.

PART 2

STATE OFFICE ON AGING

26-11-201. Definitions. As used in this part 2, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Advisory council" means a representative body of laypersons and service providers which represents the interests of the older persons within the boundaries of a planning and service area and which is designated by the area agency on aging pursuant to section 26-11-205.

(2) "Area agency on aging" means an identifiable private nonprofit or public agency designated by the state office on aging which works for the interests of older Coloradans within a planning and service area and which engages in community planning, coordination, and program development and provides a broad array of social and nutritional services.

(3) "Area plan" means a comprehensive and coordinated system of programs in a planning and service area.

(3.5) "Child" means a person who is not more than eighteen years of age.

(4) "Comprehensive and coordinated system of programs" means programs of inter-related social and nutritional services designed to meet the needs of older persons.

(4.5) "Family caregiver" means an adult family member, or another individual, who is an informal provider of in-home and community care to an older individual who is sixty years of age or older.

(4.7) "Grandparent or older individual who is a relative caregiver" means a grandparent or step-grandparent of a child, or a relative of a child by blood or marriage, who is sixty years of age or older and who:

(a) Lives with the child;

(b) Is the primary caregiver of the child because the biological or adoptive parents are unable or unwilling to serve as the primary caregiver of the child; and

(c) Has a legal relationship to the child, such as legal custody or guardianship, or is raising the child informally.

(5) "Greatest economic need" means the need resulting from an income level at or below the poverty threshold established by the United States bureau of the census.

(6) "Greatest social need" means the need caused by noneconomic factors which include physical and mental disabilities, language barriers, and cultural or social isolation, including that caused by racial and ethnic status, which restrict an individual's ability to perform normal daily tasks or which threaten his capacity to live independently.

(7) "Planning and service area" means a geographical area within the state, designated by the state office on aging, in which the area agency on aging shall carry out the area plan.

(8) "State office" means the state office on aging within the state department.

26-11-202. State office on aging. The executive director shall create within the state department a state office on aging, the head of which shall be the director of the state office, who shall be appointed by the executive director. The state office and the director of the state office shall exercise their powers and perform their duties and functions under the state department as if the same were transferred to the state department by a type 2 transfer, as such transfer is defined in the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968", article 1 of title 24, C.R.S.

26-11-203. Duties of the state office. (1) In addition to such other duties and functions as the executive director may allocate to the state office, the state office shall have the following duties and functions:

(a) To develop and administer a state plan on aging, which includes input from area agencies on aging;

(b) To establish a process that encourages local, regional, and statewide participation in the development stages of the state plan on aging, which shall be coordinated with the area agencies on aging, the commission established under part 1 of this article, and other persons or entities involved in programs for older persons;

(c) To assist public and nonprofit private agencies in planning and developing programs to facilitate a statewide network of comprehensive, coordinated services and opportunities for older persons, giving priority to those agencies, programs, services, and activities that support independent living;

(d) To study those aspects of the problems of aging necessary to accomplish the purpose of state policy through such activities as conducting research, computing statistics, and holding hearings;

(e) To maintain a clearinghouse of information related to the interests and needs of older persons and act as a referral service for the dissemination of said information;

(f) To assess the need for services to be provided to the older population within the state and determine the extent to which the state's service delivery system serves said population, with particular emphasis on older persons with the greatest economic and social needs;

(g) To encourage and support the involvement of volunteers and seek ways to utilize the private sector to assume greater responsibility in meeting the needs of older persons; and

(h) To designate area agencies on aging to assist the state office in carrying out its functions in specified geographic areas within the state.

Source: L. 85: Entire part added, p. 976, § 3, effective May 29.

26-11-204. Area agency on aging - duties. (1) An area agency on aging shall have the following duties:

(a) To develop and administer an area plan, consistent with the state plan, for a comprehensive and coordinated system of programs in the planning and service area;

- (b) To assist older persons in obtaining their rights, benefits, and entitlements currently available under the law;
- (c) To identify special needs or barriers to maintaining personal independence;
- (d) To involve older persons in the area in the development and planning of services delivered within the area;
- (e) To assess the needs for services within the planning and service area to determine the effectiveness of existing services available within the area;
- (f) To conduct public hearings on the needs and problems of older persons and on the area plan in conjunction with the area's advisory council;
- (g) To designate an interagency committee composed of public or private nonprofit agencies within the planning and service area, including, but not limited to, health systems agencies and health transportation agencies, private service providers, and senior citizen organizations in order to improve the coordination of services;
- (h) To review and provide comment on program plans of other agencies that affect older persons;
- (i) To provide information to the state office on the special needs of older persons within the planning and service area;
- (j) To establish communication with the local news media to inform the public of available services and opportunities to contribute to the planning and implementation of said services;
- (k) To coordinate and assist local public and nonprofit private agencies in the planning and development of programs to establish a comprehensive and coordinated system of programs and opportunities for older persons;
- (l) To act as an advocate for and represent the issues and concerns of older persons; and
- (m) To provide services or to contract with local providers to provide services under the family caregiver support program.

26-11-205. Area agency on aging advisory council. (1) Each area agency on aging, designated pursuant to section 26-11-203 (1) (h), shall designate an advisory council consisting of a representative body of laypersons and service providers which represent the interests of older persons within the planning and service area. Said advisory council shall:

- (a) Serve to advise the area agency on aging;
- (b) Actively seek advice from community organizations on aging, senior advocacy organizations, and other persons or entities interested in the needs and problems of older persons;
- (c) Act as an advocate for and represent the issues and concerns of older persons; and
- (d) Take an active role in the development, planning, and implementation of the area plan.

26-11-205.5. Older Coloradans program - distribution formula. (1) There is hereby created in the state department the older Coloradans program, referred to in this section as the "program". The program shall provide moneys to area agencies on aging to provide grants to provide community-based services to persons sixty years of age or older to assist such persons to live in their own homes and communities for as long as possible. Such services shall include but are not limited to congregate nutrition, home-delivered meals, transportation services, in-home services, ombudsman services, legal services, elder abuse prevention, outreach, and information and referral services.

(2) Moneys appropriated for the program shall be distributed to area agencies on aging using the same formula that the state office uses to distribute moneys available under Title III, parts (B), (C), (D), and (F) of the federal "Older Americans Act of 1965", as amended, but such moneys shall be allocated as a whole and not allocated to individual parts of Title

III; except that appropriations from the fund of accumulated interest are not subject to the restriction that requires allocations as a whole. An area agency on aging shall use no more than ten percent of the moneys received from the program for administrative expenses.

(3) The proposed uses of moneys from the program shall be included in each area agency on aging's area plan developed pursuant to section 26-11-204 (1) (a).

(4) (a) On or before August 1, 2002, and each August 1 thereafter, each area agency on aging shall submit a report to the state office detailing the use of moneys from the program for the previous fiscal year, including an itemization of how many more persons received each service because of such moneys.

(b) Repealed.

(5) (a) There is hereby created the older Coloradans cash fund, referred to in this subsection (5) as the "fund". The fund shall consist of moneys allocated and credited to the fund from sales and use taxes pursuant to the provisions of section 39-26-123 (3) (a) (III), C.R.S., and any moneys appropriated to the fund by the general assembly. In addition, the state treasurer may credit to the fund any public or private gifts, grants, or donations received by the state department for implementation of the program. The fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-36-114, C.R.S., all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any amount remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and not be transferred or credited to the general fund or any other fund.

(b) There is hereby created within the fund the senior services account, referred to in this paragraph (b) as the "account". The account shall consist of moneys transferred to the account pursuant to section 39-3-207 (6), C.R.S. Moneys in the account are subject to annual appropriation to the state department for distribution to area agencies on aging pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The state department may designate the senior services for which moneys in the account shall be used.

26-11-205.7. Community long-term care study - older Coloradans study cash fund - strategic plan - authority to implement. (1) (a) Subject to the receipt of sufficient moneys pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), the state department or, if appropriate, the department of health care policy and financing shall contract for a study of the population eligible for services under the older Coloradans program created pursuant to section 26-11-205.5. The state department and the department of health care policy and financing shall make necessary data available to the contractor. In selecting a contractor to perform the study, the state departments are not required to follow the competitive bidding requirements of the "Procurement Code", articles 101 to 112 of title 24, C.R.S. The study shall include research and analysis of:

(I) The demographic changes that will impact the demand for long-term care services and supports;

(II) The number of persons sixty years of age or older who would benefit from receiving additional services through the older Coloradans program thereby avoiding more expensive care needs;

(III) The types of services and supports needed by persons over sixty years of age to remain in their own residences and communities for as long as possible and any existing or projected needs for those services and supports;

(IV) The overall amount of savings to the state across the continuum of care associated with providing services to older adults in their own homes and communities;

(V) Other states' experiences with long-term care services and supports, including cost savings or cost avoidance; and

(VI) Recommendations for a long-term strategic implementation plan for providing services through the older Coloradans program.

(b) (I) The state department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, or donations from private and public sources for the purposes of this section; except that the state department may not accept a gift, grant, or donation that is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with this section or any other law of the state. The state department shall transmit all private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the older Coloradans study cash fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund". The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department for the direct and indirect costs associated with implementing this section.

(II) Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this section may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund.

(2) If the study conducted pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section concludes that increasing funding for community-based services as provided in the older Coloradans program would result in cost savings, by July 1, 2011, subject to the receipt of sufficient moneys pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section, the state department shall report to the members of the health and human services committees of the senate and house of representatives, or any successor committees, and to the members of the joint budget committee a long-term strategic implementation plan, developed in cooperation with the area agencies on aging designated pursuant to section 26-11-203 (1) (h), that identifies the expected needs for services and recommends potential funding sources.

(3) If the study conducted pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section concludes that one or more changes would result in cost savings to the state, without adversely affecting the care provided, and the changes are recommended in the strategic implementation plan developed pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the state department or the department of health care policy and financing shall request, through the state budget process, that the changes be implemented and, if necessary, shall recommend legislation to implement the changes to the health and human services committees of the senate and house of representatives, or any successor committees, or the joint budget committee.

(4) (a) If the strategic implementation plan developed pursuant to subsection (2) of this section identifies additional studies that should be conducted, subject to the receipt of sufficient moneys pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section, the state department or the department of health care policy and financing shall contract for one or more studies identified in the strategic implementation plan. The state department and the department of health care policy and financing shall make necessary data available to all the contractors. In selecting a contractor to perform any study conducted pursuant to this subsection (4), the state departments are not required to follow the competitive bidding requirements of the "Procurement Code", articles 101 to 112 of title 24, C.R.S.

(b) If one or more studies conducted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) concludes that implementing the changes recommended by the study would result in cost savings to the state, without adversely affecting the care provided, the state department or the department of health care policy and financing shall request, through the state budget process, that the changes be implemented and, if necessary, shall recommend legislation to implement the changes to the health and human services committees of the senate and house of representatives, or any successor committees, or to the joint budget committee of the general assembly.

26-11-206. Federal requirements - compliance. Source: L. 85: Entire part 2 added, p. 978, § 3, effective May 29.

26-11-207. Family caregiver support program - creation. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that it would be beneficial to the state to develop a service delivery system to respond to the needs of caregivers who care for frail, elderly persons or to the needs of grandparents and relative caregivers who have taken on the challenge and responsibility of raising children. The general assembly also finds that the federal "Older Americans Act of 2000", Pub.L. 106-501, has authorized a family caregiver support program to be administered by area agencies on aging. The general assembly finds that by implementing the family caregiver support program support can be given to caregivers so that elderly individuals may be able to remain in their homes and support may be provided to grandparents or older individuals who are relative caregivers of children.

(2) There is hereby created in the state department the family caregiver support program, referred to in this section as the "program". The program shall allocate available moneys to area agencies on aging to provide support services to the following caregivers:

- (a) Family caregivers of older individuals; and
- (b) Grandparents or older individuals who are relative caregivers of children.

(3) Subject to available appropriations, services to caregivers shall be provided by an area agency on aging or by an entity with which the area agency on aging has contracted. The services to caregivers under the program shall include:

- (a) Information to caregivers about available services;
- (b) Assistance to caregivers in gaining access to the services;
- (c) Individual counseling, organization of support groups, and caregiver training to assist the caregivers in making decisions and solving problems relating to their caregiving responsibilities;
- (d) Respite care to enable caregivers to be temporarily relieved from their caregiving responsibilities; and
- (e) Supplemental services, on a limited basis, to complement the care provided by caregivers.

(4) In the case of a family caregiver of an older individual, respite care, as described in paragraph (d) of subsection (3) of this section, and supplemental services, as described in paragraph (e) of subsection (3) of this section, shall be provided only if the older individual meets the conditions specified in the federal law under the definition of the term "frail" which states that the older individual is functionally impaired because the individual either:

- (a) Is unable to perform at least two activities of daily living without substantial human assistance, including verbal reminding, physical cuing, or supervision; or
- (b) Due to a cognitive or other mental impairment, requires substantial supervision because the individual behaves in a manner that poses a serious health or safety hazard to the individual or to another individual.

- (5) The area agency on aging shall give priority for services under the program to older individuals with greatest social and economic need, with particular attention to low-income older individuals, and to older individuals providing care and support to persons with mental retardation and related developmental disabilities.
- (6) Each area agency on aging shall coordinate the activities of the agency or any contractors with whom the agency has contracted with the activities of other community agencies and volunteer organizations providing the types of support services described in subsection (3) of this section.
- (7) The state shall not use more than ten percent of the total federal and state share of the moneys available to the state for the program to provide support services to grandparents and older individuals who are relative caregivers of children.

26-11.5-104. Creation of state long-term care ombudsman program. (1) Pursuant to the older Americans act, there is hereby established a state long-term care ombudsman program which shall be comprised of a state long-term care ombudsman office and local ombudsman offices established throughout the state.

(2) The state long-term care ombudsman office shall be established and operated under the state department of human services either directly or by contract with or grant to any public agency or other appropriate private nonprofit organization; except that such office shall not be administered by any agency or organization responsible for licensing or certifying long-term care services in the state. The office shall be administered by a full-time qualified state long-term care ombudsman who shall be designated in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the state department.

(3) Local ombudsman programs shall be established statewide. Such programs shall be operated by the state department under contract, grant, or agreement between the state department and a public agency or an appropriate private nonprofit organization. Personnel of local programs shall be trained and designated as qualified representatives of the office in accordance with section 26-11.5-105 (1) (b).

26-11.5-105. Duties of state long-term care ombudsman. (1) In addition to such other duties and functions as the state department may allocate to the office, the state long-term care ombudsman shall have the following duties and functions in implementing a statewide long-term care ombudsman program:

(a) (I) Establish statewide policies and procedures for operating the state long-term care ombudsman program including procedures to identify, investigate, and seek the resolution or referral of complaints made by or on behalf of any elderly resident related to any action, inaction, or decision of any provider of long-term care services or of any public agency, including the state department of human services and county departments of social services, that may adversely affect the health, safety, welfare, or rights of such elderly resident.

(II) The policies and procedures adopted pursuant to subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) may be applied to complaints by or on behalf of any resident of a long-term care facility where the provision of ombudsman services will either benefit elderly residents of the facility involved in the complaint or elderly residents of long-term care facilities in general, or where ombudsman service is the only viable avenue of assistance available to the resident and such service will not significantly diminish the program's effort on behalf of elderly residents.

(b) Provide training and technical assistance to personnel of local ombudsman programs. Upon successful completion of such training the office may designate such personnel as qualified representatives of the office and shall issue to such representatives long-term care ombudsman identification cards.

(c) Establish procedures to analyze and monitor the development and implementation of federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and policies with respect to long-term care facilities and services. On the basis of such analysis and monitoring, the office shall recommend changes to such laws, regulations, and policies to the appropriate governing body.

(d) Prepare a notice informing residents of ombudsman services for posting at long-term care facilities.

(2) In addition to the duties and functions under subsection (1) of this section, the office and its representatives shall have the authority to pursue administrative, legal, or other appropriate remedies on behalf of residents for the purpose of effectively carrying out the provisions of paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section.

26-11.5-106. Local ombudsmen - representatives of office. (1) A local ombudsman, whether an employee or volunteer of a local ombudsman program, shall be considered a representative of the office for the purposes of carrying out policies and procedures adopted by the state long-term care ombudsman in accordance with this article, but only upon the completion of training and designation as a qualified representative by the state long-term care ombudsman. As a representative of the office, a local ombudsman shall follow rules and regulations of the state department and policies and procedures established by the state long-term care ombudsman.

(2) Each local ombudsman shall carry an identification card issued annually and signed by the state long-term care ombudsman and shall, upon the request of a supervisory staff member of a facility, present such card in order to obtain access to residents and records of such facility.

Source: L. 90: Entire article added, p. 1403, § 1, effective April 10.

26-11.5-107. Notice of ombudsman services. (1) Every long-term care facility shall post in a conspicuous place a notice with the name, address, and phone number of the office and the name, address, and phone number of the nearest available local ombudsman program. Such notice shall be provided by the state long-term care ombudsman.

(2) Each long-term care facility shall provide, in writing, to any resident eligible for ombudsman services pursuant to this article who is subject to an involuntary transfer from such facility the name, address, and phone number of the nearest available local ombudsman and the name, address, and phone number of the office. Such information shall be included on the notice required under section 25-1-120 (1) (k), C.R.S.

26-11.5-108. Access to facility - residents - records - confidentiality. (1) An ombudsman, upon presenting a long-term care ombudsman identification card, shall have immediate access to a long-term care facility and to its residents eligible for ombudsman services pursuant to this article for the purposes of effectively carrying out the provisions of this article.

(2) In performing ombudsman duties and functions in accordance with this article an ombudsman shall have access to review the medical and social records of a resident eligible for ombudsman services pursuant to this article, provided the resident has consented to such review. In the event consent to such review is not available because the resident is incapable of consenting and has no guardian to provide such consent, inspection of such records may be made by the state long-term care ombudsman.

(3) In carrying out the provisions of this section, each ombudsman shall follow procedures of confidentiality in accordance with the older Americans act.

Source: L. 90: Entire article added, p. 1404, § 1, effective April 10.

26-11.5-109. Interference with ombudsmen prohibited - civil penalty. (1) No person shall willfully interfere with an ombudsman in the ombudsman's performance of duties and functions under this article.

(2) No person shall take any discriminatory, disciplinary, or retaliatory action against the following individuals for any communication with an ombudsman or for any information provided in good faith to the office in carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this article:

(a) Any resident eligible for ombudsman services pursuant to this article;

(b) Any officer or employee of a facility or governmental agency providing services to residents of long-term care facilities.

(3) Any person who commits a violation under subsection (1) or (2) of this section shall be subject to the following civil penalties:

(a) For a violation of subsection (1) of this section, a penalty of not more than two thousand five hundred dollars per violation;

(b) For a violation of subsection (2) of this section, a penalty of not more than five thousand dollars per violation.

(4) (a) Any person listed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (2) of this section, or any person acting on such person's behalf, including the state or a local ombudsman, may file a complaint with the department of human services against any person who violates subsection (1) or (2) of this section. The said department shall investigate such a complaint and, if there is sufficient evidence of a violation, shall be authorized to assess, enforce, and collect the appropriate penalty set forth in subsection (3) of this section.

(b) Prior to the assessment of a penalty, the department of human services shall give written notice to the person against whom a penalty will be assessed, stating the basis for the violation and the amount of the penalty to be assessed. Such person, upon request, shall be given a hearing in accordance with section 24-4-105, C.R.S., which hearing shall constitute final agency action. Such agency action shall be subject to judicial review in accordance with section 24-4-106, C.R.S.

(c) The department of human services shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary for the implementation of this subsection (4).

(d) All penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the general fund. Penalties provided under this section shall be in addition to and not in lieu of any other remedy provided by law.

26-11.5-110. Immunity from liability. Any ombudsman who, in good faith, acts within the scope of the duties and functions of this article shall be immune from civil or criminal liability. For the purposes of this section, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that, when acting within the scope of the duties and functions of this article, an ombudsman acts in good faith. Nothing in this section shall be construed to abrogate or limit the immunity or exemption from civil liability of any agency, entity, or person under any statute, including the "Colorado Governmental Immunity Act", article 10 of title 24, C.R.S.

26-11.5-111. Duties of state department. (1) In order to implement the provisions of this article, the state department shall carry out the following duties:

(a) Establish a statewide uniform reporting system to collect and analyze data relating to complaints and conditions in long-term care facilities for the purpose of identifying and resolving significant problems, with specific provision for the submission of such data on a regular basis to the state agency responsible for licensing or certifying long-term care facilities;

(b) Establish procedures to assure that information contained in any files maintained in accordance with the state long-term care ombudsman program shall be disclosed only at the discretion of the state long-term care ombudsman and that the identity of a complainant be disclosed only with the written consent of such complainant or in accordance with a court order;

(c) Ensure that no individual involved in the designation of the state long-term care ombudsman, nor any officer, employee, or volunteer of the statewide program in performing ombudsman functions, is subject to any conflict of interest;

(d) Ensure that adequate legal counsel is available to an ombudsman for advice and counseling concerning the performance of ombudsman duties and functions and for legal representation of an ombudsman against whom legal action is brought in connection with the performance of ombudsman duties and functions provided for under this article;

(e) Promulgate rules and regulations necessary for the efficient administration and operation of the state long-term care ombudsman program.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-12-105 as it existed prior to 1998.

26-12-108. Payments for care - funds - annual report - collections for charges - central fund for state nursing homes created. (1) (a) The state department shall establish rates for the care of residents, which rates shall be as nearly equal to the cost of operation and maintenance of the state nursing homes as practicable. Payments shall be made to the state department unless otherwise provided pursuant to a contract entered into in accordance with section 26-12-119. The state department shall deposit such payments together with any other moneys received from any source for the operation and maintenance of the state nursing homes with the state treasurer, who shall credit all such moneys to the central fund for state nursing homes, referred to in this article as the "central fund", which fund is hereby created.

(a.5) For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2007, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the general assembly shall appropriate from the general fund to the central fund an amount not exceeding ten percent of the total gross revenue accrued by the central fund during the preceding fiscal year in coordination with the state department's standard budget request process. The state department shall use these funds to pay operational expenses of, and make capital improvements to, the state nursing homes.

(b) (I) The state department is authorized to expend moneys out of the central fund for the direct and indirect costs incurred by the state department for the operation and administration of the state nursing homes and for capital construction in connection with such state nursing homes. Such expenditures shall not require an appropriation by the general assembly but shall be limited to amounts in the central fund.

(II) All requests for capital construction submitted by the state department shall be considered by the capital development committee pursuant to section 2-3-1304, C.R.S.

(III) All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the central fund shall be credited to such fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the central fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(c) The state department shall prepare and submit to the general assembly an annual report detailing the financial status of each of the state nursing homes. This report shall also identify which of the state nursing homes administered pursuant to the provisions of this article are owned by the state but operated under contract by another entity.

(2) It is lawful for each state nursing home and the Colorado state veterans center at Homelake to deposit moneys belonging to the benefit fund established prior to July 1, 1985, and all donations or other voluntary contributions that may be received on or after that date in any manner for the benefit of residents of each state nursing home and the Colorado state veterans center at Homelake in an interest-bearing account with a federally insured financial depository pursuant to section 24-75-603, C.R.S. Withdrawals from such accounts shall be made only for the benefit, aid, and assistance of residents of each state nursing home or the occupants of the Colorado state veterans center at Homelake, including recreational equipment and facilities.

(3) The executive director may, in the name of the people of the state of Colorado and through the attorney general, institute and maintain actions at law for the collection of charges due from residents of state nursing homes and the Colorado state veterans center at Homelake, or said residents' conservators, guardians, executors, or administrators, resulting from the failure, neglect, or refusal of said persons to pay such charges.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-12-107 as it existed prior to 1998.

26-12-110. Declaration of policy - enterprise status. (1) Any state nursing home or group of state nursing homes shall constitute an enterprise for purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution so long as:

(a) The state department retains authority to issue anticipation warrants on behalf of such state nursing home or group of state nursing homes; and

(b) Such state nursing home or group of state nursing homes receives less than ten percent of its total annual revenues in grants from the state and all Colorado local governments combined.

(2) So long as it constitutes an enterprise, a state nursing home or a group of state nursing homes shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-12-109 as it existed prior to 1998.

26-12-111. Proposed state nursing homes - criteria. (1) The state department, in consultation with the Colorado board of veterans affairs, shall be responsible for recommending any proposed sites for state nursing homes to be constructed, leased, or purchased on or after July 1, 1998, to the capital development committee and the joint budget committee. The general assembly shall be responsible for the selection of any proposed site for such state nursing homes.

(2) When evaluating a potential site for a proposed state nursing home, the following criteria shall be considered:

(a) The proximity of the proposed facility to veterans affairs medical services;

(b) The impact the proposed home would have upon the financial viability of state nursing homes already in existence;

(c) Whether there is an established bed need for the proposed state nursing home based upon the location of Colorado veterans, their families, and support systems.

(3) Any state nursing home constructed, leased, or purchased on or after July 1, 1998, shall have a bed capacity of at least one hundred twenty beds.

(4) No state veterans nursing home shall be constructed on or after July 1, 1998, unless other state veterans nursing homes have maintained an average occupancy rate of at least eighty percent over the six-month period immediately prior to the commencement of the construction of the new state veterans nursing home.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-12-109.5 as it existed prior to 1998.

26-12-112. Powers and duties of state department. (1) The state department may, in addition to the powers granted in this article, whenever authorized and locations have been designated by the general assembly:

(a) Establish, construct, operate, maintain, and improve, within the state of Colorado, buildings and facilities, and the means necessary thereto, for the full exercise of the powers granted by this article;

(b) Identify the records that the nursing home administrator of each state nursing home shall submit to the state department;

(c) Set aside a special sinking fund account in the central fund for the payment of anticipation warrants authorized by and issued under the provisions of section 26-12-113 and for the payment of interest due on such warrants; except that the state department shall not pledge the general income of the state of Colorado or appropriations made by the general assembly for any state nursing home, nor shall it create a mortgage upon the property belonging to any such state nursing home, for the payment of the principal of the warrants and interest thereon. The state department shall deposit into the sinking fund account fees and revenues received from residents at state nursing homes sufficient to cover necessary reserve accounts and principal and interest payments, which fees and revenues shall first be applied upon the payment of principal and such anticipation warrants and interest thereon. Any moneys in said sinking fund account not necessary for the reserve nor for the payment of said principal and interest may be made available for the maintenance and operation of such state nursing homes.

(d) Accept any grants from, or payments made by, the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof and receive gifts, legacies, devises, and conveyances of property, real or personal, that may be made, given, transferred pursuant to a purchase and sale, or granted to the state department for state nursing homes. The state department, with the approval of the governor, shall make disposition of such property in the best interest of the state nursing homes under the control and supervision of the state department.

(2) All titles to real property and all improvements thereon shall be vested in the state, and the title deeds thereto and all insurance policies, certificates of water rights, and other evidences of ownership to the real property or improvements of said nursing home shall be deposited with the state department.

(3) No payment shall be made out of the state treasury or otherwise for any real property described in this section until the title has been examined and approved by the attorney general. Every such deed of conveyance shall be immediately recorded in the office of the proper county clerk and recorder and thereafter deposited with the state department.

(4) The state department, by October 31, 2002, and on or before October 31 each year thereafter, shall provide sufficient information to enable the Colorado board of veterans affairs to complete the report required by section 28-5-703 (3), C.R.S.

(5) Repealed.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-12-110 as it existed prior to 1998.

26-12-113. Anticipation warrants - legislative declaration. (1) (a) For the purpose of defraying the cost of construction of new facilities, reconstruction or improvement of existing facilities, and maintenance and operation of such facilities, the state department may, with the approval of the governor, issue anticipation warrants that shall be payable solely from the sinking fund account described in section 26-12-112, and the payments and interest on such anticipation warrants shall be a first charge on and shall be payable from said account.

(b) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that the authority to issue anticipation warrants as set forth in this section shall constitute authority to issue revenue bonds for the purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(2) Any other provision of this article notwithstanding, the state department may not issue any anticipation warrants or otherwise borrow funds for the construction of additional state nursing homes, unless such construction of additional state nursing homes is specifically authorized by law.

26-12-116. Obligations limited. (1) Nothing in sections 26-12-110 to 26-12-118 shall be construed as to authorize the state department to incur any obligation of any kind or nature except such as shall be payable solely from moneys accruing to the special sinking fund account created pursuant to section 26-12-112.

(2) It shall be plainly stated on the face of each anticipation warrant that it has been issued under the provisions of sections 26-12-110 to 26-12-118 and that it does not constitute an indebtedness of the general fund of the state within the meaning of any constitutional provision or limitation.

26-12-120. Intestate estate - escheat. (1) If a resident dies without legal heirs and without a will disposing of his or her estate, all of the property, real and personal, shall pass to the state of Colorado for the sole use and benefit of the state nursing home in which the resident lived at the time of his or her death, subject to the provisions of section 25.5-4-302, C.R.S., and subsection (2) of this section.

(2) (a) The personal property and effects of deceased residents shall be taken into possession by the state nursing home administrator of the state nursing home in which the resident lived at the time of his or her death and held in accordance with the rules of the state board.

(b) Such rules shall provide for a sufficient period of time not to exceed one year in which the heirs of a deceased resident may make claim to the deceased resident's property and effects. If no claim is made to the property, the property may be sold, and the proceeds of the sale shall be placed in the benefit fund created by section 26-12-108 (2) for the personal use and benefit of other residents of the state nursing home in which the resident lived at the time of his or her death, subject to claims as a result of appropriate judicial proceedings.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 26-12-120 is similar to former C.L. §§ 707 and 708, a relevant case construing those provisions has been included in the annotations to this section.

Section to be read in light of estate administration provisions. This section should be read in connection with the statutes relating to administration of estates, so that they may be harmonized, if practicable. In cases where inmates of the home have died intestate, leaving no debts, and leaving articles of personal property of a value not sufficient to cover the cost of administration, the officers of the home doubtless were at a loss to know what to do with such property. Lacking authority to pass title, they could not sell it. This section was intended to apply in such a situation. It was not intended to apply where the property left was sufficient to justify administration, particularly where there are creditors. It is unreasonable to suppose that the general assembly intended, where an inmate leaves property of substantial value, that the property may be sold by the officers of the home and the proceeds, in default of heirs, placed to the credit of the general fund of the home, regardless of the claims of creditors. In re Estate of McManis, 94 Colo. 546, 31 P.2d 912 (1934).

26-12-121. State and veterans nursing homes - local advisory boards - rules - repeal. (1) The state board, with input from the division within the state department that is responsible for state nursing homes, shall promulgate rules to establish the requirements and procedures governing the creation and operation of local advisory boards at each of the existing state nursing homes within the state department, located in Homelake, Florence, Rifle, Aurora, and Walsenburg, Colorado.

(2) Each local advisory board shall consist of at least five members. At least one of the members shall be a resident of the state nursing home or veterans nursing home or a person who, at the time of his or her appointment, is a family member of a resident of the nursing home.

(3) (a) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2017.

(b) Prior to repeal, the local advisory boards appointed pursuant to this section shall be reviewed as provided in section 2-3-1203, C.R.S.

PART 2

SPECIFIC STATE NURSING HOMES AUTHORIZED

26-12-201. State nursing homes authorized.

(1) Repealed.

(2) (a) Subject to available appropriations, there is hereby authorized the establishment and construction of state nursing homes for veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States and their spouses, surviving spouses, or dependent parents. Each such state nursing home shall be known as the Colorado state veterans nursing home, collectively referred to in this article as “state veterans nursing homes”.

(b) State veterans nursing homes shall be located at or near the city of Florence, at or near the city of Walsenburg, at or near the city of Rifle, and in Homelake.

(3) The state department shall evaluate any proposed sites for a state veterans nursing home to be constructed, leased, or purchased on or after July 1, 1998, in accordance with section 26-12-111.

(4) The state veterans nursing homes shall be designed and constructed so as to qualify for federal funding under the provisions of federal Public Law 88-450, as amended. The state veterans nursing homes shall be under the control and supervision of the state department, and they shall be operated so as to qualify for per diem payments from the United States veterans administration under the provisions of 38 U.S.C. sec. 1741.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former §§ 26-12-201 and 26-12-401 as they existed prior to 1998.

26-12-201.5. Nursing home at former Fitzsimons authorized - Fitzsimons state veterans nursing home advisory board. (1) Subject to available appropriations, there is hereby authorized the establishment and construction of a state veterans nursing home on the site of the former Fitzsimons Army medical center.

(2) Preference for admission to the state veterans nursing home authorized pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be given to any veteran who is not currently a resident in another state veterans nursing home.

(3) and (4) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2000, p. 1552, § 30, effective August 2, 2000.)

(5) Construction of the facility authorized pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall begin no later than October 1, 2001, or upon receipt of the federal funding for such construction.

(6) Beginning in fiscal year 2004-05, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the state department is authorized to use general funds appropriated to cover any operational shortfall incurred by the facility after its construction and before it begins to generate revenues sufficient to cover its operational expenses.

(7) Repealed.

26-12-202. Walsenburg - contractual arrangement. (1) For as long as the contract is in effect with the Huerfano county hospital district for the operation of the Walsenburg state veterans nursing home, the contract shall state that the home is a separate entity for financial reporting purposes. The contract shall also state that the district is responsible for financial reporting, rate calculation, financial performance, compliance with all state and federal regulations, and compliance with section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(2) The Walsenburg state veterans nursing home shall remain a state-owned entity for purposes of qualifying for federal veterans assistance payments and other federal veterans programs.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the state's ability to take over operations or to contract with any other entity should the contract with the district terminate.

26-12-203. The Colorado state veterans center - jurisdiction. (1) (a) The Colorado state veterans center at Homelake, consisting of a state nursing home, a domiciliary care unit, and the Homelake military veterans cemetery, referred to in this part 2 as the "center", as transferred to the state department by the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968", is hereby declared to be a state home for veterans of service in the armed forces of the United States and their spouses, surviving spouses, and dependent parents.

(b) The legal effect of any statute enacted prior to July 1, 1973, designating such institution as the soldiers' and sailors' home or the Monte Vista golden age center, or by any other name, or property rights acquired and obligations incurred prior to said date under any other name, shall not be impaired hereby.

(2) The center shall be under the control and supervision of the state department.

(3) For purposes of this section, "domiciliary care" means the provision of shelter, food, and necessary medical care on an ambulatory self-care basis:

(a) To assist any individual who is eligible for occupancy in the center pursuant to sections 26-12-104 and 26-12-106 and who is suffering from an incapacitating disability, disease, or defect that prevents such veteran from earning a living, but that does not require hospitalization or nursing care services to attain physical, mental, and social well-being; and

(b) To restore, through special rehabilitative programs, such individual to his or her highest level of functioning.

26-12-204. Sale of property. (1) The executive director, with the approval of the state board, shall sell any real property at the center declared to be surplus by the state board to the highest bidder on such terms and conditions as are deemed appropriate by the executive director for not less than the appraised value thereof, as determined by an appraiser who is a member of the members appraisal institute (MAI), and to execute deeds of conveyance of such real property.

(2) Upon the sale of real property pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the proceeds shall be deposited in the central fund and applied toward the retirement of any outstanding anticipation warrants.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-12-312 (2.5) as it existed prior to 1998.

26-12-205. Homelake military veterans cemetery - definitions - fund - rules - notice of funding through gifts, grants, and donations - repeal. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Cemetery" means the Homelake military veterans cemetery established and maintained at the center pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, including the triangular area of land to the direct north of the existing cemetery as of May 3, 2012.

(b) "Fund" means the Homelake military veterans cemetery fund created pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(2) (a) The general assembly hereby authorizes the establishment and maintenance of the cemetery at the center. The state department shall maintain the cemetery.

(b) The state department may enter into contracts or agreements with any person or public or private entity to prepare, develop, construct, operate, and maintain the cemetery.

(3) (a) Any veteran who served honorably in any branch of the armed forces of the United States and who, at the time of his or her death, was a resident of this state shall be eligible for burial and interment at the cemetery.

(b) Burial and interment may be provided at the cemetery for any spouse, surviving spouse, or dependent parent of an honorably discharged veteran of any branch of the armed forces of the United States.

(c) All necessary expenses incident to the burial and interment at the cemetery of any person who may be buried and interred at the cemetery pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be paid from the estate of the decedent.

(d) The state department shall adopt procedures whereby persons who are eligible for burial and interment in the cemetery, in exchange for monetary consideration in an amount to be determined by the state department but not to exceed the amount of the burial and memorial benefit provided to an eligible veteran by the federal department of veterans affairs, may reserve plots there for the burial and interment of themselves and their spouses. In adopting such procedures, the state department shall ensure that a person who possesses such a reservation on May 3, 2012, shall retain his or her reservation.

(4) (a) There is hereby established in the state treasury the Homelake military veterans cemetery fund. The fund shall consist of moneys transferred to the fund pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (4), any revenue generated from activities associated with the cemetery and its operations, and any moneys appropriated to the fund by the general assembly. The moneys in the fund are subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the state department for the direct and indirect costs associated with capital improvements to, and the operation and maintenance of, the cemetery and for the implementation of this section. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of the section may be invested by the state treasurer as provided in section 24-36-113, C.R.S. Any interest and income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(b) The state department is authorized to accept gifts, grants, and donations for the purposes of this section; except that the state department shall not accept a gift, grant, or donation that is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with the provisions of this section or any other law of the state. The state department shall transfer all private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, and donations to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the fund.

(c) The state department shall not expend more than five percent of the moneys annually expended from the fund to pay for the administrative costs of implementing this section.

(d) (I) The state department shall notify the legislative council staff when it has received adequate funding through gifts, grants, or donations for the purposes of this section and shall include in the notification the information specified in section 24-75-1303 (3), C.R.S.

(II) This paragraph (d) is repealed, effective July 1, 2015.

(5) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that any use of the cemetery property is for a public purpose expressly authorized by the general assembly and therefore permissible under any grant of right-of-way applicable to such property executed by the state board of land commissioners.

(6) Subject to available appropriations, the state department may contract for professional services necessary for the implementation of this section.

(7) It is the intent of the general assembly that the state department will implement the provisions of this section by assigning to the cemetery one-half of a full-time employee from within the existing personnel resources of the state department.

PART 3

EVALUATION OF QUALITY OF CARE IN STATE AND VETERANS NURSING HOMES26-12-301 to 26-12-306. (Repealed)

Editor's note: (1) Section 26-12-306 provided for the repeal of this part 3, effective July 1, 2007. (See L. 2005, p. 597.)

(2) This part 3 was added in 2005 and was not amended prior to its repeal in 2007. For the text of this part 3 prior to 2007, consult the 2006 Colorado Revised Statutes.

PART 4

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF STATE AND VETERANS NURSING HOMES

26-12-401. Definitions. As used in this part 4, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Board of commissioners" means the board of commissioners of state and veterans nursing homes created in section 26-12-402.

(2) "Division" means the division of state and veterans nursing homes, or its successor agency, in the state department.

26-12-402. Board of commissioners of state and veterans nursing homes - creation - powers and duties. (1) There is hereby created the board of commissioners of state and veterans nursing homes within the state department. The board of commissioners shall exercise its powers, duties, and functions under the state department as if it were transferred to the state department by a type 2 transfer under the provisions of the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968", article 1 of title 24, C.R.S.

(2) The functions of the board of commissioners are to:

(a) Advise the division and the veterans nursing homes located in Homelake, Florence, Rifle, Aurora, and Walsenburg, Colorado;

(b) Provide continuity, predictability, and stability in the operation of the state and veterans nursing homes; and

(c) Provide guidance to future administrators at the state and veterans nursing homes based on the collective institutional memory of the board of commissioners.

(3) (a) The board of commissioners shall consist of seven members, no more than four of whom are members of the same political party, and all of whom shall be subject to confirmation by the senate.

(b) The governor shall appoint the seven members of the board of commissioners as follows:

(I) Three veterans, one of whom shall be either a member of the state board of veterans affairs or that board's designee;

(II) Three persons with expertise in nursing home operations, including:

(A) A person who is a nursing home administrator at the time of appointment and who is experienced in the financial operations of nursing homes;

(B) A person who has practicing clinical experience in nursing homes; and

(C) A person who has experience in multi-facility management of nursing homes; and

(III) The state long-term care ombudsman, as defined in section 26-11.5-103 (7), or a local ombudsman, as defined in section 26-11.5-103 (2), that is recommended to the governor by the state long-term care ombudsman.

(c) The appointed members of the board of commissioners shall serve terms of four years; except that, of the members first appointed, the governor shall select three members who shall serve terms of two years.

(4) An appointed member may be removed for cause at any time during the member's term by the governor. Vacancies on the board of commissioners shall be filled by appointment by the governor with the consent of the senate for the unexpired terms in the manner described in subsection (3) of this section.

(5) Members of the board of commissioners shall serve without pay but shall be reimbursed for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

(6) All members of the board of commissioners shall be voting members. The members of the board of commissioners shall elect a chair, a vice-chair, and a secretary from among the membership of the board. Board action shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of a quorum of the board of commissioners.

(7) The board of commissioners shall:

(a) Endeavor to ensure that the highest quality of care is being provided at the state and veterans nursing homes and that the financial status of the homes is maintained on a sound basis;

(b) Obtain information concerning the following:

(I) The status of the central fund, as described in section 26-12-108, and the progress of capital construction projects that are proposed or underway; and

(II) Issues of resident care arising from sources, including but not limited to department of public health and environment surveys, veterans administration surveys, consultant contractor reports, plans of correction to both surveys and consultant reports, vacant position reports, and reports from the division;

(c) Have direct access to any consulting contractor working with the state and veterans nursing homes and obtain written and oral reports;

(d) Have direct access to the executive director of the state department and the state board for the purposes of alerting state department policymakers of potential problems in state and veterans nursing homes and establishing effective working relationships and lines of communication with the state department and state board at all levels;

(e) Have the authority to visit and review the operation of the state and veterans nursing homes;

(f) Participate in any request for proposal panel that selects division-wide consulting firms for the state and veterans nursing homes;

(g) Have authority to review and comment on rules promulgated by the state department and the state board concerning the state and veterans nursing homes before the rules are submitted for public comment;

(h) Meet as often as necessary but not less than three times per year; and

(i) (I) On or before January 1, 2008, and on or before each January 1 thereafter, make an annual report of issues and recommendations developed by the board of commissioners to the executive director of the state department and the governor; and

(II) Transmit electronic versions of each annual report to:

(A) The members of the general assembly who sit on the health and human services committees and the state, veterans, and military affairs committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees; and

(B) The members of the state board of veterans affairs.

(8) Nothing in this part 4 shall be construed to abridge, amend, or supersede any provision of a contractual agreement that the state department has entered into with any of the state and veterans nursing homes.

26-13-102.5. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Delegate child support enforcement unit" means the unit of a county department of social services or its contractual agent which is responsible for carrying out the provisions of this article. The term contractual agent shall include a private child support collection agency, operating as an independent contractor with a county department of social services, that contracts to provide any services that the delegate child support enforcement unit is required by law to provide.

(2) (a) "IV-D case" or "IV-D support order" means a case or a support order with respect to a child in which support enforcement services are provided, in accordance with Title IV-D of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, and pursuant to this article, by the delegate child support enforcement unit to a custodian of a child who is or was a recipient:

(I) Of aid to families with dependent children, as that program was in effect as of July 16, 1996;

(II) Under the Colorado works program pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title;

(III) Of medical assistance only under articles 4, 5, and 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.;

(IV) Of Title IV-E foster care; or

(V) Of foster care services under article 5 of this title.

(b) The terms "IV-D case" or "IV-D support order" also include any case or order in which the custodian of a child applies to the delegate child support enforcement unit for support enforcement services and pays a fee for such services under section 26-13-106 (2).

26-13-102.7. Privacy - legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that while it is beneficial to the children of the state of Colorado to have procedures by which to enhance the establishment and enforcement of child support, some of which may include the collection and transmission of certain informational data by electronic and other means, the general assembly also determines that it is equally important to prevent abuses of personal information and to safeguard the fundamental right of individuals to privacy. To ensure the privacy of individuals against whom child support is to be established or enforced or on whose behalf it is to be collected, the general assembly hereby determines that it is appropriate that certain safeguards be established.

(2) In addition to any other confidentiality provisions set forth in this article and section 14-14-113, C.R.S., the child support enforcement agency and the delegate child support enforcement units, when exercising authority pursuant to this article and section 14-14-113, C.R.S., to establish, modify, or enforce support obligations, shall make every effort to preserve the integrity and confidentiality of the informational data obtained from other sources about the support obligor and obligee and the informational data provided to any other source about such individuals. The child support enforcement agency and the delegate child support enforcement units shall share only the minimum amount of information required by law and by means that are most capable of preserving the integrity and confidentiality of the information or data about the individual. Specifically, the informational data maintained or transmitted pursuant to this article shall be:

- (a) Processed fairly and lawfully;
- (b) Collected for specified, explicit, and legitimate purposes as provided by statute or rule and not further processed in a way incompatible with those purposes;
- (c) Adequate, relevant, and not excessive in relation to the purposes for which such information is collected or processed;
- (d) Accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date to the maximum extent feasible; and
- (e) Kept in a form that permits identification of the subject of such information for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the information was collected or for which it was processed.

(3) In addition, an individual about whom information is gathered or transmitted pursuant to this article or section 14-14-113, C.R.S., shall have the right to access such information relating to him or her in order to verify the accuracy of the information and the lawfulness of the processing of such information.

(4) Any individual about whom information is gathered or transmitted pursuant to this article or section 14-14-113, C.R.S., shall be entitled to civil damages in a court of law against any person or entity who knowingly violates the provisions of this section.

26-13-102.8. Nondisclosure of information in exceptional circumstances. If a party alleges in an affidavit or a pleading under oath that the health, safety, or liberty of a party or child would be jeopardized by disclosure of specific identifying information, that information shall be sealed and may not be disclosed to the other party or the public. A party seeking disclosure of all or part of such identifying information may request a hearing before the court. After a hearing in which the court takes into consideration the health, safety, or liberty of the party or child, the court shall make findings based upon the considerations specified in this section and may order disclosure of all or part of the information if the court determines the disclosure to be in the interest of justice.

26-13-105. Child support enforcement services - review. (1) Subject to the provisions of section 26-13-104, the child support enforcement program shall include the following, as required by federal law:

(a) The establishment and modification of an obligor parent's legal obligation to support his or her dependent children, including determination of parentage when necessary;

(b) The location of an obligor parent or putative parent;

(c) The monitoring and processing of an obligor parent's child support and maintenance payment;

(d) The enforcement of an obligor parent's support obligation as set forth in section 26-13-106 (1);

(e) Any necessary investigative and administrative activities which may be necessary to accomplish the services required by this section;

(f) (I) Annual reviews of the child support enforcement program, to be conducted by the state department, including all information as may be necessary to measure the state's compliance with federal requirements.

(II) The state department shall review the cost associated with conducting the annual reviews required in this paragraph (f) and the number of full-time equivalent employees (FTE) of the state department required to complete the reviews. The state department shall examine and evaluate the feasibility and cost-effectiveness of privatizing this function.

(1.5) Upon the request of another state, the state department or its agent is authorized to provide the identification, through data matches with any entity where assets may be found, of assets owned by a person who owes child support in another state and to seize such assets through levy or other appropriate processes.

(2) In any action brought pursuant to this article, or any action brought by a governmental agency, to establish, modify, or enforce a child support obligation or to enforce a maintenance obligation as set forth in section 26-13-106, the prosecuting attorney represents the people of the state of Colorado. Nothing in this section shall be construed to modify statutory mandate, authority, or confidentiality required of any governmental agency, nor should representation by a prosecuting attorney be construed to create an attorney-client relationship between the attorney and any party, other than the people of the state of Colorado, or witness to the action; except that any district attorney or county attorney as contractual agent for a county department shall collect a fee pursuant to section 26-13-106 (2).

(3) (a) In addition to the annual review required by paragraph (f) of subsection (1) of this section, or as a part of such review, the state department shall evaluate the cost and effectiveness of each of the provisions implemented by House Bill 97-1205. Such evaluation shall include a review of the following:

(I) The amount of increase in support collection, if any, associated with the implementation of each new provision contained in House Bill 97-1205;

(II) The cost, in federal, state, and county dollars, associated with the implementation of each new provision set forth in House Bill 97-1205;

(III) The number of full-time equivalent employees (FTE) necessitated by the implementation of each new provision contained in House Bill 97-1205 at both the state and county levels; and

(IV) Such additional data as may be necessary.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Family Support Act: Mandating State Child Support Enforcement Services", see 21 Colo. Law. 255 (1992).

No express agency relationship or apparent authority existed between the child support enforcement unit and the mother during the period of time in which the mother had assigned her rights to the unit for collection of child support and prior to the time that the AFDC assistance had been fully reimbursed, since mother had expressly acknowledged that the child support enforcement unit did not represent her and mother could not control the actions of the unit. In re Robbins, 8 P.3d 625 (Colo. App. 2000).

This section authorizes child support enforcement services to any person who properly applies and does not prohibit the child support enforcement unit from providing services to persons residing outside the United States. People ex rel. A.K., 72 P.3d 402 (Colo. App. 2003).

Applied in People in Interest of W.M., 643 P.2d 794 (Colo. App. 1982).

26-13-106. Eligibility for services. (1) Support enforcement services shall be provided to those recipients of medicaid-only and Title IV-E foster care as required by federal law and to participants in the Colorado works program implemented pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title who, as a condition of eligibility pursuant to federal law, must assign their rights to support to, and cooperate with, the state department in the establishment, modification, and enforcement of support obligations owed by obligors to their children and the enforcement of maintenance owed by obligors to their spouses or former spouses.

(2) Child support establishment, modification, and enforcement services under state law and under the "Uniform Interstate Family Support Act", article 5 of title 14, C.R.S., shall be provided to any person who completes a written application and pays the required fee; except that the county may elect to pay the fee out of county child support enforcement funds. The state department shall establish, by rule, a fee to be charged for services provided under this section. Such fee shall be applied toward reimbursing expenditures incurred by the child support enforcement program. County departments and their contractual agents for legal services, including district and county attorneys, may pursue such fee, notwithstanding any other provision of law. Nonpayment of any fee charged by the state department for services provided under this section shall not be the basis for any criminal prosecution or order of contempt of the court.

(3) The county department may recover any costs incurred in excess of fees from the obligor in a case in which an individual is receiving child support enforcement services under subsection (2) of this section.

(4) After more than five hundred dollars has been collected from an obligor during a year, the county department shall recover a fee of twenty-five dollars from the obligee if the obligee has never received public assistance. The county department shall withhold the fee from the first amount collected that exceeds the five-hundred-dollar threshold.

26-13-107. State parent locator service. (1) There shall be established in the state department a state parent locator service to assist delegate child support enforcement units or their authorized agents, other states, and agencies of the federal government in the location of parents who have or appear to have abandoned children who qualify under section 26-13-106.

(2) To effectuate the purposes of subsection (1) of this section, the executive director may request and shall receive from departments, boards, bureaus, or other agencies of the state, including but not limited to law enforcement agencies, or any of its political subdivisions, and the same are authorized to provide, such assistance and data as will enable the state department and delegate child support enforcement units or their authorized agents properly to carry out their powers and duties to locate such parents for the purpose of establishing parentage or establishing, modifying, or enforcing child support obligations. In addition, any federal agency or such agency's authorized agents properly carrying out their powers and duties to locate a parent for the purpose of establishing parentage or establishing, modifying, or enforcing child support obligations may request and shall have access to any motor vehicle or law enforcement system used by the state to locate an individual. Any records established pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be available only to the following:

(a) Any state or local agency or official seeking to collect child support under the state plan or the agency's or official's authorized agents;

(b) The attorney general, district attorneys, and county attorneys;

(c) Courts having jurisdiction in support or abandonment proceedings or actions to establish child support against a parent or to issue an order against a parent for the allocation of parental responsibilities or parenting time rights or any agent of such court;

(d) The obligee parent, legal guardian, attorney, or agent of a child who is not receiving aid under Title IV-A of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, when a court order is provided; and

(e) United States agents or attorneys for use with the federal parent locator service in connection with a parental kidnapping or child custody case, as authorized by federal law.

(3) (a) (I) All departments and agencies of the state and local governments, including but not limited to law enforcement agencies, shall cooperate in the location of parents who have abandoned or deserted children who qualify under section 26-13-106; and, on request of a delegate child support enforcement unit or its authorized agent, the state department, or the district attorney of any judicial district in this state, they shall supply any information on hand, notwithstanding any other provisions of law making such information confidential, concerning:

(A) The location of any individual, including the individual's social security number, most recent address, and the name, address, and employer identification number of the individual's employer, or facilitating the discovery of such individual's location, who is under an obligation to pay child support, against whom such an obligation is sought, or to whom such an obligation is owed;

(B) The individual's wages or other income from employment and any benefits of employment, including any right to or enrollment in group health care coverage; and

(C) The type, status, location, and amount of any assets of, or debts owed by or to, any such individual.

(II) The department of revenue shall furnish, at no cost to inquiring departments and agencies, such information as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this article. Any information so provided may be transmitted to those persons or entities specified in paragraph (a.5) of this subsection (3). The procedures whereby this information will be requested and provided shall be established pursuant to rules and regulations of the state department. The state department and delegate child support enforcement units shall use such information only for the purposes of administering child support enforcement under this title, and the district attorney shall use it only for the purpose of establishing parentage or establishing, modifying, or enforcing child support obligations. The state department and delegate child support enforcement units shall not use the information, or disclose it, for any other purpose. Any violation or misuse of this information will be subject to any civil or criminal penalties provided by law.

(a.5) The state parent locator service shall only accept applications from and transmit Colorado and federal parent locator information to:

(I) Any state or local agency or official seeking to collect child support under the state plan or the agency's or official's authorized agents;

(II) The attorney general, district attorneys, and county attorneys;

(III) Courts having jurisdiction in support and abandonment proceedings or actions to establish child support against a parent or to issue an order against a parent for the allocation of parental responsibilities or parenting time rights or any agent of such court;

(IV) The obligee parent, legal guardian, attorney, or agent of a child who is not receiving aid under Title IV-A of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, when a court order is provided;

(V) United States agents or attorneys for use with the federal parent locator service in connection with a parental kidnapping or child custody case, as authorized by federal law; and

(VI) The court when a court order is provided from a parent seeking to enforce a child custody, parental responsibilities, or parenting time order.

(b) Nothing in this subsection (3) shall be construed to compel the disclosure of information relating to a deserting parent who is a recipient of aid under a public assistance program for which federal aid is paid to this state, if such information is required to be kept confidential by the federal law or regulations relating to such program, or to compel the disclosure of any information disclosed in any document, report, or return made confidential by section 39-21-113, C.R.S.

(c) The state parent locator service or the equivalent of a state child support enforcement agency or delegate child support enforcement unit of any other state may initiate a request requiring any employer, trustee, payor of funds, or other employer located within this state or doing business in this state to provide any information on the employment, compensation, and benefits of any individual for whom information is known. Compliance with such a request shall not subject the employer, trustee, or payor of funds to liability to the obligor for disclosing such information without a subpoena pursuant to this paragraph (c). The state department shall not use the provisions of this paragraph (c) for the information-gathering purposes of the financial institution data match system required by section 26-13-128.

(d) The state parent locator service or a delegate child support enforcement unit may obtain information from credit bureaus on the whereabouts, income, and assets of individuals pursuant to the provisions of the federal "Fair Credit Reporting Act" in order to provide the services set forth in section 26-13-105.

(e) The state parent locator service or a delegate child support enforcement unit may initiate a request requiring any person located within this state or doing business in this state who is in possession or control of personal property or information concerning the location, benefits, income, and assets of parents with a child support obligation to provide such information to the requesting agency. Compliance with such request shall not subject the holder to liability to the obligor for disclosing such information without a subpoena pursuant to this paragraph (e).

(e.5) The state parent locator service may initiate an administrative subpoena requiring any public employee retirement benefit plan or financial institution located within this state or doing business in this state that is in possession or control of personal property or information concerning the location, benefits, income, and assets of a person who owes or is owed an obligation for child support debt, retroactive child support, or child support arrearages or against whom an obligation is sought to provide such information to the requesting agency. Compliance with such subpoena shall not subject the public employee retirement benefit plan or the financial institution to liability to the parent for disclosing such information.

(f) (I) (A) The state parent locator service or the equivalent of a state child support enforcement agency or delegate child support enforcement unit of any other state is authorized to issue an administrative subpoena to gather financial or other information to establish, modify, or enforce a support order. An administrative subpoena is authorized to be issued to a public utility for records pertaining to individuals who owe or are owed child support or against or with respect to whom a support obligation is sought. Such subpoena shall require the public utility to furnish documentation providing the names and addresses of these individuals and the names and addresses of the employers of such individuals as appearing in the customer records of the public utility. A public utility responding to an administrative subpoena request shall be entitled to collect a reasonable fee for the processing of each such subpoena.

(B) In seeking information from a public utility, as defined in subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (f), the state parent locator service shall be subject to the confidentiality requirements and restrictions set forth in section 631 of the federal "Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984", 47 U.S.C. sec. 551.

(II) The provisions of this section shall in no way alter the method of regulation or deregulation of telecommunications service as set forth in article 15 of title 40, C.R.S.

(III) For purposes of this section, "public utility" means any gas corporation, electrical corporation, telegraph corporation, water corporation, rural electric association, municipal electric systems, person, or municipality that operates for the purpose of supplying gas, electricity, telegraph services, or water to the public for domestic, mechanical, or public uses and that is subject to regulation by the public utilities commission under articles 1 to 7 of title 40, C.R.S., and any telephone corporation, municipal telephone entity, or other corporation that offers telecommunications services to the public that is subject to the provisions of article 15 of title 40, C.R.S., and any corporation that provides cable television services to the public.

(g) The child support enforcement agency shall make every reasonable effort to accommodate those entities to which the child support enforcement agency directs an administrative subpoena, if the requirements of this section would pose a hardship on those entities.

(4) The state parent locator service may establish fees to be charged for the provision of services in paragraphs (d) and (e) of subsection (2) of this section and in subparagraphs (IV) and (V) of paragraph (a.5) of subsection (3) of this section.

(5) This section shall apply to all child support obligations ordered as a part of any proceeding, regardless of when the order was entered.

26-13-108. Recovery of public assistance paid for child support and maintenance - interest collected on support obligations - designation in annual general appropriations act. (1) Whenever the state department, a county department or its authorized agent, or a district attorney recovers any amounts of support for public assistance recipients, such amounts shall be deposited in the county social services fund, and, if such support is used to reimburse public assistance paid in accordance with federal law, the federal government shall be entitled to a share in accordance with applicable federal law, the county shall be entitled to a share in accordance with state law, and the state shall be entitled to the remaining share. The state may redirect all or a portion of the state's share to the county pursuant to section 26-13-112.5. The general assembly shall designate in a footnote in the annual general appropriations act the portion of the state's share that is redirected to the counties. Costs and expenses reasonably and necessarily incurred by the office of district or county attorney, as contractual agent for a county department, in carrying out the provisions of this article shall be billed to county departments of social services or a county department of social services within the judicial district for the actual cost of services provided. Each county shall make an annual accounting to the state department on all amounts recovered.

(3) Effective July 1, 2000, a county may pay families that are eligible for temporary assistance for needy families, pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title, an amount that is equal to the state and county share of child support collections as described in subsection (1) of this section. Such payments shall not be considered income for the purpose of grant calculation. However, such income shall be considered income for purposes of determining eligibility. If a county chooses to pay child support collections directly to a family that is eligible for temporary assistance for needy families, pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title, the county shall report such payments to the state department for the month in which the payments are made and shall indicate the choice of this option in its performance contract for Colorado works.

(4) Any interest collected on support obligations pursuant to the "Colorado Child Support Enforcement Procedures Act", article 14 of title 14, C.R.S., which support obligations were due to recipients receiving assistance under the Colorado works program, as described in part 7 of article 2 of this title, shall be deposited in the county social services fund and shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

26-13-109. Enforcement of support UIFSA. (1) The state department shall be the state information agency for the "Uniform Interstate Family Support Act", article 5 of title 14, C.R.S., in this state and reciprocal laws of other states; and, in this capacity, the state department shall:

(a) Assist county departments and other agencies to carry out their responsibilities, powers, and duties to establish and enforce the liability of parents for the support of their minor children;

(b) Aid in the location of deserting parents through the operation of the state parent locator service established in section 26-13-107, obtain and transmit pertinent information and data from public officials and agencies, and assist in the training of local personnel employed to locate such parents;

(c) Stimulate and encourage cooperation, through the holding of meetings and the exchange of information, between and among public officials, law enforcement agencies, and courts having powers and duties relating to the enforcement of the liability of parents for the support of their minor children, including cooperation with public officials, agencies, and courts of other states and the federal government, and, upon request or when required to do so by other provisions of law, advise such officials, agencies, and courts in the exercise of such powers or in the performance of such duties;

(d) Develop, or assist in the development of, appropriate forms, guides, manuals, handbooks, and other materials which may be necessary or useful effectively to accomplish the objectives of this section;

(e) Adopt any rules and regulations which may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this article.

26-13-111. State income tax refund offset. (1) (a) At any time prescribed by the department of revenue, but not less frequently than annually, the state department shall certify to the department of revenue information regarding persons who owe a child support debt to the state pursuant to section 14-14-104, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages as requested as a part of an enforcement action pursuant to article 5 of title 14, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages which are the subject of enforcement services provided pursuant to section 26-13-106.

(b) Such information shall include the name and the social security number of the person owing the child support debt or arrearages, the amount of same, and any other identifying information required by the department of revenue.

(2) Prior to final certification of the information specified in subsection (1) of this section to the department of revenue, the state department shall notify the obligated parent, in writing, that the state intends to refer the parent's name to the department of revenue in an attempt to offset the parent's child support debt or arrearages against the parent's state income tax refund. Such notification shall include information on the parent's right to object to the offset.

(3) Upon notification by the department of revenue of amounts deposited with the state treasurer pursuant to section 39-21-108 (3), C.R.S., and after deduction of the fees authorized in subsection (4) of this section to be collected from applicants receiving support enforcement services pursuant to section 26-13-106 (2), the state department shall disburse such amounts to the appropriate county department for processing or for distribution to the individual receiving support enforcement services pursuant to section 26-13-106, as appropriate.

(4) The state department shall promulgate rules and regulations, pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., establishing procedures to implement this section and may promulgate rules and regulations establishing reasonable fees to be collected from an applicant who is receiving support enforcement services provided pursuant to section 26-13-106 (2). Such fees shall not exceed the amount necessary to cover the cost of collecting overdue child support using the state tax refund offset procedure.

(5) The home addresses and social security numbers of persons subject to the income tax refund offset, provided to the state department by the department of revenue, shall be sent to the respective delegate child support enforcement unit as defined in section 14-14-102, C.R.S.

26-13-111.5. State vendor payment offset. (1) At any time prescribed by the controller, but not less frequently than annually, the state department shall certify to the controller information regarding persons who owe child support debt pursuant to section 14-14-104, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages as requested as part of an enforcement action under article 5 of title 14, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages that are the subject of enforcement services provided under section 26-13-106.

(2) Upon notification by the controller of amounts deposited with the state treasurer pursuant to section 24-30-202.4, C.R.S., the state department shall disburse such amounts to the appropriate county for processing and distribution to the federal, state, or local agency to whom the person is obligated.

(3) The state department shall promulgate rules establishing procedures to implement this section pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(4) The last-known addresses and social security numbers of persons subject to the vendor payment offset, provided to the state department by the controller, shall be sent to the respective county departments or the food stamp district administered by the state department.

Editor's note: Subsection (6) provided for the repeal of this section, effective January 1, 2000. (See L. 99, p. 1087.)

26-13-112.5. Child support incentive payments. (1) In federal fiscal year 2000 and each federal fiscal year thereafter, one hundred percent of the federal incentives received by the state shall be passed through to the county departments. The state board shall promulgate rules specifying performance measures pursuant to which incentives shall be distributed to the county departments.

(2) A county to which a payment is made pursuant to this section shall expend the full amount of the payment to supplement, and not supplant, other funds used by the county department for any of the following purposes:

(a) To carry out the approved state plan; or

(b) For any activity, including cost-effective contracts, approved by the state division of child support enforcement, whether or not the expenditures for the activity are eligible for federal reimbursement, that may contribute to improving the effectiveness or efficiency of the child support program.

(3) If federal incentives paid to any county department are greater than its share of child support administrative costs, then that county department shall demonstrate how the federal incentive money is expended and contributes to the program as defined in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section.

(4) All federal and state incentives paid to counties pursuant to section 26-13-108 shall be divided and distributed to the county departments according to the distribution formula as promulgated in state rule by the state board, to be promulgated no later than January 1, 2000.

(5) The state department shall pay incentives to county departments on a quarterly basis.

(6) This section shall take effect January 1, 2000.

26-13-113. Placement in foster care automatic assignment of right. When a child is placed in foster care pursuant to article 5 of this title or Title IV-E of the federal “Social Security Act”, as amended, all rights to current and accrued child support for the benefit of the child are assigned by operation of law to the state department. When placement has terminated, the assignment of rights to accrued child support shall remain in effect until foster care cost of care or maintenance costs have been reimbursed in full. Amounts collected pursuant to this section shall be distributed to the federal government, the state, and the county proportionately according to each entity’s contribution.

26-13-114. Family support registry - collection and disbursement of child support and maintenance - rules - legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that it has been demonstrated that the establishment and operation of one automated central payment registry for the processing of child support, child support when combined with maintenance, and maintenance payments is beneficial to the state in the collection and enforcement of family support obligations. It is the intent of the general assembly by enacting this section to authorize the implementation of one central family support registry for the collection, receipt, and disbursement of payments with respect to:

(a) Child support obligations for children whose custodians are receiving child support enforcement services from delegate child support enforcement units (IV-D cases);

(b) Child support obligations for children whose custodians are not receiving child support enforcement services from delegate child support enforcement units (non-IV-D cases), if the court orders such obligations to be paid through the family support registry pursuant to this title, section 14-10-117, C.R.S., or title 19, C.R.S., or if the court order is subject to income-withholding pursuant to section 14-14-111.5, C.R.S., and if the executive director of the state department has notified the state court administrator pursuant to subsection (5) of this section that the judicial district in which the court issuing the order is situated is ready to participate in the family support registry; and

(c) Maintenance obligations, if the court orders payments for such obligations to be paid through the family support registry pursuant to this title or section 14-10-117, C.R.S., or if the order is subject to income-withholding pursuant to section 14-14-111.5, C.R.S., and if the executive director of the state department has notified the state court administrator that the judicial district in which the court issuing the order is situated is ready to participate in the family support registry and the family support registry is ready to accept such maintenance payments.

(2) “Family support registry” means a central registry maintained and operated by the state department acting as the child support enforcement agency that receives, processes, disburses, and maintains a record of the payment of child support, child support when combined with maintenance, maintenance, child support arrears, or child support debt made pursuant to court order or administrative order.

(3) The child support enforcement agency is authorized to establish and maintain or contract for the establishment and maintenance of a family support registry to receive, process, and disburse support payments. Development and operation of the family support registry shall be subject to available appropriations.

(4) In operating the family support registry, the child support enforcement agency is authorized to:

(a) Receive, process, and disburse payments for child support, child support when combined with maintenance, maintenance, child support arrears, or child support debt;

(b) Maintain records of any payments collected, processed, and disbursed through the family support registry;

(c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 98, p. 759, § 10, effective July 1, 1998.)

(d) Answer inquiries from authorized parties concerning payments processed through the family support registry;

(e) Collect a fee for the processing of insufficient funds checks. The child support enforcement agency shall issue a notice to the originator of the second insufficient funds check received within any six-month period that no further checks will be accepted from the person and that future payments for a period of six months following the issuance of the notice shall be required to be paid by cash or certified funds. In the event that a disbursement to the obligee becomes unfunded due to insufficient funds, stop payment, or other reason, the unfunded disbursement may be recovered from the next payment. The department of human services shall ensure that provisions are available for obligors to make cash payments through their county child support enforcement units.

(5) On and after July 1, 1998, the child support enforcement agency and the office of the state court administrator shall jointly begin implementing the family support registry in particular counties and judicial districts with respect to non-IV-D cases and orders in which payments are directed to be paid through the family support registry, as mutually agreed by the executive director and the state court administrator. The executive director of the state department shall inform the state court administrator when a particular county or judicial district is ready to implement and participate in the family support registry for non-IV-D cases. The family support registry shall be available for support orders for use by all counties and judicial districts consistent with federal law.

(6) Upon implementation of the family support registry in a particular county or judicial district, the following procedures shall be followed:

(a) All court orders entered or modified and all administrative orders issued pursuant to this title or title 14 or 19, C.R.S., that require payments for child support, child support when combined with maintenance, maintenance, child support arrears, or child support debt to be paid through a registry shall be made through the family support registry except as provided by section 14-14-111.5 (3) (a) (II), C.R.S.

(b) For non-IV-D cases or orders that require payments to be made to the clerk of the court, the district court for each county and the Denver juvenile court shall send or cause to be sent a notice to redirect payments to the family support registry once the executive director of the state department has notified the state court administrator that the judicial district in which the court is situated, pursuant to subsection (5) of this section, is ready to participate in the family support registry. The notice shall be sent by first-class mail and shall state that all payments shall be made to the family support registry. The notice shall be sent to the following persons:

(I) In non-IV-D cases in which there is an order to make the payments through a registry, any obligor who is obligated to pay child support, child support when combined with maintenance, or maintenance where the order does not already specify paying through the family support registry;

(II) Any employer or trustee who has been withholding wages under a wage assignment pursuant to section 14-14-107, C.R.S., as it existed prior to July 1, 1996;

(III) Any employer or other payor of funds who has been withholding income pursuant to an income assignment pursuant to section 14-14-111, C.R.S., as it existed prior to July 1, 1996, or section 14-14-111.5, C.R.S.;

(IV) Any obligor or employer who receives a notice to redirect payments as specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (b) who fails to make the payments to the family support registry and who continues to make payments to the court or to the delegate child support enforcement unit shall be sent a second notice to redirect payments. The second notice shall be sent certified mail, return receipt requested. Such notice shall contain all of the information required to be included in the first notice to redirect payments and shall further state that the obligor or employer has failed to make the payments to the correct agency and that the obligor or employer shall redirect the payments to the family support registry at the address indicated in the notice. Failure to make payments to the family support registry after a second notice shall be grounds for filing a motion for contempt.

(c) Any payment required to be made to the family support registry that is received by the court or by a delegate child support enforcement unit shall be forwarded to the family support registry within five working days after receipt. Any such payments forwarded shall be identified with the information specified by the family support registry, including but not limited to, the court case number, the county where the court case originated, and the name of the obligor. A copy of the notice to redirect payments described in subparagraph (I), (II), (III), or (IV) of paragraph (b) of this subsection (6) shall be mailed to the obligee and to the court in cases of a IV-D case or order, by first-class mail.

(d) (Deleted by amendment, L. 98, p. 759, § 10, effective July 1, 1998.)

(7) All support orders shall contain:

- (a) The amount of the payment;
- (b) The specific day or dates on which the payment is due;
- (c) The name, date of birth, residential address, and sex of the obligor, and the name and address of the employer of the obligor;

(d) The name, date of birth, residential address, and sex of the obligee;

(e) The name, date of birth, and sex of all dependents covered under the support order;

(f) A statement that the parties are required to notify the family support registry, if the support order requires payments to be made through the family support registry, of any change in residential and mailing address of the obligor or obligee or of any change in address of the employer or payor of funds or any other changes that may affect the administration of the support order, including changes in employment of the obligor.

(8) The clerk of the court shall notify the family support registry within five working days after any entry of judgment is filed in relation to any child support, child support when combined with maintenance, or maintenance case where payments are required to be paid through the family support registry, whether by order of court or verified entry of judgment, including the inclusive dates of the judgment and the judgment amount.

(9) (a) The judicial department and the state department shall cooperate in the transfer of the functions relating to the collection of child support and maintenance from the judicial department to the state department.

(b) The court shall provide the following information to the family support registry, if available, in those cases in which the court orders payment to be made through the family support registry:

(I) The date of the order;

(II) The court case number;

(III) The name and address of the obligor;

(IV) The name and address of the obligee; and

(V) The name and address of the obligor's employer.

(10) A copy of the record of payment maintained by the family support registry shall be admissible into evidence as proof of the payments made through the family support registry.

(11) The state board shall promulgate such rules and regulations, pursuant to section 24-4-103, C.R.S., as are necessary to implement this section.

(13) (a) A party to a case identified by the court as one in which the party is directed to make maintenance payments through the family support registry shall pay a minimal per transaction processing fee, in an amount to be determined annually by rule of the executive director of the state department to cover the direct and indirect costs associated with processing the maintenance payment, which fee shall be paid by such person each time the maintenance payment is made through the family support registry.

(b) The fees collected pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (13) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the family support registry fund, created pursuant to section 26-13-115.5.

26-13-115.5. Family support registry fund created. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known as the family support registry fund, which shall consist of any moneys credited thereto from the investment earnings on moneys deposited with the state treasurer, moneys accruing from collections for child support received by the family support registry, any undeliverable child support payments, and any fees collected pursuant to section 26-13-114 (13). Moneys in the family support registry fund shall be continuously appropriated to the state department to reimburse the family support registry for unfunded payments by obligors or for other incidental expenditures associated with the operation of the family support registry. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the family support registry fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund of the state; except that any non-IV-D child support payments that are undeliverable after two years shall be considered unclaimed property for purposes of the "Unclaimed Property Act" and shall be reported to the administrator of the "Unclaimed Property Act" for purposes of locating the payee. Consistent with the requirements for confidentiality of information regarding child support, the state department shall specify the amount of money that is unclaimed and provide sufficient identifying information, if available, to allow the administrator to locate the payee.

(2) Repealed.

26-13-118. Lottery winnings offset. (1) (a) The state department shall periodically certify to the department of revenue information regarding persons who owe a child support debt or child support costs to the state pursuant to section 14-14-104, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages as requested as a part of an enforcement action pursuant to article 5 of title 14, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages or child support costs which are the subject of enforcement services provided pursuant to section 26-13-106.

(b) Such information shall include the social security number of the person owing the child support debt, arrearages, or child support costs, the amount of same, and any other identifying information required by the department of revenue.

(2) Upon receiving notification from the department of revenue that a lottery winner appears among those certified by the state department pursuant to section 24-35-212, C.R.S., the state department shall notify the obligated parent, in writing, that the state intends to offset the parent's current monthly child support obligation, child support debt, child support arrearages, and child support costs against the parent's winnings from the state lottery. Such notification shall include information on the parent's right to object to the offset and to request an administrative review pursuant to the rules and regulations of the state board of human services.

(3) Upon notification by the department of revenue of amounts deposited with the state treasurer pursuant to section 24-35-212, C.R.S., and after deduction of the fees authorized in subsection (4) of this section to be collected from applicants receiving support enforcement services pursuant to section 26-13-106 (2), the state department shall disburse such amounts to the appropriate county department for processing or for distribution to the individual receiving support enforcement services pursuant to section 26-13-106, as appropriate.

(4) The state department shall promulgate rules and regulations, pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., establishing procedures to implement this section and may promulgate rules and regulations establishing reasonable fees to be collected from an applicant who is receiving support enforcement services as provided pursuant to section 26-13-106 (2). Such fees shall not exceed the amount necessary to cover the cost of collecting overdue child support using the state lottery winnings offset procedure.

(5) The home addresses and social security numbers of persons subject to the state lottery winnings offset provided to the state department by the department of revenue shall be sent to the respective delegate child support enforcement unit as defined in section 14-14-102, C.R.S.

26-13-118.5. Unclaimed property offset. (1) The state department may enter into a memorandum of understanding with the state treasurer, acting as the administrator of unclaimed property under the "Unclaimed Property Act", article 13 of title 38, C.R.S., for the purpose of offsetting against a claim for unclaimed property the amount of current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, child support arrearages, child support costs, or child support when combined with maintenance owed by the person claiming the unclaimed property.

(2) The state department shall notify an obligated person in writing that the state intends to offset the person's current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, child support arrearages, child support costs, or child support when combined with maintenance against the person's claim for unclaimed property. The notification shall include information on the person's right to object to the offset and to request an administrative review.

(3) For purposes of this section, "claim for unclaimed property" means a cash claim submitted in accordance with section 38-13-117, C.R.S.

26-13-118.7. Gambling winnings - interception - rules. (1) Pursuant to section 24-35-604 (2), C.R.S., the state department shall periodically certify to the registry operator information regarding persons who owe a child support debt or child support costs to the state pursuant to section 14-14-104, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages requested as part of an enforcement action pursuant to article 5 of title 14, C.R.S., or who owe child support arrearages or child support costs that are the subject of enforcement services provided pursuant to section 26-13-106. The information shall include the social security number of the person owing the child support debt, arrearages, or child support costs, the amount owed, and the other information required by the registry operator pursuant to section 24-35-604 (4), C.R.S.

(2) Upon receipt from the registry operator of a payment and accompanying information pursuant to section 24-35-605 (2) (b), C.R.S., the state department shall notify the obligated parent in writing that the state intends to offset the parent's child support debt, child support arrearages, or child support costs against the parent's winnings from limited gaming or from pari-mutuel wagering on horse or greyhound racing. The notice shall include information on the parent's right to object to the offset and to request an administrative review pursuant to the rules of the state board.

(3) Upon receipt of a payment from the registry operator pursuant to section 24-35-605 (2) (b), C.R.S., the state department shall deposit the payment with the family support registry created pursuant to section 26-13-114. After the final disposition of any administrative review requested pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the state department shall disburse the payment for processing or for distribution to the individual receiving support enforcement services pursuant to section 26-13-106, as appropriate.

(4) The state department shall promulgate rules pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., establishing procedures to implement this section.

(5) The state department shall send the name, address, and social security number of any person subject to the interception of gambling winnings provided by the registry operator to the respective delegate child support enforcement unit as defined in section 14-14-102 (2), C.R.S.

26-13-119. Distribution of amounts collected. (1) This section shall only apply to Title IV-D cases under the federal "Social Security Act" where the delegate child support enforcement unit is providing support enforcement services pursuant to section 26-13-106 and has responsibility to collect the required support obligation for the month.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision in the Colorado rules of civil procedure to the contrary, any amounts collected by the delegate child support enforcement agency, except for federal income tax refund offsets, shall be allocated and distributed first to satisfy the required support obligation for the month in which the collection was received, except when the payment is distributed to pay the fee required by section 26-13-106 (4). In cases where some portion of an amount collected pursuant to execution on a judgment is diverted to satisfy the required support obligation for the month in which the collection was received, the delegate child support enforcement agency shall file a partial satisfaction of judgment with the court that reflects the portion of the amount collected that is actually allocated and distributed to satisfy the judgment.

Source: L. 90: Entire section added, p. 893, § 18, effective July 1. L. 93: (2) amended, p. 1565, § 19, effective September 1. L. 97: Entire section repealed, p. 1295, § 39, effective July 1.

26-13-121. Review and modification of child support orders. (1) (a) The general assembly finds that review of child support orders is required in order for this state to comply with the federal "Family Support Act of 1988", the federal "Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996", and the federal "Deficit Reduction Act of 2005".

(b) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall provide the obligor and obligee not less than once every thirty-six months notice of their right to request a review of a child support order. The notice may be included in the support order.

(c) Either party to a case in which services are being provided pursuant to section 26-13-106 may submit a written request for review of the current child support order. The request shall include the financial information from the requesting party necessary to conduct a calculation pursuant to the Colorado child support guidelines set forth in section

14-10-115, C.R.S. The requesting party shall provide his or her financial information on the form required by the division of child support enforcement.

(d) The delegate child support enforcement unit may initiate a review of a current child support order upon its own request.

(2) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall review each request received from a party and:

(a) If it has been thirty-six months or more since the last review of the current child support order, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall grant the request for review; or

(b) If it has been fewer than thirty-six months since the last review of the current child support order, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall grant the request for review if the requesting party provides a reason for review that could result in a change to the monthly support obligation based upon the application of the Colorado child support guidelines set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S. If the reason for review arises from the circumstances of the requesting party, supporting documentation or a demonstration that there has been a substantial and continuing change in circumstances warranting a review of the child support amount shall be included with the request. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall assess and consider the information provided to determine whether a review is warranted and should be conducted. If a request is denied pursuant to this paragraph (b), the delegate child support enforcement unit shall notify the requesting party in writing that the denial does not limit the party's right to seek modification of a child support order pursuant to section 14-10-122, C.R.S.

(2.5) If there is an active assignment of rights, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall review the child support order once every thirty-six months to determine if an adjustment of the child support order is appropriate.

(3) (a) If the delegate child support enforcement unit grants the request for review, it shall issue a notice of review to the parties. In the case of an automatic review in which there is an active assignment of rights, both parties shall be considered nonrequesters. The notice of review shall advise the parties that a review is to be conducted and allow the nonrequesters twenty days from the date of the notice to provide the financial information necessary to calculate the child support obligation pursuant to section 14-10-115, C.R.S. If the child support order is an administrative order established pursuant to article 13.5 of this title, the review shall be conducted pursuant to section 26-13.5-112.

(b) The review of the child support order shall be conducted on or before the thirtieth day after notice of review is sent to the parties. The review may be conducted in person at the delegate child support enforcement office or via United States mail or via an electronic communication method. The delegate child support enforcement unit may grant a continuance of the review for good cause. The continuance shall be for a reasonable period of time to be determined by the delegate child support enforcement unit, not to exceed thirty days. During the review, the determination of the monthly support obligation shall be based on the child support guidelines set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S. To obtain information necessary to conduct the review, the delegate child support enforcement unit is authorized to serve, by first-class mail or by electronic means if mutually agreed upon, an administrative subpoena to any person, corporation, partnership, or other entity, public employee retirement benefit plan, financial institution, or labor union for an appearance or for the production of records and financial documents.

(c) An adjustment to the order shall be appropriate only if the standard set forth in section 14-10-122 (1) (b), C.R.S., is met.

(d) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2002, p. 25, § 5, effective January 1, 2003.)

(4) (a) After the review is completed, the child support enforcement unit shall provide a post-review notice advising the obligor and obligee of the review results. The review results shall include a child support guideline worksheet. If the review indicates that an adjustment to the current monthly support obligation should be made, a proposed order shall also be included. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall provide all supporting financial documentation used to calculate the monthly support obligation to both parties. The review results shall also contain an advisement to the parties of the right to challenge the proposed order, the time frame in which to assert the challenge, and the method for doing so.

(b) The obligor and obligee shall be given fifteen days from the date of the post-review notice to challenge the review results. The grounds for the challenge shall be limited to the issue of mathematical or factual error in the calculation of the monthly support obligation. The delegate child support enforcement unit may grant an extension of up to fifteen days to challenge the review results based upon a showing of good cause.

(b.5) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall have fifteen days from the date of receipt of the challenge to respond to a challenge based upon a mathematical or factual error. If a challenge results in a change to the monthly support obligation, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall provide an amended notice of review to the obligor and obligee. The obligor and obligee shall be given fifteen days from the date of the amended notice of review to challenge the results of any subsequent review. The grounds for the challenge shall be limited to the issue of mathematical or factual error in calculation of the monthly support obligation.

(5) (a) (I) If the review indicates that a change to the monthly support obligation is appropriate and the review is not challenged or all challenges have been addressed, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall file a motion to modify with the court. A copy of the motion shall be provided by the delegate child support enforcement unit to the obligor and obligee and shall contain an advisement that the obligor and obligee may file a written response with the court setting forth any objections to the motion to modify.

(II) If a motion to modify is filed with the court, the court may enter an order granting the motion, issue a revised order, or set a hearing. Regardless of whether the order has been approved by the obligor and obligee, the court may grant the motion to modify.

(b) If a hearing is necessary, the court shall hold a hearing within forty-five days after service of the motion to modify, and the court shall decide only the issues of child support and medical support. Any documentary evidence provided by the obligee or the obligor or by the delegate child support enforcement unit may be admitted into evidence by the court without the necessity of laying a foundation for its admissibility, and the court may determine the relative weight or credibility to give any such documentation.

(5.3) If income information is not available for the obligor, the delegate child support enforcement unit may file a motion to modify child support with the court. The court may enter an order increasing the child support obligation by an increment not to exceed ten percent per year for each year after the support order was entered or last modified.

(5.7) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit a delegate child support enforcement unit's right to file a motion to modify with the court pursuant to section 14-10-122, C.R.S.

(6) The state board shall adopt rules and regulations establishing standardized forms and procedures as necessary to implement the provisions of this article.

(7) This article shall apply to all orders for support of a child for whom child support enforcement services are being provided.

(8) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit any party's right to seek modification of a child support order pursuant to article 5 of title 14, section 14-10-122, section 19-4-119, or section 19-6-104 (4), C.R.S.

26-13-121.5. Enforcement of obligation to maintain health insurance. (1) If a parent has been ordered to provide health insurance, as defined in section 14-14-102 (4.7), C.R.S., and such insurance is available at a reasonable cost consistent with the provisions of section 14-10-115 (10) (g), C.R.S., the delegate child support enforcement unit shall use the federally mandated national medical support notice to provide notice of the insurance provision to that parent's employer unless the child or children are already enrolled in a health insurance plan in accordance with the order.

(2) The national medical support notice shall be sent to the employer by means of first-class mail. The notice shall be continuing and shall remain in effect and be binding upon any current or successor employer upon whom it is served until further notice by the court or by the delegate child support enforcement unit. Receipt of the national medical support notice by the employer shall confer jurisdiction of the court over the employer. A notice describing the rights and conditions in paragraphs (a) to (c) of subsection (3) of this section shall be sent to the obligor by first-class mail.

(3) (a) The obligor shall be provided with a copy of the national medical support notice upon submitting a written request to the delegate child support enforcement unit. The obligor shall have ten days from the date the notice describing the rights and conditions in paragraphs (a) to (c) of this subsection (3) is mailed to the obligor in which to file a written objection with the delegate child support enforcement unit based only upon one of the following mistakes of fact:

- (I) There is a mistake in identity and the employee is not the obligor; or
- (II) There is no court order to provide health insurance.

(b) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall have ten days from the date the objection is mailed by the obligor to resolve the mistake of fact. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall immediately notify the obligor in writing, by first class mail, of its decision. If the delegate child support enforcement unit agrees with the obligor, it shall immediately send a notice, by first-class mail, to the employer to terminate the national medical support notice.

(c) If the obligor does not agree with the decision of the delegate child support enforcement unit, he or she may file a written objection with the court. Upon any determination by the court which results in a finding in favor of the obligor, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall immediately mail a notice of termination of the national medical support notice to the employer and to the obligor, by first-class mail. The termination of the health insurance shall only be prospective and the employee shall not be entitled to any reimbursement for any premiums withheld or deducted from his or her wage prior to the plan administrator's prompt termination of the deduction for health insurance.

(4) (a) The employer shall complete the employer response, if applicable, attached to part A of the national medical support notice, which part A includes information for and responsibilities of the employer, and shall return the employer response to the delegate child support enforcement unit within twenty business days after the date of the notice.

(b) If the employer does not maintain or contribute to family health insurance coverage or if the obligor is not eligible for family health insurance coverage through his or her employer or if the obligor is no longer employed with that employer, then the employer shall specify such relevant circumstances or conditions in the employer response and shall return part A of the national medical support notice to the delegate child support enforcement unit.

(c) If none of the circumstances or conditions described in paragraph (b) of this subsection (4) apply, then the employer shall complete the applicable sections of the employer response and transfer part B of the national medical support notice to the appropriate plan administrator within twenty business days after the date of such notice. If the employer offers a number of different types of benefits through separate health insurance plans, the employer shall send copies of part B to each appropriate plan administrator.

(d) Any employer who fails to comply with the time frames stated in this subsection (4) may be found by the court to be in contempt of court.

(5) (a) The plan administrator shall complete and return part B of the national medical support notice to the delegate child support enforcement unit within forty business days after the date of such notice.

(b) If the plan administrator determines that the national medical support notice is not a qualified medical child support order, the plan administrator shall specify on part B the basis for such determination.

(c) If the plan administrator determines that the national medical support notice is a qualified medical child support order, the plan administrator shall complete the appropriate parts of the plan administrator response. Upon enrollment of the child or children, the plan administrator shall provide the following information to the delegate child support enforcement unit: The names of the persons covered by the health insurance plan; the complete name, address, and telephone number of the insurance carrier; and the applicable policy and group number of the health insurance plan. The plan administrator shall furnish the obligee with a description of the health insurance coverage available, any required forms, information describing the steps needed to effectuate such coverage, and the effective date of the coverage.

(d) If the plan administrator reports on part B of the national medical support notice that the obligor is not enrolled in a plan, as defined in section 14-14-102 (6.5), C.R.S., and more than one option is available under the plan, the plan administrator shall provide to the delegate child support enforcement unit a summary plan description of each option including the additional participant contribution required by each option and whether there is a limited service area with any option. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall forward the information to the obligee. The obligee shall select one of the available options. Within twenty business days after the date the plan administrator's response was sent to the delegate child support enforcement unit, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall notify the plan administrator of the selection. If the delegate child support enforcement unit does not reply to the plan administrator, the plan administrator shall enroll the child or children in the least costly plan otherwise available to the obligor for the benefit of the child or children.

(e) Promptly after enrollment, the plan administrator shall notify the obligor that coverage of the child or children is or will become available and the date the coverage takes effect. The obligor may file a written objection with the court after the date of the notice of such enrollment by the plan administrator if the premium amount does not meet the definition of reasonable cost as provided in section 14-10-115 (10) (g), C.R.S. Upon any determination by the court which results in a finding in favor of the obligor, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall immediately mail a notice of termination of the national medical support notice to the obligor and to the employer by first-class mail. The termination of the health insurance shall only be prospective and the obligor shall not be entitled to any reimbursement for any premiums withheld or deducted from his or her wage prior to the plan administrator's prompt termination of the deduction for health insurance.

(f) If the plan administrator indicates that the child or children are enrolled in an option under the plan for which the employer has determined that the obligor's contribution exceeds the maximum amount allowed to be withheld under state and federal withholding limitations or prioritization, then the employer shall indicate the same and return part A of the national medical support notice to the delegate child support enforcement unit. Upon notification from the plan administrator that the child or children are enrolled, the employer shall withhold from the obligor's income any employee contribution and transfer the contribution to the appropriate plan or, if appropriate, notify the delegate child support enforcement unit that enrollment cannot be completed because of limitations or prioritization on withholding.

(g) Any employer who fails to comply with the time frames stated in this subsection (5) may be found by the court to be in contempt of court.

(6) The employer shall initiate withholding until and unless the employer receives notice from the delegate child support enforcement unit that the obligor is not responsible for the child's or children's health insurance coverage.

(7) The employer shall notify the plan administrator when an obligor has completed a waiting period or has otherwise met eligibility requirements for coverage.

(8) The national medical support notice shall not be terminated or modified except for the reasons set forth in section 14-14-112 (2) (h), C.R.S.

(9) If the national medical support notice is terminated or modified, then the employer shall comply with the provisions of section 14-14-112 (2) (k), C.R.S., regarding termination of coverage.

(10) An employer who is served with a national medical support notice shall follow the provisions of section 14-14-112 (2) (g) and (6), C.R.S., regarding notification of the termination of employment by the named obligor.

(11) Any employer who wrongfully fails to comply with this section may be subject to the sanctions set forth in section 14-14-112 (5), C.R.S.

(12) An employer shall neither refuse to hire a person nor discharge or take disciplinary action against an employee because of service of the national medical support notice pursuant to this section. Any person who violates this subsection (12) may be found by the court to be in contempt of court. If an employer discharges an employee in violation of the provisions of this section, the employee may, within ninety days, bring a civil action for the recovery of wages lost as a result of the violation and for an order requiring the reinstatement of the employee. Damages recoverable shall be lost wages not to exceed six weeks, costs, and reasonable attorney fees.

(13) An employer who complies with a national medical support notice to deduct for health insurance benefits pursuant to this section shall not be liable to the obligor for wrongful withholding.

(14) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall comply with the provisions of section 14-14-112 (9), C.R.S., when the order for medical support is modified or terminated.

(15) Deductions for health insurance shall also be ordered by a delegate child support enforcement unit under the provisions of the "Colorado Administrative Procedure Act for the Establishment and Enforcement of Child Support", created in article 13.5 of this title.

26-13-122. Administrative lien and attachment. (1) The state child support enforcement agency may issue a notice of administrative lien and attachment to any person, insurance company, or agency providing workers' compensation insurance benefits for any employer to attach workers' compensation benefits of an obligor who is responsible for the support of a child on whose behalf the obligee is receiving support enforcement services from the state's child support enforcement agency pursuant to this article. The notice shall include the following statements and information:

(a) The name and address of the person, insurance company, or agency providing workers' compensation insurance benefits;

(b) The name, last known address, and social security number of the obligor;

(c) The total amount owed for child support obligations, arrearages for child support, and child support debt;

(d) The percentage of benefits or the actual amount to be withheld from each payment;

(e) A statement that the notice of administrative lien and attachment is to take effect no later than the first payment after receipt of the notice;

(f) A statement that the person, insurance company, or agency providing workers' compensation insurance benefits may not withhold more than the limitations set forth in section 13-54-104 (3), C.R.S.;

(g) A statement that if more than one notice of administrative lien and attachment is received for the same obligor, the priorities set forth in subsection (2) of this section shall apply;

(h) Instruction on the disbursement of the withheld amounts, including the requirements that each disbursement:

(I) Shall be forwarded to the address indicated on the notice;

(II) Shall be forwarded within ten days after the date of each deduction and withholding;

(III) Shall be identified by the case number, the family support registry account number, and the name and social security number of each obligor and shall identify the date the deduction was made and the amount of the payment;

(IV) May be combined with other disbursements in a single payment to a single court or to the family support registry, if required to be sent to the registry, if the individual account of each disbursement is identified, as required by subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (h);

(i) A statement that compliance with the notice of administrative lien and attachment shall not subject the person, insurance company, or agency providing workers' compensation insurance benefits to liability to the obligor for wrongful withholding;

(j) A statement that noncompliance with the notice of administrative lien and attachment may subject the person or insurance company providing workers' compensation insurance benefits to liability and sanctions. If any person or insurance company providing workers' compensation insurance benefits wrongfully fails to deduct and withhold benefits in accordance with the provisions of this section, it may be held liable for an amount up to the accumulated amount such person or insurance company should have withheld from the obligor's benefits.

(k) A statement that, as long as the obligor is receiving workers' compensation benefits, the notice of administrative lien and attachment shall not be terminated or modified, except upon written notice by the state child support enforcement agency.

(2) An administrative lien and attachment for the collection from workers' compensation benefits for current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, child support arrearages, or child support when combined with maintenance shall be continuing and shall have priority over any garnishment, lien, or wage assignment other than a notice previously served pursuant to this subsection (2) or a wage assignment activated pursuant to section 14-14-107 or 14-14-111, C.R.S., as those sections existed prior to July 1, 1996, or section 14-14-111.5, C.R.S. Such administrative lien and attachment shall require the person, insurance company, or agency providing workers' compensation insurance benefits to withhold, pursuant to section 13-54-104 (3), C.R.S., the portion of earnings subject to attachment at each succeeding disbursement interval until such amount is satisfied or the attachment is released in writing by the state child support enforcement agency.

(3) In order to attach and collect workers' compensation income for current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, medical support, child support arrearages, or child support when combined with maintenance, the state child support enforcement agency is authorized to serve, by first-class mail or by electronic means if mutually agreed upon, a notice of administrative lien and attachment on any person, insurance company, or agency holding workers' compensation benefits that are owed to an obligor. A copy of the administrative lien and attachment shall be provided to the obligor and shall include information on the obligor's right to object to the administrative lien and attachment and to request an administrative review pursuant to the rules of the state board.

(4) At the time a claim for workers' compensation benefits is filed, the employee shall be notified that if a child support obligation is owed, benefits may be attached and payment of the child support obligation may be withheld and forwarded to the obligee.

(5) For purposes of this section, "insurance company" includes Pinnacol Assurance.

(6) Subsections (2) and (3) of this section shall apply to all child support obligations ordered as part of any proceeding, regardless of when the order was entered, and all such child support obligors shall be subject to notice of administrative lien and attachment as described in subsections (2) and (3) of this section.

26-13-122.5. Administrative lien and attachment of inmate bank accounts.

(1) The state child support enforcement agency or the delegate child support enforcement unit may issue a notice of administrative lien and attachment, only when such notice is prescribed and approved by the state child support enforcement agency, to the department of corrections or its agent having custody or control of inmate bank accounts in order to withhold funds from the bank account of a state inmate, as defined in section 17-1-102 (8), C.R.S., who is an obligor responsible for the support of a child or children on whose behalf the obligee is receiving support enforcement services from the state child support enforcement agency or a delegate child support enforcement unit pursuant to this article or who is an obligor responsible for the payment of maintenance or maintenance when combined with child support and the obligee is receiving support enforcement services from the state child support enforcement agency or a delegate child support enforcement unit pursuant to this article.

(2) A copy of the administrative lien and attachment shall be provided to the obligor by the department of corrections or its agent and shall include information on the obligor's right to object to the administrative lien and attachment and to request an administrative review pursuant to the rules of the state board.

(3) The notice of administrative lien and attachment shall contain:

(a) The name and address of the correctional facility or entity that withholds funds from inmate bank accounts;

(b) The name and social security number of the inmate and the name of the correctional facility in which the inmate is incarcerated;

(c) The total amount owed for current monthly child support, current maintenance when combined with child support, current maintenance, past due child support, past due maintenance when combined with child support, past due maintenance, child support debt, retroactive child support, or medical support;

(d) The amount or percentage of funds to be withheld monthly from inmate bank accounts, which amount or percentage shall not be less than fifty percent of the total amount withheld pursuant to section 16-18.5-106 (2), C.R.S.;

(e) A statement that the notice of administrative lien and attachment is to take effect no later than forty-five days after receipt of the notice by the department of corrections;

(f) A statement that if more than one notice of administrative lien and attachment is received for the same obligor, the priorities set forth in subsection (4) of this section shall apply;

(g) Instruction on the disbursement of the withheld amounts, including the requirements that each disbursement:

(I) Shall be forwarded to the family support registry;

(II) Shall be forwarded within ten calendar days after the date of each deduction and withholding;

(III) Shall be identified by the case number, the family support registry account number, and the name and social security number of the obligor and shall identify the date the deduction was made and the amount of the payment;

(h) A statement that compliance with the notice of administrative lien and attachment shall not subject the department of corrections or its agent to liability to the obligor for wrongful withholding of funds;

(i) A statement that, as long as the obligor is incarcerated and has an obligation pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (3), the notice of administrative lien and attachment shall not be terminated or modified, except upon written notice by the state child support enforcement agency or the delegate child support enforcement unit, unless the inmate is indigent according to department of corrections guidelines.

(4) An administrative lien and attachment for the collection from inmate bank accounts of current monthly child support, current maintenance when combined with child support, current maintenance, past due child support, past due maintenance when combined with child support, past due maintenance, child support debt, retroactive child support, or medical support shall be continuing and shall have priority over any garnishment, lien, or wage assignment other than a notice previously served pursuant to subsection (1) of this section or a wage assignment activated pursuant to section 14-14-107 or 14-14-111, C.R.S., as those sections existed prior to July 1, 1996, or section 14-14-111.5, C.R.S. In order to attach inmate bank accounts for current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, medical support, child support arrearages, or child support when combined with maintenance, the state child support enforcement agency or the delegate child support enforcement unit is authorized to serve, by first-class mail or by electronic service, a notice of administrative lien and attachment on the department of corrections or its agent to withhold funds of an obligor.

(5) Subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section shall apply to all child support obligations, maintenance when combined with child support, maintenance obligations, retroactive child support obligations, and medical support obligations ordered as a part of any proceeding, regardless of when the order was entered, and all such obligors shall be subject to notice of administrative lien and attachment as described in subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section.

26-13-123. Drivers' licenses - suspension for nonpayment of child support - definitions. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Child support order" means any administrative or court order requiring the payment of child support, child support arrears, child support debt, retroactive support, or medical support, whether or not such order is combined with an order for maintenance.

(b) "Driver's license" means a license issued by the department of revenue pursuant to article 2 of title 42, C.R.S.

(c) "Notice of compliance" means the notice issued pursuant to subsection (5) of this section that an obligor is in compliance with a child support order.

(d) "Notice of failure to comply" means the notice issued pursuant to subsection (4) of this section.

(e) "Notice of noncompliance" means the notice issued pursuant to subsection (3) of this section that an obligor is not in compliance with a child support order.

(f) "Obligor" has the same meaning as in section 26-13.5-102 (12).

(2) (a) The state child support enforcement agency shall, at least on an annual basis, identify as obligors subject to the provisions of this section any person who owes the following and has failed to execute and comply with the terms of an agreement to pay:

(I) Child support debt to the state pursuant to section 14-14-104, C.R.S.;

(II) Arrearages or medical support, as requested as part of an enforcement action pursuant to article 5 of title 14, C.R.S.;

(III) Child support arrearages, retroactive child support, or medical support that is the subject of enforcement services provided pursuant to section 26-13-106.

(b) An obligor is subject to the provisions of this section to the extent that any child support debt, arrearage balance, retroactive support, or medical support is owed and remains outstanding.

(3) (a) At least on an annual basis, the state child support enforcement agency shall issue a written notice of noncompliance to any obligor identified in subsection (2) of this section. The notice of noncompliance shall include the name and last-known address of the obligor and shall be sent to the obligor's last-known address.

(b) The notice of noncompliance shall include the following information:

(I) That the state child support enforcement agency's records indicate the obligor owes a duty of support under a child support order;

(II) That the state child support enforcement agency's records indicate the obligor has not complied with a child support order; or has a child support debt, child support arrearage balance, or owes retroactive child support; or has failed to provide the child medical support pursuant to a court or administrative order;

(III) That the obligor has failed to execute an agreement to repay the child support debt or child support arrearage balance or to remain current on the required child support payments or has failed to abide by the terms of the agreement if an agreement has been executed by the obligor;

(IV) That the obligor may, in writing and no later than thirty days after the date of the notice, request an administrative review to object to the notice of noncompliance and that failure to request such a review within the time specified shall result in the issuance of a notice of failure to comply pursuant to subsection (4) of this section;

(V) That the sole grounds for an administrative review shall be a mistake in the identity of the obligor; a disagreement regarding the amount of the child support debt, arrearage balance, retroactive support, or medical support; or a showing that all child support payments were made when due;

(VI) That the delegate child support enforcement unit must conduct an administrative review within thirty days after receipt of the obligor's written request; and

(VII) That the obligor may request in writing an administrative review from the state child support enforcement agency within thirty days after the date of the delegate child support enforcement unit's decision.

(c) (I) No later than thirty days after the date of the notice of noncompliance, the obligor may request in writing that the delegate child support enforcement unit conduct an administrative review pursuant to rules and regulations developed by the state board of human services to implement the provisions of this article.

(II) No later than thirty days after the date of the delegate child support enforcement unit's decision, the obligor may request in writing an administrative review from the state child support enforcement agency.

(III) The sole grounds to be determined at the administrative review shall be a mistake in the identity of the obligor; a disagreement with the amount of the child support debt, arrearage balance, retroactive support, or medical support; or a showing that all child support payments were made when due.

(IV) The decision of the state child support enforcement agency shall be final agency action and may be reviewed as provided in section 24-4-106, C.R.S.

(V) A notice of failure to comply pursuant to subsection (4) of this section shall not be sent to the department of revenue unless the obligor has failed to request a review within the time specified or until a hearing has been concluded and all rights of review have been exhausted.

(4) After the rights of review pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of this section have been exhausted or the time within which such review may be requested has elapsed, the state child support enforcement agency shall:

(a) Issue the notice of failure to comply to the department of revenue; and

(b) Send a copy of such notice to the obligor to the obligor's last-known address.

(5) (a) Upon receipt of the notice of failure to comply from the state child support enforcement agency, the department of revenue shall suspend the obligor's driver's license pursuant to section 42-2-127.5, C.R.S. Such suspension shall not be grounds for a hearing or any other administrative review by the department of revenue. The department of revenue shall refer all requests for a hearing regarding the obligor's child support order to the state child support enforcement agency for referral to the delegate child support enforcement unit.

(b) The department of revenue may issue a probationary driver's license pursuant to section 42-2-127.5, C.R.S.

(c) The department of revenue shall only reinstate a driver's license upon receipt of a notice of compliance from the delegate child support enforcement unit that indicates the obligor has complied with the court or administrative order or has agreed upon a payment plan approved by the delegate child support enforcement unit. The delegate child support enforcement unit is not required to issue a notice of compliance based upon approval of a payment plan for an obligor who has received a second notice of failure to comply until such obligor has complied with such payment plan for at least three months.

(d) Nothing in this section shall limit the ability of the department of revenue to revoke or suspend a license, or to take any other disciplinary action against a driver, on any other grounds.

(e) The department of revenue, or any person acting on the department's behalf, shall not be liable for any actions taken to suspend the obligor's driver's license pursuant to this section.

(6) (a) The state board of human services shall promulgate rules and regulations, pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as are necessary to implement this section.

(b) The department of revenue is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations, pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as may be necessary to implement this section.

26-13-124. Privatization of child support enforcement programs. The state department shall consult with the counties to determine what services of the child support enforcement program may be advantageous to privatize. The state department is authorized to procure such services on behalf of participating counties if the participating counties and the state department agree to such procurement.

26-13-125. State directory of new hires - definitions. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Employee" means a natural person who is employed by an employer in this state for compensation, which employer withholds federal or state tax liabilities from the employee's compensation. "Employee" does not include an employee hired to perform intelligence or counterintelligence functions for an agency of the United States government, as those terms are defined in the federal "Intelligence Organization Act of 1992", 50 U.S.C. sec. 401a, when the head of such agency has determined that reporting the employee could endanger the safety of the employee or compromise an ongoing investigation or intelligence mission.

(b) "Employer" means a person or entity doing business in the state that engages an employee for compensation and for whom the employer withholds federal or state tax liabilities from the employee's compensation. "Employer" also includes any governmental entity and any labor organization.

(c) "Labor organization" means any organization that exists for the purpose, in whole or in part, of collective bargaining or of dealing with employers concerning grievances, terms, or conditions of employment or of providing other mutual aid or protection in connection with employment.

(2) The state department, or its agent, shall establish and maintain a state directory of new hires on and after October 1, 1997, for the purpose of locating newly hired individuals for the purposes of establishing, enforcing, or modifying child support obligations and for other purposes specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (8) of this section.

(3) Effective October 1, 1997, each employer shall submit to the state directory of new hires a copy of the W-4 form or, at the option of the employer, an equivalent form for each new employee hired to work in Colorado on or after said date. The report may be transmitted to the state department by first class mail, magnetically, or electronically. The report shall contain the employee's name, address, and social security number. The report shall contain the name and address of the employer and the identifying number assigned to the employer under section 6109 of the federal "Internal Revenue Code of 1986", as amended. No liability shall attach to any employer for furnishing information pursuant to this section. No employer shall be required to submit to the state directory of new hires a report concerning any employee hired for less than thirty days.

(4) Beginning not later than May 1, 1998, the state child support enforcement agency shall conduct automated comparisons of the social security numbers reported by employers pursuant to this section and the social security numbers appearing in the records of the family support registry for cases being enforced under the state plan. The state department may contract for the performance of the comparisons required by this subsection (4) with another governmental agency or a private entity.

(5) An employer that has employees who are employed in two or more states and that transmits reports magnetically or electronically may designate one state to which the employer shall submit reports. Any multistate employer that elects to transmit all reports to one state shall notify the secretary of the federal department of health and human services, in writing, which state the employer has designated for purposes of reporting.

(6) All employers shall report a newly hired employee within twenty calendar days after the date the employer hires the employee or, at the election of the employer, at the time of the first regularly scheduled payroll following the date of hire if such payroll is subsequent to the expiration of the twenty-day period. Reports submitted magnetically or electronically shall be submitted by two monthly transmissions, when necessary, and in all instances, the report shall be transmitted no more than twenty calendar days after the date of hire or, at the election of the employer, at the time of the first regularly scheduled payroll following the date of hire if such payroll is subsequent to the expiration of the twenty-day period.

(7) (a) Within five business days after receipt of a report from an employer concerning a newly hired employee, the state child support enforcement agency shall enter the information into the state directory of new hires.

(b) Within two business days after the date the information regarding a newly hired employee is entered into the state directory of new hires, the state child support enforcement agency shall transmit an income assignment to the employer of the employee directing the employer to withhold an amount equal to the monthly child support obligation, including any past-due support obligation of the employee.

(c) Within three business days after the date the information regarding a newly hired employee is entered into the state directory of new hires, the state directory of new hires shall furnish the information to the national directory of new hires.

(d) No later than two years after the date the information regarding a newly hired employee is entered into the state directory of new hires, the state child support enforcement agency shall remove such name and information from the directory.

(8) (a) Information contained within the reports shall be made available to delegate child support enforcement units and their agents in order to locate individuals for purposes of establishing paternity or for purposes of establishing, modifying, or enforcing child support obligations.

(b) Information contained within the reports shall be made available to the administrators of the following programs for purposes of establishing or verifying eligibility or benefit amounts: Public assistance pursuant to the Colorado works program, as defined in section 26-2-703 (5); medicaid; food stamps; supplemental security income benefits; cash assistance programs under this title; public assistance as defined in section 26-2-103 (7); and unemployment compensation.

(c) Information contained within the reports shall be available to the department of labor and employment and the state agency operating the workers' compensation program.

26-13-126. Authority to deny, suspend, or revoke professional, occupational, and recreational licenses. (1) The state board of human services is authorized, in coordination with any state agency, board, or commission that is authorized by law to issue, revoke, deny, terminate, or suspend a professional, occupational, or recreational license, to promulgate rules for the suspension, revocation, or denial of professional, occupational, and recreational licenses of individuals who owe more than six months' gross dollar amount of child support and who are paying less than fifty percent of their current monthly child support obligation each month, or those individuals who fail, after receiving proper notice, to comply with subpoenas or warrants relating to paternity or child support proceedings.

(2) (a) To effectuate the purposes of this section, the executive director of the state department may request the denial, suspension, or revocation of any professional, occupational, or recreational license issued by a state agency, board, or commission, referred to in this section as the "licensing agency". Upon such request, the state child support enforcement agency shall send a notice to the obligor by first class mail stating that the obligor has thirty days after the date of the notice within which to pay the past-due obligation, to negotiate a payment plan with the state child support enforcement agency, to request an administrative hearing with the delegate child support enforcement unit, or to comply with the warrant or subpoena. If the obligor fails to pay the past-due obligation, negotiate a payment plan, request an administrative hearing, or comply with the warrant or subpoena within thirty days after the date of the notice, the state child support enforcement agency shall send a notice to the licensing agency to deny, revoke, or suspend the professional, occupational, or recreational license of the individual identified as not in compliance with the court or administrative order for current child support, child support debt, retroactive child support, child support arrearages, or child support when combined with maintenance or of the individual who failed, after receiving appropriate notice, to comply with subpoenas or warrants relating to paternity or child support proceedings.

(b) The rules promulgated to implement this section shall provide that, if it is the first time the procedures authorized by this section have been employed to enforce support against the obligor, the state child support enforcement agency may only issue a notice to the licensing agency to suspend or to deny such obligor's license. However, the rules shall also provide that, in second and subsequent circumstances in which the provisions of this section are utilized to enforce support against the obligor, the state child support enforcement agency shall be authorized to issue a notice to the licensing agency to revoke an obligor's license, subject to full reapplication procedures upon compliance as specified by the licensing agency.

(c) No later than thirty days after the date of the notice to the obligor, the obligor may request in writing that the delegate child support enforcement unit conduct an administrative review pursuant to the rules and regulations developed by the state board to implement the provisions of this article.

(d) No later than thirty days after the date of the delegate child support enforcement unit's decision, the obligor may request in writing an administrative review from the state child support enforcement agency.

(e) The sole issues to be determined at the administrative review by both the delegate child support enforcement unit and the state child support enforcement agency shall be whether there is: A mistake in the identity of the obligor; a disagreement concerning the amount of the child support debt, an arrearage balance, retroactive support due, or the amount of the past-due child support when combined with maintenance; a showing that all child support payments were made when due; a showing that the individual has complied with the subpoena or warrant; a showing that the individual was not properly served with the subpoena or warrant; or a showing that there was a technical defect with respect to the subpoena or warrant.

(f) The decision of the state child support enforcement agency shall be final agency action and may be reviewed pursuant to section 24-4-106, C.R.S.

(g) A notice to the licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall not be sent to the licensing agency unless the obligor has failed to request a review within the time specified or until a hearing has been concluded and all rights of review have been exhausted.

(h) Each licensing agency affected may promulgate rules, as necessary, and procedures to implement the requirements of this section. Such licensing agencies shall enter into memoranda of understanding, as necessary, with the state child support enforcement agency with respect to the implementation of this section. All due process hearings shall be conducted by the state department rather than the licensing agency.

(i) Nothing in this section shall limit the ability of each licensing agency to deny, suspend, or revoke a license on any other grounds provided by law.

(j) A licensing agency, or any person acting on its behalf, shall not be liable for any actions taken to deny, suspend, or revoke the obligor's license pursuant to this section.

(3) It is the intent of the general assembly that the same or similar conditions placed upon the issuance and renewal of a state license to practice a profession or occupation, as set forth in this section, should also be placed upon persons applying to or licensed to practice law. The general assembly, however, recognizes the practice of the Colorado Supreme Court in the licensure, registration, and discipline of persons practicing law in this state. Specifically, the general assembly acknowledges that in order to obtain a license to practice law in Colorado, a person must verify that he or she is not delinquent with respect to a court-ordered obligation to pay child support. In addition, the general assembly recognizes that pursuant to the "Colorado Rules of Professional Conduct" a lawyer may be disciplined, including by disbarment, for failing to pay child support.

(4) Subject to section 24-33-110 (1), C.R.S., for purposes of this section, "license" means any recognition, authority, or permission that the state or any principal department of the state or an agent of such department is authorized by law to issue for an individual to practice a profession or occupation or for an individual to participate in any recreational activity. "License" may include, but is not necessarily limited to, any license, certificate, certification, letter of authorization, or registration issued for an individual to practice a profession or occupation or for an individual to participate in any recreational activity.

26-13-127. State case registry. (1) The state department, or its agent, shall establish, maintain, update, and monitor an automated state case registry which shall include all cases in which child support orders have been established or modified on or after October 1, 1998.

(2) The judicial department shall collect and electronically transfer on a weekly basis, or more frequently as mutually agreeable, to the state department, or its agent, the following basic elements of all child support orders established or modified on or after October 1, 1998, which shall be stored in the state case registry:

- (a) The name of the court, the county, and the case number;
- (b) The names of the obligor, the obligee, and the children who are the subject of the order;
- (c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1350, § 8, effective July 1, 2008.)
- (d) The date of birth of each parent and of each child for whom the order requires the payment of child support;
- (e) The date the child support order was established or modified;
- (f) The amount of monthly or other periodic support owed under the order.

(2.5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, the parties shall provide the judicial department with the social security number of each party and each child who is the subject of a child support order. The judicial department shall collect and electronically transfer the social security numbers to the state department, or its agent, on a weekly basis or more frequently, as per mutual agreement. Nothing in this subsection (2.5) shall require that a person's social security number appear on the face of any court order entered pursuant to section 14-10-115, 14-14-104, or 19-4-116, C.R.S., or section 26-13-114 or 26-13.5-105.

(3) For each case in which services are being provided under Title IV-D of the federal “Social Security Act”, as amended, and for which a support order has been established or modified, the state case registry shall include the basic information listed in subsection (2) of this section and the following additional information:

(a) Amounts owed, including arrears, interest, or late payment penalties and fees, due or past-due, under the order;

(b) The distribution of collected amounts;

(c) (Deleted by amendment, L. 98, p. 763, §13, effective July 1, 1998.)

(d) The amount of any lien imposed with respect to the order pursuant to section 14-10-122 (1.5), C.R.S.

(4) Information in the state case registry shall be accessible only by the state child support enforcement agency, the delegate child support enforcement units, the federal office of child support enforcement, the courts, or the agents of such agency, units, office, or courts.

26-13-128. Agreements with financial institutions - data match system - limited liability - definitions. (1) The general assembly authorizes the state department, or its agent, to design and implement a program pursuant to this section. The state department, or its agent, and financial institutions doing business in the state shall enter into agreements to effectuate the purpose of this section. The executive director may request and shall receive from such financial institutions or any state entity, such as a department, board, or agency of the state or any of its political subdivisions, the information and action described in this section.

(2) (a) The purpose of the program authorized by this section shall be to develop and operate, in coordination with such financial institutions and state entities, a data match system, using automated data exchanges, to the maximum extent feasible.

(b) The data match required by paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall be conducted quarterly.

(c) The state department shall provide to the financial institutions or any state entity the name, record address, and social security number of any person who owes past-due child support, as identified by the state.

(d) The agreement required pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall provide that the data match be performed by the financial institution or state entity within forty-five days after the receipt of the informational electronic or magnetic data. The agreement shall also provide that the data be returned in electronic or magnetic form within three business days after the match is conducted. The financial institution or state entity shall include information concerning all accounts where a data match occurs, including but not limited to information regarding account numbers, account types, joint accounts, partnership accounts, sole proprietorship accounts, custodial accounts, and commercial accounts. The child support enforcement agency shall make a reasonable effort to accommodate those financial institutions upon which the requirements of this subsection (2) would pose a hardship.

(e) The financial institution or state entity, in response to a notice of lien or levy from the state department, shall encumber or surrender assets, except for custodial accounts created pursuant to the “Colorado Uniform Transfers to Minors Act”, article 50 of title 11, C.R.S., funds in escrow and trust accounts of moneys held in trust for a third party, held by such institution or entity on behalf of any obligor parent who is subject to a child support lien, subject to any right of setoff the financial institution may have against such assets.

Before the financial institution surrenders any assets of the obligor parent to the state department, the financial institution may apply, at the sole discretion of the financial institution, any assets held by the financial institution on behalf of the obligor parent against the balance of any amounts owed by the obligor parent to the financial institution, regardless of whether the obligor parent is in default under any agreement with the financial institution or whether any payments are currently due to the financial institution. Service of a notice of lien or levy pursuant to this subsection (2) shall be made by United States first class mail and, in addition, may be made by United States registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, the cost for which may be withheld by the financial institution or state entity from the account of the obligor parent.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of federal or state law, a financial institution or state entity shall not be liable under any federal, state, or local law to any person for any disclosure of information to the state department for the purpose of establishing, modifying, or enforcing a child support obligation of an individual, or for encumbering, holding, refusing to release to the obligor, surrendering, or transferring any assets held by such financial institution or state entity in response to a notice of lien or levy issued by the state department or for any other action taken in good faith to comply with the requirements of this section regardless of whether such action was specifically authorized or described by this section. A financial institution shall not be required to give notice to an account holder or customer of the financial institution concerning whom the financial institution has provided information or taken any action pursuant to this section. The financial institution shall not be liable for the failure to provide such notice.

(4) The state department shall assure, through rules of the state board, that there are appropriate procedures to be followed by the state department or the delegate child support enforcement unit with respect to certain special types of financial institution accounts, including but not limited to joint, partnership, sole proprietorship, custodial, and commercial accounts, which rules shall identify factors the delegate child support enforcement unit shall consider in determining whether to attach the account or any portion of such account. Such rules shall specifically provide that custodial accounts created pursuant to the "Colorado Uniform Transfers to Minors Act", article 50 of title 11, C.R.S., and trust accounts of moneys held in trust for a third party shall not be attached, encumbered, or surrendered for purposes of enforcing support.

(5) The state department, after obtaining a financial record of an individual from a financial institution pursuant to this section, may disclose such financial record only for the purpose of and to the extent necessary to establish, modify, or enforce a child support obligation of such individual. If a state officer, employee, or authorized agent of the state knowingly, or by reason of negligence, discloses a financial record of an individual in violation of this subsection (5), such individual may bring a civil action for damages against the officer, employee, or authorized agent of the state pursuant to 42 U.S.C. sec. 669A (c).

(6) A financial institution shall be entitled to a reasonable fee in the amount of five cents per name per quarter, not to exceed its costs, for fulfilling the requirements of subsection (2) of this section.

(7) For purposes of this section:

(a) (I) "Account" includes:

- (A) A deposit account;
- (B) A demand deposit account;
- (C) A checking account;
- (D) A negotiable withdrawal order account;
- (E) A savings account;
- (F) A certificate of deposit;
- (G) A passbook account;
- (H) A time and term deposit account;
- (I) A share account;
- (J) A share draft account;
- (K) A share certificate of deposit;
- (L) A money market share account;
- (M) A money market mutual fund account;

(N) A “N.O.W.” account; or

(O) A similar account.

Source: L. 89: Entire article added, p. 1238, § 1, effective April 1, 1990.

26-13.5-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Administrative order” means an order that involves payment or collection of support issued by a delegate child support enforcement unit or an administrative agency of another state or comparable jurisdiction with similar authority.

(2) “Arrears” or “arrearages” means amounts of past-due and unpaid monthly support obligations established by court or administrative order.

(3) “Child support debt” means, in the case in which there is no existing order for child support, an amount ordered by the court pursuant to section 14-14-104, C.R.S., or by a delegate child support enforcement unit pursuant to this article for unreimbursed public assistance provided to a family that has received or is receiving aid to families with dependent children or temporary assistance to needy families. In the case in which there is an existing court or administrative order for support, “child support debt” means an amount equal to the amount of public assistance paid to the extent of the full amount of arrearages which have accrued as of the date of the court or administrative order that determines the child support debt.

(4) “Costs of collection” means attorney fees, costs for administrative staff time, service of process fees, court costs, costs of genetic tests, and costs for certified mail. Attorney fees and costs for administrative time shall only be collected in accordance with federal law and rules and regulations.

(5) “Court” or “judge” means any court or judge in this state having jurisdiction to determine the liability of persons for the support of another person. “Court” or “judge” includes a juvenile magistrate and a district court magistrate.

(6) “Custodian” means a parent, relative, legal guardian, or other person or agency having physical custody of a child.

(7) “Delegate child support enforcement unit” means the unit of a county department of social services or its contractual agent which is responsible for carrying out the provisions of article 13 of this title. The term contractual agent shall include a private child support collection agency, operating as an independent contractor with a county department of social services, or a district attorney's office, that contracts to provide any services that the delegate child support enforcement unit is required by law to provide.

(8) "Dependent child" means any person who is legally entitled to or the subject of a court order for the provision of proper or necessary subsistence, education, medical care, or any other care necessary for his health, guidance, or well-being who is not otherwise emancipated, self-supporting, married, or a member of the armed forces of the United States.

(8.5) "District court" means any district court in this state and includes the juvenile court of the city and county of Denver and the juvenile division of the district court outside of the city and county of Denver.

(9) "Duty of support" means a duty of support imposed by law, by order, decree, or judgment of any court, or by administrative order, whether interlocutory or final or whether incidental to an action for divorce, separation, separate maintenance, or otherwise. "Duty of support" includes the duty to pay a monthly support obligation, a child support debt, any retroactive support due, support of children in foster care, medical support, and any arrangements.

(10) "Monthly support obligation" means the monthly amount of current child support that an obligor is ordered to pay by the court or by the delegate child support enforcement unit pursuant to this article.

(11) "Obligee" means any person or agency to whom a duty of support is owed or any person or agency having commenced a proceeding for the establishment or enforcement of an alleged duty of support.

(12) "Obligor" means any person owing a duty of support or against whom a proceeding for the establishment or enforcement of a duty of support is commenced.

(13) "Receipt of notice" means either the date on which service of process of a notice of financial responsibility is actually accomplished or the date on the return receipt if service is by certified mail, both in accordance with one of the methods of service specified in section 26-13.5-104.

26-13.5-103. Notice of financial responsibility issued - contents. (1) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue a notice of financial responsibility to an obligor who owes a child support debt or who is responsible for the support of a child on whose behalf the custodian of that child is receiving support enforcement services from the delegate child support enforcement unit pursuant to article 13 of this title. The notice shall advise the obligor:

(a) That the obligor is required to appear at the time and location stated in the notice for a negotiation conference to determine the obligor's duty of support;

(a.5) That a request for genetic tests shall not prejudice the obligor in matters concerning allocation of parental responsibilities pursuant to section 14-10-124 (1.5), C.R.S., and that, if genetic tests are not obtained prior to the legal establishment of paternity and submitted into evidence prior to the entry of the final order establishing paternity, the genetic tests may not be allowed into evidence at a later date;

(b) That the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an order of default setting forth the amount of the obligor's duty of support, if the obligor:

(I) Fails to appear for the negotiation conference as scheduled in the notice; and
(II) Fails to reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice; and

(III) Fails to send the delegate child support enforcement unit a written request for a court hearing prior to the time scheduled for the negotiation conference;

(b.5) That, if the notice is issued for the purpose of establishing the paternity of and financial responsibility for a child, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an order of default establishing paternity and setting forth the amount of the obligor's duty of support, if:

(I) The obligor fails to appear for the initial negotiation conference as scheduled in the notice of financial responsibility and fails to reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice of financial responsibility; or

(II) The obligor fails to take a genetic test or fails to appear for an appointment to take a genetic test without good cause; or

(III) The results of the genetic test indicate a ninety-seven percent or greater probability that the alleged father is the father of the child, and the obligor fails to appear for the negotiation conference as scheduled in the notice and fails to reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice;

(d) That the order of default shall be filed with the clerk of the district court in the county in which the notice of financial responsibility was issued; that, as soon as the order of default is filed, it shall have all the force, effect, and remedies of an order of the court, including, but not limited to, wage assignments issued prior to July 1, 1996, or income assignments issued thereafter or contempt of court; and that execution may be issued on the order in the same manner and with the same effect as if it were an order of the court;

(e) That a judgment may be entered on the order of financial responsibility issued pursuant to this article, and that if a judgment is not entered on the order of financial responsibility and needs to be enforced, the judgment creditor shall file with the court a verified entry of judgment specifying the period of time that the judgment covers and the total amount of the judgment for that period and that, notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph (e), no court order for judgment nor verified entry of judgment shall be required in order for the county and state child support enforcement units to certify past-due amounts of child support to the internal revenue service or state department of revenue for purposes of intercepting a federal or state tax refund;

(f) The name of the custodian of the child on whose behalf support is being sought and the name, birth date, and social security number of such child;

(g) That the amount of the monthly support obligation shall be based upon the child support guidelines as set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S.;

(h) That, in calculating the amount of monthly support obligation pursuant to the child support guidelines as set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S., the delegate child support enforcement unit shall set the monthly support obligation based upon reliable information concerning the parents' income, which may include wage statements or other wage information obtained from the department of labor and employment, tax records, and verified statements and other information provided by the parents and that, in the absence of any such information, the delegate child support enforcement unit may set the monthly support obligation based on the current minimum wage for a forty-hour workweek;

(i) That the delegate child support enforcement unit may issue an administrative subpoena to obtain income information from the obligor;

(i.5) That the court or delegate child support enforcement unit may enter an order directing the obligor to pay for support of the child, in an amount as may be determined by the court or delegate child support enforcement unit to be reasonable under the circumstances, for a time period prior to the entry of an order establishing paternity or for a time period prior to the entry of the support order established pursuant to section 19-6-104, C.R.S.;

(j) The amount of the child support debt accrued and accruing;

(k) The amount of arrears or arrearages which have accrued under an administrative or a court order for support;

(l) That the costs of collection, as defined in section 26-13.5-102 (3), may be assessed against and collected from the obligor;

(m) If applicable, that foster care maintenance may be collected against the obligor;

(n) The interest rate on any support payments which are not made on time;

(o) That the obligor may assert the following objections in the negotiation conference and that, if such objections are not resolved, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall schedule a court hearing pursuant to section 26-13.5-105 (3):

(I) That he is not the parent of the dependent child; however, if parentage has been previously determined by or pursuant to the law of another state, the obligor is advised that any challenge to the determination of parentage must be resolved in the state where the determination of parentage was made;

(II) That the dependent child has been adopted by a person other than the obligor;

(III) That the dependent child is emancipated; or

(IV) That there is an existing court or administrative order of support as to the monthly support obligation;

(p) That the duty to provide medical support shall be established under this article in accordance with section 14-10-115, C.R.S.;

(q) That an administrative order issued pursuant to this article may also be modified under this article;

(r) That the obligor is responsible for notifying the delegate child support enforcement unit of any change of address or employment within ten days of such change;

(s) That, if the obligor has any questions, the obligor should telephone or visit the delegate child support enforcement unit;

(t) That the obligor has the right to consult an attorney and the right to be represented by an attorney at the negotiation conference; and

(u) Such other information as set forth in rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to section 26-13.5-113.

26-13.5-103.5. Notice of financial responsibility amended - adding children.

(1) In any existing case commenced under this article, if it is alleged that another child has been conceived of the parents named in the existing case and at least one of the presumptions of paternity specified in section 19-4-105, C.R.S., applies, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an amended notice of financial responsibility to add the child to the case.

(2) The amended notice of financial responsibility to add a child to an existing case shall be served in the manner set forth in section 26-13.5-104.

(3) The amended notice of financial responsibility to add a child to an existing case shall contain all of the advisements required in an original notice of financial responsibility as set forth in section 26-13.5-103.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, in any case where there exists more than one alleged or presumed father for a child pursuant to section 19-4-105, C.R.S., a new case shall be commenced for that child to determine the child's paternity, establish child support, and address any other related issues. If it is determined that the child is the child of parents named in an existing case, the cases shall be consolidated pursuant to rule 42 of the Colorado rules of civil procedure.

26-13.5-104. Service of notice of financial responsibility. (1) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall serve a notice of financial responsibility on the obligor not less than ten days prior to the date stated in the notice for the negotiation conference:

- (a) In the manner prescribed for service of process in a civil action; or
 - (b) By an employee appointed by the delegate child support enforcement unit to serve such process; or
 - (c) By certified mail, return receipt requested, signed by the obligor only. The receipt shall be prima facie evidence of service.
- (2) Service of process to establish paternity and financial responsibility may be made under this article by certified mail as specified in subsection (1) of this section or by any of the other methods of service specified in said subsection (1).
- (3) If process has been served pursuant to this section, no additional service of process shall be necessary if the case is referred to court for further review.

26-13.5-105. Negotiation conference - issuance of order of financial responsibility - filing of order with district court. (1) Every obligor who has been served with a notice of financial responsibility pursuant to section 26-13.5-104 shall appear at the time and location stated in the notice for a negotiation conference or shall reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice. The negotiation conference shall be scheduled not more than thirty days after the date of the issuance of the notice of financial responsibility. A negotiation conference shall not be rescheduled more than once and shall not be rescheduled for a date more than ten days after the date and time stated in the notice without good cause as defined in rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to section 26-13.5-113. If a negotiation conference is continued, the obligor shall be notified of such continuance by first-class mail or by hand delivery. If a stipulation is agreed upon at the negotiation conference as to the obligor's duty of support, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an administrative order of financial responsibility setting forth the following:

- (a) The amount of the monthly support obligation and instructions on the manner in which it shall be paid;
 - (b) The amount of child support debt due and owing to the state department and instructions on the manner in which it shall be paid;
 - (c) The amount of arrearages due and owing and instructions on the manner in which it shall be paid;
 - (d) The names and dates of birth of the parties and of the children for whom support is being sought and the parties' residential and mailing addresses.
- (e) and (f) (Deleted by amendment, L. 99, p. 1091, § 12, effective July 1, 1999.)

(2) A copy of the administrative order of financial responsibility issued pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, along with proof of service, shall be filed with the clerk of the district court in the county in which the notice of financial responsibility was issued or in the district court where an action relating to support is pending or an order exists but is silent on the issue of child support. The clerk shall stamp the date of receipt of the copy of the order and shall assign the order a case number. The order of financial responsibility shall have all the force, effect, and remedies of an order of the court, including, but not limited to, wage assignments issued prior to July 1, 1996, or income assignments issued thereafter or contempt of court. Execution may be issued on the order in the same manner and with the same effect as if it were an order of the court. In order to enforce a judgment based on an order issued pursuant to this article, the judgment creditor shall file with the court a verified entry of judgment specifying the period of time that the judgment covers and the total amount of the judgment for that period. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection (2), no court order for judgment nor verified entry of judgment shall be required in order for the county and state child support enforcement units to certify past-due amounts of child support to the internal revenue service or state department of revenue for purposes of intercepting a federal or state tax refund.

(3) (a) If no stipulation is agreed upon at the negotiation conference because the obligor contests the issue of paternity, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an order for genetic testing and continue the negotiation conference to allow for the receipt of the genetic testing results. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall pay the costs of the genetic testing and may recover any testing costs from the presumed or alleged father if paternity is established.

(b) If no stipulation is agreed upon at the continued negotiation conference and the evidence relating to paternity does not meet the requirements set forth in section 13-25-126 (1) (g), C.R.S., the delegate child support enforcement unit may dismiss the action or take such other appropriate action as allowed by law.

(c) If no stipulation is agreed upon at the negotiation conference and paternity is not an issue, or, if paternity is an issue and either the evidence relating to paternity meets the requirements set forth in section 13-25-126 (1) (g), C.R.S., or parentage has been previously determined by another state, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue temporary orders establishing current child support, arrears, foster care maintenance, medical support, and reasonable support for a time period prior to the entry of the order for support and shall file the notice of financial responsibility and proof of service with the clerk of the district court in the county in which the notice of financial responsibility was issued and shall request the court to set a hearing for the matter.

(d) Notwithstanding any rules of the Colorado rules of civil procedure, a complaint is not required in order to initiate a court action pursuant to this subsection (3). The court shall inform the delegate child support enforcement unit of the date and location of the hearing and the court or the delegate child support enforcement unit shall send a notice to the obligor informing the obligor of the date and location of the hearing. In order to meet federal requirements of expedited process for child support enforcement, the court shall hold a hearing and decide only the issue of child support within ninety days after receipt of notice, as defined in section 26-13.5-102 (13), or within six months after receipt of notice, as defined in section 26-13.5-102 (13), if the obligor is contesting the issue of paternity. If the obligor raises issues relating to the allocation of parental responsibilities, decision-making responsibility, or parenting time and the court has jurisdiction to hear such matters, the court shall set a separate hearing for those issues after entry of the order of support. In any action, including an action for paternity, no additional service beyond that originally required pursuant to section 26-13.5-104 shall be required if no stipulation is reached at the negotiation conference and the court is requested to set a hearing in the matter.

(4) The determination of the monthly support obligation shall be based on the child support guidelines set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S. The delegate child support enforcement unit may issue an administrative subpoena requesting income information, including but not limited to wage statements, pay stubs, and tax records. In the absence of reliable information, which may include such information as wage statements or other wage information obtained from the department of labor and employment, tax records, and verified statements made by the obligee, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall set the amount included in the order of financial responsibility pursuant to section 14-10-115, C.R.S., based on the current minimum wage for a forty-hour workweek.

(5) If the court or delegate child support enforcement unit finds that the respondent has an obligation to support the child or children mentioned in the petition or notice, the court or delegate child support enforcement unit may enter an order directing the respondent to pay such sums for support as may be reasonable under the circumstances, taking into consideration the factors found in section 19-4-116 (6), C.R.S. The court or delegate child support enforcement unit may also enter an order directing the appropriate party to pay for support of the child, in an amount as may be determined by the court or delegate child support enforcement unit to be reasonable under the circumstances, for a time period which occurred prior to the entry of the support order established pursuant to section 19-6-104, C.R.S.

(6) If a parent is unemployed and not incapacitated, the delegate child support enforcement unit may order such parent to pay such support in accordance with a plan approved by the delegate child support enforcement unit or to participate in work activities, as described in section 14-10-115 (5) (b) (II), C.R.S., as deemed appropriate by that delegate child support enforcement unit, as a condition of the child support order.

ANNOTATION

Hearing procedure in subsection (3) does not apply unless the parties fail to reach a stipulated agreement at a negotiation conference because the obligor contests paternity. Where no such conference was held and, therefore, the issue of paternity was not contested or otherwise properly placed in issue, court lacked jurisdiction to enter an order for support. Adams Cty. Dept. of Soc. Serv. v. Huynh, 883 P.2d 573 (Colo. App. 1994).

26-13.5-106. Default - issuance of order of default - filing of order with district court. (1) (a) If an obligor fails to appear for a negotiation conference as scheduled in the notice of financial responsibility, and fails to reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice of financial responsibility, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an order of default in accordance with the notice of financial responsibility. If an obligor fails to appear for a rescheduled negotiation conference, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an order of default in accordance with the notice of financial responsibility.

(b) In an action to establish paternity and financial responsibility, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall issue an order of default establishing paternity and financial responsibility in accordance with the notice of financial responsibility if:

(I) The obligor fails to appear for the initial negotiation conference as scheduled in the notice of financial responsibility and fails to reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice of financial responsibility; or

(II) The obligor fails to take a genetic test or fails to appear for an appointment to take a genetic test without good cause; or

(III) The results of the genetic test indicate a ninety-seven percent or greater probability that the alleged father is the father of the child, and the obligor fails to appear for the negotiation conference as scheduled in the notice of financial responsibility and fails to reschedule a negotiation conference prior to the date and time stated in the notice of financial responsibility.

(b.5) The state board shall promulgate rules defining what constitutes good cause for failure to appear at a negotiation conference.

(c) Such order of default shall be approved by the court and shall include the following:

(I) The amount of the monthly support obligation and instructions on the manner in which it shall be paid;

(II) The amount of child support debt due and owing to the state department and instructions on the manner in which it shall be paid;

(III) The amount of arrearages due and owing and instructions on the manner in which it shall be paid;

(IV) The name of the custodian of the child and the name, birth date, and social security number of the child for whom support is being sought;

(V) The information required by section 14-14-111.5 (2) (f) (II), C.R.S.;

(VI) In a default order establishing paternity, a statement that the obligor has been determined to be the natural parent of the child;

(VII) Such other information set forth in rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to section 26-13.5-113.

(d) Such order for default may direct the obligor to pay for support of the child, in an amount as may be determined by the court or delegate child support enforcement unit to be reasonable under the circumstances, for a time period prior to the entry of the order establishing paternity.

(2) A copy of any order of default issued pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, along with proof of service, and, in the case of a default order establishing paternity and financial responsibility under paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section, the obligee's verified affidavit regarding paternity and the genetic test results, if any, shall be filed with the clerk of the district court in the county in which the notice of financial responsibility was issued or in the district court where an action relating to child support is pending or an order exists but is silent on the issue of child support. The clerk shall stamp the date of receipt of the copy of the order of default and shall assign the order a case number. The order of default shall have all the force, effect, and remedies of an order of the court, including, but not limited to, wage assignments issued prior to July 1, 1996, or income assignments issued thereafter or contempt of court. Execution may be issued on the order in the same manner and with the same effect as if it were an order of the court. In order to enforce a judgment based on an order issued pursuant to this article, the judgment creditor shall file with the court a verified entry of judgment specifying the period of time that the judgment covers and the total amount of the judgment for that period. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection (2), no court order for judgment nor verified entry of judgment shall be required in order for the county and state child support enforcement units to certify past-due amounts of child support to the internal revenue service or state department of revenue for purposes of intercepting a federal or state tax refund.

ANNOTATION

Requirements of this section are jurisdictional. Where record contained no administrative default order establishing paternity and financial responsibility as required by this section, court was without authority to order child support. Adams Cty. Dept. of Soc. Serv. v. Huynh, 883 P.2d 573 (Colo. App. 1994).

26-13.5-107. Orders - duration - effect of court determinations. (1) A copy of any order of financial responsibility or of any order of default or of any temporary order of financial responsibility issued by the delegate child support enforcement unit shall be sent by such unit by first-class mail to the obligor or his attorney of record and to the custodian of the child.

(2) Any order of financial responsibility, any order of default, and any temporary order of financial responsibility shall continue notwithstanding the fact that the child is no longer receiving benefits under the programs listed in section 26-13-102.5 (2) (a), unless the child is emancipated or is otherwise no longer entitled to support. Any order of financial responsibility, any order of default, and any temporary order of financial responsibility shall continue until modified by administrative order or court order or by emancipation of the child. In the event that the order of financial responsibility, order of default, or temporary order of financial responsibility is entered in a case at a time when there is a court action on the same case, the court may credit a portion of a monthly amount paid under the administrative process order towards future payments due in the court case only if the order in the court case is established at a lower amount than the administrative process order and only to the extent of the difference between the amount of the court order and the amount of the administrative process order.

(3) Nothing contained in this article shall deprive a court of competent jurisdiction from determining the duty of support of an obligor against whom an administrative order is issued pursuant to this article. Such a determination by the court shall supersede the administrative order as to support payments due subsequent to the entry of the order by the court but shall not affect any arrearage which may have accrued under the administrative order.

26-13.5-109. Notice of financial responsibility - issued in which county. A notice of financial responsibility may be issued by a delegate child support enforcement unit pursuant to this article in any county where public assistance was paid, the county where the obligor resides, the county where the obligee resides, or the county where the child resides as prescribed by rule and regulation pursuant to section 26-13.5-113.

26-13.5-110. Paternity - establishment - filing of order with court. (1) The delegate child support enforcement unit may issue an order establishing paternity of and financial responsibility for a child in the course of a support proceeding under this article when both parents sign sworn statements that the paternity of the child for whom support is sought has not been legally established and that the parents are the natural parents of the child and if neither parent is contesting the issue of paternity or may issue an order of default establishing paternity and financial responsibility in accordance with section 26-13.5-106. Prior to issuing an order under this section, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall advise both parents in writing as prescribed by rule and regulation promulgated pursuant to section 26-13.5-113 of their legal rights concerning the determination of paternity.

(2) A copy of the order establishing paternity and financial responsibility and the sworn statements of the parents and, in the case of a default order establishing paternity and financial responsibility, the obligee's verified affidavit regarding paternity and the genetic test results, if any, shall be filed with the clerk of the district court in the county in which the notice of financial responsibility was issued or as otherwise provided in accordance with the provisions of section 26-13.5-105 (2). The order establishing paternity and financial responsibility shall have all the force, effect, and remedies of an order of the district court, and the order may be executed upon and enforced in the same manner as set forth in section 26-13.5-105 (2).

(3) If the order establishing paternity is at variance with the child's birth certificate, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall order that a new birth certificate be issued under section 19-4-124, C.R.S.

(4) Service of process to establish paternity and financial responsibility may be made under this article by certified mail as specified in section 26-13.5-104 or by any of the other methods of service specified in said section.

ANNOTATION

Requirements of this section are jurisdictional. Where record contained no verified affidavit from the obligee as required by this section, court was without authority to order child support. Adams Cty. Dept. of Soc. Serv. v. Huynh, 883 P.2d 573 (Colo. App. 1994).

26-13.5-112. Modification of an order. (1) At any time after the entry of an order of financial responsibility or an order of default under this article, in order to add, alter, or delete any provisions to such an order, the delegate child support enforcement unit may issue a notice of financial responsibility to the obligor and obligee advising the obligor and obligee of the possible modification of the existing administrative order issued pursuant to this article. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall serve the obligor and the obligee with a notice of financial responsibility by first-class mail or by electronic means if mutually agreed upon. The obligor or the obligee may file a written request for modification of an administrative order issued under this article with the delegate child support enforcement unit. If the delegate child support enforcement unit denies the request for modification based upon the failure to demonstrate a showing of changed circumstances required pursuant to section 14-10-122, C.R.S., the delegate child support enforcement unit shall advise the requesting party of the party's right to seek a modification pursuant to section 14-10-122, C.R.S.

(1.2) At any time after entry of an administrative order issued pursuant to this article, an obligor or obligee may file a written request for review of the order with the delegate child support enforcement unit. The written request for review shall include financial information of the requesting party necessary to conduct a calculation pursuant to the Colorado child support guidelines described in section 14-10-115, C.R.S. The requesting party shall provide his or her financial information on the form required by the division of child support enforcement. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall review each request received and grant or deny the request using the standards described in section 26-13-121 (2) (a) or (2) (b).

(1.3) If there is an active assignment of rights, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall, once every thirty-six months, review the administrative order to determine if an adjustment of the administrative order is appropriate.

(1.4) If the request for review is granted or in case of an automatic review where there is an active assignment of rights, a notice of review shall be issued to the requesting and nonrequesting parties. In the case of a review in which there is an active assignment of rights, the obligor and obligee shall be considered nonrequesters. The notice of review shall advise the obligor and obligee that a review is to be conducted and provide the nonrequesters twenty days within which to provide the financial information necessary to calculate the child support obligation pursuant to the Colorado child support guidelines described in section 14-10-115, C.R.S.

(1.5) (a) The review of the administrative order shall be conducted on or before the thirtieth day after notice of review is sent to the parties. During the review, the determination of the monthly support obligation shall be based on the child support guidelines set forth in section 14-10-115, C.R.S. The delegate child support enforcement unit may grant a continuance of the review for good cause. The continuance shall be for a reasonable period of time to be determined by the delegate child support enforcement unit, not to exceed thirty days.

(b) In order to obtain information necessary to conduct the review, the delegate child support enforcement unit is authorized, pursuant to sections 26-13.5-103 (1) and 26-13-121 (3) (d), to serve, by first-class mail or by electronic means if mutually agreed upon, an administrative subpoena to any person, corporation, partnership, public employee retirement benefit plan, financial institution, labor union, or other entity to appear or for the production of records and financial documents.

(c) An adjustment to the administrative order shall be appropriate only if the standard set forth in section 14-10-122 (1) (b), C.R.S., is met.

(1.7) (a) After the review is completed, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall provide a post-review notice and child support guideline worksheet advising the obligor and obligee of the review results. If a review indicates that an adjustment should be made, a notice of financial responsibility and a proposed order of financial responsibility shall be included. The delegate child support enforcement unit shall provide all supporting financial documentation used to calculate the monthly support obligation to both parties. The notice of financial responsibility shall advise the parties of the right to challenge the post-review notice of the review results, the time frame for challenging the review results, and the method for asserting the challenge.

(b) The obligor and obligee shall be given fifteen days from the date of the post-review notice to challenge the review results. The grounds for the challenge shall be limited to the issue of mathematical or factual error in the calculation of the monthly support obligation. The delegate child support enforcement unit may grant an extension of up to fifteen days to challenge the review results based upon a showing of good cause. Any challenge may be presented at the negotiation conference scheduled pursuant to section 26-13.5-103 via first-class mail or via an electronic communication method.

(c) The delegate child support enforcement unit shall have fifteen days from the date of receipt of the challenge to respond to a challenge based upon a mathematical or factual error. If a challenge results in a change to the monthly support obligation, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall provide an amended notice of review to the obligor and obligee. The parties shall be given fifteen days from the date of the amended notice of review to challenge the results of any subsequent review. The grounds for the challenge shall be limited to the issue of mathematical or factual error in the calculation of the monthly support obligation.

(1.9) (a) If the review indicates that a change to the monthly support obligation is appropriate and the review is not challenged or all challenges have been addressed, the delegate child support enforcement unit shall file the notice of financial responsibility, the order of financial responsibility accompanied by the guideline worksheet, and the supporting financial documentation with the court. When the order of financial responsibility is filed with the court, it shall be provided to the parties and shall contain an advisement that the parties have fifteen days from the date of filing to file a written objection to the order of financial responsibility with the court.

(b) If the delegate child support enforcement unit has filed an order of financial responsibility modifying the monthly support obligation and an objection has not been received by the court within fifteen days after the order is filed with the court, the order of financial responsibility shall become final. If an objection is received within the fifteen-day period, the court may affirm the order of financial responsibility as submitted, issue an order revising the monthly support obligation, or set the matter for a hearing. If a hearing is necessary, the court shall hold a hearing within forty-five days after the filing of the order of financial responsibility, and the court shall decide only the issues of child support and medical support. Any documentary evidence provided by the obligee or the obligor or by the delegate child support enforcement unit may be admitted into evidence by the court without the necessity of laying a foundation for its admissibility, and the court may determine the relative weight or credibility to give any such documentation.

(2) A request for modification made pursuant to this section shall not stay the delegate child support enforcement unit from enforcing and collecting upon the existing order pending the modification proceeding.

(3) Only payments accruing subsequent to the request for modification may be modified. Modification shall be based upon the standard set forth in section 14-10-122, C.R.S.

26-18-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby declares that Colorado needs healthy and cohesive families at all income levels in order for the state to be economically viable. A number of families in communities throughout Colorado temporarily may not have access to the basic necessities of life or to resources or services designed to promote individual development and family growth.

(2) The general assembly further declares that many of Colorado’s vulnerable families, individuals, children, and youth do not necessarily live in at-risk neighborhoods. Such persons may not have appropriate resources or sufficient income for adequate housing, health care, or child care because the primary wage earners are unemployed, underemployed, or work at jobs that pay minimum wage or less. Further, many such persons not only live in poverty, but also experience divorce, domestic violence, or are single parents. Children and youth who are raised in vulnerable families experience an increased risk of being abused, being illiterate, being undereducated, dropping out of school, becoming teen parents, abusing drugs, and engaging in at-risk behaviors, including but not limited to criminal activities. Such children and youth are often influenced by and are likely to repeat behaviors that began with their parents.

(3) Therefore, the general assembly finds that it is appropriate to establish a program to provide family resource centers in communities to serve as a single point of entry for providing comprehensive, intensive, integrated, and collaborative state and community-based services to vulnerable families, individuals, children, and youth.

26-18-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires: (1) “At-risk neighborhood” means an urban or rural neighborhood or community in which there are incidences of poverty, unemployment and underemployment, substance abuse, crime, school dropouts, illiteracy, teen pregnancies and teen parents, domestic violence, or other conditions that put families at risk.

(2) “Case management” means the process whereby a family advocate for the family resource center assesses a family’s need for services in accordance with section 26-18-104 (2).

(3) “Community applicant” means any local entity interested and willing to commit private and public resources to establish a family resource center and which applies for a family resource center grant pursuant to section 26-18-105. “Community applicant” includes, but is not limited to, any state or local governmental agency or governing body, a local private nonprofit agency, a local board of education on a cost-shared basis, a local recreational center, or a local child care agency.

(3.5) “Division” means the prevention services division in the department of public health and environment.

(4) “Family resource center” means a unified single point of entry where vulnerable families, individuals, children, and youth in communities or within at-risk neighborhoods or participants in Colorado works, pursuant to part 7 of article 2 of this title, can obtain information, assessment of needs, and referral to delivery of family services described in section 26-18-104 (2) and for which a grant is awarded to a community applicant in accordance with section 26-18-105.

(4.5) “Family support and parent education” means a program or service that promotes a family’s positive and meaningful engagement in its children’s lives by providing an experiential and supportive adult learning environment through which a primary caregiver can learn how to create a safe, stable, and supportive family unit.

(5) “Local advisory council” means the body that oversees the operation of the family resource center and which is described in section 26-18-105 (1) (b).

26-18-104. Program created. (1) (a) There is hereby established in the prevention services division in the department of public health and environment a family resource center program. The purposes of said program shall be to provide grants to community applicants for the creation of family resource centers or to provide grants to family resource centers for the continued operation of such centers through which services for vulnerable families, individuals, children, and youth who live in communities or in at-risk neighborhoods are accessible and coordinated through a single point of entry.

(b) The division shall operate the family resource center program in accordance with the provisions of this article, the requirements for prevention, intervention, and treatment programs specified in article 20.5 of title 25, C.R.S., and the rules for prevention, intervention, and treatment programs adopted by the state board of health pursuant to section 25-20.5-106, C.R.S. In addition, the division may establish any other procedures necessary to implement the program, including establishing the procedure for the submittal of grant applications by community applicants seeking to establish a family resource center or by a family resource center applying for a grant for continued operation of a family resource center.

(c) (I) The family resource center program may receive direct appropriations from the state general fund.

(II) Any moneys received by family resource centers pursuant to the temporary assistance for needy families block grant or from the family issues cash fund created in section 26-5.3-106 shall be from funds directly disbursed by a county at the discretion of the county; except that a family resource center may apply for and receive moneys from the Colorado works statewide strategic use fund pursuant to section 26-2-721.7.

Editor's note: This version of subparagraph (II) is effective until April 1, 2013.

(II) Any moneys received by family resource centers pursuant to the temporary assistance for needy families block grant or from the family issues cash fund created in section 26-5.3-106 shall be from funds directly disbursed by a county at the discretion of the county.

Editor's note: This version of subparagraph (II) is effective April 1, 2013.

(III) The division is authorized to accept and expend any grants from any public or private source for the purpose of making grants to community applicants for the establishment or continued operation of family resource centers and for the purpose of evaluating the effectiveness of the family resource center program. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit a family resource center from accepting and expending funds received through an authorized contract, grants, or donations from public or private sources.

(2) (a) Services provided by a family resource center shall be coordinated and services should reflect the needs of the community and the resources available to support such programs and services. Services may be delivered directly to a family at the center by center staff or by providers who contract with or have provider agreements with the center. Any family resource center that provides direct services shall comply with applicable state and federal laws and regulations regarding the delivery of such services, unless required waivers or exemptions have been granted by the appropriate governing body.

(b) Each family resource center shall provide case management by a family advocate who screens and assesses a family's needs and strengths. The family advocate shall then assist the family with setting its own goals and, together with the family, develop a written plan to pursue the family's goals in working toward a greater level of self-reliance or in attaining self-sufficiency. The plan shall provide for the following:

(I) A negotiated agreement that includes reciprocal responsibilities of the individual or family members and the personnel of each human service agency providing services to the family;

(II) A commitment of resources as available and necessary to meet the family's plan;

(III) The delivery of applicable services to the individual or family, if feasible, or referral to an appropriate service provider;

(IV) The coordination of services;

(V) The monitoring of the progress of the family toward greater self-reliance or self-sufficiency and an evaluation of services provided; and

(VI) Assistance to the individual or family in applying for the children's basic health plan, medical assistance benefits, or other benefits.

(c) In addition to services required by paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), the family resource center may provide for the direct delivery of or referral to a provider of the following six services:

(I) Early childhood care and education, including programs that contribute to school readiness;

(II) Family support and parent education;

(III) Well child check-ups and basic health services;

(IV) Early intervention for identifying infants, toddlers, and preschoolers who are developmentally disabled in order to provide necessary services to such children;

(V) Before and after school care;

(VI) Programs for children and youth.

(d) A family resource center may also provide services, including, but not limited to, the following:

(I) Additional educational programs, such as mentoring programs for students in elementary, junior, and senior high schools; adult education and family literacy programs; and educational programs that link families with local schools and alternative educational programs, including links with boards of cooperative services;

(II) Job skills training and self-sufficiency programs for adults and youth;

(III) Social, health, mental health, and child welfare services and housing, homeless, food and nutrition, domestic violence support, recreation, and substance abuse services;

(IV) Outreach, education, and support programs, including programs aimed at preventing teen pregnancies and school dropouts and programs providing parent support and advocacy;

(V) Transportation services to obtain other services provided pursuant to this subsection (2).

26-18-105. Selection of centers - grants. (1) The division may award a grant for the purpose of establishing a family resource center based on a plan submitted to the division by the applicant or for the continued operation of a family resource center. The plan shall meet specific criteria which the division is hereby authorized to set, but the criteria shall include at least the following provisions:

(a) That members of the community will participate in the development and implementation of the family resource center;

(b) That the center shall be governed by a local advisory council comprised of community representatives such as:

(I) Families living in the community;

(II) Local public or private service provider agencies;

(III) Local job skills training programs, if any;

(IV) Local governing bodies;

(V) Local businesses serving families in the community; and

(VI) Local professionals serving families in the community;

(c) That the advisory council shall establish rules concerning the operation of the family resource center, including provisions for staffing;

(d) That services provided by the family resource center shall be coordinated and tailored to the specific needs of individuals and families who live in the community;

(e) That the family resource center will:

(I) Promote and support, not supplant, successful individual and family functioning and increase the recognition of the importance of successful individuals and families in the community;

(II) Contribute to the strength of family ties;

(III) Establish programs that focus on the needs of family members, such as preschool programs, family preservation programs, and teenage pregnancy prevention programs, and assist the individual or family in moving toward greater self-sufficiency;

(IV) Recognize the diversity of families within the community;

(V) Support family stability and unity;

(VI) Treat families as partners in providing services;

(VII) Encourage intergovernmental cooperation and a community-based alliance between government and the private sector. Such cooperation may include but not be limited to the pooling of public and private funds available to state agencies upon appropriation or transfer by the general assembly.

(VIII) Provide programs that reduce institutional barriers related to categorical funding and eligibility requirements;

(IX) Make information regarding available resources and services readily accessible to individuals and families;

(X) Coordinate efforts of public and private entities to connect families to services and supports that encourage the development of early childhood and other family support systems; and

(f) That the family resource center shall coordinate the provision of services and shall pool the resources of providers of services to aid in funding and operating the center.

(2) The local advisory council for a community applicant awarded a grant pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall evaluate the overall effectiveness of the family resource center annually and shall submit an annual report to the division in accordance with section 25-20.5-108, C.R.S.

(3) In the event the division determines, from any report submitted by a local advisory council or any other source, that the operation of a family resource center is not in compliance with this article or any rule adopted pursuant to the provisions of this article, the division may impose sanctions including termination of the grant.

26-20-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) (a) “Agency” means:

(I) Any one of the principal departments of state government created in article 1 of title 24, C.R.S., or any division, section, unit, office, or agency within one of such principal departments of state government, except as excluded in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1);

(II) Any county, city and county, municipality, school district, or other political subdivision of the state or any department, division, section, unit, office, or agency of such county, city and county, municipality, school district, or other political subdivision of the state;

(III) Any public or private entity that has entered into a contract for services with an entity described in subparagraph (I) or (II) of this paragraph (a);

(IV) Any public or private entity licensed or certified by one of the entities described in subparagraph (I) or (II) of this paragraph (a);

(V) A person regulated pursuant to article 43 of title 12, C.R.S.

(b) “Agency” does not include:

(I) The department of corrections or any public or private entity that has entered into a contract for services with such department;

(II) Any law enforcement agency of the state or of a political subdivision of the state;

(III) A juvenile probation department or division authorized pursuant to section 19-2-204, C.R.S.;

(IV) Any county department of social services when engaged in performance of duties pursuant to part 3 of article 3 of title 19, C.R.S.

(2) “Chemical restraint” means giving an individual medication involuntarily for the purpose of restraining that individual; except that “chemical restraint” does not include the involuntary administration of medication pursuant to section 27-65-111 (5), C.R.S., or administration of medication for voluntary or life-saving medical procedures.

(3) “Emergency” means a serious, probable, imminent threat of bodily harm to self or others where there is the present ability to effect such bodily harm.

(4) “Mechanical restraint” means a physical device used to involuntarily restrict the movement of an individual or the movement or normal function of a portion of his or her body.

(5) “Physical restraint” means the use of bodily, physical force to involuntarily limit an individual’s freedom of movement; except that “physical restraint” does not include the holding of a child by one adult for the purposes of calming or comforting the child.

(6) “Restraint” means any method or device used to involuntarily limit freedom of movement, including but not limited to bodily physical force, mechanical devices, or chemicals. “Restraint” includes a chemical restraint, a mechanical restraint, a physical restraint, and seclusion. “Restraint” does not include:

(a) The use of any form of restraint in a licensed or certified hospital when such use:

(I) Is in the context of providing medical or dental services that are provided with the consent of the individual or the individual’s guardian; and

(II) Is in compliance with industry standards adopted by a nationally recognized accrediting body or the conditions of participation adopted for federal medicare and medicaid programs;

(b) The use of protective devices or adaptive devices for providing physical support, prevention of injury, or voluntary or life-saving medical procedures;

(c) The holding of an individual for less than five minutes by a staff person for protection of the individual or other persons;

- (d) Placement of an inpatient or resident in his or her room for the night; or
- (e) The use of time-out as may be defined by written policies, rules, or procedures of an agency.
- (7) "Seclusion" means the placement of a person alone in a room from which egress is involuntarily prevented.

26-20-103. Basis for use of restraint. (1) Subject to the provisions of this article, an agency may only use restraint:

- (a) In cases of emergency; and
- (b) (I) After the failure of less restrictive alternatives; or
- (II) After a determination that such alternatives would be inappropriate or ineffective under the circumstances.
- (2) An agency that uses restraint pursuant to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall use such restraint:
 - (a) For the purpose of preventing the continuation or renewal of an emergency;
 - (b) For the period of time necessary to accomplish its purpose; and
 - (c) In the case of physical restraint, using no more force than is necessary to limit the individual's freedom of movement.

(3) In addition to the circumstances described in subsection (1) of this section, a facility, as defined in section 27-65-102 (7), C.R.S., that is designated by the executive director of the department of human services to provide treatment pursuant to section 27-65-105, 27-65-106, 27-65-107, or 27-65-109, C.R.S., to a person with mental illness, as defined in section 27-65-102 (14), C.R.S., may use seclusion to restrain a person with a mental illness when the seclusion is necessary to eliminate a continuous and serious disruption of the treatment environment.

(4) (a) The general assembly recognizes that skilled nursing and nursing care facilities that participate in federal medicaid programs are subject to federal statutes and regulations concerning the use of restraint in such facilities that afford protections from restraint in a manner consistent with the purposes and policies set forth in this article.

(b) If the use of restraint in skilled nursing and nursing care facilities licensed under state law is in accordance with the federal statutes and regulations governing the medicare program set forth in 42 U.S.C. sec. 1395i-3(c) and 42 CFR part 483, subpart B and the medicaid program set forth in 42 U.S.C. sec. 1396r(c) and 42 CFR part 483, subpart B and with the rules of the department of public health and environment relating to the licensing of these facilities, there shall be a conclusive presumption that such use of restraint is in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(5) (a) The general assembly recognizes that article 10.5 of title 27, C.R.S., and the rules promulgated pursuant to the authority set forth in that article, address the use of restraint on a person with a developmental disability.

(b) If any provision of this article concerning the use of restraint conflicts with any provision concerning the use of restraint stated in article 10.5 of title 27, C.R.S., or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto, the provision of article 10.5 of title 27, C.R.S., or the regulation adopted pursuant thereto shall prevail.

(6) The provisions of this article shall not apply to any agency while engaged in transporting a person from one facility or location to another facility or location when it is within the scope of that agency's powers and authority to effect such transportation.

Source: L. 99: Entire article added, p. 379, § 1, effective April 22. L. 2006: (3) amended, p. 1389, § 20, effective August 7. L. 2010: (3) amended, (SB 10-175), ch. 188, p. 805, § 80, effective April 29.

26-20-104. Duties relating to use of restraint. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 26-20-103, an agency that uses restraint shall ensure that:

(a) At least every fifteen minutes, staff shall monitor any individual held in mechanical restraints to assure that the individual is properly positioned, that the individual's blood circulation is not restricted, that the individual's airway is not obstructed, and that the individual's other physical needs are met;

(b) No physical or mechanical restraint of an individual shall place excess pressure on the chest or back of that individual or inhibit or impede the individual's ability to breathe;

(c) During physical restraint of an individual, an agent or employee of the agency shall check to ensure that the breathing of the individual in such physical restraint is not compromised;

(d) A chemical restraint shall be given only on the order of a physician or an advanced practice nurse with prescriptive authority who has determined, either while present during the course of the emergency justifying the use of the chemical restraint or after telephone consultation with a registered nurse, licensed physician assistant, or other authorized staff person who is present at the time and site of the emergency and who has participated in the evaluation of the individual, that such form of restraint is the least restrictive, most appropriate alternative available. Nothing in this subsection (1) shall modify the requirements of section 26-20-102 (2) or 26-20-103 (3).

(e) An order for a chemical restraint, along with the reasons for its issuance, shall be recorded in writing at the time of its issuance;

(f) An order for a chemical restraint shall be signed at the time of its issuance by such physician if present at the time of the emergency;

(g) An order for a chemical restraint, if authorized by telephone, shall be transcribed and signed at the time of its issuance by an individual with the authority to accept telephone medication orders who is present at the time of the emergency;

(h) Staff trained in the administration of medication shall make notations in the record of the individual as to the effect of the chemical restraint and the individual's response to the chemical restraint.

(2) For individuals in mechanical restraints, agency staff shall provide relief periods, except when the individual is sleeping, of at least ten minutes as often as every two hours, so long as relief from the mechanical restraint is determined to be safe. During such relief periods, the staff shall ensure proper positioning of the individual and provide movement of limbs, as necessary. In addition, during such relief periods, staff shall provide assistance for use of appropriate toileting methods, as necessary. The individual's dignity and safety shall be maintained during relief periods. Staff shall note in the record of the individual being restrained the relief periods granted.

(3) Relief periods from seclusion shall be provided for reasonable access to toilet facilities.

(4) An individual in physical restraint shall be released from such restraint within fifteen minutes after the initiation of physical restraint, except when precluded for safety reasons.

Source: L. 2000: Entire article added, p. 1624, § 1, effective June 1.

26-21-102. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that a commission for the deaf and hard of hearing would facilitate the provision of general governmental services to the deaf and hard of hearing community while making government more efficient. Under the federal "Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990", 42 U.S.C. sec. 12101, Colorado has a duty to provide to the deaf and hard of hearing equivalent access to governmental services. This duty requires state departments and agencies to provide auxiliary services, telecommunications equipment, and other resources in order to enable access for the deaf and hard of hearing community. Centralizing and unifying such resources under a commission has the potential to create cost savings for both the state and the deaf and hard of hearing community. In addition, such consolidation of resources will facilitate quality control, and thus increase the quality of governmental services while increasing access by the deaf and hard of hearing community to those services.

26-21-103. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Administrator" means the person who is responsible for the overall management and development of the commission office and of programs included in the commission's statutory duties.

(2) "Auxiliary services" means qualified interpreters, communication access realtime translation providers, assistive listening devices or systems, and other effective methods of making spoken or written information available to deaf or hard of hearing individuals.

(3) "Commission" means the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing.

(4) "Fund" means the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing cash fund created in section 26-21-107.

(5) "Grant program" means the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing grant program created in section 26-21-107.5.

(6) "Late deafened" means a person whose hearing loss began in late childhood, adolescence, or adulthood, after the person acquired oral language skills.

(7) "State court system" means the system of courts, or any part thereof, established pursuant to articles 1 to 9 of title 13, C.R.S., and article VI of the state constitution. "State court system" shall not include the municipal courts or any part thereof.

(8) "Telecommunications" means the science and technology of transmitting voice, audio, facsimile, image, video, computer data, and multimedia information over significant distances by the use of electromagnetic energy in the form of electricity, radio, or fiber optics.

26-21-104. Commission created - appointments. (1) Effective July 1, 2000, there is hereby created the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing in the department of human services. The Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing shall exercise its powers, duties, and functions under the department of human services as if it were transferred to said department by a type 2 transfer under the provisions of the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968".

(2) The commission shall consist of seven members as follows:

(a) One member who is deaf;

(b) One member who is hard of hearing;

(c) One member who is a professional in the field of deafness;

(d) One member who is a parent of a deaf or hard of hearing person;

(e) One member who is late deafened;

(f) One member who is an interpreter for the deaf or hard of hearing and who is qualified to use at least one of the titles listed in section 6-1-707 (1) (e), C.R.S.; and

(g) One member who is a member of the public.

(3) (a) The governor, with the consent of the senate, shall appoint the commission members referenced in subsection (2) of this section. Beginning July 1, 2000, four of these commission members shall serve initial terms of four years, and three shall serve initial terms of six years. After the initial appointments of the commission members referenced in subsection (2) of this section, all subsequent appointees shall serve terms of four years.

(b) The governor shall appoint a qualified person to fill any vacancy on the commission for the remainder of any unexpired term.

(4) At least ninety days prior to the expiration of a member's term of office, the commission shall create a list of nominees. The nominees' names shall be submitted to the governor at least forty-five days prior to the expiration of the preceding term for which the nominees are being considered. If the governor approves the nominees, the governor shall appoint one of the nominees for each open position within ninety days after the date of each vacancy; otherwise, the governor shall appoint qualified persons in consultation with the commission.

26-21-105. Procedures of the commission. (1) The executive director of the department of human services or his or her designee shall appoint the administrator of the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing. The members of the commission may interview candidates for administrator and provide comment and input to the executive director on the hiring of a candidate.

(2) (a) The commission shall convene for its first meeting no later than September 1, 2000. At the first meeting, a chair shall be elected by the commission.

(b) The commission may adopt such policies as are necessary to facilitate orderly conduct of its business.

(c) The commission shall meet at least quarterly. Meetings shall also be held on call of the chair or at the request of at least three members of the commission.

(d) The commission shall adopt no official position, recommendation, or action except by the concurrence of a majority of the members.

(e) The commission shall encourage development and coordination of public and private agencies that provide assistance to deaf and hard of hearing citizens.

26-21-106. Powers, functions, and duties of the commission - equipment distribution program. (1) The powers, functions, and duties of the commission shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) The commission shall serve as a liaison between the deaf and hard of hearing community and the general assembly, governor, and Colorado departments and agencies.

(b) The commission shall serve as an informational resource to the state, the deaf and hard of hearing community, private agencies, and other entities.

(c) The commission shall serve as a referral agency for the deaf and hard of hearing community to the state agencies and institutions providing services to the community, local agencies of government, private agencies, and other entities.

(d) The commission shall assess how technology has affected the needs of the deaf and hard of hearing community. The commission shall assess the type and amount of equipment needed by low-income deaf and hard of hearing persons in order to reasonably interact with society.

(e) The commission shall assess the needs of the deaf and hard of hearing community and recommend to the general assembly any legislation that may facilitate and streamline the provision of general governmental services to the deaf and hard of hearing community. The commission shall consider the following:

(I) Implementing the commission as a statewide coordinating agency that advocates for deaf and hard of hearing citizens of Colorado;

(II) Any methods, programs, or policies that may improve communication accessibility and quality of existing services, promote or deliver necessary new services, and assist state agencies in the delivery of services to the deaf and hard of hearing;

(III) Any methods, programs, or policies that may make providing access to governmental services more efficient;

(IV) Any methods, programs, or policies that may improve implementation of state policies affecting the deaf and hard of hearing community and their relationship with the general public, industry, health care, and educational institutions.

(2) The commission shall consider the findings of any study authorized under this section and may approve, disapprove, or amend such findings. Upon approval of the findings, the commission shall submit a report with recommendations including proposed legislation, if necessary, to the governor and to the general assembly.

(3) The commission shall establish a telecommunications equipment distribution program that is consistent with the findings of subsection (1) of this section to obtain and distribute interactive telecommunications equipment needed by deaf and hard of hearing persons.

(4) The commission, in collaboration with the judicial department, shall arrange for auxiliary services for the state court system, and establish, monitor, coordinate, and publish a list of available resources regarding communication accessibility for persons who are deaf or hard of hearing.

(5) Arranging auxiliary services for the state court system includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Coordinating statewide and day-to-day scheduling of auxiliary services for the proceedings as defined by statute;

(b) Creating and managing a process by which requests from the state court system for auxiliary services may be filed;

(c) Identifying, coordinating, and placing the appropriate auxiliary services with all concerned parties;

(d) Coordinating the purchase, shipment, and receipt of assistive listening devices and systems pursuant to applicable state rules;

(e) Creating and managing efficient and consistent processes through which auxiliary service providers may submit required documentation and receive payment for services; and

(f) Communicating among auxiliary service users and providers and the state court system to resolve any issues that may arise.

(6) The commission shall establish and maintain an active system navigator specialist for technical assistance to improve and ensure equivalent access to auxiliary services by critical state and local government agencies, private agencies, and other entities and to increase awareness of the programs for and rights of deaf and hard of hearing individuals from moneys appropriated by the general assembly from the Colorado disabled telephone users fund established pursuant to section 40-17-104, C.R.S.

(7) The system navigator specialist for technical assistance shall perform the following duties:

(a) Respond to and assist individuals who have encountered barriers in obtaining accommodation and access in their efforts to receive necessary auxiliary services;

(b) Assist individuals in understanding and accessing auxiliary services that may be available to them;

- (c) Ensure that state agencies and private entities are equipped to provide accommodations to deaf and hard of hearing individuals;
- (d) Increase public awareness of the needs and issues facing deaf and hard of hearing individuals; and
- (e) Develop and maintain a comprehensive resource directory of auxiliary services and programs that may be of use to deaf and hard of hearing citizens and to agencies that serve them.

26-21-107. Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing cash fund - creation - gifts, grants, and donations - reimbursement. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing cash fund, and all moneys credited to the fund shall be used exclusively for the administration and discharge of this article. All moneys credited to the fund and any interest earned on the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund or any other fund at the end of any fiscal year.

(2) The commission, subject to spending authority granted by the general assembly, is authorized to receive and expend gifts, grants, and donations from individuals, private organizations, foundations, or any governmental unit; except that no gift, grant, or donation may be accepted by the commission if it is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with this article or any other law of this state.

(3) Commission members shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their official duties, including an allowance for mileage as provided in section 24-9-104 (2), C.R.S. The commission may establish a standardized per diem designed to cover the actual expenses of the members pursuant to this subsection (3).

26-21-107.5. Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing grant program - creation - standards - applications. (1) The Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing grant program is hereby established to provide funding for entities to address the needs of Colorado's deaf and hard of hearing community.

(2) (a) The Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing grant program subcommittee appointed pursuant to section 26-21-107.7 shall administer the grant program as provided in section 26-21-107.7.

(b) The commission shall pay the grants awarded through the grant program from moneys appropriated by the general assembly.

(c) Beginning in the 2009-10 fiscal year, and for each fiscal year thereafter subject to available moneys, the general assembly shall appropriate to the commission no more than fifty thousand dollars annually to administer the grant program.

(3) The state department shall adopt rules addressing timelines and guidelines for the grant program and establishing criteria for approving or disapproving grant applications.

(4) An entity seeking to provide services to deaf or hard of hearing persons or to enhance existing deaf or hard of hearing programs may apply for a grant through the grant program.

(5) For purposes of this section, "entity" means a local government, state agency, state-operated program, or private nonprofit or not-for-profit community-based organization.

(6) Grants shall be awarded as provided in section 26-21-107.7 (3) and in compliance with applicable state rules.

(7) Grantees shall comply with reporting requirements established by the commission.

26-21-107.7. Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing grant program subcommittee - members - duties - fund - creation. (1) (a) There is hereby created the Colorado commission for the deaf and hard of hearing grant program subcommittee, referred to in this section as the “subcommittee”, consisting of five members, for the purpose of recommending to the commission approval or disapproval of applications for the grant program. The commission shall appoint four members to the subcommittee as follows:

(I) One person who has knowledge and awareness of the issues faced by deaf persons;

(II) One person who has knowledge and awareness of the issues faced by hard of hearing persons; and

(III) Two representatives from the deaf and hard of hearing community.

(b) In addition to the appointed subcommittee members, the administrator of the commission shall serve as an ex-officio member of the subcommittee.

(c) In appointing members to the subcommittee, the commission shall choose persons who have knowledge and awareness of innovative strategies that address challenges faced by the deaf and hard of hearing community.

(d) The appointed members of the subcommittee shall serve three-year terms; except that, of the members first appointed, one of the members shall serve a two-year term and two of the members shall serve one-year terms. The commission shall choose those members who shall serve the initial shortened terms. If a vacancy arises in one of the appointed positions, the commission shall fill the vacancy and appoint a replacement to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the term.

(e) Members of the subcommittee shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed out of available appropriations for all actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

(f) The subcommittee may meet via telecommunications when necessary.

(2) The subcommittee shall review all applications received pursuant to section 26-21-107.5. Based on criteria established by the commission, the subcommittee shall recommend to the commission those applications to approve, with recommended grant amounts, and those to disapprove.

(3) The commission shall review and may follow the recommendations of the subcommittee for approval or disapproval of applications for the grant program and for grant amounts. If the commission disagrees with the recommendations of the subcommittee, the executive director of the department shall have final decision-making authority to approve or disapprove the applications and to set the grant amounts.

MENTAL ILLNESS AND DEFECTSGeneral Provisions*ARTICLE 9*Commitment and General Provisions*27-9-101 to 27-9-133. (Repealed)

Editor's note: (1) This article was numbered as article 1 of chapter 71, C.R.S. 1963. This article was repealed on revision as obsolete, effective July 1, 1975. For pertinent information concerning this article, see (2) of this note.

(2) The article was repealed and reenacted in 1973 with an effective date of July 1, 1974. (See L. 73, p. 819.) Section 3 of chapter 67, Session Laws of Colorado 1974, changed the effective date of the repeal and reenactment from July 1, 1974, to July 1, 1975. (See L. 74, p. 287.) In compiling C.R.S. 1973, which was not available until 1974, two versions were printed. Article 1 of chapter 71, C.R.S. 1963, was reorganized and renumbered as article 9 of title 27 in the compilation of C.R.S. 1973 and contained the original version of article 1 of chapter 71 found in C.R.S. 1963 in effect until July 1, 1975. The repealed and reenacted version of article 1 of chapter 71, C.R.S. 1963, effective July 1, 1975, was renumbered as article 10 in the compilation of C.R.S. 1973 and replaced article 9. (For the version of article 1 of chapter 71 in effect until July 1, 1975, see article 9 of title 27 in the original volume of C.R.S. 1973, pages 381 through 398.) PART 1

RIGHTS OF DEVELOPMENTALLY DISABLED

27-10.5-101. Legislative declaration. (1) In recognition of the varied, extensive, and substantial needs of persons with developmental disabilities, including the urgent need to enhance the development of children with developmental disabilities, the general assembly, subject to available appropriations and subject to the existence of appropriate services and supports with available resources, hereby declares that the purposes of this article are:

(a) To provide appropriate services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities throughout their lifetimes regardless of their age or degree of disability;

(b) To prohibit deprivation of liberty of persons with developmental disabilities, except when such deprivation is for the purpose of providing services and supports which constitute the least restrictive available alternative adequate to meet the person's needs, and to ensure that these services and supports afford due process protections;

(c) To ensure the fullest measure of privacy, dignity, rights, and privileges to persons with developmental disabilities;

(d) To ensure the provision of services and supports to all persons with developmental disabilities on a statewide basis;

(e) To enable persons with developmental disabilities to remain with their families and in their home communities, to minimize the likelihood of out-of-home placement, and to enhance the capacity of families to meet the needs of children with developmental disabilities;

(f) To provide community services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities which reflect typical patterns of everyday living;

(g) To encourage state and local agencies to provide a wide array of innovative and cost-effective services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities;

(h) To ensure that persons with developmental disabilities receive services and supports which encourage and build on existing social networks and natural sources of support, and result in increased interdependence, contribution, and inclusion in community life; and

(i) To recognize the efficacy of early intervention services and supports in minimizing developmental delays and reducing the future education costs to our society.

27-10.5-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) "Authorized representative" means an individual designated by the person receiving services, or by the parent or guardian of the person receiving services, if appropriate, to assist the person receiving services in acquiring or utilizing services or supports pursuant to this article. The extent of the authorized representative's involvement shall be determined upon designation.

(2) "Case management services" means the following:

- (a) The determination of eligibility for services and supports;
- (b) Service and support coordination; and
- (c) The monitoring of all services and supports delivered pursuant to the individualized plan, and the evaluation of results identified in the individualized plan.

(2.3) "Case manager" means an individual who assists with case management services and supports provided pursuant to this article for persons with developmental disabilities.

(2.5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1442, § 1, effective August 5, 2008.)

(3) "Community centered board" means a private corporation, for profit or not for profit, that, when designated pursuant to section 27-10.5-105, provides case management services to persons with developmental disabilities, is authorized to determine eligibility of those persons within a specified geographical area, serves as the single point of entry for persons to receive services and supports under this article, and provides authorized services and supports to those persons either directly or by purchasing services and supports from service agencies.

(4) "Community residential home" means a group living situation accommodating at least four but no more than eight persons, licensed by the state, where services and supports are provided to persons with developmental disabilities.

(5) "Consent" means an informed assent that is expressed in writing and freely given. Consent shall always be preceded by the following:

- (a) A fair explanation of the procedures to be followed, including an identification of procedures that are experimental;
- (b) A description of the attendant discomforts and risks;
- (c) A description of the expected benefits;
- (d) A disclosure of appropriate alternative procedures together with an explanation of the respective benefits, discomforts, and risks;
- (e) An offer to answer any inquiries concerning procedures;
- (f) An instruction that the person giving consent is free to withdraw consent and to discontinue participation in the project or activity at any time; and
- (g) A statement that withholding or withdrawal of consent shall not prejudice future provision of appropriate services and supports to individuals.

(6) "Contribution" means the benefits gained by the household or community in which a person lives as the result of the person engaging in meaningful activities, including, but not limited to, income producing work, volunteer work, continuing education, and participation in community activities.

(7) "Court" means a district court of the state of Colorado or the probate court in the city and county of Denver.

(8) "Department" means the department of human services.

(9) "Designated service area" means the geographical area specified by the executive director to be served by a designated community centered board.

(10) "Developmental disabilities professional" means a person who has professional training and experience in the developmental disabilities field, as defined by the department.

(11) (a) "Developmental disability" means a disability that is manifested before the person reaches twenty-two years of age, that constitutes a substantial disability to the affected individual, and that is attributable to mental retardation or related conditions which include cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, or other neurological conditions when those conditions result in impairment of general intellectual functioning or adaptive behavior similar to that of a person with mental retardation. Unless otherwise specifically stated, the federal definition of "developmental disability" found in 42 U.S.C. sec. 15001 et seq. shall not apply.

(b) "Person with a developmental disability" means a person determined by a community centered board to have a developmental disability and shall include a child with a developmental delay.

(c) “Child with a developmental delay” means:

(I) A person less than five years of age with delayed development as defined by the department; or

(II) A person less than five years of age who is at risk of having a developmental disability as defined by the department.

(12) “Early intervention services and supports” means services described in and provided pursuant to part 7 of this article, including education, training, and assistance in child development, parent education, therapies, and other activities for infants and toddlers and their families that are designed to meet the developmental needs of infants and toddlers including, but not limited to, cognition, speech, communication, physical, motor, vision, hearing, social-emotional, and self-help skills.

(13) “Eligible for supports and services” refers to any person with a developmental disability as determined eligible by the community centered boards, pursuant to section 27-10.5-106.

(13.5) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 1442, § 1, effective August 5, 2008.)

(13.7) “Enrolled” means that a person with a developmental disability who is eligible for supports and services has been authorized, as defined by rules promulgated by the department, to participate in a program funded pursuant to this article.

(14) “Executive director” means the executive director of the department of human services.

(15) (a) “Family” means the interdependent group of persons that consists of:

(I) A parent, child, sibling, grandparent, aunt, uncle, spouse, or any combination thereof and a family member with a developmental disability;

(II) An adoptive parent of and a family member with a developmental disability;

(III) One or more persons to whom legal custody of a person with a developmental disability has been given by a court and in whose home such person resides; or

(IV) Any other family unit as may be defined in rules developed pursuant to section 27-10.5-407.

(b) Department rules shall define the families that are eligible to receive services and supports pursuant to this article.

(15.5) “Family caregiver” means a family member of the person with a developmental disability who provides care to the person with a developmental disability in the family home, who meets the requirements for a qualified family caregiver, as established by rule of the department, and who is working through a program-approved service agency, as established by rule of the department.

(16) “Gastrostomy tube” means a tube that has been surgically inserted into the stomach through the abdominal wall, or a tube that has been inserted through the nasal passage into the stomach, or both.

(17) “Human rights committee” means a third-party mechanism to adequately safeguard the legal rights of persons receiving services by participating in the granting of informed consent, monitoring the suspension of rights of persons receiving services, monitoring behavior development programs in which persons with developmental disabilities are involved, monitoring the use of psychotropic medication by persons with developmental disabilities, and at the committee’s option, either providing or ensuring the investigation of allegations of abuse or neglect of persons with developmental disabilities who are receiving services or supports under this article.

(17.5) “IDEA” means the federal “Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004”, 20 U.S.C. sec. 1400 et seq., as amended, and its implementing regulations, 34 CFR part 303.

(18) “Inclusion” means:

(a) The use by persons with developmental disabilities of the same community resources that are used by and available to other persons;

(b) The participation by persons with developmental disabilities in the same community activities in which persons without developmental disabilities participate. Participation includes regular contact with persons without developmental disabilities.

(c) Vocational experiences for persons with developmental disabilities in community settings that offer opportunities to associate with other individuals who do not have developmental disabilities; and

(d) Living in homes that are in residential neighborhoods and in proximity to community resources.

(19) "Independent residential support services" means a community living situation, defined by the department, where services and supports are provided to no more than three persons with developmental disabilities and that is not required to be licensed by the state.

(19.5) "Individualized family service plan" or "IFSP" means a written plan developed pursuant to 20 U.S.C. sec. 1436 and 34 CFR 303.340 that authorizes the provision of early intervention services to an eligible child and the child's family. An IFSP shall serve as the individualized plan, pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (20) of this section, for a child from birth through two years of age.

(20) (a) "Individualized plan" means a written plan designed by an interdisciplinary team for the purpose of identifying:

(I) The needs of the person or family receiving services;

(II) The specific services and supports appropriate to meet those needs;

(III) The projected date for initiation of services and supports; and

(IV) The anticipated results to be achieved by receiving the services and supports.

(b) Every individualized plan will include a statement of agreement with the plan, signed by the person receiving services or other such person legally authorized to sign on behalf of the person and a representative of the community centered board.

(c) Any other service or support plan, designated by the department, that meets all of the requirements of an individualized plan will be considered to be an individualized plan pursuant to this article.

(d) (I) Every individualized plan that includes the provision of respite care for medical purposes, pursuant to section 27-10.5-104, shall include a process by which the person receiving services and supports may receive necessary care if the person's family or caregiver is unavailable due to an emergency situation or unforeseen circumstances. The family or caregiver shall be duly informed by the interdisciplinary team of these alternative care provisions at the time the individualized plan is initiated.

(II) Nothing in this paragraph (d) requires the provision of respite care, only that each individual plan that includes the provision of respite care for medical purposes have a contingency plan.

(21) "Infants and toddlers" means a child with a developmental delay from birth through two years of age.

(22) "Interdependence" means those multiple interactive relationships that are necessary to create a sense of belonging and support between people that are mutually sought, sustained over time, and beneficial to those involved.

(23) "Interdisciplinary team" means a group of people convened by a designated community centered board that shall include the person receiving services, the parents or guardian of a minor, a guardian or an authorized representative, as appropriate, the person who coordinates the provisions of services and supports, and others as determined by the person's needs and preference, who are assembled to work in a cooperative manner to develop or review the individualized plan.

(24) "Least restrictive environment" means an environment that represents the least departure from the normal patterns of living and that effectively meets the needs of the person receiving services. Least restrictive environment may include, but need not be limited to, receiving services from a community centered board, service agency, or a family caregiver in the family home.

(25) "Person receiving services" means a person with a developmental disability who is enrolled in a program funded pursuant to this article.

(25.5) "Program" means a specific group of services or supports as defined by rules promulgated by the department and for which funding is available pursuant to this article to a person with a developmental disability who is eligible for supports and services.

(26) Repealed.

(27) "Regional center" means a facility or program operated directly by the department that provides services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities.

(28) "Service agency" means an individual or any publicly or privately operated program, organization, or business providing services or supports for persons with developmental disabilities.

(29) "Service and support coordination" means planning, locating, facilitating access to, coordinating, and reviewing all aspects of needed services, supports, and resources that are provided in cooperation with the person receiving services, the person's family, as appropriate, the family of a child with a developmental delay, and the involved public or private agencies. Planning includes the development or review of an existing individualized plan. "Service and support coordination" also includes the reassessment of the needs of the person receiving services or the needs of the family of the person, with maximum participation of the person receiving services and the person's parents, guardian, or authorized representative, as appropriate.

(30) "Services and supports" means one or more of the following: Education, training, independent or supported living assistance, therapies, identification of natural supports, and other activities provided to:

(a) Enable persons with developmental disabilities to make increasingly responsible choices, exert greater control over their lives, experience presence and inclusion in their communities, develop their competencies and talents, maintain relationships, foster a sense of belonging, and experience personal security and self-respect;

(b) Enhance child development and healthy parent-child and family interaction for eligible infants and toddlers and their families pursuant to part 7 of this article; and

(c) Enable families, who choose or desire to maintain a family member with a developmental disability at home, to obtain support and to enjoy a typical lifestyle.

(31) "Sterilization" means any surgical or other medical procedure that has as its primary purpose to render a person permanently incapable of reproduction.

(32) "Waiting list" means the list of persons with developmental disabilities who are waiting for enrollment into a program provided pursuant to this article.

persons to live in normal residential surroundings. Double D Manor v. Evergreen Meadows, 773 P.2d 1046 (Colo. 1989).

27-10.5-103. Duties of the executive director - rules. (1) In order to implement the provisions of this article, the executive director shall, subject to available appropriations, carry out the following duties:

(a) Prepare a statewide plan for the provision of services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities based upon input from persons with developmental disabilities, their families, community centered boards, service agencies, and other interested persons. The statewide plan shall consider state and local needs.

(b) Conduct monitoring and review activities that include community centered boards and service agencies;

(c) Provide or obtain training and technical assistance through community centered boards and service agencies in order to improve the quality of services and supports provided to persons with developmental disabilities;

(d) Prepare and transmit annually to the governor and the joint budget committee of the general assembly, in the form and manner prescribed pursuant to section 24-1-136, C.R.S., a report detailing the following information, as available and appropriate, that shall be broken down into designated service areas as well as provided in an overall statewide format:

(I) The total number of persons receiving services pursuant to this article;

(II) The types of services and supports provided;

(III) The costs of services and supports regardless of funding source;

(IV) An evaluation of the quality of the services and supports rendered;

(V) An evaluation of the effectiveness of the services and supports rendered in implementing the individualized plans of persons receiving services;

(VI) The numbers, types, and resolution of appeals that were heard by the department arising from disputes specified in section 27-10.5-107; and

(VII) The number of persons determined to be eligible to receive services and supports who are not receiving services or supports pursuant to this article along with an analysis of the reasons they are not receiving services and supports;

(e) Designate a community centered board in each designated service area in the state;

(f) Consistent with the policies adopted by the department of health care policy and financing, implement the provision of home- and community-based services to eligible persons with developmental disabilities and pursue other medicaid-funded services determined by the department to be appropriate for persons with developmental disabilities, pursuant to part 4 of article 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S., and subject to available appropriations;

(g) Promote effective coordination with agencies serving persons with developmental disabilities in order to improve continuity of services and supports for persons facing life transitions from toddler to preschool, school to adult life, and work to retirement; and

(h) Conduct appropriate part C child find activities as described in section 27-10.5-704. Part C child find activities conducted by the department shall include, but need not be limited to, case management, referral, transitions, and public education outreach and awareness of early intervention services.

(2) The department shall adopt such rules, in accordance with section 24-4-103, C.R.S., as are necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this article, including but not limited to the following subjects:

(a) Standards for services and supports, including preparation of individualized plans;

(b) The designation of community centered boards and the organization of those entities, including standards of organization, staff qualifications, and other factors necessary to ensure program integrity;

(c) Purchase of services and supports and financial administration;

(d) Procedures for resolving disputes over eligibility determination and the modification, denial, or termination of services;

(e) Eligibility determination, the criteria for determination, and admission to the program;

- (f) Systems of quality assurance and data collection;
- (g) The rights of a person receiving services;
- (h) Confidentiality of records of a person receiving services;
- (i) Designation of authorized representatives and delineation of their rights and duties pursuant to this article;
- (j) Repealed.
- (k) (I) The establishment of guidelines and procedures for authorization of individuals for administration of nutrition and fluids through gastrostomy tubes.
- (II) The department shall require that a service agency providing residential or day program services or supports have a staff member qualified pursuant to subparagraph (III) of this paragraph (k) on duty at any time the facility administers said nutrition and fluids through gastrostomy tubes, and that the facility maintain a written record of each nutrient or fluid administered to each person receiving services, including the time and the amount of the nutrient or fluid.
- (III) An individual who is not otherwise authorized by law to administer nutrition and fluids through gastrostomy tubes shall be allowed to perform the duties only under the supervision of a licensed nurse or physician. An individual who administers nutrition and fluids in compliance with the provisions of this paragraph (k) shall be exempt from the licensing requirements of the "Colorado Medical Practice Act" and the "Nurse Practice Act". Nothing in this paragraph (k) shall be deemed to authorize the administration of medications through gastrostomy tubes. An individual administering medications through gastrostomy tubes shall be subject to the requirements of part 3 of article 1.5 of title 25, C.R.S.
- (IV) For purposes of this paragraph (k), "administration" means assisting a person in the ingestion of nutrition or fluids according to the direction and supervision of a licensed nurse or physician.
- (V) Repealed.
- (l) Child find activities, as described in section 27-10.5-704.

27-10.5-104. Authorized services and supports - conditions of funding - purchase of services and supports - boards of county commissioners - appropriation. (1) Subject to annual appropriations by the general assembly, the department shall provide or purchase, pursuant to subsection (4) of this section, authorized services and supports from community centered boards or service agencies for persons who have been determined to be eligible for such services and supports pursuant to section 27-10.5-106, and as specified in the eligible person's individualized plan. Those services and supports may include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) Family support services, including an array of supportive services provided to the person receiving services and the person's family, that enable the family to maintain the person in the family home, thereby preventing or delaying the need for out-of-home placement that is unwanted by the person or the family, pursuant to section 27-10.5-401;

(b) Early intervention services and supports that offer infants and toddlers and their families services and supports to enhance child development in the areas of cognition, speech, communication, physical, motor, vision, hearing, social-emotional development, and self-help skills; parent-child or family interaction; and early identification, screening, and assessment services that are provided pursuant to part 7 of this article;

(c) Case management services;

(d) Respite care services, including temporary care of a person with a developmental disability to offer relief to the person's family or caregiver or to allow the family or caregiver to deal with emergency situations or to engage in personal, social, or routine activities and tasks that otherwise may be neglected, postponed, or curtailed due to the demands of caring for a person who has a developmental disability;

(e) Day services and supports that offer opportunities for persons with developmental disabilities to experience and actively participate in valued adult roles in the community. These services and supports will enable persons receiving services to access and participate in community activities, such as work, recreation, higher education, and senior citizen activities. Day services and supports, including early intervention services, may also include the administration of nutrition or fluids through gastrostomy tubes, if administered by an individual authorized pursuant to section 27-10.5-103 (2) (k) and supervised by a licensed nurse or physician.

(f) Residential services and supports, including an array of training, learning, experiential, and support activities provided in living alternatives designed to meet the individual needs of persons receiving services and may include the administration of nutrition or fluids through gastrostomy tubes, if administered by an individual authorized pursuant to section 27-10.5-103 (2) (k) and supervised by a licensed nurse or physician;

(g) Ancillary services, including activities that are secondary but integral to the provision of the services and supports specified in this subsection (1).

(2) Service agencies receiving funds pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall comply with all of the provisions of this article and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(3) Service and support coordination shall be purchased from the community centered board designated pursuant to section 27-10.5-105, except as otherwise provided in subsection (4) of this section and in part 7 of this article.

(4) (a) The department of human services may, directly or in coordination with the department of health care policy and financing, purchase services and supports, including service and support coordination, directly from service agencies if:

(I) Required by the federal requirements for the state to qualify for federal funds under Title XIX of the federal "Social Security Act", as amended, including programs authorized pursuant to part 4 of article 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.; or

(III) The executive director has determined that a service or support provided or purchased by a designated community centered board does not meet established standards and the continuation of purchase of the service or support through the community centered board is not in the best interests of the persons receiving services.

(a.5) The department shall only purchase services and supports directly from those community centered boards or service agencies that meet established standards.

(a.7) The department may purchase services and supports, including service and support coordination, from a family caregiver if the executive director has determined that the provision of a service or support by a family caregiver in the family home would provide the person receiving the service or support with the least restrictive environment.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the provision of services and supports, including case management services, directly by the department through regional centers, for persons receiving services in regional centers.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the provision of services and supports, including case management services, directly by the department.

(5) Governmental units, including but not limited to counties, municipalities, school districts, health service districts, and state institutions of higher education, are authorized at their own expense to furnish money, materials, or services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities, or to purchase services and supports for such persons through designated community centered boards or service agencies, so long as no conditions or requirements imposed as a result of the provision or purchase through a community centered board or service agency are in conflict with the provisions of this article or the rules promulgated thereunder.

(6) Boards of county commissioners may levy up to one mill for the purpose of purchasing services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities. To the extent authorized by federal law, and subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly, and pursuant to rules established by the department of human services and the department of health care policy and financing, a county may transfer the revenue raised pursuant to the mill levy to the department of health care policy and financing or the department of human services to receive matching federal funds to provide medicaid-approved waiver services to persons with developmental disabilities.

(7) (a) Each year the general assembly shall appropriate funds to the department of human services to provide or purchase services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities pursuant to this section. Unless specifically provided otherwise, services and supports shall be purchased on the basis of state funding less any federal or cash funds received for general operating expenses from any other state or federal source, less funds available to a person receiving residential services or supports after such person receives an allowance for personal needs or for meeting other obligations imposed by federal or state law, and less the required local school district funds specified in paragraph (b) of this subsection (7). The yearly appropriation, when combined with all other sources of funds, shall in no case exceed one hundred percent of the approved program costs as determined by the general assembly. Funds received for capital construction shall not be considered in the calculation for the distribution of funds under the provisions of this section.

(b) Each school district shall pay to the community centered board providing programs attended by a student with a developmental disability, who is domiciled in the school district and may be counted in the district's pupil enrollment, an amount at least equal to the district's per pupil revenues as determined pursuant to the "Public School Finance Act of 1994", article 54 of title 22, C.R.S. This subsection (7) shall apply to students who are less than twenty-two years of age.

(c) The department is authorized to use up to three percent of the appropriation allocated for early intervention services and supports for training and technical assistance to assure that the latest developments for early intervention services and supports are rapidly integrated into service provision throughout the state.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since provisions similar to those in repealed § 27-11-103 were included in this section as amended in 1985, relevant cases construing those provisions in the repealed section have been included in the annotations to this section.

School board lacks standing to challenge the constitutionality of this section because, as a political subdivision of the state whose duty it is to carry out the educational policies of the state, the school district and officers thereof cannot question the constitutionality of a statute fixing their duties. Denver Ass'n for Retarded Children v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 188 Colo. 310, 535 P.2d 200 (1975).

Kindergarten included in school district's "regular school program". Where the defendant school board conceded that they maintain a free kindergarten for children who are five years of age and, but for the mental retardation or serious handicap of the children being educated through the board, they would attend the district's free kindergarten, such kindergarten is included in the school district's "regular school program" as that phrase is used in this section. Denver Ass'n for Retarded Children v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 188 Colo. 310, 535 P.2d 200 (1975).

Mandamus proper remedy. Subsection (7)(b) clearly requires that the "school district shall provide to the community incorporated board" a sum of money determined by a stated formula; therefore, the clear right of a school board to demand performance, and the clear legal duty on a school district to act, makes this a proper case for disposition by mandamus. Denver Ass'n for Retarded Children v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 188 Colo. 310, 535 P.2d 200 (1975).

Superintendent not proper party defendant in mandamus action. Since under § 22-32-107 the official duty of paying over the amounts in question as required by this section was that of the treasurer, as authorized by the board of education, and not that of the superintendent, the superintendent was not a proper party defendant in a mandamus action to require such payment. Denver Ass'n for Retarded Children v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 188 Colo. 310, 535 P.2d 200 (1975).

Amounts payable under section not subject to prejudgment interest. Since the amounts to be paid under this section arise neither out of contract nor out of a fiduciary relationship, the plaintiffs were not entitled to prejudgment interest. Denver Ass'n for Retarded Children v. Sch. Dist. No. 1, 188 Colo. 310, 535 P.2d 200 (1975).

27-10.5-104.2. Services and supports - waiting list reduction - cash fund.

(1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the developmental disabilities services cash fund, consisting of moneys appropriated thereto by the general assembly. Any interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the developmental disabilities services cash fund shall be credited to the fund. Any moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund or any other fund.

(2) During each regular session of the general assembly, the joint budget committee and the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, shall hold a joint hearing and take public testimony on the status of the waiting lists for adult comprehensive services, adult supported living services, and family support services for persons with developmental disabilities and the availability of general fund moneys to reduce the number of persons on the waiting lists and the amount of time eligible persons wait for such services. The goal of the hearing shall be to propose an appropriation from the general fund to the developmental disabilities services cash fund.

(3) The general assembly may annually appropriate moneys in the developmental disabilities services cash fund to:

(a) The department for program costs for adult comprehensive services, adult supported living services, and family support services for persons with developmental disabilities provided pursuant to this article or part 4 of article 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.; and

(b) The department of health care policy and financing for program costs for adult comprehensive services and adult supported living services for persons with developmental disabilities provided pursuant to this article or part 4 of article 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S.

(4) Any moneys appropriated from the developmental disabilities services cash fund pursuant to subsection (3) of this section that are unexpended at the end of a fiscal year shall revert to the fund.

(5) It is the intent of the general assembly that the moneys in the developmental disabilities services cash fund be used to reduce the number of persons on the waiting lists for such services and the amount of time eligible persons wait for such services.

27-10.5-104.5. Service agencies - moneys - rules. (1) A service agency, including a community centered board when acting as a service agency, shall comply with the requirements set forth in this article and the rules promulgated thereunder.

(3) The department shall promulgate rules to implement the purchase of services and supports from a community centered board, service agency, or family caregiver. The rules shall include, but need not be limited to:

(a) Terms and conditions necessary to promote the effective delivery of services and supports, including those services and supports delivered by a family caregiver;

(b) Procedures for obtaining an annual audit of designated community centered boards and service agencies not affiliated with a designated community centered board to provide financial information deemed necessary by the department to establish costs of services and supports and to ensure proper management of moneys received pursuant to section 27-10.5-104;

(c) Delineation of a system to resolve contractual disputes between the department and designated community centered boards or service agencies and between designated community centered boards and service agencies, including the contesting of any rates that the designated community centered boards charge to service agencies based upon a percentage of the rates that service agencies charge for services and supports;

(d) Specification of what services and supports are to be reimbursed by the department of human services and secondarily by the community centered board, the source of reimbursement, actual service or support costs, incentives, and program service objectives which affect reimbursement;

(e) The methods of coordinating the purchase of services and supports, including, but not limited to, service and support coordination, with other federal, state, and local programs which provide funding for authorized services and supports;

(g) and (h) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2008, p. 2219, § 2, effective June 5, 2008.)

(i) Criteria for and limitations on any rates that designated community centered boards charge to service agencies based upon a percentage of the rates that service agencies charge for services and supports.

(3.5) Any incorporated service agency which is registered in Colorado as a foreign corporation shall organize a local advisory board consisting of individuals who reside within the designated service area. Such advisory board shall be representative of the community at large and persons receiving services and their families.

(4) Upon a determination by the executive director that services or supports have not been provided in accordance with the program or financial administration standards specified in this article and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the executive director may reduce, suspend, or withhold payment to a designated community centered board, service agency under contract with a designated community centered board, or service agency from which the department of human services purchased services or supports directly. When the executive director decides to reduce, suspend, or withhold payment, the executive director shall specify the reasons therefor and the actions which are necessary to bring the service agency into compliance.

(5) Nothing in this article or in any rules or regulations promulgated pursuant thereto and no actions taken by the executive director pursuant to this article shall be construed to affect the obtaining of funds from local authorities, including those funds obtained from a mill levy assessed by a county or municipality for the purpose of purchasing services or supports for persons with developmental disabilities, or to require that such funds from local authorities be used to supplant state or federal funds available for purchasing services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities.

27-10.5-105. Community centered boards - designation - purchase of services and supports by community centered boards. (1) In order to be designated as the community centered board in a particular designated service area, a private corporation, for profit or not for profit, shall annually apply for such designation to the department in the form and manner specified by the executive director. Designation shall be based on the following factors:

(a) Utilization of existing service agencies or existing social networks or natural sources of support in the designated service area;

(b) Encouragement of competition among service agencies within the designated service area to provide newly identified services or supports, the variety of service agencies available to the person receiving services within the designated service area, and the demonstrated effort to purchase new or expanded services or supports from service agencies other than those affiliated with the community centered board;

(c) Utilization of state-funded services and supports administered at the local level, including but not limited to public education, social services, public health, and rehabilitation programs;

(d) Quality of services and supports provided directly or by contract for persons with developmental disabilities;

(e) The establishment of new services and supports for the prevention of institutionalization, the support of deinstitutionalization, and a commitment to innovative, effective, and inclusive services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities;

(f) The willingness of the applicant to pursue authorized services and supports from all eligible persons within the designated service area.

(2) Once a community centered board has been designated pursuant to this section, it shall, subject to available appropriations:

(a) Be under the control and direction of a board of directors or trustees comprised of one or more persons from each of the following categories:

(I) Interested persons representing the community at large;

(II) Family members of persons with developmental disabilities who are receiving services or supports; and

(III) Persons with developmental disabilities who are receiving services or supports;

(b) Adopt bylaw provisions to ensure that:

(I) Members of the governing board are prohibited from voting on issues in which they have a conflict of interest;

(II) Staff members of the community centered board and employees or board members of service agencies shall not serve on the governing board;

(III) Staff members of the community centered board and employees or board members of service agencies are prohibited from voting in elections for members of the governing board; and

(IV) Board meetings shall be scheduled after adequate notice and shall be open to the public; except that by vote of a two-thirds majority of members present the board may elect to address the following matters in executive session:

(A) The purchase, acquisition, lease, transfer, or sale of any real, personal, or other property interest;

(B) Conferences with an attorney for the purpose of receiving legal advice on specific legal questions;

(C) Matters required to be kept confidential by federal or state law or rules or regulations;

(D) Specialized details of security arrangements or investigations;

(E) Determining positions relative to matters that may be subject to negotiations;

(F) Developing strategy for negotiations and instructing negotiators; and

(G) Personnel matters;

(c) Determine the needs of eligible persons within the community centered board designated service area and prepare and implement a long-range plan and annual updates to that plan for the development and coordination of services and supports to address those needs. The needs determination and designated service area plans or annual update shall be submitted to the department.

(d) Determine eligibility and develop an individualized plan for each person who receives services or supports pursuant to section 27-10.5-106; except that, for a child from birth through two years of age, eligibility determination and development of an individualized family service plan shall be made pursuant to part 7 of this article;

(e) Provide case management services, including service and support coordination and periodic reviews, for persons receiving services and families with children with developmental disabilities;

(f) Repealed.

(g) Obtain or provide early intervention services and supports pursuant to part 7 of this article;

(h) Take steps to notify eligible persons, and their families as appropriate, regarding the availability of services and supports;

(i) Establish a human rights committee. The human rights committee shall, to the extent possible, be comprised of two professional persons trained in the application of behavior development techniques and three representatives of persons receiving services, their parents, legal guardians, or authorized representatives. No employee or board member of a service agency within the community centered board's designated service area shall serve as a member of the human rights committee.

(j) Pursuant to section 27-10.5-704, collaborate with the department as it develops and implements a statewide plan for public education outreach and awareness efforts related to part C child find and the availability of early intervention services.

(3) The executive director shall review each designated community centered board program to ensure that the program complies with the requirements and standards set forth in this article and the rules promulgated thereunder.

ANNOTATION

Nonprofit corporation offering services to the developmentally disabled pursuant to this section is not a political subdivision for purposes of the federal National Labor Relations Act. The corporation functions not as a state-created department or administrative arm of government, but essentially as a private contractor. Jefferson County Cmty. Center v. N.L.R.B., 732 F.2d 122 (10th Cir.), cert. denied, 496 U.S. 1086, 105 S. Ct. 591, 83 L. Ed.2d 701 (1984) (decided under former § 27-11-103).

27-10.5-105.5. Revocation of designation. (1) The executive director may revoke the designation of a community centered board upon a finding that the community centered board is in violation of the provisions of this article and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. Such revocation shall conform to the provisions and procedures specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., and shall be made only after a hearing is provided as specified in that article.

(2) Once a designation has been revoked pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the executive director may designate a service agency to perform the case management services of the designated community centered board pending designation of a new community centered board.

27-10.5-106. Eligibility determination - individualized plan - periodic review - rules. (1) (a) Any person may request an evaluation to determine whether he or she has a developmental disability and is eligible to receive services and supports pursuant to this article. Application for eligibility determination shall be made to the designated community centered board in the designated service area where the person resides.

(b) Pursuant to contract with the department, designated community centered boards shall determine whether a person is eligible to receive services and supports pursuant to this article and, if so, shall develop an individualized plan for him or her as part of his or her enrollment into a program. The department shall promulgate rules, pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., setting forth the procedure and criteria for determination of eligibility and individualized plan development. The procedure and criteria shall be uniform in nature and applied throughout the state in a consistent manner.

(2) Following intake and assessment by the designated community centered board, an individualized plan shall be developed as provided by rules promulgated by the department. The individualized family service plan for a child with disabilities from birth through two years of age shall be developed pursuant to section 27-10.5-703.

(2.5) Subject to available appropriations pursuant to section 27-10.5-104 and to the availability of space within an individual service agency, the person with a developmental disability shall be provided options for services and supports within the designated service area that can appropriately meet the person's identified needs, as identified pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, and may select the service agency from which to receive services or supports.

(3) (a) Each person receiving services shall receive periodic and adequate reviews to ascertain whether the services and supports specified in his or her individualized plan have been provided, determine the appropriateness of current services and supports, identify whether the results specified in the person's individualized plan have been achieved, and modify and revise current services or supports to meet the identified needs of the person receiving services. Modifications or revisions to the individualized family service plan for a child with disabilities from birth through two years of age shall be developed pursuant to section 27-10.5-703.

(b) In order to accurately review the services and supports being provided, the community centered board or regional center may make cognitive, physical, medical, behavioral, social, vocational, educational, or other necessary types of evaluations of a person receiving services. The reviews shall be supervised by a developmental disabilities professional. The person receiving services, the parents or guardian of a minor, or the guardian of the person receiving services, and the authorized representative of the person receiving services may attend and shall receive adequate advance notice of the reviews. Parental or legal guardian consent must be obtained prior to administering evaluations for program review to minors. The results of a review shall be given to the person receiving services and to the person's parent, or guardian, as appropriate, and shall be made a part of the person's record.

(c) A person's individualized plan shall be reviewed at least annually; except that an individualized family service plan for a child with disabilities from birth through two years of age shall be reviewed as required pursuant to part 7 of this article.

(5) An individualized plan shall not be required for a person with developmental disabilities who is eligible for supports and services and who is on a waiting list for enrollment into a program funded pursuant to this article. Each community centered board shall provide information and referral services to each person on the waiting list for enrollment in a program, at the time of his or her eligibility and annually thereafter, regarding services and supports that are relevant to the individual and are commonly used by persons with developmental disabilities as provided by rules promulgated by the department. The criteria for information and referral shall be uniform in nature and applied throughout the state in a consistent manner.

27-10.5-107. Procedure for resolving disputes over eligibility, modification of services or supports, and termination of services or supports. (1) Every state or local service agency receiving state moneys pursuant to section 27-10.5-104 shall adopt a procedure for the resolution of disputes arising between the service agency and any recipient of, or applicant for, services or supports authorized under section 27-10.5-104. Procedures for the resolution of disputes regarding early intervention services shall be in compliance with IDEA. The procedures shall be consistent with rules promulgated by the department pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., and shall be applicable to the following disputes:

(a) A contested decision that the applicant is not eligible for services or supports;
(b) A contested decision to provide, modify, reduce, or deny services or supports set forth in the individualized plan or individualized family service plan of the person receiving services;

(c) A contested decision to terminate services or supports;
(d) A contested decision that the person receiving services is no longer eligible for services or supports.

(3) The department shall promulgate rules pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., setting forth procedures for the resolution of disputes specified in subsection (1) of this section that shall:

(a) Require that all applicants for services and supports and the parents or guardian of a minor, the guardian, or an authorized representative be informed orally and in writing, in their native language, of the dispute resolution procedures at the time of application, at the time the individualized plan is developed, and any time changes in the plan are contemplated;

(b) Require that a service agency keep a written record of all proceedings specified pursuant to this section;

(c) Require that no person receiving services be terminated from such services or supports during the resolution process;

(d) Require that utilizing the dispute resolution procedure shall not prejudice the future provision of appropriate services or supports to individuals; and

(e) Require that the intended action not occur until after reasonable notice has been provided to the person, the parents or guardian of a minor, the guardian, or an authorized representative, along with an opportunity to utilize the resolution process, except in emergency situations, as determined by the department.

(3.5) The resolution process need not conform to the requirements of section 24-4-105, C.R.S., as long as the rules adopted by the department include provisions specifically setting forth procedures, time frames, notice, an opportunity to be heard and to present evidence, and the opportunity for impartial review of the decision in dispute by the executive director or designee, if the resolution process has failed.

27-10.5-108. Discharge. (1) A person receiving services shall be discharged from services or supports upon a determination, made pursuant to the individualized planning process, that the services or supports are no longer appropriate. At least ten days prior to effectuation of the discharge, notification of discharge shall be given to the person receiving services, the parents or guardian of such a person who is a minor, and such person's legal guardian and authorized representative when applicable.

(2) When a person receiving services notifies a service agency that such person no longer wishes to receive a service or support, the person shall be discharged from such service or support unless the person is subject to a petition to impose a legal disability or to remove a legal right, filed pursuant to section 27-10.5-110, or for whom a legal guardian has been appointed, affecting the person's ability to voluntarily terminate services or supports. The parents of the person receiving services who is a minor and such person's guardian shall be notified of the person's wish to terminate services or supports, but no minor will be discharged without the consent of the parent or legal guardian.

27-10.5-109. Community residential home - licenses - rules.

(2) (a) The department of public health and environment and the department of human services shall implement a system of joint licensure and certification of community residential homes. Independent residential support services provided by the department of human services do not require licensure by the department of public health and environment.

(b) By December 31, 2012, the department of public health and environment, the department of health care policy and financing, and the department of human services shall develop an implementation plan, in consultation with industry representatives, to resolve differing requirements and to eliminate obsolete, redundant rules and reporting, monitoring, compliance, auditing certification, licensing, and work processes pertaining to the regulation of community residential homes pursuant to this section. The departments shall study the feasibility of implementing a single, consolidated survey and methods for conducting surveys simultaneously. The departments shall report their progress in meeting the requirements of this paragraph (b) to their respective committees of reference when making their departmental presentations as required by part 2 of article 7 of title 2, C.R.S. The departments shall send copies of the report to the health care facility stakeholder forum created in section 25-3-113, C.R.S.

(3) (a) The department of public health and environment and the department of human services shall develop standards for the licensure and certification of community residential homes. The standards shall include health, life, and fire safety, as well as standards to ensure the effective delivery of services and supports to residents; except that any community residential home must comply with local codes.

(b) (I) The department of human services or the state board of health, as appropriate, shall adopt the standards by rule and shall specify the responsibilities of each department in the program. Surveys undertaken to ensure compliance with these standards shall, as appropriate, be undertaken as joint surveys by the departments.

(II) If a service agency operates a community residential home and provides personal care services, as defined in section 25-27.5-102, C.R.S., the department of public health and environment or the department of human services, as appropriate, is responsible for surveying those services provided by the service agency, which survey shall be conducted simultaneously with the survey of the community residential home.

(4) Any community residential home applying for a license or certification on or after January 1, 1986, shall accommodate at least four but no more than eight persons with developmental disabilities. All licenses and certificates issued by the department of public health and environment or the department of human services shall bear the date of issuance and shall be valid for not more than a twenty-four-month period.

(5) The issuance, suspension, revocation, modification, renewal, or denial of a license or certification shall be governed by the provisions of section 24-4-104, C.R.S. The failure of a community residential home to comply with the provisions of this article and the rules promulgated thereunder, or any local fire, safety, and health codes shall be sufficient grounds for the department of public health and environment or the department of human services to deny, suspend, revoke, or modify the community residential home's license or certification.

(6) The department of human services and the state board of health shall promulgate such rules as are necessary to implement this section, pursuant to the provisions specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S. The rules shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(b) Requirements concerning the distance between the location of community residential homes and factors to be considered in waiving such requirements for existing community residential homes;

(c) Procedures to secure the health and safety of persons receiving services or supports residing in a community residential home in the event the community residential home closes or its license is denied, suspended, or revoked pursuant to this section.

27-10.5-109.5. Compliance with local government zoning regulations - notice to local governments - provisional licensure. (1) The department shall require any community residential home seeking licensure pursuant to section 27-10.5-109 to comply with any applicable zoning regulations of the municipality, city and county, or county where the home is situated. Failure to comply with applicable zoning regulations shall constitute grounds for the denial of a license to a home; except that nothing in this section shall be construed to supersede the provisions of sections 30-28-115 (2), 31-23-301 (4), and 31-23-303 (2), C.R.S.

(2) The department shall assure that timely written notice is provided to the municipality, city and county, or county where a community residential home is situated, including the address of the home and the population and number of persons to be served by the home, when any of the following occurs:

(a) An application for a license to operate a community residential home pursuant to section 27-10.5-109 is made;

(b) A license is granted to a community residential home pursuant to section 27-10.5-109;

(c) A change in the license of a community residential home occurs; or

(d) The license of a community residential home is revoked or otherwise terminated for any reason.

(3) In the event of a zoning or other delay or dispute between a community residential home and the municipality, city and county, or county where the home is situated, the department may grant a provisional license to the home for up to one hundred twenty days pending resolution of the delay or dispute.

27-10.5-110. Imposition of legal disability - removal of legal right. (1) Any interested person may petition the court to impose a legal disability on or to remove a legal right from a person with a developmental disability as defined in section 27-10.5-102. The petition shall set forth the disability to be imposed or the legal right to be removed and the reasons therefor. The petition may affect the right to contract, the right to determine place of abode or provisions of services and supports, the right to operate a motor vehicle, and other similar rights.

(2) (a) Prior to granting the petition, the court shall find:

(I) That the person subject to the petition has been determined to be a person with a developmental disability pursuant to the provisions of this article; and

(II) That the requested disability or removal is both necessary and desirable to implement the individualized plan developed for the person receiving services or supports under the supervision of a developmental disabilities professional and the interdisciplinary team. Such professional shall have an understanding of the rights of persons receiving services as set forth in sections 27-10.5-112 to 27-10.5-123. Such plan shall be submitted to the court and shall be signed by the developmental disabilities professional.

(b) When a petition filed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section seeks to impose a disability or to remove a legal right, related to the selection of place of abode by the person with a developmental disability, the court shall also find:

(I) That, based on the recent overt actions or omissions of the person subject to the petition, and because of the presence of a developmental disability, without the relief prayed for in the petition such person poses a probable threat of serious physical harm to such person or others or is unable to care for such person's own needs to the extent that such person's own life or safety is seriously threatened; and

(II) That the place of abode requested in the petition is the least restrictive residential setting which is appropriate for the individual needs of the person with a developmental disability.

(3) Within six months after a legal disability has been imposed or a legal right has been removed, the court shall hold a hearing to review its order and either reaffirm the findings made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section and continue the legal disability or removal or remove the legal disability or restore the legal rights to the person subject to the petition. The court may remove a legal disability from or restore a legal right to a person without a hearing upon the filing of a motion requesting such relief containing affidavits in support of the motion signed by all of the parties.

(4) Any interested person may move that the court remove a legal disability or restore a legal right. If such motion is contested, it shall be served on the person whose rights are affected and upon the party who filed the original petition if the person is not the moving party.

(5) The following procedures shall apply to any proceedings instituted pursuant to this section:

(a) When a petition is filed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the person subject to the petition shall be advised by the court of such person's right to retain and consult with an attorney at any time, and that if such person cannot afford to pay an attorney, one will be appointed by the court without cost. Attorney fees for court-appointed counsel shall be paid by the court.

(b) Upon the request of an indigent respondent or such respondent's attorney, the court shall appoint one or more developmental disabilities professionals of the respondent's choice to assist the respondent in the preparation of the respondent's case. Fees for such developmental disabilities professionals shall be paid by the court.

(c) The court may issue a temporary order imposing a legal disability or removing a legal right, pending a hearing, for a period not to exceed ten days, based upon the standards required for issuance of a temporary restraining order. No individualized plan shall be required by the court to support the issuance of such order.

(d) The burden of proof shall at all times be upon the party seeking imposition of a disability or removal of a legal right or opposing removal of a disability or restoration of a legal right, and the standard of proof shall be by clear and convincing evidence.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (5), all proceedings shall be held in conformance with the Colorado rules of civil procedure, but no costs shall be assessed against the respondent.

(6) In order to provide representation to eligible persons as provided in this section, the judicial department is authorized to pay moneys, out of appropriations made therefor by the general assembly, directly to appointed counsel or developmental disabilities professionals on a case-by-case basis or, on behalf of the state, to contract with individual attorneys, legal partnerships, legal professional corporations, public interest law firms, or nonprofit legal services corporations to provide legal representation for an agreed-upon lump sum.

(7) No person shall be admitted to a regional center without a court order issued pursuant to this section except in an emergency or for the purpose of temporary respite care.

27-10.5-111. Conduct of court proceedings. All court proceedings arising under section 27-10.5-110 shall be conducted by the district attorney of the county where the proceeding is held or by a qualified attorney acting for the district attorney appointed by the district court for that purpose; except that, in any county or in any city and county having a population exceeding one hundred thousand persons, the proceedings shall be conducted by the county attorney or by a qualified attorney acting for the county attorney appointed by the district court. In any case in which there has been a change of venue to a county other than the county of residence of the respondent or the county in which the proceeding was commenced, the county from which the proceeding was transferred shall either reimburse the county in which the proceeding was held for the reasonable costs incurred in conducting the proceeding or conduct the proceeding itself using its own personnel and resources, including its own district or county attorney, as the case may be.

27-10.5-112. Individuals' rights. (1) Unless a person's rights are modified by court order, a person with a developmental disability shall have the same legal rights and responsibilities guaranteed to all other individuals under the federal and state constitutions and federal and state laws. No otherwise qualified person, by reason of having a developmental disability, shall be excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination under any program or activity which receives public funds.

(2) The receipt of services and supports pursuant to this article shall not operate to deprive any person of any other rights, benefits, or privileges or cause the person to be declared legally incompetent.

(3) The rights of any person receiving services which are specified in this article may be suspended to protect the person receiving services from endangering such person, others, or property. Such rights may be suspended only by the developmental disabilities professional with subsequent review by the interdisciplinary team and by the human rights committee in order to provide specific services or supports to the person receiving services, which will promote the least restriction on the person's rights. Such person's legal rights may be removed by a court pursuant to section 27-10.5-110.

(4) None of the rights established pursuant to this article shall be construed to interfere with the rights and privileges of parents regarding their minor child.

ANNOTATION

Applied in Adams County Ass'n for Retarded Citizens, Inc. v. City of Westminster, 196 Colo. 79, 580 P.2d 1246 (1978).

27-10.5-113. Right to individualized plan or individualized family service plan. (1) Each person receiving services shall have an individualized plan, an individualized family service plan, or a similar plan specified by the department that qualifies as an individualized plan, that is developed by the person's interdisciplinary team. The individualized family service plan for a child with disabilities from birth through two years of age shall be developed in compliance with part 7 of this article.

(2) Pursuant to section 27-10.5-106, the individualized plan for each person who receives services or supports shall be reviewed at least annually and modified as necessary or appropriate; except that an individualized family service plan for a child with disabilities from birth through two years of age shall be reviewed as required pursuant to part 7 of this article. A review shall consist of, but is not limited to, the determination by the interdisciplinary team as to whether the needs of the person receiving services or supports are accurately reflected in the plan, whether the services and supports provided pursuant to the plan are appropriate to meet the person's needs, and what actions are necessary for the plan to be achieved.

27-10.5-114. Right to medical care and treatment. (1) Each person receiving services shall have access to appropriate dental and medical care and treatment for any physical ailments and for the prevention of any illness or disability.

(2) No medication for which a prescription is required shall be administered without the written order of a physician. A physician shall conduct a review of all prescriptions and other orders for medications in order to determine the appropriateness of the person's medication regimen annually, or more often, if required by law.

(3) All service agencies which administer medication shall require that notation of the medication of a person receiving services be kept in the person's medical records. All medications shall be administered pursuant to part 3 of article 1.5 of title 25, C.R.S.

(4) Persons receiving services shall have a right to be free from unnecessary or excessive medication. The service agency's records shall state the effects of psychoactive medication if administered to the person receiving services. When dosages of such are changed or other psychoactive medications are prescribed, a notation shall be made in such person's record concerning the effect of the new medication or new dosages and the behavior changes, if any, which occur.

(5) Medication shall not be used for the convenience of the staff, for punishment, as a substitute for a treatment program, or in quantities that interfere with the treatment program of the person receiving services.

(6) Only appropriately trained staff shall be allowed to administer drugs.

(6.5) The executive director has the power to direct the administration or monitoring of medications to persons being cared for and treated in centers for the developmentally disabled pursuant to section 25-1.5-301 (2) (h), C.R.S.

(7) No person receiving services shall be subjected to any experimental research or hazardous treatment procedures without the consent of such person, if the person is over eighteen years of age and is able to give such consent, or of the person's parent, if the person is under eighteen years of age, or of the person's legal guardian. Such consent may be given only after consultation with the interdisciplinary team and a developmental disabilities professional not affiliated with the facility or community residential home in which the person receiving services resides. However, no such person of any age shall be subjected to experimental research or hazardous treatment procedures if said person implicitly or expressly objects to such procedure.

(8) No person receiving services shall have any organs removed for the purpose of transplantation without the consent of such person, if the person is over eighteen years of age and is able to give such consent. If the person's ability to give consent to the medical procedure is challenged by the physician, the same procedures as those set forth in section 27-10.5-129 shall be followed. Consent for the removal of organs for transplantation may be given by the parents of a person receiving services, if the person is under eighteen years of age, or by the person's legal guardian. Such consent may be given only after consultation with the interdisciplinary team and a developmental disabilities professional not affiliated with the facility or community residential home in which the person receiving services resides. However, no person receiving services of any age shall be a donor of an organ if the person implicitly or expressly objects to such procedure.

(9) (a) As used in subsections (7) and (8) of this section, consent also shall require that the person whose consent is sought has been adequately and effectively informed as to the:

(I) Method of experimental research, hazardous treatment, or transplantation;

(II) Nature and consequence of such procedures; and

(III) Risks, benefits, and purposes of such procedures.

(b) The consent of any person may be revoked at any time.

(10) Subsections (7), (8), and (9) of this section shall not apply when a physician renders emergency medical care or treatment to any resident.

27-10.5-115. Right to humane care and treatment. (1) Corporal punishment of persons with a developmental disability shall not be permitted.

(2) All service agencies shall prohibit mistreatment, exploitation, neglect, or abuse in any form of any person receiving services.

(3) Service agencies shall provide every person receiving services with a humane physical environment.

(4) Each person receiving services shall be attended to by qualified staff in numbers sufficient to provide appropriate services and supports.

(5) Seclusion, defined as the placement of a person receiving services alone in a closed room for the purpose of punishment, is prohibited.

(6) "Time out" procedures, defined as separation from other persons receiving services and group activities, may be employed under close and direct professional supervision, as defined by the department, and only as a technique in behavior-shaping programs. Behavior-shaping programs utilizing a "time out" procedure shall be implemented only when it incorporates a positive approach designed to result in the acquisition of adaptive behaviors. Such behavior programs shall only be implemented following the completion of a comprehensive functional analysis, when alternative nonrestrictive procedures have been proven to be ineffective, and only with the informed consent of the individual, parents, or legal guardian. Such behavior programs shall be implemented only following the review and approval process defined in rules and regulations. Behavior development programs shall be developed in conjunction with the interdisciplinary team and implemented only following review by the human rights committee. Behavior development programs involving the use of the procedure in a "time out room" are prohibited.

(7) Behavior development programs involving the use of aversive or noxious stimuli are prohibited.

(8) Physical restraint, defined as the use of manual methods intended to restrict the movement or normal functioning of a portion of an individual's body through direct contact by staff, shall be employed only when necessary to protect the person receiving services from injury to self or others. Physical restraint shall not be employed as punishment, for the convenience of staff, or as a substitute for a program of services and supports. Physical guidance or prompting techniques of short duration such as those employed in training techniques are not considered physical restraint. Physical restraint shall be applied only if alternative techniques have failed and only if such restraint imposed the least possible restriction consistent with its purpose. If physical restraint is used in an emergency or on a continuing basis its use shall be reviewed by the interdisciplinary team and the human rights committee in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department.

(9) The use of a mechanical restraint, defined as the use of mechanical devices intended to restrict the movement or normal functioning of a portion of an individual's body, is subject to special review and oversight, as defined in rules and regulations. Use of mechanical restraints shall be applied only in an emergency if alternative techniques have failed and in conjunction with a behavior development program. Mechanical restraints shall be designed and used so as not to cause physical injury to the person receiving services and so as to cause the least possible discomfort. The use of mechanical restraints shall be reviewed by the human rights committee. The use of posey vests, straight jackets, ankle and wrist restraints, and other devices defined in rules and regulations is prohibited.

(10) A record shall be maintained of all physical injuries to any person receiving services, all incidents of mistreatment, exploitation, neglect, or abuse, and all uses of physical or mechanical restraint. All records shall be subject to review by the human rights committee.

(11) Behavior development programs shall be supervised by a developmental disabilities professional having specific knowledge and skills to develop and implement positive behavioral intervention strategies.

27-10.5-116. Right to religious belief, practice, and worship. No person receiving services shall be required to perform any act or be subject to any procedure whatsoever which is contrary to the person's religious belief, and each such person shall have the right to practice such religious belief and be accorded the opportunity for religious worship. Provisions for religious worship shall be made available to all persons receiving services on a nondiscriminatory basis. No such person shall be coerced into engaging in or refraining from any religious activity, practice, or belief.

27-10.5-117. Rights to communications and visits. (1) Each person receiving services has the right to communicate freely and privately with others of the person's own choosing.

(2) Each person receiving services has the right to receive and send sealed, unopened correspondence. No such person's incoming or outgoing correspondence shall be opened, delayed, held, or censored by any person.

(3) Each person receiving services shall have the right to receive and send packages. No such person's outgoing packages shall be opened, delayed, held, or censored by any person.

(4) Repealed.

(5) Each person receiving services shall have reasonable access to telephones, both to make and to receive calls in privacy, and shall be afforded reasonable and frequent opportunities to meet with visitors.

(6) All service agencies shall ensure that persons receiving services have suitable opportunities for interaction with persons of their choice. Nothing in this section will limit the protections provided under article 3.1 of title 26, C.R.S.

(7) Repealed.

27-10.5-118. Right to fair employment practices. (1) No person receiving services shall be required to perform labor; except that persons receiving services may voluntarily engage in such labor if the labor is compensated in accordance with applicable minimum wage laws.

(2) No person receiving services shall be involved in the physical care, care and treatment, training, or supervision of other persons receiving services unless such person has volunteered, has been specifically trained in the necessary skills, and has the judgment required for such activities, is adequately supervised, and is reimbursed in accordance with the applicable minimum wage laws.

(3) Each person receiving services may perform vocational training tasks, subject to a presumption that an assignment longer than three months to any task is not a training task, if the specific task or any change in task assignment is an integral part of such person's individualized plan. If such person performs vocational training tasks for which the service agency is receiving compensation from any outside source, the person shall be compensated in accordance with the applicable minimum wage laws.

(4) Each person receiving services may voluntarily engage in labor for which the service agency would otherwise have to pay an employee if the specific labor or any change in labor is an integral part of such person's individualized plan and the person is compensated in accordance with the applicable minimum wage laws.

(5) Each person receiving services may be required to perform tasks of a personal housekeeping nature or tasks oriented to improving community living skills in accordance with the person's individualized plan.

(6) Payment to persons receiving services pursuant to this section shall not be collected by the service agency to offset the costs of providing services and supports to such person.

27-10.5-120. Records and confidentiality of information pertaining to eligible persons or their families. (1) A record for each person receiving services shall be diligently maintained by the community centered board. The record shall include, but not be limited to, information pertaining to the determination of eligibility for services and the individualized plan. The record shall not be a public record.

(2) Except as otherwise provided by law, all information obtained and any records prepared in the course of determining eligibility or providing services and supports pursuant to this article shall be confidential and subject to the evidentiary privileges established by law. The disclosure of this information and these records in any manner shall be permitted only:

(a) To the applicant or person receiving services, to the parents of a minor, such person's legal guardian, and to any person authorized by the above named person;

(b) In communications between qualified professional personnel, including the board of directors of community centered boards and service agencies providing services to persons with developmental disabilities, to the extent necessary for the acquisition, provision, oversight, or referral of services and supports;

(d) To the extent necessary to make claims for aid, insurance, or medical assistance to which a person receiving services may be entitled, or to access services and supports pursuant to the individualized plan;

(e) For the purposes of evaluation, gathering statistics, or research when no identifying information concerning an individual person or family is disclosed. Identifying information is information which could reasonably be expected to identify a specific individual and includes, but is not limited to, name, address, telephone number, social security number, medicaid number, household number, and photograph.

(f) To the court when necessary to implement the provisions of this article;

(g) To persons authorized by an order of court issued after a hearing, notice of which was given to the person, parents or legal guardian, where appropriate, and the custodian of the information;

(h) To the agency designated pursuant to 42 U.S.C. sec. 6012 as the protection and advocacy system for Colorado when:

(I) A complaint has been received by the protection and advocacy system from or on behalf of a person with a developmental disability; and

(II) Such person does not have a legal guardian or the state or the designee of the state is the legal guardian of such person;

(i) To the department or its designees as deemed necessary by the executive director to fulfill the duties prescribed by this article.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit access by a person receiving services to such person's records.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to interfere with the protections afforded to a person under the federal "Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1320d, and the federal "Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974", 20 U.S.C. sec. 1232g.

27-10.5-121. Right to personal property. (1) Each person receiving services has the right to the possession and use of such person's own clothing and personal effects. If the service agency holds any of such person's personal effects for any reason, such retention shall be promptly recorded in such person's record and the reason for retention shall also be recorded.

(2) Upon the request of a person receiving services, a service agency may hold money or funds belonging to the person receiving services, received by such person, or received by the service agency for such person. All such money or funds shall be held by the service agency as trustee for the person receiving services. Upon request, an accounting shall be rendered by the service agency.

(3) Upon request, a person receiving services shall be entitled to receive reasonable amounts of such person's money or funds held in trust.

27-10.5-128. Sterilization rights. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that the procedures set forth in the following subsections be utilized when sterilization is being considered for the primary purpose of rendering the individual incapable of reproduction.

(2) Any person with a developmental disability over eighteen years of age who has given informed consent has the right to be sterilized, subject to the following:

(a) Prior to the procedure, competency to give informed consent and assurance that such consent is voluntarily and freely given shall be evaluated by the following:

(I) A psychiatrist, psychologist, or physician who does not provide services or supports to the person and who has consulted with and interviewed the person with a developmental disability; and

(II) A developmental disabilities professional who does not provide services or supports in which said person participates, and who has consulted with and interviewed the person with a developmental disability.

(b) The professionals who conducted the evaluation pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) shall consult with the physician who is to perform the operation concerning each professional’s opinion in regard to the informed consent of the person requesting the sterilization.

(3) Any person with a developmental disability whose capacity to give an informed consent is challenged by the developmental disabilities professional or the physician may file a petition with the court to declare competency to give consent pursuant to the procedures set forth in section 27-10.5-129.

(4) No person with a developmental disability who is over eighteen years of age and has the capacity to participate in the decision-making process regarding sterilization shall be sterilized in the absence of the person’s informed consent. No minor may be sterilized without a court order pursuant to section 27-10.5-130.

(5) Sterilization conducted pursuant to this section shall be legal. Consent given by any person pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall not be revocable after sterilization, and no person shall be liable for acting pursuant to such consent.

Law. 2055 and 2237 (1990). For article, "In re Romero: Sterilization and Competency", see 68 Den. U. L. Rev. 105 (1991).

Constitutional rights extend to incompetents. The constitutionally-protected procreative alternatives available to competent adults must also extend where possible to individuals who are not mentally competent to make the choice for themselves. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

Sterilization sections not limited to competent adults. The general assembly did not intend §§ 27-10.5-128 through 27-10.5-132 to limit sterilizations to competently consenting adults. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

Court's power to act in absence of statutory authorization. A district court acting in its probate capacity has the power in the absence of statutory authorization to act on a petition for sterilization of a mentally retarded minor. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

A court's inherent parens patriae jurisdiction over incompetents may extend to decisions involving irrevocable consequences for the incompetent individual. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

Since statutory provisions concerning sterilization of mentally retarded persons do not address the issue of sterilization of a minor, it is within the district court's inherent authority to consider a petition for sterilization of a minor, and, in the absence of legislative pronouncement, it is proper and necessary for the supreme court to promulgate standards for determining the circumstances under which such a procedure may be performed. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

Preliminary determinations court must make. In considering a petition to sterilize a mentally retarded minor, the district court must make the following preliminary determinations. First, while the mentally retarded person need not testify or be present at the proceedings if the person's presence would serve no useful purpose, the trial judge should talk with the person and observe the person's physical and mental condition. The wishes of the person, although not conclusive, are relevant, and a strong indication that the person does not wish to be sterilized must weigh heavily against authorizing the procedure. Second, the district court must determine that the person's capacity to make a decision about sterilization is unlikely to improve in the future. Third, the person for whom sterilization is requested must be proven capable of reproduction. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

Sterilization of mentally retarded minor must be medically necessary. Once a district court determines preliminary matters relating to a petition to sterilize a mentally retarded minor, it must find by clear and convincing evidence that the sterilization is medically essential. A sterilization is medically essential if clearly necessary, in the opinion of experts, to preserve the life or physical or mental health of the mentally retarded person. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

For legislative history of provisions relating to sterilization, see In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

27-10.5-129. Competency to give consent to sterilization. (1) If the competency of the person with a developmental disability to give consent to sterilization is disputed by the developmental disabilities professional, the psychiatrist or psychologist, or physician, said person may file a petition for declaration of competency to give consent to sterilization with the court. Upon the filing of a petition which shows that said person is over eighteen years of age and desires to give consent to sterilization, the court shall immediately set a hearing to determine the person's competency to give such consent. For the purpose of determining competency, the court shall appoint two or more independent professional persons with expertise in the field of developmental disabilities who do not provide services and supports to said person to examine said person and to present their findings as to said person's competency to give consent to sterilization at the competency hearing.

(2) If the court determines that the person has given consent to sterilization and is competent to give such consent, the court shall order that the sterilization be performed unless the person withdraws consent to sterilization prior to the sterilization being performed. If the court determines that the person is incompetent to give consent to sterilization, the court shall order that no sterilization be performed without further court proceedings pursuant to section 27-10.5-130.

(3) Determination of competency in these proceedings is specific to the ability to give consent to sterilization and does not determine legal competency for any other purpose.

ANNOTATION

When petition required. A petition is required if the retarded person's competency is questioned either by the physician from whom sterilization is sought or by a parent, legal guardian, or custodian of the person. In re A.W., 637 P.2d 366 (Colo. 1981).

27-10.5-130. Court-ordered sterilization. (1) A person with a developmental disability who has been determined to be incompetent to give consent, the person's legal guardian, or the parents of a minor with a developmental disability, may petition the court to hold a hearing to determine whether said person should be ordered to be sterilized. The petition shall set forth the following:

- (a) The name, age, and residence of the person to be sterilized;
- (b) The name, address, and relation to said person of the petitioner;
- (c) The names and addresses of any parents, spouse, legal guardian, or custodian of said person;
- (d) The mental condition of the person to be sterilized;
- (e) A statement that the sterilization is medically necessary to preserve the life or physical or mental health of the person, including a short and plain description of the reasons behind the determination of medical necessity;
- (f) A statement that other less intrusive measures were considered and the reasons behind the determination that less intrusive means would not protect the interests of the individual.

(2) Upon petition to the court, the court shall appoint an attorney who will represent the interests of the person with a developmental disability and one or more experts in the developmental disability field to examine the person and to give testimony at the hearing regarding the person's mental and physical status and other relevant matters.

(3) The hearing on the petition shall be held promptly. The person with a developmental disability shall be represented by an attorney and shall have the opportunity to present testimony and to cross-examine witnesses.

(4) Copies of the petition and notices of the time and place of the hearing shall be mailed, not less than ten days prior to the hearing, to the person with a developmental disability, that person's attorney, a parent or next of kin, and legal guardian or custodian.

(5) Reasonable fees and costs incurred pursuant to this section shall be paid by the court for a person who is indigent.

- (6) Prior to ordering sterilization, the court must find:
 - (a) That the person lacks the capacity to effectively participate in the decision-making process regarding sterilization or is a minor with a developmental disability;
 - (b) That the court has heard from the person regarding that person's desires, if possible, and the court has considered the desires of the person;
 - (c) That the person lacks the capacity to make a decision regarding sterilization and that the person's capacity to make such a decision is unlikely to improve in the future;
 - (d) That the person is capable of reproduction and is likely to engage in activities at the present or in the near future which could result in pregnancy;
 - (e) By clear and convincing evidence, that the sterilization is medically necessary to preserve the life or physical or mental health of the person, including a short and plain description of the reasons behind the determination of medical necessity;
 - (f) That other less intrusive measures were considered and the reasons behind the determination that less intrusive means would not protect the interests of the person.

27-10.5-142. Caregiver abuse - duties of the department - working group - issues - report - funding. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Persons with developmental disabilities are four to ten times more likely to be victims of crime than the general population. Studies have shown that most crimes against persons with developmental disabilities are unreported, and, for those that are reported, there are excessively low rates of prosecution and conviction.

(b) Persons with developmental disabilities frequently depend upon others to meet their basic needs, leading to a power imbalance between the caregiver and the client with developmental disabilities.

(c) The general assembly is especially concerned by the prevalence of abuse, neglect, and exploitation of persons with developmental disabilities by caregivers who are in a position of trust. Studies estimate that most perpetrators who abuse persons with developmental disabilities had access to their victims through their work providing care for those persons.

(d) The protection of populations who are at risk due to advanced age or developmental disabilities requires the creation of a system to protect these vulnerable populations from those who abuse or neglect them.

(e) Therefore, the general assembly hereby determines that it is necessary to create a caregiver abuse registry to track those persons who abuse, neglect, or exploit at-risk adults and, to that end, tasks the department of human services to develop a plan to create and implement such a registry.

(2) On or before August 30, 2008, the department shall convene a working group to make recommendations for the development of a plan by the department to implement a registry of caregivers who have a substantiated allegation of exploitation, mistreatment, neglect, physical abuse, or sexual abuse of a person with a developmental disability. The working group shall include representation from interested parties, including but not limited to the division for developmental disabilities, community centered boards, service providers, family members, advocates for persons with developmental disabilities, the judicial department, law enforcement, and any other experts as determined by the department. In developing the plan, the department and the working group shall consider existing registry models in Colorado, as well as statutory models for caregiver abuse registries in other states.

(3) In developing the plan, the department and the working group shall consider, at a minimum, the following issues related to the creation and implementation of a registry of caregivers who have a substantiated allegation of exploitation, mistreatment, neglect, physical abuse, or sexual abuse of a person with a developmental disability:

(a) A review and evaluation of existing processes to determine current best practices and how to build on the existing system;

(b) Clear and consistent standards concerning what constitutes a substantiated allegation of exploitation, mistreatment, neglect, physical abuse, or sexual abuse of a person with a developmental disability;

(c) A definition of family and a determination of whether a family member who acts as a caregiver to a person with a developmental disability should be included on the registry;

(d) Due process considerations for individuals whose names are on the registry or are going to be placed on the registry, including the right to be advised of any allegations and an opportunity to be heard, request a hearing, and be represented by legal counsel;

(e) The need for thorough and fair investigations, including who would perform the investigations and uniform standards and training for those investigators;

(f) Any statutes that need modification due to the creation of a caregiver abuse registry;

(g) Information technology needs and personnel services associated with the creation, implementation, and ongoing administration of a caregiver abuse registry;

(h) The costs associated with creating and implementing a caregiver abuse registry, including whether federal funds or other potential funding sources may be available to cover any part of such costs; and

(i) A process and timeline to phase in the registry.

(4) On or before January 30, 2009, the department shall submit a report to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, summarizing the work of the department pursuant to this section. The report shall include the department's plan for a caregiver abuse registry and any recommendations for implementing legislation.

(5) The department is authorized to seek and accept gifts, grants, or donations from private or public sources for the purposes of this section. All private and public funds received through gifts, grants, or donations shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the caregiver abuse registry fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund". The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation of this section. Any moneys in the fund not expended for the purpose of this section may be invested by the state treasurer as provided by law. All interest and income derived from the investment and deposit of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or another fund. All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund as of June 30, 2010, shall be transferred to the general fund.

(6) The department shall not be obligated to implement the provisions of this section until such time as there is at least thirty-three thousand dollars in the fund, whether received from gifts, grants, donations, or other sources.

27-10.5-143. Caregiver abuse - task force. (1) There is hereby created a task force to study and make recommendations for developing a plan for the department to implement a registry of caregivers who have a substantiated allegation of exploitation, mistreatment, neglect, physical abuse, or sexual abuse of a person with a developmental disability, referred to in this section as a "registry". The task force shall be limited to twenty members and may include voluntary representation from interested parties, including but not limited to persons with disabilities, members of the general assembly, the division for developmental disabilities in the department, community centered boards, service providers, family members, advocates for persons with developmental disabilities, the judicial department, law enforcement agencies, persons with legal or judicial expertise in abuse registries, and any other interested party. The members of the task force shall select a chair and vice-chair at the first meeting. In developing the plan, the task force may consider existing registry models in Colorado, as well as statutory models for caregiver abuse registries in other states. The department shall not provide staff support to the task force. Members of the task force shall serve without pay and without compensation for expenses. Members of the task force are encouraged to meet monthly, beginning on or before June 2009 and ending June 2010, at which time the task force shall make a report of its activities and findings to the department of human services.

(2) In developing the plan, the task force is encouraged to consider the following issues related to the creation and implementation of a registry:

(a) A review and evaluation of existing processes to determine current best practices and ways to build on the existing system;

(b) Clear and consistent standards concerning what constitutes a substantiated allegation of exploitation, mistreatment, neglect, physical abuse, or sexual abuse of a person with a developmental disability;

(c) A definition of family and a determination of whether a family member who acts as a caregiver to a person with a developmental disability should be included on the registry;

(d) Due process considerations for individuals whose names are on the registry or are going to be placed on the registry, including the right to be advised of any allegations and an opportunity to be heard, request a hearing, and be represented by legal counsel;

(e) The need for thorough and fair investigations, including who would perform the investigations and uniform standards and training for those investigators;

(f) Any statutes that need modification due to the creation of a registry;

(g) Information technology needs and personnel services associated with the creation, implementation, and ongoing administration of a registry;

(h) The costs associated with creating and implementing a registry, including whether federal funds or other potential funding sources may be available to cover any portion of such costs; and

(i) A process and timeline to phase in a registry.

PART 2

STATE COUNCIL ON DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

27-10.5-201. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds that state and local agencies provide a variety of services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities including institutional care, residential, social, and income maintenance services, diagnostic and health-related services, and educational and other programs. Because these services and supports are supported by many diverse agencies and organizations and because congress, through the federal “Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act”, and amendments thereto, has called for the establishment of state councils to provide coordination and planning in the field of developmental disabilities, the general assembly declares that there is need to establish a state council on developmental disabilities to be responsible for the coordination of services and supports to the persons with developmental disabilities and to serve as an advocate for such persons. The general assembly further finds that there is need to carefully define the duties and responsibilities of a state council on developmental disabilities.

27-10.5-202. Definitions. As used in this part 2, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Developmental disability” means a severe, chronic disability of a person nine years of age or older which:

(a) Is attributable to a mental or physical impairment or combination of mental and physical impairments;

(b) Is manifested before the person attains age twenty-two;

(c) Results in substantial functional limitations in three or more of the following areas of major life activity:

(I) Self-care;

(II) Receptive and expressive language;

(III) Learning;

(IV) Mobility;

(V) Self-direction;

(VI) Capacity for independent living; and

(VII) Economic self-sufficiency; and

(d) Reflects the person’s need for a combination and sequence of special, interdisciplinary, or generic care, treatment, or other services and supports which are of lifelong or extended duration and are individually planned and coordinated; except that such term when applied to infants and young children means individuals from birth to age nine years, inclusive, who have substantial developmental delay or specific congenital or acquired conditions with a high probability of resulting in developmental disabilities if services or supports are not provided.

(2) “State plan” means the state plan for developmental disabilities established pursuant to the provisions of section 27-10.5-204 and as required by the federal “Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act”, and amendments thereto, including the “Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services, and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978”, Pub.L. 95-602.

(3) “State council” means the Colorado developmental disabilities council established pursuant to section 27-10.5-203.

Editor’s note: Pub.L. 95-602 is contained in 29 U.S.C. sec. 720.

27-10.5-203. Establishment of state council. (1) There is hereby created, within the office of the executive director of the department of human services, the Colorado developmental disabilities council. The powers, duties, and functions of the state council are transferred by a type 1 transfer, as such transfer is defined by the “Administrative Organization Act of 1968”, article 1 of title 24, C.R.S., to the department of human services. The state council shall operate in accordance with the federal “Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000”, 42 U.S.C. sec. 15001 et seq.

(2) The state council shall consist of twenty-four members appointed by the governor for three-year terms; except that of the members first appointed, one-third shall be appointed for one-year terms, one-third shall be appointed for two-year terms, and one-third shall be appointed for three-year terms. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term.

(3) The state council shall at all times include in its membership representatives of the principal state agencies, including the state agency that administers funds provided under the federal “Rehabilitation Act of 1973”, the state agency that administers funds provided under the federal “Individuals with Disabilities Education Act”, the state agency that administers funds provided under the federal “Older Americans Act of 1965”, and the state agency that administers funds provided under Titles V and XIX of the federal “Social Security Act” for persons with developmental disabilities; university centers for excellence in developmental disabilities education, research, and service; nongovernmental agencies; and private nonprofit groups concerned with services and supports for persons with developmental disabilities.

(4) At least one-half of the membership of the state council shall consist of persons who:

- (a) Are persons with developmental disabilities;
- (b) Are parents or guardians of such persons; or
- (c) Are family members or guardians of persons with mentally impairing developmental disabilities, and who are not employees of a state agency which receives funds or provides services and supports under this part 2, and who are not employees implementing programs under the federal “Social Security Act” or of any other entity which receives funds or provides services and supports under this part 2.

(5) Of the members of the state council described in subsection (4) of this section:

- (a) At least one-third shall be persons with developmental disabilities;
- (b) At least one-third shall be individuals described in paragraph (c) of subsection (4) of this section, and at least one of such individuals shall be an immediate relative or guardian of an institutionalized or previously institutionalized person with a developmental disability.

(6) Members of the state council shall serve without compensation but shall be entitled to reimbursement for their expenses while attending regular and special meetings of the state council.

(7) The state council shall operate in accordance with bylaws adopted by a quorum of its membership.

(8) For the purposes of holding meetings of the council, a quorum shall be a simple majority of the council membership in attendance.

27-10.5-204. Development of the state plan. The state council shall develop a five-year state plan for developmental disabilities in accordance with the federal "Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000", 42 U.S.C. sec. 15024. The state plan shall include establishment of goals and priorities for meeting the needs of persons with developmental disabilities, including recommendations concerning state program operations and funding for a comprehensive system of services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities. The state plan shall be prepared in compliance with federal requirements and shall designate the state agency responsible for administration of the state plan. The state council shall submit the state plan to the governor for approval.

27-10.5-205. Powers and duties. (1) The state council shall:

(a) Monitor the plans and programs of state agencies established and administered pursuant to the state plan;

(b) Review budgets and other programs and proposals for funding services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities;

(c) Review programs that provide services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities under contracts with state agencies and community centered boards as authorized by the state plan;

(d) Encourage cooperation and coordination of services and supports of public and private agencies including home care services and assist in the elimination of unnecessary and duplicative programs and procedures;

(e) Identify gaps in services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities and monitor programs for deinstitutionalization of such persons;

(f) Serve in an advisory capacity to the governor and the general assembly on matters affecting persons with developmental disabilities;

(g) Meet at least quarterly and as often as necessary to fulfill its duties and responsibilities;

(h) Have all powers necessary to carry out the provisions of this part 2.

PART 4

FAMILY SUPPORT SERVICES

27-10.5-401. Legislative declaration. (1) It is the intent of the general assembly that the service delivery system for individuals with developmental disabilities emphasize community living for persons with developmental disabilities and provide supports to individuals that enable them to enjoy typical lifestyles. One way to accomplish this is to recognize that families are the greatest resource available to individuals who have a developmental disability and that families must be supported in their role as primary care givers. The general assembly finds that supporting families in their effort to care for their family members at home is more efficient, cost-effective, and humane than maintaining people with developmental disabilities in out-of-home residential settings. In recognition of the importance of families, the general assembly states that the following principles should be used as guidelines in developing programs to support families who have children with disabilities:

(a) Families of individuals with developmental disabilities are best able to determine their own needs and should be empowered to make decisions concerning necessary, desirable, and appropriate services and supports;

(b) Families must receive the services and supports necessary to care for their children at home;

(c) Family support must be responsive to the needs of the entire family unit;

(d) Family support must be sensitive to the unique strengths and needs of individual families;

(e) Family support must build on existing social networks and natural sources of support;

(f) Family support is needed throughout the lifespan of the individual who is disabled;

(g) Family support must encourage the inclusion of people with developmental disabilities within the community;

(h) Family support services must be flexible enough to accommodate unique needs of families as they evolve over time;

(i) Family support services must be consistent with the cultural preferences and orientations of individual families;

(j) Family support services should be comprehensive and coordinated across the numerous agencies likely to provide resources, supports, or services to families;

(k) Family support services should be based on the principles of sharing ordinary places, developing meaningful relationships, learning things that are useful, making choices, as well as increasing the status and enhancing the reputation of people served;

(l) Supports should be developed by the state that are necessary, desirable, and appropriate to support families;

(m) Developmental disabilities programs and policies must enhance the development of the individual with a developmental disability and the family;

(n) State programs should provide sufficient services and supports to enable families to keep their family members with developmental disabilities at home;

(o) A comprehensive, coordinated system of supports to families effectively uses existing resources and minimizes gaps in supports to families and individuals in all areas of the state;

(p) Services and supports provided through the family support program shall be closely coordinated with early intervention services and shall foster collaboration and cooperation with all agencies providing services and supports to infants and preschool children; and

(q) Any rights, entitlements, services, or supports created by this part 4 are not to be considered a limitation, modification, or infringement on any existing rights, entitlements, services, or supports, otherwise expressly provided by this article.

(2) In addition, the general assembly recognizes that the department has for several years developed and maintained a family resource service program that provides support services to families of children with developmental disabilities who are at risk of out-of-home placement. Because of the success of this program the general assembly recommends that this valuable program be continued and expanded so that more families in this state are able to receive appropriate services, supports, and assistance needed to stabilize the family unit. In recognition of the basic goal to support families, on an individual family basis, in maintaining a person with a developmental disability at home and in recognition of the principles stated in subsection (1) of this section, the general assembly declares that its purpose in enacting this part 4 is to create, subject to annual appropriation, a comprehensive statewide family support service program.

27-10.5-404. Administration - duties of department. (1) Subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly, the department shall administer the family support services program and shall coordinate family support services with other existing services provided to families and individuals. Family support services shall be provided in a manner which develops comprehensive, responsive, and flexible support to families in their role as the primary care givers for a family member with a developmental disability.

(2) The department is authorized to contract with community centered boards and other service providers approved by the department to provide family support services in accordance with this part 4. Programs developed shall be flexible in order to address individual family needs.

(3) In administering the family support services program, the department shall have the following duties:

- (a) To design the program;
 - (b) To pursue a family support model 200 waiver for approval by the federal health care financing administration in order to utilize medicaid funds for the provision of family support services, implemented subject to appropriation;
 - (c) To develop and promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to section 27-10.5-407, with consultation from service providers, including representatives of families of persons with developmental disabilities;
 - (d) To allocate funds;
 - (e) To coordinate training and provide technical assistance to community centered boards and service providers;
 - (f) To monitor and evaluate the program;
 - (g) To coordinate contracts, expenditures, and billing of the program; and
 - (h) To recommend changes in the program.
- (4) Subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly, out of the appropriation to the department of human services for community programs in the general appropriation act, the department is authorized to use up to seven percent of such appropriation allocated for family support services to pay for administrative costs within the department and the community centered boards.

27-10.5-405. Family support councils. (1) The department shall assure that each community centered board establishes a family support council in each community centered board designated service area. The family support councils shall consist of professionals, interested citizens, family members of persons with a developmental disability, and persons with a developmental disability with a majority of the council being made up of family members.

- (2) The family support council shall:
- (a) Provide direction and assistance to the community centered board in the development of a family support plan for the designated service area;
 - (b) Make recommendations regarding other family supports or services not specifically listed in this part 4;
 - (c) Monitor the implementation of the supports or services provided pursuant to the plan;
 - (d) Provide a written report to the department of its involvement in the duties specified in this subsection (2).

27-10.5-406. Authorized family support services. (1) The family support services included in this program include, but are not limited to, family support grants, family support services coordination, information and referral, educational materials, emergency and outreach services, and other individual and family centered assistance services such as:

- (a) Medical and dental expenses not covered by medical or health insurance or other programs;
- (b) Insurance expenses;
- (c) Respite, child care, and sitter services;
- (d) Mobility aids; adaptive equipment; assistive technology, including the cost of therapies essential for a child's development, as prescribed by a physician or specialized therapist; and home adaptations;

- (e) Home health services and therapies;
- (f) Family counseling, training, and support groups;
- (g) Recreation and leisure needs;
- (h) Transportation;
- (i) Special diets, clothing, materials, and equipment;
- (j) Homemaker services.

27-10.5-407. Rules and regulations. (1) The department shall develop rules and regulations concerning:

- (a) Further definition of services and supports to be provided by the family support services program described in this part 4;
- (b) The requirements for eligibility for services and supports;
- (c) The manner of providing services and supports; and
- (d) The size, makeup, and duties of family support councils.

PART 5

COLORADO FAMILY SUPPORT LOAN FUND

27-10.5-501. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that there is a need to establish a Colorado family support loan fund to assist families in obtaining family support services for those families who choose to maintain a dependent family member with a developmental disability in their home setting.

27-10.5-502. Colorado family support loan fund - creation - loans to families.

(1) There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known as the Colorado family support loan fund, referred to in this part 5 as the “fund”, which shall be administered by the department and which shall consist of moneys appropriated to the fund by the general assembly, interest earned on loans made out of the fund, and any moneys received pursuant to subsection (5) of this section.

(2) Moneys in the fund shall be continuously appropriated to the department for the purposes of this part 5. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund.

(3) The department is authorized to make loans, up to a maximum amount of eight thousand dollars, out of the moneys in the fund to eligible families in order to enable them to obtain family short-term support services or equipment as defined in section 27-10.5-406. For purposes of this section, “families” has the same meaning as defined in section 27-10.5-102 (15). The department shall only approve loans to families who maintain a person or persons with a developmental disability at home. The department may establish whatever terms and conditions it deems appropriate in making such loans. The loan amount and any interest assessed to families shall be paid back to the department. All moneys received from families to pay back loans, including the interest assessed thereon, shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the fund. All moneys in the fund may be used by the department to make loans as provided in this subsection (3).

(4) Subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly, the department of human services is hereby authorized to transfer from the appropriation for community programs in the general appropriation act up to three percent of such appropriation allocated for family short-term support services or equipment to the Colorado family support loan fund. Any moneys received as a result of this subsection (4) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer and credited to the fund.

(5) The department is hereby authorized to receive contributions, grants, services, in-kind donations, and property from federal agencies, local governments, or private sources for use in carrying out the purposes of this part 5. Any moneys received as a result of this subsection (5) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer and credited to the fund.

27-10.5-503. Duties of the department with regard to the fund. (1) The department has the following duties with regard to the fund:

- (a) To develop rules and regulations and guidelines for the administration of the fund;
- (b) To adopt eligibility requirements for access to the fund;
- (c) To develop application and review criteria for the approval of loans from the fund;
- (d) To establish a low-cost fixed interest rate to be applied to all loans made from the fund;
- (e) To determine effective ways to communicate the availability of the fund to eligible families;
- (f) To account for the expenditures and to develop a system to ensure timely payback of any loans made pursuant to this part 5;
- (g) To perform a yearly audit of the fund; and
- (h) To take other measures as needed to ensure the intent and success of this part 5.

PART 7

COORDINATED SYSTEM OF PAYMENT FOR EARLY INTERVENTION SERVICES FOR INFANTS AND TODDLERS

Editor's note: This part 7 was added in 2007 and was not amended prior to 2008. The substantive provisions of this part 7 were repealed and reenacted in 2008, resulting in the addition, relocation, and elimination of sections as well as subject matter. For the text of this part 7 prior to 2008, consult the 2007 Colorado Revised Statutes. Former C.R.S. section numbers are shown in editor's notes following those sections that were relocated.

27-10.5-701. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

- (a) There is an urgent and substantial need to enhance the development of infants and toddlers with disabilities, to minimize their potential for developmental delay, and to recognize the significant brain development that occurs during a child's first three years of life;

(b) The longer a child's developmental delays are not addressed, the more developmental difficulties the child will experience in the future, the less prepared the child will be for school, the more special education needs the child is likely to have, and the more costly those problems will be to address;

(c) The capacity of families to meet the special needs of their infants and toddlers with disabilities needs to be supported and enhanced;

(d) Colorado's system for providing early intervention services to eligible infants and toddlers from birth through two years of age with significant developmental delays and disabilities relies on multiple sources of funding;

(e) The early childhood and school readiness commission, which was the successor of the child care commission, was created in the 2004 legislative session to study, review, and evaluate the development of plans for creating a comprehensive early childhood system;

(f) The early childhood and school readiness commission extensively studied and evaluated issues regarding early intervention services for infants and toddlers who have delays in development and learned that there is no coordinated system of payment for early intervention services, resulting in the provision of disjunctive or interrupted services to eligible children and inadequate reimbursement of early intervention service providers;

(g) The early childhood and school readiness commission was also informed that many eligible children are covered as dependents by their parents' health care plans, but some of the plans may deny benefits for early intervention services, thereby eliminating a source of private funds for the payment of early intervention services;

(h) Pursuant to part C of the federal "Individuals with Disabilities Education Act", 20 U.S.C. sec. 1400 et seq., there is an urgent and substantial need to facilitate the coordination of payment for early intervention services from federal, state, local, and private sources, including public medical assistance and private insurance coverage;

(i) Existing levels of local, state, federal, and private funding may be more efficiently used, more children may be served, and a higher quality of services may be provided if the existing early intervention system is modified to create a more coherent and coordinated system of payment for early intervention services;

(j) The involvement of a child's primary health care provider and other health care providers is an essential component of effective planning for the provision of early intervention services; and

(k) The provision of early intervention services is intended only to meet the developmental needs of an infant or toddler and not to replace other needed medical services that are recommended by the child's primary health care provider.

27-10.5-702. Definitions. As used in this part 7, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Administrative unit" means a school district, a board of cooperative services, or the state charter school institute that is providing educational services to exceptional children and that is responsible for the local administration of the education of exceptional children pursuant to article 20 of title 22, C.R.S.

(2) "Carrier" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 10-16-102 (8), C.R.S.

(3) "Certified early intervention service broker" or "broker" means a community centered board or other entity designated by the department to perform the duties and functions specified in section 27-10.5-708 in a particular designated service area. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 27-10.5-104 (4), if the department is unable to designate a community centered board or other entity to serve as the broker for a particular designated service area, the department shall serve as the broker for the designated service area and may contract directly with early intervention service providers to provide early intervention services to eligible children in the designated service area.

(4) “Child find” means the program component of IDEA that requires states to find, identify, locate, evaluate, and serve all children with disabilities, from birth to twenty-one years of age. Child find includes:

(a) Part C child find, which is the program component of IDEA that requires states to find, identify, locate, evaluate, and serve children from birth through two years of age; and

(b) Part B child find, which is the program component of IDEA that requires states to find, identify, locate, evaluate, and serve children from three to twenty-one years of age.

(5) “Coordinated system of payment” means the policies and procedures developed by the department, in cooperation with the departments of education, health care policy and financing, and public health and environment, the division of insurance in the department of regulatory agencies, private health insurance carriers, and certified early intervention service brokers, to ensure that available public and private sources of funds to pay for early intervention services for eligible children are accessed and utilized in an efficient manner.

(6) “Department” means the department of human services.

(7) “Early intervention services” means services as defined by the department in accordance with part C that are authorized through an eligible child’s IFSP and are provided to families at no cost or through the application of a sliding fee schedule. Early intervention services, as specified in an eligible child’s IFSP, shall qualify as meeting the standard for medically necessary services as used by private health insurance and as used by public medical assistance, to the extent allowed pursuant to section 25.5-1-124, C.R.S.

(8) “Early intervention state plan” means the state plan for a comprehensive and coordinated system of early intervention services required pursuant to part C.

(9) “Eligible child” means an infant or toddler, from birth through two years of age, who, as defined by the department in accordance with part C, has significant delays in development or has a diagnosed physical or mental condition that has a high probability of resulting in significant delays in development or who is eligible for services pursuant to section 27-10.5-102 (11) (c).

(10) “Evaluation” means:

(a) For the purposes of part C child find, the procedures used to determine a child’s initial and continuing eligibility for part C child find, including but not limited to:

(I) Determining the status of the child in each of the developmental areas;

(II) Identifying the child’s unique strengths and needs;

(III) Identifying any early intervention services that might serve the child’s needs; and

(IV) Identifying priorities and concerns of the family and any resources to which the family has access.

(b) For the purposes of part B child find, the procedures used under IDEA for children with disabilities to determine whether a child has a disability and the nature and extent of special education and related services that the child will need.

(11) “Individualized family service plan” or “IFSP” means a written plan developed pursuant to 20 U.S.C. sec. 1436 and 34 CFR 303.340 that authorizes the provision of early intervention services to an eligible child and the child’s family. An IFSP shall serve as the individualized plan, pursuant to section 27-10.5-102 (20) (c), for a child from birth through two years of age.

(12) “Multidisciplinary team” means the involvement of two or more disciplines or professions in the provision of integrated and coordinated services, including evaluation and assessment activities defined in 34 CFR 303.322 and development of the child’s IFSP.

(13) “Part B” means the program component of IDEA that requires states to find, identify, locate, evaluate, and serve children with disabilities from three to twenty-one years of age.

(14) “Part C” means the early intervention program for infants and toddlers who are eligible for services under part C of the federal “Individuals with Disabilities Education Act”, 20 U.S.C. sec. 1400 et seq.

(15) “Private health insurance” means a health coverage plan, as defined in section 10-16-102 (22.5), C.R.S., that is purchased by individuals or groups to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services, as defined in section 10-16-102 (22), C.R.S., provided to a person entitled to receive benefits or services under the health coverage plan.

(16) “Public medical assistance” means medical services that are provided by the state through the “Colorado Medical Assistance Act”, articles 4 to 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S., or the “Children’s Basic Health Plan Act”, article 8 of title 25.5, C.R.S., or other public medical assistance funding sources to qualifying individuals.

(17) “Qualified early intervention service provider” or “qualified provider” means a person or agency, as defined by the department by rule in accordance with part C, who provides early intervention services and is listed on the registry of early intervention service providers pursuant to section 27-10.5-708 (1) (a).

(18) “Service coordination” means the activities carried out by a service coordinator to assist and enable an eligible child and the eligible child’s family to receive the rights, procedural safeguards, and services that are authorized to be provided under the early intervention program.

(19) “State interagency coordinating council” means the council that is established pursuant to part C and appointed by the governor to advise and assist the lead agency designated or established under part C.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 27-10.5-702 as it existed prior to 2008.

27-10.5-703. Administration - duties of department - rules. (1) Subject to annual appropriation from the general assembly, the department shall administer early intervention services and shall coordinate early intervention services with existing services provided to eligible infants and toddlers from birth through two years of age and their families.

(2) The department shall promulgate rules, pursuant to section 27-10.5-103, as necessary for the implementation of this section and to ensure that all IDEA timelines and requirements are met, including but not limited to administrative remedies if the timelines and requirements are not met.

(3) In administering early intervention services, the department shall have and perform the following duties:

- (a) To design early intervention services in a manner consistent with part C;
- (b) To develop and promulgate rules after consultation with the state interagency coordinating council;
- (c) To ensure eligibility determination for a child with disabilities from birth through two years of age, based in part on information received concerning the screening and evaluation performed by an administrative unit pursuant to section 22-20-118, C.R.S.;
- (d) To ensure that an individualized family service plan is developed for infants and toddlers from birth through two years of age who are eligible for early intervention services. The IFSP shall be developed in compliance with part C and in coordination with part C child find evaluations where applicable, including the mandatory IFSP meeting at which the family receives information concerning the results of the child find evaluation performed by an administrative unit pursuant to section 22-20-118, C.R.S. The initial IFSP shall be developed in collaboration with a representative from the administrative unit that participated in the child’s screening and evaluation performed pursuant to section 22-20-118, C.R.S. The representative shall participate in the initial meeting for the development of the child’s IFSP.
- (e) To allocate moneys;
- (f) To coordinate training and provide technical assistance to community centered boards, service providers, and other constituents who are involved in the delivery of early intervention services to infants and toddlers from birth through two years of age;
- (g) To monitor and evaluate early intervention services provided through this part 7; and
- (h) To coordinate contracts, expenditures, and billing for early intervention services provided through this part 7.

27-10.5-704. Child find - responsibilities - interagency operating agreements - rules. (1) The department shall have the following responsibilities and duties for children from birth through two years of age who are referred for early intervention services:

(a) To develop and implement, in coordination with community centered boards, service agencies, governmental units, and the departments of education, public health and environment, and health care policy and financing, a statewide plan for public education, outreach, and awareness efforts related to child find and the availability of early intervention services;

(b) To ensure that referrals from the community are accepted and families are assisted in connecting with the appropriate agency for intake and case management services;

(c) To ensure that intake and case management services are provided after a referral has been made by working with community centered boards as the single entry point for a family into the developmental disabilities system, as described in section 27-10.5-102 (3); and

(d) To work with community centered boards, administrative units, and the department of education to assist a child with disabilities as he or she transitions from the developmental disabilities system into the public education system at no later than three years of age as required by IDEA.

(2) To facilitate the implementation of part C child find activities that are the responsibility of the department pursuant to this part 7 and to implement an effective and collaborative system of early intervention services, the department shall enter into any necessary interagency operating agreements at the state level, and community centered boards and other local agencies shall enter into any necessary interagency operating agreements at the local level.

(3) To facilitate the implementation of part C child find and the use of medicaid funds, the department and community centered boards may, when appropriate, share information with the department of education, the department of health care policy and financing, or administrative units that offer child find services pursuant to section 22-20-118, C.R.S., so long as each department or local agency acts in compliance with the federal "Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1994", 42 U.S.C. sec. 1320d.

27-10.5-705. Authorized services - conditions of funding - purchases of services - rules. (1) The department shall promulgate rules as are necessary, in accordance with this part 7 and consistent with section 27-10.5-104.5, to implement the purchase of early intervention services directly or through community centered boards or certified early intervention service brokers.

(2) Community centered boards, certified early intervention service brokers, and service agencies receiving moneys pursuant to section 27-10.5-708 shall comply with all of the provisions of this article and the rules promulgated pursuant to this article.

(3) Community centered boards and certified early intervention service brokers shall obtain or provide early intervention services, subject to available appropriations, including but not limited to:

(a) Service coordination with families of eligible infants and toddlers from birth through two years of age. The purpose of service and support coordination shall be to enable a family to utilize service systems to meet its needs in an effective manner and increase the family's confidence and competence. Service coordination is to be rendered in an inter-agency context that emphasizes interagency collaboration. A family shall have, to the extent possible, a choice as to who shall perform certain facets of service coordination as established in the family's individualized family service plan.

(b) Coordination of early intervention services with local agencies and other community resources at the local level to avoid duplication and fragmentation of early intervention services. A community centered board shall:

(i) Coordinate with the local interagency effort regarding outreach, identification, screening, multidisciplinary assessment, and eligibility determination for families served by the community centered board who requested the services;

(II) Coordinate with the local family support services program; and
(III) Coordinate with other appropriate state agencies providing programs for infants and toddlers.

(4) The department is authorized to use up to three percent of the amount of the appropriation for early intervention services for training and technical assistance to ensure that the latest developments for early intervention services are rapidly integrated into service provision throughout the state.

27-10.5-706. Coordinated system of payment for early intervention services - duties of departments. (1) In order to implement the provisions of this part 7, the department, as lead agency for part C child find, shall be responsible for the following, subject to available appropriations:

(a) Establishing an early intervention state plan for a statewide, comprehensive system of early intervention services in accordance with part C child find;

(b) Establishing an interagency operating agreement between the department and the departments of education, health care policy and financing, and public health and environment regarding the responsibilities of each department to assist in the development and implementation of a statewide, comprehensive system of early intervention services and a coordinated system of payments for early intervention services;

(c) Developing, in cooperation with the department of education, the department of health care policy and financing, the department of public health and environment, the division of insurance in the department of regulatory agencies, private health insurance carriers, and certified early intervention service brokers, a coordinated system of payment of early intervention services using public and private moneys;

(d) Certifying community centered boards or other entities as determined by the department as early intervention service brokers for early intervention services provided pursuant to this part 7; and

(e) Ensuring an appropriate allocation of payment responsibilities for early intervention services among federal, state, local, and private sources, including public medical assistance and private insurance coverage.

(2) Any additional source of moneys that may become available for the payment of early intervention services on or after July 1, 2008, as a result of the development and implementation of a statewide, comprehensive system of early intervention services and a coordinated system of payments for early intervention services shall not replace or reduce any other federal or state moneys available for the payment of early intervention services on or before July 1, 2008.

(3) Nothing in this part 7 shall be construed to inhibit, encumber, or control the use of local moneys, including county grants, revenues from local mill levies, and private grants and contributions, that a community centered board or county government may elect to allocate for the benefit of eligible children.

(4) In developing a coordinated system of payment, the department shall not directly or indirectly create a new entitlement for early intervention services funded from the state general fund. However, this subsection (4) shall not prohibit any adjustments to public medical assistance required by section 25.5-1-124, C.R.S.

27-10.5-707. Cooperation among state agencies - implementing coordinated payment system - revisions to rules. (1) The departments of education, health care policy and financing, and public health and environment shall cooperate with the department to implement the provisions of this part 7 and each department shall:

(a) Assign a representative in accordance with part C child find to advise and assist the department in the development and implementation of the early intervention services system;

(b) Participate in the ongoing review of funding practices for early intervention services and develop or revise procedures for a coordinated system of payment for early intervention services;

(c) Use uniform forms and procedures for billing the costs of early intervention services to public medical assistance, as specified in the "Colorado Medical Assistance Act", articles 4 to 6 of title 25.5, C.R.S., or the "Children's Basic Health Plan Act", article 8 of title 25.5, C.R.S., as appropriate, and private health insurance, as specified in part 1 of article 16 of title 10, C.R.S.;

(d) Coordinate revisions to existing rules that are necessary to implement this part 7; and

(e) Perform other tasks and functions necessary for the implementation of this part 7.

(2) The division of insurance in the department of regulatory agencies shall provide assistance to the department related to the requirements and implementation of section 10-16-104 (1.3), C.R.S., and insurance laws and rules related to billing and claims handling.

27-10.5-708. Certified early intervention service brokers - duties - payment for early intervention services - fees. (1) For each designated service area in the state, the certified early intervention service broker for the area shall:

(a) Establish a registry of qualified early intervention service providers to provide early intervention services to eligible children in the designated service area. The certified early intervention service broker for a designated service area may provide early intervention services directly or may subcontract the provision of services to other qualified providers on the registry.

(b) Accept and process claims for reimbursement for early intervention services provided under this part 7 by qualified providers;

(c) Negotiate for the payment of early intervention services provided to eligible children in the designated service area by qualified providers, to the extent permissible under federal law; and

(d) Ensure payment to a qualified provider for early intervention services rendered by the qualified provider.

(2) Certified early intervention service brokers shall use procedures and forms determined by the department to document the provision or purchase of early intervention services on behalf of eligible children. Invoices or insurance claims for early intervention services shall be submitted based on the available funding source for each eligible child and the reimbursement rate for the appropriate federal, state, local, or private funding sources, including public medical assistance and private health insurance.

(3) The department shall establish a schedule of fees to be charged by certified early intervention service brokers for providing broker services under this part 7. In developing the fee schedule, the department shall obtain input from certified early intervention service brokers and shall consider the duties of brokers under this part 7, the expenses incurred by brokers, and the relevant market conditions.

(4) Use of a certified early intervention broker is voluntary; except that private health insurance carriers that are included under section 10-16-104 (1.3), C.R.S., shall be required to make payment in trust under section 27-10.5-709. Nothing in this part 7 shall prohibit a qualified provider of early intervention services from directly billing the appropriate program of public medical assistance or a participating provider, as defined in section 10-16-102 (28.5), C.R.S., or from directly billing a private health insurance carrier for services rendered under this part 7 for insurance plans that are not included under section 10-16-104 (1.3), C.R.S.

(5) To the extent requested by the department, certified early intervention service brokers shall participate in ongoing reviews of funding practices for early intervention services and the development or revision of procedures for a coordinated system of payment for early intervention services.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 27-10.5-705 as it existed prior to 2008.

27-10.5-709. Payment from private health insurance for early intervention services - trust fund. (1) Private health insurance carriers that are required to make payment of benefits for early intervention services for which coverage is required pursuant to section 10-16-104 (1.3), C.R.S., shall pay benefits to the department in trust for payment to a broker or provider for early intervention services provided to an eligible child. Upon notification from the department that a child is eligible, the child's private health insurance carrier shall have thirty days to make payment to the department.

(2) (a) When a private health insurance carrier makes payments of benefits for an eligible child to the department in trust, those moneys shall be deposited in the early intervention services trust fund, which trust fund is hereby created in the state treasury. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), the principal of the trust fund shall only be used to pay certified early intervention service brokers or qualified early intervention service providers for early intervention services provided to the eligible child for whom the moneys were paid to the department in trust by the private health insurance carrier. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2), the principal of the trust fund shall not constitute state fiscal year spending for purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution, and such moneys shall be deemed custodial funds that are not subject to appropriation by the general assembly.

(b) (1) For the 2008-09 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the general assembly shall make appropriations to the department from the principal of the early intervention services trust fund for the direct and indirect costs of administering this section. Any moneys appropriated to the department pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall constitute state fiscal year spending for purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(II) All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the early intervention services trust fund shall be credited to the trust fund, may be appropriated to the department in accordance with this paragraph (b), and shall constitute state fiscal year spending for purposes of section 20 of article X of the state constitution.

(c) Within ninety days after the department determines that a child is no longer an eligible child for purposes of section 10-16-104 (1.3), C.R.S., the department shall notify the carrier that the child is no longer eligible and that the carrier is no longer required to provide the coverage required by said section for that child. Any moneys deposited in the trust fund on behalf of an eligible child that are not expended on behalf of the child before the child becomes ineligible shall be returned to the carrier that made the payments in trust for the child.

(3) No later than March 1, 2009, and no later than April 1 each year thereafter, the department shall provide a report to each private health insurance carrier that has made payments of benefits for an eligible child to the department in trust. The report shall specify the total amount of benefits paid to brokers or qualified providers for services provided to the eligible child during the prior calendar year, including the amount paid to each broker or qualified provider and the services provided to the eligible child. The report required by this subsection (3) shall be provided at least annually and more often, as determined by the department and the carrier.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 27-10.5-706 as it existed prior to 2008.

27-10.5-710. Annual report - cooperation from certified early intervention service brokers and qualified providers. (1) By November 1, 2008, and by November 1 each year thereafter, the department shall submit an annual report to the general assembly regarding the various funding sources used for early intervention services, the number of eligible children served, the average cost of early intervention services, and any other information the department deems appropriate. The department shall submit the report to the joint budget committee as part of the department's annual budget request. The department shall also submit the report to the health and human services committees and the education committees of the senate and house of representatives, or any successor committees.

(2) The department shall request, and certified early intervention service brokers and qualified early intervention service providers shall provide, information regarding early intervention services that the department needs to prepare the annual report required by this section or other required federal or state reports.

PART 8

OUTCOME-BASED SUPPORTED EMPLOYMENT SYSTEM FOR INTEGRATED EMPLOYMENT SERVICES FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES, INCLUDING DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

Cross references: For the legislative declaration contained in the 2008 act enacting this part 8, see section 2 of chapter 123, Session Laws of Colorado 2008.

27-10.5-801. Pilot program - creation - goals - implementation - reporting.

(1) (a) There is hereby created a pilot program in the division to implement an outcome-based employment model for persons with developmental disabilities and recommend a payment system for supported employment services in Colorado for persons with developmental disabilities.

(b) The goal of the pilot program shall be to increase the efficiency of statewide employment services for persons with developmental disabilities by connecting funding for employment services to employment outcomes, including but not limited to increased employment opportunities for and long-term success of integrated employment services for persons with developmental disabilities.

(c) The department shall develop the pilot program in consultation with the following individuals and entities:

- (I) Community centered boards;
 - (II) Providers of supported employment services other than community centered boards;
 - (III) Persons currently receiving supported employment services;
 - (IV) The division of vocational rehabilitation;
 - (V) The division for developmental disabilities in the department of human services;
- and
- (VI) Other experts in the field as identified by the department or the participants in this paragraph (c).

(d) On or before March 30, 2009, the department shall implement the pilot program. Prior to implementing the pilot program, the department shall submit a report to the joint budget committee and to the health and human services committees of the house of representatives and the senate on the specific details of the pilot program and how resources of the department will be directed to implement the pilot program. The pilot program shall end on or before March 30, 2011.

(e) On or before April 30, 2011, the department shall submit a report evaluating the pilot program to the joint budget committee and to the health and human services committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, the governor, and the lieutenant governor. The report shall include any costs or savings that were or are projected to be realized as a result of implementing the pilot program or the proposed payment system for supported employment services for persons with developmental disabilities. The report shall also include a summary of the number of jobs obtained for persons with developmental disabilities and the number of jobs retained by those individuals at three months, six months, and nine months following the initial placement.

(2) The department is authorized to implement recommendations of the pilot program within available appropriations.

(3) As used in this part 8, unless the context otherwise requires, "division" means the division of vocational rehabilitation in the department of human services.

PART 9

STATE EMPLOYMENT OF PERSONS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

27-10.5-901. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds that:

(a) Persons with developmental disabilities represent a population that has long been underutilized and often denied employment opportunities within state government, partially due to hiring personnel's perceptions and understanding of the operation and requirements of the state personnel system;

(b) Some state agencies are unaware of the avenues that are available within the state personnel system by which state agencies can hire and provide training and support for persons with developmental disabilities; and

(c) Many persons with developmental disabilities, when provided appropriate training and support, can develop sufficient skills and competencies to more than adequately fulfill job expectations in employment positions in state government.

(2) Therefore, it is the intent of the general assembly to create the state employment program for persons with developmental disabilities to encourage and provide incentives for state agencies to give meaningful employment opportunities to persons with developmental disabilities and to improve the state's practices in employing, supervising, and supporting persons with developmental disabilities.

27-10.5-902. State employment program for persons with disabilities - creation - rules. (1) There is hereby created within the department the state employment program for persons with developmental disabilities, referred to in this part 9 as the "program". The department shall design and implement the program to coordinate the hiring of interested persons with developmental disabilities into appropriate and meaningful state employment opportunities. The goal of the program is to identify for persons with developmental disabilities permanent and stable employment opportunities that are integrated within and appropriately meet the service goals of state agencies. The department of human services shall collaborate with the department of personnel in designing the program.

(2) (a) On or before July 1, 2008, the executive directors of the department of human services and the department of personnel shall jointly convene a working group to study and recommend how the state's policies and practices in employing, supervising, and supporting persons with developmental disabilities can be improved in order to effectively and successfully implement the program. The executive directors shall include in the working group persons with expertise in implementing the statutes and rules pertaining to the state personnel system, persons with expertise in interpreting and implementing the federal "Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990", 42 U.S.C. sec. 12101 et seq., and persons with experience in employing and placing for employment persons with developmental disabilities.

(b) The working group shall complete its work and make recommendations to the executive directors of the department of human services and the department of personnel by January 1, 2009. The recommendations of the working group may include, but need not be limited to:

(I) Modifications to rules, statutes, or the state constitution to improve the success of persons with developmental disabilities who are employed through the program; and

(II) Identification or clarification of the roles and responsibilities of persons in the department of human services and the department of personnel in implementing the program efficiently and successfully.

(3) (a) If the working group finds that implementation of the program may require statutory or constitutional changes, the department of human services and the department of personnel shall not implement the program until the general assembly has considered and rejected said changes or until after a bill enacting said statutory changes or a referred measure enacting said constitutional changes has become law.

(b) After the conditions specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) are met, or if the working group finds that neither statutory nor constitutional changes are necessary for implementation of the program, the state board of human services and the state personnel board shall promulgate rules in accordance with the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., as follows:

(I) The state board of human services shall promulgate rules as necessary for implementation of the program within the department of human services; and

(II) The state personnel board shall promulgate rules pertaining to the state personnel system as necessary for implementation of the program.

(4) Following promulgation of rules pursuant to subsection (3) of this section and in accordance with said rules and the provisions of this section, the department of human services, in collaboration with the department of personnel, shall implement the program. A state agency that seeks to employ a person with developmental disabilities through the program shall be responsible for hiring and supervision of the person and payment of the person's salary and benefits. The department, through the program, shall provide guidance to the hiring state agency regarding any additional issues that are pertinent to the person's employment.

(5) Following adoption of the rules specified in subsection (3) of this section, the department shall regularly provide information to state agencies to explain and promote the program. Upon full implementation of the program, each state agency is strongly encouraged to participate in the program by identifying meaningful and appropriate employment positions for persons with developmental disabilities and working with the department to hire persons with developmental disabilities for these positions.

General Provisions

27-60-101. Mental health crisis response system - legislative declaration - report by department.

27-60-101. Mental health crisis response system - legislative declaration - report by department. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(I) There are people in Colorado communities who are experiencing mental health or substance abuse crises and need professional crisis care or urgent psychiatric care from skilled mental health clinicians and medical professionals who excel at providing compassionate crisis intervention and stabilization;

(II) Mental health or substance abuse crisis can happen any hour of the day and any day of the week;

(III) Persons in crisis frequently come in contact with community first responders who are often unable to provide necessary mental health interventions or who must transport these persons in crisis to emergency rooms for services, or, in cases where a crime is alleged, to jail;

(IV) Colorado ranks fiftieth in the nation in the number of inpatient psychiatric beds;

(V) Fewer than one-half of the persons who are in crisis and are taken to an emergency room are admitted for inpatient hospitalization, meaning that thousands of people each year return to community streets with little, if any, mental health or substance abuse crisis intervention or treatment; and

(VI) Significant time and resources are required of community first responders in addressing persons in mental health or substance abuse crisis and, in many cases, this community response is neither timely nor safe for the person in crisis nor cost-efficient for the state.

(b) The general assembly therefore finds that:

(I) A coordinated crisis response system provides for early intervention and effective treatment of persons in mental health or substance abuse crisis;

- (II) A coordinated crisis response system should involve first responders and include information technology systems to integrate available crisis responses;
- (III) A coordinated crisis response system should be available in all communities statewide; and
- (IV) A coordinated crisis response system may include community-based crisis centers where persons in mental health or substance abuse crisis may be stabilized and receive short-term treatment.
- (2) (a) The department of human services shall review the current behavioral health crisis response in Colorado and shall formulate a plan to address the lack of coordinated crisis response in the state. The plan shall include an analysis of the best use of existing resources, including but not limited to managed service organizations, behavioral health organizations, mental health centers, crisis intervention trained officers, metro crisis services, hospitals, and other entities impacting behavioral health crisis response. The department of human services shall complete the review, formulate the plan, and prepare the report required in paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) within existing appropriations and shall design the plan to be implemented within existing appropriations.
- (b) On or before January 30, 2013, the department of human services shall present to a joint meeting of the health and human services committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, a report concerning coordinated behavioral health crisis response in Colorado. The report, at a minimum, shall include the plan prepared pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

- 27-61-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that:
- (a) There is an urgent need to address the economic, social, and personal costs to the state of Colorado and its citizens of untreated mental health and substance use disorders;
- (b) Behavioral health disorders, including mental health and substance use disorders, are treatable conditions not unlike other chronic health issues that require a combination of behavioral change and medication or other treatment. When individuals receive appropriate prevention, early intervention, treatment, and recovery services, they can live full, productive lives.
- (c) Untreated behavioral health disorders place individuals at high risk for poor health outcomes and significantly impact virtually all aspects of local and state government by reducing family stability, student achievement, workforce productivity, and public safety;
- (d) Currently, there is no single behavioral health care system in Colorado. Instead, consumers of all ages with behavioral health disorders receive services from a number of different systems, including the health care, behavioral health care, child welfare, juvenile and criminal justice, education, and higher education systems.
- (e) Adult and youth consumers and their families need quality behavioral health care that is individualized and coordinated to meet their changing needs through a comprehensive and integrated system;

(f) Timely access through multiple points of entry to a full continuum of culturally responsive services, including prevention, early intervention, crisis response, treatment, and recovery, is necessary for an effective integrated system;

(g) Evidence-based and promising practices result in favorable outcomes for Colorado's adult and youth consumers, their families, and the communities in which they live;

(h) Lack of public awareness regarding behavioral health issues creates a need for public education that emphasizes the importance of behavioral health as part of overall health and wellness and creates the desire to invest in and support an integrated behavioral health system in Colorado;

(i) To reduce the economic and social costs of untreated behavioral health disorders, Colorado needs a systemic transformation of the behavioral health system through which transformation the state strives to achieve critical goals to address mental health and substance use disorders; and

(j) The overarching goal of this behavioral health system transformation shall be to make the behavioral health system's administrative processes, service delivery, and funding more effective and efficient to improve outcomes for Colorado citizens.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that, to improve the quality of life for the citizens of Colorado, strengthen the economy, and continue the responsible management of the state's resources, the leadership of the three branches of Colorado's state government and the stakeholders most affected by mental health and substance use disorders must collaborate to build on the progress of past efforts and to sustain a focus on the improvement of behavioral health services.

27-61-102. Behavioral health transformation council - creation - duties - sunset review - repeal. (1) The governor shall designate a group of his or her cabinet members including, but not limited to, the commissioner of education, the executive director or chief medical officer of the department of public health and environment, and the executive directors of the departments of corrections, health care policy and financing, human services, labor and employment, local affairs, and public safety to oversee the systemic transformation of the behavioral health system.

(2) (a) On or before August 1, 2010, the governor shall create a behavioral health transformation council, referred to in this section as the "council", to advise his or her cabinet on transforming the behavioral health system in Colorado. On or before August 1, 2010, the governor shall designate an executive branch department to serve as the lead department to facilitate the council's work. In consultation with the governor, the lead agency shall determine the appropriate membership, tenure, and operating protocols of the council.

(b) The council membership shall include the following:

(I) Representatives from executive branch agencies that fund or serve clients who use the behavioral health system, including but not limited to the departments of corrections, education, health care policy and financing, human services, labor and employment, local affairs, public health and environment, and public safety;

(II) At least two representatives from the judicial branch, appointed by the chief justice of the Colorado supreme court;

(III) Two representatives from the house of representatives, one appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives and one appointed by the minority leader, with preference given to members familiar with recent audit issues regarding behavioral health services;

(IV) Two representatives from the senate, one appointed by the president of the senate and one appointed by the minority leader;

(V) One representative from the governor's office of information technology; and

(VI) At least ten representatives, recommended by the lead agency in consultation with the council, from any group or committee that actively participated in the behavioral health transformation grant in 2009-2010, and which shall include consumers or entities representing consumers of behavioral health services.

(c) On or before January 30, 2011, and on or before January 30 each year thereafter, the lead agency shall brief the health and human services committees of the house of representatives and the senate, or any successor committees, and the state court administrator's office on the activities and progress of the council toward achieving the goals of a transformation of Colorado's behavioral health system.

(3) The council shall have the following duties and functions:

(a) To develop a strategic prioritization, planning, and implementation process to advise the governor's cabinet on transforming Colorado's behavioral health system. The council shall work toward the following goals associated with a comprehensive, efficient, effective, and integrated behavioral health system:

(I) Developing shared outcomes across key systems to enable joint accountability, improve services, and increase recovery, self-sufficiency, and economic opportunity;

(II) Aligning service areas across systems to promote equitable and timely access to a full continuum of services throughout Colorado, to the extent feasible;

(III) Establishing joint monitoring across systems to ensure accountability for common outcomes and to reduce the administrative burden associated with service provision;

(IV) Creating integrated behavioral health policies and rules to align with integrated service delivery;

(V) Financing reform to maximize and efficiently utilize funds;

(VI) Utilizing electronic health records or other technology, shared screening tools, assessments, and evaluations in compliance with federal and state confidentiality and privacy laws;

(VII) Adopting consistent cross-system standards for cultural congruence and for youth, adult, and family involvement;

(VIII) Promoting and utilizing evidence-based and promising practices to the extent possible;

(IX) Creating workforce-development strategies required for an integrated behavioral health system; and

(X) Developing a comprehensive behavioral health service system that includes services to persons with mental illness, addictions, disabilities, and co-occurring issues;

(b) To make recommendations to the cabinet that encourage and promote collaboration, partnerships, and innovation across governmental agencies and other agencies in the budgeting, planning, administration, and provision of behavioral health services associated with the goals above; and

(c) To coordinate and consolidate the council's efforts with the efforts of other groups that are working on behavioral health issues to increase the effectiveness and efficiency of these efforts.

(4) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2020. Prior to such repeal, the council shall be reviewed as provided for in section 2-3-1203, C.R.S.

27-65-116.	Right to treatment.
27-65-117.	Rights of persons receiving evaluation, care, or treatment.

27-65-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby declares that, subject to available appropriations, the purposes of this article are:

- (a) To secure for each person who may have a mental illness such care and treatment as will be suited to the needs of the person and to insure that such care and treatment are skillfully and humanely administered with full respect for the person’s dignity and personal integrity;
- (b) To deprive a person of his or her liberty for purposes of treatment or care only when less restrictive alternatives are unavailable and only when his or her safety or the safety of others is endangered;
- (c) To provide the fullest possible measure of privacy, dignity, and other rights to persons undergoing care and treatment for mental illness;
- (d) To encourage the use of voluntary rather than coercive measures to provide treatment and care for mental illness and to provide such treatment and care in the least restrictive setting;
- (e) To provide appropriate information to family members concerning the location and fact of admission of a person with a mental illness to inpatient or residential care and treatment;
- (f) To encourage the appropriate participation of family members in the care and treatment of a person with a mental illness and, when appropriate, to provide information to family members in order to facilitate such participation; and

(g) To facilitate the recovery and resiliency of each person who receives care and treatment under this article.

(2) To carry out these purposes, subject to available appropriations, the provisions of this article shall be liberally construed.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Patients' Rights vs. Patients' Needs: The Right of the Mentally Ill to Refuse Treatment in Colorado", see 58 Den. L.J. 567 (1981).

Annotator's note. Since § 27-65-101 is similar to § 27-10-101 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

The intent of this article is to provide services to all mentally ill persons, as defined, not just to those persons who are so mentally ill as to be gravely disabled or an imminent danger to themselves or others. Goebel v. Colo. Dept. of Institutions, 830 P.2d 1036 (Colo. 1992).

The statutory scheme for the care and treatment of mentally ill persons is calculated (1) to provide care and treatment adequately suited to the needs of patients in a dignified and least restrictive manner and (2) to ensure against premature release of patients when that release would pose a likely risk of serious bodily harm to the patient or others as a result of the patient's mental condition. Perreira v. State, 768 P.2d 1198 (Colo. 1989); People in Interest of Reynes, 870 P.2d 518 (Colo. App. 1993).

Difference from criminal commitment not violative of equal protection. The differences in the commitment procedures and standards of release for criminal and civil commitments do not violate equal protection of the laws. People v. Chavez, 629 P.2d 1040 (Colo. 1981).

Entire tenor of this article is to recognize and protect the dignity and legal rights of patients treated pursuant to its provisions. Goedecke v. State Dept. of Insts., 198 Colo. 407, 603 P.2d 123 (1979).

Concern of general assembly was to devise system which protects rights of the individual while, at the same time, creating a method to discover the truth of the patient's mental illness and whether this illness causes the individual to be a danger to others or to himself or to be gravely disabled. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

This article applies to both voluntary and involuntary patients. Goebel v. Colo. Dept. of Institutions, 764 P.2d 785 (Colo. 1988); Goebel v. Colo. Dept. of Institutions, 830 P.2d 1036 (Colo. 1992).

Primary purpose of civil commitment is to secure such treatment as is suited to the needs of the person under conditions which are as least restrictive of liberty as practicable. People v. Chavez, 629 P.2d 1040 (Colo. 1981).

This act applies to those who are mentally ill and seek treatment before they become so mentally ill as to be dangerous or gravely disabled. Goebel v. Colo. Dept. of Institutions, 830 P.2d 1036 (Colo. 1992).

Article is to be strictly construed to see that no limit is placed on a person's right to seek voluntary treatment. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

The provisions of this article must be strictly construed because of their curtailment of personal liberty. People in Interest of Bucholz, 778 P.2d 300 (Colo. App. 1989).

Powers to confine carefully restrained. The state's power to confine persons on the basis of mental illness must be carefully restrained by procedural safeguards, and can be invoked only by conditions great enough to justify such a massive curtailment of liberty. People v. Lane, 196 Colo. 42, 581 P.2d 719 (1978).

Disability sufficient to justify involuntary commitment must arise as result of mental illness; and in keeping with the statutory purpose, it must be so grave that the person's safety is threatened by his inability to take care of his basic personal needs. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Mere disability alone is insufficient to warrant involuntary commitment. Mere disability alone, even if found in conjunction with mental illness, is not enough to warrant involuntary commitment. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Duty of a therapist to protect third persons from harm must be measured by the foreseeability of the risk and whether the danger created is sufficiently large to embrace the specific harm. Brady v. Hopper, 570 F. Supp. 1333 (D. Colo. 1983) (decided prior to enactment of § 13-21-117).

The therapist-patient relationship is one which under certain circumstances will give rise to a duty on the part of the therapist to protect third persons from harm. Brady v. Hopper, 570 F. Supp. 1333 (D. Colo. 1983) (decided prior to enactment of § 13-21-117).

For due process considerations in civil commitment proceedings, see People v. Chavez, 629 P.2d 1040 (Colo. 1981).

Less restrictive alternatives need not be considered as a condition precedent to certification. Civil commitment constitutes a severe infringement of liberty requiring due process protection. However, the statutory scheme set forth in this article contains a number of procedural safeguards that greatly reduce the inherent risk of erroneous deprivation. Therefore, due process does not require a mandatory hearing at the time of certification since the statute provides for a hearing on request. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

Psychologist-client privilege. In keeping with the statutory goal of securing care and treatment on an individual basis, former § 27-10-120 is intended as an authorization for a psychologist to testify to observations concerning an involuntarily detained person when the issue before the court is whether the statutory conditions for certification for short-term treatment have been satisfied. People v. District Court, 797 P.2d 1259 (Colo. 1990).

Applied in People in Interest of Paiz, 43 Colo. App. 352, 603 P.2d 976 (1979); Sisneros v. District Court, 199 Colo. 179, 606 P.2d 55 (1980); People in Interest of Freeman, 636 P.2d 1334 (Colo. App. 1981); People v. White, 656 P.2d 690 (Colo. 1983).

27-65-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Acute treatment unit" means a facility or a distinct part of a facility for short-term psychiatric care, which may include substance abuse treatment, that provides a total, twenty-four-hour, therapeutically planned and professionally staffed environment for persons who do not require inpatient hospitalization but need more intense and individual services than are available on an outpatient basis, such as crisis management and stabilization services.

(2) "Certified peace officer" means any certified peace officer as described in section 16-2.5-102, C.R.S.

(3) "Court" means any district court of the state of Colorado and the probate court in the city and county of Denver.

(4) "Court-ordered evaluation" means an evaluation ordered by a court pursuant to section 27-65-106.

(5) "Department" means the department of human services.

(6) "Executive director" means the executive director of the department of human services.

(7) "Facility" means a public hospital or a licensed private hospital, clinic, community mental health center or clinic, acute treatment unit, institution, sanitarium, or residential child care facility that provides treatment for a person with a mental illness.

(8) "Family member" means a spouse, parent, adult child, or adult sibling of a person with a mental illness.

(9) (a) "Gravely disabled" means a condition in which a person, as a result of a mental illness:

(I) Is in danger of serious physical harm due to his or her inability or failure to provide himself or herself with the essential human needs of food, clothing, shelter, and medical care; or

(II) Lacks judgment in the management of his or her resources and in the conduct of his or her social relations to the extent that his or her health or safety is significantly endangered and lacks the capacity to understand that this is so.

(b) A person who, because of care provided by a family member or by an individual with a similar relationship to the person, is not in danger of serious physical harm or is not significantly endangered in accordance with paragraph (a) of this subsection (9) may be deemed "gravely disabled" if there is notice given that the support given by the family member or other individual who has a similar relationship to the person is to be terminated and the individual with a mental illness:

(I) Is diagnosed by a professional person as suffering from: Schizophrenia; a major affective disorder; a delusional disorder; or another mental disorder with psychotic features; and

(II) Has been certified, pursuant to this article, for treatment of the disorder or has been admitted as an inpatient to a treatment facility for treatment of the disorder at least twice during the last thirty-six months with a period of at least thirty days between certifications or admissions; and

(III) Is exhibiting a deteriorating course leading toward danger to self or others or toward the conditions described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (9) with symptoms and behavior that are substantially similar to those that preceded and were associated with his or her hospital admissions or certifications for treatment; and

(IV) Is not receiving treatment that is essential for his or her health or safety.

(c) A person of any age may be “gravely disabled”, but such term shall not include a person who has a developmental disability by reason of the person’s developmental disability alone.

(d) For purposes of paragraph (b) of this subsection (9), an individual with a relationship to a person that is similar to that of a family member shall not include an employee or agent of a boarding home or treatment facility.

(10) “Hospitalization” means twenty-four-hour out-of-home placement for mental health treatment in a facility.

(11) “Independent professional person” means a professional person, as defined in subsection (17) of this section, who evaluates a minor’s condition as an independent decision-maker and whose recommendations are based on the standard of what is in the best interest of the minor. The professional person may be associated with the admitting mental health facility if he or she is free to independently evaluate the minor’s condition and need for treatment and has the authority to refuse admission to any minor who does not satisfy the statutory standards specified in section 27-65-103 (3).

(12) “Minor” means a person under eighteen years of age; except that the term does not include a person who is fifteen years of age or older who is living separately and apart from his or her parent or legal guardian and is managing his or her financial affairs, regardless of his or her source of income, or who is married and living separately and apart from his or her parent or legal guardian.

(13) “Patient representative” means a person designated by a mental health facility to process patient complaints or grievances or to represent patients who are minors pursuant to section 27-65-103 (5).

(14) “Person with a mental illness” means a person with one or more substantial disorders of the cognitive, volitional, or emotional processes that grossly impairs judgment or capacity to recognize reality or to control behavior. Developmental disability is insufficient to either justify or exclude a finding of mental illness within the provisions of this article.

(15) “Petitioner” means any person who files any petition in any proceeding in the interest of any person who allegedly has a mental illness or is allegedly gravely disabled.

(16) “Physician” means a person licensed to practice medicine in this state.

(17) “Professional person” means a person licensed to practice medicine in this state or a psychologist certified to practice in this state.

(18) “Residential child care facility” means a facility licensed by the state department of human services pursuant to article 6 of title 26, C.R.S., to provide group care and treatment for children as such facility is defined in section 26-6-102 (8), C.R.S. A residential child care facility may be eligible for designation by the executive director of the department of human services pursuant to this article.

(19) “Respondent” means either a person alleged in a petition filed pursuant to this article to have a mental illness or be gravely disabled or a person certified pursuant to the provisions of this article.

(20) “Screening” means a review of all petitions, to consist of an interview with the petitioner and, whenever possible, the respondent, an assessment of the problem, an explanation of the petition to the respondent, and a determination of whether the respondent needs and, if so, will accept, on a voluntary basis, comprehensive evaluation, treatment, referral, and other appropriate services, either on an inpatient or an outpatient basis.

Annotator's note. Since § 27-65-102 is similar to § 27-10-102 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Definitions in former subsections (5) and (7) are sufficiently clear and definite. The definitions of mental illness and of the condition of being gravely disabled in former subsections (5) and (7) are sufficiently clear and definite to apprise both lay and professional persons of the type of conduct necessary for certification for short-term treatment. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Definition of "gravely disabled" in former subsection (5) refers to an existing rather than a prospective inability to provide for one's "basic personal needs". The determination at a certification hearing as to whether a person is "gravely disabled" must focus on the individual's existing condition, and not on the possibility of future relapse. People in Interest of Buchholz, 778 P.2d 300 (Colo. App. 1989).

Phrase "basic personal needs" means those fundamental necessities of human existence, such as food, shelter, clothing, and medical care, which an individual must obtain and maintain in order to live safely. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Statutory definition of mental illness, on its own terms, cannot be read to intend that every idiosyncratic or eccentric person requires involuntary medical intervention. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

It is necessary prerequisite to ordering short-term involuntary psychiatric treatment that the professional treatment and evaluation staff find, after analysis, that the person for whom certification is sought is mentally ill and, as a result of mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or is gravely disabled. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

For previous definition of "insane person", see Arridy v. People, 103 Colo. 29, 82 P.2d 757 (1938); Browne v. Smith, 119 Colo. 469, 205 P.2d 239 (1949).

27-65-103. Voluntary applications for mental health services. (1) Nothing in this article shall be construed in any way as limiting the right of any person to make voluntary application at any time to any public or private agency or professional person for mental health services, either by direct application in person or by referral from any other public or private agency or professional person. Subject to section 15-14-316 (4), C.R.S., a ward, as defined in section 15-14-102 (15), C.R.S., may be admitted to hospital or institutional care and treatment for mental illness by consent of the guardian for so long as the ward agrees to such care and treatment. Within ten days of any such admission of the ward for such hospital or institutional care and treatment, the guardian shall notify in writing the court that appointed the guardian of the admission.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a minor who is fifteen years of age or older, whether with or without the consent of a parent or legal guardian, may consent to receive mental health services to be rendered by a facility or a professional person. Such consent shall not be subject to disaffirmance because of minority. The professional person rendering mental health services to a minor may, with or without the consent of the minor, advise the parent or legal guardian of the minor of the services given or needed.

(3) A minor who is fifteen years of age or older or a parent or legal guardian of a minor on the minor's behalf may make voluntary application for hospitalization. Application for hospitalization on behalf of a minor who is under fifteen years of age and who is a ward of the department of human services shall not be made unless a guardian ad litem has been appointed for the minor or a petition for the same has been filed with the court by the agency having custody of the minor; except that such an application for hospitalization may be made under emergency circumstances requiring immediate hospitalization, in which case the agency shall file a petition for appointment of a guardian ad litem within seventy-two hours after application for admission is made, and the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem forthwith. Procedures for hospitalization of such minor may proceed pursuant to this section once a petition for appointment of a guardian ad litem has been filed, if necessary. Whenever such application for hospitalization is made, an independent professional person shall interview the minor and conduct a careful investigation into the minor's background, using all available sources, including, but not limited to, the parents or legal guardian and the school and any other social agencies. Prior to admitting a minor for hospitalization, the independent professional person shall make the following findings:

- (a) That the minor has a mental illness and is in need of hospitalization;
- (b) That a less restrictive treatment alternative is inappropriate or unavailable; and
- (c) That hospitalization is likely to be beneficial.

(4) An interview and investigation by an independent professional person shall not be required for a minor who is fifteen years of age or older and who, upon the recommendation of his or her treating professional person, seeks voluntary hospitalization with the consent of his or her parent or legal guardian. In order to assure that the minor's consent to such hospitalization is voluntary, the minor shall be advised, at or before the time of admission, of his or her right to refuse to sign the admission consent form and his or her right to revoke his or her consent at a later date. If a minor admitted pursuant to this subsection (4) subsequently revokes his or her consent after admission, a review of his or her need for hospitalization pursuant to subsection (5) of this section shall be initiated immediately.

(5) (a) The need for continuing hospitalization of all voluntary patients who are minors shall be formally reviewed at least every two months. Review pursuant to this subsection (5) shall fulfill the requirement specified in section 19-1-115 (8), C.R.S., when the minor is fifteen years of age or older and consenting to hospitalization.

(b) The review shall be conducted by an independent professional person who is not a member of the minor's treating team; or, if the minor, his or her physician, and the minor's parent or guardian do not object to the need for continued hospitalization, the review required pursuant to this subsection (5) may be conducted internally by the hospital staff.

(c) The independent professional person shall determine whether the minor continues to meet the criteria specified in subsection (3) of this section and whether continued hospitalization is appropriate and shall at least conduct an investigation pursuant to subsection (3) of this section.

(d) Ten days prior to the review, the patient representative at the mental health facility shall notify the minor of the date of the review and shall assist the minor in articulating to the independent professional person his or her wishes concerning continued hospitalization.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit a minor's right to seek release from the facility pursuant to any other provisions under the law.

(6) Every six months the review required pursuant to subsection (5) of this section shall be conducted by an independent professional person who is not a member of the minor's treating team and who has not previously reviewed the child pursuant to subsection (5) of this section.

(7) (a) When a minor does not consent to or objects to continued hospitalization, the need for such continued hospitalization shall, within ten days, be reviewed pursuant to subsection (5) of this section by an independent professional person who is not a member of the minor's treating team and who has not previously reviewed the child pursuant to this subsection (7). The minor shall be informed of the results of such review within three days of completion of such review. If the conclusion reached by such professional person is that the minor no longer meets the standards for hospitalization specified in subsection (3) of this section, the minor shall be discharged.

(b) If, twenty-four hours after being informed of the results of the review specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (7), a minor continues to affirm the objection to hospitalization, the minor shall be advised by the director of the facility or his or her duly appointed representative that the minor has the right to retain and consult with an attorney at any time and that the director or his or her duly appointed representative shall file, within three days after the request of the minor, a statement requesting an attorney for the minor or, if the minor is under fifteen years of age, a guardian ad litem. The minor, his or her attorney, if any, and his or her parent, legal guardian, or guardian ad litem, if any, shall also be given written notice that a hearing upon the recommendation for continued hospitalization may be had before the court or a jury upon written request directed to the court pursuant to paragraph (d) of this subsection (7).

(c) Whenever the statement requesting an attorney is filed with the court, the court shall ascertain whether the minor has retained counsel, and, if he or she has not, the court shall, within three days, appoint an attorney to represent the minor, or if the minor is under fifteen years of age, a guardian ad litem. Upon receipt of a petition filed by the guardian ad litem, the court shall appoint an attorney to represent the minor under fifteen years of age.

(d) The minor or his or her attorney or guardian ad litem may, at any time after the minor has continued to affirm his or her objection to hospitalization pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (7), file a written request that the recommendation for continued hospitalization be reviewed by the court or that the treatment be on an outpatient basis. If review is requested, the court shall hear the matter within ten days after the request, and the court shall give notice to the minor, his or her attorney, if any, his or her parents or legal guardian, his or her guardian ad litem, if any, the independent professional person, and the minor's treating team of the time and place thereof. The hearing shall be held in accordance with section 27-65-111; except that the court or jury shall determine that the minor is in need of care and treatment if the court or jury makes the following findings: That the minor has a mental illness and is in need of hospitalization; that a less restrictive treatment alternative is inappropriate or unavailable; and that hospitalization is likely to be beneficial. At the conclusion of the hearing, the court may enter an order confirming the recommendation for continued hospitalization, discharge the minor, or enter any other appropriate order.

(e) For purposes of this subsection (7), "objects to hospitalization" means that a minor, with the necessary assistance of hospital staff, has written his or her objections to continued hospitalization and has been given an opportunity to affirm or disaffirm such objections forty-eight hours after the objections are first written.

(f) A minor may not again object to hospitalization pursuant to this subsection (7) until ninety days after conclusion of proceedings pursuant to this subsection (7).

(g) In addition to the rights specified under section 27-65-117 for persons receiving evaluation, care, or treatment, a written notice specifying the rights of minor children under this section shall be given to each minor upon admission to hospitalization.

(8) A minor who no longer meets the standards for hospitalization specified in subsection (3) of this section shall be discharged.

(9) For the purpose of this article, the treatment by prayer in the practice of the religion of any church which teaches reliance on spiritual means alone for healing shall be considered a form of treatment.

(10) The medical and legal status of all voluntary patients receiving treatment for mental illness in inpatient or custodial facilities shall be reviewed at least once every six months.

(11) Voluntary patients shall be afforded all the rights and privileges customarily granted by hospitals to their patients.

(12) If at any time during a seventy-two-hour evaluation of a person who is confined involuntarily the facility staff requests the person to sign in voluntarily and he or she elects to do so, the following advisement shall be given orally and in writing and an appropriate notation shall be made in his or her medical record by the professional person or his or her designated agent:

NOTICE

The decision to sign in voluntarily should be made by you alone and should be free from any force or pressure implied or otherwise. If you do not feel that you are able to make a truly voluntary decision, you may continue to be held at the hospital involuntarily. As an involuntary patient, you will have the right to protest your confinement and request a hearing before a judge.

Patient's common-law right to decline medical treatment is among those protected by this section and is preserved intact in the absence of some finding that the patient's illness has so impaired his judgment that he is incapable of participating in decisions affecting his health. Goedcke v. State Dept. of Insts., 198 Colo. 407, 603 P.2d 123 (1979).

Right of incompetent to decline treatment. The right to decline medical treatment is not lost to a patient who is mentally incapable of deciding that question for himself. People in Interest of Medina, 662 P.2d 184 (Colo. App. 1982), aff'd, 705 P.2d 961 (Colo. 1985).

When nonconsensual treatment may be ordered. Treatment with antipsychotic medication should not be ordered unless: (1) The patient is incompetent to effectively participate in the treatment decision; (2) such treatment is necessary to prevent long-term deterioration in the patient's mental condition; (3) a less intrusive treatment is not available; and (4) the patient's need for such treatment overrides any legitimate interest of the patient in refusing treatment. In any event, and the order for involuntary medication cannot exceed six months without further extension. People v. Medina, 705 P.2d 961 (Colo. 1985).

The fourth factor dictated in Medina was met when the court reduced dosage of antipsychotic medication to minimize side effects suffered by plaintiff. Clear and convincing evidence existed that the need for the drug, as ordered to be administered by the trial court, outweighed all legitimate interests the petitioner had in refusing such treatment. Donaldson v. District Court for the City and County of Denver, 847 P.2d 632 (Colo. 1993).

27-65-105. Emergency procedure. (1) Emergency procedure may be invoked under either one of the following two conditions:

(a) (I) When any person appears to have a mental illness and, as a result of such mental illness, appears to be an imminent danger to others or to himself or herself or appears to be gravely disabled, then a person specified in subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (a), each of whom is referred to in this section as the “intervening professional”, upon probable cause and with such assistance as may be required, may take the person into custody, or cause the person to be taken into custody, and placed in a facility designated or approved by the executive director for a seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation.

(II) The following persons may effect a seventy-two-hour hold as provided in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a):

(A) A certified peace officer;

(B) A professional person;

(C) A registered professional nurse as defined in section 12-38-103 (11), C.R.S., who by reason of postgraduate education and additional nursing preparation has gained knowledge, judgment, and skill in psychiatric or mental health nursing;

(D) A licensed marriage and family therapist, licensed professional counselor, or addiction counselor licensed under part 5, 6, or 8 of article 43 of title 12, C.R.S., who by reason of postgraduate education and additional preparation has gained knowledge, judgment, and skill in psychiatric or clinical mental health therapy, forensic psychotherapy, or the evaluation of mental disorders; or

(E) A licensed clinical social worker licensed under the provisions of part 4 of article 43 of title 12, C.R.S.

(b) Upon an affidavit sworn to or affirmed before a judge that relates sufficient facts to establish that a person appears to have a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, appears to be an imminent danger to others or to himself or herself or appears to be gravely disabled, the court may order the person described in the affidavit to be taken into custody and placed in a facility designated or approved by the executive director for a seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation. Whenever in this article a facility is to be designated or approved by the executive director, hospitals, if available, shall be approved or designated in each county before other facilities are approved or designated. Whenever in this article a facility is to be designated or approved by the executive director as a facility for a stated purpose and the facility to be designated or approved is a private facility, the consent of the private facility to the enforcement of standards set by the executive director shall be a prerequisite to the designation or approval.

(2) (a) When a person is taken into custody pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, such person shall not be detained in a jail, lockup, or other place used for the confinement of persons charged with or convicted of penal offenses; except that such place may be used if no other suitable place of confinement for treatment and evaluation is readily available. In such situation the person shall be detained separately from those persons charged with or convicted of penal offenses and shall be held for a period not to exceed twenty-four hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, after which time he or she shall be transferred to a facility designated or approved by the executive director for a seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation. If the person being detained is a juvenile, as defined in section 19-1-103 (68), C.R.S., the juvenile shall be placed in a setting that is nonsecure and physically segregated by sight and sound from the adult offenders. When a person is taken into custody and confined pursuant to this subsection (2), such person shall be examined at least every twelve hours by a certified peace officer, nurse, or physician or by an appropriate staff professional of the nearest designated or approved mental health treatment facility to determine if the person is receiving appropriate care consistent with his or her mental condition.

(b) A sheriff or police chief who violates the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), related to detaining juveniles may be subject to a civil fine of no more than one thousand dollars. The decision to fine shall be based on prior violations of the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) by the sheriff or police chief and the willingness of the sheriff or police chief to address the violations in order to comply with paragraph (a) of this subsection (2).

(3) Such facility shall require an application in writing, stating the circumstances under which the person's condition was called to the attention of the intervening professional and further stating sufficient facts, obtained from the personal observations of the intervening professional or obtained from others whom he or she reasonably believes to be reliable, to establish that the person has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is an imminent danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled. The application shall indicate when the person was taken into custody and who brought the person's condition to the attention of the intervening professional. A copy of the application shall be furnished to the person being evaluated, and the application shall be retained in accordance with the provisions of section 27-65-121 (4).

(4) If the seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation facility admits the person, it may detain him or her for evaluation and treatment for a period not to exceed seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays if evaluation and treatment services are not available on those days. For the purposes of this subsection (4), evaluation and treatment services are not deemed to be available merely because a professional person is on call during weekends or holidays. If, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the evaluation, the person can be properly cared for without being detained, he or she shall be provided services on a voluntary basis.

(5) Each person admitted to a seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation facility under the provisions of this article shall receive an evaluation as soon as possible after he or she is admitted and shall receive such treatment and care as his or her condition requires for the full period that he or she is held. The person shall be released before seventy-two hours have elapsed if, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the evaluation, the person no longer requires evaluation or treatment. Persons who have been detained for seventy-two-hour evaluation and treatment shall be released, referred for further care and treatment on a voluntary basis, or certified for treatment pursuant to section 27-65-107.

Subsection (1)(b) does not require prior judicial testing before one who has been a voluntarily committed outpatient can be taken into custody. People in Interest of Henderson, 610 P.2d 1350 (Colo. App. 1980).

Contrary to patient's claim, no court hearing or 24-hour notice is required to take mentally ill person into custody under this section. Nor does this section specify that the patient must designate or approve of the treatment facility to which he is committed. Ketchum v. Cruz, 775 F. Supp. 1399 (D. Colo. 1991).

Voluntary treatment program not terminated when patient taken into custody and then returned to hospital. Where voluntarily committed outpatient was off the hospital premises and was taken into custody by the police and then returned to the hospital, this did not, as a matter of law, terminate his voluntary treatment program. People in Interest of Henderson, 610 P.2d 1350 (Colo. 27-65-106. Court-ordered evaluation for persons with mental illness. (1) Any person alleged to have a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, to be a danger to others or to himself or herself or to be gravely disabled may be given an evaluation of his or her condition under a court order pursuant to this section.

(2) Any individual may petition the court in the county in which the respondent resides or is physically present alleging that there is a person who appears to have a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, appears to be a danger to others or to himself or herself or appears to be gravely disabled and requesting that an evaluation of the person's condition be made.

(3) The petition for a court-ordered evaluation shall contain the following:

(a) The name and address of the petitioner and his or her interest in the case;

(b) The name of the person for whom evaluation is sought, who shall be designated as the respondent, and, if known to the petitioner, the address, age, sex, marital status, and occupation of the respondent;

(c) Allegations of fact indicating that the respondent may have a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, be a danger to others or to himself or herself or be gravely disabled and showing reasonable grounds to warrant an evaluation;

(d) The name and address of every person known or believed by the petitioner to be legally responsible for the care, support, and maintenance of the respondent, if available;

(e) The name, address, and telephone number of the attorney, if any, who has most recently represented the respondent. If there is no attorney, there shall be a statement as to whether, to the best knowledge of the petitioner, the respondent meets the criteria established by the legal aid agency operating in the county or city and county for it to represent a client.

(4) Upon receipt of a petition satisfying the requirements of subsection (3) of this section, the court shall designate a facility, approved by the executive director, or a professional person to provide screening of the respondent to determine whether there is probable cause to believe the allegations.

(5) Following screening, the facility or professional person designated by the court shall file his or her report with the court. The report shall include a recommendation as to whether there is probable cause to believe that the respondent has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled and whether the respondent will voluntarily receive evaluation or treatment. The screening report submitted to the court shall be confidential in accordance with section 27-65-121 and shall be furnished to the respondent or his or her attorney or personal representative.

(6) Whenever it appears, by petition and screening pursuant to this section, to the satisfaction of the court that probable cause exists to believe that the respondent has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled and that efforts have been made to secure the cooperation of the respondent, who has refused or failed to accept evaluation voluntarily, the court shall issue an order for evaluation authorizing a certified peace officer to take the respondent into custody and place him or her in a facility designated by the executive director for seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation. At the time of taking the respondent into custody, a copy of the petition and the order for evaluation shall be given to the respondent, and promptly thereafter to any one person designated by such respondent and to the person in charge of the seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation facility named in the order or his or her designee.

(7) The respondent shall be evaluated as promptly as possible and shall in no event be detained longer than seventy-two hours under the court order, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays if treatment and evaluation services are not available on those days. Within that time, the respondent shall be released, referred for further care and treatment on a voluntary basis, or certified for short-term treatment.

(8) At the time the respondent is taken into custody for evaluation or within a reasonable time thereafter, unless a responsible relative is in possession of the respondent's personal property, the certified peace officer taking him or her into custody shall take reasonable precautions to preserve and safeguard the personal property in the possession of or on the premises occupied by the respondent.

(9) When a person is involuntarily admitted to a seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation facility under the provisions of this section or section 27-65-105, the person shall be advised by the facility director or his or her duly appointed representative that the person is going to be examined with regard to his or her mental condition.

(10) Whenever a person is involuntarily admitted to a seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation facility, he or she shall be advised by the facility director or his or her duly appointed representative of his or her right to retain and consult with any attorney at any time and that, if he or she cannot afford to pay an attorney, upon proof of indigency, one will be appointed by the court without cost.

27-65-107. Certification for short-term treatment. (1) If a person detained for seventy-two hours under the provisions of section 27-65-105 or a respondent under court order for evaluation pursuant to section 27-65-106 has received an evaluation, he or she may be certified for not more than three months of short-term treatment under the following conditions:

(a) The professional staff of the agency or facility providing seventy-two-hour treatment and evaluation has analyzed the person's condition and has found the person has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled.

(b) The person has been advised of the availability of, but has not accepted, voluntary treatment; but, if reasonable grounds exist to believe that the person will not remain in a voluntary treatment program, his or her acceptance of voluntary treatment shall not preclude certification.

(c) The facility which will provide short-term treatment has been designated or approved by the executive director to provide such treatment.

(2) The notice of certification must be signed by a professional person on the staff of the evaluation facility who participated in the evaluation and shall state facts sufficient to establish reasonable grounds to believe that the person has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled. The certification shall be filed with the court within forty-eight hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and court holidays, of the date of certification. The certification shall be filed with the court in the county in which the respondent resided or was physically present immediately prior to his or her being taken into custody.

(3) Within twenty-four hours of certification, copies of the certification shall be personally delivered to the respondent, and a copy shall be kept by the evaluation facility as part of the person's record. The respondent shall also be asked to designate one other person whom he or she wishes informed regarding certification. If he or she is incapable of making such a designation at the time the certification is delivered, he or she shall be asked to designate such person as soon as he or she is capable. In addition to the copy of the certification, the respondent shall be given a written notice that a hearing upon his or her certification for short-term treatment may be had before the court or a jury upon written request directed to the court pursuant to subsection (6) of this section.

(4) Upon certification of the respondent, the facility designated for short-term treatment shall have custody of the respondent.

(5) Whenever a certification is filed with the court, the court, if it has not already done so under section 27-65-106 (10), shall forthwith appoint an attorney to represent the respondent. The court shall determine whether the respondent is able to afford an attorney. If the respondent cannot afford counsel, the court shall appoint either counsel from the legal services program operating in that jurisdiction or private counsel to represent the respondent. The attorney representing the respondent shall be provided with a copy of the certification immediately upon his or her appointment. Waiver of counsel must be knowingly and intelligently made in writing and filed with the court by the respondent. In the event that a respondent who is able to afford an attorney fails to pay the appointed counsel, such counsel, upon application to the court and after appropriate notice and hearing, may obtain a judgment for reasonable attorney fees against the respondent or person making request for such counsel or both the respondent and such person.

(6) The respondent for short-term treatment or his or her attorney may at any time file a written request that the certification for short-term treatment or the treatment be reviewed by the court or that the treatment be on an outpatient basis. If review is requested, the court shall hear the matter within ten days after the request, and the court shall give notice to the respondent and his or her attorney and the certifying and treating professional person of the time and place thereof. The hearing shall be held in accordance with section 27-65-111. At the conclusion of the hearing, the court may enter or confirm the certification for short-term treatment, discharge the respondent, or enter any other appropriate order, subject to available appropriations.

(7) Records and papers in proceedings under this section and section 27-65-108 shall be maintained separately by the clerks of the several courts. Upon the release of any respondent in accordance with the provisions of section 27-65-110, the facility shall notify the clerk of the court within five days of the release, and the clerk shall forthwith seal the record in the case and omit the name of the respondent from the index of cases in such court until and unless the respondent becomes subject to an order of long-term care and treatment pursuant to section 27-65-109 or until and unless the court orders them opened for good cause shown. In the event a petition is filed pursuant to section 27-65-109, such certification record may be opened and become a part of the record in the long-term care and treatment case and the name of the respondent indexed.

(8) Whenever it appears to the court, by reason of a report by the treating professional person or any other report satisfactory to the court, that a respondent detained for evaluation and treatment or certified for treatment should be transferred to another facility for treatment and the safety of the respondent or the public requires that the respondent be transported by a sheriff, the court may issue an order directing the sheriff or his or her designee to deliver the respondent to the designated facility.

Annotator's note. Since § 27-65-107 is similar to § 27-10-107 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Constitutionality. Failure of this section to require a mandatory state-initiated hearing before the involuntary commitment of an individual for up to 90 days does not render the statute unconstitutional. Brown v. Jensen, 572 F. Supp. 193 (D. Colo. 1983); Curnow v. Yarbrough, 676 P.2d 1177 (Colo. 1984).

The term "danger" in subsection (1) (a) does not offend due process as long as the state proves by clear and convincing evidence that there is a reasonable basis to believe that the individual's mental illness results in a present danger to herself or others or renders her gravely disabled. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

Less restrictive alternatives need not be considered as a condition precedent to certification. Civil commitment constitutes a severe infringement of liberty requiring due process protection. However, the statutory scheme set forth in this article contains a number of procedural safeguards that greatly reduce the inherent risk of erroneous deprivation. Therefore, due process does not require a mandatory hearing at the time of certification since the statute provides for a hearing on request. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

Subsequent certification proceedings are not rendered invalid as a result of the certification for short-term treatment being set aside. People in Interest of Dveirin, 755 P.2d 1207 (Colo. 1988).

State's interest in certifying individual for short-term treatment is to provide care to one whose mental condition poses a threat to society or to the person himself. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Civil commitment statute must be liberally construed to promote the legislative purpose of encouraging the "use of voluntary rather than coercive measures to secure treatment and care for mental illness". Sisneros v. District Court, 199 Colo. 179, 606 P.2d 55 (1980).

This article is to be strictly construed to see that no limit is placed on a person's right to seek voluntary treatment. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Statutory definition of mental illness, on its own terms, cannot be read to intend that every idiosyncratic or eccentric person requires involuntary medical intervention. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Voluntary treatment program not terminated. Where voluntarily committed outpatient was off the hospital premises and was taken into custody by the police and then returned to the hospital, this did not, as a matter of law, terminate his voluntary treatment program. People in Interest of Henderson, 44 Colo. App. 102, 610 P.2d 1350 (1980).

Standard for liability of medical professionals. In determining whether to release an involuntarily committed mental patient, the psychiatrist has a legal duty to exercise due care, consistent with the knowledge and skill ordinarily possessed by psychiatric practitioners under similar circumstances, to determine whether the patient has a propensity for violence and would present an unreasonable risk of serious bodily harm to others. Perreira v. State, 768 P.2d 1198 (Colo. 1989).

In discharging his duty, a psychiatrist may be required to take reasonable precautions to protect the public from the danger created by the release giving due consideration to extending the term of the patient's commitment or placing appropriate conditions and restrictions on such release. Perreira v. State, 768 P.2d 1198 (Colo. 1989).

Standard for liability of medical professionals. No duty exists to prevent a third person from harming another unless a special relation exists between the actor and the wrongdoer or between the actor and the victim. Perreira v. State, 738 P.2d 4 (Colo. App. 1986).

Medical professionals involved in the care and treatment of a mentally ill patient have a legal duty under the "special relation" rule to prevent the patient from harming himself or others only if the patient in their care constitutes a danger to himself or to the safety of others. Perreira v. State, 738 P.2d 4 (Colo. App. 1986).

This danger may be shown by evidence of injurious acts, attempts, or threats by the patient. Perreira v. State, 738 P.2d 4 (Colo. App. 1986).

A psychotherapist treating a mental patient as an outpatient may fall under the special relation rule. Perreira v. State, 738 P.2d 4 (Colo. App. 1986).

Applied in Goedecke v. State Dept. of Insts., 198 Colo. 407, 603 P.2d 123 (1979); People in Interest of Paiz, 43 Colo. App. 352, 603 P.2d 976 (1979); *People v. II. PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS.

Involuntary commitment to mental hospital is deprivation of liberty which the state cannot accomplish without procedural safeguards. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

This section sets out certain procedures which the general assembly and our courts have determined are adequate to protect a respondent's due process rights. These procedures include: (1) a professional decision to initiate the 72-hour evaluation; (2) professional medical evaluation at the time of involuntary short-term commitment; (3) notice concerning certification within 24 hours to the person committed; (4) notice concerning certification to one other person the respondent designates; (5) prompt appointment of an attorney; (6) a hearing within 10 days if requested (7) the burden of proof by clear and convincing evidence upon the petitioner; and (8) optional court appointment of an independent professional person to examine the respondent. Curnow v. Yarbrough, 676 P.2d 1177 (Colo. 1984); People in Interest of Reynes, 870 P.2d 518 (Colo. App. 1993).

Strict adherence to procedural requirements of this section is required because of the curtailment of personal liberty which results from certification for treatment of mental illness. Sisneros v. District Court, 199 Colo. 179, 606 P.2d 55 (1980).

In situations involving involuntary confinement, strict compliance with this article is a necessity. People in Interest of Henderson, 44 Colo. App. 102, 610 P.2d 1350 (1980).

Procedural prerequisites to obtaining certification must be met for court to have subject matter jurisdiction, so review of such issues is by court not jury. People in Interest of Bailey, 745 P.2d 280 (Colo. App. 1987).

Right to a mental health certification review hearing within 10 days of the filing of a petition for certification is for protection of certified person and may be waived by such person without vitiating jurisdiction of court. People in Interest of Lynch, 783 P.2d 848 (Colo. 1989).

When the procedural provisions of former § 27-10-105 are not followed, even a credible certification cannot cure the jurisdictional defect. People in Interest of Lloyd-Pellman, 844 P.2d 1309 (Colo. App. 1992).

Failure to convene hearing within 10 days after request is made as mandated by this section deprives court of subject matter jurisdiction to certify person for short-term treatment regardless of person's purported waiver. People in Interest of Lynch, 757 P.2d 145 (Colo. App. 1988), rev'd, 783 P.2d 848 (Colo. 1989).

The statutorily defined procedures for civil commitment proceedings have been applied to hearings involving the issue of nonconsensual treatment with antipsychotic medication. People ex rel. Ofengand, 183 P.3d 688 (Colo. App. 2008).

Because a committed patient's right to counsel during civil commitment proceedings is derived from the civil commitment statutes, any defect in respondent's waiver of counsel is analyzed under the standard applicable to statutory defects in civil commitment proceedings. People ex rel. Ofengand, 183 P.3d 688 (Colo. App. 2008).

Where respondent seeks reversal of civil commitment order based on the failure to comply strictly with statutory requirements, and where the defect, if any, does not implicate the jurisdiction of the trial court to grant the order, the appeals court's inquiry is whether the defect concerns a failure to comply with essential statutory provisions grave enough to undermine confidence in the fairness and outcome of the certification proceedings. People ex rel. Ofengand, 183 P.3d 688 (Colo. App. 2008).

This inquiry includes: (1) the evaluation of the gravity of the deviation from statutory provisions, including a consideration of due process concerns; and (2) a determination of any prejudice to respondent caused by the deviation. People ex rel. Ofengand, 183 P.3d 688 (Colo. App. 2008).

Patient to be advised of available, voluntary treatments. A trial court exceeds its jurisdiction in affirming a petitioner's short-term certification, in light of the uncontroverted jury finding that the petitioner had not been properly advised of the availability of voluntary treatment for mental illness, as required by this section. Sisneros v. District Court, 199 Colo. 179, 606 P.2d 55 (1980).

Privilege against self-incrimination is inapplicable to civil commitment proceedings. Due process does not require that the fifth amendment privilege against self-incrimination be extended to this state's civil commitment proceedings. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Nor does privilege against self-incrimination apply to hearings on the forcible administration of medication, which occur during the civil commitment process. People ex rel. Strodman, ___ P.3d ___ (Colo. App. 2011).

Former §§ 27-10-111 (1) and 27-10-107 (3), read together, clearly and unambiguously grant a right to a jury hearing to a person being certified for short-term treatment. People in Interest of Hoylman, 865 P.2d 918 (Colo. App. 1993).

Failure to abide by statutory requirement of forthwith appointment of counsel in mental health certification proceeding did not constitute personal jurisdiction defect, as requirement for appointment of counsel did not affect the nature of notice to be given to mentally ill person or statutory requirements for acquisition of jurisdiction over person. People in Interest of Clinton, 762 P.2d 1381 (Colo. 1988).

Reversible error where trial court failed to comply with essential statutory provision requiring respondent's waiver of counsel to be made knowingly, intelligently, and in writing in a hearing involving a petition for involuntary administration of medication. People ex rel. Ofengand, 183 P.3d 688 (Colo. App. 2008).

III. FINDINGS NECESSARY.

If it is shown that person is mentally ill, short-term involuntary commitment cannot be justified unless it is shown that, as a result of such illness, the person is: (1) a danger to others; (2) a danger to himself; (3) "gravely disabled" because of an inability to take care of basic personal needs; or (4) "gravely disabled" because the person is "making irrational or grossly irresponsible decisions concerning his person and lacks the capacity to understand this is so". People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Section requires that causal nexus be established between a person's mental illness and the condition of being a danger to others or to himself or gravely disabled. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Disability sufficient to justify involuntary commitment must arise as result of mental illness; and in keeping with the statutory purpose, it must be so grave that the person's safety is threatened by his inability to take care of his basic personal needs. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Mere disability alone is insufficient to warrant involuntary commitment. Mere disability alone, even if found in conjunction with mental illness, is not enough to warrant involuntary commitment. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Dangerousness to others may be shown by evidence of injurious acts, attempts, or threats. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Dangerousness to oneself may be shown by similar evidence, where the individual's injurious behavior is directed toward himself. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Passive injury to oneself, because of an inability to take care of one's most basic personal needs, may be as dangerous or damaging to the individual as the active threat posed by suicide. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Standard of proof necessary to commit for short-term involuntary psychiatric treatment, "clear and convincing evidence", adopted by the general assembly for treatment, strikes a fair balance between the interest of the individual and the interest of the state. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Standard of proof met. Where three medical experts testified at appellant's certification hearing that she was dangerous or potentially dangerous to herself or to others there was clear and convincing evidence that there was a reasonable basis to believe that appellant's mental illness resulted in a present danger to herself or others, thereby satisfying the prerequisite conditions for short-term certification. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

27-65-108. Extension of short-term treatment. If the professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment believes that a period longer than three months is necessary for treatment of the respondent, he or she shall file with the court an extended certification. No extended certification for treatment shall be for a period of more than three months. The respondent shall be entitled to a hearing on the extended certification under the same conditions as in an original certification. The attorney initially representing the respondent shall continue to represent that person, unless the court appoints another attorney.

construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Applied in People v. Lane, 196 Colo. 42, 581 P.2d 719 (1978); People in Interest of Paiz, 43 Colo. App. 352, 603 P.2d 976 (1979); In re P.F. v. Walsh, 648 P.2d 1067 (Colo. 1982); Brown v. Jensen, 572 F. Supp. 193 (D. Colo. 1983).

27-65-109. Long-term care and treatment of persons with mental illness. (1) Whenever a respondent has received short-term treatment for five consecutive months under the provisions of sections 27-65-107 and 27-65-108, the professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment may file a petition with the court for long-term care and treatment of the respondent under the following conditions:

(a) The professional staff of the agency or facility providing short-term treatment has analyzed the respondent's condition and has found that the respondent has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled.

(b) The respondent has been advised of the availability of, but has not accepted, voluntary treatment; but, if reasonable grounds exist to believe that the respondent will not remain in a voluntary treatment program, his or her acceptance of voluntary treatment shall not preclude an order pursuant to this section.

(c) The facility that will provide long-term care and treatment has been designated or approved by the executive director to provide the care and treatment.

(2) Every petition for long-term care and treatment shall include a request for a hearing before the court prior to the expiration of six months from the date of original certification. A copy of the petition shall be delivered personally to the respondent for whom long-term care and treatment is sought and mailed to his or her attorney of record simultaneously with the filing thereof.

(3) Within ten days after receipt of the petition, the respondent or his or her attorney may request a jury trial by filing a written request therefor with the court.

(4) The court or jury shall determine whether the conditions of subsection (1) of this section are met and whether the respondent has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled. The court shall thereupon issue an order of long-term care and treatment for a term not to exceed six months, or it shall discharge the respondent for whom long-term care and treatment was sought, or it shall enter any other appropriate order, subject to available appropriations. An order for long-term care and treatment shall grant custody of the respondent to the department for placement with an agency or facility designated by the executive director to provide long-term care and treatment. When a petition contains a request that a specific legal disability be imposed or that a specific legal right be deprived, the court may order the disability imposed or the right deprived if it or a jury has determined that the respondent has a mental illness or is gravely disabled and that, by reason thereof, the person is unable to competently exercise said right or perform the function as to which the disability is sought to be imposed. Any interested person may ask leave of the court to intervene as a copetitioner for the purpose of seeking the imposition of a legal disability or the deprivation of a legal right.

(5) An original order of long-term care and treatment or any extension of such order shall expire upon the date specified therein, unless further extended as provided in this subsection (5). If an extension is being sought, the professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment shall certify to the court at least thirty days prior to the expiration date of the order in force that an extension of the order is necessary for the care and treatment of the respondent subject to the order in force, and a copy of the certification shall be delivered to the respondent and simultaneously mailed to his or her attorney of record. At least twenty days before the expiration of the order, the court shall give written notice to the respondent and his or her attorney of record that a hearing upon the extension may be had before the court or a jury upon written request to the court within ten days after receipt of the notice. If no hearing is requested by the respondent within such time, the court may proceed ex parte. If a hearing is timely requested, it shall be held before the expiration date of the order in force. If the court or jury finds that the conditions of subsection (1) of this section continue to be met and that the respondent has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled, the court shall issue an extension of the order. Any extension shall be for a period of not more than six months, but there may be as many extensions as the court orders pursuant to this section.

For article, "Pre-trial Technical Defenses to Mental Health Certification", see 17 Colo. Law. 1327 (1988).

Annotator's note. Since § 27-65-109 is similar to § 27-10-109 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

The term "danger" in subsection (1)(a) does not offend due process as long as the state proves by clear and convincing evidence that there is a reasonable basis to believe that the individual's mental illness results in a present danger to herself or others or renders her gravely disabled. People v. Stevens, 761 P. 2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

Less restrictive alternatives need not be considered as a condition precedent to certification. Civil commitment constitutes a severe infringement of liberty requiring due process protection. However, the statutory scheme set forth in this article contains a number of procedural safeguards that greatly reduce the inherent risk of erroneous deprivation. Therefore, due process does not require a mandatory hearing at the time of certification since the statute provides for a hearing on request. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

These statutory requirements are mandatory and must be strictly carried out. Watkins v. People, 140 Colo. 228, 344 P.2d 682 (1959).

Thus, the failure to deliver personally to a respondent in a mental health proceeding a copy of the petition for long-term care and treatment, as required by subsection (2), deprives the court of personal jurisdiction over the respondent to proceed on the petition and does not toll the relevant time limits for a hearing on the petition. Gilford v. People, 2 P.3d 120 (Colo. 2000).

But only statutory deviations that are considered serious enough to undermine the confidence in the fairness and outcome of judicial proceedings will justify a dismissal of an order that was not made in strict compliance with procedural aspects of the civil commitment statutes. Hearing for extension of long-term care and treatment and for administration of involuntary medications that took place six days after expiration of respondent's certification was held not to undermine the confidence in the fairness and outcome of the certification proceedings when respondent received a full hearing and had previously declined to have the hearing before the expiration date of the certication. People in Interest of Gilford, 983 P.2d 156 (Colo. App. 1999), cert. denied, No. 99SC404 (Colo. Aug. 23, 1999).

Key inquiry in determining whether a failure to follow the civil commitment statute was a violation of an individual's due process rights is whether the failure violates an "essential condition" of the statute. Such determination is made by evaluating the gravity of the deviation from the statutory procedures and requires consideration of any due process concerns and any prejudice to the respondent. People in Interest of Gilford, 983 P.2d 156 (Colo. App. 1999), cert. denied, No. 99SC404 (Colo. Aug. 23, 1999).

Special statutory proceeding. An action in the district court to inquire into the mental health of a party can best be described as a special statutory proceeding; it is neither a criminal case nor a civil action. Sabon v. People, 142 Colo. 323, 350 P.2d 576 (1960).

Request for jury trial must be honored. Where the respondent or his attorney requests a jury trial, the court is required to honor the request. Young v. Brofman, 139 Colo. 296, 338 P.2d 286 (1959).

Defendant held to have been wrongfully deprived of opportunity to demand a jury trial. Hultquist v. People, 77 Colo. 310, 236 P. 995 (1925).

Court may enter judgment notwithstanding the verdict on jury's factual finding under this section as a matter of law when the evidence is undisputed. People in Interest of Lees, 745 P.2d 281 (Colo. App. 1987).

The determination at a certification hearing as to whether a person is "gravely disabled" must focus on the individual's existing condition and not on the possibility of future relapse. People in Interest of Bucholz, 778 P.2d 300 (Colo. App. 1989).

Underlying propensity for dangerousness, even though related to future conduct, is sufficient to meet the test of presenting a danger to one's self and others. People in Interest of King, 795 P.2d 273 (Colo. App. 1990).

Review of commitment order based on erroneous diagnosis. Where an order of commitment is based on an erroneous diagnosis, that order can be reviewed on appeal. Zimmerman v. Angele, 137 Colo. 129, 321 P.2d 1105 (1958).

Subsection (5) extension runs from expiration of previous order. The period of extension allowed by subsection (5) is to run from the date the previous order expires, and not from the date the extension order is entered. People in Interest of Archuleta, 653 P.2d 93 (Colo. App. 1982).

Person confined only to extent necessary to protect society. A person who is found to be mentally ill is treated and confined only to the extent necessary for the protection of society.

Parks v. Denver District Court, 180 Colo. 202, 503 P.2d 1029 (1972).

Medication not to be given over incompetent's objection absent court order. Absent an emergency situation calling for immediate action (in which event the least intrusive means should be used by the physician to meet the emergency), antipsychotic medication shall not be administered to a mentally incompetent institutionalized patient who has not given his consent to this medication unless ordered by a court following a proper hearing. People in Interest of Medina, 662 P.2d 184 (Colo. App. 1982), aff'd, 705 P.2d 961 (Colo. 1985).

Order for involuntary medication must not extend beyond expiration date of the order of long-term care and treatment. Hopkins v. People, 772 P.2d 624 (Colo. App. 1988).

Applied in People v. Lane, 196 Colo. 42, 581 P.2d 719 (1978); People in Interest of Paiz, 43 Colo. App. 352, 603 P.2d 976 (1979); People v. Chavez, 629 P.2d 1040 (Colo. 1981); Brown v. Jensen, 572 F. Supp. 193 (D. Colo. 1983); People in Interest of Kleinfeldt, 680 P.2d 864 (Colo. App. 1984).

27-65-110. Termination of short-term and long-term treatment - escape. (1) An original certification for short-term treatment under section 27-65-107, or an extended certification under section 27-65-108, or an order for long-term care and treatment or any extension thereof shall terminate as soon as, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of treatment of the respondent, the respondent has received sufficient benefit from such treatment for him or her to leave. Whenever a certification or extended certification is terminated under this section, the professional person in charge of providing treatment shall so notify the court in writing within five days of such termination. Such professional person may also prescribe day care, night care, or any other similar mode of treatment prior to termination.

(2) Before termination, an escaped respondent may be returned to the facility by order of the court without a hearing or by the superintendent or director of such facility without order of court. After termination, a respondent may be returned to the institution only in accordance with the provisions of this article.

Superintendent may release inmate only upon restoration to reason. The only ground upon which the superintendent of the Colorado state hospital can legally release an inmate therefrom is restoration to reason. People ex rel. Best v. County Court, 110 Colo. 249, 132 P.2d 799 (1942).

When person is no longer insane he is restored to reason, and, consequently, when the court found respondent not mentally ill as charged in the complaint, the court had a duty to order her discharged, and in failing to do so, it committed error. In re People in Interest of Hill, 118 Colo. 571, 198 P.2d 450 (1948).

Standard of care for determining release. In determining whether to release an involuntarily committed mental patient, the psychiatrist has a legal duty to exercise due care, consistent with the knowledge and skill ordinarily possessed by psychiatric practitioners under similar circumstances to determine whether the patient has a propensity for violence and would present an unreasonable risk of serious bodily harm to others. Perreira v. State, 768 P.2d 1198 (Colo. 1989).

In discharging his duty, a psychiatrist may be required to take reasonable precautions to protect the public from the danger created by the release giving due consideration to extending the term of the patient's commitment or placing appropriate conditions and restrictions on such release. Perreira v. State, 768 P.2d 1198 (Colo. 1989).

Order remanding inmate to asylum without new trial by jury held proper. Where it appeared to the district court that an inmate of the state insane asylum, having received a probationary discharge, was not restored to reason, an order remanding him to the asylum without a new trial by jury was held proper. Metaxos v. People, 76 Colo. 264, 230 P. 608 (1924).

Distinction permitted from escape by person committed by criminal insanity adjudication. Given the state's obvious interest in protecting the public from those who previously have engaged in overt criminal conduct but have been relieved of criminal responsibility by reason of legal insanity, there is no difficulty in finding a rational basis for legislation that proscribes as criminal a knowing escape by a person committed to an institution as a result of an insanity adjudication in a criminal case, but does not impose a similar sanction upon a person who escapes from a facility to which he has been civilly committed. People v. Giles, 662 P.2d 1073 (Colo. 1983).

For continuing jurisdiction of district court, see Zimmerman v. Angele, 137 Colo. 129, 321 P.2d 1105 (1958).

27-65-111. Hearing procedures - jurisdiction. (1) Hearings before the court under section 27-65-107, 27-65-108, or 27-65-109 shall be conducted in the same manner as other civil proceedings before the court. The burden of proof shall be upon the person or facility seeking to detain the respondent. The court or jury shall determine that the respondent is in need of care and treatment only if the court or jury finds by clear and convincing evidence that the person has a mental illness and, as a result of the mental illness, is a danger to others or to himself or herself or is gravely disabled.

(2) The court, after consultation with respondent's counsel to obtain counsel's recommendations, may appoint a professional person to examine the respondent for whom short-term treatment or long-term care and treatment is sought and to testify at the hearing before the court as to the results of his or her examination. The court-appointed professional person shall act solely in an advisory capacity, and no presumption shall attach to his or her findings.

(3) Every respondent subject to an order for short-term treatment or long-term care and treatment shall be advised of his or her right to appeal the order by the court at the conclusion of any hearing as a result of which such an order may be entered.

(4) The court in which the petition is filed under section 27-65-106 or the certification is filed under section 27-65-107 shall be the court of original jurisdiction and of continuing jurisdiction for any further proceedings under this article. When the convenience of the parties and the ends of justice would be promoted by a change in the court having jurisdiction, the court may order a transfer of the proceeding to another county. Until further order of the transferee court, if any, it shall be the court of continuing jurisdiction.

(5) (a) In the event that a respondent or a person found not guilty by reason of impaired mental condition pursuant to section 16-8-103.5 (5), C.R.S., or by reason of insanity pursuant to section 16-8-105 (4) or 16-8-105.5, C.R.S., refuses to accept medication, the court having jurisdiction of the action pursuant to subsection (4) of this section, the court committing the person or defendant to the custody of the department pursuant to section 16-8-103.5 (5), 16-8-105 (4), or 16-8-105.5, C.R.S., or the court of the jurisdiction in which the designated facility treating the respondent or person is located shall have jurisdiction and venue to accept a petition by a treating physician and to enter an order requiring that the respondent or person accept such treatment or, in the alternative, that the medication be forcibly administered to him or her. The court of the jurisdiction in which the designated facility is located shall not exercise its jurisdiction without the permission of the court that committed the person to the custody of the department. Upon the filing of such a petition, the court shall appoint an attorney, if one has not been appointed, to represent the respondent or person and hear the matter within ten days.

(b) In any case brought under paragraph (a) of this subsection (5) in a court for the county in which the treating facility is located, the county where the proceeding was initiated pursuant to subsection (4) of this section or the court committing the person to the custody of the department pursuant to section 16-8-103.5 (5), 16-8-105 (4), or 16-8-105.5, C.R.S., shall either reimburse the county in which the proceeding pursuant to this subsection (5) was filed and in which the proceeding was held for the reasonable costs incurred in conducting the proceeding or conduct the proceeding itself using its own personnel and resources, including its own district or county attorney, as the case may be.

(c) In the case of a defendant who is found incompetent to proceed pursuant to section 16-8.5-103, C.R.S., and who refuses to accept medication, the jurisdiction for the petition for involuntary treatment procedures shall be as set forth in section 16-8.5-112, C.R.S.

(6) All proceedings under this article, including proceedings to impose a legal disability pursuant to section 27-65-127, shall be conducted by the district attorney of the county where the proceeding is held or by a qualified attorney acting for the district attorney appointed by the district court for that purpose; except that, in any county or in any city and county having a population exceeding fifty thousand persons, the proceedings shall be conducted by the county attorney or by a qualified attorney acting for the county attorney appointed by the district court. In any case in which there has been a change of venue to a county other than the county of residence of the respondent or the county in which the certification proceeding was commenced, the county from which the proceeding was transferred shall either reimburse the county to which the proceeding was transferred and in which the proceeding was held for the reasonable costs incurred in conducting the proceeding or conduct the proceeding itself using its own personnel and resources, including its own district or county attorney, as the case may be. Upon request of a guardian appointed pursuant to article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., the guardian may intervene in any proceeding under this article concerning his or her ward and, through counsel, may present evidence and represent to the court the views of the guardian concerning the appropriate disposition of the case.

Annotator's note. Since § 27-65-111 is similar to § 27-10-111 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Involuntary commitment to mental hospital is deprivation of liberty which the state cannot accomplish without procedural safeguards. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Privilege against self-incrimination inapplicable to civil commitment proceedings. Due process does not require that the fifth amendment privilege against self-incrimination be extended to Colorado's civil commitment proceedings. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Former §§ 27-10-111 (1) and 27-10-107 (3), read together, clearly and unambiguously grant a right to a jury hearing to a person being certified for short-term treatment. People in Interest of Hoylman, 865 P.2d 918 (Colo. App. 1993).

The term "danger" in subsection (1) does not offend due process as long as the state proves by clear and convincing evidence that there is a reasonable basis to believe that the individual's mental illness results in a present danger to herself or others or renders her gravely disabled. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

Standard of proof meets minimum standards of procedural due process. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Less restrictive alternatives need not be considered as a condition precedent to certification. Civil commitment constitutes a severe infringement of liberty requiring due process protection. However, the statutory scheme set forth in this article contains a number of procedural safeguards that greatly reduce the inherent risk of erroneous deprivation. Therefore, due process does not require a mandatory hearing at the time of certification since the statute provides for a hearing on request. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

"Clear and convincing evidence", required by subsection (1), is evidence which is stronger than a preponderance of the evidence, and which is unmistakable and free from serious or substantial doubt. People v. Lane, 196 Colo. 42, 581 P.2d 719 (1978).

Where three medical experts testified at the certification hearing that appellant was potentially dangerous to herself or to others, there was clear and convincing evidence that there was a reasonable basis to believe that appellant's mental illness resulted in a present danger to herself or others, thereby satisfying the prerequisite conditions for short-term certification pursuant to former § 27-10-107. People v. Stevens, 761 P.2d 768 (Colo. 1988).

The need for electroconvulsive therapy for a person involuntarily committed must be established by clear and convincing evidence. People in Interest of M.K.M., 765 P.2d 1075 (Colo. App. 1988).

If it is shown that person is mentally ill, short-term involuntary commitment cannot be justified unless it is shown that, as a result of such illness, the person is: (1) a danger to others; (2) a danger to himself; (3) "gravely disabled" because of an inability to take care of basic personal needs; or (4) "gravely disabled" because the person is "making irrational or grossly irresponsible decisions concerning his person and lacks the capacity to understand this is so". People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Mere disability alone is insufficient to warrant involuntary commitment. Mere disability alone, even if found in conjunction with mental illness, is not enough to warrant involuntary commitment. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Dangerousness to others may be shown by evidence of injurious acts, attempts, or threats. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Dangerousness to oneself may be shown by similar evidence, where the individual's injurious behavior is directed toward himself. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Passive injury to oneself, because of an inability to take care of one's most basic personal needs, may be as dangerous or damaging to the individual as the active threat posed by suicide. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Former § 27-10-107 requires that a causal nexus be established between a person's mental illness and the condition of being a danger to others or to himself or gravely disabled. People v. Taylor, 618 P.2d 1127 (Colo. 1980).

Uncorroborated psychiatric opinion sufficient. In some cases, a psychiatric opinion, not corroborated by evidence of recent dangerous conduct, may constitute "clear and convincing evidence" of dangerousness, and therefore may be sufficient to sustain a commitment based on dangerousness. People v. Lane, 196 Colo. 42, 581 P.2d 719 (1978).

Right of indigent appellant to transcript at state expense. An indigent appellant in a mental health proceeding for involuntary confinement and treatment has a right under the due process guarantees of the United States and Colorado constitutions to a transcript at state expense. Goedecke v. State Dept. of Insts., 198 Colo. 407, 603 P.2d 123 (1979).

Stringent release standards reasonably related to public safety. The more stringent standards of release applicable to the criminally committed defendant reflect the increased risk to the public associated with the release decision, and, as in the case of automatic commitment, they are reasonably related to the state's interest in public safety. People v. Chavez, 629 P.2d 1040 (Colo. 1981).

Court order required for administering medication to incompetent absent his consent. Absent an emergency situation calling for immediate action (in which event the least intrusive means should be used by the physician to meet the emergency), antipsychotic medication shall not be administered to a mentally incompetent institutionalized patient who has not given his consent to this medication unless ordered by a court following a proper hearing. People in Interest of Medina, 662 P.2d 184 (Colo. App. 1982), aff'd, 705 P.2d 961 (Colo. 1985); People v. Pflugbeil, 834 P.2d 843 (Colo. App. 1992).

Assistant county attorney is absolutely immune from suit concerning her actions and omissions related to the fulfillment of her statutory obligation pursuant to former subsection (5) to conduct commitment proceedings once the petition for a 72-hour evaluation has been submitted. Scott v. Hern, 216 F.3d 897 (10th Cir. 2000).

27-65-112. Appeals. Appellate review of any order of short-term treatment or long-term care and treatment may be had as provided in the Colorado appellate rules. Such appeal shall be advanced upon the calendar of the appellate court and shall be decided at the earliest practicable time. Pending disposition by the appellate court, it may make such order as it may consider proper in the premises relating to the care and custody of the respondent.

27-65-116. Right to treatment. (1) (a) Any person receiving evaluation or treatment under any of the provisions of this article is entitled to medical and psychiatric care and treatment, with regard to services listed in section 27-66-101 and services listed in rules authorized by section 27-66-102, suited to meet his or her individual needs, delivered in such a way as to keep him or her in the least restrictive environment, and delivered in such a way as to include the opportunity for participation of family members in his or her program of care and treatment when appropriate, all subject to available appropriations. Nothing in this paragraph (a) shall create any right with respect to any person other than the person receiving evaluation, care, or treatment. The professional person and the agency or facility providing evaluation, care, or treatment shall keep records detailing all care and treatment received by such person, and such records shall be made available, upon that person's written authorization, to his or her attorney or his or her personal physician. Such records shall be permanent records and retained in accordance with the provisions of section 27-65-121 (4).

(b) Any person receiving evaluation or treatment under any of the provisions of this article is entitled to petition the court pursuant to the provisions of section 13-45-102, C.R.S., subject to available appropriations, for release to a less restrictive setting within or without a treating facility or release from a treating facility when adequate medical and psychiatric care and treatment is not administered.

(2) The department shall adopt regulations to assure that each agency or facility providing evaluation, care, or treatment shall require the following:

(a) Consent for specific therapies and major medical treatment in the nature of surgery. The nature of the consent, by whom it is given, and under what conditions, shall be determined by rules of the department.

(b) The order of a physician for any treatment or specific therapy based on appropriate medical examinations;

(c) Notation in the patient's treatment record of periodic examinations, evaluations, orders for treatment, and specific therapies signed by personnel involved;

(d) Conduct according to the guidelines contained in the regulations of the federal government and the department with regard to clinical investigations, research, experimentation, and testing of any kind; and

(e) Documentation of the findings, conclusions, and decisions in any administrative review of a decision to release or withhold the information requested by a family member pursuant to section 27-65-121 (1) (g) or (1) (h) and documentation of any information given to a family member.

27-65-117. Rights of persons receiving evaluation, care, or treatment. (1) Each person receiving evaluation, care, or treatment under any provision of this article has the following rights and shall be advised of such rights by the facility:

(a) To receive and send sealed correspondence. No incoming or outgoing correspondence shall be opened, delayed, held, or censored by the personnel of the facility.

(b) To have access to letter-writing materials, including postage, and to have staff members of the facility assist him or her if unable to write, prepare, and mail correspondence;

(c) To have ready access to telephones, both to make and to receive calls in privacy;

(d) To have frequent and convenient opportunities to meet with visitors. Each person may see his or her attorney, clergyman, or physician at any time.

(e) To wear his or her own clothes, keep and use his or her own personal possessions, and keep and be allowed to spend a reasonable sum of his or her own money.

(2) A person's rights under subsection (1) of this section may be denied for good cause only by the professional person providing treatment. Denial of any right shall in all cases be entered into the person's treatment record. Information pertaining to a denial of rights contained in the person's treatment record shall be made available, upon request, to the person or his or her attorney.

(3) No person admitted to or in a facility shall be fingerprinted unless required by other provisions of law.

(4) A person may be photographed upon admission for identification and the administrative purposes of the facility. The photographs shall be confidential and shall not be released by the facility except pursuant to court order. No other nonmedical photographs shall be taken or used without appropriate consent or authorization.

(5) Any person receiving evaluation or treatment under any of the provisions of this article is entitled to a written copy of all his or her rights enumerated in this section, and a minor child shall receive written notice of his or her rights as provided in section 27-65-103 (7) (g). A list of such rights shall be prominently posted in all evaluation and treatment facilities.

27-65-121. Records. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, all information obtained and records prepared in the course of providing any services under this article to individuals under any provision of this article shall be confidential and privileged matter. The information and records may be disclosed only:

(a) In communications between qualified professional personnel in the provision of services or appropriate referrals;

(b) When the recipient of services designates persons to whom information or records may be released; but, if a recipient of services is a ward or conservatee and his or her guardian or conservator designates, in writing, persons to whom records or information may be disclosed, the designation shall be valid in lieu of the designation by the recipient; except that nothing in this section shall be construed to compel a physician, psychologist, social worker, nurse, attorney, or other professional personnel to reveal information that has been given to him or her in confidence by members of a patient's family or other informants;

(c) To the extent necessary to make claims on behalf of a recipient of aid, insurance, or medical assistance to which he or she may be entitled;

(d) If the department has promulgated rules for the conduct of research. Such rules shall include, but not be limited to, the requirement that all researchers must sign an oath of confidentiality. All identifying information concerning individual patients, including names, addresses, telephone numbers, and social security numbers, shall not be disclosed for research purposes.

(e) To the courts, as necessary to the administration of the provisions of this article;

(f) To persons authorized by an order of court after notice and opportunity for hearing to the person to whom the record or information pertains and the custodian of the record or information pursuant to the Colorado rules of civil procedure;

(g) To adult family members upon admission of a person with a mental illness for inpatient or residential care and treatment. The only information released pursuant to this paragraph (g) shall be the location and fact of admission of the person with a mental illness who is receiving care and treatment. The disclosure of location is governed by the procedures in section 27-65-122 and is subject to review under section 27-65-122.

(h) To adult family members actively participating in the care and treatment of a person with a mental illness regardless of the length of the participation. The information released pursuant to this paragraph (h) shall be limited to one or more of the following: The diagnosis, the prognosis, the need for hospitalization and anticipated length of stay, the discharge plan, the medication administered and side effects of the medication, and the short-term and long-term treatment goals. The disclosure is governed by the procedures in section 27-65-122 (2) and is subject to review under section 27-65-122.

(i) In accordance with state and federal law to the agency designated pursuant to the federal "Protection and Advocacy for Mentally Ill Individuals Act", 42 U.S.C. sec. 10801, et seq., as the governor's protection and advocacy system for Colorado.

(2) Nothing in paragraph (g) or (h) of subsection (1) of this section shall be deemed to preclude the release of information to a parent concerning his or her minor child.

(3) (a) Nothing in this article shall be construed as rendering privileged or confidential any information, except written medical records and information that is privileged under section 13-90-107, C.R.S., concerning observed behavior that constitutes a criminal offense committed upon the premises of any facility providing services under this article or any criminal offense committed against any person while performing or receiving services under this article.

(b) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to physicians or psychologists eligible to testify concerning a criminal defendant's mental condition pursuant to section 16-8-103.6, C.R.S.

(4) (a) All facilities shall maintain and retain permanent records, including all applications as required pursuant to section 27-65-105 (3).

(b) Outpatient or ambulatory care facilities shall retain all records for a minimum of seven years after discharge from the facility for persons who were eighteen years of age or older when admitted to the facility, or until twenty-five years of age for persons who were under eighteen years of age when admitted to the facility.

(c) Inpatient or hospital care facilities shall retain all records for a minimum of ten years after discharge from the facility for persons who were eighteen years of age or older when admitted to the facility, or until twenty-eight years of age for persons who were under eighteen years of age when admitted to the facility.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit or limit the sharing of information by a state institution of higher education police department to authorized university administrators pursuant to section 23-5-141, C.R.S.

27-65-122. Request for release of information - procedures - review of a decision concerning release of information. (1) When a family member requests the location and fact of admission of a person with a mental illness pursuant to section 27-65-121 (1) (g), the treating professional person or his or her designee, who shall be a professional person, shall decide whether to release or withhold such information. The location shall be released unless the treating professional person or his or her designee determines, after an interview with the person with a mental illness, that release of the information to a particular family member would not be in the best interests of the person with a mental illness. Any decision to withhold information requested pursuant to section 27-65-121 (1) (g) is subject to administrative review pursuant to this section upon request of a family member or the person with a mental illness. The treating facility shall make a record of the information given to a family member pursuant to this subsection (1). For the purposes of this subsection (1), an adult person having a similar relationship to a person with a mental illness as a spouse, parent, child, or sibling of a person with a mental illness may also request the location and fact of admission concerning a person with a mental illness.

(2) (a) When a family member requests information pursuant to section 27-65-121 (1) (h) concerning a person with a mental illness, the treating professional person or his or her designee shall determine whether the person with a mental illness is capable of making a rational decision in weighing his or her confidentiality interests and the care and treatment interests implicated by the release of information. The treating professional person or his or her designee shall then determine whether the person with a mental illness consents or objects to such release. Information shall be released or withheld in the following circumstances:

(I) If the treating professional person or his or her designee makes a finding that the person with a mental illness is capable of making a rational decision concerning his or her interests and the person with a mental illness consents to the release of information, the treating professional person or his or her designee shall order the release of the information unless he or she determines that the release would not be in the best interests of the person with a mental illness.

(II) If the treating professional person or his or her designee makes a finding that the person with a mental illness is capable of making a rational decision concerning his or her interests and the person with a mental illness objects to the release of information, the treating professional person or his or her designee shall not order the release of the information.

(III) If the treating professional person or his or her designee makes a finding that the person with a mental illness is not capable of making a rational decision concerning his or her interests, the treating professional person or his or her designee may order the release of the information if he or she determines that the release would be in the best interests of the person with a mental illness.

(IV) Any determination as to capacity under this paragraph (a) shall be used only for the limited purpose of this paragraph (a).

(b) A decision by a treating professional person or his or her designee concerning the capability of a person with a mental illness under subparagraph (III) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) is subject to administrative review upon the request of the person with a mental illness. A decision by a treating professional person or his or her designee to order the release or withholding of information under subparagraph (III) of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) is subject to administrative review upon the request of either a family member or the person with a mental illness.

(c) The director of the treating facility shall make a record of any information given to a family member pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) and section 27-65-121 (1) (h).

(3) When administrative review is requested either under subsection (1) or paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of this section, the director of the facility providing care and treatment to the person with a mental illness shall cause an objective and impartial review of the decision to withhold or release information. The review shall be conducted by the director of the facility, if he or she is a professional person, or by a professional person whom he or she designates if the director is not available or if the director cannot provide an objective and impartial review. The review shall include, but need not be limited to, an interview with the person with a mental illness. The facility providing care and treatment shall document the review of the decision.

(4) If a person with a mental illness objects to the release or withholding of information, the person with a mental illness and his or her attorney, if any, shall be provided with information concerning the procedures for administrative review of a decision to release or withhold information. The person with a mental illness shall be informed of any information proposed to be withheld or released and to whom and shall be given a reasonable opportunity to initiate the administrative review process before information concerning his or her care and treatment is released.

(5) A family member whose request for information is denied shall be provided with information concerning the procedures for administrative review of a decision to release or withhold information.

(6) A person with a mental illness may file a written request for review by the court of a decision made upon administrative review to release information to a family member requested under section 27-65-121 (1) (h) and proposed to be released pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. If judicial review is requested, the court shall hear the matter within ten days after the request, and the court shall give notice to the person with a mental illness and his or her attorney, the treating professional person, and the person who made the decision upon administrative review of the time and place thereof. The hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as other civil proceedings before the court.

(7) In order to allow a person with a mental illness an opportunity to seek judicial review, the treating facility or the treating professional person or his or her designee shall not release information requested pursuant to section 27-65-121 (1) (h) until five days after the determination upon administrative review of the director or his or her designee is received by the person with a mental illness, and, once judicial review is requested, information shall not be released except by court order. However, if the person with a mental illness indicates an intention not to appeal a determination upon administrative review that is adverse to him or her concerning the release of information, the information may be released less than five days after the determination upon review is received by the person with a mental illness.

(8) This section provides for the release of information only and shall not be deemed to authorize the release of the written medical record without authorization by the patient or as otherwise provided by law.

(9) For purposes of this section, the treating professional person's designee shall be a professional person.

27-65-123. Treatment in federal facilities. (1) If a person is certified under the provisions of this article and is eligible for hospital care or treatment by an agency of the United States and if a certificate of notification from said agency, showing that facilities are available and that the person is eligible for care or treatment therein, is received, the court may order him or her to be placed in the custody of the agency for hospitalization. When any person is admitted pursuant to an order of court to any hospital or institution operated by any agency of the United States within or without this state, the person shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the agency. The chief officer of any hospital or institution operated by an agency and in which the person is so hospitalized shall, with respect to the person, be vested with the same powers as the chief officer of the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo with respect to detention, custody, transfer, conditional release, or discharge of patients. Jurisdiction shall be retained in the appropriate courts of this state to inquire into the mental condition of persons so hospitalized and to determine the necessity for continuance of their hospitalization.

(2) An order of a court of competent jurisdiction of another state, territory, or the District of Columbia, authorizing hospitalization of a person to any agency of the United States, shall have the same effect as to said person while in this state as in the jurisdiction in which the court entering the order is situated; the courts of the state or district issuing the order shall be deemed to have retained jurisdiction of the person so hospitalized for the purpose of inquiring into his or her mental condition and of determining the necessity for continuance of his or her hospitalization. Consent is hereby given to the application of the law of the state or district in which the court issuing the order for hospitalization is located, with respect to the authority of the chief officer of any hospital or institution operated in this state by any agency of the United States to retain custody, to transfer, to conditionally release, or to discharge the person hospitalized.

27-65-127. Imposition of legal disability - deprivation of legal right - restoration. (1) (a) When an interested person wishes to obtain a determination as to the imposition of a legal disability or the deprivation of a legal right for a person who has a mental illness and who is a danger to himself or herself or others, is gravely disabled, or is insane, as defined in section 16-8-101, C.R.S., and who is not then subject to proceedings under this article or part 3 or part 4 of article 14 of title 15, C.R.S., the interested person may petition the court for a specific finding as to the legal disability or deprivation of a legal right. Actions commenced pursuant to this subsection (1) may include but shall not be limited to actions to determine contractual rights and rights with regard to the operation of motor vehicles.

(b) The petition shall set forth the disability to be imposed or the legal right to be deprived and the reasons therefor.

(2) The court may impose a legal disability or may deprive a person of a legal right only upon finding both of the following:

(a) That the respondent is a person with a mental illness and is a danger to himself or herself or others, gravely disabled, or insane, as defined in section 16-8-101, C.R.S.;

(b) That the requested disability or deprivation is both necessary and desirable.

(3) To have a legal disability removed or a legal right restored, any interested person may file a petition with the court which made the original finding. No legal disability shall be imposed nor a legal right be deprived for a period of more than six months without a review hearing by the court at the end of six months at which the findings specified in subsection (2) of this section shall be reaffirmed to justify continuance of the disability or deprivation. A copy of the petition shall be served on the person who filed the original petition, on the person whose rights are affected if he or she is not the petitioner, and upon the facility where the person whose rights are affected resides, if any.

(4) Whenever any proceedings are instituted or conducted pursuant to this section, the following procedures shall apply:

(a) Upon the filing of a petition, the court shall appoint an attorney-at-law to represent the respondent. The respondent may replace said attorney with an attorney of the respondent's own selection at any time. Attorney fees for an indigent respondent shall be paid by the court.

(b) The court, upon request of an indigent respondent or his or her attorney, shall appoint, at the court's expense, one or more professional persons of the respondent's selection to assist the respondent in the preparation of his or her case.

(c) Upon demand made at least five days prior to the date of hearing, the respondent shall have the right to a trial of all issues by a jury of six.

(d) At all times the burden shall be upon the person seeking imposition of a disability or deprivation of a legal right or opposing removal of a disability or deprivation to prove all essential elements by clear and convincing evidence.

(e) Pending a hearing, the court may issue an order temporarily imposing a disability or depriving the respondent of a legal right for a period of not more than ten days in conformity with the standards for issuance of ex parte temporary restraining orders in civil cases, but no individual habilitation or rehabilitation plan shall be required prior to the issuance of such order.

(f) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection (4), all proceedings shall be held in conformance with the Colorado rules of civil procedure, but no costs shall be assessed against the respondent.

(5) Any person who, by reason of a judicial decree or order entered by a court of this state prior to July 1, 1979, is under the imposition of a legal disability or has been deprived of a legal right pursuant to this section as it existed prior to July 1, 1979, shall be released from such decree or order on December 31, 1979.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. Since § 27-65-127 is similar to § 27-10-125 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Equal protection not violated. There is a rational basis for distinguishing between this section and former § 27-10-107; the sections address parties who are not similarly situated. Curnow v. Yarbrough, 676 P.2d 1177 (Colo. 1984).

Court may issue order depriving involuntarily committed person of the legal right to possess weapons pursuant to this section. People v. Pflugbeil, 834 P.2d 843 (Colo. App. 1992).

Subsection (1)(a)'s plain meaning provides that an interested person may initiate a court proceeding when (1) the subject is insane, as defined in § 16-8-101, and (2) the person is not then subject to proceedings under this article. The statute presupposes that a not guilty by reason of insanity adjudicated patient could be subject to provisions under this article. The statute also presupposes that not every not guilty by reason of insanity patient is subject to this article. Neiberger v. Hawkins, 239 F. Supp. 2d 1140 (D. Colo. 2002).

Applied in Brown v. Jensen, 572 F. Supp. 193 (D. Colo. 1983).

27-65-129. Payment for counsel. In order to provide legal representation to persons eligible therefor as provided in this article, the judicial department is authorized to pay, out of appropriations made therefor by the general assembly, sums directly to appointed counsel on a case-by-case basis or, on behalf of the state, to make lump-sum grants to and contract with individual attorneys, legal partnerships, legal professional corporations, public interest law firms, or nonprofit legal services corporations.

27-65-131. Advisory board - service standards and rules. There is hereby established an advisory board to the department for the purpose of assisting and advising the executive director in accordance with section 27-65-130 in the development of service standards and rules. The board shall consist of not less than eleven nor more than fifteen members appointed by the governor and shall include one representative each from the unit in the department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse, the department of human services, the department of public health and environment, the university of Colorado health sciences center, and a leading professional association of psychiatrists in this state; at least one member representing proprietary skilled health care facilities; one member representing nonprofit health care facilities; one member representing the Colorado bar association; one member representing consumers of mental health services; one member representing families of persons with mental illness; one member representing children's health care facilities; and other persons from both the private and the public sectors who are recognized or known to be interested and informed in the area of the board's purpose and function. In making appointments to the board, the governor is encouraged to include representation by at least one member who is a person with a disability, as defined in section 24-45.5-102 (2),

C.R.S., a family member of a person with a disability, or a member of an advocacy group for persons with disabilities, provided that the other requirements of this section are met.

27-66-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Acute treatment unit” means a facility or a distinct part of a facility for short-term psychiatric care, which may include substance abuse treatment, that provides a total, twenty-four-hour, therapeutically planned and professionally staffed environment for persons who do not require inpatient hospitalization but need more intense and individual services than are available on an outpatient basis, such as crisis management and stabilization services.

(2) “Community mental health center” means either a physical plant or a group of services under unified administration or affiliated with one another, and including at least the following services provided for the prevention and treatment of mental illness in persons residing in a particular community in or near the facility so situated:

- (a) Inpatient services;
- (b) Outpatient services;
- (c) Partial hospitalization;
- (d) Emergency services;
- (e) Consultative and educational services.

(3) “Community mental health clinic” means a health institution planned, organized, operated, and maintained to provide basic community services for the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of emotional or mental disorders, such services being rendered primarily on an outpatient and consultative basis.

(4) “Department” means the department of human services created in section 26-1-105, C.R.S.

(5) “Executive director” means the executive director of the department of human services.

(6) “Unit” means the unit in the department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse.

ANNOTATION

This program does not provide substantive rights to community treatment for chronically ill persons. Goebel v. State Dept. of Insts., 764

P.2d 785 (Colo. 1988) (decided prior to 2010 amendments to this article).

27-66-104. Types of services purchased - limitation on payments - offender mental health services fund. (1) Community mental health services may be purchased from clinics, community mental health centers, local general or psychiatric hospitals, and other agencies that have been approved by the executive director.

(2) (a) Each year the general assembly shall appropriate funds for the purchase of mental health services from:

(I) Community mental health centers;

(II) Agencies that provide specialized clinic-type services but do not serve a specific designated service area; and

(III) Acute treatment units.

(b) The funds appropriated for the purposes of this subsection (2) shall be distributed by the executive director to approved community mental health centers and other agencies on the basis of need and in accordance with the services provided.

(3) Each year the general assembly may appropriate funds in addition to those appropriated for purposes of subsection (2) of this section, which funds may be used by the executive director to assist community mental health clinics and centers in instituting innovative programs, in providing mental health services to impoverished areas, and in dealing with crisis situations. The executive director shall require that any innovative or crisis programs for which funds are allocated under this subsection (3) be clearly defined in terms of services to be rendered, program objectives, scope and duration of the program, and the maximum amount of funds to be provided.

(4) The offender mental health services fund, referred to in this subsection (4) as the “fund”, is hereby created in the state treasury. The principal of the fund shall consist of tobacco litigation settlement moneys transferred by the state treasurer to the fund in accordance with section 24-75-1104.5 (1.5) (a) (II), C.R.S., for the purchase of mental health services for juvenile and adult offenders who have mental health problems and are involved in the criminal justice system. The unit, subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly, shall distribute the principal of the fund to the community mental health centers; except that, at the end of the 2011-12 fiscal year and at the end of each fiscal year thereafter, all unexpended and unencumbered principal of the fund shall be transferred to the general fund, in accordance with section 24-75-1104.5 (1.5) (b), C.R.S.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (4) to the contrary, on April 20, 2009, the state treasurer shall deduct two hundred forty-six thousand three hundred fifty dollars from the fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(5) If there is a reduction in the financial support of local governmental bodies for community mental health services, the executive director is authorized to reduce state payments for services in an amount proportional to the reduction in such local financial support.

(6) For purposes of entering into a cooperative purchasing agreement pursuant to section 24-110-201, C.R.S., a nonprofit community mental health center or a nonprofit community mental health clinic may be certified as a local public procurement unit as provided in section 24-110-207.5, C.R.S.

27-66-105. Standards for approval. (1) In approving or rejecting community mental health clinics for the purchase of mental health services, the executive director shall:

(a) Consider the adequacy of mental health services provided by such clinics, taking into consideration such factors as geographic location, local economic conditions, and availability of manpower;

(b) Require that overall responsibility for the administration of a community mental health clinic be vested in a director who is a physician or a member of one of the mental health professions;

(c) Require that the treatment programs of the clinic be under the overall direction of a psychiatrist who is a physician licensed to practice medicine in the state of Colorado;

(d) Require that the clinic staff include, wherever feasible, other professional staff workers, such as psychologists, social workers, educational consultants, and nurses, with such qualifications, responsibilities, and time on the job as correspond with the size and capacity of the clinic. The clinic staff may include, with the approval of the executive director, such other nonprofessional persons as may be deemed necessary by the clinic board for the proper discharge of its functions.

(e) Require that each clinic from which services may be purchased be under the control and direction of a county or community board of health, a board of directors or trustees of a corporation, for profit or not for profit, a regional mental health and mental retardation board, or a political subdivision of the state;

(f) Consider the existence of facilities that provide an emphasis on the care and treatment of persons recently released from mental hospitals or institutions directed toward assisting said persons in their adjustment to and functioning within society as a whole.

(2) In approving or rejecting local general or psychiatric hospitals, community mental health centers, acute treatment units, and other agencies for the purchase of services not provided by local mental health clinics, including, but not limited to, twenty-four-hour and partial hospitalization, the executive director shall consider the following factors:

- (a) The general quality of care provided to patients by such agencies;
- (b) The organization of the medical staff to provide for the integration and coordination of the psychiatric treatment program;
- (c) The provisions for the availability of nursing, psychological, and social services and the existence of an organized program of activities under the direction of an occupational therapist or of another qualified person;
- (d) The licensure by the department of public health and environment or another state agency where applicable;
- (e) The methods by which the agency coordinates its services with those rendered by other agencies to ensure an uninterrupted continuum of care to persons with mental illness; and
- (f) The availability of such services to the general public.

(3) In the purchase of services from community mental health centers, the executive director shall specify levels and types of inpatient, outpatient, consultation, education, and training services and expenditures and shall establish minimum standards for other programs of such centers that are to be supported with state funds.

27-67-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that many parents in Colorado have experienced challenging circumstances because their children have significant mental health needs. Many times, the parents are loving, caring parents who have become increasingly frustrated in their attempts to navigate the various governmental systems including child welfare, mental health, law enforcement, juvenile justice, education, and youth corrections in an attempt to find help for their children. Frequently in these situations an action in dependency or neglect under article 3 of title 19, C.R.S., is neither appropriate nor warranted.
(2) The general assembly finds that it is desirable to assist children with mental health needs and their families. The general assembly further finds that it is desirable to make mental health services more available to families who want treatment for their children. The general assembly finds that, although the mental health agencies are responsible for providing the full range of mental health treatment services, including residential care, for those children who have been found to be categorically eligible for medicaid, there remains a population of children in need of mental health services who are not categorically eligible for medicaid. Accordingly, the general assembly determines that it is appropriate to adopt a program pursuant to which a continuum of services would be provided to these children.

27-67-103. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) "Behavioral health organization" shall have the same meaning as provided in section 25.5-5-403 (1), C.R.S.
- (2) "Child at risk of out-of-home placement" means a child who, although not otherwise categorically eligible for medicaid, meets the following criteria:
 - (a) Has been diagnosed as having a mental illness, as defined in section 27-65-102 (14);
 - (b) Requires a level of care that is provided in a residential child care facility pursuant to section 25.5-5-306, C.R.S., or that is provided through in-home or community-based programs and who, without such care, is at risk of out-of-home placement;
 - (c) If determined to be in need of placement in a residential child care facility, is determined to be eligible for supplemental security income; and
 - (d) For whom it is inappropriate or unwarranted to file an action in dependency or neglect pursuant to article 3 of title 19, C.R.S.
- (3) "Community mental health center" means either a physical plant or a group of services under unified administration or affiliated with one another and includes at least the following services provided for the prevention and treatment of mental illness in persons residing in a particular community in or near the facility or group so situated:
 - (a) Inpatient services;
 - (b) Outpatient services;
 - (c) Partial hospitalization;
 - (d) Emergency services; and
 - (e) Consultative and educational services.
- (4) "County department" means the county or district department of social services.
- (5) "Master settlement agreement" means the master settlement agreement, the smokeless tobacco master settlement agreement, and the consent decree approved and entered by the court in the case denominated State of Colorado, ex rel. Gale A. Norton, Attorney General v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.; American Tobacco Co., Inc.; Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.; Liggett & Myers, Inc.; Lorillard Tobacco Co., Inc.; Philip Morris, Inc.; United States Tobacco Co.; B.A.T. Industries, P.L.C.; The Council For Tobacco Research—U.S.A., Inc.; and Tobacco Institute, Inc., Case No. 97 CV 3432, in the district court for the city and county of Denver.
- (6) "Mental health agency" means the community mental health center serving children in a particular geographic area or the behavioral health organization serving children in a particular geographic area who are receiving medicaid.
- (7) "State department" means the state department of human services.

27-67-104. Provision of mental health treatment services for youth. (1) (a) A parent or guardian may apply to a mental health agency on behalf of his or her minor child for mental health treatment services for the child pursuant to this section, whether the child is categorically eligible for medicaid under the capitated mental health system described in section 25.5-5-411, C.R.S., or whether the parent believes his or her child is a child at risk of out-of-home placement. In such circumstances, it shall be the responsibility of the mental health agency to evaluate the child and to clinically assess the child's need for mental health services and, when warranted, to provide treatment services as necessary and in the best interests of the child and the child's family. Subject to available state appropriations, the mental health agency shall be responsible for the provision of the treatment services and care management, including any in-home family mental health treatment, other family preservation services, residential treatment, or any post-residential follow-up services that may be appropriate for the child's or family's needs. For the purposes of this section, the term "care management" includes, but is not limited to, consideration of the continuity of care and array of services necessary for appropriately treating the child and the decision-making authority regarding a child's placement in and discharge from mental health services. A dependency or neglect action pursuant to article 3 of title 19, C.R.S., shall not be required in order to allow a family access to residential mental health treatment services for a child.

(b) At the time of the assessment by the mental health agency, if residential services are denied, or at the time when the mental health agency has recommended that the child be discharged from services, the mental health agency shall advise the family, both orally and in writing, of the appeal process available to them. The mental health agency shall have two working days within which to complete any internal appeal process. Within five working days after the mental health agency's final denial or recommendation for discharge, a parent or guardian may request an objective third party at the state department who is a professional person, as that term is defined in section 27-65-102 (17), to review the action of the mental health agency. The review shall occur within three working days of the parent's or guardian's request.

(2) If at any time the mental health agency determines pursuant to section 19-3-304, C.R.S., that there is reasonable cause to know or suspect that a child has been subjected to abuse or neglect, then the mental health agency shall immediately contact the appropriate county department. Within ten days after the referral to the county department, the mental health agency shall meet with the county department and the family. Upon referral to the county department, the county department shall proceed with an assessment to determine whether there is a sufficient basis to believe that physical or sexual abuse or neglect or some other form of abuse or neglect of a child's physical well-being has occurred, warranting a dependency or neglect action.

27-67-105. Monitoring - report. (1) On or before September 1, 2009, and by September 1 of each year thereafter, each community mental health center shall report to the state department the following information, and each behavioral health organization, for those children eligible to receive medicaid benefits whose parent or legal guardian requests residential treatment, shall report to the department of health care policy and financing the following information:

(a) The number of children, both those children who are categorically eligible for medicaid under the capitated mental health system described in section 25.5-5-411, C.R.S., and those children who are at risk of out-of-home placement, to whom the following services were provided:

- (I) An assessment pursuant to section 27-67-104 (1) (a);
- (II) In-home family mental health treatment;
- (III) Community-based treatment, including but not limited to therapeutic foster care services;
- (IV) Family preservation services;

- (V) Residential treatment; and
 - (VI) Post-residential follow-up services;
 - (b) The number of children, both those children who are categorically eligible for medicaid under the capitated mental health system described in section 25.5-5-411, C.R.S., and those children who are at risk of out-of-home placement, referred to the county department for a dependency or neglect investigation pursuant to section 27-67-104 (2), and the reasons therefor;
 - (c) The number of children for whom either:
 - (I) An assessment was requested but not performed, and the reasons that the assessment was not performed; or
 - (II) An assessment was performed but the mental health agency did not provide services under this article, and the reasons that services were not provided, including whether the family refused the services offered;
 - (d) The costs associated with the provision of the mental health treatment services;
 - (e) The profiles of the children and families served;
 - (f) The outcomes of treatment for the children served, as determined by the state department in consultation with mental health agencies, service providers, and families;
 - (g) If residential services were provided, the length of stay; and
 - (h) The aggregate number of complaints submitted pursuant to the dispute resolution process described in section 27-67-107, the nature of the complaints, and the general disposition of the cases.
- (2) On or before October 1, 2009, and on or before October 1 of each year thereafter, the department of health care policy and financing shall provide to the state department the information received from behavioral health organizations pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

27-67-106. Funding - rules. (1) In order to make mental health treatment available, it is the intent of the general assembly that mental health treatment provided pursuant to this article to each child described in section 27-67-103 (2) be provided by mental health agencies.

(2) (a) If neither the family's private insurance nor federal medicaid funding cover all of the costs associated with the services provided to a child at risk of out-of-home placement pursuant to this article, then the family shall be responsible for paying that portion that is not covered by private insurance or federal medicaid funding on a sliding scale basis as set forth in subsection (3) of this section. Any remaining portion of the services not covered by private insurance, federal medicaid funding, or the family's share, shall be paid for from moneys appropriated for such purpose pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (2) or from general fund moneys, subject to available appropriations.

(b) Pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1) (k), C.R.S., beginning in the 2004-05 fiscal year, and for each fiscal year thereafter so long as the state receives moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement, the general assembly shall appropriate to the state department to fund the remaining portion of services not covered by private insurance, federal medicaid funding, or the family's share, as described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), three hundred thousand dollars from the moneys received by the state in accordance with the master settlement agreement for the preceding fiscal year. The general assembly shall appropriate the amount specified in this paragraph (b) from moneys credited to the tobacco litigation settlement cash fund created in section 24-22-115, C.R.S.

(3) The state board of human services, in consultation with the department of health care policy and financing, shall promulgate rules implementing a sliding scale for the payment of services, including mental health treatment and room and board, that are not covered by private insurance or federal medicaid funding. It is the intent of the general assembly that the portion of such expenses paid from general fund moneys shall not exceed the general fund appropriations made for such purpose in any given fiscal year. It is the further intent of the general assembly that subsidies provided by the state through general fund moneys shall be used to assist the lowest income families to ensure the maximum use of appropriate least restrictive treatment services and to provide access to the greatest number of children.

27-67-107. Dispute resolution - rules. (1) The state department shall utilize, when appropriate, established grievance and dispute resolution processes in order to assure that parents have access to mental health services on behalf of their children.

(2) The state board of human services shall promulgate rules to assure that a grievance process is available to parents concerning the provision of mental health services and to assure that a dispute resolution process is available for disputes between the county departments and mental health agencies.

27-69-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Colorado families and youth have difficulties navigating the mental health, physical health, substance abuse, developmental disabilities, education, juvenile justice, child welfare, and other state and local systems that are compounded when the youth has a mental illness or co-occurring disorder;

(b) Preliminary research demonstrates that family advocates and family systems navigators increase family and youth satisfaction, improve family participation, and improve services to help youth and families succeed and achieve positive outcomes. One preliminary study in Colorado found that the wide array of useful characteristics and valued roles performed by family advocates and family systems navigators, regardless of where they are located institutionally, provided evidence for continuing and expanding the use of family advocates and family systems navigators in systems of care.

(c) Input from families, youth, and state and local community agency representatives in Colorado demonstrates that family advocates and family systems navigators help families get the services and support they need and want, help families to better navigate complex state and local systems, improve family and youth outcomes, and help disengaged families and youth to become engaged families and youth;

(d) State and local agencies and systems need to develop more strengths-based, family-centered, individualized, culturally competent, and collaborative approaches that better meet the needs of families and youth;

(e) A family advocate or a family systems navigator helps state and local agencies and systems adopt more strengths-based-targeted programs, policies, and services to better meet the needs of families and their youth with mental illness or co-occurring disorders and improve outcomes for all, including families, youth, and the agencies they utilize;

(f) The use of family advocates or family systems navigators as full partners in systems of care is a relatively new approach to helping meet the needs of families and youth in the state. It is essential that communities have the support to implement and sustain programs in a manner that best meets the needs of youth, families, and communities.

(2) It is therefore in the state's best interest to develop rules and standards and provide technical assistance and coordination for the family advocacy mental health juvenile justice programs for system-of-care family advocates and family systems navigators for mental health juvenile justice populations who navigate across mental health, physical health, substance abuse, developmental disabilities, juvenile justice, education, child welfare, and other state and local systems to ensure sustained and thoughtful family participation in the planning processes of the care for their children and youth.

Editor's note: (1) This section is similar to former § 26-22-101 as it existed prior to 2010.

(2) Subsections (1)(b), (1)(c), (1)(e), (1)(f), and (2) were numbered as § 26-22-101 (1)(b), (1)(c), (1)(e), (1)(f), and (2), respectively, in Senate Bill 10-014 (see L. 2010, p. 212) but were relocated as amended due to their harmonization with this section as it was added by Senate Bill 10-175.

27-69-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Co-occurring disorders" means disorders that commonly coincide with mental illness and may include, but are not limited to, substance abuse, developmental disabilities, fetal alcohol syndrome, and traumatic brain injury.

(2) and (3) Repealed.

(4) “Family advocacy coalition” means a coalition of family advocates, family systems navigators, or family advocacy organizations working to help families and youth with mental health problems, substance abuse, developmental disabilities, and other co-occurring disorders to improve services and outcomes for youth and families and to work with and enhance state and local systems.

(5) “Family advocate” means a parent or primary care giver who:

(a) Has been trained in a system-of-care approach to assist families in accessing and receiving services and supports;

(b) Has raised or cared for a child or adolescent with a mental health or co-occurring disorder; and

(c) Has worked with multiple agencies and providers, such as mental health, physical health, substance abuse, juvenile justice, developmental disabilities, education, and other state and local service systems.

(5.5) “Family systems navigator” means an individual who:

(a) Has been trained in a system-of-care approach to assist families in accessing and receiving services and supports;

(b) Has the skills, experience, and knowledge to work with children and youth with mental health or co-occurring disorders; and

(c) Has worked with multiple agencies and providers, including mental health, physical health, substance abuse, juvenile justice, developmental disabilities, education, and other state and local service systems.

(6) Repealed.

(7) “Partnership” means a relationship between a family advocacy organization and another entity whereby the family advocacy organization works directly with another entity for oversight and management of the family advocate or family systems navigator and family advocacy demonstration program, and the family advocacy organization employs, supervises, mentors, and provides training to the family advocate or family systems navigator.

(8) “System of care” means an integrated network of community-based services and support that is organized to meet the challenges of youth with complex needs, including, but not limited to, the need for substantial services to address areas of developmental, physical, and mental health, substance abuse, child welfare, and education and involvement in or being at risk of involvement with the juvenile justice system. In a system of care, families and youth work in partnership with public and private organizations to build on the strengths of individuals and to address each person’s cultural and linguistic needs so services and support are effective.

(9) Repealed.

(10) “Unit” means the unit in the department of human services that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse.

Editor’s note: (1) This section is similar to former § 26-22-102 as it existed prior to 2010.

(2) Subsections (2), (4), (5), (5.5), and (7) were numbered as § 26-22-102 (2), (5), (6), (6.5), and (8), respectively, in Senate Bill 10-014 (see L. 2010, p. 213) but were relocated as amended due to their harmonization with this section as it was added by Senate Bill 10-175.

27-69-103. Programs established. There are hereby established family advocacy mental health juvenile justice programs for system-of-care family advocates and family systems navigators for mental health juvenile justice populations that shall be implemented and monitored by the unit, with input, cooperation, and support from the division of criminal justice, created in section 24-33.5-502, C.R.S., the task force, created in section 18-1.9-104, C.R.S., and family advocacy coalitions.

Editor's note: (1) This section is similar to former § 26-22-103 as it existed prior to 2010.

(2) This section was numbered as § 26-22-103 in Senate Bill 10-014 (see L. 2010, p. 214) but was relocated due to its harmonization with this section as it was added by Senate Bill 10-175; except that the change from division of mental health to division of behavioral health in Senate Bill 10-014 was superseded by Senate Bill 10-175 and is currently referred to as the unit.

(3) Amendments to this section by House Bill 11-1193 and House Bill 11-1303 were harmonized.

27-69-104. Program scope - rules. (1) The unit shall promulgate rules and standards, after consultation with family advocacy coalitions and other stakeholders, for family advocacy mental health juvenile justice programs for system-of-care family advocates and family systems navigators for mental health juvenile justice populations. The programs shall:

(a) Focus on youth with mental illness or co-occurring disorders who are involved in or at risk of involvement with the juvenile justice system and be based upon the families' and youths' strengths; and

(b) Provide navigation, crisis response, integrated planning, transition services, and diversion from the juvenile justice system for youth with mental illness or co-occurring disorders.

(2) The unit shall provide technical assistance and coordination of family advocacy mental health juvenile justice programs throughout the state that provide system-of-care family advocates and family systems navigators for mental health juvenile justice populations with support to implement and sustain programs that best meet the needs of youth, families, and communities.

(3) Key components of the family advocacy mental health juvenile justice programs for system-of-care family advocates and family systems navigators for mental health juvenile justice populations shall include:

(a) Coordination with the key stakeholders involved in the local community to ensure consistent and effective collaboration. PART 1

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Editor's note: This part 1 was added with relocations in 2010 containing provisions of part 2 of article 1 of title 25. Former C.R.S. section numbers are shown in editor's notes following those sections that were relocated. For a detailed comparison of this part 1, see the comparative tables located in the back of the index.

27-80-101. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) "Department" means the department of human services created in section 26-1-105, C.R.S.
- (2) "Designated service area" means the geographical substate planning area specified by the director of the unit to be served by a designated managed service organization, as described in section 27-80-107.
- (3) "Executive director" means the executive director of the department of human services.
- (4) "Fetal alcohol spectrum disorder" or "FASD" means a continuum of permanent birth defects caused by maternal consumption of alcohol during pregnancy. "FASD" includes, but is not limited to, fetal alcohol syndrome.
- (5) "Public program" means a program concerning the problems of alcohol or drug abuse sponsored by a county, district, or municipal public health agency, county department of social services, court, probation department, law enforcement agency, school, school system, board of cooperative services, Indian tribal reservation, or state agency. "Public program" includes any alcohol or drug abuse treatment program required as a condition of probation under part 2 of article 11 of title 16, C.R.S., any alcohol or drug abuse program administered by the division of adult parole under article 2 of title 17, C.R.S., any community correctional facility or program administered under article 27 of title 17, C.R.S., and any alcohol or drug abuse treatment program administered by the division of youth corrections under title 19, C.R.S.
- (6) "Unit" means the unit in the department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse.
- (7) Repealed.

27-80-102. Duties of the unit. (1) The unit shall formulate a comprehensive state plan for alcohol and drug abuse programs. The state plan shall be submitted to the governor and, upon his or her approval, shall be submitted to the appropriate United States agency for review and approval. The state plan shall include, but not be limited to:

- (a) A survey of the need for the prevention and treatment of alcohol and drug abuse, including a survey of the health facilities needed to provide services and a plan for the development and distribution of facilities and programs throughout the state;
- (b) A plan for programs to educate the public in the problems of alcohol and drug abuse;
- (c) A survey of the need for trained teachers, health professionals, and others involved in the prevention and treatment of alcohol and drug abuse and the rehabilitation of abusers, and a plan to provide the necessary training for such persons;

(d) Provisions for the periodic review and updating of the state plan, which shall take place at least annually.

(2) The department, acting by and through the unit, is designated as the sole state agency for the supervision of the administration of the state plan.

27-80-103. Grants for public programs. (1) The unit may make grants, from funds appropriated by the general assembly for purposes of this section or available from any other governmental or private source, to approved public programs.

(2) A public program may provide, but need not be limited to, any of the following:

(a) Acute medical services, including emergency services and detoxification;

(b) Case finding, diagnosis, treatment, counseling, individual or group psychotherapy, after-care treatment, and other rehabilitation services;

(c) Education and counseling regarding the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs;

(d) Programs for prevention of alcohol and drug abuse;

(e) Training of teachers, health professionals, and others in the field of alcohol and drug abuse and addiction counseling;

(f) Coordination of existing services and the development of other needed services through demonstration and evaluation projects; or

(g) Services to pregnant women who are alcohol and drug dependent through demonstration and evaluation projects.

(3) In approving any public program, the unit shall take into consideration the following:

(a) The community need for the public program;

(b) The range of services to be provided;

(c) The integration of the public program with, and the participation of, other public and nongovernmental agencies, organizations, institutions, and individuals, and their services and facilities, if any, that are available to assist the public program;

(d) The adequacy of the public program to accomplish its purposes; and

(e) Such other information as the unit deems necessary.

(4) Applications for grants made under subsection (1) of this section shall be made to the unit, on forms furnished by the unit, and shall contain such information as the unit may require. Wherever possible, the unit shall give priority to those public programs which are community-based and include services to children and juveniles as well as adults, that provide a comprehensive range of services, and that evidence a high degree of community support, either financial or in the furnishing of services and facilities, or both.

(5) Whenever any department or agency of the state has moneys available from any source for public programs, such department or agency is authorized to distribute the moneys in accordance with the state plan and to make reasonable rules for the administration of such public programs.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-203 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-80-104. Cancellation of grants. (1) The unit may cancel any grant for any public program for any of the following reasons:

(a) There is no longer a need for the public program.

(b) Funds for the public program are not available.

(c) The public program does not meet the standards or requirements adopted by the department or does not conform to the comprehensive state plan for alcohol and drug abuse programs.

(2) Before canceling a grant for the reasons set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of this section, the unit shall notify the person or agency in charge of the public program of the deficiency in the program, and such person or agency shall be given a reasonable amount of time within which to correct the deficiency.

27-80-106. Purchase of prevention and treatment services. (1) Using funds appropriated for purposes of this section or available from any other governmental or private source, the unit may purchase services for prevention or for treatment of alcohol and drug abuse or both types of services on a contract basis from any tribal nation or any public or private agency, organization, or institution approved by the unit. The services purchased may be any of those which may be provided through a public program, as set forth in section 27-80-103 (2). In contracting for services, the unit shall attempt to obtain services that are in addition to, and not a duplication of, existing available services or services that are of a pilot or demonstration nature. Any agency operating a public program may also purchase such services on a contract basis.

(2) (a) In addition to the services purchased pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, using funds appropriated for purposes of this section or available from any other governmental or private source, the unit may purchase services for the treatment of alcohol and drug abuse on a contract basis from a designated managed service organization for a designated service area as set forth in section 27-80-107. A public or private agency, organization, or institution approved by the unit through the process set forth in section 27-80-107 may be designated as a designated managed service organization.

(b) Designated managed service organizations receiving funds pursuant to this subsection (2) shall comply with all relevant provisions of this article and the rules promulgated thereunder.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-206 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-80-107. Designation of managed service organizations - purchase of services - revocation of designation. (1) The director of the unit shall establish designated service areas for the provision of treatment services for alcohol and drug abuse in a particular geographical region of the state.

(2) In order to be selected as a designated managed service organization to provide services in a particular designated service area, a private corporation, for profit or not for profit, or a public agency, organization, or institution shall apply to the unit for such designation in the form and manner specified by the executive director or the executive director's designee. Such designation process shall be in lieu of a competitive bid process under the “Procurement Code”, articles 101 to 112 of title 24, C.R.S. The director of the unit shall make the designation based on factors established by the executive director or the executive director’s designee. The factors for designation established by the executive director or the executive director’s designee shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(a) Whether the managed service organization has experience working with public treatment agencies and collaborating with other public agencies;

(b) Whether the managed service organization has experience working with publicly funded clients, including expertise in treating priority populations designated by the unit;

(c) Whether the managed service organization has offices in and provides services in the substate planning area or is willing to relocate to the substate planning area;

(d) Whether the managed service organization has experience using the cost-share principles used by the unit in its contracts with providers and is willing to cost-share;

(e) Whether the managed service organization has developed an effective, integrated information and fiscal reporting system and has experience working with and is able to comply with state and federal reporting requirements;

(f) Whether the managed service organization has experience engaging in a clinical quality improvement process; and

(g) Whether the managed service organization has experience with public funding requirements and state contracting requirements.

(3) The designation of a managed service organization by the director of the unit as described in subsection (2) of this section shall be considered an initial decision of the department which may be reviewed by the executive director in accordance with the provisions of section 24-4-105, C.R.S. Review by the executive director in accordance with section 24-4-105, C.R.S., shall constitute final agency action for purposes of judicial review.

(4) The terms and conditions for providing treatment services shall be specified in the contract entered into between the unit and the designated managed service organization.

(5) The contract may include a provisional designation for ninety days. At the conclusion of the ninety-day provisional period, the director of the unit may choose to revoke the contract or, subject to meeting the terms and conditions specified in the contract, may choose to extend the contract for a stated time period.

(6) A managed service organization that is designated to serve a designated service area may subcontract with a network of service providers to provide treatment services for alcohol and drug abuse within the particular designated service area.

(7) (a) The director of the unit may revoke the designation of a designated managed service organization upon a finding that the managed service organization is in violation of the performance of the provisions of this article or the rules promulgated thereunder. Such revocation shall conform to the provisions and procedures specified in article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., and shall be made only after notice and an opportunity for a hearing is provided as specified in that article. A hearing to revoke a designation as a designated managed service organization shall constitute final agency action for purposes of judicial review.

(b) Once a designation has been revoked pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection (7), the director of the unit may designate one or more service providers to provide the treatment services pending designation of a new designated managed service organization or may enter into contracts with subcontractors to provide the treatment services.

(c) From time to time, the director of the unit may solicit applications from applicants for managed service organization designation to provide treatment services for a specified planning area or areas.

27-80-108. Rules. (1) The state board of human services, created in section 26-1-107, C.R.S., has the power to promulgate rules governing the provisions of this article. Such rules may include, but shall not be limited to:

- (a) Requirements to be met in the operation of a public program, including record keeping and data compilation;
- (b) Conditions that may be imposed on a public program in order for the program to maintain eligibility for a grant;
- (c) Requirements for public and private agencies, organizations, and institutions from which the unit may purchase services under section 27-80-106 (1);
- (d) Requirements for managed service organizations that are designated by the director of the unit to provide services in a designated service area under section 27-80-106 (2);
- (e) Standards that must be met by addiction counselors to participate in public programs or to provide purchased services and certification requirements necessary to be certified by the director of the division of professions and occupations, pursuant to part 8 of article 43 of title 12, C.R.S.;
- (f) Any rules that are necessary to carry out the purposes of the treatment program for high-risk pregnant women that is created pursuant to section 27-80-112.

27-80-109. Coordination of state and federal funds and programs. (1) All requests for state appropriations for alcohol and drug abuse programs shall be submitted to the unit and the office of state planning and budgeting on dates specified by the unit consistent with requirements and procedures of the office of state planning and budgeting. After studying each request, the unit shall make a report thereon, with its comments and recommendations, including priorities for appropriations and a statement as to whether the requested appropriation would be consistent with the comprehensive state plan for alcohol and drug abuse programs. The reports of the unit shall be submitted to the governor, the office of state planning and budgeting, and the joint budget committee, together with all pertinent material on which the recommendations of the unit are based.

(2) The unit shall also review applications for federal grants for alcohol and drug abuse programs submitted by any department or agency of state government, by any political subdivision of the state, by any Indian tribal reservation, or by any other public or private agency, organization, or institution. The unit shall transmit to the division of planning and to the appropriate United States agency its comments and recommendations, together with a statement as to whether the grant would be consistent with the comprehensive state plan for alcohol and drug abuse programs.

27-80-111. Counselor training - fund created. (1) The executive director shall establish by rule fees to be charged for addiction counselor training. The amount assessed shall be sufficient to cover a portion of the costs of administering such training, and the moneys collected therefor shall be deposited in the addiction counselor training fund. Additional funding may be obtained from general, cash, or federal funds otherwise appropriated to the unit.

(2) There is hereby created in the office of the state treasurer the addiction counselor training fund. Moneys collected pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be deposited in the fund. The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the department for allocation to the unit for the administration of addiction counselor training requirements established by rules of the state board of human services pursuant to section 27-80-108 (1) (e). Moneys in the fund at the end of the fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert to the general fund.

27-80-116. Fetal alcohol spectrum disorders - legislative declaration - health warning signs - commission - repeal. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Fetal alcohol exposure is the leading known cause of preventable intellectual and developmental disabilities and birth defects in the children of this state;

(b) Individuals with undiagnosed fetal alcohol spectrum disorders suffer substantially from secondary issues such as child abuse and neglect, separation from families, multiple foster placements, depression, aggression, school failure, juvenile detention, and job instability;

(b.5) Compared to individuals diagnosed before age twelve, individuals with undiagnosed FASD are two to four times more likely to suffer from inappropriate sexual behavior, disrupted school experiences, trouble with the law, drug and alcohol problems, or confinement in a jail, mental hospital, or drug and alcohol treatment facility;

(c) These secondary disabilities come at a high cost to individuals, their families, and society;

(d) A survey performed in 2006 by the Colorado pregnancy risk assessment system estimated that eleven and two-tenths percent of women in Colorado said that they drank alcohol during the last three months of their pregnancy; and

(e) The commission should evaluate the current use and distribution of written and electronic informational materials designed to increase awareness of the consequences of drinking alcohol while pregnant and should investigate additional means by which such written and electronic materials might best be used.

(2) The general assembly therefore declares that fetal alcohol exposure and its related problems can be reduced substantially by a greater awareness of the consequences of drinking alcohol while pregnant and by early diagnosis and receipt of appropriate and effective intervention.

(3) Each person licensed pursuant to section 12-47-401 (1) (h) to (1) (t), C.R.S., to sell malt, vinous, and spirituous liquors or licensed pursuant to section 12-46-104 (1) (c), C.R.S., to sell fermented malt beverages is hereby encouraged to post a health warning sign pursuant to paragraph (c) of subsection (4) of this section, informing patrons that the consumption of alcohol during pregnancy may cause birth defects, including fetal alcohol spectrum disorders.

(4) (a) There is hereby created the fetal alcohol spectrum disorders commission, referred to in this section as the “commission”. The commission is created as a temporary commission under section 22 of article IV of the state constitution. The commission shall be composed of no more than twelve members. On or before August 30, 2009, the executive director, in consultation with a nonprofit organization that works with FASD issues, shall appoint the commission members with the goal of selecting a broad representation of individuals working in the field of FASD. The commission shall include representation from the following areas and groups in any combination the executive director deems appropriate:

- (I) Pediatrics;
- (II) Family physicians;
- (III) Child development programs that work with special needs children;
- (IV) The department of public health and environment;
- (V) The juvenile justice system;
- (VI) Preschool, elementary, secondary, and higher education;
- (VII) Parents, foster parents, or legal guardians of children or adults affected by FASD;
- (VIII) The developmentally disabled community;
- (IX) Speech, language, and occupational therapy;
- (X) The department of education; and
- (XI) A representative of a trade association that represents licensed beverage retailers in Colorado.

(b) The commission shall meet at least once on or before September 30, 2009. At its first meeting, the commission shall elect by a majority vote a chairperson from among the commission members who shall act as the presiding officer of the commission, determine a meeting schedule, and develop a list of priorities. Commission members shall serve without compensation or reimbursement of expenses.

(c) The commission shall develop a health warning sign and other informational materials for use by persons licensed pursuant to section 12-47-401 (1) (h) to (1) (t), C.R.S., to sell malt, vinous, and spirituous liquors or licensed pursuant to section 12-46-104 (1) (c), C.R.S., to sell fermented malt beverages and a plan for making the sign and other informational materials available on-line to such licensed persons and other interested parties. At a minimum, the health warning sign shall read as follows:

HEALTH WARNING

DRINKING ANY ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE DURING PREGNANCY MAY CAUSE BIRTH DEFECTS.

(d) On or before December 1, 2009, and as needed thereafter, the commission shall make recommendations to the unit and to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees. The commission’s recommendations shall address the prevention of and education about FASD and any other FASD-related issues. The commission shall evaluate the use of the health warning signs developed pursuant to paragraph (c) of this subsection (4), the response by licensed persons, as described in paragraph (c) of this subsection (4), to the signs, and the response by women and patrons to the signs. The commission shall make recommendations to the unit and to the health and human services committees of the senate and the house of representatives, or any successor committees, on the most effective use of the warning signs and shall also recommend the most effective use of other written and electronic informational materials in the future.

(e) This subsection (4) is repealed, effective June 30, 2015.

27-80-117. Rural alcohol and substance abuse prevention and treatment program - creation - administration - definitions - cash fund - repeal. (1) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Program" means the rural alcohol and substance abuse prevention and treatment program created pursuant to subsection (2) of this section that shall consist of the rural youth alcohol and substance abuse prevention and treatment project and the rural detoxification project.

(b) "Rural area" means a county with a population of less than thirty thousand people, according to the most recently available population statistics of the United States bureau of the census.

(c) "Youth" means an individual who is at least eight years of age but who is less than eighteen years of age.

(2) (a) (I) There is hereby created the rural alcohol and substance abuse prevention and treatment program within the unit to provide:

(A) Prevention and treatment services to youth in rural areas, which services may include but need not be limited to providing alternative activities for youth through the rural youth alcohol and substance abuse prevention and treatment project; and

(B) Treatment services to persons addicted to alcohol or drugs through the rural detoxification project.

(II) The unit shall administer the program pursuant to rules adopted by the state board of human services as of January 1, 2010, or as amended by the state board thereafter.

(b) The unit shall incorporate provisions to implement the program into its regular contracting mechanism for the purchase of prevention and treatment services pursuant to section 27-80-106, including but not limited to detoxification programs. The unit shall develop a method to equitably distribute and provide additional moneys through contracts to provide for prevention services for and treatment of persons in rural areas.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the unit shall implement the program on or after January 1, 2011, subject to the availability of sufficient moneys to operate an effective program, as determined by the unit.

(3) (a) There is hereby created in the state treasury the rural alcohol and substance abuse cash fund, referred to in this section as the "fund", that shall consist of the rural youth alcohol and substance abuse prevention and treatment account, referred to in this section as the "youth account", and the rural detoxification account, referred to in this section as the "detoxification account". The fund shall be comprised of moneys collected from surcharges assessed pursuant to sections 18-19-103.5, 42-4-1307 (10) (d) (I), and 42-4-1701 (4) (f), C.R.S., which moneys shall be divided equally between the youth account and the detoxification account, and any moneys credited to the fund pursuant to paragraph (b) of this subsection (3), which moneys shall be divided equally between the youth account and the detoxification account unless the grantee or donor specifies to which account the grant, gift, or donation shall be credited. The moneys in the fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly to the unit for the purpose of implementing the program. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or credited to the general fund or another fund; except that any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund as of June 30, 2016, shall be credited to the general fund.

(b) The unit is authorized to accept any grants, gifts, or donations from any private or public source on behalf of the state for the purpose of the program. The unit shall transmit all private and public moneys received through grants, gifts, or donations to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the fund.

(4) (a) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2016.

(b) Prior to such repeal, the program shall be reviewed as provided in section 24-34-104, C.R.S.

Editor's note: (1) This section is similar to former § 25-1-217 as it existed prior to 2010.

(2) Subsection (3)(a) was numbered as § 25-1-217 (3)(a) in House Bill 10-1347 (see L. 2010, p. 1159) but was relocated due to its harmonization with this section as it was added by Senate Bill 10-175.

PART 2

CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES

Editor's note: This part 2 was added with relocations in 2012. Former C.R.S. section numbers are shown in editor's notes following those sections that were relocated. For a detailed comparison of this part 2, see the comparative tables located in the back of the index.

27-80-203. Definitions. As used in this part 2, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Addict" means a person who has a physical or psychological dependence on a controlled substance, which dependence develops following the use of the controlled substance on a periodic or continuing basis and is demonstrated by appropriate observation and tests by a person licensed to practice medicine pursuant to article 36 of title 12, C.R.S.

(2) "Addiction program" means a program licensed under this part 2 for the detoxification, withdrawal, or maintenance treatment of addicts.

(3) "Administer" means to apply a controlled substance, whether by injection, inhalation, ingestion, or any other means, directly to the body of a patient or research subject.

(4) "Agent" means an authorized person who acts on behalf of or at the direction of a person licensed or otherwise authorized under this part 2. "Agent" does not include a common or contract carrier, a public warehouseman, or an employee of a carrier or warehouseman.

(5) "Bureau" means the drug enforcement administration, or its successor agency, of the United States department of justice.

(6) (a) "Compound" means to prepare, mix, assemble, package, or label a drug or device:

(I) As the result of a practitioner's prescription drug order, chart order, or initiative, based on the relationship between the practitioner, patient, and pharmacist in the course of professional practice; or

(II) For the purpose of, or as an incident to, research, teaching, or chemical analysis and not for sale or dispensing.

(b) "Compound" also includes the preparation of drugs or devices in anticipation of prescription drug orders based on routine, regularly observed prescribing patterns.

(7) "Controlled substance" shall have the same meaning as in section 18-18-102 (5), C.R.S.

(8) "Deliver" or "delivery" means actual, constructive, or attempted transfer of a controlled substance whether or not there is an agency relationship.

(9) "Detoxification treatment" means a program for a short term of not more than three weeks for the administering or dispensing, in decreasing doses, of a controlled substance to an addict while he or she is receiving appropriate supportive medical treatment, with the immediate goal being to render the addict no longer dependent on the intake of any amount of a controlled substance.

(10) "Device" means an instrument, apparatus, implement, machine, contrivance, implant, or similar or related article that is required under federal law to bear the label, "Caution: federal law requires dispensing by or on the order of a physician." "Device" also includes any component part of, or accessory or attachment to, any such article, whether or not the component part, accessory, or attachment is separately so labeled.

(11) "Dispense" means to interpret, evaluate, and implement a prescription drug or controlled substances order or chart order, including the preparation of a drug or device for a patient or patient's agent in a suitable container appropriately labeled for subsequent administration to or use by a patient.

(12) "Distribute" means to deliver a controlled substance other than by administering or dispensing.

(13) (a) "Drug" means any of the substances:

(I) Recognized as drugs in the official United States pharmacopoeia, national formulary, or the official homeopathic pharmacopoeia of the United States, or a supplement thereof;

(II) Intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in individuals or animals;

(III) Other than food, intended to affect the structure or any function of the body of individuals or animals; or

(IV) Intended for use as a component of any substance specified in subparagraph (I), (II), or (III) of this paragraph (a).

(b) "Drug" does not include devices or their components, parts, or accessories.

(14) "Maintenance treatment" means a program of more than six months' duration for the administering or dispensing of a controlled substance, approved for such use by federal law or regulation, to an addict for the purpose of continuing his or her dependence upon a controlled substance in the course of conducting an authorized rehabilitation program for addicts, with a long-term goal of decreasing the addict's controlled substance dependency and leading to his or her possible withdrawal.

(15) "Marijuana" means all parts of the plant cannabis sativa L., whether growing or not, the seeds thereof, the resin extracted from any part of the plant, and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of the plant, its seeds, or its resin. It does not include fiber produced from the stalks, oil or cake made from the seeds of the plant, or sterilized seed of the plant that is incapable of germination, if these items exist apart from any other item defined as "marijuana" in this subsection (15). "Marijuana" does not include marijuana concentrate as defined in subsection (16) of this section.

(16) "Marijuana concentrate" means hashish, tetrahydrocannabinols, or any alkaloid, salt, derivative, preparation, compound, or mixture, whether natural or synthesized, of tetrahydrocannabinols.

(17) "Peace officer" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 16-2.5-101, C.R.S.

(18) "Person" means any individual, government, governmental subdivision, agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, corporation, association, institution, or other legal entity.

(19) "Peyote" means all parts of the plant presently classified botanically as lophophora williamsii lemaire, whether growing or not, the seeds thereof, any extraction from any part of such plant, and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such plant or its seeds or extracts.

(20) "Practitioner" means a person authorized by law to prescribe any drug or device, acting within the scope of such authority.

(21) "Prescription drug" means a drug that, prior to being dispensed or delivered, is required to be labeled with the following statement: "Caution: Federal law prohibits dispensing without a prescription.", "Rx only", or "Caution: Federal law restricts this drug to use by or on the order of a licensed veterinarian."

(22) "Production" or "produces" means the manufacturing, planting, cultivating, growing, or harvesting of a controlled substance.

(23) "Researcher" means any person licensed by the department pursuant to this part 2 to experiment with, study, or test any controlled substance within this state and includes analytical laboratories.

(24) (a) "Tetrahydrocannabinols" means synthetic equivalents of the substances contained in the plant, or in the resinous extractives of, cannabis, sp., or synthetic substances, derivatives, and their isomers with similar chemical structure and pharmacological activity, such as the following:

(I) ¹cis or trans tetrahydrocannabinol, and their optical isomers;

(II) ⁶cis or trans tetrahydrocannabinol, and their optical isomers;

(III) ^{3,4}cis or trans tetrahydrocannabinol, and their optical isomers.

(b) Since the nomenclature of the substances listed in paragraph (a) of this subsection (24) is not internationally standardized, compounds of these structures, regardless of the numerical designation of atomic positions, are included in this definition.

(25) "Withdrawal treatment" means a program for an intermediate term, of more than three weeks but less than six months, for the administering or dispensing, in decreasing doses, of a controlled substance, approved for such use by federal law or regulation, to an addict while receiving rehabilitative measures as indicated, with the immediate goal being to render the addict no longer dependent on the intake of any amount of a controlled substance.

ANNOTATION

Annotator's note. The following annotations include cases decided under former provisions similar to this section.

The distinction between marihuana and marihuana concentrate as set forth in subsections (17) and (18) complies with both the equal protection and due process requirements of the Colorado and United States Constitutions. People v. Rickstrew, 712 P.2d 1008 (Colo. 1986).

Marijuana and hashish are separate drugs. The general assembly has utilized language which sufficiently distinguishes "marijuana" and "hashish" as being separate dangerous drugs. People v. Magoon, 645 P.2d 286 (Colo. App. 1982).

The statutory definition of marijuana includes all variants of the species cannabis including cannabis indica. People v. Wimer, 799 P.2d 436 (Colo. App. 1990), cert. denied, 809 P.2d 988 (Colo. 1991).

Any amount of marijuana sufficient to ingest will support a conviction for possession of contraband in a detention facility, where statute fails to specify an amount. People v. Greenwell, 830 P.2d 1116 (Colo. App. 1992).

27-80-204. License required - controlled substances - repeal. (1) (a) In accordance with part 3 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S., an addiction program that compounds, administers, or dispenses a controlled substance shall annually obtain a license issued by the department for each place of business or professional practice located in this state.

- (b) (I) This subsection (1) is repealed, effective July 1, 2014.
- (II) Prior to the repeal, the department of regulatory agencies shall review the licensing functions of the department as provided in section 24-34-104, C.R.S. In conducting the review, the department of regulatory agencies shall consider whether the licensing pursuant to this subsection (1) should be combined with the licensing of any other drug and alcohol addiction treatment programs by the department.
- (2) Persons licensed as required under this part 2, or otherwise licensed as required by federal law, may possess, distribute, dispense, administer, or conduct or do research with controlled substances only to the extent authorized by their licenses and in conformity with the provisions of this part 2 and with article 18 of title 18, C.R.S.
- (3) An employee of a facility, as defined in section 25-1.5-301, C.R.S., who is administering and monitoring medications to persons under the care or jurisdiction of the facility pursuant to part 3 of article 1.5 of title 25, C.R.S., need not be licensed by the department to lawfully possess controlled substances under this part 2.
- (4) A person who is required to be but is not yet licensed may apply for a license at any time. A person who is required to be licensed under this part 2 shall not engage in any activity for which a license is required until the department grants the person's application and issues a license to him or her.
- (5) The department shall not issue a license under this part 2 to a researcher of marijuana or marijuana concentrate.

27-80-205. Issuance of license - fees. (1) The department, as provided in section 27-80-204 (1), shall issue the appropriate license to each researcher and addiction program meeting all the requirements of this part 2 unless it determines that the issuance of the license would be inconsistent with the public interest. In determining the public interest, the department shall consider the following factors:

- (a) Maintenance of effective controls against diversion of controlled substances into illegitimate medical, scientific, or industrial channels;
 - (b) Compliance with applicable state and local laws;
 - (c) Any conviction of the applicant under any federal or state law relating to a controlled substance;
 - (d) Past experience in the manufacture or distribution of controlled substances and the existence in the applicant's establishment of effective controls against diversion;
 - (e) Any false or fraudulent information in an application filed under this part 2;
 - (f) Suspension or revocation of the applicant's federal registration to manufacture, distribute, or dispense a controlled substance as authorized by federal law; and
 - (g) Any other factors relevant to and consistent with the public peace, health, and safety.
- (2) Issuance of a license under subsection (1) of this section does not entitle a licensee to distribute or professionally use controlled substances beyond the scope of the licensee's federal registration.
- (3) (a) The initial and annual license fees are as follows:
- (I) Addiction program $ 75.00
 - (II) Researchers $ 25.00
- (b) The department shall transmit the fees collected pursuant to this section to the state treasurer for deposit in the controlled substances program fund created in section 27-80-206.

(4) Any person who is licensed may apply for license renewal not more than sixty days before the expiration date of the license.

(5) The United States, the state of Colorado, or any political subdivision of the state is not required to pay any license fee required by this part 2.

27-80-206. Controlled substances program fund - disposition of fees. There is hereby created in the state treasury the controlled substances program fund. The department shall transmit all moneys it collects pursuant to this part 2 to the state treasurer, who shall credit the moneys to the controlled substances program fund. The general assembly shall make annual appropriations from the controlled substances program fund to the department for the purposes authorized by this part 2. All moneys credited to the controlled substances program fund and any interest earned on the fund remain in the fund and do not revert to the general fund or any other fund at the end of any fiscal year.

27-80-207. Qualifications for license. (1) An applicant for a license under this part 2 shall have adequate and proper facilities for the handling and storage of controlled substances and shall maintain proper control over the controlled substances to ensure the controlled substances are not illegally dispensed or distributed.

(2) Any person registered as a researcher by the federal government is presumed to possess the qualifications described in this section as long as his or her federal registration is valid.

(3) The department shall not grant a license to a person who has been convicted within the last two years of a willful violation of this part 2 or any other state or federal law regulating controlled substances.

(4) Except for fees, compliance by a registrant with the provisions of the federal law respecting registration entitles the registrant to be licensed under this part 2.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 12-22-307 as it existed prior to 2012.

27-80-208. Denial, revocation, or suspension of license. (1) The department may deny, suspend, or revoke a license issued under this part 2 pursuant to article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., upon a finding that the licensee:

(a) Has furnished false or fraudulent information in an application filed under this part 2;

(b) Has been convicted of, or has had accepted by a court a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to, a felony under any state or federal law relating to a controlled substance;

(c) Has had his or her federal registration to manufacture, conduct research on, distribute, or dispense a controlled substance suspended or revoked; or

(d) Has violated any provision of this part 2 or the rules of the department or of the state board of human services created in section 26-1-107, C.R.S.

(2) The department may limit revocation or suspension of a license to the particular controlled substance that was the basis for revocation or suspension.

(3) If the department suspends or revokes a license, the department may place all controlled substances owned or possessed by the licensee at the time of the suspension or on the effective date of the revocation order under seal. The department may not dispose of substances under seal until the time for making an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded, unless a court orders otherwise or orders the sale of any perishable controlled substances and the deposit of the proceeds with the court. When a revocation order becomes final, all controlled substances may be forfeited to the state.

(4) The department shall promptly notify the bureau and the appropriate professional licensing agency, if any, of all charges and the final disposition of the charges, and of all forfeitures of a controlled substance.

27-80-209. Exemptions. (1) The provisions of section 18-18-414, C.R.S., do not apply to:

(a) Agents of persons licensed under this part 2 or under part 3 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S., acting within the provisions of their licenses; or

(b) Officers or employees of appropriate agencies of federal, state, or local governments acting pursuant to their official duties.

(2) All combination drugs that are exempted by regulation of the attorney general of the United States department of justice, pursuant to section 1006 (b) of Public Law 91-513 (84 Stat. 1236), known as the "Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970", on or after July 1, 1981, are exempt from this part 2 and part 3 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S.

(3) This part 2 does not apply to peyote if it is used in religious ceremonies of any bona fide religious organization.

(4) Section 27-80-210 does not apply to a practitioner authorized to prescribe any controlled substance that is listed in schedules III, IV, or V of part 2 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S., and that is manufactured, received, or dispensed by the practitioner in the course of his or her professional practice, unless:

(a) The practitioner dispenses, other than by direct administration, a schedule III, IV, or V controlled substance to his or her patients, and the practitioner charges the patients either separately or together with charges for other professional services; or

(b) The practitioner regularly engages in dispensing a schedule III, IV, or V controlled substance to his or her patients.

(5) The exemptions set forth in this section are available as a defense to any person accused of violating section 18-18-414, C.R.S.

(6) The state is not required to negate any exemption or exception in this part 2 or in part 3 or 4 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S., in any complaint, information, indictment, or other pleading or in any trial, hearing, or other proceeding under this part 2 or under part 4 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S. The burden of proving an exemption or exception is upon the person claiming the exemption or exception.

27-80-210. Records to be kept - order forms. (1) Each person licensed or otherwise authorized under this part 2 or other laws of this state to manufacture, purchase, distribute, dispense, administer, store, or otherwise handle controlled substances shall keep and maintain separate detailed and accurate records and inventories relating to controlled substances and retain the records and inventories for a period of two years after the respective dates of the transactions as shown on the records and inventories.

(2) The record of any controlled substance distributed, administered, dispensed, or otherwise used must show the date the controlled substance was distributed, administered, dispensed, used, or otherwise disposed of, the name and address of the person to whom or for whose use the controlled substance was distributed, administered, dispensed, used, or otherwise disposed of, and the kind and quantity of the controlled substance.

(3) A person who maintains a record required by federal law that contains substantially the same information as set forth in subsections (1) and (2) of this section is deemed to comply with the record-keeping requirements of this part 2.

(4) A person required to maintain records pursuant to this section shall keep a record of any controlled substance lost, destroyed, or stolen, the kind and quantity of the controlled substance, and the date of the loss, destruction, or theft.

(5) A person licensed or otherwise authorized under this part 2 or other laws of this state shall distribute, administer, dispense, use, or otherwise dispose of controlled substances listed in schedule I or II of part 2 of article 18 of title 18, C.R.S., only pursuant to an order form. Compliance with the provisions of federal law respecting order forms is deemed compliance with this section.

27-80-211. Enforcement and cooperation. (1) Each peace officer and district attorney in this state shall enforce this part 2 and shall cooperate with all agencies charged with the enforcement of the laws of this state, all other states, and the United States relating to controlled substances.

(2) The department shall cooperate with all agencies charged with the enforcement of the laws of this state, all other states, and the United States relating to controlled substances. To this end, the department shall:

(a) Arrange for the exchange of information among governmental officials concerning the use and abuse of controlled substances;

(b) Cooperate with the bureau and with local, state, and other federal agencies by maintaining a centralized unit to accept, catalogue, file, and collect statistics, including records of dependent and other controlled substance law offenders within the state, and make the information available for federal, state, and local law enforcement or regulatory purposes. The department shall not furnish the name or identity of a patient or research subject whose identity could not be obtained under section 27-80-212.

(c) Respond to referrals, complaints, or other information received regarding possible violations and, upon notification of the appropriate licensing authority, if applicable, and upon a written finding by the executive director of the department that probable cause exists to believe that there is illegal distribution or dispensing of controlled substances, to make any inspections, investigations, and reports that may be necessary to determine compliance with this part 2 by all licensed or otherwise authorized individuals who handle controlled substances;

(d) Cooperate with and make information available to appropriate state licensing and registration boards regarding any violations of this part 2 by persons licensed or registered by the boards;

(e) Enter into contracts and encourage and conduct educational and research activities designed to prevent and determine misuse and abuse of controlled substances.

27-81-101. Legislative declaration. (1) It is the policy of this state that alcoholics and intoxicated persons may not be subjected to criminal prosecution because of their consumption of alcoholic beverages but rather should be afforded a continuum of treatment in order that they may lead normal lives as productive members of society. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that alcoholism and intoxication are matters of statewide concern.

(2) With the passage of this article at its first regular session in 1973, the forty-ninth general assembly has recognized the character and pervasiveness of alcohol abuse and alcoholism and that public intoxication and alcoholism are health problems that should be handled by public health rather than criminal procedures. The general assembly further finds and declares that no other health problem has been so seriously neglected and that, while the costs of dealing with the problem are burdensome, the social and economic costs and the waste of human resources caused by alcohol abuse and alcoholism are massive, tragic, and no longer acceptable. The general assembly believes that the best interests of this state demand an across-the-board locally oriented attack on the massive alcohol abuse and alcoholism problem and that this article will provide a base from which to launch the attack and reduce the tragic human loss, but only if adequately funded. Therefore, in response to the needs as determined by an ad hoc committee and to assist in the implementation of this article at both the local and state level, the general assembly hereby appropriates moneys for: Receiving and screening centers and their staffs; medical detoxification; intensive treatment; halfway house care; outpatient rehabilitative therapy; orientation, education, and in-service training; staff for the administration, monitoring, and evaluation of the program; and operating costs for patient transportation.

ANNOTATION

Annotator’s note. Since § 27-81-101 is similar to § 25-1-301 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Compelling state interest. The state has a compelling interest in protecting an intoxicated individual and the general public from the catastrophic consequences of alcohol abuse. Carberry v. Adams County Task Force on Alcoholism, 672 P.2d 206 (Colo. 1983).

Applied in Ramos v. Lamm, 485 F. Supp. 122 (D. Colo. 1979).

27-81-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) “Alcoholic” means a person who habitually lacks self-control as to the use of alcoholic beverages or uses alcoholic beverages to the extent that his or her health is substantially impaired or endangered or his or her social or economic function is substantially disrupted. Nothing in this subsection (1) shall preclude the denomination of an alcoholic as intoxicated by alcohol or incapacitated by alcohol.
- (2) “Approved private treatment facility” means a private agency meeting the standards prescribed in section 27-81-106 (1) and approved under section 27-81-106.
- (3) “Approved public treatment facility” means a treatment agency operating under the direction and control of or approved by the unit or providing treatment under this article through a contract with the unit under section 27-81-105 (7) and meeting the standards prescribed in section 27-81-106 (1) and approved under section 27-81-106.
- (4) “Court” means the district court in the county in which the person named in a petition filed pursuant to this article resides or is physically present. In the city and county of Denver, "court" means the probate court.

(5) "Department" means the department of human services created in section 26-1-105, C.R.S.

(6) "Director" means the director of the unit.

(7) "Emergency service patrol" means a patrol established under section 27-81-115.

(8) "Executive director" means the executive director of the department.

(9) "Incapacitated by alcohol" means that a person, as a result of the use of alcohol, is unconscious, has his or her judgment otherwise so impaired that he or she is incapable of realizing and making a rational decision with respect to his or her need for treatment, is unable to take care of his or her basic personal needs or safety, or lacks sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate rational decisions about himself or herself.

(10) Repealed.

(11) "Intoxicated person" or "person intoxicated by alcohol" means a person whose mental or physical functioning is temporarily but substantially impaired as a result of the presence of alcohol in his or her body.

(12) "Licensed physician" means either a physician licensed by the state of Colorado or a hospital-licensed physician employed by the admitting facility.

(13) "Minor" means a person under the age of eighteen years.

(14) "Treatment" means the broad range of emergency, outpatient, intermediate, and inpatient services and care, including diagnostic evaluation, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and social service care, vocational rehabilitation, and career counseling, that may be extended to alcoholics and intoxicated persons.

(15) "Unit" means the unit in the department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse.

27-81-103. Powers of the unit. (1) To carry out the purposes of this article, the unit may:

(a) Plan, establish, and maintain treatment programs as necessary or desirable;

(b) Make contracts necessary or incidental to the performance of its duties and the execution of its powers, including contracts with public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals to pay them for services rendered or furnished to alcoholics or intoxicated persons;

(c) Solicit and accept for use any gift of money or property made by will or otherwise and any grant of money, services, or property from the federal government, the state, or any political subdivision thereof or any private source, and do all things necessary to cooperate with the federal government or any of its agencies in making an application for any grant;

(d) Administer or supervise the administration of the provisions relating to alcoholics and intoxicated persons of any state plan submitted for federal funding pursuant to federal health, welfare, or treatment legislation;

(e) Coordinate its activities and cooperate with alcoholism programs in this state and other states and make contracts and other joint or cooperative arrangements with state, local, or private agencies in this state and other states for the treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons and for the common advancement of alcoholism programs;

(f) Keep records and engage in research and the gathering of relevant statistics;

(g) Do other acts and things necessary or convenient to execute the authority expressly granted to it; and

(h) Acquire, hold, or dispose of real property, or any interest therein, and construct, lease, or otherwise provide treatment facilities for alcoholics and intoxicated persons.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-303 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-81-104. Duties of the unit - review. (1) In addition to duties prescribed by section 27-80-102, the unit shall:

(a) Develop, encourage, and foster statewide, regional, and local plans and programs for the prevention of alcoholism and treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons in cooperation with public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals and provide technical assistance and consultation services for these purposes;

(b) Coordinate the efforts and enlist the assistance of all public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals interested in prevention of alcoholism and treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons;

(c) Utilize community mental health centers and clinics whenever feasible;

(d) Cooperate with the department of corrections in establishing and conducting programs for the prevention of alcoholism and treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons in appropriate agencies and institutions and for alcoholics and intoxicated persons in or on parole from correctional institutions and in carrying out duties specified under paragraphs (i) and (k) of this subsection (1);

(e) Cooperate with the department of education, schools, police departments, courts, and other public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals in establishing programs for the prevention of alcoholism and treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons and preparing curriculum materials thereon for use at all levels of school education;

(f) Prepare, publish, evaluate, and disseminate educational material dealing with the nature and effects of alcohol;

(g) Develop and implement, as an integral part of treatment programs, an educational program for use in the treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons, which program shall include the dissemination of information concerning the nature and effects of alcohol;

(h) Organize and foster training programs for all persons engaged in treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons;

(i) Sponsor and encourage research into the causes and nature of alcoholism and treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons and serve as a clearinghouse for information relating to alcoholism;

(j) Specify uniform methods for keeping statistical information by public and private agencies, organizations, and individuals and collect and make available relevant statistical information, including number of persons treated, frequency of admission and readmission, and frequency and duration of treatment;

(k) Advise the governor in the preparation of a comprehensive plan for treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons for inclusion in the state's comprehensive health plan;

(l) Review all state health, welfare, and treatment plans to be submitted for federal funding under federal legislation and advise the governor on provisions to be included relating to alcoholism and intoxicated persons;

(m) Assist in the development of, and cooperate with, alcohol education and treatment programs for employees of state and local governments and businesses and industries in this state;

(n) Utilize the support and assistance of interested persons in the community, particularly recovered alcoholics, to encourage alcoholics voluntarily to undergo treatment;

(o) Cooperate with the department of transportation in establishing and conducting programs designed to deal with the problem of persons operating motor vehicles while under the influence of, or impaired by, alcohol;

(p) Encourage general hospitals and other appropriate health facilities to admit without discrimination alcoholics and intoxicated persons and to provide them with adequate and appropriate treatment;

(q) Encourage all health and disability insurance programs to include alcoholism as a covered illness; and

(r) Submit to the governor an annual report covering the activities of the unit.

ANNOTATION

Applied in Ramos v. Lamm, 485 F. Supp. 122 (D. Colo. 1979) (decided prior to 2010 amendments to this article).

27-81-105. Comprehensive program for treatment - regional facilities. (1) The unit shall establish a comprehensive and coordinated program for the treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons.

(2) Insofar as funds available to the unit will permit, the program established in subsection (1) of this section shall include all of the following:

- (a) Emergency treatment;
- (b) Inpatient treatment;
- (c) Intermediate treatment; and
- (d) Outpatient and follow-up treatment.

(3) The unit shall provide for adequate and appropriate treatment for alcoholics and intoxicated persons admitted under sections 27-81-109 to 27-81-112. Except as otherwise provided in section 27-81-111, treatment may not be provided at a correctional institution except for inmates.

(4) The unit shall maintain, supervise, and control all facilities operated by it subject to policies of the department. The administrator of each facility shall make an annual report of its activities to the director in the form and manner the director specifies.

(5) All appropriate public and private resources shall be coordinated with and utilized in the program if possible.

(6) The director shall prepare, publish, and distribute annually a list of all approved public and private treatment facilities.

(7) The unit may contract for the use of any facility as an approved public treatment facility if the director, subject to the policies of the department, considers this to be an effective and economical course to follow.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-305 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-81-106. Standards for public and private treatment facilities - fees - enforcement procedures - penalties. (1) In accordance with the provisions of this article, the unit shall establish standards for approved treatment facilities that receive public funds. The standards shall be met for a treatment facility to be approved as a public or private treatment facility. The unit shall fix the fees to be charged for the required inspections. The fees that are charged to approved treatment facilities that provide level I and level II programs as provided in section 42-4-1301.3 (3) (c), C.R.S., shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the fees to the alcohol and drug driving safety program fund created in section 42-4-1301.3 (4) (a), C.R.S. The standards may concern only the health standards to be met and standards of treatment to be afforded patients and shall reflect the success criteria established by the general assembly.

(2) The unit periodically shall inspect approved public and private treatment facilities at reasonable times and in a reasonable manner.

(3) The unit shall maintain a list of approved public and private treatment facilities.

(4) Each approved public and private treatment facility shall file with the unit, on request, data, statistics, schedules, and information the unit reasonably requires. An approved public or private treatment facility that fails without good cause to furnish any data, statistics, schedules, or information, as requested, or files fraudulent returns thereof shall be removed from the list of approved treatment facilities.

(5) The unit, after hearing, may suspend, revoke, limit, restrict, or refuse to grant an approval for failure to meet its standards.

(6) The district court may restrain any violation of, review any denial, restriction, or revocation of approval under, and grant other relief required to enforce the provisions of this section.

(7) Upon petition of the unit and after a hearing held upon reasonable notice to the facility, the district court may issue a warrant to an officer or employee of the unit authorizing him or her to enter and inspect at reasonable times, and examine the books and accounts of, any approved public or private treatment facility refusing to consent to inspection or examination by the unit or which the unit has reasonable cause to believe is operating in violation of this article.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-306 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-81-107. Compliance with local government zoning regulations - notice to local governments - provisional approval. (1) The unit shall require any residential treatment facility seeking approval as a public or private treatment facility pursuant to this article to comply with any applicable zoning regulations of the municipality, city and county, or county where the facility is situated. Failure to comply with applicable zoning regulations shall constitute grounds for the denial of approval of a facility.

(2) The unit shall assure that timely written notice is provided to the municipality, city and county, or county where a residential treatment facility is situated, including the address of the facility and the population and number of persons to be served by the facility, when any of the following occurs:

(a) An application for approval of a residential treatment facility pursuant to section 27-81-106 is made;

(b) Approval is granted to a residential treatment facility pursuant to section 27-81-106;

(c) A change in the approval of a residential treatment facility occurs; or

(d) The approval of a residential treatment facility is revoked or otherwise terminated for any reason.

(3) In the event of a zoning or other delay or dispute between a residential treatment facility and the municipality, city and county, or county where the facility is situated, the unit may grant provisional approval of the facility for up to one hundred twenty days pending resolution of the delay or dispute.

27-81-108. Acceptance for treatment - rules. (1) The director shall adopt and may amend and repeal rules for acceptance of persons into the treatment program, considering available treatment resources and facilities, for the purpose of early and effective treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons. In establishing the rules the director shall be guided by the following standards:

(a) If possible a patient shall be treated on a voluntary rather than an involuntary basis.

(b) A patient shall be initially assigned or transferred to outpatient or intermediate treatment, unless he or she is found to require inpatient treatment.

(c) A person shall not be denied treatment solely because he or she has withdrawn from treatment against medical advice on a prior occasion or because he or she has relapsed after earlier treatment.

(d) An individualized treatment plan shall be prepared and maintained on a current basis for each patient.

(e) Provision shall be made for a continuum of coordinated treatment services, so that a person who leaves a facility or a form of treatment will have available and utilize other appropriate treatment.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-307 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-81-109. Voluntary treatment of alcoholics. (1) An alcoholic, including a minor, may apply for voluntary treatment directly to an approved treatment facility.

(2) Subject to rules adopted by the director, the administrator in charge of an approved treatment facility may determine who shall be admitted for treatment. If a person is refused admission to an approved treatment facility, the administrator shall refer the person to another approved treatment facility for treatment if possible and appropriate.

(3) If a patient receiving inpatient care leaves an approved treatment facility, he or she shall be encouraged to consent to appropriate outpatient or intermediate treatment. If it appears to the administrator in charge of the treatment facility that the patient is an alcoholic and requires help, the administrator may arrange for assistance in obtaining supportive services and residential facilities.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Consent to Treatment and Access to Minors' Medical Records", see 17 Colo. Law. 1323 (1988).

27-81-110. Voluntary treatment for intoxicated persons and persons incapacitated by alcohol. (1) An intoxicated person or person intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol, including a minor, may voluntarily admit himself or herself to an approved treatment facility for emergency treatment.

(2) A person who comes voluntarily to an approved treatment facility shall be evaluated or examined by the facility administrator or by his or her authorized designee immediately. A person found to be in need of treatment shall then be admitted or referred to another appropriate facility. If a person is found not to be in need of treatment, he or she shall be released or referred to another appropriate facility.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (7) of this section, a voluntarily admitted person shall be released from the approved treatment facility immediately upon his or her request.

(4) A person who is not admitted to an approved treatment facility, and who is not referred to another health facility, and who has no funds may be taken to his or her home, if any. If he or she has no home, the approved treatment facility may assist him or her in obtaining shelter.

(5) If a person is admitted to an approved treatment facility, his or her family or next of kin shall be notified as promptly as possible. If an adult person requests that there be no notification, his or her request shall be respected.

(6) If the administrator in charge of the approved treatment facility or his or her authorized designee determines that it is for the person's benefit, the person shall be encouraged to agree to further diagnosis and appropriate voluntary treatment.

(7) Nothing in this section shall preclude the approved treatment facility administrator or his or her authorized designee from seeking emergency commitment of a person as provided in section 27-81-111 or involuntary commitment of a person as provided in section 27-81-112, regardless of whether such person has been voluntarily admitted under this section. In such cases, the administrator's or designee's further conduct shall be governed by section 27-81-111 or 27-81-112, as applicable.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "Consent to Treatment and Access to Minors' Medical Records", see 17 Colo. Law. 1323 (1988).

27-81-111. Emergency commitment. (1) (a) When a person is intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol and clearly dangerous to the health and safety of himself, herself, or others, he or she shall be taken into protective custody by law enforcement authorities or an emergency service patrol, acting with probable cause, and placed in an approved treatment facility. If no such facilities are available, he or she may be detained in an emergency medical facility or jail, but only for so long as may be necessary to prevent injury to himself, herself, or others or to prevent a breach of the peace. If the person being detained is a juvenile, as defined in section 19-1-103 (68), C.R.S., the juvenile shall be placed in a setting that is nonsecure and physically segregated by sight and sound from the adult offenders. A law enforcement officer or emergency service patrol officer, in detaining the person, is taking him or her into protective custody. In so doing, the detaining officer may protect himself or herself by reasonable methods but shall make every reasonable effort to protect the detainee's health and safety. A taking into protective custody under this section is not an arrest, and no entry or other record shall be made to indicate that the person has been arrested or charged with a crime. Law enforcement or emergency service personnel who act in compliance with this section are acting in the course of their official duties and are not criminally or civilly liable therefor. Nothing in this subsection (1) shall preclude an intoxicated or incapacitated person who is not dangerous to the health and safety of himself, herself, or others from being assisted to his or her home or like location by the law enforcement officer or emergency service patrol officer.

(b) A sheriff or police chief who violates the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) related to detaining juveniles may be subject to a civil fine of no more than one thousand dollars. The decision to fine shall be based on prior violations of the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) by the sheriff or police chief and the willingness of the sheriff or police chief to address the violations in order to comply with paragraph (a) of this subsection (1).

(2) A law enforcement officer, emergency service patrolman, physician, spouse, guardian, or relative of the person to be committed or any other responsible person may make a written application for emergency commitment under this section, directed to the administrator of the approved treatment facility. The application shall state the circumstances requiring emergency commitment, including the applicant's personal observations and the specific statements of others, if any, upon which he or she relies in making the application. A copy of the application shall be furnished to the person to be committed.

(3) If the approved treatment facility administrator or his or her authorized designee approves the application, the person shall be committed, evaluated, and treated for a period not to exceed five days. The person shall be brought to the facility by a peace officer, the emergency service patrol, or any interested person. If necessary, the court may be contacted to issue an order to the police, the peace officer's department, or the sheriff's department to transport the person to the facility.

(4) If the approved treatment facility administrator or his or her authorized designee determines that the application fails to sustain the grounds for emergency commitment as set forth in subsection (1) of this section, the commitment shall be refused and the person detained immediately released, and the person shall be encouraged to seek voluntary treatment if appropriate.

(5) When the administrator determines that the grounds for commitment no longer exist, he or she shall discharge the person committed under this section. A person committed under this section may not be detained in any treatment facility for more than five days; except that a person may be detained for longer than five days at the approved treatment facility if, in that period of time, a petition for involuntary commitment has been filed pursuant to section 27-81-112. A person may not be detained longer than ten days after the date of filing of the petition for involuntary commitment.

(6) Whenever a person is involuntarily detained pursuant to this section, he or she shall immediately be advised by the facility administrator or his or her authorized designee, both orally and in writing, of his or her right to challenge such detention by application to the courts for a writ of habeas corpus, to be represented by counsel at every stage of any proceedings relating to his or her commitment and recommitment, and to have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court if he or she wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For comment, "Leake v. Cain: Abrogation of the Public Duty Doctrine in Colorado?", see 59 U. Colo. L. Rev. 383 (1988).

Annotator's note. Since § 27-81-111 is similar to § 25-1-310 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Due process considerations. A judicial hearing as a prerequisite to commitment of a clearly dangerous intoxicated person would hinder the government's efforts in controlling alcohol abuse without providing additional procedural safeguards. Due process demands only that a neutral fact finder independently determine that the statutory requirements for commitment and release are satisfied. Due process does not dictate that the neutral and detached fact finder be law-trained or a judicial or administrative officer. Carberry v. Adams County Task Force on Alcoholism, 672 P.2d 206 (Colo. 1983).

Intent of subsection (1). In enacting subsection (1), the general assembly did not intend the police to take into protective custody every intoxicated person they meet. Rather, the general assembly designated a specific class of intoxicated persons who are subject to emergency commitment and left the determination of whether a particular individual is clearly dangerous to the police. Therefore, the decision to take a person into protective custody is discretionary and protected by official immunity. Leake v. Cain, 720 P.2d 152 (Colo. 1986).

Class of persons section was designated to protect. Respondents-decedents are not included within the class of persons that subsection (1) was designated to protect, since the statutory intent was not to protect members of the public against intoxicated persons. Therefore, police officers had no duty to take defendant into "protective custody" or to escort him to his home. Leake v. Cain, 720 P.2d 152 (Colo. 1986).

The language of this section indisputably articulates a clear legislative determination that the act of taking a person into civil protective custody is not an arrest. Colo. v. Dandrea, 736 P.2d 1211 (Colo. 1987); Anaya v. Crossroads Care Sys., 973 F. Supp. 1228 (D. Colo. 1997).

This section cannot be used to justify the equivalent of a criminal custodial arrest not supported by probable cause. People v. Dandrea, 736 P.2d 1211 (Colo. 1987).

This section clearly contemplates encounters between police officers and those whom they perceive are intoxicated, without any requirement that the officers also suspect involvement in criminal activity. People v. Herrera, 1 P.3d 234 (Colo. App. 1999).

When a search is conducted pursuant to protective custody the scope of the officer's inventory search is limited by the privacy interest of the detainee. People v. Chaves, 855 P.2d 852 (Colo. 1993).

Officers exceeded their authority under this section by conducting an inventory search at the point of detention, rather than just a pat-down search. People v. Herrera, 1 P.3d 234 (Colo. App. 1999).

The inventory search of a civil detainee does not permit officers to search closed containers without a warrant. The purpose of such a search is to ensure that all of the detainee's possessions are held safely and to remove those which may be dangerous. People v. Chaves, 855 P.2d 852 (Colo. 1993).

27-81-112. Involuntary commitment of alcoholics. (1) A person may be committed to the custody of the unit by the court upon the petition of the person's spouse or guardian, a relative, a physician, an advanced practice nurse, the administrator in charge of any approved treatment facility, or any other responsible person. The petition shall allege that the person is an alcoholic and that the person has threatened or attempted to inflict or inflicted physical harm on himself or herself or on another and that unless committed the person is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or herself or on another or that the person is incapacitated by alcohol. A refusal to undergo treatment does not constitute evidence of lack of judgment as to the need for treatment. The petition shall be accompanied by a certificate of a licensed physician who has examined the person within two days before submission of the petition, unless the person whose commitment is sought has refused to submit to a medical examination, in which case the fact of refusal shall be alleged in the petition. The certificate shall set forth the physician's findings in support of the allegations of the petition.

(2) A petition submitted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall not be accepted unless there is documentation of the refusal by the person to be committed to accessible and affordable voluntary treatment. The documentation may include, but shall not be limited to, notations in the person's medical or law enforcement records or statements by a physician, advanced practice nurse, or witness.

(3) Upon the filing of the petition, the court shall fix a date for a hearing no later than ten days after the date the petition was filed. A copy of the petition and of the notice of the hearing, including the date fixed by the court, shall be personally served on the petitioner, the person whose commitment is sought, and one of his or her parents or his or her legal guardian if he or she is a minor. A copy of the petition and notice of hearing shall be mailed to the unit, to counsel for the person whose commitment is sought, to the administrator in charge of the approved treatment facility to which the person may have been committed for emergency treatment, and to any other person the court believes advisable.

(4) At the hearing, the court shall hear all relevant testimony, including, if possible, the testimony of at least one licensed physician who has examined the person whose commitment is sought. The person shall be present unless the court believes that the person's presence is likely to be injurious to the person; in this event, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the person throughout the proceeding. If the person has refused to be examined by a licensed physician, he or she shall be given an opportunity to be examined by a court-appointed licensed physician. If the person refuses and there is sufficient evidence to believe that the allegations of the petition are true or if the court believes that more medical evidence is necessary, the court may commit the person to a licensed hospital for a period of not more than five days for a diagnostic examination. In such event, the court shall schedule a further hearing for final determination of commitment, in no event later than five days after the first hearing.

(5) If after hearing all relevant evidence, including the results of any diagnostic examination by the licensed hospital, the court finds that grounds for involuntary commitment have been established by clear and convincing proof, it shall make an order of commitment to the unit. The unit shall have the right to delegate physical custody of the person to an appropriate approved treatment facility. It may not order commitment of a person unless it determines that the unit is able to provide adequate and appropriate treatment for him or her, and the treatment is likely to be beneficial.

(6) Upon the commitment of a person to the unit by the court, the court may issue an order to the sheriff to transport the person committed to the facility designated by the unit.

(7) A person committed as provided in this section shall remain in the custody of the unit for treatment for a period of thirty days unless sooner discharged. At the end of the thirty-day period, he or she shall be discharged automatically unless the unit, before expiration of the period, obtains a court order for his or her recommitment upon the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for a further period of ninety days unless sooner discharged. If a person has been committed because he or she is an alcoholic likely to inflict physical harm on another, the unit shall apply for recommitment if after examination it is determined that the likelihood still exists.

(8) A person recommitment as provided in subsection (7) of this section who has not been discharged by the unit before the end of the ninety-day period shall be discharged at the expiration of that period unless the unit, before expiration of the period, obtains a court order on the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for recommitment for a further period not to exceed ninety days. If a person has been committed because he or she is an alcoholic likely to inflict physical harm on another, the unit shall apply for recommitment if after examination it is determined that the likelihood still exists. Only two recommitment orders under subsection (7) of this section and this subsection (8) are permitted.

(9) Upon the filing of a petition for recommitment under subsections (7) and (8) of this section, the court shall fix a date for hearing no later than ten days after the date the petition was filed. A copy of the petition and of the notice of hearing shall be served and mailed as required in subsection (3) of this section. At the hearing, the court shall proceed as provided in subsection (4) of this section.

(10) The unit shall provide for adequate and appropriate treatment of a person committed to its custody. The unit may transfer any person committed to its custody from one approved treatment facility to another if transfer is advisable.

(11) A person committed to the custody of the unit for treatment shall be discharged at any time before the end of the period for which he or she has been committed if either of the following conditions is met:

(a) In the case of an alcoholic committed on the grounds that he or she is likely to inflict physical harm upon another, that he or she no longer has an alcoholic condition that requires treatment or the likelihood no longer exists; or

(b) In the case of an alcoholic committed on the grounds of the need of treatment and incapacity, that the incapacity no longer exists, further treatment will not be likely to bring about significant improvement in the person's condition, or treatment is no longer appropriate.

(12) The court shall inform the person whose commitment or recommitment is sought of his or her right to contest the application, to be represented by counsel at every stage of any proceedings relating to the person's commitment and recommitment, and to have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court if he or she wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel. If the court believes that the person needs the assistance of counsel, the court shall require, by appointment if necessary, counsel for the person regardless of his or her wishes. The person whose commitment or recommitment is sought shall be informed of his or her right to be examined by a licensed physician of the person's choice. If the person is unable to obtain a licensed physician and requests examination by a physician, the court shall employ a licensed physician.

(13) If a private treatment facility agrees with the request of a competent patient or his or her parent, sibling, adult child, or guardian to accept the patient for treatment, the administrator of the public treatment facility shall transfer him or her to the private treatment facility.

(14) A person committed under this article may at any time seek to be discharged from commitment by an order in the nature of habeas corpus.

(15) The venue for proceedings under this section is the county in which the person to be committed resides or is present.

(16) All proceedings conducted pursuant to this article shall be conducted by the district attorney of the county where the proceeding is held or by an attorney acting for the district attorney appointed by the court for that purpose; except that, in any county or in any city and county having a population exceeding one hundred thousand persons, the proceedings shall be conducted by the county attorney or by an attorney acting for the county attorney appointed by the court.

27-81-113. Records of alcoholics and intoxicated persons. (1) The registration and other records of treatment facilities shall remain confidential and are privileged to the patient.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section, the director may make available information from patients' records for purposes of research into the causes and treatment of alcoholism. Information under this subsection (2) shall not be published in a way that discloses patients' names or other identifying information.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit or limit the sharing of information by a state institution of higher education police department to authorized university administrators pursuant to section 23-5-141, C.R.S.

27-81-114. Visitation and communication of patients. (1) A patient in any approved treatment facility shall be granted opportunities for continuing visitation and communication with his or her family and friends consistent with an effective treatment program. A patient shall be permitted to consult with counsel at any time.

(2) Neither mail nor other communication to or from a patient in any approved treatment facility may be intercepted, read, or censored. The director may adopt reasonable rules regarding the use of the telephone by patients in approved treatment facilities.

27-81-115. Emergency service patrol - establishment - rules. (1) The unit and cities, counties, city and counties, and regional service authorities may establish emergency service patrols. A patrol consists of persons trained to give assistance in the streets and in other public places to persons who are intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol. Members of an emergency service patrol shall be capable of providing first aid in emergency situations and shall be authorized to transport a person intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol to his or her home and to and from treatment facilities.

(2) The director shall adopt rules for the establishment, training, and conduct of emergency service patrols.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-314 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-81-116. Payment for treatment - financial ability of patients. (1) If treatment is provided by an approved public treatment facility and the patient, including a committed person, has not paid the charge therefor, the approved treatment facility is entitled to any payment received by the patient or to which the patient may be entitled because of the services rendered and from any public or private source available to the approved treatment facility because of the treatment provided to the patient. The approved treatment facility may seek and obtain a judgment in an appropriate court for any fees or charges that have not been paid.

(2) A patient in an approved treatment facility, or the estate of the patient, or a person obligated to provide for the cost of treatment and having sufficient financial ability is liable to the approved treatment facility for the cost of maintenance and treatment of the patient therein in accordance with rates established. The approved treatment facility may seek and obtain a judgment in an appropriate court for any fees or charges that have not been paid.

(3) The director shall adopt rules that establish a standardized ability-to-pay schedule, under which those with sufficient financial ability are required to pay the full cost of services provided and those who are totally without sufficient financial ability are provided appropriate treatment at no charge. The schedule shall take into consideration the income, including government assistance programs, savings, and other personal and real property, of the person required to pay and any support the person required to pay furnishes to another person as required by law.

(4) Nothing in this section shall prohibit an approved treatment facility from charging a minimal fee for therapeutic purposes.

27-81-117. Criminal laws - limitations. (1) A county, municipality, or other political subdivision may not adopt or enforce a local law, ordinance, resolution, or rule having the force of law that includes drinking, being a common drunkard, or being found in an intoxicated condition as one of the elements of the offense giving rise to a criminal or civil penalty or sanction.

(2) A county, municipality, or other political subdivision may not interpret or apply any law of general application to circumvent the provisions of subsection (1) of this section.

(3) Nothing in this article affects any law, ordinance, resolution, or rule against drunken driving, driving under the influence of alcohol, or other similar offense involving the operation of a vehicle, an aircraft, or a boat or machinery or other equipment or regarding the sale, purchase, dispensing, possessing, or use of alcoholic beverages at stated times and places or by a particular class of persons.

(4) The fact that a person is intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol shall not prevent his or her arrest or prosecution for the commission of any criminal act or conduct not enumerated in subsection (1) of this section.

(5) Nothing in this article shall be construed as a limitation upon the right of a police officer to make an otherwise legal arrest, notwithstanding the fact that the arrested person may be intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol.

27-82-101. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly recognizes the character and pervasiveness of drug abuse and drug dependency and that drug abuse and dependency are serious problems. The general assembly further finds and declares that these problems have been very seriously neglected and that the social and economic costs and the waste of human resources caused by drug abuse and dependency are massive, tragic, and no longer acceptable. The general assembly believes that the best interests of this state demand an across-the-board locally oriented attack on the massive drug abuse and dependency problem, which attack includes prevention, education, and treatment, and that this article will provide a base from which to launch the attack and reduce the tragic human loss.

(2) It is the policy of this state that drug dependent persons and persons who are under the influence of drugs should be afforded treatment in order that they may lead normal lives as productive members of society. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that drug abuse and drug dependency are matters of statewide concern.

27-82-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Administrator" means the administrator of an approved treatment facility or an individual authorized in writing to act as his or her designee.

(2) "Approved private treatment facility" means a private agency meeting the standards prescribed in section 27-82-103 (1) and approved under section 27-82-103.

(3) "Approved public treatment facility" means a treatment agency operating under the direction and control of or approved by the unit and meeting the standards prescribed in section 27-82-103 (1) and approved under section 27-82-103.

(4) "Court" means the district court in the county in which the person named in a petition filed pursuant to this article resides or is physically present. In the city and county of Denver, "court" means the probate court.

(5) "Department" means the department of human services created in section 26-1-105, C.R.S.

(6) "Director" means the director of the unit.

(7) “Drug” means a controlled substance as defined in section 18-18-102 (5), C.R.S., and toxic vapors.

(8) “Drug abuser” means a person who habitually uses drugs or who uses drugs to the extent that his or her health is substantially impaired or endangered or his or her social or economic function is substantially disrupted. Nothing in this subsection (8) shall preclude the denomination of a drug abuser as a person under the influence of or incapacitated by drugs.

(9) “Executive director” means the executive director of the department.

(10) “Incapacitated by drugs” means that a person, as a result of the use of drugs, is unconscious or has his or her judgment otherwise so impaired that he or she is incapable of realizing and making a rational decision with respect to his or her need for treatment, is unable to take care of his or her basic personal needs or safety, or lacks sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate rational decisions concerning himself or herself.

(11) “Licensed physician” means either a physician licensed by the state of Colorado or a hospital-licensed physician employed by the admitting facility.

(12) “Minor” means a person under the age of eighteen years.

(13) “Person under the influence of drugs” means any person whose mental or physical functioning is temporarily but substantially impaired as a result of the presence of drugs in his or her body.

(14) “Toxic vapors” means a substance or product containing such substances as defined in section 18-18-412 (3), C.R.S.

(15) “Treatment” means the broad range of emergency, outpatient, intermediate, and inpatient services and care, including diagnostic evaluation, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and social service care, vocational rehabilitation, and career counseling, that may be extended to drug abusers and persons under the influence of drugs.

(16) “Unit” means the unit in the department that administers behavioral health programs and services, including those related to mental health and substance abuse.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-1101 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-82-103. Standards for public and private treatment facilities - fees - enforcement procedures - penalties. (1) In accordance with the provisions of this article, the unit shall establish standards for approved treatment facilities that receive public funds or that dispense controlled substances or both. The standards shall be met for a treatment facility to be approved as a public or private treatment facility. The unit shall fix the fees to be charged for the required inspections. The fees that are charged to approved treatment facilities that provide level I and level II programs as provided in section 42-4-1301.3 (3) (c), C.R.S., shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the fees to the alcohol and drug driving safety program fund created in section 42-4-1301.3 (4) (a), C.R.S. The standards may concern only the health standards to be met and standards of treatment to be afforded patients and shall reflect the success criteria established by the general assembly.

(2) The unit periodically shall inspect approved public and private treatment facilities at reasonable times and in a reasonable manner.

(3) The unit shall maintain a list of approved public and private treatment facilities.

(4) Each approved public and private treatment facility shall file with the unit, on request, data, statistics, schedules, and information the unit reasonably requires. An approved public or private treatment facility that fails without good cause to furnish any data, statistics, schedules, or information, as requested, or files fraudulent returns thereof shall be removed from the list of approved treatment facilities.

(5) The unit, after hearing, may suspend, revoke, limit, restrict, or refuse to grant an approval for failure to meet its standards.

(6) A person shall not operate a private or public treatment facility in this state without approval from the unit; except that this article shall not apply to a private treatment facility that accepts only private funds and does not dispense controlled substances. The district court may restrain any violation of, review any denial, restriction, or revocation of approval under, and grant other relief required to enforce the provisions of this section.

(7) Upon petition of the unit and after a hearing held upon reasonable notice to the facility, the district court may issue a warrant to an officer or employee of the unit authorizing him or her to enter and inspect at reasonable times, and examine the books and accounts of, any approved public or private treatment facility refusing to consent to inspection or examination by the unit or which the unit has reasonable cause to believe is operating in violation of this article.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-1102 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-82-104. Acceptance for treatment - rules. (1) The director shall adopt and may amend and repeal rules for acceptance of persons into the treatment program, considering available treatment resources and facilities, for the purpose of early and effective treatment of drug abusers and persons under the influence of drugs. In establishing the rules, the director shall be guided by the following standards:

(a) If possible a patient shall be treated on a voluntary rather than an involuntary basis.

(b) A patient shall be initially assigned or transferred to outpatient treatment, unless or until he or she is found to require residential treatment.

(c) A person may not be denied treatment solely because he or she has withdrawn from treatment against medical advice on a prior occasion or because he or she has relapsed after earlier treatment.

(d) An individualized treatment plan shall be prepared and maintained on a current basis for each patient.

(e) Provision shall be made for a continuum of coordinated treatment services, so that a person who leaves a facility or leaves a form of treatment will have available and utilize other appropriate treatment.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-1103 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-82-105. Voluntary treatment of drug abusers. (1) A drug abuser, including a minor, may apply for voluntary treatment directly to an approved treatment facility.

(2) Subject to rules adopted by the director, the administrator in charge of an approved treatment facility shall determine who shall be admitted for treatment. If a person is refused admission to an approved treatment facility, the administrator may refer the person to another approved and appropriate treatment facility for treatment if it is deemed likely to be beneficial. A person should not be referred for further treatment if it is determined that further treatment is not likely to bring about significant improvement in the person's condition, or treatment is no longer appropriate, or further treatment is unlikely to be beneficial.

(3) If a patient receiving residential care leaves an approved treatment facility, he or she shall be encouraged to consent to outpatient treatment or supportive services if appropriate.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-1104 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-82-106. Voluntary treatment for persons under influence of drugs and persons incapacitated by drugs. (1) A person under the influence of or incapacitated by drugs, including a minor if provided by rules of the unit, may voluntarily admit himself or herself to an approved treatment facility for emergency treatment.

(2) A person who voluntarily enters an approved treatment facility shall be immediately evaluated or examined by the facility administrator. A person found to be in need of treatment shall then be admitted or referred to another appropriate facility. If a person is found not to be in need of treatment, he or she shall be released or referred to another appropriate facility.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (7) of this section, a voluntarily admitted person shall be released from the approved treatment facility immediately upon his or her request.

(4) A person who is not admitted to an approved treatment facility, and who is not referred to another health facility, and who has no funds may be taken to his or her home, if any. If he or she has no home, the approved treatment facility may assist him or her in obtaining shelter.

(5) If a person is admitted to an approved treatment facility, his or her family or next of kin shall be notified as promptly as possible in accordance with federal confidentiality regulations for alcohol and drug abuse patient records, which regulations are found at 42 CFR, part II, secs. 2.1 to 2.67, as amended. If an adult person requests that there be no notification, his or her request shall be respected.

(6) If the administrator in charge of the approved treatment facility determines that it is for the person's benefit, the person shall be encouraged to agree to further diagnosis and appropriate voluntary treatment.

(7) Nothing in this section shall preclude the approved treatment facility administrator from seeking emergency commitment of a person as provided in section 27-82-107 or involuntary commitment of a person as provided in section 27-82-108, regardless of whether the person has been voluntarily admitted under this section. In such case, the administrator's or designee's further conduct shall be governed by section 27-82-107 or 27-82-108, as applicable.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 25-1-1105 as it existed prior to 2010.

27-82-107. Emergency commitment. (1) When any person is under the influence of or incapacitated by drugs and clearly dangerous to the health and safety of himself, herself, or others, he or she may be taken into protective custody by law enforcement authorities, acting with probable cause, and placed in an approved treatment facility. If no such facilities are available, he or she may be detained in an emergency medical facility or jail, but only for so long as may be necessary to prevent injury to himself, herself, or others or to prevent a breach of the peace. A law enforcement officer, in detaining the person, is taking him or her into protective custody. In so doing, the detaining officer may protect himself or herself by reasonable methods but shall make every reasonable effort to protect the detainee's health and safety. A taking into protective custody under this section is not an arrest, and no entry or other record shall be made to indicate that the person has been arrested or charged with a crime. Law enforcement personnel who act in compliance with this section are acting in the course of their official duties and are not criminally or civilly liable therefor. Nothing in this subsection (1) shall preclude a person under the influence of or incapacitated by drugs who is not dangerous to the health and safety of himself, herself, or others from being assisted to his or her home or like location by the law enforcement officer.

(2) A law enforcement officer, physician, spouse, guardian, or relative of the person to be committed or any other responsible person may make a written application for emergency commitment under this section, directed to the administrator of the approved treatment facility. The application shall state the circumstances requiring emergency commitment, including the applicant's personal observations and the specific statements of others, if any, upon which he or she relies in making the application. A copy of the application shall be furnished to the person to be committed.

(3) If the approved treatment facility administrator finds that there are sufficient grounds in the application, the person shall be committed, evaluated, and treated for a period not to exceed five days. The person shall be brought to the facility by a peace officer or any interested person. If necessary, the court may be contacted to issue an order to the police, the peace officer's department, or the sheriff's department to transport the person to the facility.

(4) If the approved treatment facility administrator determines that there are insufficient grounds in the application to sustain an emergency commitment as set forth in subsection (1) of this section, the commitment shall be refused and the person detained immediately released, and the person shall be encouraged to seek voluntary treatment if appropriate.

(5) When the administrator determines that the grounds for commitment no longer exist, the emergency commitment shall be revoked and the client shall be placed on voluntary status and encouraged to seek further voluntary treatment. No person committed under this section may be detained in any treatment facility for more than five days; except that a person may be detained for longer than five days at the approved treatment facility if, in that period of time, a petition for involuntary commitment has been filed pursuant to section 27-82-108. A person may not be detained longer than ten days, excluding weekends and holidays, after the date of filing of the petition for involuntary commitment unless valid medical reasons exist for detaining a person longer.

(6) Whenever a person is involuntarily detained pursuant to this section, he or she shall be advised within twenty-four hours by the facility administrator, both orally and in writing, of his or her right to challenge such detention by application to the courts for a writ of habeas corpus, and to have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court if he or she wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel.

27-82-108. Involuntary commitment of drug abusers. (1) A person may be committed to the custody of the unit by the court upon the petition of the person's spouse or guardian, a relative, a physician, an advanced practice nurse, the administrator in charge of any approved treatment facility, or any other responsible person. The petition shall allege that the person is a drug abuser and that the person has threatened or attempted to inflict or inflicted physical harm on himself or herself or on another and that unless committed the person is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or herself or on another or that the person is incapacitated by drugs. A refusal to undergo treatment does not constitute evidence of lack of judgment as to the need for treatment. The petition shall be accompanied by a certificate of a licensed physician who has examined the person within ten days before submission of the petition, unless the person whose commitment is sought has refused to submit to a medical examination or an examination cannot be made of such person due to the person's condition. The certificate shall set forth the physician's findings in support of the allegations of the petition.

(2) A petition submitted pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall not be accepted unless there is documentation of the refusal by the person to be admitted to accessible and affordable voluntary treatment. Documentation may include, but shall not be limited to, physicians' and advanced practice nurses' statements, notations in the person's medical or law enforcement records, or witnesses' statements.

(3) Upon the filing of the petition, the court shall fix a date for a hearing no later than ten days, excluding weekends and holidays, after the date the petition was filed, unless valid medical reasons exist for delaying the hearing. A copy of the petition and of the notice of the hearing, including the date fixed by the court, shall be personally served on the person whose commitment is sought and one of his or her parents or his or her legal guardian if he or she is a minor. A copy of the petition and notice of hearing shall be provided to the petitioner, to the unit, to counsel for the person whose commitment is sought, if any, to the administrator in charge of the approved treatment facility to which the person may have been committed for emergency treatment, and to any other person the court believes advisable.

(4) At the hearing, the court shall hear all relevant testimony, including, if possible, the testimony of at least one licensed physician who has examined the person whose commitment is sought. The person shall be present unless the court believes that the person's presence is likely to be injurious to the person; in this event, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the person throughout the proceeding. If the person has refused to be examined by a licensed physician, he or she shall be given an opportunity to be examined by a court-appointed licensed physician. If the person refuses and there is sufficient evidence to believe that the allegations of the petition are true or if the court believes that more medical evidence is necessary, the court may commit the person to a licensed hospital or an approved public or private treatment facility for a period of not more than five days for a diagnostic examination. In such event, the court shall schedule a further hearing for final determination of commitment, in no event later than five days after the first hearing.

(5) If after hearing all relevant evidence, including the results of any diagnostic examination by the licensed hospital, the court finds that grounds for involuntary commitment have been established by clear and convincing proof, it shall make an order of commitment to the unit. The unit shall have the right to delegate physical custody of the person to an appropriate approved treatment facility. It may not order commitment of a person unless it determines that the unit is able to provide adequate and appropriate treatment for him or her and that the treatment is likely to be beneficial.

(6) Upon the commitment of a person to the unit by the court, the court may issue an order to the sheriff to transport the person committed to the facility designated by the unit.

(7) A person committed as provided in this section shall remain in the custody of the unit for treatment for a period of thirty days unless sooner discharged. At the end of the thirty-day period, he or she shall be discharged automatically unless the unit, before expiration of the period, files a petition for his or her recommitment upon the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for a further period of ninety days and a hearing has been scheduled in accordance with subsection (3) of this section. If a person has been committed because he or she is a drug abuser likely to inflict physical harm on another, the unit shall apply for recommitment if, after examination, it is determined that the likelihood still exists.

(8) A person recommitment as provided in subsection (7) of this section who has not been discharged by the unit before the end of the ninety-day period shall be discharged at the expiration of that period unless the unit, before expiration of the period, files a petition on the grounds set forth in subsection (1) of this section for recommitment for a further period not to exceed ninety days and a hearing has been scheduled in accordance with subsection (3) of this section. If a person has been committed because he or she is a drug abuser likely to inflict physical harm on another, the unit shall apply for recommitment if after examination it is determined that the likelihood still exists. Only two recommitment orders under subsection (7) of this section and this subsection (8) are permitted.

(9) Upon the filing of a petition for recommitment under subsections (7) and (8) of this section, the court shall fix a date for hearing no later than ten days, excluding weekends and holidays, after the date the petition was filed unless valid medical reasons exist for delaying the hearing. A copy of the petition and of the notice of hearing shall be served as required in subsection (3) of this section. At the hearing, the court shall proceed as provided in subsection (4) of this section.

(10) The unit shall provide for adequate and appropriate treatment of a person committed to its custody. The unit may transfer any person committed to its custody from one approved treatment facility to another if transfer is advisable.

(11) A person committed to the custody of the unit for treatment shall be discharged at any time before the end of the period for which he or she has been committed if either of the following conditions is met:

(a) In the case of a drug abuser committed on the grounds that he or she is likely to inflict physical harm upon another, that he or she no longer has a drug abuse condition that requires treatment or the likelihood no longer exists; or

(b) In the case of a drug abuser committed on the grounds of the need of treatment and incapacity, that the incapacity no longer exists, or in case of a drug abuser committed on any grounds under this section, that further treatment will not be likely to bring about significant improvement in the person's condition, or treatment is no longer appropriate, or further treatment is unlikely to be beneficial.

(12) The court shall inform the person whose commitment or recommitment is sought of his or her right to contest the application, to be represented by counsel at every stage of any proceedings relating to the person's commitment and recommitment, and to have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court if the person wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel. If the court believes that the person needs the assistance of counsel, the court shall require, by appointment if necessary, counsel for the person regardless of the person's wishes. The person whose commitment or recommitment is sought shall be informed of his or her right to be examined by a licensed physician of the person's choice. If the person is unable to obtain a licensed physician and requests examination by a physician, the court shall employ a licensed physician.

(13) If a private treatment facility agrees with the request of a competent patient or his or her parent, sibling, adult child, or guardian to accept the patient for treatment, the administrator of the public treatment facility may transfer him or her to the private treatment facility.

(14) A person committed under this article may at any time seek to be discharged from commitment by an order in the nature of habeas corpus.

(15) The venue for proceedings under this section is the county in which the person to be committed resides or is present.

(16) All proceedings conducted pursuant to this article shall be conducted by the district attorney of the county where the proceeding is held or by an attorney acting for the district attorney appointed by the court for that purpose; except that, in any county or in any city and county having a population exceeding one hundred thousand persons, the proceedings shall be conducted by the county attorney or by an attorney acting for the county attorney appointed by the court.

27-82-109. Records of drug abusers and persons under influence of drugs.

(1) The registration and other records of treatment facilities shall remain confidential and fully protected as outlined in federal confidentiality regulations for alcohol and drug abuse patient records found at 42 CFR, part II, secs. 2.1 to 2.67, as amended.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1) of this section, the director may make available information from patients' records for purposes of research into the causes and treatment of drug abuse. Information under this subsection (2) shall not be published in a way that discloses patients' names or other identifying information.

27-82-110. Visitation and communication of patients. (1) A patient in an approved treatment facility shall be granted opportunities for continuing visitation and communication with his or her family and friends consistent with an effective treatment program. A patient shall be permitted to consult with counsel at any time.

(2) Neither mail nor other communication to or from a patient in any approved treatment facility may be intercepted, read, or censored. The director may adopt reasonable rules regarding the use of the telephone by patients in approved treatment facilities.

27-82-111. Payment for treatment - financial ability of patients. (1) If treatment is provided by an approved public treatment facility and the patient, including a committed person, has not paid the charge therefor, the approved treatment facility is entitled to any payment received by the patient or to which he or she may be entitled because of the services rendered and from any public or private source available to the approved treatment facility because of the treatment provided to the patient. The treatment facility may seek and obtain a judgment in an appropriate court for any fees or charges which have not been paid.

(2) A patient in an approved treatment facility, or the estate of the patient, or a person obligated to provide for the cost of treatment and having sufficient financial ability is liable to the approved treatment facility for the cost of maintenance and treatment of the patient therein in accordance with rates established. The treatment facility may seek and obtain a judgment in an appropriate court for any fees or charges that have not been paid.

(3) The director shall establish by rule a standardized ability-to-pay schedule, under which those with sufficient financial ability are required to pay the full cost of services provided and those who are totally without sufficient financial ability are provided appropriate treatment at no charge. Such schedule shall take into consideration the income including government assistance programs, savings, and other personal and real property of the person required to pay, and any support being furnished by him or her to any person he or she is required by law to support.

(4) Nothing in this section shall prohibit a facility from charging a minimal fee for therapeutic purposes.

27-82-112. Criminal laws - limitations. (1) Nothing in this article affects any law, ordinance, resolution, or rule against driving under the influence of drugs or other similar offense involving the operation of a vehicle, an aircraft, a boat, any machinery, or any other equipment or regarding the sale, purchase, possession, or use of drugs.

(2) The fact that a person is under the influence of or incapacitated by drugs shall not prevent his or her arrest or prosecution for the commission of any criminal act or conduct.

(3) Nothing in this article shall be construed as a limitation upon the right of a police officer to make an otherwise legal arrest, notwithstanding the fact that the arrested person may be under the influence of or incapacitated by drugs.

27-90-101. Executive director - division heads - interagency council - advisory boards. (1) (a) Medical personnel employed at any of the institutions subject to the control of the executive director, the medical director of which is licensed to practice medicine in this state, shall be exempt from the provisions of the “Colorado Medical Practice Act”, article 36 of title 12, C.R.S., with respect to service rendered to bona fide patients or inmates at those institutions, if such personnel: Are licensed to practice medicine in any other state of the United States or any province of Canada; have satisfactorily completed an internship of not less than one year in the United States, Canada, or Puerto Rico in a hospital approved for that purpose by the American medical association; have satisfactorily completed three years of postgraduate residency training, or its equivalent, in their particular specialty in a hospital approved for that purpose by the American medical association; and can read, write, speak, and understand the English language. Proof that the requirements have been met shall be submitted to and approved or disapproved by the executive director.

(b) All personnel who cannot satisfy all of the requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) shall be exempt from the “Colorado Medical Practice Act”, article 36 of title 12, C.R.S., with respect to services rendered to bona fide patients or inmates at said institutions, if the personnel are of good moral character, are graduates of an approved medical college as defined in section 12-36-102.5, C.R.S., have completed an approved internship of at least one year as defined in section 12-36-102.5, C.R.S., within nine months after first being employed, pass the examinations approved by the Colorado medical board under the “Colorado Medical Practice Act” and the national board of medical examiners, the national board of examiners for osteopathic physicians and surgeons, or the federation of state medical boards, or their successor organizations, on subjects relating to the basic sciences, are able to read, write, speak, and understand the English language, and, in the case of personnel who are not citizens of the United States, become citizens within the minimum period of time within which the particular individual can become a citizen according to the laws of the United States and the regulations of the immigration and naturalization service of the United States, department of justice, or any successor agency, or within such additional time as may be granted by said boards.

(c) Medical personnel granted exemption under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection (1) may not practice medicine except as described in this subsection (1) without first complying with all of the provisions of the “Colorado Medical Practice Act”.

(2) The governor may appoint an interagency council to serve at his or her pleasure, to be composed of such representatives as he or she may select from the departments of public health and environment, labor and employment, health care policy and financing, human services, personnel, and such other state officers and officials as he or she may deem appropriate.

(3) The governor may appoint advisory boards to consult with the executive director and the chief officer of any institution within the jurisdiction of the department. Any such advisory board shall consist of not less than five nor more than fifteen persons recognized or known to be interested and informed in the area of the institution’s purpose and function. Members of the advisory boards shall serve without compensation but may be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in attending regular meetings. Advisory boards established pursuant to this subsection (3) shall meet quarterly and during any interim on call of the executive director.

(2) Subsection (1)(b) was numbered as § 27-1-102 (2)(c) in House Bill 10-1260 (see L. 2010, p. 1990) but was relocated due to its harmonization with this section as it was added by Senate Bill 10-175.

27-90-102. Duties of executive director - governor acquire water rights - rules.
(1) The duties of the executive director shall be:

(a) To manage, supervise, and control the charitable, mental, custodial, and special educational public institutions operated and supported by the state; to manage and supervise the special agencies, departments, boards, and commissions transferred to or established within the department by law; to improve, develop, and carry forward programs of therapy, counseling, and aftercare to the end that a person dependent upon tax-supported programs may be afforded opportunity and encouragement to overcome the disability causing his or her partial or total dependence upon the state;

(b) To supervise the business, fiscal, budget, personnel, and financial operations of the department and the institutions and activities under his or her control;

(c) In consultation with the several superintendents, the chief officer of the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo, the head of the administrative division for the Colorado mental health institute at Fort Logan, and the director of the division of planning, to develop a systematic building program providing for the projected, long-range needs of the institutions under his or her control;

(d) To classify the lands connected with the state institutions under his or her control and determine which are of such character as to be most profitably used for agricultural purposes, taking into consideration the needs of all state institutions for the food products that can be grown or produced thereon and the relative value of such agricultural use in the treatment or rehabilitation of the persons confined in those institutions;

(e) To the extent practical, to utilize the staff and services of other state agencies and departments, within their respective statutory functions, including administrative law judges appointed pursuant to part 10 of article 30 of title 24, C.R.S., to carry out the purposes of this article;

(f) To examine and evaluate each child committed to the department and to place each child so committed as provided in section 19-2-922, C.R.S.;

(g) To transfer between appropriate state institutions children committed to the department as provided in section 19-2-923, C.R.S.;

(h) To require of the head of each institution and agency assigned to the department an annual report containing information, and submitted at a time, as the executive director decides;

(i) To exercise control over publications of the department and subdivisions thereof and cause publications that are approved for circulation in quantity outside the executive branch to be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 24-1-136, C.R.S.;

(j) To implement the procedures regarding children who are in detention or who have or may have mental illness or developmental disabilities specified in the provisions of the "Colorado Children's Code" contained in articles 1, 2, and 3 of title 19, C.R.S.;

(k) To carry out the duties prescribed in article 11.7 of title 16, C.R.S.; and

(l) To provide information to the director of research of the legislative council concerning population projections, research data, and the projected long-range needs of the institutions under the control of the executive director and any other related data requested by the director.

(2) The executive director shall have such other powers, duties, and functions as are prescribed for heads of principal departments in the "Administrative Organization Act of 1968", article 1 of title 24, C.R.S.

(3) On behalf of the state of Colorado, the governor is authorized to acquire water and water rights for the operation of the Colorado mental health institute at Fort Logan. Title to that property may be acquired in fee simple absolute by purchase, donation, or the exercise of the power of eminent domain through condemnation proceedings in accordance with law from funds made available by the general assembly.

(4) (a) (I) The executive director shall appoint a board of medical consultants.

(II) The executive director shall determine the membership of the board based on the medical and surgical needs of the department.

(III) The executive director shall determine the qualifications for appointment to the board of medical consultants; except that all members of the board shall be licensed by the Colorado medical board pursuant to article 36 of title 12, C.R.S.

(b) A person serving on the board of medical consultants shall provide not more than one thousand hours of consultation per year in his or her capacity as a board member.

(c) Members of the board of medical consultants shall be compensated at a rate that shall be approved by the executive director. Compensation shall be paid from available funds of the department.

(d) The board members shall act as medical consultants to the department with respect to persons receiving services from the institutions listed in section 27-90-104 and from any institution operated pursuant to part 11 of article 2 of title 19, C.R.S.

(e) A member of the board of medical consultants, for all activities performed within the course and scope of his or her responsibilities to the department, is a "public employee" as defined in section 24-10-103 (4), C.R.S.

(5) (a) The executive director shall have authority to adopt "executive director rules", as described in section 26-1-108, C.R.S., for programs administered and services provided by the department as set forth in this title. The rules shall be promulgated in accordance with the provisions of section 24-4-103, C.R.S.

(b) Whenever a statutory grant of rule-making authority in this title refers to the department, state department, or the department of human services, it shall mean the department of human services acting through either the state board of human services or the executive director or both. When exercising rule-making authority under this title, the department, either acting through the state board or the executive director, shall establish rules consistent with the powers and the distinction between “board rules” as set forth in section 27-90-103 and “executive director rules” as set forth in this section.

(c) Any rules adopted by the state board of human services to implement the provisions of this title prior to March 25, 2009, whose content meets the definition of “executive director rules” shall continue to be effective until revised, amended, or repealed by the executive director.

(2) Subsection (4)(a)(III) was numbered as § 27-1-103 (3)(a)(III) in House Bill 10-1260 (see L. 2010, p. 1991), but was relocated due to its harmonization with this section as it was added by Senate Bill 10-175.

27-90-103. State board of human services - rules. (1) The state board of human services, created in section 26-1-107, C.R.S., is authorized to adopt “board rules” as necessary to implement the programs administered and the services provided by the department as provided in this title. The rules shall be promulgated in accordance with the provisions of section 24-4-103, C.R.S.

(2) “Board rules” are rules promulgated by the state board of human services governing:

- (a) Program scope and content;
- (b) Requirements, obligations, and rights of clients and recipients;
- (c) Nonexecutive director rules concerning vendors, providers, and other persons affected by acts of the department.

(3) (a) Any rules adopted by the executive director to implement the provisions of this title prior to March 25, 2009, whose content meets the definition of “board rules” shall continue to be effective until revised, amended, or repealed by the state board of human services.

(b) Any rules adopted by the state board to implement the provisions of this title prior to March 25, 2009, whose content meets the definition of “executive director rules” shall continue to be effective until revised, amended, or repealed by the executive director.

(4) Whenever a statutory grant of rule-making authority in this title refers to the department, the state department, or the department of human services, it shall mean the department of human services acting through either the state board of human services or the executive director. When exercising rule-making authority under this title, the state department, either acting through the state board or the executive director, shall establish rules consistent with the powers and the distinction between “board rules” as set forth in this section and “executive director rules” as set forth in section 27-90-102.

27-90-104. Institutions managed, supervised, and controlled. (1) The department shall manage, supervise, and control the following state institutions:

- (a) Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo;
- (b) Wheat Ridge regional center;
- (c) Grand Junction regional center;
- (d) Lookout Mountain school, at Golden;
- (e) Mount View school, at Morrison;
- (f) Colorado mental health institute at Fort Logan, in Denver;

27-90-105. Future juvenile detention facility needs. (1) (a) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that currently there are no juvenile detention facilities with commitment beds or locked detention beds in the southwest portion of Colorado and that the nearest such facility in the Grand Junction or Glenwood Springs area is as much as four hours away from some southwestern communities. As a result of this distance, authorities in the southwest region of the state often avoid detention even though such avoidance presents a public safety problem, and those juveniles who are taken to distant facilities lose the critical access to family members and local community agencies that would otherwise render their transitional return to the community less difficult.

(b) The general assembly further finds and declares that the juvenile population in detention is expected to increase by seventy and nine hundredths percent by the year 2002. In addition, the general assembly finds and declares that the juvenile commitment population is expected to increase by forty-nine and nine-tenths percent by the year 2002. The general assembly finds and declares that the growth patterns on the western slope of the state have led to a growth in population of at-risk youth and increased crime and that the office of youth services accordingly has experienced a shortfall of both detention and commitment beds in the western part of the state.

(c) The general assembly therefore determines that it would be appropriate to consider the need for the construction of a juvenile detention facility in southwest Colorado.

(2) (a) The department is directed to assess the need for, and to determine the community commitment to, a new multipurpose juvenile detention facility to be constructed in La Plata county that would serve the following detention and treatment needs of juveniles in the southwest portion of the state:

(I) Secure facility housing of juveniles who are detained on juvenile-related charges; and

(II) Secure facility and medium secure facility housing of juveniles who are committed to the division of youth corrections.

(b) In assessing the need for such a facility and the services to be rendered at such a facility, the department shall evaluate privatization options.

(3) The department shall present its findings, conclusions, and recommendations to the capital development committee of the general assembly on or before November 1, 1996.

27-90-106. Legislative review of facilities program plans for juvenile facilities.

(1) Prior to any appropriation by the general assembly for the construction of a new, expanded, renovated, or improved juvenile facility, and no later than November 1 prior to the beginning of the budget year for which the appropriation is made, the department shall submit a proposed facility program plan for each proposed new, expanded, renovated, or improved juvenile facility to the capital development committee. The capital development committee shall make a recommendation regarding the facility program plan to the joint budget committee. The general assembly may contract with a consultant to provide assistance to the capital development committee and the joint budget committee in the review of facilities program plans submitted by the department.

(2) For the purposes of this section, “facility program plan” means a pre-architectural design program, as that term is understood in the architectural profession. A facility program plan shall include but need not be limited to the number of beds proposed to be included in the new juvenile facility or the addition to an existing juvenile facility, the primary security level of the proposed facility or addition, the staffing plan of the proposed facility or addition, and a description of any educational or ancillary support facilities required for the proposed facility or addition.

27-90-107. Transfer of functions. (1) The department has the authority to execute, administer, perform, and enforce the rights, powers, duties, functions, and obligations vested in the board of control of the state children’s home, the board of control of the Mount View girls’ school, and the division of administration of the division of parole prior to July 1, 1959.

(2) Except where the context plainly requires otherwise, “board” or “boards of control”, with reference to the institutions and the division listed in subsection (1) of this section, means and refers to the department of human services.

27-90-108. Transfer of employees, records, and property - retirement benefits protected - decision of governor. (1) All employees of the division of administration of the division of parole and all employees of the boards of control enumerated in section 27-90-107 who were engaged in the performance of duties prescribed and supervised by the division of administration of the division of parole and the boards, respectively, and who were transferred to the department of institutions on July 1, 1959, shall retain all rights to retirement benefits under the laws of the state, and their services shall be deemed to have been continuous. All funds, accounts, books, records, documents, and equipment of the boards and the division of administration of the division of parole became the property of the department of institutions on July 1, 1959.

(2) All questions pertaining to the proper disposition of funds, accounts, books, records, documents, or equipment arising under this article and section 17-1-101, C.R.S., and caused by the transfer of powers, duties, rights, functions, and obligations from any board of control to the department of institutions shall be determined by the governor.

(3) Whenever in this article a department, agency, division, or unit thereof is transferred to the department of institutions, the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of this section shall be declared applicable in effecting such transfer.

27-90-109. Department may accept gifts, donations, and grants. The department or any institution managed, supervised, and controlled by the department may accept or refuse to accept, on behalf of and in the name of the state, gifts, donations, and grants, including grants of federal funds, for any purpose connected with the work or programs of the department or of any such institution. The executive director, with the approval of the governor, has the power to direct the disposition of any such gift, donation, and grant so accepted for any purpose consistent with the terms and conditions under which given.

27-90-111. Employment of personnel - screening of applicants - disqualifications from employment. (1) The general assembly hereby recognizes that many of the individuals receiving services from persons employed by the department pursuant to this title or title 26, C.R.S., are unable to defend themselves and are therefore vulnerable to abuse or assault. It is the intent of the general assembly to minimize the potential for hiring and employing persons with a propensity toward abuse, assault, or similar offenses against others for positions that would provide them with unsupervised access to vulnerable persons. The general assembly hereby declares that, in accordance with section 13 of article XII of the state constitution, for purposes of terminating employees in the state personnel system who are finally convicted of criminal conduct, offenses involving moral turpitude include, but are not limited to, the disqualifying offenses specified in subsection (9) of this section.

(2) For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Contracting employee" means a person who contracts with the department and who is designated by the executive director or the executive director's designee as serving in a contract position involving direct contact with vulnerable persons.

(b) "Conviction" means a verdict of guilty by a judge or jury or a plea of guilty or nolo contendere that is accepted by the court or adjudication for an offense that would constitute a criminal offense if committed by an adult. "Conviction" also includes having received a deferred judgment and sentence or deferred adjudication; except that a person shall not be deemed to have been convicted if the person has successfully completed a deferred sentence or deferred adjudication.

(c) "Direct contact" means providing face-to-face care, training, supervision, counseling, consultation, or medication assistance to vulnerable persons, regardless of the level of supervision of the employee. "Direct contact" may include positions in which persons have access to or unsupervised time with clients or patients, including but not limited to maintenance personnel, housekeeping staff, kitchen staff, and security personnel.

(d) "Employee" means an employee of the department who is under the state personnel system of the state of Colorado.

(e) "Vulnerable person" means any individual served by the department who is susceptible to abuse or mistreatment because of the individual's circumstances, including but not limited to the individual's age, disability, frailty, mental illness, developmental disability, or ill health.

(3) The employment screening and disqualification requirements in this section apply to the following facilities or programs operated by the department:

(a) Any facility operated by the department for the care and treatment of persons with mental illness pursuant to article 65 of this title;

(b) Any facility operated by the department for the care and treatment of the developmentally disabled pursuant to article 10.5 of this title;

(c) Vocational rehabilitation services provided pursuant to article 8 of title 26, C.R.S.;

(d) Any direct services identified and provided by the department in which employees have direct contact with vulnerable persons in a state-operated facility or in a vulnerable person's home or residence;

(e) State and veterans nursing homes operated pursuant to article 12 of title 26, C.R.S.;

(f) Any facility directly operated by the department in which juveniles who are in the custody of the department reside, including detention or commitment centers; and

(g) Any secure facility contracted for by the department pursuant to section 19-2-403, C.R.S., in which juveniles who are in the custody of the department reside.

(4) Prior to the department's permanent employment of a person in a position that would require that person to have direct contact with any vulnerable person, the executive director or any division head of the department shall make an inquiry to the director of the Colorado bureau of investigation to ascertain whether the person has a criminal history. The person's employment shall be conditional upon a satisfactory criminal background check. Any criminal background check conducted pursuant to this subsection (4) shall include but need not be limited to arrests, conviction records, and the disposition of any criminal charges. The department shall require the person to have his or her fingerprints taken by a local law enforcement agency. The local law enforcement agency shall forward those fingerprints to the Colorado bureau of investigation for the purpose of fingerprint processing utilizing the files and records of the Colorado bureau of investigation and the federal bureau of investigation. The department shall pay for the costs of criminal background checks conducted pursuant to this section out of existing appropriations.

(5) The executive director or any division head shall contact previous employers of any person who is one of the top three finalists for a position that would require that person to have direct contact with any vulnerable person, for the purpose of obtaining information and recommendations that may be relevant to the person's fitness for employment. Any previous employer of an applicant for employment who provides information to the executive director or a division head or who makes a recommendation concerning the person shall be immune from civil liability unless the information is false and the previous employer knows such information is false or acts with reckless disregard concerning the veracity of the information.

(6) Any local agency or provider of services pursuant to this title or title 26, C.R.S., may investigate applicants for employment.

(7) The executive director, any division head, or any local agency or provider who relies on information obtained pursuant to this section in making an employment decision or who concludes that the nature of any information disqualifies the person from employment as either an employee or a contracting employee shall be immune from civil liability for that decision or conclusion unless the information relied upon is false and the executive director, division head, or local agency or provider knows the information is false or acts with reckless disregard concerning the veracity of the information.

(8) The executive director may promulgate such rules as are necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

(9) (a) If the criminal background check conducted pursuant to subsection (4) or (11) of this section indicates that a prospective employee or prospective contracting employee was convicted of any of the disqualifying offenses set forth in paragraph (b) or (c) of this subsection (9), the person shall be disqualified from employment either as an employee or as a contracting employee in a position involving direct contact with vulnerable persons. A person who is disqualified as a result of this section shall not be hired or retained by the department in a position involving direct contact with vulnerable persons nor be eligible to contract for or continue in a contract position designated by the executive director or the executive director's designee as involving direct contact with vulnerable persons.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (9), a person shall be disqualified from employment either as an employee or as a contracting employee regardless of the length of time that may have passed since the discharge of the sentence imposed for any of the following criminal offenses:

(I) A crime of violence, as defined in section 18-1.3-406, C.R.S.;

(II) Any felony offense involving unlawful sexual behavior, as defined in section 16-22-102 (9), C.R.S.;

(III) Any felony, the underlying factual basis of which has been found by the court on the record to include an act of domestic violence, as defined in section 18-6-800.3, C.R.S.;

(IV) Any felony offense of child abuse, as defined in section 18-6-401, C.R.S.; or

(V) Any felony offense in any other state, the elements of which are substantially similar to the elements of any of the offenses described in subparagraph (I), (II), (III), or (IV) of this paragraph (b).

(c) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d) of this subsection (9), a person shall be disqualified from employment either as an employee or as a contracting employee if less than ten years have passed since the person was discharged from a sentence imposed for conviction of any of the following criminal offenses:

(I) Third degree assault, as described in section 18-3-204, C.R.S.;

(II) Any misdemeanor, the underlying factual basis of which has been found by the court on the record to include an act of domestic violence, as defined in section 18-6-800.3, C.R.S.;

(III) Violation of a protection order, as described in section 18-6-803.5, C.R.S.;

(IV) Any misdemeanor offense of child abuse, as defined in section 18-6-401, C.R.S.;

(V) Any misdemeanor offense of sexual assault on a client by a psychotherapist, as defined in section 18-3-405.5, C.R.S.; or

(VI) Any misdemeanor offense in any other state, the elements of which are substantially similar to the elements of any of the offenses described in subparagraph (I), (II), (III), (IV), or (V) of this paragraph (c).

(d) If a person was adjudicated a juvenile delinquent for the commission of any disqualifying offense set forth in either paragraph (b) or (c) of this subsection (9) and more than seven years have elapsed since the commission of the offense, the person may submit a written request to the executive director as provided in subsection (13) of this section for reconsideration of the disqualification.

(10) (a) Any employee who is employed in a position involving direct contact with vulnerable persons and who is arrested, charged with, or issued a summons and complaint for any of the disqualifying offenses set forth in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section shall inform his or her supervisor of the arrest, charges, or issuance of a summons and complaint before returning to work. Any employee who fails to make such a report or disclosure may be terminated from employment. The department or any facility operated by the department shall advise its employees and contracting employees in writing of the requirement for self-reporting of the disqualifying offenses set forth in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section.

(b) An employee who is charged with any of the disqualifying offenses set forth in paragraph (b) of subsection (9) of this section shall be suspended until resolution of the criminal charges or completion of administrative action by the department. An employee who is charged with any of the disqualifying offenses set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection (9) of this section may be suspended at the discretion of the department until resolution of the criminal charges or completion of administrative action by the department. The employee shall inform his or her supervisor of the disposition of the criminal charges. Any employee who fails to report such information may be terminated from employment. Upon notification to the department that the employee has received a conviction for any of the disqualifying offenses described in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section, the employee shall be terminated from employment. Nothing in this paragraph (b) shall prohibit the department from taking administrative action if the employee's conduct would justify disciplinary action under section 13 of article XII of the state constitution for failure to comply with standards of efficient service or competence or for willful misconduct, willful failure, or inability to perform his or her duties.

(11) The general assembly recognizes that the department contracts with persons to serve in positions that involve direct contact with vulnerable persons in state-operated facilities or to provide state-funded services that involve direct contact with vulnerable persons in the homes and residences of such vulnerable persons. In order to protect vulnerable persons who come into contact with these contracting employees, the executive director or the executive director's designee shall designate those contract positions that involve direct contact with vulnerable persons that shall be subject to the provisions of this subsection (11). In any contract initially entered into or renewed on or after July 1, 1999, concerning a contract position that has been designated as involving direct contact with vulnerable persons, the department shall include the following terms and conditions:

(a) That the contracting employee shall submit to a criminal background check as described in subsection (4) of this section for state employees;

(b) That the contracting employee shall report any arrests, charges, or summonses for any of the disqualifying offenses specified in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section to the contracting employee's supervisor at the department before returning to work;

(c) That the contracting employee may be suspended or terminated, at the discretion of the department, prior to the resolution of the criminal charges for any of the disqualifying offenses specified in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section;

(d) That, upon notification to the department that the contracting employee has received a conviction for any of the disqualifying offenses described in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section, the contracting employee's position with the department shall be terminated.

(12) An employee or contracting employee who is disqualified due to conviction of any of the disqualifying offenses set forth in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section may submit a written request to the executive director for reconsideration of the disqualification. Reconsideration under this subsection (12) may only be based on a mistake of fact such as an error in the identity of the person for whom the criminal background check was performed. If the executive director determines that there was a mistake of fact involving the identity of the person, the executive director shall issue a finding that the disqualifying factor is not a bar to the person's employment either as an employee or as a contracting employee.

(13) (a) An employee or contracting employee who is disqualified for conviction of an offense specified in paragraph (c) of subsection (9) of this section may submit a written request to the executive director for reconsideration of the disqualification and a review of whether the person poses a risk of harm to vulnerable persons. In reviewing a disqualification, the executive director shall give predominant weight to the safety of vulnerable persons over the interests of the disqualified person. The final determination shall be based upon a review of:

- (I) The seriousness of the disqualifying offense;
- (II) Whether the person has a conviction for more than one disqualifying offense;
- (III) The vulnerability of the victim at the time the disqualifying offense was committed;
- (IV) The time elapsed without a repeat of the same or similar disqualifying offense;
- (V) Documentation of successful completion of training or rehabilitation pertinent to the disqualifying offense; and
- (VI) Any other relevant information submitted by the disqualified person.

(b) The decision of the executive director shall constitute final agency action.

(14) Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude the department or the director of any facility operated by the department from adopting a policy regarding self-reporting of arrests, charges, or summonses or a policy regarding disqualification from employment that includes other offenses not set forth in paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection (9) of this section.

27-91-108. Display of flags. (1) The chief administrative officer of any state institution supported in whole or in part by the state and under the control of the state shall have erected and maintained, at the entrance of the institution or on the principal administrative building or grounds thereof, a suitable flagstaff with the attachments necessary for the display of flags and shall cause to be displayed thereon the flags of the United States and of the state of Colorado. The flag of the state of Colorado shall be the same size as the flag of the United States with which it is displayed. If both flags are displayed on one flagstaff, the flag of the state of Colorado shall be placed below the flag of the United States.

(2) (a) The chief administrative officer of any court facility supported in whole or in part by the state and under the control of the state shall cause to be permanently and prominently displayed the flag of the United States, as described in chapter 1 of title 4, U.S.C., in each courtroom when a court proceeding is in session. A flag displayed in a courtroom must measure three by five feet. No alleged failure to cause the flag of the United States to be permanently and prominently displayed in a courtroom supported in whole or in part by the state and under the control of the state shall be the basis of any challenge to such court's authority or jurisdiction or for any appeal of any decision, order, or judgment of such court.

(b) The flags of the United States and of the state of Colorado shall be permanently and prominently displayed in all committee rooms under the control of the general assembly of the state of Colorado.

(c) On and after September 1, 1996, the chief administrative officer of any school supported in whole or in part by the state and under the control of the state shall cause to be displayed permanently and prominently the flag of the United States, as described in chapter 1 of title 4, U.S.C., in each academic classroom when an academic class is in session. A flag displayed in an academic classroom shall measure no less than either twelve by eighteen inches if it is displayed in a frame or two by three feet if it is displayed on a flagstaff.

(3) The chief administrative officer of any school or court facility supported in whole or in part by the state and under the control of the state is hereby authorized to accept donations of flags to be displayed in classrooms or courtrooms pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section.

(4) (a) The chief administrative officer of any state institution, school, or court facility described in this section shall not permit the display of any depiction or representation of a flag of the United States that is intended for public view and permanently affixed or attached to any part of the building or grounds of said state institution, school, or court facility, and which display does not conform with 4 U.S.C. sec. 7.

(b) Nothing in this subsection (4) shall be construed to preclude the temporary display of any instructional or historical materials or student work product included as part of a lesson not permanently affixed or attached to any part of said building or grounds.

(5) Any flag of the United States displayed pursuant to this section shall be displayed as described in 4 U.S.C. sec. 7.

27-91-109. Personal display of flags. (1) The right to display reasonably the flag of the United States shall not be infringed with respect to the display:

- (a) On an individual's person;
- (b) Anywhere on an individual's personal or real property; and
- (c) In the buildings or on the grounds of any tax-supported property in the state; except that the state or political subdivision that has jurisdiction over the building or grounds may adopt reasonable rules and regulations regarding the size, number, placement, manner of display, and lighting of the flag, and the location, size, and height of flagpoles.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding any provision of subsection (1) of this section to the contrary, the right with respect to an individual's real property shall be subject to reasonable restrictive covenants or equitable servitudes; except that no such covenant or servitude, nor any owners' association shall prohibit the outdoor display of the flag of the United States by a property owner on that owner's property if the flag is displayed in a manner consistent with chapter 1 of title 4 of the United States Code, as amended.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2) to the contrary, an owners' association, the state, or a political subdivision may adopt reasonable rules and regulations regarding the size, number, placement, manner of display, and lighting of the flag, and the location, size, and height of flagpoles.

(3) For purposes of this section, "display reasonably" shall be presumed to include a display of the flag of the United States that is consistent with chapter 1 of title 4 of the United States Code, as amended.

(4) A right described in subsection (1) of this section is a civil right of free speech and a protected form of expression under the first amendment to the United States constitution and section 10 of article II of the state constitution.

Statutory scheme in this article is clear and unambiguous. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

For constitutionality of section, see Wigington v. State Home & Training Sch., 175 Colo. 159, 486 P.2d 417 (1971).

There is no constitutional inequality in requiring those receiving more expensive care to be liable for additional costs through assets which they may have accumulated. State v. Estate of Burnell, 165 Colo. 205, 439 P.2d 38, appeal dismissed per curiam, 393 U.S. 13, 89 S. Ct. 46, 21 L. Ed.2d 13, reh'g denied, 393 U.S. 992, 89 S. Ct. 441, 21 L. Ed.2d 458 (1968).

A mental patient who voluntarily works in a state hospital and is not paid for such services is not unconstitutionally denied equal protection of the laws or subjected to slavery or involuntary servitude. In re Estate of Buzzelle v. Colo. State Hosp., 176 Colo. 554, 491 P.2d 1369 (1971).

This section provides the remedy for collection for maintenance of a mentally ill or deficient pauper from his relatives while an inmate at the state hospital. People ex rel. Zimmerman v. Herder, 122 Colo. 456, 223 P.2d 197 (1950).

This section clearly imposes liability on the estate of a criminally insane person who is committed or transferred to a public institution operated by the state of Colorado for care and maintenance. State v. Estate of Burnell, 165

Colo. 205, 439 P.2d 38, appeal dismissed per curiam, 393 U.S. 13, 89 S. Ct. 46, 21 L. Ed.2d 13, reh'g denied, 393 U.S. 992, 89 S. Ct. 441, 21 L. Ed.2d 458 (1968).

Imposition of liability in derogation of common law. The imposition of liability upon relatives for the costs of care and maintenance of mental incompetents confined in mental institutions is in derogation of the common law. At common law it was the rule that in the absence of express contract or fraud, public authorities could not recover either from the person confined, from his estate, or from those under a common-law duty to support him, the expenses incurred on account of the committed patient. In re Estate of Randall v. Colo. State Hosp., 166 Colo. 1, 441 P.2d 153 (1968).

A statute imposing liability where none previously existed must be strictly construed in favor of the person against whom its provisions are intended to be applied. In re Estate of Randall v. Colo. State Hosp., 166 Colo. 1, 441 P.2d 153 (1968).

Exemptions from claim. The general assembly intended that an incompetent's estate be given the benefit of the same exemptions afforded to a normal judgment debtor. State v. Estate of Butler, 30 Colo. App. 246, 491 P.2d 102 (1971).

The exemption provisions of § 13-54-102 are applicable to the assets in the estate of a mental incompetent, and insurance proceeds in such an estate are exempt from an approved claim of the Colorado state hospital. State v. Estate of Butler, 30 Colo. App. 246, 491 P.2d 102 (1971).

There is no statutory compulsion requiring work, labor, or services by medically adjudicated incompetents whose confinement is not for punishment but rather for treatment. In re Estate of Buzzelle v. Colo. State Hosp., 176 Colo. 554, 491 P.2d 1369 (1971).

This section contains no express language requiring compensation for occupational therapy, nor any language from which an inference necessarily should be drawn that the state should pay a patient for his voluntary services. In re Estate of Buzzelle v. Colo. State Hosp., 176 Colo. 554, 491 P.2d 1369 (1971).

27-92-102. Cost determination. (1) The department of human services shall periodically determine the individual cost for the care, support, maintenance, treatment, and education of the patients of each of the public institutions supervised by the department of human services. In making the determination, it is proper for the department to use averaging methods to the extent that it is not practicable, in the judgment of the executive director of the department of human services, to compute the actual cost for each patient.

(2) With respect to a resident patient who is under the age of twenty-one years, the department of human services shall deduct from the determined cost an amount equal to the average per capita cost for the education of children with disabilities pursuant to article 20 of title 22, C.R.S.

Charges not based on insurance. The charges, i.e., the actual cost of the care, are the same whether the patient has insurance or not. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977) (decided prior to 2010 amendments to this article).

27-92-103. Extent of liability. (1) The department of human services shall assess against the patient, spouse, or parents made liable by section 27-92-101, or any of them, all or such part of the cost as they are respectively able to pay, but the department of human services shall not assess against the liable persons in the aggregate more than the whole of such cost.

(2) The liability of each parent shall cease when such parent has completed the payments as assessed in this article or upon the patient's eighteenth birthday, whichever event first occurs.

Voluntary work not unconstitutional. A mental patient who voluntarily works in a state hospital and is not paid for such services is not unconstitutionally denied equal protection of the laws or subjected to slavery or involuntary servitude. In re Estate of Buzzelle v. Colo. State Hosp., 176 Colo. 554, 491 P.2d 1369 (1971).

Determination and assessment conditions precedent to collection. Under this statutory scheme, the determination of ability to pay made pursuant to former § 27-12-104 and the assessment made thereon pursuant to this section are conditions precedent to collection. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

For the estate of the deceased to be liable for the care of her daughter, a claim would have to be one that could have been asserted against the deceased in her lifetime. In re Estate of Randall v. Colo. State Hosp., 166 Colo. 1, 441 P.2d 153 (1968).

This section contains no express language requiring compensation for occupational therapy, nor any language from which an inference necessarily should be drawn that the state should pay a patient for his voluntary services. In re Estate of Buzzelle v. Colo. State Hosp., 176 Colo. 554, 491 P.2d 1369 (1971).

27-92-104. Determination of ability to pay. (1) All insurance and other benefits payable for the care, support, maintenance, and treatment of a patient shall be considered available for payment of the cost determined under section 27-92-102.

(2) The department of human services shall determine the ability of a patient and his or her spouse to pay the balance of the cost by consideration of the following factors: Income reportable under Colorado law; the age of the patient and spouse; the number of dependents, their ages, and their mental and physical condition; provision for retirement years; the length of the patient's care or treatment; liabilities; and assets. The determination shall be made according to schedules contained in published rules, adopted in accordance with the provisions of article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(3) If it is determined that the patient and his or her spouse are unable to pay the entire cost determined under section 27-92-102 and the length of the patient's care and treatment at a state institution is reasonably anticipated to be less than six months, the department of human services shall determine the parent's ability to pay by consideration of the same factors referred to in subsection (2) of this section, applying each such factor to the parent.

(4) If it is determined that the patient and his or her spouse are unable to pay the entire cost determined under section 27-92-102 and the length of the patient's care and treatment at a state institution is reasonably anticipated to exceed six months, the department of human services shall determine the parent's ability to pay by reference to the parent's net taxable income reportable under Colorado law and to the patient's length of care or treatment. At the request of the parent, the department shall also consider other factors relevant to the interest of avoiding undue hardship to the family unit. Other factors may include the parent's age, provision for retirement years, assets, liabilities, and the number of dependents, their mental and physical condition, and their educational requirements. The determination shall be made according to schedules contained in published rules adopted in accordance with the provisions of article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(5) Should any parent not file a Colorado income tax return, the parent's net Colorado taxable income equivalent shall be determined by reference to his or her United States income tax return as though all the income disclosed by that return had been derived from sources within Colorado, and the table of rates shall be applied to the net taxable income equivalent.

(6) Upon the willful failure of any patient, spouse, or parent to furnish to the department of human services, upon request, copies of his or her income tax returns, he or she shall be deemed to have the ability to pay the entire cost determined under this article.

(7) Every agency and department of the state is required to render all reasonable assistance to the executive director of the department of human services in obtaining all information necessary for proper implementation of the purposes of this article. Nothing in this subsection (7) shall be construed to require the department of revenue to produce a copy of any person's income tax return solely upon the request of the department of human services, but the department of revenue shall deliver a copy of any such return upon the request of the taxpayer or his or her duly authorized representative, pursuant to section 39-21-113 (4), C.R.S.

ANNOTATION

- I. General Consideration.
- II. Insurance.
- III. Determination.
- IV. Amount of Liability.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Law reviews. For article, "Protecting the Mentally Incompetent Child's Trust Interest from State Reimbursement Claims", see 58 Den. L.J. 557 (1981).

Annotator's note. Since § 27-92-104 is similar to § 27-12-104 as it existed prior to the 2010 amendments to this article, relevant cases construing that provision have been included in the annotations to this section.

Ambiguous term construed in favor of insured. Even if an insurance company intended charges to mean other than actual cost, its intent is ambiguously stated, and therefore the term must be construed in favor of the insured. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295

(1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Benefits received by individuals at state mental health hospital from veterans administration and the Colorado old age pension program fall under the term "other benefits payable" in subsection (1). As such, they may be applied to cover costs of care at the hospital. In re Estate of Nau, 183 P.3d 626 (Colo. App. 2007).

II. INSURANCE.

Insurance coverage to be used to reimburse costs. The plain and obvious purpose of subsection (1) is to provide that where insurance coverage exists it shall be used to reimburse the state for the actual cost of the care, support, maintenance, and treatment of the patient. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Subsection (1) makes the consideration of insurance mandatory by the use of the word "shall". State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Insurance is to be considered available for payment of the entire cost before any allowance or remission based on the patient's ability to pay is permitted. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Subsection (1) refers only to the role which insurance proceeds should play in the department of institutions' decision relative to its determination of the ability of the patient or relative to pay. State ex rel. Fort Logan Mental Health Center v. Harwood, 34 Colo. App. 213, 524 P.2d 614 (1974).

III. DETERMINATION.

Liability attaches when determination made. The liability which attaches for accrued costs of maintenance and care in a public institution under former § 27-12-101 becomes a debt upon determination by the department of institutions that the relative is able to pay. If no determination of ability to pay has been made, the amount expended by the state in caring for the incompetent does not accrue and cannot be claimed as a debt against the estate of the deceased relative. People ex rel. Schauer v. Bozaich, 29 Colo. App. 468, 487 P.2d 597 (1971).

Collection of insurance proceeds is not condition precedent to determination of ability to pay. State ex rel. Fort Logan Mental Health Center v. Harwood, 34 Colo. App. 213, 524 P.2d 614 (1974).

Determination and assessment conditions precedent to collection. Under this statutory scheme, the determination of ability to pay made pursuant to this section and the assessment made thereon pursuant to former § 27-12-103 are conditions precedent to collection. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Failure to comply with and to exhaust statutory remedies under this article precludes later argument on the issues in a collection action. In re estate of Carlson, 749 P.2d 993 (Colo. App. 1987).

Failure to make determination bars collection. In the absence of a determination of ability to pay or an actual assessment, this section does not permit the collection of hospital expenses up to the amount of the insurance benefits payable for such expenses nor may the state maintain an action to recover for the costs of hospital care. State ex rel. Fort Logan Mental Health Center v. Harwood, 34 Colo. App. 213, 524 P.2d 614 (1974).

When the state does not determine the patient's ability to pay the balance, the doctrine of res judicata will bar collection of any balance. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

But does not obviate liability. The fact that liability cannot be asserted until a determination of ability to pay has been made in no way obviates the liability itself. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Trustee bank is not liable for payments to hospital for care given by hospital to beneficiary where bank did not willfully fail to supply tax returns to hospital for its determination of beneficiary's ability to pay. State v. First Interstate Bank of Denver, 743 P.2d 449 (Colo. App. 1987).

IV. AMOUNT OF LIABILITY.

Liability for actual cost of care. The initial liability is for the actual cost of the care provided, and is incurred as the day-to-day expenditures are made. Schleiger v. State, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Regardless of insurance. The actual cost of the care are the same whether the patient has insurance or not. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

"Charges" are "made" and "incurred" within the meaning of an insurance policy as each day passes while the patient is hospitalized, not when the bill is sent or the assessment made. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

When remission from full cost allowed. Only if insurance is not available to pay the full cost and only if the patient personally is unable to pay the full cost does he get a remission or allowance from the full cost. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

State may collect only what patient is able to pay. The initial liability is for the actual cost of the care provided, but the state may collect, when there is no insurance, only that amount which the patient is able to pay. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

Or spouse or parents. In those instances where there is no insurance, the state may collect only that portion of the person's liability for the actual cost as the patient, spouse, or parents are able to pay. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

The parent is liable for the actual cost of care upon admission. State v. Schleiger, 37 Colo. App. 195, 547 P.2d 1295 (1975), aff'd, 193 Colo. 531, 568 P.2d 441 (1977).

27-92-105. Effect of determination. A determination of the ability of a patient, spouse, or parent to pay shall remain in effect until a redetermination is made.

27-92-106. Appeal. Appeals from the determination of the ability of a patient or relative to pay, as provided in this article, may be taken to any court of record in Colorado having jurisdiction of the patient or his or her spouse or parents liable for payment; but no appeal may be taken until the executive director of the department of human services has ruled upon a written request for a review of the determination. The request shall be made within sixty days after receipt of notification of the determination, and the applicant shall be notified of the decision of the executive director within forty-five days after the receipt of the applicant's request for review.

27-93-101. Institute established. (1) There is hereby established the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo for the treatment and cure of persons who may have mental illness from any cause and for other persons in state institutions on an inpatient and outpatient basis and in state programs relating to the treatment of alcoholism and drugs who may require medical care and treatment within the capabilities of the staff and facilities of the institute.

(2) All materials without limitation that contain the former names of the Colorado mental health institute at Fort Logan and the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo shall be utilized to the maximum extent possible in the ordinary course of business before being replaced.

(3) The Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo is authorized to contract, pursuant to the federal government procurement process, with federal agencies to provide psychiatric, medical, and surgical services at the institute to persons under the care of or in the custody or control of an agency of the federal government, so long as the provision of such services does not exceed the capabilities of the staff and facilities of the institute and does not preempt services to state patients.

27-93-103. Employees - publications. (1) The head of the administrative division overseeing the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo shall appoint or employ, pursuant to section 13 of article XII of the state constitution, such administrators, physicians, nurses, attendants, and additional employees as may be necessary for the proper conduct of said institute. The head of the administrative division may contract with the board of regents of the university of Colorado health sciences center or any other governing board of a state-supported institution of higher education for the provision of services by physicians and other health care practitioners when deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the institute. During the performance of any duties by the physicians and other health care practitioners for the department of human services, the physicians and other health care practitioners are "public employees" as defined in section 24-10-103 (4), C.R.S., and the limitation of section 24-30-1517 (2), C.R.S., shall not apply.

(2) Publications of the institute circulated in quantity outside the institute shall be subject to the approval and control of the executive director of the department of human services.

27-93-104. Authorized utilization of medical facilities at institute - equipment replacement fund. (1) A person committed to the custody of or cared for in the department of human services or the department of corrections who requires medical care and treatment that can be advantageously treated by psychiatric, medical, or surgical care available at the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo may be treated at the institute. Charges for patient care and treatment shall be made in the manner provided in article 92 of this title. A specific appropriation shall be made annually for the general medical division of the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo, based upon projections of the total patient load and associated costs from all institutions, and the department of human services shall determine at least annually the per diem expenses and the actual utilization of the general medical division by each institution, including other divisions of the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo.

(2) A person under the care of or in the custody or control of an agency of the federal government whose psychiatric, medical, or surgical needs could be advantageously treated at the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo may be treated at the institute pursuant to a contract between the institute and the agency of the federal government.

(3) A contract entered into pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall cover the full direct and indirect costs of services as determined by generally accepted accounting principles and shall include a fee to cover the need for replacement of existing equipment which would occur because of this additional use. All fees collected pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be collected by the Colorado mental health institute at Pueblo and shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the equipment replacement fund, which fund is hereby created. Moneys in the equipment replacement fund shall be appropriated by the general assembly on an annual basis to the department of human services for replacement of existing equipment made necessary pursuant to this section.

28-1-101. Colorado division of civil air patrol - publication - benefits.

(1) (a) There is hereby created and established within the department of military and veterans affairs the Colorado division of civil air patrol. The mission of the division shall be to provide support for and facilitate the operation of the civil air patrol, Colorado wing, which shall be under the command and control of the duly appointed commanding officer of such wing. On and after July 1, 2004, the head of the division shall be appointed by the adjutant general acting on behalf of the governor and in consultation with the duly appointed commanding officer of the civil air patrol, Colorado wing. Warrants shall be drawn against appropriations made for the division upon vouchers issued and signed by the head of the division.

(b) All active officers in the civil air patrol, Colorado wing, including the duly appointed commanding officer of the civil air patrol, Colorado wing, shall be eligible to be appointed as the head of the Colorado division of civil air patrol by the adjutant general.

(2) Repealed.

(3) Publications of the division circulated in quantity outside the executive branch, to be paid for in whole or in part out of state-appropriated funds, shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 24-1-136, C.R.S.

(4) Members of the civil air patrol, Colorado wing, shall be eligible for benefits under the "Workers' Compensation Act of Colorado". Premiums for such coverage shall be included in annual appropriations by the general assembly.

28-1-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Civil air patrol mission" means an actual emergency operational mission of the Colorado wing of civil air patrol that has been duly authorized under civil air patrol regulations, including, but not limited to, through the United States Air Force, the governor's office, or other political subdivision of the state that has the authority to authorize an emergency operational mission of the Colorado wing of the civil air patrol.

(2) "Member" means a member of the civil air patrol, Colorado wing.

(3) "Private employer" means an employer that is not the state or any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or other public agency of the state.

Source: L. 2008: Entire section added, p. 608, § 1, effective August 5.

28-1-103. Civil air patrol - discrimination prohibited. An employer shall not discriminate against or discharge from employment any member of the civil air patrol because of such membership and shall not hinder or prevent a member from performing during any civil air patrol mission for which a member is entitled to leave pursuant to this article.

Source: L. 2008: Entire section added, p. 608, § 1, effective August 5.

28-1-104. Public employees - leave of absence. (1) Any member who is an officer or employee of the state or of any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or other public agency of the state and who is called to duty for a civil air patrol mission is entitled to a leave of absence from the member's office or employment for the time when the member is engaged in the civil air patrol mission without loss of pay, seniority, status, efficiency rating, vacation, sick leave, or other benefits. The leave without loss of pay that is allowed pursuant to this section shall not exceed a total of fifteen work days in the leave year established by the employer; except that such leave without loss of pay shall be allowed only if the required civil air patrol service is satisfactorily performed, which shall be presumed unless the contrary is established.

(2) The leave allowed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be allowed only if the member returns to his or her public position the next scheduled work day after being relieved from service for the civil air patrol mission; except that leave shall be allowed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section if the member is unable to return to work due to injury or circumstances beyond the member's control and the member notifies the employer as soon as practicable, but prior to the next scheduled work day.

(3) A state agency or any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or other public agency of the state may hire a temporary employee to fill a vacancy created by a leave of absence allowed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Upon returning from a leave of absence allowed pursuant to this section, a member is entitled to return to the same position and classification held by the member before the leave of absence for the civil air patrol mission or to the position, including the geographic location of the position, and classification that the member would have been entitled to if the member did not take a leave of absence for the civil air patrol mission.

(5) A member who is an officer or employee of the state or of any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or other public agency of the state, receiving a leave of absence pursuant to this section and having rights in any state, municipal, or other public pension, retirement, or relief system shall retain all of the rights accrued up to the time of taking the leave and shall have all rights subsequently accruing under such system as if the member did not take the leave. Any increase in the amount of money benefits accruing with respect to the time of the leave is dependent upon the payment of any contributions or assessments, and the right to the increase is dependent upon the payment of contributions or assessments within a reasonable time after the termination of the leave and upon such terms as the authorities in charge of the system may prescribe.

28-1-105. Private employees - leave of absence. (1) Any member who is employed by a private employer and who is called to duty for a civil air patrol mission is entitled to a leave of absence from the member's private employment, other than employment of a temporary nature, for the time when the member is engaged in the civil air patrol mission. The leave allowed pursuant to this section shall not exceed a total of fifteen work days in any calendar year, and the leave shall be allowed only if the member gives evidence to the employer of the satisfactory completion of the civil air patrol service.

(2) The period of absence allowed pursuant to this section shall be construed as an absence with leave and without pay and shall in no way affect the member's rights to vacation, sick leave, bonus, advancement, or other employment benefits or advantages relating to and normally to be expected for the member's particular employment.

(3) The leave allowed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section shall be allowed only if the member returns to his or her private employment as soon as practicable after being relieved from service for the civil air patrol mission.

(4) The private employer of a member who takes leave from the member's employment in order to engage in a civil air patrol mission shall, upon the member's completion of the mission, restore the member to the position the member held prior to the leave of absence or to a similar position.

28-3-103. General provisions. (1) In case the United States is at war or in case of any other emergency declared by the president or the congress of the United States or by the governor or the general assembly of this state, any organization, unit, or detachment of the military forces of this state, by direction of the governor and upon order of the officer in immediate command thereof, may continue in fresh pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs, terrorists, enemies, or enemy forces beyond the border of this state into another state until they are apprehended or captured by such organization, unit, or detachment or until the military or police forces of such other state or the forces of the United States have had a reasonable opportunity to pick up the pursuit or to apprehend or capture the persons pursued, if such other state has given authority by law for such pursuit by such forces of this state. Except as provided by law, any person who is apprehended or captured in another state by any of the forces of this state shall, without unnecessary delay, be surrendered to the military or police forces of the state in which he or she is taken or to the United States, but such surrender shall not constitute a waiver by this state of its right to extradite or prosecute such person for any crime committed in this state.

(2) Any military forces of another state who are in fresh pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs, terrorists, enemies, or enemy forces may continue such pursuit into this state until the military or police forces of this state or the forces of the United States have had a reasonable opportunity to take up the pursuit or to apprehend or capture the persons pursued, and the pursuing forces may arrest or capture such persons within this state while in fresh pursuit. Any such persons who are captured or arrested by the military forces of such other state while in this state shall, without unnecessary delay, be surrendered to the military or police forces of this state to be dealt with according to law.

(3) This section shall not be construed so as to make unlawful any arrest in this state which would otherwise be lawful nor to repeal or prevent the application of any of the provisions of sections 16-3-104 and 16-3-106, C.R.S.

(4) The intent of this article and all acts of the state affecting the military forces is to conform to all acts and regulations of the United States affecting the same subjects, and all acts of the state shall be construed to effect this purpose, and anything to the contrary shall be held null and void so long as the subject matter has been acted on by the United States, and, upon any subject not acted upon with reference to these matters by United States authority, any act of the state shall be in full force and effect. Nothing in this subsection (4) shall be construed to limit in any way the application of this article to the discipline of the Colorado National Guard when on "active service" or "on duty" as defined in section 28-3-101.

(5) All matters relating to the organization, discipline, and government of the military forces not otherwise provided for in this article shall be decided by the custom, regulations, and usage of the appropriate service of the armed forces of the United States.

(6) The military forces of the state of Colorado shall be divided into two classes - the organized militia and the unorganized militia.

(7) The organized militia shall consist of the following:

- (a) The federally recognized National Guard; and
- (b) The state defense force.

(8) The unorganized militia shall consist of all other members of the military forces.

(9) Consistent with federal law, women may enlist in the state military forces in the same manner as men and shall be appointed by the governor in the same manner as men. While so serving in the state military forces, women shall have the same status as male members of the state military forces, consistent with federal law.

ANNOTATION

Governor may not be interfered with.

When the governor decides that an insurrection exists which necessitates the calling out of the militia, his action cannot be interfered with so long as he does not exceed his authorized power. In re Moyer, 35 Colo. 159, 85 P. 190 (1905);

The Colorado Air National Guard is a state agency. Williams v. Colo. Air Nat'l Guard, 821 P.2d 922 (Colo. App. 1991).

28-3-104. Commander in chief - staff. The governor shall be the commander in chief of the military forces except so much thereof as may be in the actual service of the United States and may employ the same for the defense or relief of the state, the enforcement of its laws, the protection of life and property therein, and the implementation of the Emergency Management Assistance Compact; for service in a national special security event or in situations involving imminent danger of emergency or disaster; and for the training of the military forces for all appropriate state missions. He or she shall make and publish regulations not inconsistent with law and enforce the provisions of this article. He or she may appoint a staff, consisting of an adjutant general as chief of staff and such other officers as he or she deems necessary if all such officers are federally recognized officers in their respective ranks in the National Guard of the state.

28-3-105. Adjutant general - assistants. (1) There shall be an adjutant general of the state who shall be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, who shall be a staff officer, who at the time of appointment shall be a commissioned officer of the National Guard of this state with not fewer than ten years’ military service in the armed forces of this state or of the United States at least five of which have been commissioned service in the Colorado National Guard, and who has attained the grade of lieutenant colonel or a higher grade with federal recognition in such grade at least one year prior to his or her appointment as adjutant general. The adjutant general shall serve at the pleasure of the governor.

(2) The adjutant general shall be appointed to the rank of brigadier general or to such higher grade or rank as he or she may be federally recognized in.

(3) The adjutant general shall receive as compensation such salary as the governor by order may prescribe, but such salary shall not exceed the pay and allowances as provided by law for an officer of similar rank and length of service in the regular Army or regular Air Force of the United States.

(4) The adjutant general may appoint an assistant adjutant general for Army, an assistant adjutant general for air, and an assistant adjutant general for space. The adjutant general may appoint other assistant adjutant generals that may be authorized by the federal National Guard bureau or as authorized by the governor. In addition, the adjutant general may appoint any necessary administrative and clerical assistants.

(5) No adverse personnel action shall be taken against an officer or enlisted member of the military forces as a consequence of communicating with any member of the general assembly.

ANNOTATION

General assembly may fix qualifications and tenure. The general assembly has plenary power, and there are no constitutional prohibitions which prevent it fixing the qualifications and tenure of the adjutant general. People ex rel. Boatright v. Newlon, 77 Colo. 516, 238 P. 44 (1925).

Appointment of adjutant general is itself an assignment to duty, and thereafter, the appointee is “on duty by order of the governor”. MacGinnis v. Newlon, 82 Colo. 228, 257 P. 1085 (1927).

28-3-106. Powers and duties of adjutant general. (1) The adjutant general has the following powers and duties:

(a) The adjutant general shall be the chief of staff to the commander in chief and the administrative head of the department of military and veterans affairs. Whenever any law of this state refers to the military department, said law shall be construed as referring to the department of military and veterans affairs.

(b) He or she shall have custody of all military records, correspondence, and other military documents. He or she shall be the medium of military correspondence with the governor and perform all other duties pertaining to his or her office prescribed by law.

(c) The adjutant general shall prepare and transmit annually, in the form and manner prescribed by the heads of the principal departments pursuant to the provisions of section 24-1-136, C.R.S., a report accounting to the governor and the state, veterans, and military affairs committees of the house of representatives and the senate for the efficient discharge of all responsibilities assigned by law or directive to the adjutant general.

(d) He or she shall make and transmit to the federal government such reports and returns as are required by the laws of the United States.

(e) He or she shall, when necessary and pursuant to the provisions of section 24-1-136, C.R.S., cause the military code, orders, and regulations of the state to be reproduced and distributed to the commissioned officers and the several organizations of the National Guard.

(f) He or she shall cause to be prepared and issued all necessary books, blanks, and notices required to carry into full effect the provisions of the military code. All such books and blanks are the property of the state.

(g) The seal of office of the adjutant general shall contain the coat of arms of the state with the words added thereto "State of Colorado, Adjutant General's Office", and said seal shall be delivered by him or her to his or her successor. All orders issued from his or her office shall be authenticated with said seal. The adjutant general shall attest to all commissions issued to officers of the military forces.

(h) He or she shall superintend the preparation of all returns and reports required by the United States from the state on military matters.

(i) In the absence of the adjutant general or temporary inability to perform his or her duties as adjutant general, he or she shall appoint, with the consent of the governor, an officer of the National Guard to perform the duties prescribed for the adjutant general. Should the adjutant general be absent or unable to perform his or her duties for a period of six months or more, it shall be considered cause to justify his or her removal. Removal under this paragraph (i) shall be at the sole discretion of the governor.

(j) He or she shall prescribe such regulations not inconsistent with law as will increase the discipline and efficiency and will preserve and protect the property of the military forces of the state of Colorado. These regulations, as prepared by the adjutant general and approved by the governor, shall be published in orders, and the governor, when in his or her judgment it is necessary, may order the adjutant general to revise and amend these regulations. The regulations required by this paragraph (j) need not comply with the provisions of article 4 of title 24, C.R.S.

(k) He or she shall submit a budget respecting the military forces for the ensuing fiscal year for the approval of the controller, and the total of the budget for such period of time shall not be exceeded.

(l) He or she shall keep the papers, volumes, and records of the department in an office provided by the state and shall keep such accounts of activities and expenditures as are necessary and required.

(m) He or she shall attend to the safekeeping and repairing of the ordnance, arms, accouterments, equipment, and all other military property belonging to the state or issued to it by the United States. All military property of the state which, after proper inspection, is found unsuitable for the use of the state, under the direction of the governor, shall be disposed of by the adjutant general at public auction or by inviting bids after suitable advertisement of the sale daily for ten days in at least one newspaper published in the city or county where the sale is to take place; or the same may be sold at private sale when so ordered by the governor or, with the approval of the governor, may be turned over to any other department, board, or commission of the state government by which it can be used. Such department, board, or commission of the state government shall reimburse the military fund for the reasonable value of the property so received. He or she shall bid on the property or suspend the sale when in his or her opinion better prices may or should be obtained. He or she shall from time to time render to the governor a just and true account of the sales made by him or her and shall deposit the proceeds of the same in the military fund.

(n) He or she shall not issue or cause to be issued military property to persons or organizations other than those belonging to the National Guard, except in cases of emergency and then only on written approval of the governor.

(o) All purchases, with the exception of emergency purchases, shall be made through the executive director of the department of personnel in the manner provided by law. All property purchased under the authority granted shall be inspected by an inspector or an officer detailed for that purpose by the adjutant general, and no payment shall be made therefor until it appears by the certificate of such officer that such property is of the kind and quality specified in such agreement or contract. In case of emergency, the governor may suspend the operation of this paragraph (o) and direct the adjutant general in writing to purchase such military property as may be required in the open market. The governor shall report such actions with the reasons therefor and statement of the property purchased and the prices paid therefor to the general assembly at its next session. All payments shall be made by voucher drawn upon the military fund of the state upon such form as may be provided by the controller of the state of Colorado. Each voucher shall show the attestation of the adjutant general that it is within the budget as approved by the governor.

(p) He or she shall employ such clerks, laborers, and other force as may be required for his or her office, other departments, armories, and properties of the National Guard, and, in all cases of employment under this provision, a preference shall be extended to members of the National Guard. The pay of such clerks and other force shall be determined and fixed by the adjutant general with the approval of the governor and consistent with the pay for equivalent positions under the state personnel system. In case of emergency or when authorized by the governor, he or she may employ such additional temporary assistants as are necessary, to be paid from the amounts appropriated for the maintenance of the military forces.

(q) The adjutant general shall have charge of the campgrounds and military reservations of the state and shall be responsible for the protection and safety thereof, and he or she shall promulgate regulations for the maintenance of order thereon, for the enforcement of traffic rules, and for all other lawful regulations as may be ordered for the operation, care, and preservation of existing facilities and installations on all state military reservations. He or she shall keep in repair all state buildings and other improvements thereon. He or she may make such sound improvements thereon as the good of the service requires.

(r) The adjutant general, by and with the advice and approval of the governor, is authorized to rent, hire, purchase, take the conveyance of, and hold in trust for the use of the state of Colorado such buildings, lands, tenements, and appurtenances thereof as may be from time to time deemed necessary for use by the National Guard. All such expenditures shall be paid out of the military fund, but all titles shall be taken in the name of the governor of the state of Colorado for the use of the National Guard. Prior to acquiring any real property pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (r), the adjutant general shall submit a report to the capital development committee which describes the anticipated use of such real property, the maintenance costs related to such real property, the current value of such real property, any conditions or limitations which may restrict the use of such real property, and any potential liability to the state which could result from acquiring such real property. The capital development committee shall review any such report which is submitted to the capital development committee and shall provide recommendations to the adjutant general concerning the proposed real property acquisition within thirty days after the date of receipt of such report. The adjutant general shall not complete any such real property acquisition without considering any recommendations of the capital development committee which are provided within such thirty-day period.

(s) (I) If, in the judgment of the adjutant general, any real estate which has been acquired for military purposes is unsuitable for military purposes, the adjutant general, by and with the approval of the governor, in writing, has authority to sell, trade, or otherwise dispose of such real estate, but, except as otherwise provided by subparagraph (II) of this paragraph (s), such real estate shall not be disposed of for less than its appraised value. The appraised value of such real estate shall be determined by an appraiser who is registered, licensed, or certificated pursuant to part 7 of article 61 of title 12, C.R.S., and who is selected by the adjutant general from a list of three qualified individuals submitted to the adjutant general by the department. Appraisers shall be selected for the list, and their fees shall be negotiated in accordance with the standards established by part 14 of article 30 of title 24, C.R.S. The adjutant general, by and with the advice and approval of the governor, is authorized to lease any property belonging to the department when it is not needed for the immediate use of the department. All conveyances which are required for the purpose of this section shall be executed by the governor under the seal of the state, and the proceeds of all sales, trades, or other disposition shall be placed in an account to be invested by the state treasurer as provided in section 24-36-113, C.R.S. Any interest earned on the investment or deposit of such proceeds shall remain in such account and shall not be credited to the general fund or any other fund of the state. Said proceeds and any interest thereon shall be disbursed by authority of the adjutant general, subject to appropriation by the general assembly, only for the construction, repair, improvement, acquisition, or costs of acquisition or sale of armories throughout the state. Costs of acquisition or sale shall include but need not be limited to appraisals, site surveys, environmental surveys, title work, property inspections, closing costs, legal fees, real estate fees, site preparation, or utility studies. Prior to disposing of any real property pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (s), the adjutant general shall submit a report to the capital development committee which describes such real property, the maintenance costs related to such real property, the current value of such real property, any conditions or limitations which may restrict the use of such real property, and the terms of the proposed disposition of such real property. The capital development committee shall review any such report which is submitted to the capital development committee and shall provide recommendations to the adjutant general concerning the proposed real property disposition within thirty days after the date of receipt of such report. The adjutant general shall not complete any such real property disposition without considering any recommendations of the capital development committee which are provided within such thirty-day period.

(II) The adjutant general may dispose of real estate acquired but unsuitable for military purposes for less than its appraised value when the disposition is to an agency of state government. The adjutant general shall not be required to have an appraisal performed in order to complete such disposition. In the event an offer has been made to purchase such real estate for more than its appraised value, prior to any disposition the adjutant general shall give due consideration to the terms of the offer and to any cost savings to the state which would result from a transfer of such real estate to a state agency.

(t) Repealed.

(u) He or she shall prescribe the rules and regulations described in section 23-5-111.4 (7), C.R.S.

(v) The adjutant general shall ensure that the department complies with the requirements of section 24-1-136.5, C.R.S., concerning the preparation of operational master plans, facilities master plans, and facilities program plans for the department.

(w) Repealed.

(x) The adjutant general is authorized to accept gifts, grants, or donations of any kind from any private source or from any governmental unit in order to carry out the functions and duties set forth in this title subject to the conditions upon which the gifts, grants, or donations are made; except that no gift, grant, or donation shall be accepted if the conditions attached thereto require the use or expenditure thereof in a manner contrary to law or require expenditures from the general fund unless such expenditures are approved by the general assembly.

(y) The adjutant general may make available for public or private use any distance learning audio and video facilities located within the state. Such public or private use shall be subject to reasonable fees for the costs, including repair, replacement, and salaries involved in the use of the facilities, as well as maintenance and operation of the facilities and equipment.

28-3-107. Department of military and veterans affairs fund - creation. Any gifts, grants, and donations accepted by the adjutant general pursuant to section 28-3-106 (1) (x) shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the department of military and veterans affairs fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this section as the "fund". The moneys in the fund shall be invested by the state treasurer as provided in sections 24-36-109, 24-36-112, and 24-36-113, C.R.S. Any unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund and shall not revert or be credited or transferred to the general fund or be transferred to any other fund. Any interest or income derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall remain in the fund and shall not be credited to the general fund. Moneys in the fund shall be continuously appropriated to the department for use by the adjutant general to carry out the functions and duties set forth in this title.

ORGANIZATION

28-3-201. Composition. The Colorado National Guard consists of the regularly enlisted militia within the ages prescribed by federal law and regulations, organized, armed, and equipped as provided in this article, and of commissioned officers and warrant officers within the ages and having the qualifications prescribed by federal law and regulations. "National Guard" applies only to militia organized as provided for in this article and authorized by federal law and regulations relating to the National Guard. The number of officers and enlisted men of the National Guard shall be fixed from time to time and organized so as to meet the requirements of the federal laws and regulations.

OFFICERS

28-3-301. State staff - number and grades. The state headquarters shall contain a staff and detachment and shall be divided into a department of the Army and a department of the Air Force. Each department shall be commanded by an officer of the Colorado National Guard. Said officer may be appointed by the governor to the rank of brigadier general or to such higher rank in which he or she may be federally recognized. The number and grades of all other officers and enlisted men and women in the state staff and detachment shall be as prescribed by federal or state law, but, in case of war, invasion, insurrection, riot, or imminent danger of any such emergency, the governor may temporarily increase such forces to meet such emergency, and retired officers who are physically qualified may be assigned to such duty.

28-3-307. Supplies - indemnity bonds - depots. Arms, ammunition, equipment, and stores shall be issued to the proper officers of each organization upon requisition as prescribed by federal law. The governor may require of the accountable officers such bonds as he or she deems necessary for securing the care and safety of property so issued and shall allow them sufficient money to insure such property against fire when so required by the federal government. He or she may also allow them sufficient money to establish and maintain depots approved by him or her and to pay for transportation, handling, and care of such property, which allowance shall be paid out of the moneys appropriated or designated for the purchase of supplies for the National Guard. The adjutant general, with the approval of the governor, shall obtain and pay for, out of the military fund, an adequate indemnity bond covering all of the officers of the National Guard responsible for moneys and military property.

PART 4

ENLISTED PERSONS

28-3-401. Enlistment periods - extensions. Except as otherwise provided in this article or by federal law, original enlistments in the military forces shall be for a period of three years and subsequent enlistments for a period of one or three years. The governor may by order fix shorter periods of enlistment or reenlistment for any of the military forces so far as not inconsistent with federal law. In the event of any emergency wherein the governor has called out any of the military forces, he or she may by order extend, for not exceeding the period of emergency and sixty days thereafter, the period of any enlistment in the forces called out which would otherwise expire.

28-3-506. Discrimination against employment - penalty. (1) (a) No person shall discriminate against any officer or enlisted person of the military forces of the state because of the officer or enlisted person's membership therein.

(b) No employer or officer or agent of any corporation, company, or firm or other person shall:

(I) Refuse to hire any person for or discharge any person from employment because of the person's status as an officer or enlisted person of the military forces of the state; or

(II) Hinder or prevent the person from performing any military service he or she may be called upon to perform by proper authority; or

(III) Dissuade any person from enlistment in the said National Guard by threat or injury to such person, if he or she so enlists, in respect to the person's employment, trade, or business.

(2) Any person violating any of the provisions of subsection (1) of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. In addition, the aggrieved person may bring an action at law for damages for such noncompliance or apply to the district court for such equitable relief as is just and proper under the circumstances.

PART 6

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE EMPLOYEES - DUTIES

28-3-601. Public employees - annual military leave. (1) Subject to the conditions prescribed in sections 28-3-601 to 28-3-607, any officer or employee of the state or of any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or other public agency of the state who is a member of the National Guard or any other component of the military forces of the state organized or constituted under state or federal law or who is a member of the reserve forces of the United States, organized or constituted under federal law is entitled to leave of absence from his or her public office or employment without loss of pay, seniority, status, efficiency rating, vacation, sick leave, or other benefits for all the time when he or she is engaged with such organization or component in training or active service ordered or authorized by proper authority pursuant to law, whether for state or federal purposes, but not exceeding fifteen days in the leave year established by the employer. Such leave shall be allowed if the required military service is satisfactorily performed, which shall be presumed unless the contrary is established.

(2) Such leave shall not be allowed unless the officer or employee returns to his or her public position immediately on being relieved from such military service and not later than the expiration of the time limited in subsection (1) of this section for such leave, or is prevented from so returning by physical or mental disability or other cause not due to his or her own fault, or is required by proper authority to continue in such military service beyond the time limited in subsection (1) of this section for such leave.

ANNOTATION

Contractual provision not in conflict with statutory prohibition. A contractual provision requiring teachers on military leave to turn over to the school board payments received for reserve service does not, on its face, conflict with any statutory prohibition. Colo. Springs Teachers Ass'n v. Sch. Dist. No. 11, 622 P.2d 602 (Colo. App. 1980).

28-3-602. Public employees - extended military leave. If any such officer or employee is required by proper authority to continue in such military service beyond the time for which leave with pay is allowed, he or she is entitled to leave of absence from his or her public office or employment without pay for all such additional service with right of reinstatement thereafter upon the same conditions as provided in section 28-3-604 for reinstatement after active service in time of war or other emergency.

ANNOTATION

Legislative intent of this section was to provide a benefit to career public employees who went into active military service on a temporary basis in time of war or other emergency declared by proper authority. State Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Fleming, 183 Colo. 71, 514 P.2d 1135 (1973), cert. denied, 415 U.S. 977, 94 S. Ct. 1564, 39 L. Ed.2d 873 (1974).

When employee in active military service entitled to leave without pay status. A public employee who goes into active military service in time of declared war or other emergency is entitled to leave without pay status, but only so long as the war or emergency actually exists. State Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Fleming, 183 Colo. 71, 514 P.2d 1135 (1973), cert. denied, 415 U.S. 977, 94 S. Ct. 1564, 39 L. Ed.2d 873 (1974).

Section is nonoperative after cessation of war or emergency. After the cessation of active combat or the condition requiring military intervention, it was intended that this statute become nonoperative. State Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Fleming, 183 Colo. 71, 514 P.2d 1135 (1973), cert. denied, 415 U.S. 977, 94 S. Ct. 1564, 39 L. Ed.2d 873 (1974).

Benefit derived from this statute is not to continue during periods when this country is not engaged in any war or other emergency which requires our military intervention. State Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Fleming, 183 Colo. 71, 514 P.2d 1135 (1973), cert. denied, 415 U.S. 977, 94 S. Ct. 1564, 39 L. Ed.2d 873 (1974).

28-3-604. Reinstatement. (1) Except as otherwise provided in sections 28-3-601 to 28-3-607, upon the completion of such service, such officer or employee shall be reinstated in the public position which he or she held at the time of entry into such service or a public position of like seniority, status, and pay if such is available at the same salary which he or she would have received if he or she had not taken such leave upon the following conditions:

(a) That the position has not been abolished or that the term thereof, if limited, has not expired;

(b) That he or she is not physically or mentally disabled from performing the duties of such position;

(c) That he or she makes written application for reinstatement to the appointing authority within ninety days after discharge from hospitalization or medical treatment which immediately follows the termination of and results from such service, but such application shall be made within one year and ninety days after termination of such service, notwithstanding such hospitalization or medical treatment;

(d) That he or she submits an honorable discharge or other form of release by proper authority indicating that his or her military service was satisfactory.

(2) Upon such reinstatement, the officer or employee shall have the same rights with respect to accrued and future seniority status, efficiency rating, vacation, sick leave, and other benefits as if he or she had been actually employed during the time of such leave. No officer or employee so reinstated shall be removed or discharged within one year thereafter, except for cause and after notice and hearing; but this shall not operate to extend a term of service or office limited by law.

28-3-605. Public officer - certificate for reinstatement. Any public officer elected or appointed for a definite term who, before the expiration of such term, returns from military service under leave of absence without pay, in lieu of making written application for reinstatement as provided in section 28-3-604, shall file in the same office where his or her official oath is filed, within forty-five days after termination of such military service, a verified certificate that he or she has complied with the conditions for reinstatement prescribed in section 28-3-604, and he or she shall thereupon be deemed to have resumed his or her office.

28-3-606. Public pension rights retained. Any public officer or employee receiving leave of absence under the preceding sections and having rights in any state, municipal, or other public pension, retirement, or relief system shall retain all such rights accrued up to the time of taking such leave and shall have all rights subsequently accruing under such system as if he or she had been actually employed during the time of such leave. Any increase in the amount of money benefits accruing with respect to the time of such leave is dependent upon the payment of any contributions or assessments, and the right to such increase is dependent upon the payment of such contributions or assessments within such reasonable time after the termination of such leave and upon such terms as the authorities in charge of the system may prescribe.

28-3-703. Property and fiscal officer - appointment - duties. The governor, pursuant to federal authority, shall appoint, designate, or detail an officer of the National Guard who shall be regarded as property and fiscal officer for the United States. The property and fiscal officer shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The property and fiscal officer shall receipt and account for all funds and property belonging to the United States in possession of the National Guard of this state and shall make such returns and reports concerning the same as may be required by federal law and regulations. The property and fiscal officer shall render, through the United States department of defense, such accounts of federal funds entrusted to the property and fiscal officer for disbursement as may be required by the United States treasury department. Before entering upon the performance of the duties as property and fiscal officer, the property and fiscal officer shall be required to give good and sufficient bond to the United States, the amount thereof to be determined by federal laws or regulations, for the faithful performance of the duties of the office and for the safekeeping and proper disposition of federal property and funds entrusted to the property and fiscal officer's care.

PART 9

ORGANIZATION - ALLOWANCES - DRILLS

28-3-901. Organization assemblies and exercises. Each organization shall assemble for drill and instruction and shall participate in encampments, maneuvers, and other exercises at such time and places and for such periods as may be prescribed by the governor in accordance with the requirements of the state or federal law.

28-3-903. Inspections. When so ordered by the governor, an inspection shall be made by such officer designated by the governor of all of the military forces of the state of Colorado, and such inspector shall report the number of troops present, the condition of their arms, equipment, and clothing, their proficiency, and such other information as may be required of or deemed proper by him or her. There shall be at least one inspection annually at such time and place as the governor designates. The forms and mode of inspection shall be prescribed by the adjutant general.

28-3-904. Pay and allowances. Every member of the military forces not salaried as such shall receive from the state, while engaged in any service ordered by the governor, pay and allowances at the rate paid or allowed by law to members of similar rank and length of service in the regular Army or regular Air Force of the United States, as the case may be, but no such member shall receive less than twenty dollars per day. Subject to available appropriations, after a member of the military forces has been engaged in service pursuant to this section for a period of more than thirty consecutive days, the member shall be eligible to enroll in any benefit plan created for employees of the state, including but not limited to state employee group benefits pursuant to part 6 of article 50 of title 24, C.R.S., and the public employees' retirement association created pursuant to article 51 of title 24, C.R.S.

28-3-906. Units - corporate structure and powers. (1) Each federally recognized organization of the National Guard, without any further proceeding other than the filing with the secretary of state of a certificate by the adjutant general to that effect, constitutes a corporate body to be known by the name by which such organization is officially designated under the military laws and regulations of the state and shall possess all the powers necessary and convenient to accomplish the objects and perform the duties prescribed by law.

(2) The members of such military organization in good standing, and no others, shall constitute the members of such corporation and shall elect three trustees who, together with the commanding officer, shall manage and administer the civil business of such corporation. The commanding officer shall be ex officio president, and the trustees shall elect one of their number vice-president, one treasurer, and one secretary.

(3) Each such organization may take, by purchase, devise, gift, or otherwise, and hold, so long as such organization is an existing organization and a part of the National Guard, any property, real or personal. All such property shall be in the custody and control of the trustees provided for in subsection (2) of this section. Such organizations may sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of property so acquired.

(4) When any such organization is disbanded by proper authority, such corporation shall cease to exist, and all property belonging to it shall become the property of the state of Colorado and be devoted to such military uses as the adjutant general determines. Nothing in this section shall limit the authority vested in the officers of the organization by state or federal law.

28-3-1302. Commander in chief - order for plan. The governor, as commander in chief, shall order the adjutant general of the National Guard to prepare, in cooperation with the Colorado bureau of investigation, a drug interdiction and enforcement plan for submission to the secretary of defense of the United States.

Source: L. 89: Entire part added, p. 1253, § 1, effective April 12.

28-3-1303. Drug interdiction and enforcement plan - requirements. (1) The drug interdiction and enforcement plan required by this part 13 shall be in compliance with the provisions set forth in Pub.L. 100-456, section 1105, and shall specifically request the secretary of defense to provide sufficient funds for the pay, allowances, clothing, subsistence, gratuities, travel, and related expenses of personnel of the National Guard when utilized in conjunction with the plan. The plan shall specify that such funds are to be used solely for the purpose of drug interdiction and enforcement operations and for the operation and maintenance of the equipment and facilities of the National Guard when used in conjunction with such plan.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, when participating in operations pursuant to the drug interdiction and enforcement plan required by this part 13, the National Guard shall be considered a law enforcement agency of the state for purposes of accepting, receiving, disposing of, and expending the property and proceeds from any property forfeited to the federal government and allocated to the National Guard pursuant to section 16-13-601, C.R.S.

COLORADO STATE MILITARY SERVICE CIVIL RELIEF ACT

28-3-1401. Short title. This part 14 shall be known and may be cited as the “Colorado State Military Service Civil Relief Act of 2002”.

Source: L. 2002: Entire part added, p. 690, § 1, effective July 1.

28-3-1402. Applicability. This part 14 shall apply to any person who is called to state military service, as the term “military service” is defined in section 28-3-101, or called to state defense force active duty, as the term is defined in section 28-4-102, for any period of time longer than thirty days and who is ordered by the governor to enforce the law, preserve the peace, secure the rights or lives of citizens, or protect property.

Source: L. 2002: Entire part added, p. 690, § 1, effective July 1. L. 2003: Entire section amended, p. 1999, § 56, effective May 22.

28-3-1403. Stay of civil proceedings. Any court of competent jurisdiction may, on its own motion, stay any civil action or proceeding that involves a person described in section 28-3-1402 for the duration of the period of service or duty and for thirty days thereafter, or may otherwise dispose of the case as may be equitable to conserve the interests of all parties. The court shall stay the proceedings upon the application of a person, or an agent of the person, engaged in state military service or state defense force active duty unless, in the opinion of the court, the ability of the person to prosecute or defend the action is not materially affected.

28-3-1404. Actions for rent or possession by landlord. (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), an eviction, distress action, or requirement for deposit of accrued rent, as provided for in law, may not proceed against any person described in section 28-3-1402 during the period of service or duty and for thirty days thereafter if:

(I) The person, within thirty days after being called to said service or duty, has given written notice to the affected landlord with regard to any premises; and

(II) The rental unit is occupied chiefly as a residential dwelling by the person, the person’s spouse, or a dependent of the person.

(b) A court of competent jurisdiction may allow an action described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) to proceed based upon a finding of no substantive prejudice to the person as a result of the service or duty.

(2) The court may, on its own motion, stay the proceedings described in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section for the duration of the period of service or duty and for thirty days thereafter or otherwise dispose of the case as may be equitable to conserve the interests of all parties. The court shall stay the proceedings upon the application of a person, or an agent of the person, engaged in state military service or state defense force active duty unless, in the opinion of the court, the ability of the person to pay the agreed upon rent has not been materially affected by reason of the service or duty.

28-3-1405. Installment contracts - purchase of property. (1) (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (1), a creditor who has received a deposit or installment of the purchase price under an installment contract for the purchase of real or personal property from a person who, after the date of the payment of such deposit or installment, is called to state military service or state defense force active duty as described in section 28-3-1402, may not:

(I) Exercise any right or option under said contract to rescind or terminate the contract; or

(II) Resume possession of the property.

(b) A creditor described in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) may rescind or terminate the installment contract or resume possession of the property for nonpayment if:

(I) The person, within thirty days after being called to said service or duty, has not provided the creditor with written notice of the service or duty;

(II) A court of competent jurisdiction has affirmatively authorized such rescission, termination, or possession; or

(III) The nonpayment of any installment under the installment contract or any other breach of the terms thereof did not occur during the period of the service or duty or for thirty days thereafter.

(2) (a) Upon hearing said action, a court may order the repayment of prior installments or deposits or any part thereof as a condition of terminating the contract and resuming possession of the property.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (2), a court may, on its own motion, stay the proceedings for the duration of the period of service or duty and for thirty days thereafter or otherwise dispose of the case as may be equitable to conserve the interests of all parties. The court shall stay the proceedings upon the application of a person, or an agent of the person, engaged in state military service or state defense force active duty unless, in the opinion of the court, the ability of the person to comply with the terms of the obligation is not materially affected.

28-3-1406. Mortgage or security on property. (1) In any proceeding commenced during a period of state military service or state defense force active duty, as described in section 28-3-1402, to enforce obligations secured by a mortgage, trust deed, or other security upon real or personal property owned prior to the commencement of the period of state military service or state defense force active duty, the court may, on its own motion, stay the proceedings for the duration of the period of service or duty and for thirty days thereafter or otherwise dispose of the case as may be equitable to conserve the interests of all parties. The court shall stay the proceedings upon the application of a person, or an agent of the person, engaged in state military service or state defense force active duty unless, in the opinion of the court, the ability of the person to comply with the terms of the obligation is not materially affected.

(2) A sale, foreclosure, or seizure of property for nonpayment of any sum due under any obligation, or for breach of the terms of any such obligation, is not valid if made during a period of state military service or state defense force active duty, as described in section 28-3-1402, or within thirty days thereafter, unless such sale, foreclosure, or seizure is made upon an order previously granted by the court and a return thereto made and approved by the court.

(3) This section applies only to obligations secured by a mortgage, trust deed, or other security in the nature of a mortgage upon real or personal property owned by a person described in section 28-3-1402 at the commencement of state military service or state defense force active duty, which obligation originated prior to the person's service or duty and is still owed by the person during the period of service or duty.

MILITARY FAMILY RELIEF FUND

28-3-1501. Legislative declaration. The general assembly hereby finds and declares that, due to the many involuntary mobilizations subsequent to the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, many families of Colorado National Guard members and reservists face financial hardships when the National Guard member or reservist is called to active military duty because the military pay of a soldier is often far less than his or her civilian salary. Because private companies often do not make up the difference in salary, military families may see a significant drop in household income while a family member is away on active military duty. In addition, active duty military personnel and their families encounter additional hardships when the active duty member is deployed to zones in which he or she will encounter hostile fire. Many families of Colorado National Guard members, reservists, and active duty military personnel also face additional expenses caused by a long family separation. The general assembly further finds and declares that grants from the military family relief fund are intended to help families defray the costs of food, housing, utilities, medical services, and other expenses that may be difficult to afford when a family member leaves civilian employment for active military duty or is on active military duty in a hostile fire zone.

Source: L. 2005: Entire part added, p. 652, § 1, effective May 27; entire section amended, p. 658, § 1, effective May 27.

28-3-1502. Military family relief fund - creation. (1) There is hereby created in the state treasury the military family relief fund, referred to in this part 15 as the "fund". The fund shall consist of gifts, grants, and donations to the fund, which the adjutant general is authorized to accept, and any voluntary contributions to the fund pursuant to part 30 of article 22 of title 39, C.R.S.

(2) The adjutant general shall transfer any gifts, grants, and donations to the fund to the state treasurer who shall credit the same to the fund. All interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. All moneys remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall be transferred to the Colorado National Guard foundation, a Colorado nonprofit organization. The foundation shall administer such moneys pursuant to section 28-3-1503.

Source: L. 2005: Entire part added, p. 653, § 1, effective May 27.

28-3-1503. Administration of moneys. (1) (a) The Colorado National Guard foundation shall make grants from the fund to members of the Colorado National Guard or reservists, to active duty military personnel stationed in Colorado, or to the families of members of the Colorado National Guard or reservists or active duty military personnel stationed in Colorado subject to the provisions of this section.

(b) The Colorado National Guard foundation, in cooperation with the department, shall develop criteria for awarding the grants to members of the Colorado National Guard and reservists, subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section.

(c) The Air Force aid society and Army emergency relief shall work in cooperation to develop criteria for awarding the grants to active duty military personnel, subject to the provisions of subsection (2.5) of this section.

(2) A member of the Colorado National Guard or a reservist shall meet the following requirements to be eligible to receive a grant from the fund:

(a) The National Guard member or reservist is currently on active military duty for a minimum of thirty days on involuntary mobilization orders.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2007, p. 2083, § 1, effective June 4, 2007.)

(c) The National Guard member or reservist or the family of the National Guard member or reservist applies for a grant as required by the Colorado National Guard foundation.

(d) The National Guard member or reservist is a Colorado resident as evidenced by a Colorado income tax return for the then current or previous fiscal year on which the National Guard member or reservist filed as a Colorado resident.

(2.5) Any active duty military member stationed in Colorado shall meet the following requirements to be eligible to receive a grant from the fund:

(a) The active duty military member has been deployed overseas and is in receipt of hostile fire pay or the equivalent.

(b) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2007, p. 2083, § 1, effective June 4, 2007.)

(c) The active duty military member or the family of the active duty military member applies for a grant as required by the Colorado National Guard foundation.

(d) The active duty military member is stationed in Colorado as verified by his or her commanding officer.

(e) The active duty military member is a Colorado resident for income tax purposes.

(3) (a) Each National Guard member or reservist or the family of a National Guard member or reservist may apply to the Colorado National Guard foundation for one grant per set of mobilization orders. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this subsection (3), if the foundation determines that the National Guard member or reservist or the family of a National Guard member or reservist is eligible to receive a grant pursuant to this section, the foundation shall issue the grant.

(b) Each active duty military member or the family of an active duty military member may apply to the Air Force aid society or Army emergency relief, as appropriate, for one grant per deployment to a zone in which the active duty military member qualifies to receive hostile fire pay or the equivalent. If the Air Force aid society or Army emergency relief determines that the active duty military member or the family of an active duty military member is eligible to receive a grant pursuant to this section, the Air Force aid society or Army emergency relief shall notify the Colorado National Guard foundation, in writing, of the active duty military member or family member that is eligible to receive a grant. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this subsection (3), upon receipt of such notification, the foundation shall issue the grant.

(c) The Colorado National Guard foundation shall award grants in accordance with the criteria developed for awarding grants pursuant to subsection (1) of this section. In awarding the grants, the foundation shall, to the extent possible, prioritize eligible grant applicants who hold the lowest pay grades. Timeliness of payment will be determined by the amount of funds available at the time of application.

(4) The Colorado National Guard foundation may be reimbursed from the moneys in the fund for actual expenses incurred in implementing the provisions of this part 15; except that the total annual reimbursement to the foundation shall not exceed an amount equal to five percent of the amount of fund moneys transferred to the foundation in such year.

(5) The department shall have the authority to oversee the grants issued by the Colorado National Guard foundation from the fund pursuant to this part 15.

28-3-1504. Moneys remaining in military family relief fund. In the event that the voluntary contribution program created in part 30 of article 22 of title 39, C.R.S., is not continued or reestablished by the general assembly, the Colorado National Guard foundation may donate any moneys remaining in the fund upon the repeal of the voluntary contribution program to the western slope military veterans' cemetery fund created in section 28-5-708 (1) (a).

PART 16

REAL PROPERTY

Editor's note: This part 16 was originally numbered as part 15 in Senate Bill 05-240 but has been renumbered on revision for ease of location.

28-3-1601. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that there are no suitable National Guard training and maintenance facilities in the Grand Junction area to serve the members of the Colorado National Guard and the state. The general assembly believes that the state owes a duty to all of its National Guard members to assist in providing adequate training and maintenance facilities.

(2) The property specified to be used for the purpose described in subsection (1) of this section was received from the federal government to be used for any public purpose authorized by the general assembly. The general assembly hereby declares the specified property should be used for National Guard training and maintenance facilities and the requested transfers of appropriate property rights from the department of human services and the state board of land commissioners to the department should be made without compensation.

28-3-1602. Establishment of National Guard facilities - rules. (1) (a) If rights to the property described in section 28-3-1603 are transferred to the department, the general assembly hereby authorizes the establishment and maintenance of National Guard facilities, referred to in this part 16 as the "guard facilities", located adjacent to the western slope military veterans' cemetery. The guard facilities shall be for the purpose of providing an area for National Guard training and maintenance as determined to be necessary by the department. The adjutant general shall promulgate such rules as may be necessary to establish and maintain the guard facilities in compliance with applicable state and federal statutes and rules. The department is directed to prepare, develop, construct, and maintain such guard facilities at the site described in section 28-3-1603. The department may enter into contracts or agreements with any person or public or private entity to prepare, develop, construct, operate, and maintain the guard facilities. The department is hereby authorized to provide for surveys, engineering studies, conceptual and architectural plans, environmental impact studies, construction work, facilities master plans, and joint use agreements in cooperation with the department of human services and the state board of land commissioners.

(b) The adjutant general shall determine the amount of the appropriation necessary to meet the requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this subsection (1) and shall submit a request as part of the department's annual budget request to the joint budget committee no later than November 1, 2007.

(2) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that any use of the property described in section 28-3-1603 as guard facilities is for a public purpose expressly authorized by the general assembly and therefore permissible under any grant of right-of-way applicable to such property executed by the state board of land commissioners.

28-3-1603. Location of National Guard facilities. The department, in preparing, developing, constructing, and maintaining the guard facilities, may use for such purposes a parcel consisting of approximately thirty-five acres, as determined by the facilities master plan, of existing improved and unimproved property surrounding the western slope military veterans' cemetery within the eastern portion of the real property known as the Grand Junction regional center; except that the parcel shall not include the approximately twenty acres currently serving the western slope military veterans' cemetery. The department shall enter into all necessary agreements to secure the appropriate property rights for such parcel, including the shared use of the existing structure in cooperation with the department of human services. The general assembly requests the department of human services and the state board of land commissioners to transfer, without compensation, appropriate rights to the property described in this section to the department within two months of the completion of a legal survey of the property described in this section.

PART 17

YOUTH CHALLENGE CORPS PROGRAM

28-3-1701. Short title. This part 17 shall be known and may be cited as the "Colorado Youth Challenge Corps Program Act".

Source: L. 2009: Entire part added, (HB 09-1280), ch. 384, p. 2083, § 1, effective August 5.

28-3-1702. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) The need for educating at-risk or disruptive youth is well established;

(b) Recognizing the need for special programs to address positive youth development, the United States congress authorized and appropriated moneys for the use of National Guard or other facilities and equipment for the provision of a program designed to improve the employment potential and life skills of eligible youth through National Guard youth challenge corps programs; and

(c) An evaluation of similar programs for eligible youth operating in other states indicates that:

(I) Eighty percent of the students accepted into these programs went on to graduate from the programs;

(II) Eighty percent of the students in these programs were placed in schools or employed at the time of graduation from the programs;

(III) Eighty percent of the students in these programs obtained a GED either during the time in which they were participating in the programs or within one year after graduating from the programs; and

(IV) Less than one percent of the students who participated in these programs were incarcerated within one year after graduating from the programs.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly hereby finds and declares that it would be in the best interest of the people of the state of Colorado to authorize the department to operate a youth challenge corps program and to take advantage of the opportunity to use National Guard or other facilities and equipment and any federal funding that may be available for such a program as authorized by federal law.

28-3-1703. Definitions. As used in this part 17, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Eligible youth" means a person who has voluntarily consented, with the written permission of his or her parent or guardian if the person is a minor, to participate in the National Guard youth challenge corps program and the United States congressional youth awards program and to act in accordance with program requirements. Additionally, an eligible youth shall be:

- (a) At least sixteen years of age but less than nineteen years of age;
- (b) A high school dropout, suspended or expelled from school, habitually truant, or otherwise habitually disruptive in school;
- (c) Economically and educationally disadvantaged;
- (d) Unemployed;
- (e) Drug-free;
- (f) Free of felony convictions or capital offenses, not indicted or charged with a crime, and not on parole or probation for anything other than juvenile status offenses; and
- (g) Physically and mentally capable of participating in the program with reasonable accommodations for physical or other disabilities.

(2) "GED" means a certificate that demonstrates that a person has passed the battery of tests given at a testing center authorized by the commissioner of education that are designed to measure the major outcomes and concepts generally associated with four years of high school education.

(3) "Program" means the youth challenge corps program authorized and described in section 28-3-1704.

28-3-1704. Youth challenge corps program - authority - youth challenge corps program fund - creation. (1) The department is hereby authorized to operate a youth challenge corps program through the use of National Guard or other facilities and equipment for the purpose of providing eligible youth with a program to help them obtain high school diplomas or GEDs, increase their employment potential, and enhance their education and life skills. The program shall be structured as a five-and-one-half-month residential phase that focuses on education and practical life skills, followed by a twelve-month, post-residential phase that involves skilled and trained mentors who support the program graduates. The department shall not be obligated to implement the program if adequate appropriations or federal or other moneys are not available.

(2) The program shall comply with the criteria and conditions specified in a cooperative agreement entered into between the chief of the federal National Guard bureau and the state of Colorado.

(3) The program shall comply with any applicable state licensing requirements and shall establish a collaborative partnership composed of a representative from, at a minimum, the following:

- (a) The state departments of education, public health and environment, labor, judicial, public safety, and human services;
- (b) A county department of human services director;
- (c) A school district;
- (d) A sheriff or police department; and
- (e) A community agency that serves youth and three appointed advisory youth members from the agency's service population.

(4) The adjutant general of the department, or the adjutant general's designee, is directed to apply for any federal moneys that may be available to the state for the implementation and operation of the program.

(5) (a) The adjutant general of the department, or the adjutant general's designee, is authorized to accept on behalf of the state any gifts, grants, or donations from any private or public source for the purpose of implementing this part 17; except that the department shall not accept a gift, grant, or donation if it is subject to conditions that are inconsistent with this part 17 or any other law of the state.

(b) All private and public moneys received through gifts, grants, or donations shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the youth challenge corps program fund, which fund is hereby created and referred to in this part 17 as the "fund". The moneys in the fund are continuously appropriated to the department for the direct and indirect costs associated with the implementation and administration of this part 17. All investment earnings derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. Any moneys not appropriated shall remain in the fund and shall not be transferred or revert to the general fund at the end of any fiscal year.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

28-3.1-101. Short title. This article shall be known and may be cited as the “Colorado Code of Military Justice”.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1162, § 1, effective June 10.

28-3.1-102. Definitions. As used in this article, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Accuser” means any person who signs and swears to charges, any person who directs that charges be signed and sworn to by another, and any person who has an interest other than an official interest in the prosecution of the accused.

(2) “Active state duty” means all duty authorized under the constitution and laws of the state of Colorado and all training authorized under title 32 of the United States Code.

(3) “Code” means the Colorado code of military justice.

(4) “Commanding officer” includes only a commissioned officer.

(5) “Commissioned officer” means a person who holds the rank of not less than second lieutenant.

(6) “Convening authority” includes, in addition to the person who convened the court, a commissioned officer commanding for the time being or a successor in command.

(7) “Enlisted member” means any person who is serving in an enlisted grade.

(8) “Grade” means a step or degree in a graduated scale of office or military rank that is established by law or regulation.

(9) “Hostile force” means any person or group of persons acting in violation of the law or opposing the military force in the carrying out of its missions, including but not limited to saboteurs, rioters, and looters.

(10) “Judge advocate” means any commissioned officer who is certified by the state judge advocate general.

(11) “Legal officer” means any commissioned officer of the state military forces designated to perform legal duties of a command.

(12) “Military” or “military forces” refers to any or all of the state military forces.

(13) “Military court” means a court-martial, a court of inquiry, or a provost court.

(14) "Military judge" means an official of general and special courts-martial detailed in accordance with section 28-3.1-210.

(15) "Officer" means a commissioned or warrant officer.

(16) "Officer candidate" means a cadet of the state officer candidate school.

(17) "President" means the member of the court highest in grade and rank.

(18) "Rank" means order of precedence among members of the state military forces.

(19) "State judge advocate general" means the judge advocate general of the state military forces, appointed pursuant to section 28-3.1-106, who is responsible for supervising the administration of military justice in the state military forces and performing such other legal duties as may be required by the adjutant general.

(20) "State military forces" means the National Guard of this state, as defined in section 28-3-101 (12), and any other militia or military forces organized under the laws of the state.

(21) "Superior commissioned officer" means a commissioned officer superior in rank of command.

28-3.1-103. Persons subject to this code. This code applies to all members of the state military forces.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1163, § 1, effective June 10. L. 91: Entire section amended, p. 1377, § 1, effective April 1.

28-3.1-104. Jurisdiction to try certain personnel. (1) Any person discharged from the military forces who is later charged with having fraudulently obtained his or her discharge is subject to trial by court-martial on that charge and, after apprehension, shall be subject to this code while in the custody of the military for that trial. Upon conviction of that charge, he or she is subject to trial by court-martial for all offenses under this code committed before the fraudulent discharge.

(2) No person who has deserted from the military forces may be relieved from the jurisdiction of this code by virtue of a separation from any later period of service.

(3) The fact that the enlistment of any person charged with an offense under this code expires while proceedings are pending or while serving a sentence shall not affect the jurisdiction of any court-martial.

(4) Nothing in this code shall preclude applicable federal or state jurisdiction over offenses committed.

28-3.1-105. Territorial applicability of this code. (1) This code shall apply to all persons otherwise subject to this code while they are serving outside the state and while they are going to and returning from such service outside the state in the same manner and to the same extent as if they were serving inside the state.

(2) Courts-martial and courts of inquiry may be convened and held in units of the military forces while those units are serving outside the state with the same jurisdiction and powers as to persons subject to this code as if the proceedings were held inside the state. Offenses committed outside the state may be tried and punished either inside or outside the state.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1164, § 1, June 10.

28-3.1-106. State judge advocate general and judge advocates. (1) The adjutant general shall select and appoint an officer of the military forces as state judge advocate general. To be eligible for such appointment, an officer must be a member of the bar of the state of Colorado for at least five years and must meet the additional requirements for appointment to the state staff as set forth in section 28-3-302.

(2) The adjutant general may appoint as many assistant state judge advocates as he or she considers necessary. To be eligible for appointment, assistant state judge advocates must be officers of the state military forces and members of the bar of the state of Colorado.

(3) Convening authorities shall at all times communicate directly with their staff judge advocates in matters relating to the administration of military justice. The staff judge advocate of any command is entitled to communicate directly with the staff judge advocate of a superior or subordinate command or with the state judge advocate general.

(4) No person who has acted as a member military judge, trial counsel, assistant trial counsel, defense counsel, assistant defense counsel, or investigating officer in any case or who has been a witness for either the prosecution or defense in any case may later act as staff judge advocate to any reviewing authority upon the same case.

28-3.1-107. Apprehension and restraint. (1) Officers, warrant officers, and enlisted members of the military forces may be placed in arrest by their military superiors upon reasonable belief that an offense in violation of this code has been committed and that the person apprehended committed such offense. An enlisted member may be ordered into arrest or confinement by any commissioned officer by an order, oral or written, delivered in person or through other persons subject to this code or through any person authorized by this code to apprehend persons. A commanding officer may authorize warrant officers or noncommissioned officers to order enlisted members of his or her company or subject to his or her authority into arrest or confinement. A commissioned officer or warrant officer may be ordered apprehended or into arrest or confinement only by a commanding officer to whose authority he or she is subject, by an order, oral or written, delivered in person or by another commissioned officer. The authority to order such persons apprehended or into arrest or confinement may not be delegated. No person may be ordered apprehended or into arrest or confinement except for probable cause. This section shall not limit the authority of persons authorized to apprehend offenders to secure the custody of an alleged offender until proper authority may be notified.

(2) If any member of the military forces fails or refuses to report to his or her appointed place of duty, his or her commanding officer is authorized to arrest or cause to be arrested such member and have him or her brought before the commanding officer at his or her unit or organization headquarters, whether such headquarters be located within or without the borders of the state. After such an arrest, the commanding officer is authorized to transport such member to his or her appointed place of duty, whether within or without the borders of the state. If military personnel are not available for the purpose of making the arrest, or if the commanding officer deems it advisable, he or she may issue a warrant to any peace officer authorized to serve warrants of arrest under state criminal law, and such peace officer is authorized and required to serve such warrant in the same manner as other warrants of arrest and make return thereof to the commanding officer issuing the warrant.

(3) If the commanding officer issuing the warrant is unavailable to receive the person arrested, the arresting officer shall take the person before a county court judge in the state. The judge may admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties and in such sum as he or she deems proper, conditioned upon the person arrested appearing before said judge at a time specified in such bond for his or her surrender to the commanding officer issuing the warrant or to his or her representative. If the person arrested is unable to post bail, he or she shall be committed by the judge to the county jail for a period of time not to exceed three days to await surrender to the commanding officer issuing the warrant or to his or her representative.

(4) Warrants of arrest issued pursuant to this section shall be in the following form:

STATE OF _____)
) ss.
COUNTY OF _____)
To the (Sheriff), (Constable), (Chief of Police) of _____ (Or the name and rank of the officer, First Sergeant, or N.C.O. ordered to make the arrest) of _____ County _____ :

28-3.1-108. Apprehension of deserters. Any officer having authority to apprehend offenders under the laws of the United States or of a state, territory, commonwealth, or the District of Columbia may summarily apprehend a deserter from the military forces. If the offender is apprehended outside the state of Colorado, his or her return to Colorado must be in accordance with normal extradition procedure or reciprocal agreement.

28-3.1-109. Restraint of persons charged with offenses. Any person subject to this code who is charged with an offense under this code may be ordered into arrest or confinement by the convening authority, as circumstances may require; but when charged only with an offense normally tried by a summary court-martial, such person shall not ordinarily be placed in confinement. When any person subject to this code is placed in arrest or confinement prior to trial, immediate steps shall be taken to inform him or her of the specific offense of which he or she is accused and to try him or her or to dismiss the charges and release him or her.

28-3.1-110. Confinement. (1) Persons confined other than in a guardhouse, whether before, during, or after trial by a military court, shall be confined in a jail in the county where the offense was committed or a jail designated by the convening authority, the costs of such confinement to be paid out of funds appropriated to the office of the adjutant general.

(2) No provost marshal, commander of a guard, or master-at-arms, and no warden, sheriff, keeper, or officer of a city or county jail or any other jail, penitentiary, or prison designated under subsection (1) of this section may refuse to receive or keep any prisoner committed to his or her charge when the committing person furnishes a statement signed by him or her of the offense charged against the prisoner.

(3) Every commander of a guard, every master-at-arms, and every warden, sheriff, keeper, or officer of a city or county jail or of any other jail, penitentiary, or prison designated under subsection (1) of this section to whose charge a prisoner is committed shall, within twenty-four hours after that commitment or as soon as he or she is relieved from guard, report to the commanding officer of the prisoner the name of the prisoner, the offense charged against him or her, and the name of the person who ordered or authorized the commitment.

28-3.1-112. Punishment prohibited before trial. Subject to section 28-3.1-403, no person, while being held for trial, may be subjected to punishment or penalty other than arrest or confinement upon the charges pending against such person, nor shall the arrest or confinement imposed upon such person be any more rigorous than the circumstances require to insure his or her presence. However, such person may be subjected to minor punishment during that period for infractions of discipline.

28-3.1-113. Delivery of offenders to civil authorities. (1) Under such regulations as are prescribed under this code, a person subject to this code who is on active state duty who is accused of any offense against civil authority may be delivered, upon request, to the civil authority for trial.

(2) When delivery under this section is made to any civil authority of a person undergoing sentence of a court-martial and the delivery interrupts the execution of the sentence of the court-martial, the offender after having answered to the civil authorities for his or her offense shall, upon the request of competent military authority, be returned to military custody for the completion of his or her sentence.

28-3.1-114. Commanding officer's nonjudicial punishment. (1) Punishment may be imposed for any offense cognizable by a court-martial upon any member of the state military forces under this section. Under such regulations as the governor may prescribe, limitations may be placed on the powers granted by this section with respect to the kind and amount of punishment authorized and the categories of commanding officers and warrant officers exercising command authorized to exercise those powers. If authorized by regulations of the governor, the governor or an officer of general rank in command may delegate his or her powers under this section to a principal assistant. If subject to disciplinary punishment, the accused shall be afforded the opportunity to be represented by defense counsel having the qualifications prescribed under section 28-3.1-102 (14), if available. Otherwise, the accused shall be afforded the opportunity to be represented by any available commissioned officer of his or her choice. The accused may also employ civilian counsel of his or her own choosing at his or her own expense. In all proceedings, the accused is allowed three duty days, or longer on written justification, to reply to the notification of intent to impose punishment under this section.

(2) Subject to subsection (1) of this section, any commanding officer may, in addition to or in lieu of admonition or reprimand, impose one or more of the following disciplinary punishments for minor offenses, as defined by the governor, without the intervention of a court-martial:

(a) Upon an officer of his or her command:

(I) Withholding of privileges for not more than two consecutive weeks;

(II) Restriction to certain specified limits, with or without suspension from duty, for not more than two consecutive weeks;

(III) If imposed by the governor, the adjutant general, or a commanding officer of the Army or Air National Guard, a fine or forfeiture of pay and allowance of not more than two hundred fifty dollars;

(b) Upon other military personnel of his or her command:

(I) Withholding of privileges for not more than two consecutive weeks;

(II) Restriction to certain specified limits, with or without suspension from duty, for not more than two consecutive weeks;

(III) Extra duties for not more than fourteen days, which need not be consecutive, and for not more than two hours per day, holidays included;

(IV) Reduction to next inferior grade if the grade from which he or she was demoted was established by the command or an equivalent or lower command;

(V) A fine or forfeiture of pay and allowances of not more than fifty dollars for a single offense and of not more than two hundred fifty dollars for multiple offenses.

(3) The governor may, by regulation, place limitations on the powers granted by this section with respect to the kind and amount of punishment authorized and the categories of commanding officers authorized to exercise those powers.

(4) An officer in charge may, for minor offenses, impose on enlisted members assigned to the unit of which he or she is in charge, the punishments authorized to be imposed by commanding officers.

(5) Except where punishment has been imposed by the governor, a person punished under this section who considers such punishment unjust or disproportionate to the offense may, through the proper channel, appeal to the next superior authority. The appeal shall be promptly forwarded and decided, but the person punished may in the meantime be required to undergo the punishment adjudged. The officer who imposes the punishment, his or her successor in command, and superior authority may suspend, set aside, or remit any part or amount of the punishment and restore all rights, privileges, and property affected.

(6) The imposition and enforcement of disciplinary punishment under this section for any act or omission is not a bar to trial by court-martial for a serious crime or offense growing out of the same act or omission and not properly punishable under this section; but the fact that disciplinary punishment has been enforced may be shown by the accused upon trial and when so shown shall be considered in determining the measure of punishment to be adjudged in the event of a finding of guilty.

(7) Whenever a punishment of forfeiture of pay and allowances is imposed under this section, the forfeiture may apply to pay or allowances accruing on and after the date that punishment is imposed and to pay and allowances accrued before that date.

PART 2

COURTS-MARTIAL

28-3.1-201. Courts-martial - jurisdiction - composition. (1) In the military forces general, special, and summary courts-martial shall be constituted like similar courts of the armed forces of the United States. They shall have the jurisdiction and powers, except as to punishment, of a similar court of the armed forces of the United States and shall follow the forms and procedures provided by those courts.

(2) The three kinds of courts-martial are:

(a) General courts-martial, consisting of a military judge and not less than five members, or consisting of only a military judge, if before the court is assembled the accused, knowing the identity of the military judge and after consultation with defense counsel, requests in writing a court composed only of a military judge and the military judge approves;

(b) Special courts-martial, consisting of a military judge and not less than three members, or consisting of only a military judge if the accused so requests under the same conditions as those prescribed in paragraph (a) of this subsection (2);

(c) Summary courts-martial, consisting of one commissioned officer.

28-3.1-203. Jurisdiction of general courts-martial. (1) General courts-martial have jurisdiction to try persons subject to this code for any offense punishable under this code and may adjudge any of the following punishments:

- (a) Confinement for not more than two years;
- (b) A fine of not more than one thousand dollars;
- (c) Forfeiture of pay and allowances of not more than two hundred dollars;
- (d) A reprimand;
- (e) Dismissal or dishonorable discharge;
- (f) Reduction of a noncommissioned officer to any inferior grade; or
- (g) Any combination of these punishments.

28-3.1-204. Jurisdiction of special courts-martial. Special courts-martial have jurisdiction to try any person subject to this code, except officers, for any offense punishable under this code. A special court-martial has the same powers of punishment as a general court-martial; except that confinement may not be more than ninety days and the fine or forfeiture of pay and allowances imposed by a special court-martial may not be more than five hundred dollars for a single offense.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1169, § 1, effective June 10.

28-3.1-205. Jurisdiction of summary courts-martial. (1) Summary courts-martial have jurisdiction to try any person subject to this code, except officers, for any offense made punishable under this code.

(2) No person shall be tried by a summary court-martial if, prior to trial, he or she objects thereto. If an objection to trial by summary court-martial is made by an accused, trial may be ordered by special or general court-martial, as appropriate.

(3) A summary court-martial may sentence an offender to confinement for not more than thirty days, to a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars for a single offense, to forfeiture of pay and allowances of not more than two hundred fifty dollars for a single offense, to reduction of an enlisted person to any inferior grade, and to any combination of these punishments.

28-3.1-207. Who may convene special courts-martial. The commanding officer of a garrison, fort, post, camp, air base, or other place where members of the military forces are on duty or of a division, brigade, regiment, wing, group, detached battalion, separate squadron, or any group of detached units placed under a command for this purpose may convene special courts-martial. In the Colorado Army National Guard, special courts-martial convening authorities shall include the state aviation officer, troop command commander, and artillery brigade commander. In the Colorado Air National Guard, special courts-martial convening authorities shall include the deputy commander for support, the detachment one commander, and the tactical control group commander. Special courts-martial may also be convened by superior authority. When any such commanding officer is an accuser, the court shall be convened by superior authority.

28-3.1-208. Who may convene summary courts-martial. (1) The commanding officer of a garrison, fort, post, camp, air base, auxiliary air base, or other place where members of the military forces are on duty or of a division, brigade, regiment, wing, group, battalion, squadron, company, or other detachment may convene a summary court-martial consisting of one commissioned officer. The proceedings shall be informal.

(2) When only one commissioned officer is present with a command or detachment, he or she shall be the summary court-martial of that command or detachment and shall hear and determine all summary courts-martial cases brought before him or her. Summary courts-martial may, however, be convened in any case by superior authority.

28-3.1-209. Who may serve on courts-martial. (1) Any commissioned officer off or on duty with the military forces is eligible to serve on all courts-martial for the trial of any person subject to this code.

(2) Any warrant officer off or on duty with the military forces is eligible to serve on general and special courts-martial for the trial of any person, other than a commissioned officer.

(3) (a) Any enlisted member of the military forces who is not a member of the same unit as the accused is eligible to serve on general and special courts-martial for the trial of any enlisted member, but he or she shall serve as a member of a court only if, before convening of the court, the accused personally has requested in writing that enlisted members serve on it. After such request, the accused shall not be tried by a general or special court-martial the membership of which does not include enlisted members in a number comprising at least one-third of the total membership of the court, unless eligible members cannot be obtained because of physical conditions or military exigencies. If enlisted members cannot be obtained, the court may be assembled and the trial held without them, but the convening authority shall make a detailed written statement, to be appended to the record, stating why enlisted members could not be obtained.

(b) As used in this section, "unit" means any regularly organized body of the military forces not larger than a company, a squadron, or a body corresponding to one of them.

(4) (a) No person subject to this code may be tried by a court-martial of which any member is junior to him or her in rank or grade, unless it cannot be avoided and then only by order of the governor.

(b) When convening a court-martial, the convening authority shall detail as members thereof those persons as, in his or her opinion, are best qualified for the duty by reason of age, education, training, experience, length of service, and judicial temperament. No member is eligible to serve as a member of a general or special court-martial when he or she is the accuser or a witness for the prosecution or has acted as investigating officer or as counsel in the same case. If within the command of the convening authority there is present and not otherwise disqualified a commissioned officer who is a member of the bar of this state and of appropriate rank and grade, the convening authority shall appoint him or her as president of a general or special court-martial. Although this requirement shall be binding on the convening authority, failure to meet it in any case shall not divest a military court of jurisdiction.

28-3.1-210. Military judge of a general or special court-martial. (1) The authority convening a general or special court-martial shall request the state judge advocate general to detail as military judge thereof a commissioned officer who is a member of the bar of this state. No person is eligible to act as military judge in a case if he or she is the accuser or witness for the prosecution or has acted as investigating officer or as counsel in the same case.

(2) The military judge may not consult with the members of the court except in the presence of the accused, trial counsel, and defense counsel, nor may he or she vote with the members of the court.

28-3.1-211. Detail of trial and defense counsel. (1) For each general or special court-martial, the authority convening the court shall request the state judge advocate general to detail trial counsel and defense counsel and assistants as he or she considers appropriate. No person who has acted as investigating officer, military judge, or court member in any case may act later as trial counsel, assistant trial counsel, or, unless expressly requested by the accused, as defense counsel or assistant defense counsel in the same case. No person who has acted for the prosecution may act later in the same case for the defense, nor may any person who has acted for the defense act later in the same case for the prosecution.

(2) Trial counsel and defense counsel for a general or special court-martial shall be members of the bar of this state.

28-3.1-212. Detail or employment of reporters and interpreters. The convening authority of a general court-martial or court of inquiry shall detail or employ qualified court reporters, who shall record the proceedings of testimony taken before that court or, in the alternative, may utilize sound recording equipment. The convening authority of a special court-martial may detail or employ qualified court reporters who shall record the proceedings of testimony taken before that court. The convening authority of a military court may appoint interpreters who shall interpret for the court.

28-3.1-213. Absent and additional members. (1) No member of a general or special court-martial may be absent or excused after the accused has been arraigned except for physical disability or as the result of a challenge or by order of the convening authority for good cause.

(2) Whenever a general court-martial is reduced below five members, the trial may not proceed unless the convening authority appoints new members sufficient in number to provide not less than five members. When the new members have been sworn, the trial may proceed after the recorded testimony of each witness previously examined has been read to the court in the presence of the military judge, the accused, and counsel.

(3) Whenever a special court-martial is reduced below three members, the trial may not proceed unless the convening authority appoints new members sufficient in number to provide not less than three members. When the new members have been sworn, the trial may proceed as if no evidence has previously been introduced, unless a verbatim record of the testimony of previously examined witnesses or a stipulation thereof is read to the court in the presence of the accused and counsel.

28-3.1-214. Charges and specifications. (1) Charges and specifications shall be signed by an accuser subject to this code, under oath, before a commissioned officer of the state military force authorized to administer oaths and shall state:

(a) That the signer has personal knowledge of, or has investigated, the matters set forth therein; and

(b) That they are true in fact to the best of his or her knowledge and belief.

(2) Upon the preferring of charges, the proper authority shall take immediate steps to determine what disposition should be made thereof in the interest of justice and discipline, and the accused shall be informed of the charges against him or her as soon as practicable.

28-3.1-215. Compulsory self-incrimination prohibited. (1) No person subject to this code shall compel any person to incriminate himself or herself or to answer any question, the answer to which may tend to incriminate him or her.

(2) No person subject to this code may interrogate or request any statement from an accused or a person suspected of an offense without first informing the person of the nature of the accusation and advising the person that he or she does not have to make any statement regarding the offense of which he or she is accused or suspected, that any statement made by the person may be used as evidence against him or her in a trial by court-martial, that the person has a right to consult with a lawyer, that the person has a right to have a lawyer, and that upon the person's request a lawyer will be provided him or her without cost or, if the person prefers, he or she may retain counsel of his or her choice at his or her own expense.

(3) No person subject to this code may compel any person to make a statement or produce evidence before any military tribunal if the statement or evidence is not material to the issue and may tend to degrade the person compelled.

(4) No statement obtained from any person in violation of this section or through the use of coercion, unlawful influence, or unlawful inducement may be received in evidence against such person in a trial by court-martial.

(5) The requirements of this section are binding on all persons administering this code, but failure to follow them shall not divest a military court of jurisdiction.

28-3.1-216. Investigation. (1) No charge or specification may be referred to a general court-martial for trial until a thorough and impartial investigation of all matters set forth therein has been made. This investigation shall include inquiry as to the truth of the matter set forth in the charges, consideration of the form of charges, and a recommendation as to the disposition which should be made of the case in the interest of justice and discipline.

(2) The accused shall be advised of the charges against him or her and of his or her right to be represented by civilian counsel if provided by him or her, or by military counsel of his or her own selection if such counsel is reasonably available, or by counsel detailed by the state judge advocate. At that investigation, full opportunity shall be given to the accused to cross-examine witnesses against him or her if they are available and to present anything he or she may desire in his or her own behalf, either in defense or mitigation, and the investigating officer shall examine available witnesses requested by the accused. If the charges are forwarded after the investigation, they shall be accompanied by a statement of the substance of the testimony taken on both sides, and a copy thereof shall be given to the accused.

(3) If an investigation of the subject matter of an offense has been conducted before the accused is charged with the offense, and if the accused was present at the investigation and afforded the opportunities for representation, cross-examination, and presentation prescribed in subsection (2) of this section, no further investigation of that charge is necessary under this section, unless it is demanded by the accused after he or she is informed of the charge. A demand for further investigation entitles the accused to recall witnesses for further cross-examination and to offer any new evidence in his or her own behalf.

(4) The requirements of this section are binding on all persons administering this code, but failure to follow them shall not divest a military court of jurisdiction.

28-3.1-217. Forwarding of charges. When a person is held for trial by general court-martial, the commanding officer shall, within eight days after the accused is ordered into arrest or confinement, if practicable, forward the charges, together with the investigation and allied papers, to the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction. If that is not practicable, the commanding officer shall report in writing to that officer the reasons for delay.

28-3.1-218. Advice of state judge advocate and reference for trial. (1) Before directing the trial of any charge by general court-martial, the convening authority shall refer it to the state judge advocate general for consideration and advice. The convening authority may not refer a charge to a general court-martial for trial unless he or she has found that the charge alleges an offense under this code and is warranted by evidence indicated in the report of the investigation.

(2) If the charges or specifications are not formally correct or do not conform to the substance of the evidence contained in the report of the investigating officer, formal corrections and changes in the charges and specifications needed to make them conform to the evidence may be made.

PART 3

TRIAL PROCEDURE

28-3.1-301. General procedures. The procedure, including modes of proof, in cases before military courts and other military tribunals, may be prescribed by the governor by regulation and shall so far as practicable be the principles of law and the rules of evidence generally recognized in the trial of criminal cases in the courts of Colorado and in the trial of courts-martial of the United States, but such procedure may not be contrary to or inconsistent with this code.

28-3.1-302. Unlawfully influencing action of court. (1) No authority convening a general, special, or summary court-martial, nor any other commanding officer or officer serving on the staff thereof, may censure, reprimand, or admonish the court or any member, military judge, or counsel thereof, with respect to the findings or sentence adjudged by the court or with respect to any other exercise of their functions in the conduct of the proceeding. No person subject to this code may attempt to coerce or, by any unauthorized means, influence the action of a court-martial or any other military tribunal or any member thereof in reaching the findings or sentence in any case or the action of any convening, approving, or reviewing authority with respect to his or her judicial acts. The provisions of this subsection (1) shall not apply to general instructional or informational courses in military justice, if such courses are designed solely for the purpose of instructing members of a command in the substantive and procedural aspects of courts-martial, or to statements and instructions given in open court by the military judge or counsel.

(2) In the preparation of an effectiveness, fitness, or efficiency report, or any other report or document used in whole or in part for the purpose of determining whether a member of the state military forces should be retained on duty, no person subject to this code may, in preparing any such report:

(a) Consider or evaluate the performance of duty of any such member as a member, military judge, or trial counsel of a court-martial; except that this paragraph (a) is not applicable to evaluations made by the state judge advocate of the performance of personnel under his or her supervision;

(b) Give a less favorable rating or evaluation of any member of the military forces because of the zeal with which such member as counsel represented any accused before a court-martial.

28-3.1-303. Duties of trial counsel and defense counsel. (1) The trial counsel of a general or special court-martial shall prosecute in the name of the state and shall, under the direction of the court, prepare the record of proceedings.

(2) The accused has the right to be represented in his or her defense before a general or special court-martial by civilian counsel if provided by him or her, or by military counsel of his or her own selection if reasonably available, or by the defense counsel detailed under section 28-3.1-211. If the accused has counsel of his or her own selection, the defense counsel and assistant defense counsel, if any, who were detailed shall, if the accused so desires, act as his or her associate counsel; otherwise they shall be excused by the military judge.

(3) In every court-martial proceeding, the defense counsel may, in the event of conviction, forward for attachment to the record of proceedings a brief of the matters he or she feels should be considered in behalf of the accused on review, including any objection to the contents of the record which he or she considers appropriate.

(4) An assistant trial counsel of a general court-martial may, under the direction of the trial counsel or when he or she is qualified to be a trial counsel as required by section 28-3.1-211, perform any duty imposed by law, regulation, or the custom of the service upon the trial counsel of the court. An assistant trial counsel of a special court-martial may perform any duty of the trial counsel.

(5) An assistant defense counsel of a general or special court-martial may, under the direction of the defense counsel or when he or she is qualified to be the defense counsel as required by section 28-3.1-211, perform any duty imposed by law, regulation, or the custom of the service upon counsel for the accused.

28-3.1-304. Sessions. (1) (a) At any time after the service of charges which have been referred for trial to a court-martial composed of a military judge and members, the military judge may call the court into session without the presence of the members for:

(I) Hearing and determining motions raising defenses or objections which are capable of determination without trial of the issues raised by a plea of not guilty;

(II) Hearing and ruling upon any matter which may be ruled upon by the military judge, whether or not the matter is appropriate for later consideration or decision by the members of the court;

(III) If permitted by the regulations of the governor, holding the arraignment and receiving the pleas of the accused; or

(IV) Performing any other procedural function which may be performed by the military judge pursuant to section 28-3.1-301 which does not require the presence of the members of the court.

(b) These proceedings shall be conducted in the presence of the accused, the defense counsel, and the trial counsel and shall be made part of the record.

(2) Whenever a general or special court-martial deliberates or votes, only the members of the court may be present. All other proceedings, including any consultation of the court with counsel or the military judge, shall be made part of the record and shall be in the presence of the accused, the defense counsel, the trial counsel, and the military judge.

(3) Trial counsel, in the name of the state of Colorado, may file an interlocutory appeal in the supreme court of the state of Colorado from a ruling of the military judge granting a motion made by the accused in advance of trial for the return of property, the suppression of evidence, or the suppression of an extrajudicial confession or admission if trial counsel certifies to the military judge who granted the motion that the interlocutory appeal is not taken for the purpose of delay and said property or evidence is a substantial part of the proof of a charge pending against the accused.

28-3.1-306. Challenges. (1) The military judge and members of a general or special court-martial may be challenged by the accused or the trial counsel for cause stated to the court. The court shall determine the relevancy and validity of challenges for cause and may not receive a challenge to more than one person at a time. Challenges by the trial counsel shall ordinarily be presented and decided before those by the accused are offered.

(2) Both the accused and the trial counsel are entitled to one preemptory challenge, but the military judge may not be challenged except for cause.

28-3.1-308. Statute of limitations. (1) A person charged with any offense under the code is not liable to be tried by court-martial or punished under section 28-3.1-114, if the offense was committed more than two years before the receipt of sworn charges and specifications by an officer exercising summary court-martial jurisdiction over the command or before the imposition of punishment under section 28-3.1-114.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, a prosecution for larceny and wrongful appropriation under section 28-3.1-538, against one who obtained property lawfully and subsequently misappropriated it, may be commenced within one year after discovery of the loss, but in no case shall this extend the time limitation by more than five years.

(3) Periods in which the accused was absent from territory in which the state has authority to apprehend him or her, or in the custody of civil authorities, or in the hands of the enemy of any hostile force shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed in this section.

(4) A person charged with desertion or absence without leave in time of national emergency or war, or with aiding the enemy, or with mutiny may be tried and punished at any time without limitation.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person charged with desertion in time of peace or with the offenses punishable under section 28-3.1-535, 28-3.1-536, or 28-3.1-537 is not liable to be tried by court-martial if the offense was committed more than three years before the receipt of sworn charges and specification.

28-3.1-309. Former jeopardy. (1) No person may be tried a second time in any military court for the same offense.

(2) No proceeding in which an accused has been found guilty by a court-martial upon any charges or specification is a trial for purposes of this section until the finding of guilty has become final after review of the case has been fully completed.

(3) A proceeding which, after the introduction of evidence but before a finding, is dismissed or terminated by the convening authority or on motion of the prosecution for failure of available evidence or witnesses without any fault of the accused is a trial for purposes of this section.

28-3.1-310. Pleas of the accused. (1) If an accused, after arraignment, makes an irregular pleading or, after a plea of guilty, sets up matter inconsistent with the plea, or if it appears that an accused has entered the plea of guilty improvidently or through lack of understanding of its meaning and effect, or if an accused fails or refuses to plead, a plea of not guilty shall be entered in the record, and the court shall proceed as though he or she had pleaded not guilty.

(2) With respect to any charge or specification to which a plea of guilty has been made by the accused and accepted by the military judge or by a court-martial without a military judge, a finding of guilty of the charge or specification may, if permitted by the regulations of the governor, be entered immediately without vote. This finding shall constitute the finding of the court unless the plea of guilty is withdrawn prior to the announcement of the sentence, in which event the proceedings shall continue as though the accused had pleaded not guilty.

28-3.1-311. Opportunity to obtain witnesses and other evidence. (1) The trial counsel, the defense counsel, and the court-martial shall have equal opportunity to obtain witnesses and other evidence in accordance with regulations the governor prescribes.

(2) The military judge of a court-martial or a summary court-martial may:

(a) Issue a warrant for the arrest of any accused person who, having been served with a warrant and a copy of the charges, disobeys a written order by the convening authority to appear before the court;

(b) Issue subpoenas duces tecum and other subpoenas;

(c) Enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers.

28-3.1-312. Refusal to appear or testify. (1) Any person not subject to this code who has been subpoenaed to appear as a witness or to produce books and records before a military court or before a military or civil officer designated to take a deposition to be read in evidence before such a court and who willfully neglects or refuses to appear, refuses to qualify as a witness, refuses to testify, or refuses to produce any evidence commits a class 3 misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in section 18-1.3-501, C.R.S.

(2) Upon the certification of the facts in subsection (1) of this section by the military court or tribunal to the district attorney of the county where the offense occurred, the district attorney shall prosecute the accused in any court of record, and jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon such courts for this purpose.

28-3.1-313. Contempt. A military court may punish for contempt any person who willfully and unlawfully refuses to be sworn as a witness, or who refuses to answer any legal or proper question, or who uses any menacing word, sign, or gesture in its presence, or who disturbs its proceedings by a riot or disorder. The punishment shall not exceed confinement for thirty days or a fine of one hundred dollars, or both.

28-3.1-314. Depositions. (1) At any time after charges have been signed as provided in section 28-3.1-214, any party may take oral or written depositions, unless an authority competent to convene a court-martial for the trial of those charges forbids such depositions for good cause. If a deposition is to be taken before charges are referred for trial, such authority shall designate lawyers to represent the prosecution and the defense.

(2) The party at whose instance a deposition is to be taken shall give to every other party reasonable written notice of the time and place for taking the deposition.

(3) Depositions shall be taken and authenticated by any military or civil officer authorized by the laws of the state or by the laws of the place where the deposition is taken to administer oaths.

(4) An authenticated deposition taken upon reasonable notice to the other parties, if otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence, may be used in evidence before any court-martial or in any proceeding before a court of inquiry.

28-3.1-316. Voting and rulings. (1) Voting by members of a general or special court-martial on questions of challenge, on the findings, and on the sentence shall be by secret written ballot. The junior member in rank of the court shall count the votes. The count shall be checked by the president, who shall forthwith announce the result of the ballot to the members of the court.

(2) The military judge of a general or special court-martial shall rule upon interlocutory questions, other than a challenge, arising during the proceedings. Any ruling made by the military judge upon any interlocutory question, other than a motion for a finding of not guilty or the question of the accused's sanity, is final and constitutes the ruling of the court. However, the military judge may change the ruling at any time during the trial; except that he or she may not change a ruling on a motion for a finding of not guilty that was granted. Unless the ruling is final, if any member objects thereto, the court shall be cleared and closed and the question decided by a voice vote as provided in section 28-3.1-317, beginning with the junior member in rank.

(3) Before a vote is taken on the findings, the military judge shall, in the presence of the accused and counsel, instruct the court as to the elements of the offense and charge the court:

(a) That the accused must be presumed to be innocent until his or her guilt is established by legal and competent evidence beyond reasonable doubt;

(b) That, in the case being considered, if there is a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the accused, the doubt must be resolved in favor of the accused and he or she must be acquitted;

(c) That, if there is a reasonable doubt as to the degree of guilt, the finding must be in a lower degree as to which there is no reasonable doubt; and

(d) That the burden of proof of establishing the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt is upon the prosecution.

(4) The provisions of subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section shall not apply to a court-martial composed of a military judge only. The military judge of such a court-martial shall determine all questions of law and fact arising during the proceedings and, if the accused is convicted, adjudge an appropriate sentence. The military judge of such a court-martial shall make a general finding and shall in addition on request find the facts specially. If an opinion or memorandum decision is filed, it shall be sufficient if the findings of fact appear therein.

28-3.1-317. Number of votes required. (1) No person may be convicted of an offense except by the unanimous concurrence of the members present at the time the vote is taken.

(2) All sentences shall be determined by the vote of two-thirds of the members present at the time the vote is taken.

(3) All other questions to be decided by the members of a general or special court-martial shall be determined by a majority vote. A tie vote on a challenge disqualifies the member challenged. A tie vote on a motion for a finding of not guilty or on a motion relating to the question of the accused's sanity is a determination against the accused. A tie vote on any other question is a determination in favor of the accused.

28-3.1-319. Record of trial. General and special courts-martial shall keep a verbatim record of the trial of each case. Upon a request of the accused, a reviewing authority, or the state judge advocate general, the record shall be transcribed and authenticated by the president or the military judge. If the record cannot be authenticated by either the president or the military judge by reason of his or her death, disability, or absence, it shall be authenticated by two members of the court. In all other courts-martial, records of trial shall contain such matter and be authenticated in such manner as the governor prescribes by regulation.

PART 4

SENTENCES

28-3.1-401. Cruel and unusual punishments prohibited. Cruel and unusual punishment may not be adjudged by any court-martial or inflicted upon any person subject to this code.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1180, § 1, effective June 10.

28-3.1-402. Maximum limits. The punishment which a court-martial may direct for an offense shall not exceed limits prescribed by this code.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1180, § 1, effective June 10.

28-3.1-403. Effective date of sentences. (1) Whenever a sentence of a court-martial as lawfully adjudged and approved includes a forfeiture of pay or allowances, in addition to confinement not suspended, the forfeiture may apply to pay and allowances becoming due before or after the date the sentence is approved by the convening authority.

(2) Any period of confinement included in a sentence of a court-martial begins to run from the date the sentence is adjudged by the court-martial, but periods during which the sentence to confinement is suspended shall be excluded in computing the service of the terms of confinement.

(3) On application by an accused who is under sentence to confinement that has not been ordered executed, the convening authority or, if the accused is no longer under his or her jurisdiction, the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction over the command to which the accused is currently assigned, may in his or her sole discretion defer service of the sentence to confinement. The deferment shall terminate when the sentence is ordered executed. The deferment may be rescinded at any time by the officer who granted it or, if the accused is no longer under his or her jurisdiction, by the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction over the command to which the accused is currently assigned.

(4) All other sentences of court-martial are effective on the date ordered executed. In no case may a sentence be executed until final action is taken on review.

(5) In the militia or state military forces not in federal service, no sentence of dismissal or dishonorable discharge may be executed until it is approved by the governor.

28-3.1-404. Execution of confinement. (1) A sentence of confinement adjudged by a military court may be carried into execution by confinement in any place of confinement under the control of any of the forces of the state military forces or in any jail, penitentiary, or prison designated for that purpose. Persons so confined in a jail, penitentiary, or prison are subject to the same discipline and treatment as persons confined or committed to the jail, penitentiary, or prison by the courts of the state.

(2) The omission of the words “hard labor” from any sentence or punishment of a court-martial adjudging confinement does not deprive the authority executing that sentence or punishment of the power to require hard labor as a part of the punishment.

(3) The keepers, sheriffs, officers, and wardens of city or county jails and of all other jails, penitentiaries, or prisons designated by the convening authority shall receive persons ordered into confinement before trial or persons committed to confinement by a military court and shall confine them according to law.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1180, § 1, effective June 10.

28-3.1-405. Commitment under sentence of confinement. When a sentence of confinement is imposed to be served other than in a guardhouse, the convening authority shall issue a writ in the following or similar form:

STATE OF _____)
) ss.
COUNTY OF _____)

To the Sheriff of _____ County, _____, State of Colorado.
WHEREAS, _____ of _____ in the _____ County of _____, a member of the Colorado National Guard, was on the _____ day of _____, 20____, tried by court-martial and found guilty of _____ in violation of the Colorado Military Code and was sentenced to serve _____ days imprisonment; and WHEREAS, as such sentence was approved and ordered executed by the convening authority, on the _____ day of _____, 20____;
THEREFORE, you were commanded to take the body of the said _____ and commit him or her to the keeper of the jail, who is hereby commanded to receive the body of the said _____ and keep him or her safely for the term of _____ days, after which he or she shall be released.
Fail not, but do as herein commanded and make a return within sixty (60) days from this date.
Dated at _____, in the _____ County of _____ this _____ day of _____, 20____.

28-3.1-406. Collection of fines. (1) All fines imposed as a sentence of a court-martial shall be paid at the time of approval of the sentence by the convening authority.

(2) The commitment to the county jail for nonpayment of fines shall be in the following or similar form:

STATE OF _____)
) ss.
COUNTY OF _____)

To the Sheriff of _____ County _____, State of Colorado.
WHEREAS, _____ of _____ in the _____ County of _____, a member of the Colorado National Guard, was on the _____ day of _____, 20____, tried by court-martial and found guilty of _____ in violation of the Colorado Military Code and was sentenced to pay a fine of _____ Dollars; and

WHEREAS, such fine has not been paid;

NOW, THEREFORE, by authority of the State of Colorado, you are hereby commanded to take the body of the said _____ and commit it to the keeper of the jail in the County of _____, who is hereby commanded to receive the body of the said _____ and keep him or her safely until he or she pays the sum above mentioned, or shall have served one (1) day for each dollar of said fine, after which time he or she shall be released.

Fail not, but make service and return within sixty (60) days from this date.

28-3.1-407. Initial action on the record. After a trial by court-martial, the record shall be forwarded to the convening authority, as reviewing authority, and action thereon may be taken by the person who convened the court, a commissioned officer commanding for the time being, a successor in command, or the governor. The reviewer may approve the sentence or such part, amount, or commuted form of the sentence as he or she sees fit and may suspend or defer the execution of the sentence.

28-3.1-408. Reconsideration and revision. (1) If a specification before a court-martial has been dismissed on motion and the ruling does not amount to a finding of not guilty, the convening authority may return the record to the court for reconsideration of the ruling and any further appropriate action.

(2) (a) Where there is an apparent error or omission in the record, or where the record shows improper or inconsistent action by a court-martial with respect to a finding or sentence which can be rectified without material prejudice to the substantial rights of the accused, the convening authority may return the record to the court for appropriate action.

(b) In no case, however, may the record be returned:

(I) For reconsideration of a finding of not guilty or a ruling which amounts to a finding of not guilty; or

(II) For reconsideration of a finding of not guilty of any charge, unless the record shows a finding of guilty under a specification laid under that charge, which sufficiently alleges a violation of the code; or

(III) For increasing the severity of the sentence, unless the sentence prescribed for the offense is mandatory.

Source: L. 83: Entire article added, p. 1182, § 1, effective June 10.

28-3.1-409. Rehearings. (1) If the convening authority disapproves the findings and sentence of a court-martial, he or she may, except where there is lack of sufficient evidence in the record to support the findings, order a rehearing. In such a case, he or she shall state the reasons for disapproval. If he or she disapproves the findings and sentence and does not order a rehearing, he or she shall dismiss the charges.

(2) Each rehearing shall take place before a court-martial whose composition shall not include any member or military judge of the court-martial which first heard the case. Upon a rehearing, the accused may not be tried for any offense of which he or she was found not guilty by the first court-martial, and no sentence in excess of or more severe than the original sentence may be imposed unless the sentence is based upon a finding of guilty of an offense considered upon the merits in the original proceedings or unless the sentence prescribed for the offense is mandatory.

28-3.1-410. Approval by the convening authority. In acting on the findings and sentence of a court-martial, the convening authority may approve only those findings and the sentence or part or amount of the sentence which he or she finds correct in law and fact. Unless he or she indicates otherwise, approval of the sentence is approval of the findings and sentence.

28-3.1-411. Review of records - disposition. (1) If the convening authority is the governor, he or she shall refer the record of courts-martial to the state judge advocate general who shall submit his or her written opinion to the governor. If the final action of the court has resulted in acquittal of all charges and specifications, the opinion shall be limited to questions of jurisdiction. After consideration of the opinion, the governor's action on review of any record is final.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the convening authority shall refer the record of a general court-martial to the staff judge advocate designated by the state judge advocate general who shall submit his or her written opinion to the convening authority. If the final action of the court has resulted in an acquittal of all charges and specifications, the opinion shall be limited to questions of jurisdiction. When the convening authority has taken final action, he or she shall forward the entire record, including his or her action thereon and the opinion of the staff judge advocate, to the state judge advocate general for review.

(b) In a case reviewable by the state judge advocate general under this section, the staff judge advocate may act only with respect to the findings and sentence as approved by the convening authority. He or she may affirm only the findings of guilty and the sentence or part or amount of the sentence which he or she finds correct in law and fact and determined on the basis of the entire record. In considering the record, he or she may weigh the evidence, judge the credibility of witnesses, and determine controverted questions of fact, recognizing that the trial court saw and heard the witnesses. If the staff judge advocate sets aside the findings and sentence, he or she may, except where the setting aside is based on lack of sufficient evidence in the record to support the findings, order a rehearing. If he or she sets aside the findings and sentence and does not order a rehearing, he or she shall order that the charges be dismissed.

(c) The state judge advocate general shall instruct the convening authority to act in accordance with his or her decision on the review. If he or she has ordered a rehearing, but the convening authority finds a rehearing impracticable, he or she may dismiss the charges.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (1) of this section, the convening authority of any summary or special court-martial, after taking final action on review, shall forward the entire record, including his or her action thereon, to the staff judge advocate designated by the state judge advocate general. With respect to such record, the staff judge advocate shall have the same duties and powers as provided for the state judge advocate general in paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (2) of this section.

(4) The state judge advocate general may order one or more boards of review, each composed of not less than three commissioned officers of the state military forces, or retired members of the military forces, or members of the United States Air Forces or United States Army reserve, each of whom must be a member of the bar of this state. Each board of review shall review the record of any trial by special court-martial referred to it by the state judge advocate general. Boards of review shall have the same authority on review as the state judge advocate general has under subsection (2) of this section.

28-3.1-412. Review counsel. (1) Upon the final review of a sentence of any court-martial, the accused has the right to be represented by counsel before the reviewing authority, before the staff judge advocate, and before the state judge advocate general.

(2) Upon the request of an accused, the state judge advocate general shall appoint a lawyer who is a member of the state military forces and who has the qualifications prescribed in section 28-3.1-211 if available, to represent the accused before the reviewing authority, before the staff judge advocate, and before the state judge advocate general in the review of cases specified in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The accused may be represented by civilian counsel, provided at his or her expense, before the reviewing authority, before the staff judge advocate, and before the state judge advocate general.

28-3.1-413. Review by governor. Notwithstanding review procedures provided in this code, in any case where no right to review by the governor exists, the accused may, within thirty days after final action is taken by any reviewing authority, petition the governor to review such final action. The governor may take action as he or she deems appropriate. Failure of the governor to act within thirty days shall constitute a denial.

28-3.1-415. Vacation of suspension of sentence. (1) Before the vacation of the suspension of any court-martial sentence, the officer having court-martial jurisdiction over a probationer shall hold a hearing on the alleged violation of probation. The probationer shall be represented at the hearing by counsel, if he or she so desires.

(2) The record of the hearing and the recommendation of the officer having court-martial jurisdiction shall be sent for action to the state judge advocate in cases involving a general court-martial sentence. If the state judge advocate vacates the suspension, any unexecuted part of the sentence shall be executed.

(3) The suspension of any other sentence may be vacated by any authority competent to convene, for the command in which the accused is serving or assigned, a court of the kind that imposed the sentence.

28-3.1-418. Restoration. (1) Under regulations prescribed by the governor, all rights, privileges, and property affected by an executed part of a court-martial sentence which has been set aside or disapproved, except an executed dismissal or discharge, may be restored, unless a new trial or rehearing is ordered and the executed part is included in a sentence imposed upon a new trial or rehearing.

(2) If a previously executed sentence of dishonorable discharge or other punitive discharge is not imposed on a new trial, the governor shall substitute a form of discharge authorized for administrative issuance unless the accused is to serve out the remainder of his or her enlistment.

(3) If a previously executed sentence of dismissal is not imposed on a new trial, the governor shall substitute a form of discharge authorized for administrative issue, and a commissioned officer dismissed by that sentence may be reappointed only by the governor to the commissioned grade and rank as that former officer would have attained had he or she not been dismissed. The reappointment of such a former officer may be made if a position vacancy is available under applicable tables of organization. All time between the dismissal and reappointment shall be considered as service for all state purposes.

28-3.1-419. Finality of proceedings, findings, and sentences. The proceedings, findings, and sentences of courts-martial as reviewed and approved as required by this code and all dismissals and discharges carried into execution under sentences by courts-martial following review and approval as required by this code are final. Orders publishing the proceedings of courts-martial and all action taken pursuant to those proceedings are binding upon all departments, courts, agencies, and officers of the state, subject only to action upon a petition for a new trial as provided by section 28-3.1-416 or action taken on appeal as provided by section 28-3.1-420.

ANNOTATION

Law reviews. For article, "The Martial Law in Colorado", see 5 Den. B. Ass'n Rec. 4 (Feb. 1928).

Annotator's note. Since § 28-3.1-536 is similar to repealed § 28-3-1133, relevant cases construing that provision have been included with the annotations to this section.

Governor's declaration that a state of insurrection exists is conclusive of that fact. Moyer v. Peabody, 212 U.S. 78, 29 S. Ct. 235, 53 L. Ed. 410 (1909).

Militia may arrest and imprison participants. Where the governor has declared an insurrection to exist, the militia has authority to arrest and imprison any person participating in or aiding and abetting such insurrection and to detain such person in custody until the insurrection is suppressed. In re Moyer, 35 Colo. 159, 85 P. 190 (1905).

If arrests are made in good faith, governor is not liable. So long as arrests of those whom the governor considers to stand in the way of restoring peace are made in good faith and in the honest belief that they are needed in order to head the insurrection off, the governor is the final judge and cannot be subjected to an action after he is out of office on the ground that he has not reasonable ground for his belief. Moyer v. Peabody, 212 U.S. 78, 29 S. Ct. 235, 53 L. Ed. 410 (1909).

PART 6

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

28-3.1-601. Courts of inquiry. (1) Courts of inquiry to investigate any matter may be convened by the governor.

(2) A court of inquiry shall consist of three or more commissioned officers. For each court of inquiry, the convening authority shall also appoint counsel for the court.

(3) Any person subject to this code whose conduct is subject to inquiry shall be designated as a party. Any person subject to this code or employed in the department who has a direct interest in the subject of inquiry has the right to be designated as a party upon request to the court. Any person designated as a party shall be given due notice and has the right to be present, to be represented by counsel, to cross-examine witnesses, and to introduce evidence.

(4) Members of a court of inquiry may be challenged by a party, but only for cause stated to the court.

(5) The members, the counsel, the reporter, and the interpreters of courts of inquiry shall take an oath or affirmation to faithfully perform their duties.

(6) Witnesses may be summoned to appear and testify and may be examined before courts of inquiry in the same manner as provided for courts-martial.

(7) Courts of inquiry shall make findings of fact but may not express opinions or make recommendations unless required to do so by the convening authority.

(8) Each court of inquiry shall keep a record of its proceedings, which shall be authenticated by the signatures of the president and counsel for the court and forwarded to the convening authority. If the record cannot be authenticated by the president, it shall be signed by a member of the court in lieu of the president. If the record cannot be authenticated by the counsel for the court, it shall be signed by a member of the court in lieu of the counsel.

- (a) The state judge advocate general and all assistant state judge advocates;
- (b) All summary courts-martial members;
- (c) All adjutants, assistant adjutants, acting adjutants, and personnel adjutants;
- (d) All commanding officers;
- (e) The president, military judge, trial counsel, and assistant trial counsel for all general and special courts-martial;
- (f) The president and counsel for the court of any court of inquiry;
- (g) All officers designated to take a deposition;
- (h) All persons detailed to conduct an investigation; and
- (i) All other persons designated by regulations of the governor.

(2) Officers of the state military forces may not be authorized to administer oaths as provided in this section unless they are on duty in or with those forces under orders of the governor as prescribed in this code.

(3) The signature without seal of any person designated in this section, together with the title of his or her office, is prima facie evidence of his or her authority.

28-3.1-603. Sections to be explained. Sections of this code shall be carefully explained to every person at the time of his or her enlistment, appointment, transfer, or induction into or at the time of his or her order to duty in or with any of the state military forces or within ninety days thereafter. A complete text of this code and of the regulations prescribed by the governor thereunder shall be made available to any member of the state military forces, upon his or her request, for his or her personal examination. The requirements of this section are binding on all persons administering this code, but failure to follow them shall not divest a military court of jurisdiction.

28-3.1-604. Complaints of wrongs. (1) Any member of the state military forces, who believes himself or herself wronged by any commanding officer in his or her chain of command and who is dissatisfied with the redress afforded by the grievance procedures set forth in the regulations prescribed by the adjutant general, may petition for redress by filing a complaint of wrongs. The complainant shall deliver the complaint to the military reporting official in the complainant's chain of command who last responded to the complainant's petition for redress before it was submitted to the inspector general pursuant to the regulations of the adjutant general. The complaint shall set forth facts in support of the petition and shall state that the facts are true to the best of the complainant's knowledge and belief. The person to whom the complaint is delivered shall respond to the complaint within forty-five days after receiving the complaint and shall address each allegation of the complaint.

(2) If the complainant is dissatisfied with the redress afforded by the response prepared pursuant to subsection (1) of this section and the complainant reasonably believes that he or she has evidence that rebuts the findings set forth in the response, the complainant may appeal to the military reporting official of the officer who responded to the complaint of wrongs. This appellate authority shall respond to the appeal within forty-five days of receiving the appeal, shall address each allegation of the appeal, and shall deliver a copy of the response to the adjutant general. The procedures set forth in this subsection (2) shall apply through each step of the complainant's chain of command until the complainant reaches the adjutant general.

(3) If the complainant is dissatisfied with the redress afforded by an appeal pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, the complainant may submit a complaint of wrongs directly to the governor. The governor shall respond to the complaint within forty-five days of receiving the complaint and shall address each allegation of the complaint.

(4) The governor may refer all complaints of wrongs to the National Guard bureau inspector general for an independent investigation and report pursuant to federal law. Upon receipt of such report, the governor shall deliver to the complainant all portions of the report that may be released pursuant to federal law.

(5) Retaliation in any form against a complainant for pursuing the remedies described in this section is prohibited.

28-3.1-605. Redress of injuries to property. (1) Whenever complaint is made to any commanding officer that willful damage has been done to the property of any person or that his or her property has been wrongfully taken by members of the state military forces, said commanding officer may, subject to such regulations as the governor may prescribe, convene a board to investigate the complaint. The board shall consist of one to three commissioned officers and, for the purpose of that investigation, the board has power to summon witnesses and examine them under oath, to receive depositions or other documentary evidence, and to assess the damages sustained against the responsible parties. The assessment of damages made by the board is subject to the approval of the commanding officer and, in the amount approved by the commanding officer, shall be charged against the pay of the offenders. The order of the commanding officer directing such charges is conclusive on any disbursing officer for the payment by him or her to the injured parties of the damages so assessed and approved.

(2) If the offenders cannot be ascertained, but the organization or detachment to which they belong is known, charges totaling the amount of damages assessed and approved may be made in such proportion as may be considered just upon the individual members thereof who are shown to have been present at the scene at the time the damages complained of were inflicted, as determined by the approved findings of the board.

(3) Any person subject to this code who is accused of causing willful damage to property has the right to be represented by counsel, to summon witnesses in his or her behalf, and to cross-examine those appearing against him or her.

28-4-103.5. Persons subject to military duty - state defense force. (1) Every able-bodied male citizen of Colorado and those who have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States residing therein between the ages of eighteen and sixty-four years, except persons exempt by law, are subject to military duty in the state defense force. However, the following persons or classes of persons are exempted from military service:

(a) Persons exempt by any statute of this state;

(b) The members of any regularly organized fire or police department of any city, county, city and county, or town if such members are on full-time duty with the fire or police departments or if such members are found by the governor to be necessary for the health, welfare, or protection of the community;

(c) Those permanently disqualified for military service because of physical disability and having in their possession a certificate of some licensed physician or advanced practice nurse or surgeon that describes the nature thereof;

(d) Justices, judges, and clerks of courts of record, clerks of municipal courts, county clerks and recorders, sheriffs, and ministers of the gospel;

(e) Practicing physicians, officers and assistants of hospitals, prisons, and jails whose services are declared by the governor to be necessary for the general health, welfare, or protection of the community;

(f) Persons determined to be mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction and persons convicted of a felony and not pardoned;

(g) All persons who because of religious beliefs claim exemption from military service, if the conscientious holding of such belief by such persons is established under such regulations as the governor prescribes. Such persons shall be exempted from military service in a combat capacity, but no person so exempted shall be exempt from military service in any capacity which the governor declares to be noncombatant.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 28-3-102 as it existed prior to 2002.

28-4-104. State defense force - composition. The governor is authorized to organize and maintain within this state such military forces as the governor deems necessary to defend this state. Such forces shall be known as the state defense force and shall be composed of such citizens of the state as shall volunteer or be ordered by the governor and qualify for service therein. Such forces shall be additional to and distinct from the National Guard. The Colorado state defense force shall be maintained in numbers to be determined by the governor. No officer or enlisted person of this force shall be a member of the National Guard or other armed force of the United States. Such part of this force as ordered by the governor shall be uniformed. Any part or all of this force may be called to state defense force active duty at the pleasure of the governor. All costs and expenses of the state defense force shall be paid from the general fund by separate appropriation to the department of military affairs.

28-4-105. Organization - rules and regulations. The governor is authorized to prescribe the strength, branch of service, and rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this article governing the enlistment age of members of the force and governing the organization, physical requirements, administration, equipment, maintenance, training, and discipline of such force. Such rules and regulations, insofar as he or she deems practicable and desirable, shall conform to the existing law governing and pertaining to the National Guard and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and shall prohibit the acceptance of gifts, donations, gratuities, or anything of value by any member of such force from any individual, firm, association, or corporation by reason of his or her membership; except that it is permissible for common carriers, such as airlines, railroads and bus lines, to carry members of such force without charge or at a reduced rate. The Colorado state defense force shall be commanded by the senior officer holding a state commission in the Colorado state defense force. He or she shall be designated by the adjutant general as the commanding officer of the Colorado state defense force. All the rights, powers, privileges, benefits, and emoluments created or existing by virtue of state laws, customs, or regulations heretofore had or enjoyed by the members of the Colorado National Guard shall be conferred upon and vested in the members of the Colorado state defense force. All the duties and responsibilities imposed upon and demanded of the members of the Colorado National Guard by the state laws, customs, or regulations are imposed upon and may be demanded of the members of the Colorado state defense force.

28-4-106. Pay - members - employees of state. All officers and enlisted persons of the Colorado state defense force when on state defense force active duty by order of the governor shall receive the same pay and allowances as are paid to officers and enlisted persons of like rank or grade in the Army of the United States. Officers and enlisted persons may also voluntarily perform state defense force active duty in an unpaid volunteer status. Regardless of pay status, the officers and enlisted persons of the Colorado state defense force shall be construed to be employees of the state of Colorado, and, in the event that any such officer or enlisted person incurs injuries or becomes sick, diseased, or deceased while on active duty under orders of the governor of the state of Colorado, he or she shall be entitled to all of the benefits of the "Workers' Compensation Act of Colorado", articles 40 to 47 of title 8, C.R.S., accruing to employees of the state of Colorado.

28-4-108. Service outside state. (1) Such forces shall not be required to serve outside the boundaries of the state except that:

(a) Upon the request of the governor of another state, the governor of this state, in his or her discretion, may order any portion or all of such forces to assist the military or police forces of such other state who are actually engaged in defending such other state. These forces may be recalled by the governor at his or her discretion.

(b) Any organization, unit, or detachment of such forces, upon order of the officer in immediate command thereof, may continue in fresh pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs, terrorists, enemies, or enemy forces beyond the borders of this state into another state until such are apprehended or captured by such organization, unit, or detachment or until the military or police forces of the other state or forces of the United States have had an opportunity to take up the pursuit or to apprehend or capture such persons, if such other state has given authority by law for such pursuit by the forces of this state. Any such person who is apprehended or captured in such other state by an organization, unit, or detachment of the forces of this state, without unnecessary delay, shall be surrendered to the military or police forces of the state in which he or she is taken or to the United States, but such surrender shall not constitute a waiver by this state of its right to extradite or prosecute such person for any crime committed in this state.

28-4-109. Forces of other states - privilege. Any military forces or organizations, units, or detachments thereof of another state who are in fresh pursuit of insurrectionists, saboteurs, terrorists, enemies, or enemy forces may continue such pursuit into this state until the military or police forces of this state or the forces of the United States have had a reasonable opportunity to take up the pursuit or to apprehend or capture such persons within this state while in fresh pursuit. Any such person who is captured or arrested by the military forces of such other state while in this state, without unnecessary delay, shall be surrendered to the military or police forces of this state to be dealt with according to law. This section shall not be construed so as to make unlawful any arrest in this state which would otherwise be lawful, and nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to repeal any of the provisions of sections 16-3-104 and 16-3-106, C.R.S. tration of the Estates of Incompetents", see 29 Dicta 286 (1952).

28-5-203. Administrator as party in interest. The administrator shall be a party in interest in any proceeding for the appointment or removal of a guardian or for the removal of the disability of minority or mental incapacity of a ward and in any suit or other proceeding affecting in any manner the administration by the guardian of the estate of any present or former ward whose estate includes assets derived in whole or in part from benefits paid by the veterans administration. Not less than fifteen days prior to hearing in such matter, notice in writing of the time and place thereof shall be given by mail, unless waived in writing, to the office of the veterans administration having jurisdiction over the area in which any such suit or any such proceeding is pending.

28-5-204. Guardian appointed when necessary. When, pursuant to any law of the United States or regulation of the veterans administration, it is necessary, prior to payment of benefits, that a guardian be appointed, the appointment may be made in the manner provided in this part 2.

28-5-205. Limitation on number of wards. No person other than a bank or trust company shall be guardian of more than five wards at one time, unless all the wards are members of one family. Upon presentation of a petition by an attorney of the veterans administration or other interested person alleging that a guardian is acting in a fiduciary capacity for more than five wards as provided in this section and requesting his or her discharge for that reason, the court, upon proof substantiating the petition, shall require a final accounting forthwith from such guardian and shall discharge him or her from guardianships in excess of five and forthwith appoint a successor.

28-5-206. Appointment of guardian - petition. (1) A petition for the appointment of a guardian may be filed by any relative or friend of the ward or by any person who is authorized by law to file a petition. If there is no person so authorized or if the person so authorized refuses or fails to file such a petition within thirty days after mailing of notice by the veterans administration to the last known address of the person, if any, indicating the necessity for the same, a petition for appointment may be filed by any resident of this state.

(2) The petition for appointment shall set forth the name, age, and place of residence of the ward, the name and place of residence of the nearest relative, if known, and the fact that the ward is entitled to receive benefits payable by or through the veterans administration and shall set forth the amount of money then due and the amount of probable future payments.

(3) The petition shall also set forth the name and address of the person or institution, if any, having actual custody of the ward and the name, age, relationship, if any, occupation, and address of the proposed guardian, and if the nominee is a natural person, the number of wards for whom the nominee is presently acting as guardian. Notwithstanding any law as to priority of persons entitled to appointment or the nomination in the petition, the court may appoint some other individual or a bank or trust company as guardian if the court determines it is for the best interest of the ward.

(4) In the case of a mentally incompetent ward, the petition shall show that such ward has been rated incompetent by the veterans administration on examination in accordance with the laws and regulations governing the veterans administration.

28-5-207. Evidence of necessity for guardian of infant. Where a petition is filed for the appointment of a guardian for a minor, a certificate of the administrator or his or her authorized representative setting forth the age of such minor as shown by the records of the veterans administration and the fact that the appointment of a guardian is a condition precedent to the payment of any moneys due the minor by the veterans administration shall be prima facie evidence of the necessity for such appointment.

28-5-208. Evidence of necessity for guardian for incompetent. Where a petition is filed for the appointment of a guardian for a mentally incompetent ward, a certificate of the administrator or his or her duly authorized representative that such person has been rated incompetent by the veterans administration on examination in accordance with the laws and regulations governing the veterans administration and that the appointment of a guardian is a condition precedent to the payment of any moneys due such ward by the veterans administration shall be prima facie evidence of the necessity for such appointment.

28-5-209. Notice of filing petition. Upon the filing of a petition for the appointment of a guardian under this part 2, notice shall be given to the ward and to such other persons in such manner as is provided by the laws of this state, and also to the veterans administration as provided by this part 2.

28-5-210. Bond of guardian. (1) Upon the appointment of a guardian, he or she shall execute and file a bond to be approved by the court in an amount not less than the estimated value of the personal estate and anticipated income of the ward during the ensuing year. The bond shall be in the form and be conditioned as required of guardians appointed under the general guardianship laws of this state. The court may from time to time require the guardian to file an additional bond.

(2) Where a bond is tendered by a guardian with personal sureties, there shall be at least two such sureties, and they shall file with the court a certificate under oath which describes the property owned, both real and personal, and shall state that each is worth the sum named in the bond as the penalty thereof over and above all his or her debts and liabilities and the aggregate of other bonds on which he or she is principal or surety and exclusive of property exempt from execution. The court may require additional security or may require a corporate surety bond, the premium thereon to be paid from the ward's estate.

28-5-211. Accounts of securities - notices and hearings. (1) Every guardian who has received or who shall receive on account of his or her ward any moneys or other thing of value from the veterans administration shall file with the court annually, on the anniversary date of the appointment, in addition to such other accounts as may be required by the court, a full, true, and accurate account under oath of all moneys or other things of value so received by him or her, all earnings, interest, or profits derived therefrom, and all property acquired therewith and of all disbursements therefrom, and showing the balance thereof in his or her hands at the date of the account and how invested.

(2) The guardian, at the time of filing any account, shall exhibit all securities or investments held by him or her to an officer of the bank or other depository wherein said securities or investments are held for safekeeping, or to an authorized representative of the corporation which is surety on his or her bond, or to the judge or clerk of a court of record in this state, or, upon request of the guardian or other interested party, to any other reputable person designated by the court, who shall certify in writing that he or she has examined the securities or investments and identified them with those described in the account and shall note any omissions or discrepancies. If the depository is the guardian, the certifying officer shall not be the officer verifying the account. That certificate and the certificate of an official of the bank in which are deposited any funds for which the guardian is accountable, showing the amount on deposit, shall be prepared and signed in duplicate, and one of each shall be filed by the guardian with his or her account.

(3) At the time of filing in the court any account, a certified copy thereof and a signed duplicate of each certificate filed with the court shall be sent by the guardian to the office of the veterans administration having jurisdiction over the area in which the court is located. A signed duplicate or a certified copy of any petition, motion, or other pleading pertaining to an account or to any matter other than an account and which is filed in the guardianship proceedings shall be furnished by the person filing the same to the proper office of the veterans administration. Unless hearing is waived in writing by the attorney of the veterans administration and by all other persons, if any, entitled to notice, including the surety on the guardian's bond, the court shall fix a time and place for the hearing on the account, petition, motion, or other pleading not less than fifteen days nor more than thirty days from the date same is filed, unless a different available date is stipulated in writing. Unless waived in writing, written notice of the time and place of hearing shall be given the veterans administration office concerned and the guardian and any others entitled to notice not less than fifteen days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. The notice may be given by mail, in which event it shall be deposited in the mails not less than fifteen days prior to said date. The court or clerk thereof shall mail to said veterans administration office a copy of each order entered in any guardianship proceeding wherein the administrator is an interested party.

(4) If the guardian is accountable for property derived from sources other than the veterans administration, he or she shall be accountable as is or may be required under the applicable law of this state pertaining to the property of minors or persons of unsound mind who are not beneficiaries of the veterans administration and as to such other property shall be entitled to the compensation provided by such law. The account for other property may be combined with the account filed in accordance with this section.

28-5-212. Penalty for failure to account. If any guardian fails to file with the court any account as required by this part 2, or by an order of the court, when any account is due or within thirty days after citation issues as provided by law, or fails to furnish the veterans administration a true copy of any account, petition, or pleading as required by this part 2, such failure may in the discretion of the court be a ground for his or her removal.

28-5-213. Compensation of guardians. Compensation payable to guardians shall be based upon services rendered and shall not exceed five percent of the amount of income received during the period covered by the account; except that such percentage compensation shall not be allowed on the moneys or other assets received from a prior guardian nor upon the amount received from liquidation of loans or other investments. In the event five percent of income received during the period would be less than twenty-five dollars and the personal property in the estate totals not more than one thousand five hundred dollars, twenty-five dollars may be taken as the guardian's compensation. If the personal property in the estate exceeds one thousand five hundred dollars and five percent of the income would be less than fifty dollars, the guardian's compensation may be fifty dollars. In any case in which the compensation under the foregoing appropriate rates is inadequate because of extra services performed, the court, upon petition and hearing thereon, may authorize reasonable additional compensation. A copy of the petition and notice of hearing thereon shall be given the proper office of the veterans administration in the manner provided in the case of hearing on a guardian's account or other pleading.

28-5-214. Investments. Every guardian shall invest the surplus funds of his or her ward's estate in such securities or property as authorized under the laws of this state, but only upon prior order of the court; except that the funds may be invested, without prior court authorization, in direct unconditional interest-bearing obligations of this state or of the United States and in obligations the interest and principal of which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States. A signed duplicate or certified copy of the petition for authority to invest shall be furnished the proper office of the veterans administration, and notice of hearing thereon shall be given said office as provided in the case of hearing on a guardian's account.

28-5-215. Maintenance and support. A guardian shall not apply any portion of the income or the estate for the support or maintenance of any person other than the ward, except upon petition to and prior order of the court after a hearing. A signed duplicate or certified copy of said petition shall be furnished the proper office of the veterans administration, and notice of hearing thereon shall be given said office as provided in the case of hearing on a guardian's account or other pleading.

28-5-216. Purchase of home for ward. (1) The court may authorize the purchase of the entire fee simple title to real estate in this state in which the guardian has no interest, but only as a home for the ward, or to protect his or her interest, or as a home for his or her dependent family. Such purchase of real estate shall not be made except upon the entry of an order of the court after hearing upon verified petition. A copy of the petition shall be furnished the proper office of the veterans administration, and notice of hearing thereon shall be given said office as provided in the case of hearing on a guardian's account.

(2) Before authorizing such investment, the court shall require written evidence of value and of title and of the advisability of acquiring such real estate. Title shall be taken in the ward's name. This section does not limit the right of the guardian on behalf of his or her ward to bid and to become the purchaser of real estate at a sale thereof pursuant to decree of foreclosure of lien held by or for the ward, or at a trustee's sale, to protect the ward's right in the property so foreclosed or sold; nor does it limit the right of the guardian, if such is necessary to protect the ward's interest and upon prior order of the court in which the guardianship is pending, to agree with cotenants of the ward for a partition in kind, or to purchase from cotenants the entire undivided interests held by them, or to bid and purchase the same at a sale under a partition decree, or to compromise adverse claims of title to the ward's realty.

28-5-217. Copies of public records to be furnished. When a copy of any public record is required by the veterans administration to be used in determining the eligibility of any person to participate in benefits made available by the veterans administration, the official custodian of such public record, without charge, shall provide the applicant for such benefits or any person acting on his or her behalf or the authorized representative of the veterans administration with a certified copy of such record.

28-5-218. Discharge of guardian - release of sureties. A certificate by the veterans administration showing that a minor has attained majority or that an adult ward has been rated competent by the veterans administration upon examination made in accordance with the law shall be prima facie evidence that the minor has attained majority or that the adult ward's property no longer requires court supervision. Upon hearing after notice as provided by this part 2 and the entry of a record determination by the court that the guardianship is to be dispensed with, the guardian shall be directed by the court to file a final account. Upon hearing after notice to the former ward and to the veterans administration as in case of other accounts, upon approval of the final account and upon delivery to the ward of the assets due him or her from the guardian, the guardian shall be discharged and his or her sureties released.

28-5-219. Record not construed as legal adjudication. Neither the fact that a person has been rated incompetent by the veterans administration nor the fact that a guardian has been appointed for a person under the provisions of this part 2 shall be construed as a legal adjudication of insanity or mental incompetency, unless such person also is or has been adjudicated insane or mentally incompetent by a state court of competent jurisdiction.

28-5-220. Commitment to veterans administration. (1) When, in any proceeding under the laws of this state for the commitment of a person alleged to be of unsound mind or otherwise in need of confinement in a hospital or other institution for his or her proper care, it is determined after such adjudication of the status of such person as may be required by law that commitment to a hospital for mental disease or other institution is necessary for safekeeping or treatment and it appears that such person is eligible for care or treatment by the veterans administration, the court, upon receipt of a certificate from the veterans administration showing that facilities are available and that such person is eligible for care or treatment therein, may commit such person to said veterans administration. Upon commitment, such person when admitted to any facility operated by such agency within or without this state shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the veterans administration. The chief officer of any facility of the veterans administration to which the person is so committed shall with respect to such person be vested with the same powers as superintendents of state hospitals for mental diseases within this state with respect to retention of custody, transfer, parole, or discharge as restored to reason.

(2) The judgment or order of commitment by a court of competent jurisdiction of another state or of the District of Columbia committing a person to the veterans administration for care or treatment has the same force and effect as to the committed person while in this state as in the jurisdiction in which the court entering the judgment or making the order is situated; and the courts of the committing state or of the District of Columbia shall be deemed to have retained jurisdiction of the person so committed for the purpose of inquiring into the mental condition of such person and of determining the necessity for continuance of his or her restraint. Consent is given to the application of the law of the committing state or district in respect to the authority of the chief officer of any facility of the veterans administration to retain custody or transfer, parole, or discharge the committed person.

(3) Upon receipt of a certificate of the veterans administration that facilities are available for the care or treatment of any person committed to any hospital for the insane or other institution for the care or treatment of persons similarly afflicted and that such person is eligible for care or treatment, the court having jurisdiction may cause the transfer of such person to the veterans administration for care or treatment. Any person transferred as provided in this section is deemed to be committed to the veterans administration for all purposes as provided in subsection (1) of this section as on original commitment.

PART 3

INVESTMENTS BY VETERANS ADMINISTRATION FIDUCIARIES

Cross references: For legal investments and deposits, see part 6 of article 75 of title 24; for investments under the “Uniform Veterans’ Guardianship Act”, see § 28-5-214.

28-5-301. Legal investments. (1) It is lawful for any guardian or conservator of minor or incompetent beneficiaries of the veterans administration to invest the funds of the estate or trust or to permit such funds to remain invested in any of the following:

(a) Bonds or other interest-bearing or noninterest-bearing obligations of the United States of America;

(b) Bonds or other interest-bearing or noninterest-bearing securities, the payment of the principal sum of which and the interest, if any, on which is guaranteed by the United States of America;

(c) Bonds or other interest-bearing or noninterest-bearing securities which are direct general obligations of the state of Colorado or of any school district, junior college district, or county therein or of any water or sanitation district or water and sanitation district created under the provisions of article 1 of title 32, C.R.S.;

(d) Bonds or other interest-bearing or noninterest-bearing securities which are direct general obligations of any city and county or incorporated city or town in the state of Colorado which has existed continuously as a lawful corporation for a period of ten years;

(e) Bonds or other interest-bearing or noninterest-bearing securities which are direct general obligations of any other state of the United States of America or any school district, junior college district, county, city and county, parish, or incorporated city, town, or village within any other state of the United States of America; if the entire general obligation indebtedness of any such school district, junior college district, county, city and county, parish, city, town, or village, including the proportionate share of the general obligation indebtedness of any other subdivisions of such state which have power to levy taxes on the same property, does not at the time of investment exceed fifteen percent of the valuation for assessment of the taxable property therein; if the issuer has existed for at least fifteen years and has not been in default with respect to the principal of any of its general obligation indebtedness at any time within the preceding ten years; if any such issuer, being an incorporated city, city and county, town, or village, has a population of not less than twenty-five hundred people, according to the last preceding federal census; and if the purchase or retention of investments under this paragraph (e) by such fiduciaries acting under the probate jurisdiction of a court is subject to prior approval of such court;

(f) All or any part of issues or series of bonds or notes secured by first lien mortgages or deeds of trust upon real estate situate within the state of Colorado. Such loans shall not exceed fifty percent of the appraised value of the lands, improvements, and water rights, if any, pertaining thereto, but the amount of such loan may equal sixty percent of the appraised value of the land, improvements, and water rights, if any, pertaining thereto if the instruments evidencing such investments contain a requirement for reduction, during each year, of the principal of the loan in an amount equal to at least five percent of the original principal sum. Such loans, when made by such fiduciaries acting under the probate jurisdiction of a court, shall be made in such amounts and for such periods as may be in the best interests of the estate and shall be subject to approval by the court.

(g) State highway fund revenue anticipation warrants of the state of Colorado;

(h) Repealed.

(i) Original and supplemental bonds of the Moffat tunnel improvement district;

(j) Revenue obligations issued to provide, enlarge, or improve electric power or water facilities by any city located in the state of Colorado having a population of not less than twenty-five hundred people at the time of investment if:

(I) The plan under which said obligations were issued provides for the retirement thereof out of the revenue within thirty years from the date of issuance; and

(II) The net revenue from such facility during each of the five years preceding such investment, after provision for ordinary expenses (exclusive of any allowance for depreciation), of operation of the facility, is equal to at least one and one-half times the sum of interest and principal payments due in any year during the remaining life of the issue and like payments due on account of any other issue relating to the same facility;

(k) Bonds of housing authorities issued pursuant to the provisions of article 4 of title 29, C.R.S.;

(l) Improved real property within the state of Colorado if such property at time of purchase is under lease in its entirety, such lease then having an unexpired term of not less than ten years and under which the lessee is obliged to pay taxes, expenses of maintenance, and a rental therein fixed, and the appraised value of the land and improvements is in excess of ten times the net annual rent reserved in the lease; such real property shall be purchased by such fiduciaries acting under the probate jurisdiction of a county court only under order of court;

(m) Time or savings deposits in any state bank or national bank in Colorado which is, at the time the deposit is made, a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation if:

(I) The full amount of the deposit is insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation;

(II) The bank or association agrees to pay interest on the deposit; and

(III) To the extent that the deposit ceases to be insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, the same is withdrawn or otherwise converted into cash as promptly as the terms of the deposit will permit. Such deposit may be evidenced by an entry in a passbook, or by a certificate of deposit, or in such other manner as is then customary in the community in which the deposit is made.

(n) Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust insured pursuant to Title II of the "National Housing Act" if the purchase is made by an approved mortgagee under said "National Housing Act"; except that:

(I) Nothing in this section shall restrict the powers of investment conferred upon any executor, administrator, or trustee by the terms of a will or trust instrument;

(II) Any such fiduciary may retain any real property owned by his or her testate or intestate at date of death or by his or her ward at date of appointment of a guardian or conservator and that any such fiduciary may retain for a reasonable time any real property acquired by him or her by foreclosure of or in satisfaction of a mortgage or trust deed, but if such fiduciary is subject to the probate jurisdiction of the county court, such holding shall not exceed two years unless permitted by order of that court;

(III) Any such fiduciary may purchase or retain any class of property authorized by this section to be purchased or retained, as the case may be, in addition to the investments described in the will or trust instrument, unless the power to invest in such class of property is expressly or impliedly denied by such will or trust instrument;

(IV) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the existing right of such fiduciaries to maintain such demand or time deposits in banks as are required in the ordinary conduct of their business; and

(V) Nothing in this section shall relieve any such fiduciary from the duty of exercising reasonable care in the purchase or retention of investments;

(o) Share, certificate, or savings accounts in any state or federally chartered savings and loan association in Colorado that are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation or its successor if:

(I) The full amount of the account is insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation or its successor;

(II) The association agrees to pay such dividends on the account as permitted by its charter; and

(III) To the extent that the account ceases to be insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation or its successor, the same is withdrawn or otherwise converted into cash as promptly as the terms of the account will permit. Such account may be evidenced by an entry in a passbook, or by a certificate of investment, or in such other manner as is acceptable to the federal deposit insurance corporation or its successor.

PART 4

LOANS TO MINOR VETERANS

28-5-401. Loans to minor veterans. (1) The disability of minority of any person otherwise eligible for guaranty or insurance of a loan pursuant to the “Servicemen’s Readjustment Act of 1944”, as amended, and of the minor spouse of any eligible veteran, irrespective of his or her age, in connection with any transaction entered into pursuant to said act, as amended, is removed for all purposes in connection with such transaction, including, but not limited to, incurring of indebtedness or obligations, and acquiring, encumbering, selling, releasing, or conveying real or personal property or any interest therein, and litigating or settling controversies arising therefrom if all or a part of any obligations incident to such transaction is guaranteed or insured by the administrator of veterans affairs pursuant to such act. This section shall not be construed to impose any other or greater rights or liabilities than would exist if such person and such spouse were under no such disability.

(2) A certificate purporting to have been signed by the administrator of veterans affairs or his or her duly authorized representative stating that all or a part of any obligations incident to such transaction is guaranteed or insured by the administrator, when recorded in the proper county, shall be prima facie evidence of such action by the administrator and shall prima facie be deemed to have been signed and issued by the administrator or his or her representative pursuant to law, and the person signing same shall prima facie be deemed to have acted within the scope of his or her authority.

(3) Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of law, such veteran or the minor spouse of such veteran shall not, because of his or her age, avoid such contract, conveyance, obligation, or other transaction entered into pursuant to this section, nor shall such veteran, or the minor spouse of such veteran hereafter urge the fact or interpose the defense that he or she is or was a minor in any action arising out of any loan, conveyance, encumbrance, or other transaction made pursuant to this section.

INTERMENT OF VETERANS

Editor’s note: This part 5 was numbered as article 2 of chapter 144, C.R.S. 1963. The substantive provisions of this part 5 were repealed and reenacted in 2002, resulting in the addition, relocation, and elimination of sections as well as subject matter. For amendments to this part 5 prior to 2002, consult the Colorado statutory research explanatory note and the table itemizing the replacement volumes and supplements to the original volume of C.R.S. 1973 beginning on page vii in the front of this volume. Former C.R.S. section numbers are shown in editor’s notes following those sections that were relocated.

28-5-501. Short title. This part 5 shall be known and may be cited as the “Interment of Deceased Veterans Act of 2002”.

Source: L. 2002: Entire part R&RE, p. 240, § 1, effective April 12.

28-5-502. Interment of deceased veterans. (1) It is the duty of the county commissioners in each county of this state to designate some proper person in each county whose duty it is to cause the decent interment of the bodies of honorably discharged military personnel:

- (a) (I) Who died without leaving sufficient means to defray funeral expenses; or
 - (II) Who died leaving a family in indigent circumstances; and
 - (b) (I) Who served in any branch of the armed forces of the United States during any period of any declared or any undeclared war or other armed hostilities against an armed foreign enemy; or
 - (II) Who served on active duty in any branch of the armed services in any campaign or expedition for which a campaign badge is authorized.
- (2) Such burial shall not be made in that portion of any cemetery or burial ground used exclusively for the burial of the pauper dead. Each county, by resolution of its board of county commissioners, shall establish the maximum expense to the county for each burial, exclusive of any federal funds provided for such purposes. In case the deceased has relatives or friends who desire to conduct the funeral services, they shall be permitted to do so, and the expenses shall be paid as provided in this section.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 28-5-502 as it existed prior to 2002.

28-5-504. County of residence. If the expenses of burial and setting of headstones are paid by the county in which the deceased person is buried, but such deceased person resided in another county in this state at the time of death, the county of residence shall reimburse such expenses to the county wherein the deceased is buried. Such expenses shall be audited and paid as other accounts are audited and paid by the county.

Editor’s note: This section is similar to former § 28-5-503 as it existed prior to 2002.

28-5-505. Cemetery subdivision - state may acquire and maintain. The state has authority to acquire, establish, maintain, and improve in any cemetery in the state a suitable subdivision to be used as a burial place for honorably discharged veterans. Such subdivision shall consist of lots, each of sufficient area to accommodate at least eight interments of deceased veterans. No charge shall be made for burial space in such subdivision.

PART 7

DIVISION OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

Editor's note: This part 7 was added with relocations in 2002. Former C.R.S. section numbers are shown in editor's notes following those sections that were relocated.

Cross references: For the legislative declaration contained in the 2002 act enacting this part 7, see section 1 of chapter 121, Session Laws of Colorado 2002.

28-5-701. Division of veterans affairs - transfer of functions - terminology.
(1) There is hereby created the division of veterans affairs within the department of military and veterans affairs, the head of which shall be the director of the division of veterans affairs who shall be appointed by the adjutant general acting in his or her capacity as the administrative head of the department. The director shall appoint such assistants and clerical employees as may be deemed necessary to effectively administer this part 7 and part 8 of this article. The director and such assistants and employees shall be appointed pursuant to section 13 of article XII of the state constitution.

(2) Whenever any law of this state refers to the Colorado department of veterans affairs or to the veterans affairs section, said law shall be construed as referring to the division of veterans affairs.

(3) The division and the board shall, on and after July 1, 2002, execute, administer, perform, and enforce the rights, powers, duties, functions, and obligations vested in the department of human services pursuant to articles 9 and 10 of title 26, C.R.S., prior to said date. On and after July 1, 2002, any officers or employees of the department of human services whose primary duties were to carry out the functions specified in articles 9 and 10 of title 26, C.R.S., prior to said date and whose duties and functions concerned the duties and functions transferred to the division pursuant to this part 7 and part 8 of this article, and whose employment in the division is deemed necessary by the director to carry out the purposes of this article shall be transferred to the department and become employees thereof. Such employees shall retain all rights to the personnel system and retirement benefits pursuant to the laws of this state, and their services shall be deemed to have been continuous. All transfers and any abolishment of positions in the state personnel system shall be made and processed in accordance with state personnel system laws and regulations.

(4) (a) On July 1, 2002, all items of property, real and personal, including office furniture and fixtures, books, documents, and records of the department of human services prior to said date pertaining to the duties and functions transferred to the division pursuant to this part 7 and part 8 of this title are transferred to the department and become the property thereof.

(b) On or before September 1, 2002, the department of human services and the department of military and veterans affairs shall agree on the method, scope, and procedures for the transfer of any property, mineral, and water rights involving the western slope military veterans cemetery, as described in section 28-5-708, in order to ensure that the use of said cemetery is continuous and consistent with federal law.

(c) The general assembly requests the department of human services and the state board of land commissioners to transfer, without compensation, by any procedure necessary, any appropriate property, mineral, and water rights involving the western slope military veterans' cemetery, as described in section 28-5-708, to the department of military and veterans affairs, within two months of the completion of a legal survey of the property described in section 28-5-708.

(d) The general assembly further requests the department of human services and the state board of land commissioners to report to the state, veterans, and military affairs committees of the senate and house of representatives, or their successor committees, no later than July 15, 2005, that the transfer of appropriate property, mineral, and water rights requested in paragraph (c) of this subsection (4) has been completed.

(5) Whenever the department of human services is referred to or designated by a contract or other document in connection with the duties and functions transferred to the division pursuant to this part 7 and part 8 of this article, such reference or designation shall be deemed to apply to the department of military and veterans affairs. All contracts entered into by the department of human services prior to July 1, 2002, in connection with the duties and functions transferred to the department of military and veterans affairs pursuant to this part 7 and part 8 of this article are hereby validated, with the department of military and veterans affairs succeeding to all the rights and obligations of such contracts. Any appropriations of funds from prior fiscal years open to satisfy obligations incurred pursuant to such contracts are hereby transferred and appropriated to the department for the payment of such obligations.

28-5-702. Board of veterans affairs - sunset review - repeal. (1) The Colorado board of veterans affairs and its powers, duties, and functions are hereby transferred by a type 2 transfer from the department of human services to the department of military and veterans affairs. The board shall advise and consult with the division in the administration and enforcement of this article.

(2) The board shall consist of seven members who shall be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate, who shall be veterans who have been honorably released or separated from the armed forces of the United States, but who need not be members of a veterans service organization. The initial members of the board shall be the members of the Colorado board of veterans affairs as such board existed in the department of human services prior to July 1, 2002, and the terms of such members shall expire as the original terms of such members were scheduled to expire. Thereafter the governor shall appoint members for terms of four years, beginning the day after the expiration of the preceding term. Vacancies occurring during any term shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired portion of the term in which they occur. If a vacancy occurs while the senate is not in session, the governor shall appoint a qualified person to discharge the duties thereof until the next meeting of the senate, at which time the governor shall nominate a person to fill the vacancy, which nomination shall be subject to senate confirmation. Members of the board shall hold office until their successors are appointed by the governor and are confirmed by the senate. Not more than four of the members serving at any one time shall be members of the same political party.

(3) The members of the board shall serve without compensation but may be reimbursed, out of any funds appropriated to the division, for actual and necessary traveling expenses and other expenses incurred in the performance of official duties.

(4) The members of the board shall select one of their members to serve as the chair of the board and one to serve as the vice-chair of the board, for a term of two years for each office. Such officers shall hold office at the pleasure of the board. The board shall also appoint a secretary who may or may not be a member as the board may determine. The secretary shall attend all meetings of the board, keep a full and true record of its proceedings, preserve at its general office all its books, documents, and papers, and perform such other duties as the board may prescribe.

(5) The board shall hold meetings at such times and at such places as shall be determined by it. Special meetings may be called at any time by the chair or vice-chair and shall be called at the request of any three members.

(6) (a) This section is repealed, effective July 1, 2017.

(b) Prior to said repeal, the board shall be reviewed as provided for in section 2-3-1203, C.R.S.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-10-103 as it existed prior to 2002.

28-5-703. Rules - duties. (1) (a) The board shall propose for adoption by the adjutant general such rules and regulations, not in conflict with this article or other laws, as it may deem necessary to govern the programs administered pursuant to this article.

(b) Any rules adopted by the board of human services in accordance with the requirements of the "State Administrative Procedure Act", article 4 of title 24, C.R.S., relating to county veterans service offices and veterans affairs other than the state veterans nursing homes shall be enforceable and shall be valid until amended or repealed by the adjutant general.

(2) The division shall be responsible for the proper administration of this article. The board shall study periodically the problems of veterans and based on such studies shall propose such program or statutory changes as it may deem advisable or necessary for veterans' assistance by the state of Colorado or political subdivisions thereof. The board shall make a continuing study of any program put into effect. The board shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to it by law and shall advise and assist the governor, any department in the executive branch, and the general assembly or any committee thereof in regard to veterans' matters.

(3) On or before December 31, 2002, and on or before December 31 each year thereafter, the board, with the assistance of the division, shall report on the status of all programs providing services to the state's veterans, including but not limited to any recommendations for changes to policies, procedures, or law, to:

(a) The governor;

(b) The state, veterans, and military affairs committee of the house of representatives; and

(c) The state, veterans, and military affairs committee of the senate.

(4) The board shall serve in an advisory capacity to:

(a) The state board of human services and the department of human services regarding the operations and maintenance of state and veterans nursing homes operated pursuant to article 12 of title 26, C.R.S.;

(b) The division of employment and training in the department of labor and employment regarding the provision of services to state veterans pursuant to the "Colorado Work Force Investment Act", part 2 of article 83 of title 8, C.R.S.;

(c) The department of revenue regarding the issuance of special license plates to veterans and active or retired military personnel; and

(d) Any department, division, board, or other entity that provides services specifically to state veterans, and any executive director, director, board, or other entity that has rulemaking authority pursuant to state law regarding proposed rules that are directed specifically to veterans.

Editor's note: (1) This section is similar to former § 26-10-104 as it existed prior to 2002.

(2) The effective date for amendments to subsection (4)(b) by House Bill 12-1120 (chapter 27, Session Laws of Colorado 2012) was changed from August 8, 2012, to June 1, 2012, by House Bill 12S-1002 (First Extraordinary Session, chapter 2, p. 2432, Session Laws of Colorado 2012.)

28-5-704. Departments to cooperate. (1) To effectuate the purpose of this article, the governor may direct any department, division, board, bureau, commission, or agency of the state, or any political subdivision thereof, to:

(a) Cooperate with and assist and advise the division and the board in the performance of their duties and functions under this article and to provide such other assistance and data as will enable the division and the board to properly carry out their activities and effectuate the purposes of this article; and

(b) Coordinate with, seek advice from, or utilize as a resource the division and the board in implementing programs that provide services specifically to state veterans.

Editor's note: This section is similar to former § 26-10-105 as it existed prior to 2002.

28-5-705. Duties. (1) The division, in accordance with its rules, shall perform the following duties and functions:

(a) (I) Formulate, establish, and supervise a plan and standard procedures to further prompt and efficient service to all veterans in the state of Colorado on a uniform basis, whether by the division or by any county veterans service office;

(II) Establish and maintain liaison with all county veterans service officers and advise them of such plan and procedures;

(III) Make reasonable requests of such county veterans service officers for their cooperation in the execution of such plan and procedures and in the handling of veterans' cases and other matters;

(IV) Maintain liaison with the veterans administration and other appropriate agencies of the federal government;

(V) Provide all county veterans service officers with pertinent information, suggestions, forms, rulings, and other material in such form and in such manner as the division may deem appropriate to assist all county veterans service officers in the performance of their duties;

(VI) Distribute to such county veterans service officers any available bulletins, manuals, pamphlets, or other appropriate material, prepared either by the division or elsewhere, for the purposes stated in this section; and

(VII) Do such additional things, including the holding of conferences, whenever advisable, with the county veterans service officers either in their counties or in the office of the division or elsewhere and either singly or in groups, as the division may deem advisable to assist such officers in the proper performance of their duties and to keep them properly advised of current developments in the veterans' field;

(b) Render personal service to members and former members, or the surviving spouses, administrators, executors, conservators, guardians, or heirs of members or former members, of the Colorado state defense force and the Colorado National Guard in any claim they may have against the state or federal government;

(c) Assist all discharged members of the armed forces of the United States, the surviving spouses, administrators, executors, conservators, guardians, or heirs of any such veterans, or any other persons who may have proper claims by filing and prosecuting such claims on behalf of such persons for insurance, pensions, compensation, hospitalization, vocational training, education, loans, readjustment allowances, or any other benefits which such persons may be or may become entitled to receive under any of the laws of the United States, the state of Colorado, or any other state by reason of such service;

(d) Cooperate with and assist veterans' organizations, county veterans service officers, veterans' advisory groups, and all other organizations, now in existence or formed on or after July 1, 1973, which provide assistance to those persons mentioned in paragraph (c) of this subsection (1);

(e) Perform services in this state for the veterans administration on a contractual, grant, or other basis, and perform such other duties and render such other services in furtherance of the purposes of this article or any other law in providing reasonable and proper assistance to veterans;

(f) Establish a training and certification program for newly appointed county veterans service officers. Such program shall be presented to the board for approval prior to implementation or modification.

(g) Prepare, develop, construct, and maintain a state military veterans' cemetery pursuant to section 28-5-708 and seek reimbursement from the federal department of veterans affairs for all allowable costs for such project as permitted by federal law.

28-5-706. Contributions to division - veterans private contributions fund - created.

Any city, county, or political subdivision of the state or any association or individual may contribute funds, services, or facilities to the department, and the adjutant general may accept and use such funds, services, or facilities for the purpose or purposes intended by the contributor; except that no fund, service, or facility shall be accepted if the conditions attached thereto require the use or expenditure thereof in a manner contrary to law. Any said funds shall be transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall credit the same to the veterans private contributions fund, which fund is hereby created.

28-5-707. Assistance to county veterans service officers. (1) (a) The division shall provide satisfactory supervision, direction, and assistance to all county veterans service officers and shall provide such services and facilities to the county veterans service officers as may be determined by the division to be necessary. Out of any moneys appropriated by the general assembly to the division for veterans' affairs purposes, the division is authorized to issue vouchers for the semiannual payment to the general fund of each county, to be disbursed upon the authority of the county commissioners thereof, only for the purposes of this part 7 and part 8 of this article, of an amount equal to the amount such county commissioners may have authorized to be disbursed out of other moneys in such county general fund for such purposes for that period. The general assembly shall annually establish in the general appropriations bill the rate of state-funded payments for full-time and part-time county veterans service officers; except that, if a county is receiving payments under paragraph (b) of this subsection (1) for a veterans service office established for adjacent counties, the payment shall be the total of the semiannual payments for the counties that have jointly formed the veterans service office.

(b) If adjacent counties jointly establish a veterans service office for the counties pursuant to section 28-5-801 (2), the division may issue a voucher to the general fund of the county containing the veterans service office in an amount equal to the total of the semiannual payments that would have been provided to each of such counties under paragraph (a) of this subsection (1).

(2) Such semiannual payments shall be made only on application by such county commissioners to the division, which application shall state and certify the amount such county commissioners have authorized to be disbursed for such purposes out of other moneys in such county general fund for the period covered by the application.

28-5-708. Western slope veterans' cemetery - fund - rules. (1) (a) There is hereby established in the state treasury the western slope military veterans' cemetery fund, referred to in this section as the "fund". The division is authorized to accept gifts, grants, contributions, and donations for the purposes of this section. The fund shall consist of such moneys received through gifts, grants, contributions, or donations, from any person or entity, and any moneys appropriated to the fund by the general assembly. Any interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the fund shall be credited to the fund. At the end of any fiscal year, all unexpended and unencumbered moneys in the fund shall remain therein and shall not be credited or transferred to the general fund or any other fund.

(b) Subject to available appropriations, the division may contract for professional services necessary for the implementation of this section.

(2) (a) The general assembly hereby authorizes the establishment and maintenance of a state military veterans' cemetery for the western slope, referred to in this section as the "cemetery". The division is directed to prepare, develop, construct, and maintain such cemetery at the site described in paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of this section. The division may enter into contracts or agreements with any person or public or private entity to prepare, develop, construct, operate, and maintain such cemetery. The cemetery shall be for the purpose of providing for the interment of Colorado residents who are military veterans and their spouses and dependents, as determined by the division. In addition, the adjutant general by rule may permit the interment of other veterans and their spouses and dependents in the cemetery and permit the division to assess a reasonable fee for the interment of such non-Colorado residents. All such fees collected shall be credited to the fund created pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section. The adjutant general, in consultation with the board, shall promulgate such rules as may be necessary to establish and maintain the cemetery in compliance with applicable state and federal statutes and rules.

(b) The general assembly may appropriate moneys from the general fund to the fund for the implementation of this section, including but not limited to the payment of costs associated with the operation and maintenance of the cemetery.

(c) (I) If the entire general fund appropriation made to the department of human services, for allocation to the division of veterans affairs, for the fiscal year that commenced on July 1, 1999, is not needed to pay the costs for design and construction of the cemetery, the remainder of such appropriation may be used prior to July 1, 2002, by the department of human services and on or after July 1, 2002, by the department to pay any costs associated with the operation and maintenance of the cemetery without further appropriation by the general assembly.

(II) Any appropriation made on and after July 1, 2002, for the operation and maintenance of the cemetery shall be appropriated to the department of military and veterans affairs.

(3) (a) The general assembly hereby finds, determines, and declares that any use of the property described in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) as the cemetery is for a public purpose expressly authorized by the general assembly and therefore permissible under any grant of right-of-way applicable to such property executed by the state board of land commissioners.

(b) The division, in preparing, developing, constructing, and maintaining the cemetery, may use for such purposes a parcel consisting of approximately twenty acres of unimproved property within the eastern portion of the real property known as the Grand Junction regional center and shall enter into all necessary agreements to secure the appropriate property rights for such parcel.

(4) The division is hereby authorized to provide for surveys, engineering studies, conceptual and architectural plans, environmental impact studies, and other similar preliminary design and construction work as part of the pre-application for funding approval by the federal department of veterans affairs for the cemetery. The division is authorized to seek full reimbursement for such pre-application and design work from the federal department of veterans affairs.

(5) The general assembly shall appropriate annually from the fund to the department, for allocation to the division, for any costs associated with the operation and maintenance of the cemetery and for the implementation of this section.

28-5-709. Colorado state veterans trust fund - created - report. (1) (a) There is hereby created in the state treasury the Colorado state veterans trust fund that shall consist of the moneys transferred thereto pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. In addition, the state treasurer may credit to the trust fund any public or private gifts, grants, or donations received prior to July 1, 2002, by the department of human services or, on or after July 1, 2002, by the department of military and veterans affairs for implementation of the purposes specified in this subsection (1).

(b) The moneys in the trust fund shall be used for:

(I) Capital improvements or needed amenities for existing or future state veterans nursing homes;

(I.5) Costs incurred by the legislative oversight committee and the state and veterans nursing home commission created in part 3 of article 12 of title 26, C.R.S., to evaluate the quality of care provided to veterans and their families at certain state and veterans nursing homes;

(II) Costs incurred by existing or future state veterans cemeteries;

(III) Costs incurred by the division;

(IV) Veterans programs operated by nonprofit veterans organizations that meet criteria adopted by the board and that are selected by the board as grant recipients; and

(V) Repealed.

(c) The division may retain up to five percent of the amount annually appropriated from the trust fund for the actual costs incurred by the division and the board in implementing the provisions of this article. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24-36-114, C.R.S., all interest derived from the deposit and investment of moneys in the trust fund shall be credited to the trust fund. All unexpended and unencumbered moneys remaining in the trust fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the trust fund and shall neither revert to the general fund nor be transferred to the tobacco litigation settlement trust fund created in section 24-22-115.5, C.R.S., nor be transferred or credited to any other fund.

(2) (a) Pursuant to section 24-75-1104.5 (1) (g), C.R.S., and except as otherwise provided in section 24-75-1104.5 (5), C.R.S., beginning in the 2006-07 fiscal year, and for each fiscal year thereafter so long as the state receives moneys pursuant to the master settlement agreement, the state treasurer shall annually transfer to the trust fund one percent of the total amount received by the state pursuant to the provisions of the master settlement agreement, other than attorney fees and costs, during the preceding fiscal year; except that the amount so transferred to the trust fund in any fiscal year shall not exceed one million dollars. The state treasurer shall transfer the amount specified in this subsection (2) from moneys credited to the tobacco litigation settlement cash fund created in section 24-22-115, C.R.S.

(b) Repealed.

(3) (a) (I) All of the funds appropriated to the trust fund pursuant to subsection (2) of this section in fiscal year 2000-01 shall be credited to the trust fund and retained as principal in the trust fund.

(II) For fiscal years 2001-02 through 2005-06, seventy-five percent of the amount of annual appropriations made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, shall be credited to the trust fund and retained as principal in the trust fund. For fiscal years 2001-02 through 2005-06, twenty-five percent of the amount of annual appropriations made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, and one hundred percent of any interest earned on the principal in the trust fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and may be allocated by the board for the purposes outlined in subsection (1) of this section.

(III) For fiscal years 2006-07 and 2007-08, seventy-five percent of the amount of the annual transfer made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall be credited to the trust fund and retained as principal in the trust fund. For fiscal years 2006-07 and 2007-08, twenty-five percent of the amount of the annual transfer made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section and one hundred percent of any interest earned on the principal in the trust fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and may be allocated by the board for the purposes outlined in subsection (1) of this section.

(b) (I) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subsection (3):

(A) For the 2003-04 through 2006-07 fiscal years, twenty-five percent of the amount of annual transfers made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall be credited to the trust fund and retained as principal in the trust fund, and seventy-five percent of the amount of annual transfers made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section and one hundred percent of any interest earned on the principal in the trust fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and may be allocated by the board for the purposes outlined in subsection (1) of this section.

(B) For the 2007-08 fiscal year, thirty-five percent of the amount of the annual transfer made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall be credited to the trust fund and retained as principal in the trust fund, and sixty-five percent of the amount of the annual transfer made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section and one hundred percent of any interest earned on the principal in the trust fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and may be allocated by the board for the purposes outlined in subsection (1) of this section.

(C) to (E) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2009, (HB 09-1329), ch. 393, p. 2122, § 1, effective June 2, 2009.)

(II) (Deleted by amendment, L. 2009, (HB 09-1329), ch. 393, p. 2122, § 1, effective June 2, 2009.)

(c) For the 2008-09 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, ten percent of the amount of the annual transfer made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section shall be credited to the trust fund and retained as principal in the trust fund, and ninety percent of the amount of the annual transfer made pursuant to subsection (2) of this section and one hundred percent of any interest earned on the principal in the trust fund shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly.

(3.5) (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, on March 5, 2003, the state treasurer shall deduct two million two hundred eighty thousand nine hundred dollars from the Colorado state veterans trust fund and transfer such sum to the general fund.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, on August 15, 2008, the state treasurer shall deduct two million nine hundred seventeen thousand three hundred dollars from the general fund and transfer such sum to the Colorado state veterans trust fund. Such amount shall be retained as principal in the trust fund, and any interest earned on the principal shall be subject to annual appropriation by the general assembly and may be allocated by the board for the purposes outlined in subsection (1) of this section.

(4) (a) Funds shall be allocated out of the trust fund using the following process:

(I) The director of the state and veterans nursing homes or the director of the division of veterans affairs shall submit to the board a written request for funds to be used for the purposes described in subsection (1) of this section; or

(II) A nonprofit veterans organization, in compliance with the procedures and timelines adopted by the board, shall submit to the board a grant application, in a form adopted by the board, requesting funding for a veterans program.

(b) The board shall vote on each request for funds and on each grant application submitted by a nonprofit veterans organization that meets the criteria established by the board. A majority vote shall be sufficient to approve an allocation of moneys out of the trust fund.

(5) The board shall adopt guidelines that address, at a minimum, the following issues:

(a) The form of an application for use by nonprofit veterans organizations in applying for grants pursuant to this section;

(b) Criteria for identifying nonprofit veterans organizations that may apply for and receive grants pursuant to this section;

(c) Criteria for selecting appropriate veterans programs to receive grants pursuant to this section;

(d) The term and amounts of grants awarded to nonprofit veterans organizations pursuant to this section; and

(e) Standards for determining the effectiveness of veterans programs that receive grants pursuant to this section.

(6) The department may contract with one or more private or public entities for program monitoring and evaluation of any veterans program operated by a nonprofit veterans organization that receives funding pursuant to this section. The board may allocate funds to the division for the costs incurred in entering into such contracts.

(7) (a) The board shall prepare a report evaluating the implementation of this section, including the number and type of improvements or additions to nursing homes that have been made, the number and type of improvements to veterans cemeteries, the number of veterans served through the veterans outreach program, the number and types of veterans programs operated by nonprofit veterans organizations that receive grants pursuant to this section, and the results achieved as a result of allocations made out of the trust fund.

(b) The department shall submit the report to the department of public health and environment for inclusion in the report prepared by the department of public health and environment pursuant to section 25-1-108.5 (3), C.R.S.

28-5-711. Veterans resource information clearinghouse. (1) There is hereby created in the division of veterans affairs the veterans resource information clearinghouse to provide information concerning support, services, and other assistance available to veterans of the United States armed forces and their families from state and local government agencies and programs, congressionally chartered veterans organizations, and nonprofit service organizations. To the extent practicable, the division shall make information available through the veterans resource information clearinghouse in a variety of formats to help ensure a high degree of public accessibility.

(2) The division shall identify the agencies, programs, services, and organizations to be included in the veterans resource information clearinghouse. The department of military and veterans affairs shall adopt policies to establish criteria that the division shall apply to ensure that the nonprofit service organizations included in the clearinghouse are legitimate, legally operated organizations.

(3) The division shall operate the veterans resource information clearinghouse subject to available state and federal resources that are appropriated or otherwise available to the division. In addition, the division may solicit, accept, and expend public or private gifts, grants, and donations for the operation of the veterans resource information clearinghouse, including but not limited to donations of volunteer services and in-kind donations.

PART 8

VETERANS SERVICE OFFICE AND OFFICERS

Editor's note: This part 8 was added with relocations in 2002. Former C.R.S. section numbers are shown in editor's notes following those sections that were relocated.

Cross references: For the legislative declaration contained in the 2002 act enacting this part 8, see section 1 of chapter 121, Session Laws of Colorado 2002.

28-5-801. Establishment of veterans service offices. (1) The board of county commissioners of each county in this state shall establish a county veterans service office and shall appoint a county veterans service officer for such county, and such board of county commissioners may also appoint any assistant and such clerical help as may be deemed necessary, each at such compensation as shall be fixed by such board, together with the necessary and actual traveling and other expenses incurred in their work as shall be approved by such board of county commissioners and such other expenses as such board may deem necessary for the proper operation of such office, payable monthly out of the county general fund in the manner provided by law. The board of county commissioners, in its discretion, may appoint any county officer, official, or employee as such county veterans service officer or as such assistant, if qualified to serve as such under the provisions of section 28-5-802, or as clerical help to such county veterans officer, at such additional compensation for such additional duties as shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners.

(2) The boards of county commissioners of adjacent counties may act jointly in establishing a veterans service office for such counties and in appointing a veterans service officer and an assistant and such necessary clerical help as may be deemed necessary to operate such office for such counties, at such compensation as may be fixed by the joint action of the boards of county commissioners joining in the appointment of such officer and assistant and clerical help, together with the actual and necessary expenses incurred in the conduct of their work, as shall be approved by such boards of county commissioners. The salaries and expenses and all other jointly approved expenses necessary for the proper operation of such office shall be paid monthly by the boards of county commissioners out of their respective county general funds in the manner provided by law, each county bearing its share thereof in the proportion that the population of each county bears to the total population of the counties combining to establish such office.

28-5-802. Qualifications - term of office. (1) The county veterans service officer or assistant at the time of appointment, shall be a resident of the state, shall have served in the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, or any auxiliary branch thereof and shall have been honorably discharged therefrom or shall be an officer released from active duty with the armed forces and placed on inactive duty therein. Before such appointments shall be made, the board of county commissioners making such appointments shall have sought the advice and counsel of the chief officer of each post of the regularly established and existing veterans organizations of the county wherein such officer or assistant is to serve as to the qualifications and experience of the applicant for such position. Such appointee shall be well-qualified based on his or her education and experience to perform the duties of county veterans service officer. The division shall recommend education and experience qualifications for the position of county veterans service officer.

(2) Such appointments shall be for the term of two years. At the expiration of such term or in case of a vacancy, the board of county commissioners making the appointments may either reappoint the present incumbents to the positions of county veterans service officer or assistant, or may consider new applicants and make appointments of other applicants as such county veterans service officer or assistant in the manner specified in this article.

28-5-804. Cooperation with division of veterans affairs. The county veterans service officer shall cooperate with the division of veterans affairs, its officers and employees, and other national, state, or county veterans service officers in the performance of his or her duties. He or she, on request, shall assist the division in every reasonable way, including the rendering of any reports requested by the division and the handling or processing of any veterans cases or other matters according to standard procedures established by the division in furtherance of efficient and prompt service to all veterans in the state of Colorado on a uniform basis. Such officer shall always work in the best interest of his or her clients in an attempt to maximize the amount of federal veteran benefits that they receive. Additionally, the county veterans service officer shall undertake programs and engage in activities to reduce state public assistance expenditures as directed by the division.
